KENTUCKY vs. GEORGIA

While the current season was still in its infancy several weeks back, old grads of the University of Kentucky looked forward to the second half of the campaign with a degree of comparative relish. With the coming to town of Georgia's Bulldogs for a Homecoming clash, the schedule seemed (on the surface) to begin to ease off a bit from the torrid pace of the Mississippi, Auburns and LSUs.

A homecoming attraction featuring Georgia looked at that early time to be particularly savory for if any team in the country had been a nemesis it was Georgia—a club that the Wildcats (many times the stronger of the two on paper) had been unable to measure since 1956. Years of frustration seemed ready to be ended as the troubled Bulldogs this season were picked to wind up no better than tenth in the league.

All thoughts of Georgia as "easy pickings" has long since gone by the board, however, as the Bulldogs have ridden the sensational passing arm of quarterback Larry Rakestraw to a highly-respectable, 3-1-1 record and only last Saturday put new emphasis on their new power by upending Miami, 31-14, in a stunning reversal of the form chart.

Georgia undoubtedly has other big guns available in its arsenal but Rakestraw looms as the biggest in the Cat-Dog fight on tap today. The splendid senior put in his bid for the hard-to-pick All-SEC quarterback post by turning in one of the greatest performances ever seen in Dixie as he connected against Miami on 25 of 38 passes for a phenomenal 405 yards—breaking the record set in 1950 by UK's fabulous Babe Parilli.

One of the most interesting and wide-open offensive explosions of the year could well result today as Kentucky's sterling soph flinger Rick Norton (No. 2 passer in the SEC) challenges his top-ranked Georgia counterpart. The statistics shape up this way:

NORTON—33 of 82 for 542 yards and three TDs.

RAKESTRAW—54 of 99 for 802 yards and four TDs.

Georgia leads in the series, 10 wins to four and one tie that resulted from last season's meeting.

BLASTIN' BOB—Senior Wildcat halfback Bob Kosid (25) is shown after he blasted his way through the Detroit line to score his second touchdown of the night. Earlier, in a highlight of the opening quarter of action, Kosid had scored on an 82-yard jaunt—one of the longest runs from scrimmage in UK grid history. Kentucky evened its season at 2-2 by topping the outclassed but game Motor City eleven, 35-18.

BERT T. COMBS

Governor of Kentucky

Closing out a four-year term as Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Bert Thomas Combs is able to look back with a special degree of pride on a distinguished career of public service that carried him up through the ranks to the chair of chief executive.

The 52-year-old public servant, who in his capacity of Governor also serves as chairman of the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees, began his career as a lawyer immediately upon graduation from the UK College of Law in 1937 and later entered political life when he became city attorney of Prestonsburg. He next held the post of Commonwealth Attorney for the 31st judicial district of the state and from 1951 to 1955 served as a judge on the state's highest tribunal, the Court of Appeals.

His distinguished background also includes service as a captain in the Judge Advocate General's Department and he was the recipient of both the bronze star and the medal of merit during Army service.

During his administration as Governor, an office to which he was elected in 1959, the State of Kentucky has made outstanding progress in many fields—including education, agriculture, industrial development, highway construction and social welfare.

Governor Combs is a native of Manchester in the Eastern Kentucky mountain area and worked his way through Cumberland College prior to entering the University Law School. He is married to the former Mabel Hall and they have two children, Lois Ann and Thomas George.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Dear Alumni:

Mrs. Oswald joins me in sending our warmest personal greetings on this Homecoming Day. This is a day which carries special significance for us, and, we are sure, for thousands of loyal University of Kentucky alumni.

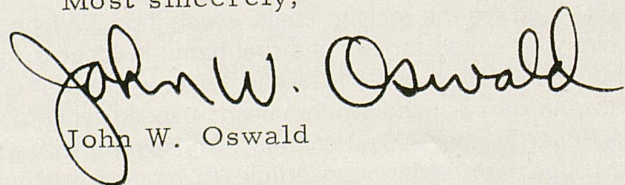

With the dedication of the Helen G. King Alumni House, the Alumni Association and returning alumni have a gracious campus home. It is my hope that the efforts of the relative few which made this handsome building possible will inspire thousands of other UK alumni to greater support and devotion to their Alma Mater.

