ATHLETICS AT KENTUCKY

Kentucky's athletic program, a well-balanced and ambitious activity featuring inter-collegiate competition in nine different sports, is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

The program is conducted without overemphasis or sacrifice of educational objectives and in strict compliance with the rules of the University, the Southeastern Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

A Board of Directors, headed by UK President Frank Dickey, maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program. Dr. Leo Chamberlain, vice-president of the University, has general supervision over the Department and serves as vice-chairman of the Board. Dr. A. D. Kirwan, one-time Wildcat coach and UK's faculty representative to the Southeastern Conference, serves the directors as secretary and Dr. Frank Peterson, UK vice-president for business administration, acts as treasurer in an ex-officio capacity.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is Bernie A. Shively, a former Illinois grid All-American and a veteran of over 20 years in the post of Director of Athletics.

The Association's Board of Directors is composed of the following:

Dr. Frank G. Dickey,

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

. . . The State Is Our Campus

Located in Lexington, an urban community of over 100,000 population in the heart of Kentucky's famed Blue Grass region, University of Kentucky is a state-supported, land-grant institution now in its 96th year.

The present school, which last year enrolled 10,157 students and now offers instruction in 10 academic colleges plus a Graduate School and a division of Extended Programs, had its beginnings in 1865 when it was established as a part of old Kentucky University. This action by the State Legislature united sectarian and public education under one organization for the first time. Federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts within KU and, in 1878, A&M College was separated from KU to become a separate state institution on the general site of what is now the 706-acre main campus. Name changes in 1908 and 1916 resulted in the title by which the school is now known.

Dr. Frank G. Dickey currently serves as president of the University. The youthful, athletic-minded former dean of the UK College of Education succeeded venerable Dr. Herman L. Donovan in 1956 as the eighth chief administrative officer in the school's history. Dr. Dickey also serves as current president of the Southeastern Conference.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is fully accredited in its respective colleges and departments by all of the major professional societies and educational organizations.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS BERNIE A. SHIVELY

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is the Herculean task being carried out successfully by Bernie A. Shively.

Few who have observed the untiring efforts of the tall, silver-haired former All-America footballer in the service of the University of

Chairman, NCAA Basketball
Tournament Committee

Kentucky since 1927 and as Director of Athletics since 1938 will argue his fitness as an athletic Hercules. Not only has Shively guided the development of Kentucky as a nationally-respected power in major sports, but he has also gained personal prestige through a fair-minded approach to many problems.

During his tenure as Athletic Director, Shively has directly supervised major expansions in Kentucky's athletic plant resulting from the progression of the school's athletic teams to greater national prominence and increased patronage by the sports-minded public.

The seating capacity of Kentucky's football stadium has been doubled to bring the current number of seats to approximately 37,500 and on par with most other schools located in heavier-populated areas. Powerful new lighting equipment has been installed to bring night football into new popularity. Partly to satisfy the overwhelming number of basketball devotees, who could not squeeze into the 2,800-seat Alumni Gymnasium, a long-planned Memorial Coliseum was completed in 1950. Seating 11,500 persons for cage contests, the four-million dollar Coliseum also houses the Athletic Department and provided the first permanent home for the school's many minor sports teams. More recently, Shively directed the acquisition of a pair of modern, ranch-style living units which have served as the home of the football team since 1954.

A large dressing room building and football practice field, used since 1955, was abandoned in 1959 to make way for a huge new men's dorm. Under Shively's supervision, a spacious new Sports Center has been prepared a short distance away on the University farm to take even better care of the footballers and spring sports teams.

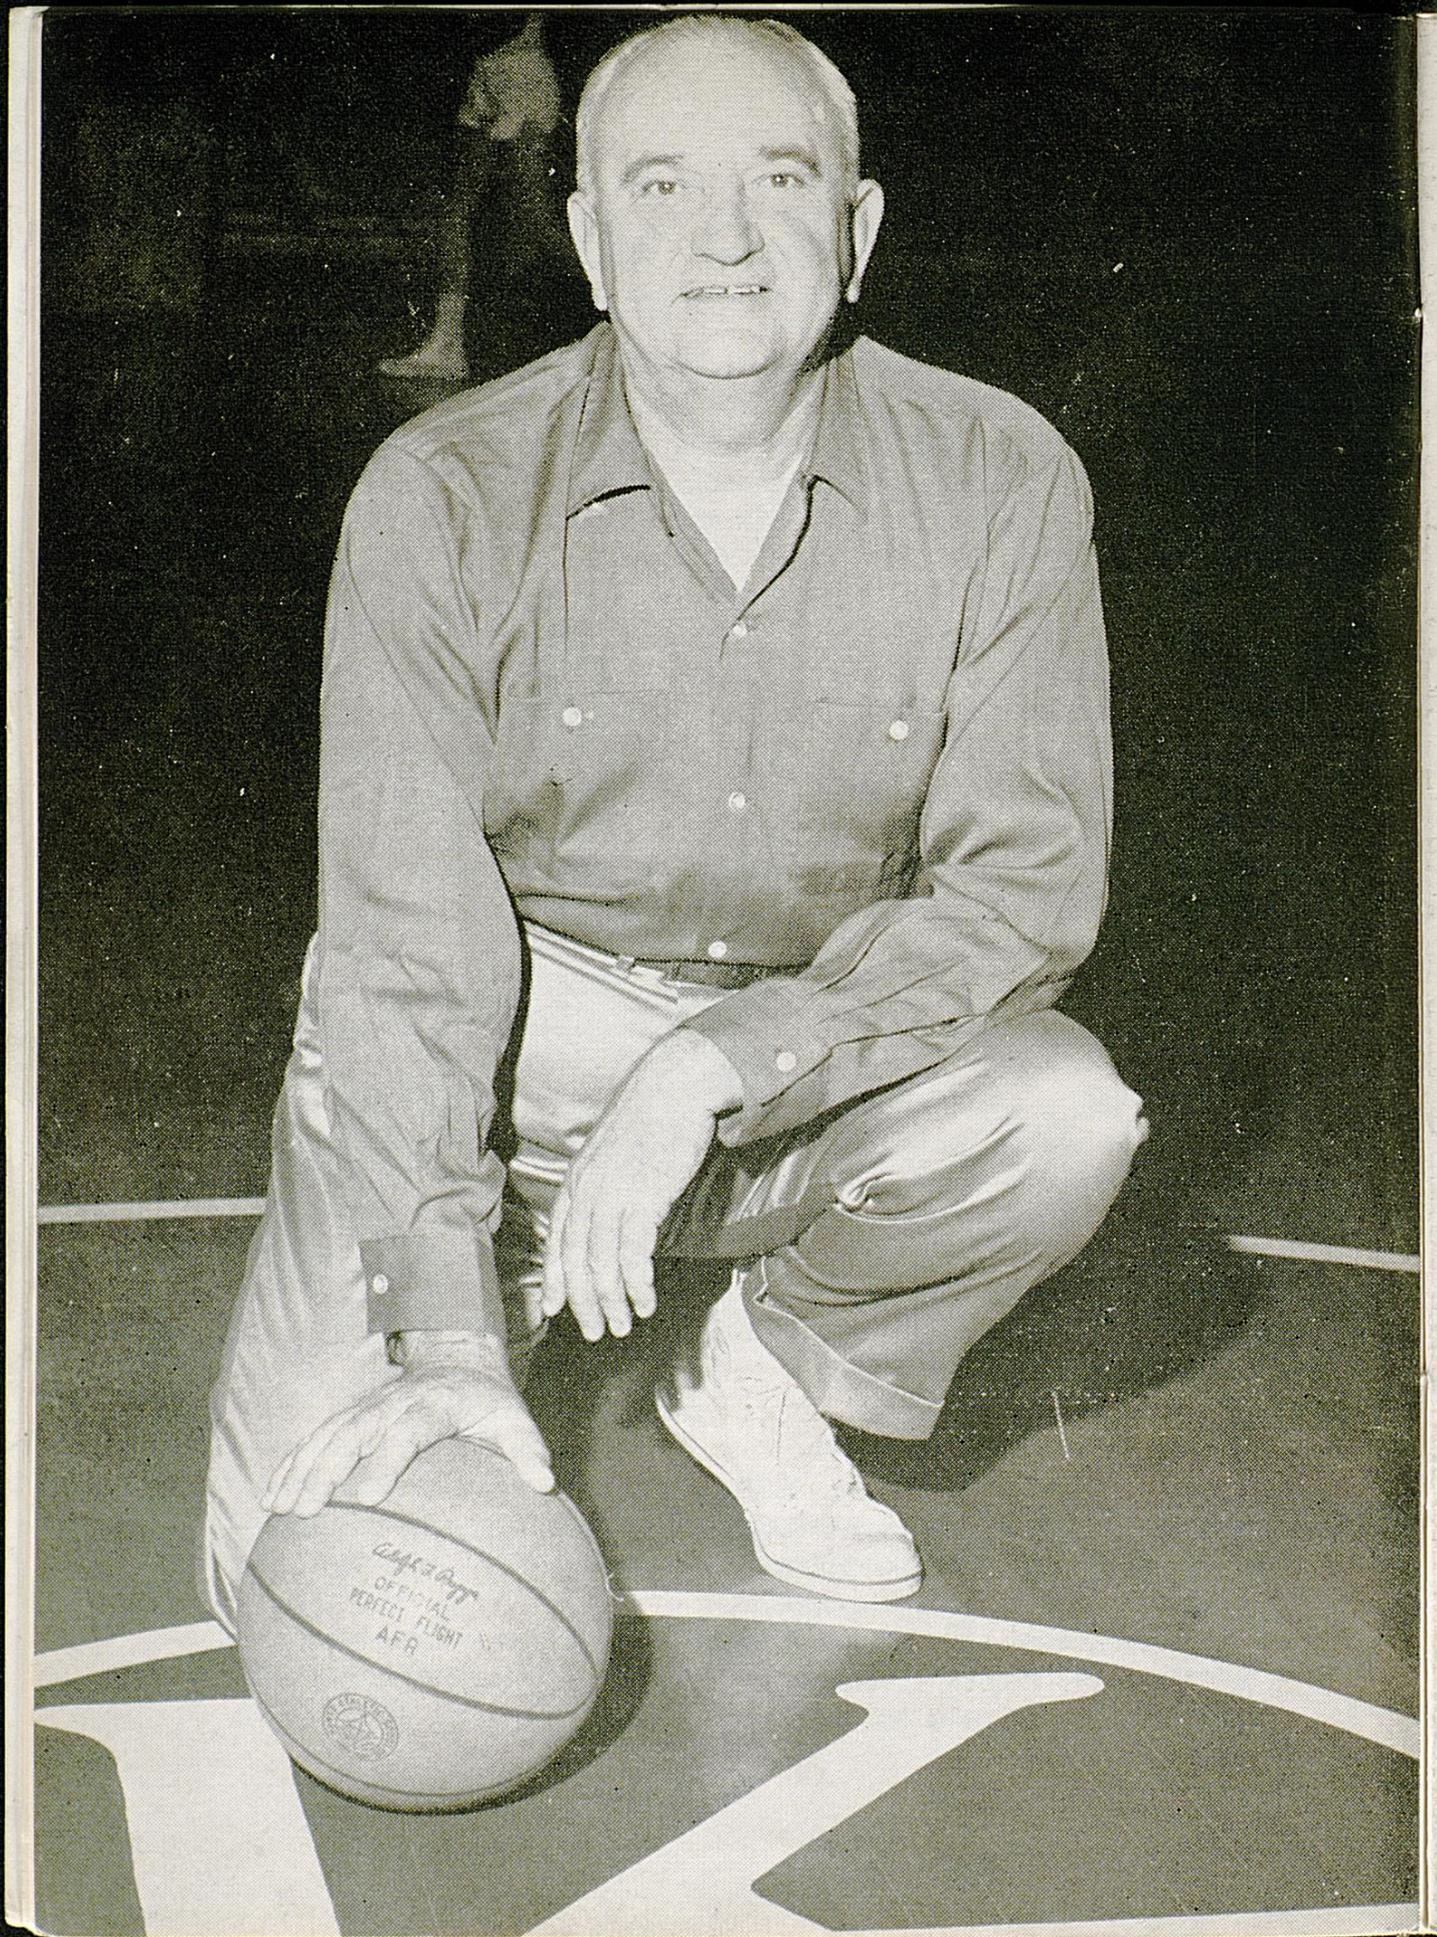

All-America Guard At Illinois

A native of Paris, Ill., Shively attended the University of Illinois where he was an All-America guard in 1926 on the same grid team made famous by Red Grange. Demonstrating a claim to being one of the finest all-around athletes in Illinois' history, "Shive" also laid claim to the Big 10 heavyweight wrestling championship and annexed letters in track before graduating in 1927.

