LITTLE THEATRE SEASON OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT AT UNIVERSITY PLAY HOUSE

Gammer Gurton's Needle o Be Presented by Coffer-Miller Players

SEASON TICKETS ON SALE

Special Rates Are Given to Students for Season.

Into the realm of old "merric England" when time was young and hearts were gay, when enjoyment ran high over the consternation aroused from the loss of a needle, the Coffer-Miller Players carries its audience in that delightfully piquant old comedy "Gammer Gurton's Needle," which will be presented here next Friday night. The players will give "The Imaginary Invalid," by Moliere, the following evening. These are the first two productions on the program this season for the Little Theatre.

"Gammer Gurton's Needle," marks the beginning of English comedy and a breaking away from the masks and miracle plays. It was first played in Christie's College, in Cambridge, in 1575. The characters and scenes of village life are typical of the English of that period.

"The Imaginary Invalid," written about three hundred years ago, a clever satire on the medical profession of that day, surrounds the efforts of a father to marry his daughter to a doctor in order to save doctor bills.

The Coffer-Miller Players have so successfully presented these comedies to colleges and universities throughout the middle west that they have won wide recognition as producers and interpreters. Prof. Lawrence B. Yates, of the English Department, considers the Players the best offering of the Lyceum circuit travelling out of Chicago.

THETA SIGMA PHI FRAT PLEDGES TEN MEMBERS

Women's Honorary Journalism Fraternity Pledges Two Honorary Sophomores

The annual pledge service of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national honorary Journalism fraternity, was held Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Marguerite Mcaughlin and the following girls were pledged: Mary Gory, Dickson Davidson, Betty Barbour, Emma Lee Young, Mary Marshall McMeekin, Helen King, Bertha Kraft, Georgia Lee Murphey, Elizabeth Ellis and Margaret Lavin.

Members are taken into this fraternity who have completed the required three years of journalism or have done publicity equivalent to three years. A distinctive feature of the pledging this year is that two members of the sophomore class, Betty Barbour and Helen King, were taken in as honor sophomores because of their brilliant record in journalism and for unusual work done in the field of journalism. Both are valuable Kernel assistants and contribute to its weekly publication. Helen King at present holds the position of society editor. Betty Barbour has recently been appointed publicity manager of the Strollers Dramatic Club.

NOTICE

A food sale will be held on the campus in front of Buell Armory Friday, March 23 to help the Woman's Club of the University build up a student benefit fund.

FOOTBALL SQUAD BEGINS SPRING PRACTICES UNDER NEW STAFF OF COACHES

About Fifty Aspirants For 1923 Team Come Out For Training.

PRIBBLE TELLS 'EM HOW

Last Season's Freshman Squad Turns Out in Full Force.

Fifty husky aspirants for the Blue and White football squad of 1923, are now gambling about in the spring weather on Stoll Field under the direction of Coaches, Winn, Rodes and Pribble. For the first time in the history of the University, spring football is being used as an additional means by which to pound more football into the heads of the Wildcats.

Pribble, now a full-fledged coach, is in his glory telling his former teammates how to do it. He is directing the linemen, while Winn coaches the ends and Doc Rodes puts the backfield speedsters through their various paces. The Kentucky coaching staff is starting with the fundamentals and Monday when the first of the two weeks practice was inaugurated, the pig-skin chasers, who only last year carried off the freshmen championship, were picking up the ball, passing and charging.

First day's practice brought out more of last year's freshman squad than varsity men but on the second day the varsity men turned out so as to get in condition for the fight they will have to retain their positions. With the material from the Green and White squad of last year and the regulars of the varsity who are back in harness, Coach Winn has a most promising array of athletes from which to pick his team. The spring workout will give him a good line on his men and at the same time go a long way toward giving each man additional football knowledge.

In speaking of the spring practice at a recent football meeting Coach Winn said, "I can't see why the North and the East should have anything on us in football. We grow boys just as big and just as strong, who will try just as hard, but up there they keep football oing all year and keep the interest aroused. That is why we are having spring practice now, to offset that edge which we can not admit the East has on us now."

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN

Frances Smith and Dan Morse To Have Leads Again in Stroller Production.

