COLLECTIONS FOR 1919.

Report of the Librarian of Congress for Fiscal year ending June 30th, 1918. From the Georgia Historical Society, January, 1919.

Historical Collections of the Joseph Habersham Chapter D. A. R., American Revolution, Vol. 1, 1901; American Revolution, Vol. 2, 1902; American Revolution, Vol. 3, 1910. These books are very valuable records of everything required by the D. A. R., in their application to the Society, and the Kentucky State Historical Society appreciates the gift as being among the most valuable from any State to it. We trust it is the beginning of reciprocal relations with the Georgia Historical So- ciety, Atlanta, Ga. The books are edited by Mrs. William Lawson Peel, Hon. State Regent of Georgia, and Regent of the Joseph Habersham Chapter, D. A. R.

DEPARTMENTS OF THE STATE HISTORICAL ROOMS

*The Hall of Fame contains the portraits and pictures of the distinguished men and women of Kentucky, Governors, Statesmen, Soldiers, Heroes, Poets, Artists and Authors,
with the full length portraits of General Zachary Taylor,
also President of the United States, General George Washington and Governor Isaac Shelby.*

A handsome Cabinet containing gifts and loans of silver, gold and china, from the descendants of the pioneers and Revolutionary soldiers of Kentucky, living in Kentucky, and from nigh every State in the Union. Mahogany furniture, and the chairs belonging to the Court of Appeals in the Old Capitol, a gift from the judges then.

*The Music Room contains the historic Harpsichord, the Spinnet and elegant piano, the Burgoyne cannon, the most unique one of the War of 1812, flags, the splendid portrait of General LaFayette--President William Henry Harrison,
"Capture and Release of Simon Kenton," uniform and magnificent sword of Admiral Young, presented by his widow, with many other valuable and elegant relics, portrait of John G.
Carlisle and others. Philippine arms, famous flags, bugle that blew the charge when Tecumseh was killed in the War of 1812.*

The Library contains in Case One, Histories of Kentucky and Kentuckians, all literature pertaining especially to them as authors, artists, historians, poets, statesmen, orators, ministers and physicians, soldiers, sailors and distinguished Kentuckians.

Case Two, Miscellaneous Literature, books of General History and Literature.

Case Three, pamphlets, magazines, letters from the different Historical Societies and Exchanges.

Case Four, is the large bookcase made at the Penitentiary after the Civil War. It was ordered by the Historical Society, refounded then by Confederate soldiers. It is immense in size, elegantly carved and convenient as to space and shelves. This case, lower shelves, contains the Archives of the State, the Acts of the Legislature since its first meeting in Frankfort, December, 1793, books of the various Departments of State, and large volumes of histories of different countries, seas and oceans, splendid Encyclopedias and elegant literature of every description and clime. The second story contains valuable old books, Atlases and precious articles of historical note associated with distinguished people of the past in Kentucky. It would require a whole day to look through carefully its contents.

The Fifth Case is of very handsome mahogany, containing the later literature, along with the rare and magnificent books, containing the history of America from its discovery from ocean to ocean. This history is called "Norroena," also is called "Anglo Saxon Classics," in fifteen volumes, regarded as the rarest histories in the world, comprising as it does, the basis and foundation of all literature and art of Northern Europe, showing us why we are and shall always be the "Dominant People of the World," the Anglo-Saxon.

"The South in the Building of the Nation," 12 volumes.

History of Louisiana, 4 volumes.

History of and Works of Shakespeare, 15 volumes.

The File Room contains thousands of newspapers, bound and unbound, of Kentucky, the Union and Foreign Lands. Reports and Mss.

Room in the Basement contains implements of early industries, dog irons, wheels, large and small-winding blades, chairs made for the first State House, discarded now.