Shively came to Kentucky in 1927 as line coach of football under Harry Gamage. A shift in the coaching ranks in 1933 resulted in Shively's promotion to head of the UK Physical Education Department, a position he retained until he succeeded Chet Wynne as Athletic Director in 1938. During this period and the years following, he also served as track and baseball coach for several seasons and continued as a football assistant until 1944. The next year, 1945, he assumed full charge of the grid squad for one season before turning the job over to mentor Paul (Bear) Bryant in 1946.

The Kentucky athletic chief is nationally recognized for his outstanding contributions to basketball as chairman of the NCAA Tournament committee and, for a number of years served in the same capacity for the Southeastern Conference. He is a past chairman of the NCAA summer baseball group and has served as president of the SEC Coaches and Athletic Directors Association since 1954. In addition, he has been active in numerous state and civic organizations—including chairmanship of the Fayette County Recreation Board and currently serves as vice-president of the UK Alumni Association. Thousands of friends honored Shive's 30th anniversary with Kentucky in 1957 by presenting him a Cadillac.

Shively and his wife, Ruth, have two children. Doug was co-captain of the Wildcat grid team in 1958 and now is coaching at VPI while daughter Suzanne was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of UK in 1957.

ADOLPH FREDERICK RUPP "Nation's Winningest Basketball Coach"

31 Years — Won 645, Lost 122 — 84%

For three decades, the sports world has watched an amazing record being forged with near perfection out of meager raw material by a colorful figure in the Blue Grass country of Kentucky known familiarly to hundreds of thousands as the "Man in the Brown Suit."

He is Adolph Rupp of Kentucky and when the sport of basketball is mentioned today, a direct chain of thought brings out the name of this maker of champions who holds undisputed rank as the "Nation's Winningest Basketball Coach." The name of Rupp, feared and respected in opponents' hearts and beloved by the millions who have witnessed the remarkable success of his Wildcat cage teams, has become synonymous with the game of basketball.

Such unprecedented recognition for the fabulous mentor is only natural since his success in the past 31 years as head man of the fabled Kentucky cage thoroughbreds has been nothing short of phenomenal. It would take a book longer than his own technical best-seller, "Championship Basketball," to recite the record completely. Briefly, however, that record includes:

- An amazing 645 victories out of 767 starts for an unparalleled winning percentage of better than 84 percent against major competition.
- Certification by the NCAA Service Bureau as the nation's most successful collegiate basketball coach, both for the past 10 years and at the 20 year level.
- One of only three still-active collegiate cage coaches with "membership" in the exclusive 600 club in which the dues are 600 victories.
- Selection as the national "Coach of the Year" in 1959 for the second time in his career.
- An unprecedented honor roll of four NCAA Tournament championships picked up by his Wildcats who hold the all-time record of 12 appearances in the national classic and can claim more victories in NCAA play (22) than any other team.
- A nominal world's championship as co-coach of the successful USA entry in the 1948 Olympic Games which included members of Kentucky's NCAA champions.

- Producer of more Olympic gold medallion winners (7) than any other cage coach.
- A total of 19 Southeastern Conference titles since the league was organized in 1933.
- Election to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1959 and previous selection (in 1946) by Helms Athletic Foundation as a member of their exclusive cage Hall of Fame.
- Recipient of the Governor's Medallion in 1959 for meritorious service to the Commonwealth of Kentucky and plaques of appreciation from the U.S. Air Force (1959) and Sugar Bowl committee (1951).
- Election to the Kentucky Hall of Fame (1945), outstanding citizen of Lexington (1949) and twice honorary citizen of the City of New Orleans.
- Coach of the winning East team in the Shrine East-West game 1959.
- Development of more All-Americans (27) and more material for the pro ranks (20) than any other coach.
- Four Sugar Bowl Tournament championships, a National Invitation Tournament title and four trophies from the first eight UK Invitational Tournaments.
- Membership on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee.

Rupp's Teams Play In Most Tournaments

Tournament invitations in pre-Rupp years were almost unheard of—Kentucky played in only seven sectional eliminations. In contrast, the Rupp-led Wildcats have the distinction of playing in more tournaments of all types than any other team. All told, his Bluegrass five has achieved the unequalled feat of 134 victories against only 37 defeats, covering action in 35 national classics plus 29 conference meets and the '48 Olympics.

Although the competition was nowhere near as rugged as the schedules played by today's nationally-recognized Wildcat brigades, Rupp's very first team compiled a respectable 15-3 record and Kentucky basketball has been on a winning plane ever since. The most games lost in a single season since Rupp added his touch was nine in 1960-61 and the remarkably low average number of losses per season in the Rupp Era is three.

His teams have finished as national champion in the polls four times in the last 12 years. They were unranked in the top 20 only in the 1952-53 campaign, when they were idle. Possibly his greatest achievement came in the 1953-54 season when the Wildcats rolled unchecked through a 25-game schedule of top-flight opposition to become the biggest-winning, perfect-record unit in all basketball history up to that time.

Rivaling that achievement, in the opinion of the sportswriters and broadcasters, is the tremendous coaching jobs turned in by the basketball miracle man in the past five seasons. Four years ago, Rupp guided a moderately talented club to an 18th SEC title, third place in the polls and a ninth NCAA Tournament appearance while achieving a 23-5 record. The surprised experts, who had predicted UK would not win their own conference, voted Coach Rupp the runner-up spot as "Coach of the Year."

Even that effort went by the boards in 1958, however, as Kentucky's talentless wonders copped the NCAA title for an unprecedented fourth time. The Wildcats were unsung and almost unknown except by reputation and heritage. Not a single man had been honored on the All-Conference fives selected before tournament time and they had lost more games (6) in regular season play than any UK team in 17 years—all of which added up to sure defeat except for the coaching genius of Rupp.

Wins National 'Coach of Year' Honor

If the experts thought that was tops in miracles, they reckoned without the amazing drive of this man Rupp. With four-fifths of his starting lineup gone, he re-built shattered foundations in such an astonishing fashion that the Wildcats rolled through the 1959 season almost unchecked. Although they failed to win the title in their increasingly-tough Southeastern Conference for only the third time since 1943, UK was generally conceded to be the nation's top team. Most experts agreed that the Kentuckians, who finished with a 24-3 record and ranked second nationally, missed a golden opportunity to pick up a fifth NCAA crown as they were upset by Louisville in the tourney opener. This feeling was given meaning as Rupp was accorded "Coach of the Year" honor by United Press International. The nationwide poll of 268 writers and broadcasters gave Coach Rupp twice as many votes as any other nominee.

The 1959-60 season admittedly was not a great one as the UKats chalked up only an 18-7 mark—second worst season of the Rupp Era. However, many experts considered the outcome to be a tribute to one of the greatest coaching efforts ever turned in. Plagued from the beginning of the season to the end by adversity (sickness, injuries, eligibility difficulties and personnel problems), complete disaster was always imminent and avoided only by masterful juggling (16 different starting combos) and artful strategy moves.

It was a similar story of great coaching technique against the heavy odds of personnel and schedule last year. Although the final record read only 19-9 (worst ever for a Rupp team), a closer look reveals the touch of Rupp was there for the Wildcats were regrouped into a fearsome outfit after early troubles and rolled to 11 wins in their last 12 starts. Enroute they conquered eventual SEC champ Mississippi State on the road and demolished Vanderbilt in a SEC Playoff for an NCAA berth. They never ran out of gas until stopped by Ohio State in regional finals.

Rupp Credited For Increasing Interest

Rupp is recognized by sports authorities with doing more than any other modern tutor to make basketball a national spectator sport. From the very outset of his career at Kentucky, which began in 1930, he has introduced or popularized many new and revised trends in the game that have aided materially in making the country basketball-minded. One such innovation was the controlled fast break offensive pattern that has since become the crowd-pleasing trademark of Wildcat cage teams.

The outstanding success of this man as a basketball coach is matched only by the personal fame he has attained outside the sports world.

The masterful story-teller is equally renowned on the banquet and coaching clinic circuit and is in constant demand as a speaker in the off season. He annually appears in more than a dozen states to make speaking engagements and believes he has missed only Alaska in tours throughout the 50 states. Rupp undoubtedly has conducted more coaching clinics than any other tutor. Overseas assignments for the Army and Air Force have taken him to the European theater, Hawaii and Japan—the last a clinic in Germany this past summer.

Internationally recognized for his avocation as a registered Hereford breeder-enthusiast, Rupp is currently in his ninth term as president of the Kentucky Hereford Assn. He owns and operates one of the largest farms in the Bluegrass area and serves as a director of the Central District Warehousing Corp., world's largest tobacco marketing organization.

The coach is active in Shrine affairs, being chosen in 1950 as one of the 10 outstanding Shriners of the nation and holding honorary memberships in temples throughout the country. He is a Past Potentate of the Oleika (Lexington) Temple and serves as vice-chairman of the board for the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital in Lexington. Three years ago, he was nominated as one of five candidates for the Imperial Outer Guard of the Shrine.

He has his own television and radio shows during the season, has produced two film shorts ("Basketball: Individual Offense" for Coca-Cola Co. and "Parade to National Championship") and written books on virtually every phase of the game.

Born in Halstead, Kansas, Sept. 2, 1901, Rupp attended University of Kansas where he played guard under Phog Allen. Following graduation in 1923, he coached high school ball one year at Marshalltown, Iowa, and then at Freeport, Ill., four seasons before coming to Kentucky in 1930. His fame as "The Man in the Brown Suit" stems from his superstitious preference of brown as the color of his game-night wardrobe.

GREATEST TEAM, PLAYER, THRILL?

Adolph Rupp's illustrious career as headmaster at Kentucky for more than three decades is certainly filled with a lot of memories for him and he's willing to share many of them with anyone who'll listen. But there are lines he will not cross, such as:

Greatest team?—Rupp points to four national champion outfits and an undefeated team that probably could have taken the national title if it had tried. Listeners get the impression that he would narrow the choice down to two—the "Fabulous Five" Olympic champions of '48 and the possibly even greater 1954 crew that went undefeated in 25 games to become the best perfect-record unit up to that time.