The Strollers, the dramatic organization at the University of Kentucky held its final tryouts Friday evening for the presentation of Oscar Wilde's well-known English play, "Lady Windermere's Fan," which will be presented the latter part of April. Frances Smith and Dan Morse, both of Lexington, will lead the cast, the members of which are:

Lady Windermere—Frances Smith, of Lexington.
Mrs. Eryllyn—Eleanor Morse, of Lexington.
Lord Darlington—Dan Morse, of Lexington.

NOTICE!

Seniors, order your cap and gown from Miss Bean at once. Orders must be in not later than April 1. No deposit required.

BASEBALL MEN ANSWER CALL OF COACH BARGER

Thirty-five Aspirants Have Reported For First Workout.

About thirty-five baseball aspirants answered the call of Coach Cy Barger. There is an excellent squad from which to select the team of diamond artists this year. The 1923 season looks as if it would do credit to the University as Captain Burnham, Hamilton, Jones, Pribble, Ridgeway, Robertson and Sauer are all letter men and eligible to play this year.

In the squad's initial outdoor appearance last Monday, the players took no chances and limbered up easily. Their work consisted of throwing, batting and catching fly balls. The field is in fine condition and the storm of last week did not hinder this week's practice. Barring bad weather, the Wildcat squad should round into condition rapidly for the first game of the season, with Georgetown on March 29.

The pitchers and catchers have been working indoors for the past two weeks, and are able to "show their stuff" in the daily workouts. The most promising material for the pitchers seems to be Turner Gregg, quarterback of last year's football team, also Stokes and Van Arsdale, members of last year's nine. Practically the same outfield as last year will be back, but three places in the infield are open. Captain Burnham who held down second base last year will probably hold down that position this year.

The baseball squad has increased in size since its first practice and it is expected as soon as practice is well under way that Coach Barger will begin wedding out the squad.

STUDENT LOAN FUND AIDS MANY STUDENTS

Fund Has Been Enlarged by Personal Donations; Long and Short Time Loans Made.

Eighty-nine students of the University of Kentucky have been given financial aid from the student loan fund, according to the records of W. S. Webb, professor of physics, who is chairman of the loan fund committee. Under the able leadership of Prof. Webb, the fund has grown in the last two years from $3,000 to $10,500.

The average amount of the loans is about $61 and as yet not a student has failed to return the borrowed money. At times some of them are slow in repaying it, but more often the entire amount is returned while the student is still in school—chiefly from earnings made during vacation and after-school employment. The committee not only gives financial aid to the students, but also attempts to find work for those desiring it.

The loan fund committee is made up

U. K. DEBATING TEAM IS VICTORIOUS OVER BEREA

Kentucky Men Get Decision By Vote of Two to One.

The debating team of the University of Kentucky was awarded a decision over Berea College Saturday night, March 10, by a vote of two to one. The judges upheld the affirmative of the subject, "Resolved, That the United States Should Adopt a Cabinet Parliamentary Form of Government."

The Kentucky team was composed of H. C. Johnson and C. M. C. Porter, while the Berea team consisted of Clayton Callahan and H. O. Porter. Added interest was given to the debate by the fact that the two Porters are brothers and the Kentucky man formerly attended Berea.

The judges were Professor C. E. Allen, of the department of political science, Centre College; Prof. Myron McCurry, of Georgetown College, and Henry Jackson, a Danville attorney.

The debate was a triangular affair, the negative team of the University of Kentucky, composed of L. H. Liles and G. W. Muth, were awarded the decision over the Centre team at Danville Saturday night. The negative team of Centre debated with Berea at Berea.

TAKE HIGH POSITIONS

University is Competing With Leading Institutions of Country. Alumni of the University of Kentucky, with remarkable frequency, are going into positions of importance in business and the professions almost immediately after graduation.

Teachers who know can impart, students who have come with knowledge and ambition, accustomed to be leaders, and above all the "Kentucky" spirit are responsible factors. This situation could not have been created in a day. It is the outcome of long and arduous toil. The institution was established in 1865 but it has been a "university" only since 1908.