As I begin my responsibilities here after 17 years with the University of California, I detect the signs of a university on the move on every front. There is a renewed dedication to scholarship on the part of both the faculty and student body which is most encouraging to a new administrator. With alumni support, both financial and moral, the University of Kentucky can become one of the fine state universities of the nation. Our growth in quantity must be matched with growth in quality in the years ahead.

I view the sparkling new Alumni House as a monument to what can be done when alumni and administration join together in a common endeavor. Let us now expand that vision with a view toward the continued growth and maturation of our revered University.

Mrs. Oswald and I hope to greet each of you personally at the reception at Alumni House immediately following the game.

Most sincerely,

John W. Oswald

University's New President Knows Value of An Athletic Program . . .

Dr. John Wieland Oswald, new president of the University of Kentucky, is an educational administrator who believes organized athletics have a definite place within the university community.

Having himself been a college athlete, Dr. Oswald is now one of the staunchest supporters of the teams wearing the Blue and White. However, he advocates that any campus athletic program should be kept within the proper perspective and that over-adulation should be avoided.

Dr. Oswald served as vice-president for administration at the University of California before becoming the sixth chief executive of UK.

The native of Minnesota did his undergraduate work at DePauw University where he majored in botany. He played varsity football—captaining the DePauw eleven in 1937—and earned letters in basketball and track.

He was awarded a Ph.D. degree in plant pathology at the University of California in 1942 and entered the U.S. Navy the same year. As a PT boat skipper and later, as a divisional commander, he participated in over 50 missions in the Mediterranean.

After World War II, Dr. Oswald returned to academic life and advanced through the ranks at the University of California. He has published over 70 papers on plant pathology investigation and has done research work in the Netherlands under Fulbright sponsorship.

In 1962, he was named to the Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-America, an award the magazine confers upon former college football players for outstanding achievement in their chosen professions.

Other members of the Oswald family are his wife, the former Rosanel Owen of Alabama, their two daughters, Elizabeth and Nancy, and John, Jr.

ALONG THE WILDCAT TRAIL

KENTUCKY 33, VIRGINIA TECH 14

It took only 14 seconds for University of Kentucky's rookie-dominated Wildcats to prove that inexperience is only a state of mind and the '63 sophomores built that premise into a thrilling, 33-14 trouncing of Virginia Tech before a season-opening audience of 35,000 at Stoll Field. The victory was Kentucky's first since 1958 in an opening game.

Dazzling soph scatback Rodger Bird, the Corbin Comet who bids to be the greatest of the fabulous athletic Bird brothers, raced back the game-opening Gobbler kickoff a near-record 92 yards to a touchdown that put Kentucky's thoroughbreds off and running. The slender, 5-11 and 184-pound speedster paced the most explosive UK offense seen in many a moon by racking up another 157 yards from scrimmage in 19 trips for an incredible, 8.3 average during the remainder of the contest.

The fierceness of the Cat-Gobbler battle was attested by the 14-14 halftime deadlock, but Kentucky was just getting started. Charlie Bradshaw's young charges, who received tremendous leadership from the older hands like Herschel Turner, put the game beyond reach of ex-Wildcat Jerry Claiborne and his VPI invaders with a tie-breaking TD late in the third quarter, and a pair of fourth-quarter clinching tallies.

MISSISSIPPI 31, KENTUCKY 7

Defending Southeastern Conference champion Mississippi, itself humiliated a week earlier by a scoreless tie, unleashed all its offensive fireworks in an awesome display of rebounding strength that found the Kentucky defense wanting to the tune of a decisive, 31-7 victory.

The fired-up Rebels put three points on the Stoll Field scoreboard with a 31-yard field goal the first time they had the ball and exploded for three "cheap" touchdowns during the second period for a 24-0 halftime advantage that rocked Kentucky hopefuls to the core. Unable to cope with the fearsome power of Ole Miss and victims of their own mistakes—particularly pass defense—the Wildcats settled down in the second 30 minutes of action to hold the visitors to just one more score.