Greatest player?—Rupp steadfastly refuses to discuss personalities. "I'd just make one boy happy and hurt the feelings of a lot of other great ones that have played for me."

Greatest thrill?—"That's hard to say, but I guess three of my greatest were winning the '48 Olympics with my boys, going undefeated in '54 and getting that NCAA national championship trophy in 1958 with an unheralded bunch they called the 'talentless wonders'."

HARRY LANCASTER

Assistant Coach

When Harry Lancaster finds a spare moment to reflect on his days as an all-around star athlete at Georgetown (Ky.) College back in the early thirties, he can recall with a degree of dismay how close he came to never pursuing the "round ball" sport that in the days since has earned him a highly respected position in the basketball world.

An All-Conference halfback for three straight years and captain during his last two seasons, Lancaster's football career almost overshadowed his play on the basketball court. In the cage sport, he was equally successful—with three All-Conference nominations and two team captaincies to his credit—but considered himself a better football player than cager. Experience, however, proved him a good student and teacher of the sport of basketball as he began his coaching career and he now has no regrets over the choice he made.

Born in Paris, Ky., in 1911, Lancaster attended Paris High School where he played four years in all sports, being coached at one time by Kentucky's current Head Football Coach Blanton Collier. Following graduation in 1928, he continued his athletic career at Georgetown College and gained star recognition in football, basketball and baseball. After finishing at Georgetown in '32, Harry remained on for the next school year as an assistant coach in both the grid and cage sports before moving into the high school field. He coached several sports, mostly basketball, for nine years and was a high school principal for six years before coming to the University of Kentucky in 1942 as an instructor in physical education. Soon thereafter, the war intervened and Lancaster saw 26 months' Navy duty, rising from apprentice seaman to Lieutenant (Senior Grade).

Returning to UK in March, 1946, he became a part-time assistant to the Wildcats' famous cage mentor, Adolph Rupp, in addition to carrying on his teaching duties and gaining his master's degree. Two years later, he became Coach Rupp's general right hand man in a full-time capacity. Lancaster also served as Kentucky's baseball coach in 1946-47 and picked up the assignment again starting with the 1951 campaign.

In addition to his coaching duties, Lancaster manages to sandwich in a large slice of traveling. Besides checking on the nation's best high school cagers as potential material for future Wildcat national champion crews, his travel stems from a plan to extensively scout upcoming opponents. Coach Rupp was one of the first in the country to inaugurate this wide-spread scouting system in basketball and believes it has contributed materially to Kentucky's past success in carrying off championships with almost reckless abandon.

Lancaster also traveled to Greece in the summer of 1951 on a special athletic assignment for the U. S. State Department. The mission called for the Kentucky aide to act as an advisor to Greek Basketball Federation officials on Olympic procedure and other matters. He also conducted numerous clinics, coaching schools and gave public lectures on the cage sport as played in the U.S.A.

Lancaster's coaching success with the freshman teams has been commendable. The yearlings have lost only 23 contests under his tutelage the past 11 seasons against formidable competition that included the more elite junior college clubs and top-notch service quintets. His record stands at 113 wins, 23 losses.

TED LENHARDT Assistant Coach

A former Western Michigan cage star and successful high school coach, 28-year-old Ted Lenhardt joined the Kentucky staff of Coach

Adolph Rupp on a full-time basis last July after serving for one year as a voluntary assistant. Lenhardt, who is praised by his boss as having demonstrated a remarkable insight into the game, takes over a position vacated by Doug Hines. Hines left after one session to become basketball coach at Somerset (Ky.) High.

Coach Lenhardt will assume duties including work with both the varsity and freshman teams, scouting, recruiting and supervision of the study programs of the entire basketball squad.

Prior to becoming connected with the UK basketball program in 1960, Lenhardt had two successful seasons in the high school coaching field in his hometown of Coloma, Mich. He graduated in 1958 from Western Michigan State College.

His playing experience in the game stemmed from high school stardom and two seasons of outstanding play at Western Michigan as a forward before he was sidelined by an injury.

At Kentucky last season, Lenhardt assisted as a scout and part-time coach and picked up his master's degree in athletic administration following a study of coaching methods employed by Baron Rupp.

'BANNER' AND NO. 6

According to tradition, Kentucky's basketballing Wildcats have a pet pattern that they execute the first time they get the ball in a game. The nationally-famous saying attributed to UK Coach Adolph Rupp is "Star Spangled Banner and then No. 6." This stems from Rupp's strategy of running the strategic guard-around play of Kentucky's repertoire and the reason, Rupp explains, is simple: "It tells us immediately if the opposing team is playing a zone defense against us." The basic, guard-around pattern has been employed by Kentucky as it raced to four national championships and has produced eight All-America guards during the Rupp Era.

JERRY GRAY

Graduate Assistant

Newest aide on the staff of Coach Adolph Rupp is 33-year-old Illinois native, Jerry Gray. As an unpaid graduate assistant in basketball, he takes the place of Ted Lenhardt—who last summer was promoted to the rank of full-time assistant coach. Gray comes to UK with a background of play and coaching in basketball and three other sports. The Savanna, Ill., product is a graduate of Hanover College and his coaching experience includes stints at high schools in Kentucky (Milton), Indiana (Deputy and Central Plains) and Illinois (Savanna). At UK, Gray will assist in coaching the freshmen and perform other duties in a part-time capacity while working on a master's degree. He is married and the father of three children.

WHO WERE THE 'FABULOUS FIVE'?

The most frequently asked question tossed at basketball historians and sports authorities is "Who were the 'Fabulous Five' of Kentucky?" The answer is Alex Groza (center), Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins (guards), Wah Wah Jones and Cliff Barker (forwards). This famous 1948 team, captained by Rollins, won 36 and lost 3 while sweeping to Kentucky's first NCAA title and went on to participate as a unit in the Olympic Games—helping the USA team capture the world championship. Rollins graduated after the '48 season, but the remaining foursome continued to play havoc with collegiate basketball and copped another NCAA title for Kentucky in 1949 on a record of 36-2. Members of these two teams later gained fame in the pro ranks as they formed a unit known as the Indianapolis Olympians. And, along with contemporary Wildcats Adrian Smith and Billy Evans, they gave UK and Coach Rupp a unique standing of seven Olympic gold medal winners. Smith and Evans took part in the '60 Olympics as representatives of armed service and AAU teams, respectively.

1961-62 OUTLOOK—KENTUCKY BASKETBALL

The best way to characterize Kentucky's cage prospects for 1962 is to say "the Wildcats will be hurting and a wounded Wildcat can be dangerous to deal with."

Four starters graduated from the 1961 outfit which wound up with a 19-9 overall record that stamped them as the worst in Baron Adolph Rupp's 31-year dynasty at the Blue Grass school. On the face of things, this might seem somewhat of a blessing in disguise if you figure the replacements are bound to do better. But the team record is deceiving, the losses more severe than mere numbers indicate and the replacements (other than one "hotshot" prospect) are not in the terrific category by any means.

In the four departing bodies, Kentucky lost class, scoring punch, height, rebounding strength and defensive skill that pulled the Wildcats out of their early season doldrums and into contention for an unprecedented fifth national title. Despite their "poor" record, UK wound up its season in creditable comeback fashion and laid claim to being one of the country's strongest teams in the second half of the campaign. Winning 11 of their last 12 games, including an SEC Playoff for an NCAA tourney berth, the Wildcats surged to the regional finals of the NCAA before being eliminated with honor by Ohio State.

The four graduating starters were primarily responsible. Between them, they accounted for an average of 47 points and 27 rebounds a game last season that the '62 forces will be hard pressed to make up. Three-time All-Conference forward-guard Bill Lickert was the team's leading scorer with a 16-point average and adjudged in an AP poll as the league's best defensive man. Roger Newman, a 6-4 forward who closed out his first and only varsity season with a 31-point performance against Ohio State, wound up as the second best scorer (14.1) and best rebounder (265). Ned Jennings, 6-9 center, leaves a big gap in both rebounding and scoring. And "Little Man" Dick Parsons, 5-9 team captain, will be missed for his defensive and leadership qualities.

The lone returning starter, 5-11 $\frac{3}{4}$ guard Larry Pursiful, is a fine basketball player and will lend much steadying influence to an otherwise young and inexperienced club. He started every game last season and wound up as the team's third best scorer with a 13.4 average.

Help also can be expected from the ranks of five returning reserves—three of them lettermen—and a certain degree of assistance may be forthcoming from a group of five holdouts, although only one of the latter appears to be ready to step into a starting job. He is 6-4 Roy Roberts who could take over a forward post.

From among the veterans, the best bets for extensive service are 6-4 Carroll Burchett, 6-5 Allen Feldhaus and 5-11 $\frac{3}{4}$ Scotty Baesler. Burchett, the rebounding redhead, seems destined to put up a strong battle for starter duty at either center or forward. Feldhaus, known affectionately to teammates as "Horse" and a rugged individual under the boards, probably will take over one forward job and the "Little Scotchman", Baesler is due to team up with Pursiful in the true tradition of small and speedy Wildcat guards.

This brings the analysis around to the other starting spot and to the yearling graduates from whose ranks it will be filled.

Hottest of the hot-shot prospects is sensational Cotton Nash, a 6-4 $\frac{3}{4}$ scoring and rebounding whiz regarded as the Southeastern's top freshman last year. The widely-sought, much-heralded youngster set seven new individual school freshman records in the course of a terrific first collegiate campaign—many of the marks established by some of the 21 All-Americans produced at Kentucky.

The Bayou Bomber from Lake Charles, La., fits into the 1962 picture in important fashion. Although he played all positions as a freshman, his size and the lack of size in the remainder of the lineup makes it mandatory to station him along the front line at either forward or in the pivot. There's little doubt in the mind of Coach Rupp or others who have seen him operate that he can do an exceptional job wherever he is stationed.

Rupp Calls Nash Nation's Best Soph

Coach Rupp is on record pinpointing Nash as potentially one of the greatest Kentucky has ever produced and has hinted at some revision of the UK offense which rarely has centered around one man. He declares flatly that Nash should be the country's best sophomore this season.

Besides Nash, two other freshmen grads loom as strong possibilities to see extensive and important action. These are 6-3 $\frac{1}{2}$ forward Ted Deeken and 6-0 $\frac{3}{4}$ guard Tommy Harper, both of whom have proven ability to hit the bucket regularly.

Kentucky's biggest problem in '62, aside from obvious inexperience stemming from the return of only one starter and three other lettermen, appears to be the lack of really big men in the lineup.

There's Nash, of course, at 6-5, and 6-5 running mate Feldhaus plus well balanced height through the rest of the prospective starting unit. But, the young giant that seems to be the ingredient of a champion team will be missing.

The strong point, aside from the proven coaching genius of Baron Rupp and the big things expected of Nash, may turn out to be the balanced height. While the really big man will be missing, the overall height will average 6-3 in contrast to last season's range from 6-9 down to 5-9. Speed also enters importantly into the picture with the prospect of a fast break offense reminiscent of the Wildcats of old and there will be new emphasis on defense.

1960-61 IN REVIEW

There are a lot of things that Kentucky's Wildcats failed to do in 1960-61.

Uppermost, they failed to win the national championship. They even failed to annex the Southeastern Conference title for a third straight year—marking the first time they had been shut out of the throne room this long—and enroute they were saddled with three straight defeats at the hands of league competition for the first time in their illustrious cage history.