To men and women who are preparing for leadership in public affairs or business the university holds an attraction unequalled by the college. Fathers who once sent their sons to great institutions in other states are realizing that their sons are handicapped unless during college days they are building friendships with men who will be their associates in business and professional life that follows.

The drift to Lexington is becoming a tide.

IMPRESS HIGH SCHOOLS

Tournament on Campus is Big Event to Visitors.

"It is the biggest thing of the year in our lives." This is the comment of a school executive on the High School Basketball Tournament just held at the University. Three hundred high school athletes, boys and girls, took part in the game. There was a total attendance of 6,000. Had the space been available the attendance would have been many times greater.

Thus the University is becoming more of a center of the public education system.

The State track, debating, oratorical and public discussion tournament will be held at the University May 2, 3, 4 and 5.

WHAT IS THE COST

Alumni Question Result to University of Shooting Affray.

The editor answering inquiries about the cost to the University of the recent shooting affray on the campus and the consequent publicity has felt constrained to state his belief that the net loss is small.

Little people who have, from the beginning, attempted to beat down the University seized this morsel with avidity. Friends of the University have not done that. People with judicious minds have refrained from censuring the University or its rules.

The University is well governed. Its students are of a high type. They do not claim superior virtues. They are typical American boys and girls, healthy minded and with clean bodies. They do not all possess the discretion and judgment of people of middle age. The recent episode disproves none of these things.

ALUMNI COMPETE

Contest for $100 Prize Plan Will Close May 15.

Eleven hundred alumni readers of the Kernel trying to evolve the "Best Plan for Getting Results" at the next meeting of the Legislature and subsequently ought to produce something of great value. The call of Alma Mater for assistance is expected to prove no less forceful as an appeal than the "appetizer" in the form of a $100 cash prize offered by a group of the alumni.

The rules are the conditions that prevail in Kentucky especially in the minds of office holders. The contest will close May 15. The judges will be announced in an early issue of the Kernel.

SOCIETIES PROSPER

Literary Programs Form Valuable Outside Activity.

The reviving interest in literary societies on the campus indicates the gain in "intellectual" atmosphere outside the class room.

In the days that followed the war only the college technical societies had a fair attendance and impressive programs. These societies have continued to thrive and new signs of life in the old Union and Patterson societies are visible whereas the venerable Philosopher has never ceased its activities and has proven itself an important factor in the co-eds' literary life.

PRaise LECTURE

Frankfort Alumni Club Arranges Attractive Program.

The Frankfort Alumni Club has inaugurated a series of meetings to be addressed by members of the University faculty to which parents of students and former students will be invited.

Professor Farquhar delivered the first address which was pronounced by the State Journal "the equal of any chautauqua offering in the city." A feature of one of these meetings, arranged by President Silas T. Wilson '22, will be a concert by the Glee Club.

Alumni clubs arranging for regular monthly meetings have aided considerably in the "Greater Kentucky" campaign.

In 1918 she returned to her home town, Hickman, Kentucky, and since 1920 as Superintendent of County Schools, has been doing good work for her own particular vicinity and the educational system of the State. She is vice-president of the Hickman County Alumni Club.

Mr. Stivers has recently been West on an extended business trip, and Mrs. Stivers and the children, Frances Wood, Reuben and Harry, Jr., have been visiting relatives in Paris, Ky.

Sprigg Case Ebbert went with the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y., soon after graduating, entering the testing department. In October, 1913, he was promoted to commercial engineer of the Railway Supply Department. In January, 1917, he was transferred to the Birmingham, Ala., office in the Brown-Marx Bldg. He married Douglas Julian of Lexington, December 29, 1915. They live at 1137 Eleventh Ave. So., Birmingham, Ala. Mr. Ebbert is vice-president of the Birmingham Alumni Club.

Mrs. C. C. Studer (Clara Elizabeth Matti) has an enviable record as an active member of the Alumni Association—100 per cent for the time she been away from the Alma Mater. Unwilling though to give up business life, she is now credit manager for the Welsbach Co., 429 Main street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and is living at 3545 Saybrook Avenue. She is president of the Cincinnati Alumni Club.

