

U. K. TO BE HOST TO FOURTEENTH STATE TOURNEY

Thirty-four Basketball Teams From 16 Regions Will Convene in City
PLAY BEGINS MARCH 17; FINALS SATURDAY

First Six Girls' Games Will Be Played Off In Transy Gym

BY SUNNY DAY
The grid of the Southern Conference tournament is nothing in comparison with the strain Kentucky's high school athletes must undergo to win a championship. After the district and regional tournaments of the past two weeks, the 32 remaining teams must meet Thursday, Friday, and Saturday for the third, final and most important meet, the state tournament, at the Alumni gymnasium.

The champions of the 16 regions will arrive Wednesday afternoon and at 5 o'clock will draw for their opponents in the first round. All the teams will meet on equal ground for this year, there will be no A and B classification in the state tournament, which has been in effect for 13 years, under the management of S. A. "Daddy" Boles. The class distinction has been effect several years ago because it seemed to give the little team a better chance against the big fellows, but this year the plan will be dropped.

Victors in the tournament last year were the Du Pont Manual boys and the Woodburn girls. Manual will not defend its title as the victor in the district meet, but Louisville will be represented by Male. The Woodburn girls will be back ready to show the same old game that was for them the championship last season.

Arrangements Completed
"Daddy" Boles has completed all arrangements for the visit of the rival teams. Each of the 32 boys' and 16 girls' organizations, will remain in Lexington during the meet, whether they win or lose. The boys will be encamped at the Phoenix hotel and the girls will make their headquarters at the Lafayette. What the boys eat, meals will be provided. If they win, they continue to play, and if they lose, they may be out of the tournament as onlookers.

The elimination of the class distinction presents a problem to Mr. Boles, for all teams being theoretically equal all should play on a court of the same size on the same floor. However, it would be impossible to play 16 games, making up the first round, on the university gymnasium. (Continued on Page 4)

Debate Team Wins Contest With Florida

The university debating team won an audience decision over a team representing the University of Florida Saturday night in room 111 McCue hall. This victory, the third intercollegiate debate of the year, gives the university a clean record. The question for discussion was "Resolved: That Congress Should Enact Legislation to Provide for Centralized Control of Industry."
Clifford Amys and Sidney T. Davis, two veteran unionists, debated presented the affirmative case. The University of Florida was represented by John Lavin and Joe Wilensky, who are on a debating tour of Kentucky and adjacent states.
The next intercollegiate debate of the year is scheduled to be held at the university March 23 with Loyola college, Chicago, Ill.

By GEORGIANNA WEAVER
An effective remedy for March blues is to be seen this week at the Guignol theater where Frank Fowler's clever interpretation of the English comedy of the 18th century "She Stoops to Conquer," by Oliver Goldsmith, is being presented. The play opened last night for a week's run.

Originally a rather long, drawn-out, five-act affair, the play has been condensed by Mr. Fowler to three acts so that the audience gets the benefit of quality and not quantity. Consequently the action of the play moves from one amusing situation to another.

An unique device is used to open the play. Instead of the usual dimming of lights and drawing of curtains, disclosing the actors upon the stage, the audience gets its first glimpse of the performers as, two by two, each couple consisting of a gallant gentleman and a demure, old-fashioned lady, they come from the back of the theater and dance a courtly minuet down the aisle and up to the stage. Then they line up in front of the curtain and each couple bows to the audience by the director, Mr. Fowler.

Scripts Arrive For 'Good News'

Rehearsals Begin for Leads in Strollers' Spring Production; Chorus Hold Triweekly Practices
COMMITTEES APPOINTED
Scripts for the Stroller play "Good News" have come and rehearsals for the leads was held for the first time last night at the women's gymnasium.

The most outstanding performance is contributed by Hugh Maguire in the role of the irrepressible and never sober ecogopnot, Tony Lumpkin. The scene in which Tony, "three sheets to the wind" as usual, brings a bottle of crude Scotch whisky into his stepfather's parlor, supplies them with a superfluous amount of insubstantial humor and leaves them singing a rollicking drinking song, is exceedingly amusing.

Woodson Knight is very convincing in the role of the hero, Tom Mixen. In the role of the long-tongued and tongue-tied in the presence of ladies of quality and virtue but in the presence of the girls who have relations with girls of a lower social standing.
Carolyn Speyer delightfully portrays the part of Kate, the charming heroine. Miss Speyer has a charming stage personality and she plays the part of the heroine with a grace and finesse, and poise.

DEFINITE PLANS CONSIDERED BY FACULTY BODY

Program of Cooperative Buying To Be Recommended to Council
ALL FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES MAY JOIN
If Plan Is Adopted, Incorporated Association Will Be Formed

Definite plans and recommendations for cooperative buying of fraternities and sororities were formulated Saturday at a meeting of the special committee appointed by the fraternity-faculty council. Recommendations will be submitted for the approval of the entire council within the next two weeks include the formation of an incorporated association of fraternities and sororities.