Furthermore, the Wildcats posted "only" a 19-9 final record to hand their famed mentor, Baron Adolph Rupp, his worst season mark ever.

But, lest it be forgotten, the other side of the ledger showed one of the most remarkable, most courageous comebacks from the throes of defeat ever to etch itself into Kentucky basketball history. And it deserves recounting.

Kentucky, inconsistently beleaguered and brilliant, rebounded from a troubled first half season to wade through opponents in the last half of the campaign and end up in contention for an unprecedented fifth NCAA championship. Before their "darkhorse" aspirations were finally silenced in the Mideast Regional finals by powerful Ohio State, the Ruppmen had routed 11 of their last 12 foes.

Before it became apparent that the 1960-61 season would develop into the topsy-turvy race that had the experts talking to themselves, the advance word on the Wildcats was: "Don't sell Kentucky short!"

But the campaign was only three days old before some die-hard fans and experts were ready to do just that as unheralded Florida State staged a startling upset on the Wildcats' sacred Memorial Coliseum hardwood—a site where UK teams had been beaten only nine times since its opening in 1950.

Shocked but not ready to be counted out of the national picture, Kentucky reacted immediately with a conquest of Notre Dame in Louisville and an equally-startling upset of its own at the expense of nationally-ranked North Carolina in Greensboro.

Plagued by inconsistency, the Wildcats dropped decisions to Temple at Philadelphia and St. Louis in the finals of the UK Invitational before regaining winning ways again for a few games.

The low point of the season came in mid-January. Vanderbilt started the disastrous slide, which was to cost UK the Southeastern title, by annexing a two-point decision at Nashville. Louisiana State copped its first win in history over Kentucky in the next game at Baton Rouge and Tulane accepted UK's gifts to stage another two-point upset that wound up the most disastrous road trip in Kentucky's modern history.

But the admonition at the beginning of the season was remembered as the Wildcats, after a fourth SEC setback two games later by Georgia Tech, reacted with all the vengeance of their greatest days to roll unchecked through their next nine games. Included in the victory skein was a sound trouncing of eventual champion Mississippi State in unhospitable Starkville, sweet revenge against Vanderbilt and a 26-point shellacking of Auburn—ninth best defensive team in the nation at the time.

'Cats Get Second Chance at NCAA Title

Winding up the season in a deadlock with Vandy one game behind State, Kentucky met the Commodores in an SEC Playoff classic at neutral Knoxville for the designation as the loop's representative to the NCAA Tournament which State elected to bypass. Responding with one of its best efforts of the season, Kentucky measured the Commodores by an 88-67 score to gain a second chance at a title that had seemed out of reach back in fateful January.

Making a record 12th appearance in the national collegiate playoffs in quest of an unprecedented fifth title, the Wildcats measured Morehead in a tough battle but seemed to run out of gas against pointed, hot-shooting (59.3%) Ohio State.

It was a heart-breaking climax to a great comeback made possible by defensive excellence, the steady play of three-time all-conference Bill Lickert, fine scoring and rebounding by Roger Newman at more natural forward position, inspirational leadership by Dickie Parsons, Larry Pursiful's shooting accuracy, attainment of top form by Ned Jennings and, last but far from least, the coaching genius of Adolph Rupp. It was Rupp's confidence and determination that made for a coaching job perhaps paralleled only by the '58 NCAA champion "talentless wonders."

RUPP AND UK WINNINGEST IN 20 YEARS

Kentucky and Coach Adolph Rupp are collegiate basketball's most unbeatable combination any way you look at it.

This long-claimed fact has been verified by an authoritative survey completed by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau on the top team and coaching records of the last decade and also of the past 20 years ending in 1961.

The NCAA Service Bureau's figures show Kentucky's Wildcats, who have been under the tutelage of Baron Rupp exclusively since 1930, head the major colleges in winning percentage at both the 10-year and 20-year levels by outstanding margins.

Coach Rupp's personal record far exceeds those posted by his nearest rivals to firmly establish his right to the rank of college basketball's winningest tutor.

GEORGE HUKLE — An invaluable member of the University of Kentucky basketball "team" for longer than most folks can remember is the gentleman pictured at left, George Hukle. The Lexington postal worker serves as official statistician for the Wildcats and ranks as the dean of the Southeastern Conference and possibly the nation in this capacity since he has been keeping the figures for Coach Rupp since 1933. George is credited with popularizing the statistic of field goal attempts in collegiate basketball.

Championship Game—Apx. 9:30 p.m. EST

A potential replay of the 1951 NCAA championship game looms as the highlight of the ninth annual University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament.

Host Kentucky and the powerful Kansas State Wildcats, a pair of tournament-wise cage powers who slugged away at each other for the last time in the '51 national championships, are slotted in opposite brackets and undoubtedly will be favored to advance for a fateful rematch. Baron Adolph Rupp's men copped their third NCAA crown at the expense of K-State nine years ago last March in Minneapolis.

First night pairings for the nation's most prestige-packed regular season cage classic pit Kansas State against Xavier of Ohio and UK against Tennessee. Winners square off for the championship and an imposing trophy at approximately 9:30 p.m. on the second night.

All three of the visiting teams participating in the UKIT this year are newcomers. Tennessee was a late entry into the exclusive field, replacing North Carolina which withdrew as the result of a de-emphasis move.

The Kentucky cage extravaganza was inaugurated in 1953 and annually has attracted outstanding basketball powers as UK Athletic Director Bernie A. Shively seeks to give the tourney an intersectional flavor. Reflecting the important national prestige attached to the UKIT is the fact that the winner twice in the last four years has vaulted to the top of the national wire service polls.

Also laying claim to being the nation's richest tournament, UKIT participants have picked up national record size dividends (net proceeds are divided equally) ranging from approximately $8,000 the first year to a high of better than $15,000 two years back.

Host Kentucky owns four titles from the first eight UKIT classics, the last coming in 1958 on a defeat of West Virginia. However, St. Louis nudged the 'Cats on a 74-72 overtime decision in the championship match last year.

Wildcats To Be UKIT Underdog

The UK Wildcats, minus four starters off last season's outfit that wound up a blazing finish bidding for an unprecedented fifth NCAA title, likely will have to take a back seat to the visiting fives when favorites are established for the ninth UKIT. This is due to be a rebuilding year, but master-builder Rupp has surprised before and has sensational sophomore Cotton Nash to help.

Kansas State, ranked fourth in the final polls last season and loser to eventual champion Cincinnati in the NCAA, loses only two men (6-5 All-Big Eight center Cedric Price and forward Larry Comley) from its top nine regulars.

Xavier survived adversity that could have crippled any team to finish strong last year and gain a berth in the NCAA for the first time. Eight returning lettermen have their sights set on possibly the greatest campaign in school history.

Tennessee, on paper, isn't supposed to be on the same court with the "biggies." The luckless Vols, however, have five veterans back and can count on some highly-touted sophs. Also the form chart always is tossed out the window when UT and its arch athletic nemesis, Kentucky, meet in any sport.

Player Profiles

No. 11 HERKY RUPP

6-4 Sr. Forward—Lexington, Ky.

One of the squad's most determined individuals, 21-year-old Herky Rupp is back for a final season at proving himself capable in the sport he loves. Admittedly, the self-made son of Wildcat Coach Adolph Rupp does not have all the physical equipment and natural ability of some of his adversaries—both in the stable of thoroughbreds assembled by his father and talented opponents. But you'll never hear a disgruntled word from Herky, a polite and quietly-efficient youngster who has seen only brief action as a varsity performer. One of his greatest attributes is a knack of doing things thoroughly and right to the fullest extent of his ability. As a freshman in 1958-59, he was an alternate forward starter and picked up 41 points. Two years ago, in his first varsity season, Herky found the going tough and scored just five points in 12½ minutes of action. He was held out of competition last year as a junior to help his development and normally would have another season left besides the current one. But this campaign will be the last basketball competition for Herky who intends to graduate and continue his law studies. The 6-4 graduate of Lexington's University High has above average maneuverability around the basket and could see more action in a reserve capacity this year. Coach Rupp looks at the prospect this way: "If I think he can help us, he'll play. If not, not even his mother could persuade me to use him." Herky's real name is Adolph Rupp, Jr., but he picked up the nickname as a small child.

No. 12 ALLEN FELDHAUS

6-5 Sr. Forward-Center—Burlington, Ky.

As the biggest man on the 1961-62 Kentucky varsity squad, Allen Feldhaus will have a big load on his shoulders in attempting to carry the Wildcat colors in the rugged going under the basket. Absence of the really big man (in the sense of height in the 6-9 or above range) in the pivot will increase the pressure on this rugged native Kentuckian, but he has lived up to his moniker of "Horse" exceptionally well to date. The full worth of Feldhaus to last season's Kentucky team is difficult to assess accurately on the basis of mere recital of his point production—which amounted to only 91 points. Horse helped carry the Wildcats during the troubled first half of the season by starting at forward in 11 of the first 15 games and his final accumulation of 114 rebounds was the fifth highest on the team. All told, the Burlington "fireman" saw better than 400 minutes of action in 26 games and quenched the flames of many a foe's hot streak. His season high in point making was a 10-point effort against Notre Dame at Louisville that tied his varsity best mark set as a sophomore against Colorado State. Alternating between forward and center as a sophomore, Feldhaus had posted 185 minutes of action time and 44 points to earn his first varsity letter. Returns this season with the distinction of being one of only four lettermen veterans. Like last year, Allen has been in top form in pre-season practice and is ticketed to hold down one of the starting forward jobs when the Wildcats open the 1961-62 campaign. His biggest value will be in rebounding, but it's likely he also will show an improvement in his eye for the basket. He took only 103 shots in 26 games last year. Shows surprising speed for a big man and should be no handicap in the fast break offense. In the off-season, Allen stars in baseball as a catcher and undoubtedly will be highly sought by pro scouts after following up a sensational soph campaign with leading slugger honors last spring. He was a second team All-State pick in basketball and scored 624 points in his senior schoolboy year. Also participated in football and track. Enrolled in College of Education.

No. 14 SCOTTY BAESLER

5-11 $\frac{3}{4}$ Jr. Guard—Lexington, Ky.

Destined to get the nod for a starting berth at guard, replacing graduated Captain Dickie Parsons, Baesler has to also get the big nod as the "sleeper" among the 1961-62 Wildcats. To lend proof to this designation, all that needs to be done is to recite the record: Scotty failed to letter, he saw only about 50 minutes total action in 13 games, he never started and stood 10th in scoring last season with only 11 points (4 of 16 from the field and 3 out of 4 at the free throw line) and a meager .8 average. His high scoring outburst for the first season in varsity gear was three points against Tennessee. But all that is mere history of what the popular and determined "Little Scotchman" didn't do. Somewhere along the line, to the amazement of a lot of the experts who were relegating him to an "also ran" status again, Scotty picked up that inimitable something that separates the "also ran" from a boy capable of playing regularly for the nation's most successful basketball school. Exactly what that something is, it's hard to pinpoint. Baesler is a much more fearsome scorer, judging by pre-season scrimmage performances, than he was last season as a sophomore. He fits into the traditional pattern of small, fast, good outside shooting Kentucky guards and his defensive ability leaves little to be desired. Quick reactions and a good pair of hands also help him become what coaches like to call a "garbage collector"—grabbing loose balls and getting the easy shots. Believed to be the first athlete from his school (Bryan Station) to play on a major athletic team, at least at Kentucky, Scotty is quietly determined to be a success. He shook off early season jitters as a freshman to come off the bench and garner 17 points against the tough Vanderbilt Baby Commodores and later, in a starting role, scored a career high of 22 in a battle with Tennessee's frosh. Seeing action in all 14 games, he wound up with 170 points. He has good speed and hits from outside well. An All-State second team choice, Baesler scored 2,137 points in three years' play at Bryan Station. Studying Agriculture.