Congratulations have been showered on Mrs. W. C. Wilson (Lucille Gastineau) and Mr. Wilson for the birth of a son last week, William Ailee.

Henry Tyler Watts, better known as "Ty," is making good in his chosen profession, just as he made good in his college days. He was a member of A. T. O., Lamp and Cross, the 14 Faradays, Glee Club, leader of the Orchestra, Drum Major of the Band, Strollers and in the Choral Society. After graduating, he entered the engineering department of the Wm. Tod & Co., Youngstown, and left that place to go the Youngtown Sheet & Tube Co. In July, 1920, he entered the employ of the Otis Steel Company at Cleveland, Ohio, and is now steam engineer with that company. His research treatise on "Fuel Gases and Their Use in Iron and Steel Plants" was printed for wide distribution among engineers. Mrs. Watts was formerly Addie Lee Dean '12. They reside at 3294 DeSota Ave. As president of the Cleveland Alumni Club, Mr. Watts writes: "Although I have not yet had an opportunity to spread the glad news, I feel no hesitancy in announcing we will have a full delegation to meet Doctor McVey and Mr. Graham, when they come here to attend All College Night, April 12, during the meeting of the Association of Alumni Secretaries."

He is president of the Marion County Alumni Club, address Lebanon, Ky.

"I have heard little from the University this year because I have not been receiving the Kernel. I am teaching mathematics in the Nacogdoches High School this year. I hope the best year of its history will be 1923 to the University." May Stephens, P. O. Box 128, Nacogdoches, Texas.

Felix Shouse was a visitor on the campus last week. He was here in the interest of the General Electric Company, seeking 1923 graduates from the College of Engineering. The G. E. RIFLE TEAM FIRES AGAINST UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE

The University of Kentucky rifle team fired against the University of Tennessee team last Saturday in the Armory. The team did not do its usual excellent shooting because of the difficulties under which the match was fired. The armory was available for very short periods of time only in the intervals between basketball games which were going on at that time. A Connelly target was used for the first time and as all the men were accustomed to the N. R. A. target it took them several shots to accustom themselves to the change. The score for the team was 565 out of a possible 600.

The individual scores were:

CAMPUS CHATTER

The Women's Administrative Council has called a meeting of all women students, March 22, for the annual election of officers for the various women's organizations: The Women's Self-Government Association, The Young Women's Christian Association, the Women's League, and the Women's Athletic Association.

The Student Loan Committee will hold a special chapel exercise March 27, at which special gifts to the fund will be announced. The meeting will be held with special reference to the Memorial funds to George Clark Rogers, Molly Vogt, and Jesse Dodd.

The Faculty Lunch Club, composed of faculty women and faculty member's wives, has been organized, to meet on the first Thursday of each month, at which questions of interest will be discussed. Miss Gladys Lowe was elected chairman.

Stoll Field has again come into its own. With the first good day of the year the early birds made their appearance on the diamond, track and gridiron and day by day the number has increased until approximately 150 aspiring athletes trot out each day. With the addition of spring Football training to Track and Baseball, opportunity is given to practically every aspirant to engage in some sport, especially those Freshmen and Sophomores who strive to invade the "horrible" gym classes.

At a recent meeting of the National Football Rules Committee at New York, the pigskin governing body voted to eliminate the outside kick from scrimmage. Because of the difficulty in interpreting this rule and the small amount of usage it has had in the past few years, the committee deemed it wise to relegate it to the discard. No other important changes were made in the fundamental rules.

Fond of Entertaining

In every city are people who are fond of entertaining more or less informally and they always serve refreshments. To be able to order——is a wonderful help to any hostess and something sure to appeal to each guest. But to serve this in new and attractive ways makes it a hundred times more appreciated.

A very appropriate service for St. Patrick's Day is a special brick with shamrock center of green Pistachio cream and border of rich Vanilla ice cream.

CLASS DUES

Virtually every issue of the Kernel carries a notice from various class treasurers requesting members of classes to pay their class dues. We have been reliably informed that so far these officers have been able to collect only a small part of the required funds.