According to present plans announced Monday, if the fraternity-faculty council approves the measures submitted by the committee, the public is cordially invited to join up and officers will be elected for a cooperative association to be composed of fraternities and sororities on the campus.

The plan provides for the appointment of a manager who will have charge of the purchase and distribution of supplies for the various members of the association. At first, only a few staple commodities such as coal and cleaning supplies which may be stored, will be purchased in large quantities. When the merits of the system are proved, an extension will be made in the number and type of articles purchased.

This plan of cooperative buying advocated by the committee, is based on a system which has proved successful at the University of Oregon, Corvallis, Oregon.

Within the next several days, after the approval of the fraternity-faculty council, questionnaires will be sent to the fraternities and sororities to determine the kinds and quantities of articles purchased. Answers to the questionnaires will be the basis on which the committee and faculty council will select the articles to be purchased cooperatively next year.

Other Changes Discussed
In discussing plans for cooperative buying the committee discussed the university policy toward fraternities and sororities and recommended to the faculty council various changes in the policy as it now stands.
Members of the committee who attended the committee meeting were: Maurice Crutcher, Sigma Xi; Dr. Roy Moreland, Phi Kappa Tau; Prof. C. J. Jett, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; James Shropshire, Delta Tau Delta; and Dr. R. Melcher, dean of men.

Lawrence Cook Presents Recital At Memorial Hall
Cook Gives Organ Concert on Second Appearance at University

Making his second appearance on a university music program this year, Lawrence Cook, Louisville presented an organ concert Sunday afternoon at Memorial hall, the 17th in the series of recitals.
Those of the audience who had heard Mr. Cook at his concert in the past, all the more for his excellent technique and skill in interpretation, and they were not disappointed. All the deep feeling, all the pathos, all the strength that lies within the organ and makes it perhaps the most universally beloved of instruments was revealed in Mr. Cook's interpretation of the various numbers on the program. Gathering News Is Subject of Talks

Five Journalists Will Speak on Various Phases of Newspaper Work
A new series of five weekly radio talks on "Gathering News" is scheduled to be broadcast from the university radio studios of WHAS beginning July 4, according to Prof. Elmer C. Bulzer, director of the studios.

Phishet stockings are causing an outcry among the students, according to Professor Bulzer of Northwestern University. Answers are written on slips of paper under the stockings and all the students are to do is move their skirts and—professors are human, are they not.

LOVE NOT ME FOR COMELY GRACE
Love not me for comely grace,
Nor for my pleasing eye or face,
Nor for any outward part,
No, nor for a constant heart:

So thou and I shall sever.
Keep, therefore, a true love eye,
And love me still but know not why
So hast thou the same reason still
To do upon me ever!

New Species

There are students; and there are students.
Some of them come and go around the campus and consider themselves as having done a good day's work if they manage to get to three or four classes through the day and are insulted if called on to attend classes as late as 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and probably would swoon if it were suggested that they take a class on Saturday afternoon.

And then there are students who not only are willing but even request that a class be offered from 6 to 8 o'clock Saturday nights... a class for which no credit is given. Such a class is the graduate seminar in philosophical zoology.
There are six members of the class. They are Lydia Cloek, A. P. Taylor, C. Perry Krantz, A. Brauer, Dr. W. R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Mercer. The two latter live in Anchorage, and make the trip to Lexington each Saturday night to attend the class. And the class attendance has a clean sheet.

Magazine Publishes Article by Dean Boyd

An article by Dr. Paul P. Boyd, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, on "Changing the Emphasis from Quantitative to Qualitative Standards in Accrediting of High Schools" was published in the March issue of the North Central Association quarterly.

This paper, which Dr. Boyd read before the officers of the association in Detroit, argues for standards of accrediting that will measure more accurately the essential quality of the work done in schools, and suggests various changes that should be made in the standards. At present, standardizing bodies devote most of their attention to the externals of education such as size of classes, teaching load, number of books in the library, and number of teachers. The article states, as President Capen of the University of Buffalo says, "They have been measuring the size of the package in order to determine the nature of the contents."

Boyd Hall Residents To Conduct Vespers

Weekly vespers will be conducted by Boyd hall residents at 7 o'clock this evening in the recreation room of Patterson hall, according to Miss Augusta Roberts, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., under whose auspices the vespers are conducted.

The Alumni association is financed by money received from alumni members and subscriptions to the Alumnus, its publication. Selling advertisements in the Alumnus is another means of finance. Alumni association sponsors Homecoming Day class reunions.

far has been due to the recruiting of these industries from "young" students. These students have brought into industry new attitudes and on the whole a higher type personnel than could be secured from any other source. Industry, complicated as it is, and particularly in view of modern developments, needs the results of education. It needs the inquiring mind and the problems which confront industry after after are not problems like those of the nineteenth century, but rather social problems whose solution require the gathering of information, the analysis of it and the testing of experience.