No. 20 JIM McDONALD

6-3¼ Sr. Forward-Guard—Louisville, Ky.

A two-time letterman whose experience is being counted on to steady the rebuilding program being undertaken by Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentuckians this year, Jim McDonald is another prospect for the "darkhorse" role on the 1961-62 club. Admittedly, Mac has not set the world on fire in his three previous seasons in a Kentucky uniform but he is considered by his coaches to be a very valuable workhorse that they can insert when the going gets toughest. He's a pretty fair shot and at his best as a rebound and defensive man. His height is not exceptional but would be a welcome addition to this year's outfit that goes to the post minus the really big man to sweep the boards and must rely on its overall, above-average height balance to gang up on the opposition. McDonald has the necessary speed and ball-handling ability plus a proven knack of hitting from outside that seemed to justify experimenting with him at guard to get added height, but the move was abandoned in pre-season practice. His biggest problem in previous seasons has been a slight inconsistency, but coaches are hoping that he will lick this drawback in the upcoming campaign. After a good freshman season, in which he scored 92 points and posted a 10.5 average with a 22-point effort as his high, McDonald made an early bid for a starting job as a sophomore by netting 14 points as a sub in the season opener. The effort won him an opening berth in the next two games UK played on the West Coast, but he could collect only 12 points in the pair and regained his scoring form only once later in the season. Although he contributed flashes of fine play last season and aided the team effort in many ways, McDonald added only 14 points to his career total in about 124 minutes of reserve forward action in 19 games. His high was four against St. Louis in the UK Invitational. One of his long suits is defense. The Louisville St. Xavier product, who did not make the All-State team, is studying Electrical Engineering.

No. 22 CHARLES ISHMAEL

6-4½ Soph. Guard-Forward—Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Another of the Wildcats who rates the label of "darkhorse" and is one of the big question marks as Kentucky heads into 1961-62 campaigning, Charles (Chili) Ishmael could be a big help if he rounds into the form expected of him. The big problem is one of interrupted development caused by a battle with the books. Ishmael looked to be a terrific prospect during the first half of his freshman campaign last season, racking up 142 points and a very promising 12.9 scoring average in the first 11 games. Then he fell temporarily behind in a scrimmage with the professors and was forced by scholastic deficiencies to sit out the remainder of the 18-game season. Back in their good graces after a semester of intensive academic work, Ishmael joins the varsity with the prospect of regaining the promising ability level and providing help at either forward or guard. He played mostly at guard as a yearling. The rangy (6-4½) and rugged (former footballer) native Kentuckian is being counted on for much help and ranks as a "darkhorse" threat to take over a guard spot in the lineup when he catches up on the game experience he missed a year ago. Chili is a good shooter from either a guard or forward location and a fine passer capable of fitting into the controlled fast break offensive pattern employed by Coach Rupp's crew. He had a very respectable, 47.1 percent accuracy mark from the field as a freshman and hit 71.7 percent of his charity tosses. His high scoring night was 22 points against Lindsey-Wilson Junior College. Ishmael, who was a two-sport star at Mt. Sterling High, actually came to Kentucky on a football scholarship and played end with the UK freshman grid squad in 1960. He switched over to a basketball scholarship after the season and does not plan to see any further football action. Stellar play as a schoolboy earned him All-State second team honors in basketball and football plus most valuable player designations in those sports and in baseball. Enrolled in the College of Education.

No. 23 ROY ROBERTS

6-4 Sr. Forward—Atlanta, Ga.

It might not be appropriate to list Roy Roberts in the category of a "darkhorse." More accurately, this Georgia peach could be best described as a "stretch runner" in the best traditions of the Blue Grass State. He enters the 1961-62 campaign as Kentucky's most improved player with a prospective starting forward job all but cinched. This has to be regarded as quite a stretch run for a boy whose varsity career shows action in just five games and no points. Playing behind bigger and more experienced men, the Atlanta senior has found the road to regular duty a rough one. He might, therefore, be a surprise entry in the books of the experts, but Kentucky coaches last year pinpointed Roy—who was being red-shirted—as being in the good prospect category and he has come through to confirm their faith. Only slow development and the lack of exceptional size and ruggedness have held him back. Roberts has enough speed and shooting ability to get the job done when he is right. His defense has shown great improvement over last season and he is a good passer and rebounder. Only the third Georgian on the Kentucky cage squad in recent years, Roy has a heritage to live up to and gives every indication of doing so. Previous Georgia natives to play basketball with the Wildcats were seven-foot Bill Spivey of Warner-Robbins, an All-America center here in 1951, and 6-7 Ed Beck of Ft. Valley, defensive demon of the 1958 national champion quintet. Roberts came to Kentucky the season after Beck graduated with perhaps even more impressive schoolboy credentials than either of his star predecessors. He won first team honor on the Georgia All-State team, was picked on his state's All-Tournament unit and picked up All-Time Greater Atlanta honors during four years of stellar play at Atlanta Northside High. Roy was one-two in regional scoring his last two seasons and won All-City honor at center on his high school grid squad. He finished fifth in scoring with 54 points as a UK freshman three seasons back, but did not break into the point parade during brief action as a sophomore. He was a holdout in 1960-61.

No. 24 LARRY PURSIFUL

5-11 $\frac{3}{4}$ Sr. Guard—Four Mile, Ky.

The lone returning starter and one of only four lettermen back in the fold, Larry Pursiful bears a great responsibility in the success plans of Coach Rupp's Wildcat band for 1961-62. Kentucky coaches believe this boy has the potential to become one of the finest guards in school history, although he is the steady and dependable type rather than the high-scoring sensation. Larry is classed as one of the best shots in the nation —he finished last season as the country's 10th best free thrower with an 83.8 percent accuracy mark and was the team's best shot from the field at 41.1 percent. He's the best outsider shooter Kentucky has had in several years, a good jumper and quite possibly could be a phenomenal scorer if he would throw it up more. Ranked third in scoring last year with 375 points. Evidence of the fact that he is a consistent 20-point scorer is his high point production of 21 on four different occasions—against Illinois in the UK Invitational, Vanderbilt, Missouri and Marquette. Pursiful's top-flight performance in the UKIT earned him a spot on the All-Tournament five. Along with graduated All-Conference star Bill Lickert, Larry gained the unique honor of starting every game last season and piled up 956:38 in action time that was second only to Lickert. He was the fourth most proficient player on the club that staged a sensational comeback to win 11 of its last 12 starts and finish in contention for the national title. Averaged scoring a point every 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of play. True to the best tradition of Kentucky guards, Pursiful is comparatively small at 5-11 $\frac{3}{4}$ and 180 pounds and a good shot from long ranges. As the club's most experienced man, he'll handle most of the "quarterback" chores of playmaking in Kentucky's pattern offense. An unheralded schoolboy while playing at Lone Jack and Bell County Highs in Eastern Kentucky, Larry was offered a scholarship only by UK even though he was a first unit All-State pick and scored 750 points in his final high school year. In the off-season, he plays centerfield in baseball and hit .242 last year.

No. 30 DOUG PENDYGRAFT

6-1½ Sr. Guard—Parksville, Ky.

Surviving member of a highly-touted junior college transfer twosome that joined the Wildcats at the start of last season, Doug Pendygraft must be assessed as potentially a much better ball player than he showed in a disappointing first season in the "majors." Married and the father of two children, the likeable Kentuckian has simply had a problem of making the adjustment from junior college ball (Lindsey-Wilson of Columbia, Ky.) to the national calibre of basketball played at University of Kentucky. In all fairness to the boy, neither he nor his coaches can pinpoint the reason. Pendygraft seemingly has the natural ability, the moves, the shots and ball handling finesse to get the job done offensively. He could be a better defensive man, but he works hard at guarding his opponent and makes only the mistakes that come from inexperience against top-flight opposition. With added confidence and greater personal drive and determination to make good in the tradition of most of the select list of six other UK junior college transfers, Doug is expected to turn in a better season in 1961-62. Last season, playing as a guard reserve, he saw action in seven games for a total time of 26:07 and his high point production was five versus Alabama. He finished last on the team in scoring. Doug came to UK along with Vince Del Negro of Northeast Mississippi JC with a terrific reputation. He set all kinds of junior college scoring records, won unanimous selection as the "Most Valuable Player" in the 1960 JC national tourney and attaining JC All-America honors. He was leading scorer of the tournament with 154 points in four games and eclipsed by 10 points the previous one-game tourney high with a 63-point outburst as he paced the Lindsey-Wilson Blue Raiders over Grand View (Iowa) in the fourth place game. He became the third winner of the JC "MVP" award to attend UK. Previous recipients who became Wildcats were Sid Cohen and Bob Burrow. Pendygraft's final season scoring average of 25.7 slotted him just behind Del Negro in junior college ranks. Del Negro left UK after becoming ineligible scholastically following his first semester.

No. 31 TOMMY HARPER

6-0 $\frac{3}{4}$ Soph. Guard—Winchester, Ky.

Called the "best shot I ever had" by his high school mentor, highly-successful Letcher Norton of Clark County High, Tommy Harper looms as a big "little man" in Kentucky's basketball future. Wildcat coaches concur in the assessment of his attribute, calling Harper a fine southpaw shot. The road to regular duty as a collegian will depend to a large degree on his development in game action this season, particularly on defense as he makes further adjustment from the zone system he played in high school to UK's man-to-man style. Improvement has been noted in his defensive play and he is being counted on to provide help this season in a key reserve role or possibly in a starter assignment if any of the men ahead of him falter. Harper proved himself fully capable of taking charge in an emergency with his stellar play as a first-year man last season. Starting 17 of the UK freshman team's 18 games at guard, he posted a very respectable, 16.7 scoring average with 306 points than ranked him behind only talented Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken. Tommy connected from the field at a 45.5 percent accuracy clip that was the best of any regular and had a high point effort for the season of 32 in the finale against the Tennessee freshmen at Knoxville. He showed steady development in his scoring from mid-season on, posting marks of 18 to 30 prior to the last game. He's a shade taller than the traditional UK guard, but has good speed and outside shooting ability. He averaged 25.7 points a game in his senior year as a schoolboy at Clark County High in nearby Winchester while playing mostly at forward and won a spot on the first unit of the All-State team. His final year collection of 919 points represented a new school record. A 60-foot shot by the sterling southpaw in the final four seconds avoided an upset of Clark County by Lexington Henry Clay in 1960 and was one of many such sensational fielders.

No. 32 GEORGE ATKINS

6-5 $\frac{3}{4}$ Soph. Center-Forward—Hopkinsville, Ky.