Reports have come from persons whose duty it is to collect these dues, that many students openly refuse to pay them, giving as an excuse "I don't dance, and my picture didn't get in the annual." It is true that the greater part of the sums collected is used to finance yearly class dances, but is there any logical reason why persons who do not dance should fail to contribute to the success of the only class social functions given by their class during the year? Because one was absent on the day set aside to have one's group picture taken, and that person's picture does not appear in the annual is not the fault of the class.

If the student will not contribute to dances or for the pages in the annual isn't the privilege of being called a member of the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior or Senior class worth more than the meager amount of class dues. If serious illness or death should come to one of the members of a class wouldn't a class member expect his class to respect him enough to send flowers? Why then, are class members not willing to contribute to funds which may be used to make possible such incidentals?

The second payment on all dues in the Kentuckian is overdue and classes are lacking in the requisite amount with which to meet this payment, just because unloyal members have failed in their obligation to their class.

Pay your dues!
Be loyal!

THE KERNEL'S ADVERTISERS.

The Kernel management wonders if the students and subscribers ever stop to realize the problem of finance, and from what source it receives funds sufficient to make possible a weekly publication. It is true that a small part is received from student matriculation fees and from Alumni Association subscribers, but the greater part of the income is received thru advertisements.

We wonder also how many of our readers take cognizance of the advertisements which appear in the Kernel every week and how many of our readers patronize these advertisers?

The firms that advertise in our paper are of the highest type to be found in our city, and they are deserving of our patronage. Be cause of the fact that they make possible our weekly paper it is our duty to be their boosters. By patronizing them we show them that we appreciate their interest in the University and then we may expect to find them always our friends. It is our duty to try to reciprocate in as fair a way as possible the helpfulness and good will which these firms have shown us.

The firms that advertise in the Kernel are especially courteous and show special consideration to University students by giving cash discounts and honoring student checks. Thousands of dollars are spent in the city of Lexington every year by students; therefore when buying anything, anywhere, at any time, always give Kentucky Kernel advertisers consideration.

PLAY THE GAME

As the senior nears the end of his school career and begins to look forward—rather apprehensively in most cases—to taking his place among the myriad of professions of the world, his mood becomes thoughtful.

On entering college, a man usually thinks that he has a theory of life that, if followed, will bring him success. As new problems confront him and as youthful ideas are crushed, new theories take the place of the old, and the ideas of yesteryear are oft times almost like the taunting laughter of some monster who seeks to destroy.

We've watched the masses hurrying thither and yon, and wondered if the competition isn't too great, and if it would not be just as well to forget those old ideals and settle comfortably into a convenient rut and let the work of building up be borne by someone else. Even the strong man thinks thus—at times.

But though Despair may haunt us, success may seem like another air-castle, and life like an unsolvable math problem, the strong man never quits.

It is easy to go forward when everything is going right, and when there's money in the pockets and your grades are honor roll high; but start down grade once and it's hard to stop and right-about face for the climb back.

We're living in a little world of our own here on the campus and if we play the game and win here, we can hold our own in the outside world.

At the beginning and the end of the terms, it is easy to work, for our goals are near. But out in the stream where the water is swift, it's easy to loaf, for the goals are far away and the work is very hard. Then we must call on our heart and nerve and sinew to fight their hardest.

Play up! Play the game every minute and you can't lose; but stop a moment and you're lost.

Theories have their place and serve their turn but the way up is through steady plodding work—and the goal is always worth while.—Technique.

FRATERNITY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD

Three Games to Be Played Off at Gym Monday Night.

The annual inter-fraternity basketball tournament will start Monday night, March 19, at the University Gymnasium. The Kappa Sigma team plays the Sigma Chi quintet; the Pi Kappa Alpha Alpha five play the Delta Chi team and the Sigma Nus play the Sigma Alpha Epsilons. On Tuesday night the Alpha Sigma Phi's play the Phi Delta Theta's and the Alpha Tau Omega's play the Kappa Alphas.

All the games are expected to be good as the teams are very evenly matched. None of the teams are exceptionally strong yet each fraternity is expecting to win. Each team is allowed two practices in the University gymnasium and all of the men are taking advantage of it and are trying to get in shape for the contests.

