PRESENTED FOR VESPER SERIES

Old Harp Singers Feature Folk Songs at Fifth in Series of Musicales

ONLY GROUP OF ITS KIND IN AMERICA

Peterson, Lewis Harp Duo to Be Featured Next Sunday

Bringing to the campus one of the most interesting and unique programs enjoyed by wider audiences in the past few seasons, the Old Harp Singers, purveyors of American folk lore, presented the fifth of the Sunday afternoon vespers in Memorial hall.

The performers, eight in number, directed by E. J. Getwood, seated around a table, and as they sang kept time by clapping their hands, an effect which was charming and which added much to the presentation of the numbers. The blending of voices and regularity of pitch and quality were outstanding.

Twelve numbers were presented by the singers, as follows: "Holy Manna," "Schemeddy," "The Golden Tree," "The Trees Do Moan," "Babe of Bethlehem," "Cyprian Laidie," "All is Well," "Amazing Grace," "Gabriel's Awful Trump," "Hebrew Children," "Poor Wayfarer Stranger," and "Soldier, Won't You Marry Me." Each song was of American folk origin and a short explanation of each number was given. The program consisted of ballads, spirituals, and old drinking tunes. Outstanding numbers were the carols "Babe of Bethlehem," "Cyprian Laidie," "Amazing Grace," and the ballad "The Mary Golden Tree," and the familiar "Soldier, Won't You Marry Me."

The Old Harp Singers are from Nashville, Tennessee, and are one of the only organizations of its kind in America. Personnel of the company includes: soprano, Justine Tigert, Glenn Carroll; alto, Arlene Richardson, Mary Dennis; tenors, Robert Davidson, James McGlothlin; and basses, E. J. Getwood and Wayne Barker. George Pullen Jackson is folklore advisor.

NYA Workers Urged To Get Extra Hours

Christmas vacations, exams necessitate acquiring time now

Because the next two work months for NYA students will be cut short due to Christmas holidays and semester examinations, Dean T. Jones is urging all University students working under the NYA to work off as many extra hours as they can get all the hours in for the next two months.

The current work month will end December 12 when the next time report will be due. During the next month, December 12 to January 12, NYA students will not be able to work but two weeks because of the Christmas vacations. The following month semester examinations will limit the amount of time that students will be able to work.

CANTATA IS PLANNED

A Christmas cantata, "Mystery of the Nativity" by Satis Coleman, will be presented by the University elementary and University High schools in the training school auditorium December 16 and 17. It will be presented to the students of these schools at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, December 16, and to the parents at 7:30 Tuesday night.

Sigma Delta Chi
Selects Title of Humor Publication

Ray Lathrum Suggests "The Sour Mash" As Name of Magazine

After careful deliberation, members of Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity, selected "The Sour Mash" as the title of their new humor magazine, which is to be released during second semester registration.

The suggestion for the selected title was made by Raymond T. Lathrum, who will be awarded school-life subscription to the magazine. The judges considered the title "The Sour Mash," particularly fitting one, the best of a large number of suggestions received by the fraternity's members. Lathrum, winner of the award, is a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, a member of Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity, Kappa, and a member of the publicity staff of the student YMCA.

Definite plans for the publishing of the magazine are rapidly taking shape and the organization feels that it will have a magazine that is unique in its type in the country. The first edition will be one of 32 pages containing stories, illustrations and cartoons. The latter being original on the campus.

The contest being held to select the best short story and the best short story will close today. If there is anyone who has not yet turned in his or her intended contest, they may yet do so. All stories must be received by Norman Garling at the Kernel office before 5 p. m. today.

STROLLERS TO PRESENT SHOW

Minstrel Now Being Rehearsed; Will Be Given at Training School Auditorium

"Old Kentucky Minstrels," now in the process of being rehearsed by Strollers, will be given in the Training School auditorium on Friday, Dec. 13, at 8 o'clock. A limited number of tickets at 25 cents each may be obtained from active members of the organization.