Biggest man, in the sense of height alone, on the height-poor Kentucky cage outfit of 1961-62, 6-5 $\frac{3}{4}$ George Atkins also stands as possibly the biggest question mark. Plagued by inconsistency, the Hopkinsville native was an intentional hold-out or red-shirt last season with the hope that the added year of intensive practice and physical development would materially aid him in becoming a dependable performer. Although the expected development has not attained the desired peak as yet, Wildcat coaches are not ready to sell this boy short this season since they feel he could come around by mid-season as he benefits by game experience. At the worst, Atkins is being counted on to fill in as a key reserve to spell Kentucky's starting post man or forward since he is capable of playing either position. If he gains the toughness and drive of a top-flight basketeer, Atkins should be real hard to handle. Coach Rupp is hopeful that George will take up where he left off as a yearling two seasons back. As a UK freshman in 1959-60, the former Hoptown All-Stater came along fast in late season to wind up as the team's fourth best scorer with 159 points in 14 games. In three years of schoolboy play, he tallied 1,621 points as a star center. His high effort was 40 and he went over 30 points in a game 12 times. A good foul shooter, he hit 76.6 percent of his free throws as a UK freshman and was second in rebounding with 111 hauled down.

No. 33 PAT DOYLE

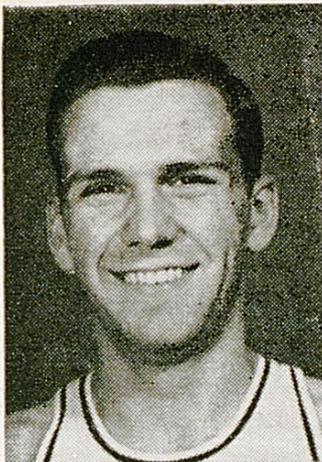

6-1½ Soph. Forward-Guard—Calvert City, Ky.

Behind in his basketball development due to a striking lack of game experience, Pat Doyle forms another "big" question mark in the season plans of the Kentucky Wildcats. Coach Adolph Rupp would like nothing better than to see the smiling Irishman come through in the big way that his tremendous high school reputation gave promise of. The absence of game duty resulted from slow achievement of form in the early stages and then Doyle's scholastic ineligibility for the second semester of his freshman campaign. He saw action in only six contests that the yearlings played in 1959-60, all those during the first semester, and notched but 47 points for a 7.8 average that hardly compared with his sensational play as a schoolboy. Doyle achieved All-State and All-America mention while leading his unheralded North Marshall five in its bid for the Kentucky state high school championship. He showed up fairly well last season, but failed to achieve the level that would merit his use in the extremely few easy games played by the Wildcats and was held out of competition entirely to save a year of eligibility. His coaches were pleased at his continued development in pre-season practice sessions this fall and, if he retains the ability level, it's a good bet that he will see duty in a major reserve role during 1961-62. Doyle has the speed to operate at a guard spot and the aggressiveness plus rebounding skill that allows his employment as a forward as well. He is a somewhat erratic ball-handler, but this should improve. Nobody is giving up on Doyle—in fact, he is highly regarded and certain to work in a role that will best help the squad. That's the way he wants it. He seems most certain to make his mark at guard since his lack of exceptional height—he stands only six-foot, one and one-half inches—places him at something of a disadvantage in front court. Evidence of his rebounding skill and willingness to fight for the ball off both boards is given by the fact that in his abbreviated stretch of freshman duty, he garnered almost as many rebounds (34) as he did points (47).

No. 34 GEORGE CRITZ

6-3½ Soph. Center-Forward—Bellbrook, Ohio

A virtual unknown hailing from the small town of Bellbrook, Ohio, near Dayton, George Critz is a boy with a lot to learn and a long way to go before he is ready to take his place in the regular lineup with the Kentucky Wildcats. Nobody realizes this better than Critz himself and he is doing a good job of trying to pick up the cage savvy that will make him a dependable ballplayer. Kentucky coaches are hopeful this learning process will begin to pay dividends this season and allow Critz to help out in a reserve capacity at either forward or center. The name, incidentally, is pronounced CRY'-ts and his father is a mechanical engineer back in Beelbrook. George has present ambitions to coach. One of the things he does best is shoot. He posted a 7.9 average for his scoring with the freshmen last season, playing in all 18 games mostly at center and starting 14. His high point production was 23 against Southeast Christian College late in the season and he often hit in double figures. As a rebounder, he excelled with 131 grabs off the boards that ranked him third in this department of play with the freshmen. Critz has fair size (6-3½ and 201 pounds) that helps him during the in-fighting and he has good moves. The main problem he has to lick is defensive play. His hustle as a prepster impressed Wildcat scouts as much as his scoring ability. Although the Ohioan achieved only honorable mention on the All-State list, his 1,600 points during four years at Sugar Creek High as a forward-center indicated a good chance for him in college ball. His high single game scoring mark in high school was 50 in his senior year and he was the school foul-shooting champ. Also took part in off-season sports of baseball and track.

No. 40 CARROLL BURCHETT

6-4 Sr. Center-Forward—Fuget, Ky.

This 6-4 mountain lad could be the "swing man" in Coach Adolph Rupp's 1961-62 lineup, operating in the valuable role of No. 6 man to play either in the pivot or at forward extensively. If the situation develops that he is relegated to the bench at the start, Burchett just might be the best sixth man in a pretty wide circle of cage powerhouses. And, both he and his coaches are counting on a dependable pattern that has seen the lanky redhead at his best when he comes off the bench in a fireman role to get his club control of the boards and out of trouble, scoring-wise. He's rarely been a starter—gaining the assignment for only three games in mid-season last year and being picked only 12 times as a sophomore—but has proven himself capable of some surprising scoring outbursts. One of the big attributes of this rebounding redhead is the way he goes after that ball and his board work in the past two seasons prompted his trial in pre-season work this year at the starting post position. However, he gives away just a little too much height and has to depend too much on his spring and extraordinary reach to have the stamina needed to stay with bigger pivot men. Coach Rupp attributes a large measure of Carroll's rebounding skill to "the longest arms I've ever seen on a fellow who stands only six feet four." If he can keep up the pace of his past board work in either a starting center-forward job or in top-flight relief capacity, Burchett should prove extremely valuable to the team effort and take up some of the rebounding slack that will be missed by the departure of such hands as Ned Jennings, Roger Newman and Bill Lickert. His 126 grabs last season was fourth best on the team and he stood fifth in scoring with 144 points in 25 games. The lanky mountain lad, a second team All-State pick while playing for Flat Gap High, came to Kentucky in 1958 as a mid-year enrollee. He was held out the following season (1958-59) after becoming eligible at the start of the second semester, but developed into a dependable hand in 1959-60 with 155 points, 158 rebounds and selection on the All-Conference Sophomore team despite a bout with hepatitis that slowed him down in early season.

No. 42 HARRY HURD

6-4 $\frac{3}{4}$ Sr. Center-Forward—Forks of Elkhorn, Ky.

The chances of this lean and lanky Kentuckian-by-adoption seeing extensive action in the classification of basketball played by the nation's most successful team are somewhat remote again this year, but Harry Hurd cannot be sold short. While he has yet to register a single point in his varsity career, Harry shows flashes of form in practice sessions that lead to the belief that he potentially is an above average ballplayer who needs mainly confidence and a big measure of desire. He possesses good speed, above average height, has shooting potential and doesn't mind mixing it up under the boards. With his height and the possibility that he will come up with the necessary quality of determination, a place could develop for Hurd in the lineup of this season's height-shy Wildcats. Coach Rupp is hopeful that normal improvement after two seasons of varsity squad experience will make Hurd a valuable man to have around. He operated mainly as a pivotman in high school (Elkhorn) in Kentucky's capital city of Frankfort, averaging 25 points a game in his final season as a schoolboy to pick up honorable mention on the All-State list. In his opening season as a collegian at UK, Hurd saw action in nine freshman games to score 34 points and haul down 44 rebounds. His season high was 10 against Lee's Junior College. As a sophomore two years back, Hurd could not break into the scoring column during brief action (13:12 in four games), but was credited with six rebounds. Hurd's development level plus the closeness of most Kentucky games last season prevented his entry in any games. Born in Dallas, Texas, and plans a career in Electrical Engineering.

No. 44 CHARLES (Cotton) NASH

6-4 $\frac{3}{4}$ Soph. C-F-G—Lake Charles, La.

One of the most-talked-about freshmen in the nation last year and freely touted by many experts for All-America before he plays his first varsity game, Cotton Nash is obviously Kentucky's basketball future wrapped up in a big, handsome, blond-haired package of potential cage dynamite. You begin to get an idea of this potential when learning that Coach Adolph Rupp calls his star "the best sophomore prospect in the nation" and when his UK freshman accomplishments are recited—he set seven new seasonal records and bettered most single game marks, many of which had been put into the books by such greats as Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey, Alex Groza, Bill Spivey and other Wildcat All-Americans. Nash, who got his nickname of "Cotton" from an uncle who called him "Cotton Top" as a child when his hair was an even lighter blond than it is now, achieves his greatness from a world of natural ability. He has all the offensive moves in the book, shoots equally well with either hand, has big hands and great touch, handles himself extraordinarily well under the boards due to a rugged frame (6-4 $\frac{3}{4}$ and 219), knows how to handle the ball and when to pass off and works defensively with surprising ease. Cotton likely will start out his first varsity season in the pivot where most effective use can be made of his variety of shots and rebounding skill, but he is fully capable (as proven by his play as a yearling) to work as a triple threat man at any position. He is a natural forward and played mainly at this position in his freshman year, but did see action as well at guard and center. Starting all 18 games played by the UK freshmen, Nash twice hit for 40 points—first in the opening game and later against the Tennessee freshmen despite sitting out nearly 10 minutes of the contest. Leading the club in nine statistical categories, he recorded new marks for most points (476), most field goals (160), most field goal attempts (384), most free throws (208), most free throws and attempts in one game (28 of 30), most free throws in succession (12), most rebounds (293 season and 36 single game) and best rebound average (16.2). He tied the frosh field goal mark for one game with 17 and also led the team without setting records in personal fouls (60) and scoring average (26.3). Only the fact that Nash is by nature an unselfish and humble individual, who passed off to teammates in situations he could have justifiably kept the ball himself, prevented him from an even greater accounting in the record book. A jumper from around the circle is his best shot and he dribbles well for a big man. One of Nash's unusual mannerisms finds him rarely sitting down at practice sessions or in the locker room. Just too much nervous energy, he explains. Testifying to all-around athletic ability of the Bayou Bomber, Kentucky's football coaches drool over every teasing hint by Coach Rupp that he might let Nash go out for football and the clamor of other sports chiefs at UK for his services in track, baseball, swimming and golf. Kentucky did not field a freshman baseball team last year, so Cotton helped out the varsity as batting practice pitcher. Also operates well as a third baseman. With the UK freshman track team, he ran the 100 in 10.1 and tossed the discus a record 146'1³/₄." Swimming season conflicted with basketball, so Cotton had to wait until summer to get his feet wet as a lifeguard at a local country club pool. He also loves golf, water skiing and horseback riding. The fabulous youngster, who chose Kentucky over 50 to 55 other schools seeking his services, was an All-Stater in three sports—basketball, football and baseball—plus state discus record holder in high school. Born in Jersey City, N.J., Nash took his schooling mainly at Jeffersonville, Ind., and Lake Charles, La. His early development in basketball came in his freshman and sophomore schoolboy years at Jeffersonville where he was tutored by Cliff Barker, ex-Wildcat star of Fabulous Five fame. Moving to Lake Charles, Cotton completely demolished all existing records in the cage sport and was such a standout baseball pitcher that he had the opportunity to turn down several major league offers in preference to starting a college education. His final cage campaign saw Nash register 1,216 points in 37 games for a 32.8 average and he caught a touchdown pass to give his Lake Charles the mythical state championship in football during his junior year. A good student, he is studying a pre-dentistry course at Kentucky.