The team that wins the tournament is given a trophy and allowed to keep it only one year providing they are not successful in the next year's tournament. To gain complete ownership of the cup a team must win the tournament three consecutive years.

Heretofore the fraternity basketball games have been attended by big crowds and a great deal of interest has been shown among the students. It is hoped that such spirit will be shown this year and the tournament will be a success.

STUDENT LOAN FUND AID

of members of the faculty appointed by President McVey. Besides Mr. Webb, the members of the committee are: Miss Maybelle Cornell, Miss Frances Jewell, Prof. T. T. Jones, and Prof. J. J. Hooper.

The idea of the student loan fund was originated some five or six years ago by Prof. W. E. Butts and the first donation was made by the board of trustees. Other contributions of value have been: $1,000 from the Southern Railway Co., $1,000 from Morgan Hughes and $5,000 from the Kiwanis Club. Recently the alumni loan fund has been incorporated into the student loan fund and they are now under the same supervision.

Tuesday $1,200 was given in loans, while $2,000 was asked for. Thus, it is evident that, although the student loan fund is doing a splendid job for the University students, it is accomplishing only about half what it could be doing with more funds available.

VOCATIONAL GUIDE

In the afternoon, Miss Fay Barnum of Louisville, will speak on "Vocations in the Field of Art," and Miss Mary Stewart on "Vocations in the Field of Music."

Personal conferences will be held from 3:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon, when any questions of interest will be answered. Those desiring personal conferences are requested to sign their names on the bulletin board in the Women's League room.

A tea in honor of the guests will be given at the Practice House at the close of the meeting.

These lectures promise to be very interesting and the public is invited to attend. The speakers are people of national prominence and it is a real opportunity to hear them and find out what women are doing in the different fields of work.

BLUE AND WHITE FROSH SENSATION OF KENTUCKY BASKET BALL SEASON

Yearlings Close Year With Ten Victories and No De-feats

CLAIM SOUTHERN TITLE.

McFarland, Reifken, Fest, Underwood, Hughes High Point Men.

The basketball sensation of the year in Kentucky collegiate circles was the University of Kentucky freshmen quintet. A summary of the season, made out by sport writers of the university, reveals that the Kittens not only went thru the season without a defeat, but scored a total of 321 points against 145 for their opponents in ten games. The figures include only collegiate games.

The Kittens have been hailed far and wide as the champions of the south. Their schedule was hardly extensive enough to clinch so large a title as this, but it is improbable that any first year team will put in an argument against them. Supporters of the team already have their eye on the 1924 tournament at Atlanta, where the Wildcats went in 1920 and captured the southern championship.

Jimmy McFarland, all-American Blue Devil last year, led the attack for the Kentucky wearers of the green, collecting 46 field goals and 24 fouls during the season for a total of 116 points. Five other members of the national champion members of the Blue Devil team are James' co-stars on the Kentucky outfit. Of these, Lovel Underwood ran second to Jimmy for scoring honors, collecting 41 field goals during the year. "Turkey" Hughes, Morton-Elliott's big contribution to the fame of Kentucky was third with 36 points.

Varsity Squad

On the Kentucky varsity squad, which from a statistical standpoint had a rather bad career for the year, Carl Riefken wagged off the laurels by scoring 50 field goals and 33 free throws. This record will appear even more remarkable when it is considered that Riefken was playing on an almost non-winning team and that 99 44-100 per cent of his field goals were made from difficult angles and distances.

Freddie Fest, the only benedict on the squad, was second to Riefken in scoring and also second among the college varsity players of the state for high point honors. He had a total of 94 points.

The Kentucky team won three games out of 13 played, and scored a total of 285 points as against 350 for its opponents.

Individual and team records for the University of Kentucky teams for the season just closed are as follows:

T. G. BAYLESS

ALL STATE TEAM

By T. G. Bayless

Since everyone is picking All-Kentucky basketball teams you are not in it if you do not. You have elsewhere seen teams picked by my literary contemporaries who are really more capable than myself. It has to be done to hold my prestige and as Ring Lardner would say "They has been a regst goin round will i pick a bask. team that would be representative of this great and glorius Nashun of Ky." Without more ado about nothing here goes. Being more in trusted in gals-Chicks-Flappers etc, I will pick them first but I want to say right now I have a strong leaning toward the Ashland girls. Their center Van Horn was good and exhibited rare form if you get what I mean.