Featured on the program is the University quartette, "The Admirals," who will sing several times. The program will consist of three parts. Songs, dances and jokes will intersperse the entire performance.

BARRON TO GIVE ART TALK

Mr. Joseph Barron, lecturer in the Art department of the University is scheduled to present an illustrated lecture at 3:30 p. m. in Room 314 of the University Library. The title of the talk is, "The Importance of the Bible in the History of Art."

GLEE CLUB TO TOUR

The Men's University Glee club, under the direction of Prof. Carl Lampert, will render a program in the complete list of songs at the High School, Lancaster, Friday evening, Dec. 6, at 7:30 o'clock. The club will be assisted by the University Brass quartet.

HIGH SCHOOL PRACTICES

The University High school basketball team began practice about three weeks ago under the direction of Coach Peter Kemper in preparation for their first game with Athens High here Dec. 6. The squad will be quickly getting in shape for this first home game. There will be a total of fifteen games played this season by the Purple, of which at least five will be played here.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT DANCE CANCELLED

Announcement was made today by members of the Student Council of the University that the Wednesday night dance, usually held every other week in the gymnasium to procure funds for the Student Union building, was cancelled for this week, due to social events occurring that would conflict with the function.

INTRA-FRATERNITY CB
BOOKS SPITALNY
FOR ANNUAL HOP

Intrafraternity Formal to Feature Rhythms of Famous Dance Leader, December 7

IS YOUNGEST OF MUSICAL FAMILY Returns from Engagement at Famous Florida Resort

By JIMMY ANDERSON

Once every so often there comes to Lexington a family who is destined to become outstanding in some particular field. Such a family is the Spitalny's, who as students have three sons, two in the field of musical entertainment and each one has outstanding fame in his own right.

Maurice Spitalny, who is to appear at the Intrafraternity formal on December 7, is the youngest of three sons. The oldest is Leopold, musical director of the National Broadcasting Company, and the middle one, for many years at New York's outstanding hotels and cafes and now is creating a new idea with his excellent girls' orchestra.

Now Maurice is upholding his end of the great Spitalny name with his marvelous fourteen piece dance band combination.

The Spitalny's are natives of Odessa, Russia, and were brought to the United States when babies. They are instinctively musical, having started from the moment they could distinguish between a piano and a bass horn. Maurice studied abroad and after paying several concerts, he became connected with the Cleveland Symphony orchestra.

The theatre then beckoned and like his brothers before him, Maurice established himself in the theatre pit of Cleveland's R. K. O. Palace, where he worked for several years. Public attention was drawn to him into the dance and popular field, and with his dance band he has for the last two years played in the country's outstanding hotels and night clubs. His most recent engagement is with the Cleveland Coral Gables Country club (Florida), where he is scheduled to return next season.

Maurice Spitalny, himself, is a smooth, genial, capable director, who has placed his band with Rubinoff and others at the top of the popular and symphonic orchestra world.

Each member of the Spitalny orchestra is of solist calibre and could take his place in any symphonic as well as in a popular orchestra. The orchestra's success was won because of its nicety of tone and beauty of tonal blend which can be produced only by music of this type.

Newly Translated Work Is Off Press

Dr. Henri Beaumont, Department of Psychology, has recently published a translation of a German textbook on Child Psychology which has been published this week by Farrar and Rinehart, Inc., New York, and Allan and Unwin, London.

The title of the book, which includes full instructions on giving developmental tests to children and the complete list of tests for children for the first six years of life, is "Written Child's Development from Birth to Six Years." It was written by Dr. Charlotte Buehler, of University of Vienna, and Dr. Hildegard Heter, Teachers College, Elbing, Germany.

WIN NATIONAL CONTESTS

The annual Saddle and Sirolo club, national Agricultural club, essay contest, was won for Kentucky by four Kentucky Agricultural students who held second, fourth, fourth and sixteenth places. The boys are: Paul McComas, James D. Toy, Carl G. Menich, and Wendell Binkley. The subject of the essay was "Most Animal as a Farm Labor Saver."