No. 54 TED DEEKEN

6-3½ Soph. Forward—Louisville, Ky.

A former All-State star with Louisville Flaget High; Ted Deeken stands out as one of Kentucky's most promising basketeers and the Wildcat coaches are definitely planning on his help this season. "Deek" could give some of his teammates a stiff battle for regular starting duty if he comes around as he seems capable of doing. Operated last season as the UK freshmen's starting forward, opening in all 18 games the Kittens played and registering points at a very respectable, 17.7 clip that took a back seat only to forward running mate Cotton Nash. Ted's free throw proficiency and rebounding were instrumental in the UK freshmen's feat of posting new school season records in these departments. He ranked as the team's most accurate free thrower with an 83.3 percent mark as he cashed 60 of 72 attempts and hauled down a total of 188 rebounds that was surpassed only by Nash. Only a lack of really rugged size (187 pounds distributed over a 6-3½ frame) prevents Deeken from becoming an exceptionally fine rebounder. He has all the best moves under the bucket and is not hesitant about mixing it up with bigger men. The ex-Flaget standout also has good offensive maneuvers, shooting well with a jumper his best shot and a hook second best. He's a good passer and has the necessary speed to operate as a forward. Deeken saw most of his schoolboy duty at center, but was switched to forward as a Kentucky freshman. The rebounding and scoring whiz helped lead his Flaget team to the state schoolboy championship and was considered one of the top prospects of the state in 1960. He was named to the All-State unit, starred in the Kentucky-Indiana All-Star series and served as co-captain of the West in the high school East-West All-Star Game at UK's Coliseum summer before last. Also was a pitcher-outfielder in baseball and ran in cross-country while in high school. Deeken is a good student with tentative plans to study medicine.

SCHOLARSHIP FRESHMEN

JOHN ADAMS—6-6½ Center—Rising Sun, Ind.—Hailing from a small Indiana community 25 miles down river from his Cincinnati birthplace, "Long John" is one of two Hoosier State products (Kennett is the other) on frosh five . . . He's the tallest of the UK freshman crop and could be the darkhorse since he mysteriously was overlooked in All-State balloting . . . Averaged 21 points and 22 rebounds a game in his final schoolboy campaign . . . Adams, an "A" student at Harrison High, was honorary captain of school basketball, track and baseball squads . . . Set conference high jump record of 5-11½ and was All-Conference pitcher-first baseman . . . Closely watched by UK scouts for two years, Adams is a big, rugged (200 pounder), intelligent boy with a great desire to win that has been the trademark of past UK greats . . . Best night in high school play was 34 against Madison (Ind.) Shaw . . . John has all the necessary shots inside and out and is strong on both boards.

RANDY EMBRY—5-10 Guard—Owensboro, Ky.—Coached in high school at Owensboro by ex-Wildcat great Bobby Watson, Embry is small, speedy and a good outside shot in the best traditions of UK guards . . . He hopes to emulate the cage feats of his coach, who captained the '52 defending national champions and twice (1951-52) was named to the All-Southeastern Conference team . . . Embry comes to UK with great credentials: All-America selection, honorary captain and twice All-State, Most Valuable Player of Region, "Mr. Basketball" of the Kentucky-Indiana series, and a career scoring total of 1,617 points that ranked second in the region only to former Owensboro and UK All-America Cliff Hagan . . . Randy actually showed a better average than Hagan, 17.9 to 17.4 . . . Had 777 points and a high of 50 in final schoolboy year . . . Leading hitter in baseball for 1960 with .405 average . . . Personally signed by Coach Rupp, Embry is a fine outside shot, has good speed, is a fine passer and strong defensively . . . Nicknamed "Chick."

SAM HARPER—6-2½ Guard-Forward—Clinton, Ky.—Regarded by Coach Adolph Rupp as an outstanding prospect and a better boy than might be indicated by his high school record, Harper must be considered the "darkhorse" of a more celebrated field of freshman thoroughbreds . . . Sam hails from the Purchase section of the state, where his father sells famous old Kentucky country hams, and made the second unit All-State selections while leading his Hickman County team in scoring with a 20-point average . . . Harper is cited as having excellent speed, fine spring, a good jump shot and strong defensive ability . . . High school experience qualifies him for either forward or guard assignments.

RON KENNETT—5-11 Guard—Lawrenceburg, Ind.—Along with UK teammate John Adams of Rising Sun, Kennett provides the Kittens with a Hoosier influence . . . He's small in the best traditions of Kentucky guards and a good outside shot as Wildcat back court men always are . . . Classed by his coaches as having blazing speed that should make him invaluable in leading a fast break . . . He was considered one of the outstanding playmakers in Indiana schoolboy circles last winter and All-Conference guard with 400 points to his credit . . . Coach Rupp, who personally signed Kennett, says the boy "should fit into the pattern of outstanding guards of his size and talent that we have had so much success with in the past." . . . Exceptionally aggressive and good ball handler.

TERRY MOBLEY—6-1 $\frac{3}{4}$ Guard-Forward—Harrodsburg, Ky.—Destined to become the first boy from his hometown ever to play basketball at the state university, Mobley was also the first Kentuckian signed to a scholarship at UK last spring . . . The widely-sought All-Stater, who posted a 23-point average in 1960-61, had been closely followed for two years . . . A good student and clever ball handler, Terry also is strong, an excellent shooter, outstanding rebounder, clever ball handler and a fine leader . . . Hit 94 percent of his free throws . . . Coached at one time in high school by former UK All-America (1932-33) Forest (Aggie) Sale, Mobley reportedly had offers from more than 50 schools including several in the Southeastern Conference . . . Led his 11th Region team to an undefeated regular season . . . Starred as a catcher and .362 hitter in baseball and took part in cross country running . . . Coach Rupp says "this boy fits into our plans in an admirable way and should have a great career ahead of him."

DENNY RADABAUGH—6-3 Forward—Savanna, Ill.—Leading scorer in the State of Illinois last winter, Radabaugh is described as one of the top schoolboy basketeters to come out of the midwest . . . The All-Tri-State (Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin) choice posted a 30.5 scoring average at Savanna Community High in 1960-61 with a single game high of 57 points . . . Denny led his team's scoring three straight years and showed an accumulation of 1,880 points for his schoolboy career in which he set new school records in every department save single game assists and season free throw percentage . . . He began an assault on school and conference marks as a junior and after two years had a total of 20 new records to his credit . . . Radabaugh, who attended seven different schools prior to Savanna, is considered a good rebounder and a fine shot at close ranges . . . He was tutored in both basketball and football at Savanna by Jerry Gray, currently on the UK staff as an unpaid graduate assistant . . . The National Honor Society member is a good student and is planning a business career.

DON ROLFES—6-6 Forward-Center—Harrison, Ohio—Regarded as one of the best schoolboy prospects in the country last winter, Rolfes cast his lot with Kentucky in preference to Ohio State and a great number of other schools in every section of the country . . . Don, who was an All-America second team choice in 1960-61, led all schoolboy scorers in the State of Ohio with a 30.4 average and rebounded at a clip of 21 grabs per game . . . This gives UK the leading scorers of two states (Radabaugh led in Illinois) and the runner-up in Kentucky (Embry) . . . Hailing from the small Buckeye State community of Harrison, 25 miles northwest of his Cincinnati birthplace near the Indiana line, "Red" (so nicknamed for his reddish hair) made All-State last year, Player of the Year for Greater Cincinnati area (Enquirer poll) and in 1960 captained the Greater Cincinnati Area All-Star team selected by the Cincinnati Post . . . He also was seventh in voting for Parade Magazine's All-America team . . . Paced Harrison High to an undefeated regular season of 20 wins and the Hamilton County championship . . . Hit 59 percent from the field . . . Coach Rupp calls Rolfes "the big boy we need to help us control the boards" and, at 6-6 and 220, there's little doubt he can take care of the chore.

WILDCATS ARE POPULAR

At home or on the road, Baron Adolph Rupp and his colorful Kentucky Wildcats are one of college basketball's biggest drawing cards. The largest crowd ever to see the Kentuckians in action turned out last March to witness the opening night of the NCAA Mideast Regional at Freedom Hall in Louisville. A tournament-record crowd of 18,833 witnessed Kentucky whip Morehead and Ohio State top Louisville. Another banner crowd of 17,494 the following night broke all existing NCAA records for two-night play. Other top crowds to see the Wildcats were 18,493 in Madison Square Garden for a St. John's game Dec. 21, 1946; 18,803 who witnessed the Kentucky-Seattle national championship match at Louisville March 22, 1958; and 18,274 attending a regular season clash between Kentucky and Illinois at Freedom Hall in Louisville Dec. 30, 1958. At their own Memorial Coliseum in Lexington, the Ruppmen play to virtual capacity crowds every time out. The record one-night crowd was 12,242 who saw Kentucky whip Kansas Dec. 16, 1950. For the home season, the high total is 150,665 in 14 games of the 1958-59 campaign. Testifying to the popularity of the cage sport in Lexington is the unsurpassed Coliseum record of 12,734 fans who squeezed in for a high school doubleheader on Jan. 8, 1952.

MAN WITH SCHEDULE 1961-62

Scouting Reports

First Game—MIAMI (Ohio) at Lexington—Sat., Dec. 2

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500) Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Redskins Colors—Red and White
Location—Oxford, Ohio Enrollment—Apx. 7,000
Publicist—Bob Kurz Conference—Mid-American
Ath. Dir.—John Brickels Series—UK Won 9, Miami Won 4

1960-61 Record—W 12, L 12 Last Game—UK 70, Miami 58 in '61
(Conf. finish—Third)

COACH—Dick Shrider (4 Years at MU—Won 52, Lost 48)

Offense—Single Pivot Defense—Zone, Man-to-Man

Chief losses—Starters Dave Zeller (G) 22.8, Vern Lawson (F) 18.3,
Ted Garrison (C)

Top returnees—Dave Mack (6-5½ F), LaVern Benson (5-10 G) 12.4,
Jerry Saunders (6-2 G)

OUTLOOK: Minus three starters and short on exceptional size for the second straight season, the Redskins are not apt to better their 12-12 finish of a year ago. But rebuilding could bring faster results than expected, especially with some top soph talent in 6-7 center Trip Bosart and 6-5 forward Bob Moon. Short on experience, fair overall size and a tough schedule as meet UK in Lexington second straight year. Miami retains the distinction of being the oldest, still-active foe in UK cage history.

Second Game—SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA at Lexington— Monday, Dec. 4

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500) Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Trojans Colors—Cardinal and Gold
Location—Los Angeles, Calif. Enrollment—17,476
Publicist—Don Simonian Conference—AAWU (Big Five)
Ath. Dir.—Jesse T. Hill Series—UK Won 0, USC Won 1

1960-61 Record—W 21, L 8 Last Game—USC 87, UK 73 in '59
(Conf. finish—First)

COACH—Forrest Twogood (11 Years at USC)—Won 184, Lost 118)

Offense—Controlled, with fast break Defense—Sagging Man-to-Man

Chief losses—None

Top returnees—John Rudometkin (6-5 C) 23.9, All-American; Chris Appel (6-2 G) 13.4, All-Conference

OUTLOOK: With every letterman from the 1960-61 Big Five championship team returning, including record-smashing All-America center John Rudometkin, the Men of Troy will be a strong and talented outfit which has to be regarded as a top contender for the national title. Among other stars at Trojan Coach Forest Twogood's disposal as he meets UK in a return match are All-West Coast guard Chris Appel and rugged forward Ken Stanley. Only previous meeting came in Los Angeles early in 1959-60, USC winning 87-73.