I would have Herring of Bandana as a substitute for she plays like a fish.
 M. O'Brien Forward W. Louis
 A. O'Brien Forward W. Louis
 F. O'Brien Center W. Louis
 Carnahan Guard Clay Co.
 Keifer Guard Henderson

If you know anything about basketball or if you don't it doesn't make any difference for this is a representative team. Just glance at the names Why that team besides being just all Kentucky is all Irish. That makes it international and past years Blue Devils were not that.

Now to pick the other team. I personally could never see why two teams should be picked but that seems to be the popular way and I wish to be popular.

Wahl, Crescent Springs Guard also

Paine of Franklin as guard for anyone knows that a Wahl should be able to stop the opponents and if you have ever had any you know that Paine can stop any goal shooting. Posey at center would be a flower but in case she could not play I would use Cole of Ogden for Cole is a dark horse. Peck of Flemingsburg would get a place for full measure. Young of Ashland of course would be desirable for youth is needed in basketball more than any other sport. Almost every basketball team needs a place to play so we must have Hall of Flemingsburg. Luck is essential to any team so Luck of Hazard Baptists would have a place.

Honorable mention would include Mason of Somerset for any organization of such national character must be included. Smith of Lexington, Jones of Clay county, are both members of great families and if no others came to the games but the Smiths and Jones we would have a very imposing rooting section. Combs, Catlettsburg is another popular bet, in fact Combs of any place are a positive necessity as is also Brewer of Flemingsburg in these days of prohibition, particularly if the team ever won a game.

Mushroom Moviette

Two little toads went hopping on their happy honeymoon. Said Mister Toad, "I've built a house; we will be there very soon."

"How thoughtful, darling," cried his bride. "For Joy I think I'll swoon!"

And after hippy-hopping through a pathless stubble field, They came upon a tiny house in a hollow log concealed. "Oh, what a dear and darksome home," fair Mistress Toad-Frog squealed

A mushroom was the table, and for chairs two toadstools small Would serve their every purpose.

While just growing from the wall A fungus made the mantel-piece so brown, and varved, and tall.

A mushroom bed, four-poster, with a canopy of weed

Completed the apartment—for what more could new-weds need?

Dear critics, dare I call that room a real mush room indeed?

WOMEN CONDUCT AUTO TOURS IN THE WEST

New fields of work for women are coming into prominence every day. No longer is woman relegated entirely to the home, for there are many interesting and worthwhile vocations which she may follow.

Recently there was received in Dr. McVey's office an announcement made by two college women of Albuquerque, N. M., telling of the Koshare Tours, which are personally escorted motor parties through the interesting sections of the Southwest.

These two college women have charge of the tours and in the course of the journey through the west they visit Indian pueblos, Mexican folk plays, the haunts of mountain lion, deer, fox, etc., the honey-comb cliffs in which people lived a thousand years ago and many other places of equal interest.

This work should prove to be not only intensely interesting but also profitable for these two women. Many people who would like to see these places will perhaps take advantage of this opportunity.

DR. PRYOR SPEAKS IN CHAPEL ON DRUG HABITS

Warns Freshmen to Beware of Patent Medicines and Cigarettes

Two songs rendered by Mr. William K. Naive, of Lexington, accompanied by Mr. Snoddy, were enjoyable features in Freshmen chapel Tuesday morning. President Frank L. McVey conducted the exercises, and after a short scripture reading and prayer, introduced Dr. Pryor, head of the Department of Anatomy and Physiology, who addressed the students on "Drug Habits."

We have been told to avoid quack doctors with their drugs and patent medicines, yet we, as a nation addicted to drugs like coffee, tea and tobacco think very little of the harm of these three alone. Dr. Pryor emphasized the danger of cigarettes, not that its use is more dangerous but that it is more universally used.

