TRACKING DOWN TROUBLE

This laboratory, ready to move anywhere on short notice, runs down "crimes" against good tele-phone service. Finding these threats is one of the many jobs of the Bell Telephone Laboratories

The "criminals" are such things as threads of lint, traces of acids, or sulphur compounds in the air—any of which might damage telephone equipment.

In their interesting war work Bell Laboratories' scientists have been on a new kind of hunt. They have tracked down different materials for those now hard to get, found others that would serve in special conditions, and have detected in captured equipment the kinds of material the enemy uses. These are some examples among many of the ways Bell System research is helping to serve America they

The Lowe-Down

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

It is a little late in the season and maybe we have talked about it too much this year already, but a letter from C. S. Milli-ken, '27, reminded me of the incident we had with the Tennessee Volunteers. Mr. Milliken sent a clipping from the Atlanta Journal along with his letter which said that the Atlanta fans who saw the Tennessee and the Georgia Tech teams dish out body blocks and flying tackles in their games were not surprised to hear how the Vols in the New York tournament went after Rhode Island and fouled themselves out of the running. Maybe Kentucky is not the only place that has seen Tennessee play basketball a little on the football scale.