Bands played, crowds milled in and out downtown here, returning old grads slapped each other on the back and wrung hands, fraternity and society members, the bedlams of home-coming brothers and sisters, 16,000 howling fans saw a hard-fought renewal of the traditional Volunteers' football battle with the Cats emerging on top by a 27-0 count, and the long-absent wave flag came back to the campus, as the University again celebrated the Thanksgiving season last week.

Injured Tennessee
Player's Condition
Remains Unchanged

Boys' Mother Expresses Appreciation for Local Kindness

The condition of Herbert Tade, Tennessee center, who was injured in the Thanksgiving Day game, was announced to be unchanged yesterday afternoon.

The mother of the injured boy, in a short interview at the hospital yesterday, said, "Dr. Vance said this morning that he isn't any worse. He had a quiet night I think. My husband and I appreciate everything that you have done for us. No one will ever know how grateful we are to the people of Lexington for their kindness."

It is the sincere hope of the student body and faculty here at the University of Kentucky that Herbert Tade's condition will improve rapidly.

Cwens Will Sponsor
Japanese Bazaar
During This Week

Women's Honorary Will Hold Third Annual Bazaar, Wed. and Thurs.

Cwens, national leadership fraternity for sophomore women, will sponsor a Japanese bazaar in the recreation room of Patterson hall on Wednesday and Thursday, December 4 and 5, from 11 a. m. to 8 o'clock that evening.

A variety of Japanese novelties, including sandals, kimono, monos, boses, and coasters, have been ordered from a Japanese importing company in New York, and will be on sale at the bazaar.

This is the third annual Japanese bazaar to be sponsored by Cwens. Held every year before Christmas, an opportunity is given to all students and townspeople to buy novel gifts for the holidays.

KENTUCKY HIGH SCHOOLS PRESS
MEETING IS SET

Representatives of Payers of State Secondary Schools to Convene at UK December 13

U. K. STAFF MEMBERS TO ADDRESS GROUP Prizes Will Be Awarded in Various Departments of Sheet Assemblage

The 1935 convention of the Kentucky High School Press association will be held at the University on Friday and Saturday, December 13 and 14.

On Friday among the events will be an address of welcome by President Frank L. McVey and response by Margaret Ellen Smith, president of the association. Danville High schools, and round table discussions presided over by Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Professor Niel Plummer, and Mr. A. L. Danburg, Pikeville and a tea at Maxwell Place by President Mrs. McVey.

For the division awards each member newspaper may submit as many entries in each division as it wishes for each contest. The only requirement is that each entry for each contest must be plainly marked as so indicated. Tear sheets may be used, or, in the case of news and feature stories and editorials, these may be pasted on separate sheets of paper. Also only one division may be marked in each paper, that is, the contest should be marked in each issue because each contest is separated into groups, and if two or more contests are marked in the same issue, there is a chance that one or more entries may be overlooked.

Entries must be in the hands of the directors by December 9.

The divisions will be as follows: Best all-around annual, best design magazine, best all-around newspaper, Class One, (over 250 students), Class Two, (under 250 students), best news story, best headline, best advertising make-up, best feature article, best editorial and best sports section.

Certificates of merit will be awarded to the first five places in each of the above contests as placed by the judges.

FORMER EDITOR MARRIES

Miss Lucille D. Myers, Lexington, and Mr. Wesley E. Carter, Elizabethtown, were married Saturday night at the home of the Rev. Dr. Homer W. Carpenter. Mr. Carter is editor of the University of Kentucky.

Sigma Xi Society Hears Dr. Stewart

The first meeting of the society of Sigma Xi, honorary research fraternity, was held in the lecture room here last Saturday night, November 22. Dr. O. J. Stewart spoke on the "Fundamental Assumptions of Chemistry."