The University of Kentucky has maintained for some years a College of Engineering. The purpose of that college is not so much to develop technical men but to lay a broad foundation so that when the student graduates he will have had discipline, training of mind, and an attitude of curiosity toward the problems with which he may be confronted. This school has been highly successful in placing its graduates in industries but unfortunately the student must find his employment outside of the state. In order to find a place where the University prepares students to enter industry as well as the professions, but those who are trained in the fields of chemistry, physics, bacteriology and so on, must go elsewhere to find a place.

Kentucky is confronted by numerous problems. The progress which we will make in the future depends upon our understanding of these problems, and the understanding of the problems depends upon the gathering of the facts and the analysis of these by the inquiring mind. This University can be and is of assistance to state officers, to members of different callings throughout the State, and it should be called upon more and more often to deal with questions involved in the growth of the commonwealth. In the nineteenth century it was possible to get along fairly well without technical knowledge, but in the twentieth century it is the foundation of progress and growth. The inquiring mind must be put to work upon our state problems, social, economic, legal, and technical. This is education in use. It is the answer to the relation of education to industry.

Intramural

By NORBERT CAMPBELL

From our prone position it appears that the Martins' basketball segregation have the best of the intramurals. So far in the round robin series the rare old "bookmakers" have disposed of three foes in handy fashion, meanwhile keeping their own state spoils. In winning their three games in a row they have won these games by fairly large scores, and piled up 56 points to their opponents 29 markers.

Among those teams that have fallen under the onslaught of the Martins' barrage on the baskets are the Phi Deltas by 23 to 6. This victory over the Phi Deltas pushed the Martins stock up a couple of notches, as the Phi Deltas were considered as one of the strongest teams entered in the series. In the second division of the intramural tournament, the Phi Deltas had won six out of seven encounters, and had defeated some of the toughest frat teams on the campus. The Phi Kappa Taus were disposed of by 20 to 15. Friday night the Martins had one of the hardest teams in the series to dispose of—the Sigma Chis. In defeating the Sigma Chis 13 to 8, the Martins had their hands full.

Other teams in the round robin series that have won two or more games are the Alpha Gamma Epsilons, the Alpha Gamma Rhoes, and the Grand Slams.

Director of Intramurals, C. W. Hackensmith, has announced that these basketball games that were scheduled to be played on March 23 have been moved up to March 26 so as not to interfere with spring vacation. Coach Rupp could be induced to attend some of the games that are being played in the Men's gym he could pick up some new ideas about the training of basketball players. From all indications it seems that the athletes that make up the training of the Greek basketball teams benefit from two or three deep drags from a community cigarette and come back for the second half. In fact, it happened in one of the games played last week, when a Greek athlete, idling near the sidelines trying to make his way toward the basket unseen, tried to further the illusion that he was just another spectator by taking several deep inhalations from a proffered frag.

Friday Games In the games played Friday night, the Phi Delta Thetas won over the Phi Kappa Taus by an 11 to 7 count. The Phi Kappa Taus outplayed the Phi Deltas throughout the first half, scoring four points while their opponents were held scoreless. But the Phi Delta Thetas came back strong in the second half to score 11 points while the Phi Kappa Taus were held to three points. Jones of the Phi Delta Thetas was high point command of the situation and pulled away due to the unerring eye of Jackson, forward, who scored seven of his team's points. Crump was best for the Sigma Chis.

PI K. As Win! Led by the sharp shooting of Foster, who scored five markers, the Phi Kappa five won a hard fought tussle from the Grand Slams, 10 to 9. This was one of the best games

The contestants will be headed by such outstanding teams as Male High, Lexington; Park, Paris; Danville, Ashland, and Lexington. These will be supplemented by many "dark horses" quints coming from smaller communities. Some of these smaller schools have sent teams to the state tournament before.

Although there will be no differentiation in the tournament, it will be interesting to note that five girls' and four boys' teams from E class schools will participate in the state tournament.

SENIOR RINGS

Seniors desiring class rings may be measured for them Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 17, 18 and 19. During these days a representative of the L. G. Baldwin company will be at the administration building.

After a miserable start in the first half the Sigma Alpha Epsilons returned after the rest period and hit the hopes for seven points, just enough to give them a 9 to 5 win over the Alpha Gamma Rhoes.

GIRLS Do Not Smoke Pipes

THE GIRLS haven't left us many of our masculine rights. They fly our airplanes, drive our cars, smoke our cigarettes - but they don't smoke our pipes! They've left us this one manly right, anyway. A man almost has to smoke a pipe nowadays. A pleasant necessity! For a pipe filled with good tobacco is just about the best smoke a man could want.

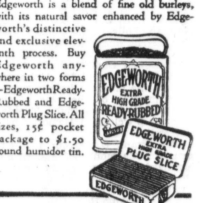

And if you're troubled about selecting a tobacco, remember that Edgeworth is the popular favorite in 42 out of 54 colleges. It somehow seems to fit the college man's taste. Edgeworth is cut especially for pipes, it burns slowly, it gives a cool smoke. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold. Or, for a special sample packet, write to Lorus & Bro. Co., 100 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

For men only - the joys of a pipe.
