

July 5, 1912.

Mr. F. B. Bnslow,

Huntington, W. Va.

Dear Sir:-

Please note that the case of B. J. Sellards against American Car & Foundry Company is docketed for the 18th day of the present term of the Floyd Circuit Court, which will be July 8th, and that the case of John Sellards against American Car & Foundry Company is docketed for the same day.

I write you thus in advance that you may have notice of the days for which these cases are set.

I enclose you herewith statement which I think should be executed. It can be signed either by the President or Secretary of your company and should be sent to the Secretary of State at Frankfort, Kentucky, with a remittance of $1.00 covering recording fees. I regard this as of especial importance at the present time, in view of the fact that the court holds that the person upon whom process may be served in a county is the proper one to verify pleadings, and especially so in view of Judge Goble's refusal to verify pleadings which we prepared upon filed and information furnished by you.

Very truly yours,