The society is an international organization, membership to which is granted to a University staff member who has published some paper of merit in a reputable scientific journal. Seniors and graduate students of promise and ability may be elected as associate members if, in the opinion of the staff, they show intention of continuing their research work.

MEETING SCHEDULE READY

Anyone desiring a schedule of the convention of the regional conference for International Relations will be able to obtain one by applying at the office of Dr. Amy Vandenberg in the Administration building. The convention is being held in Huntington, W. Va., at Marshall college, Dec. 6 and 7.

Driving Cats Get Early Lead in Game and Hold It Over Surprised Vol Aggregation

By MAX LANCASTER

Proving themselves superior in every department of the game the Kentucky Wildcats sent their ancient rivals, the Tennessee Volunteers, home on the short end of the 27 to 0 score Thanksgiving Day in one of the most marauding games ever played on Stoll field to the delight of 16,000 rabid fans.

It was one of the largest scores ever rolled up by either team against the other. In 1933 the Vols played on Stoll field and the score was 19 to 0, but in Tennessee's favor. The 1933 and 1935 scores are the largest either team has scored.

The 27 points scored this year not only meant victory for the Cats but also meant the first time the Big Blue has scored on the Volunteers since 1931. In that year the teams deadlocked in a 6 to 6 score, keeping Tennessee from an invitation to the Rose Bowl. It also meant the first Kentucky victory since 1925 when Len Tracy led the Wildcats to a 23 to 20 victory over the Volunteers. It was in this year that the "battle of the keys" was started. Kentucky kept the key for one year and his week is the first time it has rested on Wildcat territory since 1926.

Kentucky struck with terrific force at the opening whistle and proved to the 16,000 fans crowding McLean stadium, that they were not to be denied victory on this memorable day. On one of their many laterals, Davis tossed to McMillan on the Tennessee eight yard line early in the first quarter and "Double O'Neil" traveled the remaining distance for the score but Referee Strumper ruled that the whistle had blown before Davis had passed the ball and Tennessee was saved from a score for the time being.

John the prospect of the second quarter Kentucky took the ball on their own 38 yard line after Tennessee had marched 50 yards to the goal line and on a quarterback sneak from the two yard line his own right end for the Big Blue second score.

Kentucky failed to register until the one yard line. The Shaags, who played a great game at tackle for the Cats, leaped into the air and intercepted the ball and drove to the yard line from where Johnson caught it over. Prior to this one yard, Tennessee came in, injured and he to be carried from the field. A few minutes later Capt. Marshall was injured.

THANKSGIVING

Kentucky beat Tennessee Thanksgiving! But there was no riotous manifestations of joy on the part of the loyal Kentucky supporters who had been denied this victory for ten years.

That night at the dance there was no evidence of exultation and hilarity which usually accompany such a victory over an ancient rival.

This display of sportsmanship on the part of the spectators is the real reason why Americans have become famous as a sports-loving people.

Herbie Tade will recover and it was with sighs of relief and gratitude that the men and women of Kentucky learned that the crisis had been passed successfully.

THE 1935 WILDCATS

The football season is over and it is time for the Monday morning quarterback to go into action, concerning the status of the 1935 Wildcat grid machine.

The efforts of the team are perhaps best summed up in the words of Coach Wynne who, in commenting on the season, said, "There has never been any dissention of disloyalty among the members of the squad at any time during the season."

The team was not a "world-beater" and yet it may be termed the best team which Kentucky has had in a number of years.

In paying respect to the team itself we cannot forget that driving force behind the team, that hand at the throttle, that master-strategist, Coach Wynne.

WE ARE STANDING STILL

The modern man prides himself in believing that the world is progressing morally. It is his idea that science, education and democracy, in the course of their greater development, are lifting civilization to a higher and higher moral plane.

According to Reverend Reinhold Niebuhr of the Union Theological Seminary, New York, in an address at Symphony Hall last Sunday forenoon, this "idea of progress is not valid."

This idea of progress is relatively modern, sprouting up during the period immediately following the Middle Ages, when the new conceptions of democracy, freedom, science and education had their beginnings.

