Dear Madam,

I do not know what your opinions are on the subject of female suffrage. If they are opposed to those of my friends and myself, pray excuse me for writing to you. But if, as I trust is the case, you agree with us, may I hope that you will give us some assistance? The suffragists dispose of very large funds, and we can only hope to combat them successfully by creating an organisation as powerful and as far-reaching as theirs.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Hussey.