But the outcome was sealed as the Johnny Rebs held a potentially explosive Kentucky offense in check all the way with the aid of key pass interceptions. Coach Charlie Bradshaw's sophomore-dominated force avoided the humiliation of a shutout only through the alertness of fullback Ken Bocard, who picked off an Ole Miss pass midway of the final quarter and scooted 22 yards to score followed by a successful PAT kick by John Andrighetti.

AUBURN 14, KENTUCKY 13

Charlie Bradshaw and his youthful Wildcats came to win and, when the slashing battle in Auburn's Cliff Hare Stadium had roared to a close, Tiger partisans were the first to admit that Kentucky had the better team at the end and the home club was indeed lucky to come out on the long end of a 14-13 count.

After a frustrating first half of action in which Auburn's powerful backs punched away almost at will for long yardage through a porous Kentucky defense, the Blue Grass eleven suddenly came to life after the intermission. The Wildcats, behind the vastly improved passing artistry of quarterback Rick Norton and the hard running of other backs, completely dominated the second thirty minutes.

Only the failure of a gamble (which everyone praised) in the third period and a field goal try that came close during the final stanza kept the Kentuckians at bay as they displayed a vastly improved brand of play. The key play of the afternoon came after Kentucky had rallied to push over a second touchdown. Going for broke, Norton pitched a two-point PAT strike to halfback Bob Kosid. The ball bounced away as Kosid was hit hard by Auburn defenders and then almost caught second handed by end Rick Kestner.

KENTUCKY 35, DETROIT 18

Behind the unlimbered passing arm of quarterback Rick Norton and the sensational running of halfback Bob Kosid, Kentucky's victory-hungry Wildcats rolled easily past out-classed but game Detroit by a 35-18 count that evened the season for the home-standing Big Blue.

Norton, enjoying the finest hour of his varsity career and completely overshadowing the Titan's Tom Zientek, notched 171 big yards for the UK cause as he tossed eight out of 17 strikes and kept the defense honest by running for another 30 yards. Running mate Kosid took a share of the spotlight by accounting for 112 yards over the ground—including a spectacular, 82-yard jaunt in the first period for the Cats' opening points and another marker later.

Kentucky swept to a 20-6 halftime advantage and increased the count to 28 to 6 in the third period after Norton scored on a keeper play and Darrell Cox unveiled a two-point PAT pass. With the contest safely in the bag, the UKats let up and Detroit came storming from behind to tally two more touchdowns in the third. UK added its final points in between the UD scores and both went scoreless in the final 15 minutes.

LOUISIANA STATE 28, KENTUCKY 7

Almost was not good enough to beat the fired-up Louisiana State Tigers before 68,000 howling Homecoming fans in Baton Rouge and the visiting Wildcats from Kentucky lost a typically close scrap by a 28-7 count that failed as usual to reflect either the ferocity or closeness of the fight.

Battling their hearts out but simply unable to cope with a devastating LSU offense—which strangely stayed on the ground for all but one play during the evening—the Wildcats kept within striking distance until the final period. Relying mainly on the strong right arm of soph quarterback Rick Norton, the UKats threatened constantly through the first half and picked up what proved to be their only score in the second quarter as Norton went over on a keeper.

LSU iced the all-out struggle in the fourth frame after being held in check during the preceding 15 minutes by putting 14 points on the scoreboard. The markers were the first points allowed any foe this season in the final quarter by an otherwise porous defense.

Kentucky continued to threaten during the last frame but proved unable to sustain drives in LSU territory. Norton wound up with 13 completions in 24 tries (far more passing than planned, said a disappointed Coach Bradshaw) and a total of 165 yards. The ground game contributed only 18 yards.

BERNIE A. SHIVELY

Director of Athletics
University of Kentucky

Bernie Shively — A Man Of Many Talents . . .

Nationally recognized for his direction of one of the nation's most balanced collegiate athletic programs, University of Kentucky's veteran Director of Athletics Bernie A. Shively is truly a gentleman of many talents.

He gained his greatest fame as a football All-America guard at Illinois in 1926 on the same grid outfit made famous by the immortal Red Grange. And, demonstrating a claim to being one of the finest all-around athletes in Illinois' history, Shively also laid claim to the Big 10 heavyweight wrestling crown and annexed letters in track before graduating in 1927.