It is true that science, democracy and education have made some progress within their own boundaries alone but when the fundamental good and evil in each are balanced against each other, they are invariably found to cancel out and leave us the same morally as we have always been and always will be.

As for democracy and freedom, the present is showing one of the severest tests of them yet known to history. Our governments "of the people and for the people" which, such a few years ago, were thought of as the foundations of an eventual utopia, are every day crumbling before our very eyes.

As educated adults we are no better off morally than the infant. Even though the child has not had a chance to develop the good with which he is endowed at the same time he has not developed the evil to which he is no less susceptible.

CHOICE OF LITERATURE OFFERS STANDARD FOR JUDGMENT

Literature plays a very important part in the civilization of men. It can mould the thoughts of nations, guide their actions and mark their lives with a powerful impress.

In books we live in the greatest moments of history and realize the deepest experience of human lives. We sit down in our libraries and meet the greatest minds of the ages on equal terms and feel at ease with them.

"Literature is the soul of action." The heroes of antiquity are dead; their magnificent buildings are ruins; their armies have long since passed beyond existence; their cities and temples are dust; yet they live in their magic existence through books which make them as real to us as the leaders of today.

We should choose our books as we do our friends "for their sterling and intrinsic merit." Some we can keep with us as companions always; others should receive only a casual and occasional study.

If you know what you want the salesman will be less likely to sell you something you don't want.

Alumni News

The following letter from Lieut. Col. John Scott, A. B. '97, will be read with interest by alumni and faculty of the University of Kentucky.

Headquarters Twenty-seventh Infantry Schofield Barracks, Hawaii Territory off of Hawaii 18 October 1935

Alumni Association University of Kentucky

I have been interested always in the reports of the University, have read with interest its alumni and membership, and followed the great advances which have been made—especially our football record.

Army service in our "Outpost of the Pacific" is most interesting. Schofield Barracks, about twenty-five miles northwest of Honolulu—900 feet above sea level. Our climate is quite cooler than that in the city on the sea. In fact, our average summer weather is cooler than in Kentucky.

We have here about 10,000 soldiers at a distance from any town. The interesting problem is to provide recreation for the army during their spare time. The post has a splendid library which is well patronized. The company has a fine "day-room" with papers, magazines, billiard tables, ping pong, and similar means to make a home.

We have a very fine theater with two smaller branches with the latest pictures. Regular trips by motor conveyer made to the army beach about ten miles north—it is generally considered that this beach is better than the famous one at Waikiki. There is a splendidly organized athletic program. Ten regiments have regular contests in boxing, basketball, baseball, track, field, and football. The attendance, interest, and spirit of clean competition and regimental pride do credit to college contests. At this time, we are engaged in divisional football contest, regimental inter-company leagues in basketball, softball, and boxing.

Our military training is most tributor to several prominent magazines, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Smithley is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and has a fine "day-room" with papers, magazines, billiard tables, ping pong, and similar means to make a home.

Miss E. F. D. A. Union City, Tenn. member of the University faculty, who will present Dr. Smithley. Guests of honor will be Pres. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Miss Ronnie Spickard in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

The officers of Kappa Delta Phi are Miss Herman, president; Miss Lewis, vice-president; Miss Anna B. Beck, secretary; Dr. W. S. Taylor, treasurer; and Dr. L. M. Chamberlain, counselor.

Bitterman-Thurman Miss Loretta Bitterman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bitterman, and Mr. Paul Wilson Thurman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thurman, were married Thanksgiving Day at the home of the bride's parents on Melrose avenue.

The bride was graduated from the University in 1933 with a degree of B. S. in Music. She was a member of Phi Beta, national professional music and dramatic fraternity for women.

Mr. Thurman was graduated from the University in 1933 with a degree of mechanical, electrical engineering and a degree of civil engineering in 1934.

McVey Tea Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey will entertain tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock with their usual tea in honor of students and faculty. Mr. McVey will welcome the guests, and the house will be decorated with flowers and lighted tapers.

