Health Information
(Well Pumping Project)

Immediately after the great flood of July 8th, we asked from the local WPA office that some pumps be provided so that wells that were flooded could be cleaned out (pumped out) and then chlorinated. Within a few days a pump was loaned to the local WPA office; a crew of men were provided from WPA roster and some 38-40 wells were pumped out; there were over 200 individuals who had asked for this service; unfortunately this pump with gasoline engine was recalled to another place through no fault of the local WPA office or Health Dept. Staff. It is most regrettable that this had to be, as this work was so badly needed by the citizens of this county, who were in the flood. We are very thankful that we did receive the pump as long as we were allowed to retain it; it would be an excellent thing if every county owned a few of these pumps for such an emergency when it arises.

To those who still needed the services of the pump, the only thing we can offer is that each individual clean his own well out in the best manner he can devise, and then chlorinate it thoroughly; our Health Office still has Chlorinated Lime (furnished us by the local Red Cross Chapter) which the public may have as long as the supply lasts.

TYPHOID IN COUNTY

We are very happy to report that since the flood we have had to date only four (4) typhoid cases in the Hemphill section; none of these four individuals would be vaccinated against typhoid after not only being advised to do so but actually PERSUADED TO TAKE advantage of these timely and worthwhile injections—but they refused and now are very ill with typhoid. Throughout the county the number of injections of typhoid vaccine given will run up into the THOUSANDS and it seemed at the time there would be a probable chance of scores of cases of typhoid—but fortunately and with a population acting very sensibly (by being vaccinated) we have not had a single case to happen out of the flooded area who took advantage of the injections. This certainly proves conclusively the vast role that vaccinations play against typhoid. In 1929 there were 132 cases of typhoid and 'walking typhoid' in Letcher county—and there was NO FLOOD that year either. To any one, who has not to date, been vaccinated you are advised that this is one of the most important things that you can do not only for yourself but for the community at large (every case of typhoid is a direct threat to that community's health).

Graham Memorial Presbyterian Church

Joe T. Sudduth, Pastor

It takes more than guns, planes, tanks and battleships to make a nation strong. These things without God will never bring us victory. One important way of expressing true patriotism is the worship and service of the Lord God of Nations. Do not become a slacker by the neglect of the religious life of the Nation. Worship at the church of your choice on Sunday. You are cordially invited to choose the following services at this church on August 23.
The Sunday School at 9:45 A. M.
Worship Service—sermon by the pastor—at 11:00 A. M.
Vesper Service for Young People—7:15 P. M.
"Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lewis had as their guests early this week Mrs. Lewis' uncle, Mr. James Tyree and Mrs. Tyree of Williamsburg, Ohio.

Civilian Training

"Learning by doing" is characteristic of the civilian junior radio repairman trainees of the U. S. Signal Corps.

Lafayette Trade School, Lexington, Kentucky instructs its trainees with a streamlined tempo demanded by modern warfare. It operates on a 24-hour day, three shift basis. The course of study in which principles and theory are coordinated with shop and laboratory practice may extend over a period of four months. The alert and industrious students complete it in a shorter time.

The purpose of the J. R. T. course is to prepare men to take positions in the field installations of the Signal Corps for overhaul, maintenance, repair and inspection of miscellaneous equipment.

Generally, the J. R. T. course is known as the second of the pre-service training courses, the first being the basic, Mechanic Learner.

There are thirteen mechanic learner schools in Kentucky. In certain instances where previous experience merits it, the basic M L R course may be waived if the prospective trainee qualifies with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, which does the hiring. In the preceding years, if the trainee does not take the basic course, he must have completed or acquired ONE of the following:

1. A license to operate amateur radio station, if trainee has built sets.
2. Six months of full time paid experience in technical radio work.
3. A two year vocational course in electricity, telephone or radio repair work.
4. A six month technical course in a radio school.
5. One year's study in a school of engineering.
6. A United States Sponsored Engineering Defense Training Course in telephone or radio work.

