New Attorney General Gorman will pursue Wilkinson lawsuit

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — New state Attorney General Chris Gorman said he will pursue the lawsuit against Wallace Wilkinson the for-mer governor's self-appointment to the UK Board of Trustees.

the UK Board of Trustees.

Wilkinson appointed himself to the board Dec. 2. Former state attorney general Fred Cowan filed suit against Wilkinson Dec. 5. The suit claims Wilkinson's self-appointment violated public policy and was an attempt to extend his power beyond his term in office.

Gorman, a former Jefferson County-commissioner, was sworn in Jan. 6.

*Faculty from the College of Arts and Sciences are circulating a petition calling for Wilkinson to resign from the board and for Wethington to persuade him to do so.

Political science professor Ermest Yanarella said more than 250 faculty have signed the petition of the nearly 380 faculty in the college.

He said the petition will be presented to the faculty trustees before the Jan. 21 meeting.

Wethington has said he will not ask Wilkinson to step down because it is not the job of the president to choose trustees.

UK improves record over Christmas break

Christmas practices beneficial to Wildcats

By TIM WIESENHAHN Sports Editor

After the Wildcats defeated the Georgia Bulldogs 78-66 Tuesday night at Rupp Arena, UK coach Rick Pitino said the Christmas break has given given his squad the opportunity to "work on a lot of things." Apparently, the work paid off.

off.

Before Saturday's game against the Florida Gators, the Wildcats had improved to 11-2 overall, 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference, earned a No. 15 ranking from The Associated Press and sat atop the SEC. Here is a brief recap of UK basketball action since the end of the fall semes-

A little effort changes Mashburn into monster

It takes some doing, but you can get Jamal Mashburn all heated up. You have to do a little talking or damage the pride a bit or just dare him, but the man tagged "The Monster Mash" will turn into that character.

He is capable of taking control of any game in which he's involved. It doesn't matter the opponent or defender. His game is so complete that all it takes is a bit of motivation or some step-forwardness on his part.

Tha's a fight that UK coach Rick Pitino faces on nearly an everyday basis. This sophomore from the Bronx, N.Y., has the talent to become one of the premier players in any league, including the MSA, a place he'll most undoubtedly bepart of come the 3ds to learn that beare the season.

Indeed.

Just take the South Carolina game about 10 days ago. New coach Steve Newton thought he'd put a big man on Mashburn. Big mistake. Big, big mistake. When the 7-footer followed Mashburn to the perimeter, The Monster Mash just drove by him. When the big man stayed off a bit, Mash just popped the three-pointer.

This defensive wizardry from the former Murray State head coach led to only a career-high 33 points for Mashburn. It was only because he hit five of 15 three-point attempts.

If he'd been shooting at his normal 50 percent clip from behind the arc, he really would have been a bofest. Fifty points was not out of the Questy shots because his less-shannormal accuracy was down a bit.
That brought the ire of Pitino, a man who's more likely to bench a player for passing up a shot than taking one.

UK 78, Georgia 66
Brown and Junior Braddy cased the Bulldog's leading scorer Litterial Green like a bad habit. As a result, UK's guard duo held Green to

Mashburn

"There's no limit to how good Mash will be," UK senior forward John Pelphrey said, "once he gets a little of that killer instinct." Not that Malone's version of the killer instinct is all good. Remember, just last month, an elbow to the forchead of Isiah Thomas resulted in 40 stitches for the Pistons' point guard. Thomas missed four games, and Malone was suspended for a mere one game.

powerful dunk is.

Sometimes, Mashburn looks as though he's taken a liking to another professional Malone — Moses: Don't waste any more energy than necessary. Without Moses' 6-11 wide body to ward off folks, this can result in a block, like it is about once a game for Mash.

You'd think someone who grew up in New York City would, by nature, be a little bit more offensive-minded. Instead, the son of a former professional boxer, is a defensive type of offensive player.

Just a minute or so after having his shot blocked by Georgia 7-footer Charles Claxton last Tuesday night, Mashburn returned down floor and showcased his talents.