Block and Brille Initiation Block and Brille chapters held formal initiation services yesterday evening in the Agricultural building.

Those initiated were John Bell and James White, Paris; Gavin McMurry, Buena Vista; Jack Harrison, Farmington; Wind-H Binkley and Gartha Binkley, Mayfield; Jeff Rankin, Stanford; Andy Hardesty, Owensboro; Charles Baird, Sacramento; Everett Stephenson, Carlisle; Harry Neal and Berry Davis, Lexington; Eric Dennis, Versailles; O. R. Hawkins, Owenton; Forest Hogg and James Kahler, Harrodsburg.

Greening-Thorn The marriage of Miss Mabel Ruth W. H. Greening, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Thorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace M. Thorn, was consummated with solemnized Friday afternoon in Louisville.

Mr. Thorn attended the University at the time the Miltonburg shorts writer for the Lexington Herald.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Guests at the house for the game Thursday were Rhea, Harrodsburg, Dr. Helene Rother, Mayfield; Jeff Rankin, Stanford; Nicholas; Katherine Smith, Frankfort; Betty Ann Pennington, Louisville, and Evelyn Whaley.

Dorothy Curtis visited in Mayville during the week-end.

Henderson, James Harry, physician and surgeon, Pineville, Ky. Kelly, Thomas C., surveyor engineer, 55 Gilbert Apts., Gilbert Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio. Kemper, Graham Hawes, American Consul, a Hamilton, Bermuda. McLaughlin, Barbara Susan, teacher, Boering, Ky. Morgan, George Matt, lumber business, 3543 Epworth Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio. Pope, Robert Lee, attorney, 607 S. Gay St., Knoxville, Tenn. Scott, John Lieut. Col. 27th Infantry, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. Sealey, Lulu, Mrs. J. D. Fairchild, 810 Classen St. Norman, Okla. The following letter and list of alumni and guests was received by Robert K. Salvers, secretary of the Alumni association from L. F. Colbert, secretary of the Washington Club after the recent meeting and banquet of the Washington Club

November 21st, 1935 Mr. F. E. Salvers Secretary, Alumni Association University of Kentucky Lexington, Kentucky Dear Mr. Salvers: I received your letter of November 12th, and as the boy can't read the radio program book, the ribbon and song sheets, and we want to thank you for sending them to us.

We had a very delightful dinner, attended by Dr. McVey, Deans Graham and Cooper, Mr. Thompson Bryan, and Professor Hothcher. We hope that they enjoyed themselves as much as the Alumni did in having them as their guests. I might say also, that the dinner was a financial success.

Attached hereto is my check in the amount of $5.00 paying the Alumni dues for J. Burnam Davis, Lewis F. Colbert, Wilbur C. Pickett, H. Clyde Reeves, Thomas H. Reeves and Miss Anita Wells. Also attached hereto is the list of those that registered for the dinner. We had fifty-four all told, including the wives of a number of the Alumni. Hoping that this will be of some assistance to you in bringing your files up to date, I am Yours very truly L. F. Colbert Secretary Washington Club

SENSATIONAL YOU-MUST-BE-PLEASED OFFER WINS CAMPUS PIPE SMOKERS

OUR OFFER TO PIPE SMOKERS: Smoke 20 fragrant pipefuls of Prince Albert. If you don't find it the mildest, tastiest pipe tobacco you ever smoked, return the tin with the rest of the tobacco in it, and we will refund full purchase price, plus postage.

(Signed) R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Here's the way we look at the smoking-tobacco question: Anybody can say, "My brand is best—please try my kind."

Our way is different. We say: "Try Prince Albert. We believe you'll like it. But, if you're not delighted, we make good on your purchase." And so, on the fair and square basis that you must be pleased, we ask you to try Prince Albert in your pipe. You'll like it!