Third Game—ST. LOUIS at Lexington—Mon., Dec. 11

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500)	Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST

Location—St. Louis, Mo.	Enrollment—10,000

COACH—John Bennington (3 Years at SLU—Won 60, Lost 23)

Offense—Pattern Play Defense—Switching Man-to-Man

Chief losses—Bevo Nordmann (C) 13.0 (9 Games), Gordon Hartweger (F) 10.1, Glen Mankowski (G) 10.5

Top returnees—Bill Nordmann (6-7 C-F) 9.0, Tom Kieffer (6-3 F) 11.2, George Latinovich (5-11 G) 5.5.

OUTLOOK: Three key men depart from last season's St. Louis team that copped the UK Invitational and finished second in the NIT while posting a 21-9 overall record. But there's no great moaning from long John Bennington. He admits the overall picture is good—probably as good as a year ago. Depth will be a strong point along with height. To help out the returning veterans, the Billiken boss has a pair of hot-shot sophs, 6-8 Gary Garrison and 6-9 Gil Beckmeyer. Defense could be the comparative weakness with the absence of aces Glenn Mankowski and Gordon Hartweger.

Fourth Game—BAYLOR at Lexington—Sat., Dec. 16

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500) Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Bears Colors—Green and Gold
Location—Waco, Texas Enrollment—Apx. 5,200
Publicist—George Wright Conference—Southwest
Ath. Dir.—John Bridgers Series—UK Won 3, BU Won 0
1960-61 Record—W 4, L 20 Last Game—UK 77, BU 59 in '48
(Conf. finish—Last) (Olympic Trials)

COACH—Bill Menefee (First Year as Head Coach)

Offense—

Defense—

Chief losses—Four starters

Top returnees—Harold Henson (6-3 G) 6.9, John Hoggard (6-5 F),
Tom Garrison (6-9 F) 3.9

OUTLOOK: New Head Coach Bill Menefee moves into a bleak and difficult situation after 14 years as aide to retired Bill Henderson. Four starters were lost off a club that won only four games in 24 last year and prospects do not shape up as particularly brighter. Three top scorers are gone, but there are bright spots in the height department and sophomore help. Best of the youngsters moving up was to be 6-6 center Spencer Carlson, but he reportedly was lost for scholastic reasons. Soph forward Herb Barrett (6-6½) may move into the starting spot. Rebounding will be a strong suit.

Fifth Game—TEMPLE at Lexington—Mon., Dec. 18

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500) Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Owls Colors—Cherry and White
Location—Philadelphia, Pa. Enrollment—Apx. 5,000

COACH—Johnny Sines (2 Years—Won 22, Lost 26)

Offense—Single Post, Fast Break Defense—Man-to-Man

Chief losses—Four starters (Fisher, c; Campbell and Carter, g; Test, f)

Top returnees—John Martin (6-4 F) 6.2, Orb Bowling (6-9 C) 4.2

OUTLOOK: Tennessee, first Southeastern participant in the UKIT and a replacement for de-emphasizing North Carolina, may be hard pressed to come up with a top-flight outfit since four of last season's starters will be missing. But the Vols are bent on improvement and could be a "darkhorse" as they build around returning starter John Martin and 6-9 junior Orb Bowling. Sophomore talent could make Tennessee tough to handle. Best of the newcomers: 6-6 forward Sid Elliott and 6-2 guard Gene Pendleton. Coach Johnny Sines' crew will meet Kentucky twice more during the regular season.

Chief losses—John Tully (C) 11.1, Bill Crosby (G) 8.6

Top returnees—Armand Reo (6-6 F) 14.6 Capt., Eddie Schnurr (6-0 G) 12.2, John Dearie (6-6 F) 9.7

OUTLOOK: Coach Johnny Jordan is most hopeful of improving on Notre Dame's record of 12 wins and 14 defeats of last winter. Helping his hopes are the fact that two regulars return along with three other part-time first stringers. Top personnel are 6-5 forward and captain Armand Reo and guard Eddie Schnurr, former Louisville St. Xavier star. Coming up from the frosh unit to help is another Louisville import, 6-2 Tom Finnegan. Motivating the Irish in their annual Freedom Hall clash with Kentucky are close decisions lost to the Wildcats in the past two seasons.

COACH—Roy Skinner (1 Year Acting Coach—Won 14, Lost 10)

Offense—Controlled Break Defense—Man-to-Man

Chief losses—Bill Depp (c) 17.2, Don Ringstaff (F) 11.5, Larry Banks (F) 8.7

Top returnees—John Russell (6-0 G) 11.0, Bobby Bland (5-10 G) 11.7, Ron Griffiths (6-7 C) 4.8

OUTLOOK: Head Coach in his own right for the first time, capable Roy Skinner has his ambitious sights set on great things for Vanderbilt in 1961-62. Seven lettermen return from the squad that split with Kentucky in regular season to finish in a tie for second and then lose to the Wildcats in a playoff for an NCAA berth. Top prospects are three proven guards—Bobby Bland, John Russell and Bill Johnson. Best of the "new blood" may be 6-3 forward Roger Schurig, but his development last year was hampered by an eye injury. All-SEC center Bill Depp will be missed. Coach Skinner, acting coach two years back, now has succeeded successful Bob Polk, who has retired on advice of doctors.

Thirteenth Game—LOUISIANA STATE at Lexington—
Friday, Jan. 13

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500) Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Tigers, Bayou Bengals Colors—Purple and Gold
Location—Baton Rouge, La. Enrollment—10,055
Publicist—Ace Higgins Conference—Southeastern
Ath. Dir.—James J. Corbett Series—UK Won 19, LSU Won 1

1960-61 Record—W 11, L 14 Last Game—LSU 73, UK 59 in '61
(Conf. finish—Tied Sixth.)

COACH—Jay McCreary (6 Years—Won 58, Lost 75)

Offense—Single pivot, fast break Defense—Zone, man-for man

Chief loss—Stan Jacobs (F) 8.2

Top returnees—George Nattin (6-0 G) 16.5, Ellis Cooper (6-0 G) 13.8,
Tom Conklin (6-10 C) 9.5, Maury Drummond (6-7 C-F) 7.2

OUTLOOK: The Bayou Bengals teed off on an unwary Kentucky in Baton Rouge last winter to chalk up their first cage win in history over the Wildcats. Four starters come back from that outfit and, despite the handicap of meeting the northern division clubs on the road this time, there should be improvement over the 11-14 record of 1961. Top returnees include stellar guards George Nattin (All-SEC) and Ellis Cooper plus the big man, 6-10 Tom Conklin. Some fine sophs are in line, along with key reserves, to beef up the Tigers' bid by providing a stronger bench.

COACH—Harbin (Red) Lawson (10 Years—Won 75, Lost 176)

Defense—Man-to-Man

Chief losses—Starters Phil Simpson (F) 14.5, Don Keiser (F) 11.9,
John Johnson (C) 11.2, Pat Casey (G) 6.1

Top returnee—Allan Johnson (5-10 G) 14.9

OUTLOOK: If ever a man had a right to sing the "Blues," Coach Red Lawson does with a last place finish in the SEC and an overall record of 8-18 worsened by the loss of four regulars. But the popular (not because he loses at times) Bulldog mentor foresees better times in '62 despite an absence of experience. He reports good potential among talented newcomers to help out capable and dependable returning starter, guard Allan Johnson. Top scoring Charles Bagby (6-3) heads the soph list and also due to be on hand are a trio of junior college transfers, so things may not be as bad as they seem.

Top returnees—Lou Merchant (6-0 G) 17.6, All-SEC; Clift Luyk
(6-7 C) 15.0

OUTLOOK: The Gators should be improved over last year when they took decisions in 15 of 26 games and made a fourth place finish in the SEC that gained Norm Sloan league "Coach of the Year" tribute. All-SEC guard Lou Merchant (17.6) returns along with the loop's second leading rebounder, 6-7 Cliff Luyk. The other lettermen—6-4 juniors Carlos Morrison and Joe Metzger—also return as probable starters. New faces include a couple of junior college transfers, 6-4 Tom Barbee and 6-0 Jim Jarrett, and talented sophs Taylor Stokes (6-4) and Eddie Clark (6-5).

OUTLOOK: Ole Miss has a 20.4 scoring gap to fill in the graduation of terrific Jack Waters, but returns four other starters from its 1960-61 outfit. Best bet to become the new "take charge guy" is 6-6½ cener Sterling Ainsworth, but there's also strength in the persons of Bill White, a 6-5 forward, and backcourt brothers Mel and El Edmonds. Top hands moving up include 27-point freshman Donnie Kessinger and Ron Davidson, 6-6½ redshirt soph forward-center.

Memorial Coliseum

SUCCESSOR TO A 'WHITE ELEPHANT'

Only a little more than a quarter century ago, the University of Kentucky provided its basketball team with its second home—a magnificent New Alumni Gymnasium seating 2,800 spectators.

A great many persons freely suggested that the arena would prove to be a "white elephant" which would never be crowded to anywhere near capacity by the sport that then was considered little more than innocuous winter-month's pastime.

But the hardwood game blitzed the nation and Kentucky's teams forged to the national forefront in such a crowd-pleasing manner that the "huge" hall soon could not begin to accommodate the large number of fans seeking to whet their new-found interest. In fact, the situation soon developed to the point where only the student body and faculty were admitted and for several years about all that Kentuckians at large knew of their state university's famed cage teams consisted of information gleaned from the press and radio.

In 1941, when Dr. H. L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education, and recreation." From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, an unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

The huge building, which serves as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentucky heroes who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict, covers an entire city block and contains as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along Avenue of Champions, the Coliseum is used primarily for basketball games but also serves as the site of a sellout community concert and lecture series as well as numerous physical education classes and conventions.

In sharp contrast to the early days in Alumni Gym, the present hall plays host to more than 100,000 Kentuckians annually for appearances of the famous Wildcat cage teams alone and interest is increasing with such strides that even this splendid arena may someday be outgrown.

KENTUCKY IN THE SEC

(Perhaps the greatest supremacy enjoyed by any team in any sport is reflected by Kentucky's basketball success in the Southeastern Conference since 1933. Against SEC teams, UK has annexed a record of 316 victories and lost only 42—a winning average of nearly 90 per cent. They have annexed 19 league championships and own over 60 team and individual records from regular season and tournament play. Only Tennessee (1936, 1941, 1943-45) and Georgia Tech (1955) can boast of beating the Wildcats two in a row. Kentucky's record against SEC teams since 1933 is shown below.)

MOMENTS IN HISTORY

Kentucky's domination of basketball in its own backyard, the Southeastern Conference, has been an awesome thing to behold over the years. The Wildcats of Baron Adolph Rupp lay claim to 19 SEC titles—more than six times as many as any other school—and hold innumerable records. But nothing better illustrates their supremacy than what they didn't do last season: UK failed to win the loop title, marking the first time in history that they had been shut out of the throne room three years running. And, enroute, the Wildcats dropped three engagements in a row to SEC foes (Vanderbilt, LSU and Tulane) for the first time.