Following his graduation, Shively came to Kentucky as a line coach in football. During his 35 years of service to the Kentucky athletic program, "Shive" also served as head football coach one season (1945), track coach and baseball coach as well as heading up the University's Physical Education Department. He became Director of Athletics in 1938.

For almost as long as the Southeastern Conference played a post-season basketball tournament, Shively served as chairman and the experience had stood him in good stead as he now directs the University's own highly-successful Invitational Tournament and supervises the NCAA Basketball Tournament in the capacity of committee chairman.

Shive also tried his hand at basketball officiating in the SEC for about 20 years and served several seasons as Supervisor of Officials for the Ohio Valley Conference. He is a past chairman of the NCAA's summer baseball committee and since 1954 has been president of the SEC Coaches and Athletic Directors Association. In addition, he has found time to be active in civic and University projects.

A native of Paris, Ill., Shively and his wife, Ruth, have two children. A son, Doug, was co-captain of the Wildcat football team in 1958 and now is an assistant grid coach at Virginia Tech. Daughter Suzanne was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of UK in 1957.

Wildcat Coach Has Qualities For Success . . .

The personification of qualities of inner toughness, outwardly serious demeanor, quiet determination, ability, confidence and integrity . . . That's Kentucky's head football coach.

Charlie Bradshaw, 38-year-old ex-Wildcat player and assistant coach, fulfills all these qualities that are the background for success and goes a step further . . . He's an inspirational leader who exudes the toughness that it takes for those around him—staff and players—to get the job at hand done in a way that will pay off with success.

He believes in the direct approach and in the short span of just one season has instilled his formula in the minds of his charges. Kentucky footballers are now convinced that success is approached only through determined hard work.

Bradshaw's football philosophy was schooled into him as a player by Paul (Bear) Bryant and influenced by nine years of experience in an assistant coach capacity at UK and Alabama.

Born and raised in Montgomery, Ala., Charlie played football at Sidney Lanier High before coming to Kentucky as a 1942 gridder. He didn't see any action that year and withdrew from the University after one semester to enter the Marine Corps.

He returned to UK to play end for the 1946, '47 and '48 seasons and for three games in 1949 before being ruled ineligible by the Southeastern Commissioner. He remained on the Bryant staff as a student assistant and then returned to Sidney Lanier as a coach and co-ordinator in 1950.

In 1954, he came back to Kentucky as an aide on the Blanton Collier staff and stayed until 1959 when he moved to Alabama and an offensive coaching job under Bryant.

He was hired to replace Collier here on Jan. 10, 1962, and was extended a four-year contract.

The 25-year-old Louisvillian stayed on Wildcat coaching staff in part-time role after completing eligibility in 1960, became regular coach following year and retained by Bradshaw as a line assistant.

RALPH HAWKINS (Maryland '57)—One of the most valuable coaches on the staff, Hawkins has background of collegiate and professional play plus coaching experience in both schoolboy and college ranks . . . The 28-year-old bachelor from Washington, D.C., was freshman coach at Maryland before joining New York Titans . . . Coached high school ball in D.C. and served as backfield assistant at SMU.

Coaching background of the 30-year-old New Orleans native also includes three-season stint at Holy Cross and championship year with Army team in Korea . . . Works with UK freshmen.

RAY CALLAHAN (Kentucky '56)—A newcomer to the staff but no stranger in Kentucky grid circles, 30-year-old former UK guard standout Callahan enters the collegiate field for the first time after successful high school career . . . FACTS ABOUT THE HURRICANES

Coach—Andy Gustafson (15 Years at Miami—Won 90, Lost 61, Tied 4)

1962 Record—Won 7, Lost 4

Last Year's Score—Miami 25, Kentucky 17

Chief Losses—FB Nick Ryder, G James O'Mahony

Top Returnees—QB George Mira, T Dan Conners

Sophs to Watch—Russell Smith, HB; Pete Banaszak, FB

Outlook—Sensational George Mira winds up his collegiate career this season and that incentive alone could be enough to push the talented Hurricanes to great heights. Coach Andy Gustafson has apparently placed more dependence in his ground game to keep the defense more honest and make Mira more effective. Chief operatives in this phase are 190-pound Russell Smith and the Hurricane's powerful fullback Pete Banaszak. Agile tackle Dan Conners should pose a problem for Wildcat runners.