Hits the Taste of College Men! This unusual offer can be made because we know that Prince Albert is what college men are looking for in a mild pipe tobacco. They try it. They like it. That's the story of Prince Albert in a nutshell. Prince Albert is packed right—in tin. Your tobacco keeps in prime condition. And there are 2 ounces in the big red Prince Albert tin.

They were ten long, lean years. So maybe you'll pardon us for going back a few days and recalling something of the football game that was played out here last Thursday.

None of you need to be reminded that the score was 27-0. It might have gone up to 50, with just another break or two, but there should be no complaints about the final count which is convincing enough as it stands.

That four-touchdown margin amply repays Kentucky's supporters for the humiliation they have been enduring from Tennessee, particularly for the past three years.

Against Tennessee, the Wildcats displayed the finest performance they had given since the Ohio State game early in October. It took them a long time to come back to that peak, but it was a most opportune time to turn in that performance.

In fact, they couldn't have picked a more opportune occasion upon the Tennessee game being the season's record, with a victory giving them an edge over their losses by the narrow margin of that one game.

Then too, the fact that the alumni and supporters generally had focused attention on that contest as a turning point in Kentucky's fortunes. The fact that they won and won by such a convincing margin, gives new hope to these admirers.

The Tennessee game, too, was more or less of a personal triumph for Bert Johnson, the Ashland Express, who celebrated his return to physical form with one of the best games he has ever turned in for the Wildcats.

As personally escorted the ball across the goal line for two of Kentucky's markers and played an important part in the afternoon's maneuvers, generally it gave every one of Bert's cheering section the greatest pleasure to see him lugging the leather with all his usual ferocity, especially through the Volunteer line which had succeeded in stopping him a year ago.

For those seniors who played their last game in Kentucky uniforms, it was also a great victory. They had finally succeeded where so many of their predecessors had failed. They had beaten a Tennessee team and will be remembered as those who had turned the trick.

Bob Davis, Kentucky's leading scorer for the season, also had a big day, even though he did not register his usual score. He was a constant threat to the harassed Volunteers and on several occasions seemed to be headed for a touchdown only to run into bad luck.

It's a hard task, handing out the bouquets to the Kentuckians as they all deserved them, as they all played great ball. Duke Ellington, Jimmy Long, Hamme-head McClurg, Wendell Skaggs, Gene Meyers, Joe Huddleston and Stan Nevers, in fact all along the forward line, the boys did yeoman service.

Nevers played the last minutes of his day's worth with a broken bone in his foot. Ellington was right on the spot to take the pass which had been deflected by a Volunteer. Skaggs also intercepted a pass as did Gene Meyers, who took the ball and started a gallop to the goal line, looking like a halfback.

Stan Nevers, recently voted most valuable player on the Kentucky squad, has been confined to his room in surgery hall. With a broken bone in his foot, it is expected that this foot injury will keep Nevers from participating in the following week's game.

As Davis was tackled he lateraled to McMillan who scampered the remaining distance for the last Kentucky marker. Simpson failed on this try for the extra point after having scored the other points after the touchdowns.

Ten Kentucky players were given their last opportunity to perform in Wildcat football uniforms last Thursday. Each will receive his diploma in June. These men are: Captain James Long, Norris McMillan, Alternate Captain Clarence Avers, Gordon Simpson, Landon Hay, Frank McCool, William Jobe, Charles McClurg, Arperd Olah and Sam Potter.

Art Exhibit To Have Etchings And Rare Prints

Five Works, Loaned by Central Kentuckians, Will Be Displayed

An exhibition of fine prints loaned by central Kentuckians and sponsored by the Lexington Junior League is scheduled to open next week at the University Art Center.

Such works as Rembrandt's etching "Jan Lutma" and a proof from Hollar's "Antwerp Cathedral" are included in the exhibit.

Mrs. Doris W. Rannels, Montclair subdivision, is lending three prints of interest; an etching by Charles Woodbury, an aquatint by Goya and a Chinese wood block.

The opening date of the exhibit will probably be Sunday, December 8.
