DR. PAUL WALP PUBLISHES BOOK

"The Constitutional Development of the League of Nations" is Subject of New Publication
RELATIONSHIPS NOTED
Dr. Paul K. Walp, assistant professor in the department of political science, is the author of a recently published book, "The Constitutional Development of the League of Nations."

In material for the book was obtained from actual observations of sessions of the council and the assembly. Doctor Walp was in Geneva, Switzerland, during the years 1926 and 1927 and frequently attended meetings of the League. He was at that time a student at the University of Geneva, returning to America, obtained his Ph. D. degree from Johns Hopkins University.

One of the interesting statements which Doctor Walp made during an interview was that the apparent unanimity of the League in dealing with the functions and relations of the nations to agree on different matters, was really the strong point of the League.

Basin For Pledging Fixed By Lances

Lances, honorary fraternity for outstanding junior men on the university campus, held the first meeting since the beginning of the year yesterday at Treadwell. Plans for pledging were made and qualifications in considering qualifications for outstanding junior men according to members of the order. Activities also were to be considered as requisites for pledging. A dinner-dance will be given in the society sometime after the pledging which is to be conducted at the junior prom on April 1, the members decided.

on the mite boxes, which will be placed Wednesday and Thursday. The sorority will turn all money over to Treadwell Blanding, Prof. W. S. Webb, and Bart W. Peak who will have complete charge of its distribution.

The drive is being sponsored by the organization because the usual source of relief, the student loan fund, almost has been exhausted. Students, to the sorority reports, are doing without meals, they may complete their education and many of them will not return to university next semester.

Will Make Trip To South Sea Islands, Africa, and Asia to be Visited For Study By Scientist

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, Dean of the College School, will leave next summer on a trip that will lead him into the jungles of South Sea Islands, and the wilds of Borneo, Sumatra, Java, and India. He announced that the primary object of his trip is to add to the university's collection of Memorabilia.

Varied Program Is Given Sunday By Foster Krake

Presenting the weekly musicale, Foster Krake, Lexington baritone, gave a varied program of four groups of numbers of four selections each at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Memorial Hall. He was accompanied at the piano by his wife, Helen Colley Krake.

Mr. Krake, who is essentially a lyrical baritone, possesses an unusually good voice and was consistently "in voice" during the entire program. With the knowledge of the latest of which is exclusively the lyrical song, Mr. Krake chose a program made up mostly of selections of the type in each group, however, he sang a song of different sort; less soft, less restrained; more open tone, given in the style of a ballad.

GRADUATE DEAN TO TAKE LEAVE

This is the longest trip that Doctor Funkhouser has ever taken in his research work. Previously he has done much work in Kentucky, excavating mounds and collecting skeletons and remains of the pre-historic civilization of the state. He has been granted a year's leave of absence by the university to make this trip.

Dr. Funkhouser will leave late next summer for New York and from there he will sail for Cuba. From Cuba he will go to San Francisco, making short stops at the Panama Canal and on the west coast of Mexico. From San Francisco he will travel westward to the Hawaiian Islands and after two weeks will go to Japan, remaining for three weeks and then will join an expedition of entomologists in China.

While at the Philippine Islands, Dean Funkhouser will be associated with scientists of the Philippine Bureau of Science, who are collecting zoological specimens on the various islands of that group. After leaving the Philippines, he will journey to the South Sea Islands doing extensive work in Borneo, Sumatra and Java. Considerable time will be spent in the Federated Malay States and in North India, Java and Ceylon.

In South Africa Doctor Funkhouser plans to study the anthropology of the Bushmen. He has already covered there. He will travel from that point through the central part of the continent to the east coast and from there he will sail to England. In England he will study at the British Museum, and plan to visit other European museums before returning to the United States in the summer of 1933.

Annual Pictures Sent to Engraver

All panels for the senior section of the 1932 Kentuckian were completed and sent last week to the engravers, John H. Myers' company. Berkeley Square Will Be Given by Guignol Players

Cast of Veterans Preparing for Initial Performance on February 8.
With a cast composed largely of Guignol veterans, Director Frank Fowler will present "Berkeley Square" at the University of Kentucky.

Originally produced in England, "Berkeley Square" delighted both English and American audiences, and its production by the campus Guignol group is expected to receive an enthusiastic reception by the theatergoers of Lexington.

Margaret Lewis, Louisville, long a favorite with local audiences, will return to Lexington to play the role of Helen Pettigrew. Christine Johnson, Parry Kraaz, and George White Phelan are other former Guignolites who have parts in the play.

RELIGIOUS WEEK TO BE CONDUCTED

Dr. S. Parkes Adams Will Deliver Five Talks During Period To Be Sponsored By Y. M. Y. W. C. A.
The program committees of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. held a joint meeting in the Y. rooms in the Armory building at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to make plans for Religious Epiphany week.