The Federation Movement

A New Era for American Sports!

by OLIVER E. KUECHLE

Sports Editor

The Milwaukee Journal

A new concept in the conduct and administration of amateur athletics in this country has taken deep root. It is evolutionary. It is sound. It is an inevitable development as participation in our ever-expanding athletic programs grow.

It is known as the federation movement.

At the moment, it embraces four sports: track and field, basketball, gymnastics and baseball. In time, it will undoubtedly embrace others.

Each field has its own federation. In each, which is the evolutionary part of the concept, the educational community at last has its proper representation through the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, the National Junior College Athletic Association and other representative agencies. Conservatively, these three organizations, with other federation members, represent more than 85% of the amateur interests in the United States.

The question has been asked: Why new federations? Why? Since kerosene lamps also provided light, why electric lights?

The answer to the federation movement is simple. Those who are the primary contributors to amateur athletics, the schools, believe—nay, now insist—that they have the right to share in the responsibility of establishing policy directly affecting their own programs. They have not had such right in the past. They have merely tagged along. It is the basic philosophy among educational institutions that educators and administrators alone determine the course of their athletic programs within the framework of the over-all educational concept. There can be no retreat from this—no further indifference either.

The federation movement allows all nationally recognized organizations to have voice and vote in establishing basic policy in each sport. It provides, further, that no two organizations within a federation can ever gain control.

Each federation is autonomous. Each operates independently. A few national organizations belong to all four federations. Others belong only to the federation which directly concerns their sport.

The movement is not limited to educational institutions. It has a place for all. Even in these beginnings, most major amateur sports organizations have joined as partners. The one strident dissenter has been the Amateur Athletic Union. It has steadfastly declined all invitations to join.

Through federation programs, the country cannot help but benefit. There will be improved development opportunities, increased competition, enlightened administration. We as a nation cannot help but have stronger representation in international and Olympic competitions.

Here is a brief look at the individual federations:

United States Track and Field Federation (USTFF). It was organized July 24, 1962, and consists of 10 national organizations. In less than a year it has sponsored three national championship meets, a national track clinic and has embarked on an extensive development program for all age groups. It is organized in more than 40 states, with each state conducting its own program of development and competition. The Gulf Coast Federation (Texas) conducted a cross-country meet, for instance, which drew 475 runners and the Michigan Federation held an indoor track meet which drew 625 boys and girls. Outspoken in praise of the USTFF has been Executive Secretary Cliff Fagan of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations: "We (high schools) have always had the biggest potential but, until the federation movement, we have never fully realized our potential."

Basketball Federation of the United States (BFUSA). The 10-member federation, organized July 1, 1962, represents almost all of the organized amateur basketball played in the United States. It has been recognized by the international governing body and will assume independent international sanctioning privileges beginning January 1, 1964. It has a definite program to improve this country's image internationally through better representation in world games and increased international competition. Several countries have already indicated new interest to send their teams to this country in the season just ahead.

United States Gymnastic Federation (USGF). The federation, organized December 9, 1962, has already become the dominant force in gymnastics in this country. A national championship was held in June. Clinics have brought expert gymnastic instructions to coaches and competitors. The federation has embarked upon an intensified national program to popularize gymnastics, particularly among school-age boys and girls.

United States Baseball Federation (USBF). The federation has a basic two-fold program: (1) to help amateur baseball in whatever way it can and (2) to provide the United States with an organization to promote baseball internationally. Under the auspices of the state department, the USBF last summer provided a group of collegiate baseball coaches and players to conduct instructional clinics in Central America.

The new school year brings great new opportunities to the entire federation movement.

— Boosting the Wildcats to Success —

That old axiom which suggests an army travels on its stomach never had a more appropriate twist than it gets in the modern day world of sports.

Equally popular as a truism is the statement that declares successful athletic teams are "boosted" to the top—a reference to the all-important help within the strict bounds of official rules given by various interested organizations such as the ones represented by the photographs.