Cigarettes, or "coffin nails" as they are sometimes called, are injurious to those whose nervous system has not been completely developed. Besides dulling the nervous cells and destroying the memory the cigarette habit makes one incapable of effort. Drug habits are not to a great extent inherited; they are individually acquired. At first the sensation of smoking is not good but makes one feel superior and smart, later it becomes a pleasure, then a habit and finally an absolute necessity. A great observer of nature says "the cigarette fiend should never be advanced, promoted or depended upon because the person who does advance, promote or depend upon him will rue the day."

LARG NUMBER OF TRACK ASPIRANTS FOR TEAM

Next Meet to Be Hel dat Louisville Armory March 31

While football players and baseball men occupy their positions on Stoll Field, the University of Kentucky athletic field has taken on all the appearances of a bee hive, by the desertion of the gym by Coach Buchheit's track men. Each group has its corner of Stoll Field and the track section is about as thickly populated as any of the others.

Coach Buchheit is training his men for the indoor meet at the Louisville Armory March 31 and expects to have every man in tip-top condition in order to carry back honors and silverware after that meet. The Kentucky speedsters will have a task on their hands to take honors at Louisville for this meet is rapidly becoming one of the biggest indoor track events in the country and is being entered by many of the best track men of the large universities and colleges. Last year Kentucky raced against such men as Joie Ray and this year there will be just as competent men in the field.

The Cats will probably be without the services of Captain Red Davidson on that date as he will make the inspection trip with the senior engineers and will be unable to compete. This leaves Kentucky without a competent weight man, and throws even more responsibility on the runners.

BO HEMIA SAYS

AN APPRECIATION

And here's to the Su-Ky Circle—
 Excuse me while I smile—
 You can bet they are boosting it,
 If it's anything worth while.

A peanut-selling loud-voiced gang,
 With habits mercenary,
 A pep-inducing bunch out front,
 But Oh! so necessary!

Composed alone of those what am—
 With some who do not shirk—
 While most of them are being it,
 A few must do the work.

But I'm for you, Su-Ky Circle,
 I shout the yells you lead;
 I think you want to help Old State,
 Though you don't quite succeed.

N. B. Bo Hemia does not necessarily hold this view of the Su-Ky Circle, which he regrets is held by some. Next week another view of the Circle will be presented. The above eulogy was accepted because of the apparent sincerity of the contributor, who requested that his (or her) name be withheld.

Things Seen at the Tournament
 The Kappa Sig that slept in the bathtub last night.
 "Happy" Chandler took his hat off. The man in the multitude, with the stentorian voice that yelled intermittently, "Take him out!"
 A Louisville guy with a frown on his face!
 Two Ashland girls pin Hansen to the floor with a combination toe and scissors hold.

The fan that did not know a better way to run the tournament.
 The girl in red.
 The guy that bet five to one on Ashland against Crescent Springs and lost. The same guy with five to one on Crescent Springs against West Louisville. He walked home.
 A girl center with rouge on her cheek.

Bandana, a semi-finals team had only five girls with them. The other girl that goes to school there was sick.
 A team that broke training after being eliminated, with a meal on U. K. that cost only $2.25 per capita.

March wind about the campus rushing;
 It keeps the timid (?) freshman blushing.

The wind may make some lassies sore;
 It doesn't faze the sophomore.

When skirts are blown above the knee,
 The junior only laughs in glee.

No matter how the March winds blow,
 The blase senior lets 'em go.

Saya wanta hear sumpn funny? Iza standin therebytha fountain in fronta the courthous a whilago w! Puffessor Sax, nupkumma guy an' saidita the puffessor:
 "Can you tell me who designed and sculptured this wonderful fountain?"
 "Why, saidita puffessor, "Rube Goldberg diddit."
 The guy walked awayn I thought I'd show the puffessor I preicated the joke. So I sez:
 "Sayju tellat guy Rube Goldberg maiddat statue?"
 "Yeah," sezzee, "but Goldberg didd really do it. I dunno who diddit."

Mudslinging

There are times in the lives of most people and organizations when they sling mud at their rivals. It does no one any good to lower the reputation of another and moreover it shows very poor sportsmanship. The age of mudslinging has passed. Let us remember to say nothing about a person if we can not say something good.