Possible trainees who are unable to meet the above requirements may qualify for the basic work of the M L R, if they are 16 and can pass tests which indicate they have mechanical aptitude and are sound physically. M L R's are paid $85.00 per month; J R T's, $120.00 per month.

Trainees permitted to take civilian training radio courses will have the opportunity to serve their country in the crisis along the lines of their interest, ability and previous training. The service will be an immediate aid to the military forces safeguarding the United States.

The procedure in classroom or shop is based on the background of the student; theory and long explanation or principles are subordinated to "doing". While basic theory is essential to radio repair work, conventional class procedure is minimized at Lafayette, where these men of the vast civilian army of the U. S. Signal Corps are taking their places in "seeing to it" that communications in the armed forces will be kept open.

A mine accident occurred at Kona last week and a mining car ran over Malla McCowan's hand. It crushed three fingers and one of the three may have to be removed.

A similar accident happened at McRoberts when a car ran over Lloyd Collier's hand and cut one finger off and crushed another one badly.

Mr. Bill Shepherd and family of Imboden, Va., were visiting relatives here, Sunday.

Alvin Sumpter, son of Wilse Sumpter, had a few days leave from the army and came home to say "Hello" to a few of his best friends.

Homer Shepherd, of Inman, Va., was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Caudill, Sunday.

LIQUOR

When Georgia was settled by poor people, most of them from jails in England because they could not pay their debts, Oglethorpe, their founder, established two laws; one that no slaves were to be brought to the colony, the other was that no rum was to be imported. The founder served the colony, without pay, for ten years, no liquor, no slaves. What a grand, great, noble state that would be today if they had preserved until now the wisdom of their founder! But unfortunately for them and for us, they repealed these laws and admitted two of the greatest curses that have befallen this or any other country; one which resulted in a great civil war, which destroyed a million men and almost all the property and money of the South; and the other curse has brought about a continuous destruction of men, women and property ever since; a war which never ceases, makes no treaties, man's worst enemy, the devil's best friend.

In a political rally in Lee County in 1896 two counties were represented. Hundreds of men on horses and on foot marched in a parade. At that time Lee County was flooded with liquor and had been for many years. Owsley County was dry and had been dry for many years. So many old alcoholics in the Lee parade, many high headed sobrieters in the Owsley parade, good clothes and bad clothes, water drinkers and liquor drinkers, tee totalers and imbibers. I saw that object lesson and helped to put Lee in the dry column. Politics put it back in the wet column. However recently the people of Lee have voted it dry again. May the good Lord help them to keep it dry.

In my imagination, I saw a battle. The enemy came in planes, men were killed, ships were sunk. I saw some soldiers try to hide, fall down and reel. I saw some others in their pajamas, grab their guns and stand in a shower of bombs and bullets and fire at the foe. Who were they? The first ones were drunk, the second ones sober. When our boys meet the enemy, I hope and pray that as thoughts of home and freedom, the sight of old Glory cheers them, that none will have strong drink to interfere with their true and deadly aims, but that they will show to the world the difference between fighting for civil, political and religious liberty and others fighting to destroy these blessings. Let us all stay sober here and encourage our boys to stay sober there. Take care of our boys and girls too by keeping them sober. Down with the liquor traffic. See that they sell, if they sell at all, according to law. Nobody under age, or drunks or drunkards can buy legally. Save the young and old too and save the millions of dollars to buy bonds to help save the country. It is a trade that profits nobody. It brings money to the seller but in the end he will find that he has lost more than he gained.

Have you had a checkup lately?

There are many men who would not think of letting a year slip by without having their doctor give them a complete physical examination, yet these same men will drive their automobile until it stops before having a mechanic look at it.

You can prevent sickness and injuries to your body by frequent physical checkups, and you can prevent accidents and damage to your automobile by frequent mechanical checkups.

Brother, take care of it—you can't get another.