University of Kentucky athletic officials—Director of Athletics Bernie Shively and members of the coaching staffs—as well as the young men who are either team members or prospective Wildcats sincerely appreciate the public-spirited assistance given in particular by the Lexington Quarterback Club, UK Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, K-Men's Association and the Lexington Salesmen's Club.

The makeup of these groups includes businessmen and private citizens of the University community who voluntarily donate of their valuable time and effort on a year-around basis to promote and handle other non-coaching assignments ranging from the actual selling of tickets to making the high-type athletes feel that they have a home away from home while playing for the Wildcats.

K MEN'S ASSOCIATION—Newest of the organizations giving active support to the Wildcat cause is this club composed of former Kentucky athletes in all sports who were awarded at least one varsity "K" letter during their careers at the University. Directing the activities of the combined K Men's Association are Frank Seale (center), president and former football letterman; Dick Rushing (left), secretary and also an ex-footballer; and Carl (Hoot) Combs, treasurer who participated in both football and basketball as a Wildcat.

SALESMEN'S CLUB—One of the long-time supporters of the University of Kentucky athletic program is the Lexington Salesmen's Club, represented by the group picture. Current officers of the organization, which assists annually in the sale of season football tickets, are W. Barry Foster, president; Ed Williams, first vice-president; Thurmon Measel, second vice-president; Delmar Penny, secretary; D. S. Hollman, treasurer; and Charley Thompson, sergeant-at-arms.

ZARANKA

1956—KENTUCKY 14, GEORGIA 7

A rabid Georgia homecoming crowd of 28,000 went home bitterly disappointed, as Kentucky broke up a hard-fought, tight contest in the closing minutes with a game-winning touchdown pass that gave the visiting Wildcats a 14-7 decision.

The first quarter was drawing to a close as little Ivan Curnutte ankled 20 yards down the left sideline to pay dirt and Delmar Hughes tacked on the extra point as the climax to a 47-yard march.

Not to be outshone, Coach Wally Butts' Bulldogs bounced right back with a marker of their own—covering 58 yards in the process of deadlocking the match at 7-7 with nine minutes in the half remaining.

For the next 37 minutes of action, it appeared the game would end in a standoff.

However, the 'Cats began to drive again in the waning minutes with the help of holes opened by Bob Collier, Lou Michaels and J. T. Frankenberger. After pushing the pigskin to the Georgia 28, UK suffered a 15-yard penalty that threatened to stop the offensive. A time out halted the clock at 2:10 and when time resumed, the determined Wildcats needed only one play to wrap up their victory.

Junior quarterback Kenny Robertson spotted end John Cornelius, tossed to him at the two and big John stepped across for the winning marker.

1949—KENTUCKY 25, GEORGIA 0

It was the fourth year of the era of Paul (Bear) Bryant at Kentucky and people were beginning to "check those Wildcats" who had allowed only one touchdown to be scored on them in the first three games.

But on the eve of the Georgia game, the experts still needed convincing and the Bryantmen availed themselves of the opportunity by whipping the defending Southeastern champions in resounding (25-0) fashion, and keeping their magnificent defense against scoring record intact.

The long-to-be-remembered eye-opener came about this way: Through the first quarter, the foes battled on even terms. Then, midway of the second period, Emery Clark hauled in a Bulldog punt and raced 61 yards to pay dirt to set up a 6-0 UK halftime advantage.

Receiving the second half Georgia kickoff on his own goal line, Kentucky halfback Don (Dopey) Phelps eluded all tacklers as he scampered 91 yards to the Georgia nine. Two plays later, Bill Leskovar plunged over.

The touchdown-hungry 'Cats pushed across two more markers during that eventful third quarter as halfback Dom Fucci tallied on a 23-yard run and then crossed into TD territory with a four-yard pass from Babe Parilli.

All-America tackle (in the making) Bob Gain aided the Wildcat cause with tremendous play on both offense and defense and the punting of Benny Zaranka kept UK continually out of danger.

1939—KENTUCKY 13, GEORGIA 6

A sparse turnout of fans in DuPont Manual High School Stadium at Louisville was treated to a sterling defensive battle as Kentucky and Georgia gave up ground grudgingly, halted each other's drives in dangerous territory and stood scoreless until the Wildcats won out in a flurry of fourth quarter action, 13-6.

The Bulldogs drove to the Kentucky 16 the first time they had hands on the ball, only to be stopped by staunch Wildcat line play. After an exchange of punts, the Big Blue took its turn to threaten—moving up to the Georgia three before surrendering on downs.

Georgia played it safe by immediately punting out, but UK drove for pay dirt again as Ermal Allen's punt return and runs by Noah Mullins, Junior Jones and Allen pushed to the three again. With a first and goal situation, the 'Cats could net only two yards and another drive was halted.

Kentucky erupted first in the final frame on an Allen to Jones touchdown pass play of 80 yards that still stands as a school record. Jones missed the PAT. Georgia retaliated two minutes later with its first score but saw its go-ahead opportunity smashed when UK's Jim Hardin blocked the extra point kick.

Racing against the clock to break the 6-6 tie, UK drove 80 yards for the winning score that came on a pass from Dave Zoeller to Hardin. Zoeller tacked on the PAT.

The Helen G. King Alumni House

A charming house named for a charming lady.

So stated an alumnus upon learning that the new alumni house at the corner of Rose and Euclid would be named for Miss Helen G. King, '25, who has served the University of Kentucky for 34 years. Miss King came to UK in 1929 as assistant director of public relations and has directed the activities of the Alumni Association for the last 16 years.

The handsome new addition to the University of Kentucky campus will become the hub of alumni activities and the meeting place for thousands of visiting alumni and their friends.

Financed in the main by alumni contributions, the house represents over a $300,000 investment. It will be available to the University for many functions.

A President's reception will be held in the new structure following the game today for alumni and friends of the University. Dedication ceremonies took place before today's game.

KENTUCKY BASKETBALL 1963-64

ADOLPH RUPP

COTTON NASH
LARRY CONLEY

Cagey Adolph Rupp didn't acquire his reputation as the nation's most successful basketball coach by "singing the blues," but the usually optimistic Baron of the Blue Grass is frankly fearful that his 34th edition of Kentucky Wildcats could go to the post with "possibly the poorest outlook for a winning season since I have been coaching."

Such uncharacteristic pessimism is truly bad news for the team that is acknowledged as the winningest collegiate cage outfit in history, but it also could be a good sign.

Just a year ago, the veteran Kentucky mentor freely predicted a banner season to compare favorably with the great years of the past. But the "roof caved in" as a variety of troubles dogged the Wildcats all season long, resulting in the poorest record of the Rupp era—a 16-9 count.

While loyal Kentuckians are hopeful that seven returning lettermen—headed by two-time All-American Cotton Nash and 1963 Most Valuable Player Ted Deeken—can lead the way to a better campaign than Rupp anticipates, the questions revolving around a short-handed roster are many, varied and serious.

Perhaps the biggest key to the type of season Kentucky has is Nash. Although he notched points at a 20.6 clip last season and repeated on some All-America selections, he disappointingly fell off the sensational pace started during a terrific sophomore break-in year when he led the SEC in scoring. Deeken, whose supreme "fireman" efforts in the closing stages of last season saved many a game and won him MVP honors, represents another major question: "Can he turn in a consistently good contribution as a season-long starter?"

Charles (Chili) Ishmael, 6-4½ guard standout, looms ready to make a big contribution as a long-range threat if he can pick up where he left off (due to scholastic troubles) late last season.

Still other questions revolve around the potential of a trio of highly-regarded sophomores—6-3 forward Larry Conley, 6-5 guard Tommy Kron, and 6-2 forward Mickey Gibson. It is unknown if these soph hot shots can take up the scoring slack and perform with the poise of veterans without the benefit of experience.

It's obvious that Coach Rupp bases his fear on the possibility that all of these questions will not be answered satisfactorily.

The schedule offers no solace, either, with a danger-plagued road littered with seven tough non-conference tests, play in two tournaments and league competition stacking up as possibly the strongest in history.

All problems considered, the prospects for success coming easy in 1963-64 to Kentucky's amazing basketeers are not rosy—at least not outwardly. But there is a sneaky suspicion afoot, well-founded by past experience, that "Uncle Adolph" will have his Blue Grass bouncers jumping before the campaign is too far along.