It was decided that Religious Epiphany week will be February 18 to 23. The main feature of the week will be talks given by Dr. S. Parkes Adams, who will be in Lexington, W. Va., from February 16 to 18. There will be three evening lectures followed by half hour addresses.

The following Sunday will be "Go To Church Sunday" when all university students will be urged to attend some church. Ministers of all Lexington churches will be asked to cooperate by delivering special sermons.

Committees have been appointed to carry out all plans made by the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Bart Peak and Miss Augusta Roberts have promised to lead their study groups to direct the work of the committees.

KENTUCKY STILL UNBEATEN AFTER SOUTHERN TRIP

Coach Well Pleased With Results of Three Basketball Contests
WILD CATS WILL MEET S. I. A. F. THURSDAY
Short Practice Session Held After Return; Rupp Advises Rest

By RALPH E. JOHNSON Sports Editor, The Kernel
The Kentucky basketball team remained undefeated by virtue of its victory over the Southern Conference in the dust Thursday. Chattanooga will invade the Wildcats' gymnasium in an attempt to conquer the undefeated Big Blue.

Milk Stolen From Fraternity Houses

Phi Delta Theta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Delta Suffer Losses
Two fraternities and one sorority have reported that dairy products delivered to their houses in the morning have been stolen. Phi Delta Theta, Lambda Chi Alpha and Kappa Delta have been the victims of the thieves.

Small quantities have been stolen since the beginning of the school year, according to house managers of the organizations with a claim when all three houses were visited by the thieves Friday morning.

The National Dairy Company has notified police of the activities and they are investigating.

U. K. Rifle Team Defeats W. Virginia

Kentucky's varsity riflemen defeated the rifle team of the University of West Virginia in the match held January 9. Kentucky had a score of 1985 against the opponent's score of 1366.

BASKETBALL SEATS

All seats for the Chattanooga game, with the exception of the student section, will be reserved, according to S. A. Boies, graduate manager of intercollegiate athletics.

Kentucky Basketball Team Remained Undefeated

It was evident to anyone watching Rupp on the gym floor Monday afternoon that he was well pleased with the results of the southern invasion. There were a few things that must be corrected, but the three victories were mighty sweet.

And they should be, for when one considers the trip the Big Blue made, it is a remarkable thing that it was Alexander the Great never made a more rapid invasion than that of the Wildcats. They were on trains three days and three nights and played a game each night. Each stop-over was a victory, and opponents grew tougher each day.

Errors cropped up that never would have happened with a fresh team. But the long arms of Sale were responsible for many of the Voluntees' points being deflected from the basket.

Free throws once more won a game for the Big Blue. Kentucky's 81, compared to West Virginia's 65. The last two, by Charlie Worthington, deciding the tilt in Kentucky's favor.

Rupp was able to use only three substitutes that night for he found Seneca's rougher than Rupp's. After returning home to the Kentucky gym Rupp held a short session in which the first team was drilled with the second team attempting to break them up. After a short lecture, in which Rupp advised the boys to rest when possible, they were dismissed for the afternoon.

Statisticians Do Math Tricks With Lay of Poultry Industry

By ROBERT McGAUGHEY
Did you know that in the United States more than 700 eggs are laid each second? Or better, that each time the clock ticks more than 700 hens contribute to the enormous production of eggs in this country?

Figures gathered in various reports prove the greatness of such a situation. For example in 1928 the number of eggs produced, if placed end to end and iting as beads, would constitute a string reaching four times the distance to the moon...

Statistics show that all eggs are not eaten or destroyed, for it was reported in a recent survey that the number of chickens raised in 1929 was twenty-eight per cent of that reported in single file, a line reaching around the world five times...

Applebaum & Co. Beat Cincinnati At Foils, Swords

For the first time since the introduction of fencing as a sport at the university, an independently organized team representing the University of Kentucky, engaged in a scheduled fencing match Saturday afternoon. The Kentucky independent team defeated the Beavercats of the University of Cincinnati by the score of 37 to 32.

The independent team is coached by M. Applebaum, fencing instructor at the university. In defeating the Beavercats, the men representing the University pulled quite a feat, as the Cincinnati team is considered as one of the finest fencing teams in the Ohio Fencing Association. The Ohioans have won the championship in the conference, and have been undefeated in two years.

A return match with the Cincinnati is to be held sometime in the early part of March, and in the latter part of March the University of Purdue fencers will furnish the opposition for Mr. Applebaum's men. The place and date for the matches are to be selected.

The university independent team is composed of Barab, Gross, Kennedy, Dugan, and Wachs. Following is the results of the matches:
Foil: First round: Barab defeated Blossie five to four; Gross lost to Burdiss five to two; Kennedy defeated Guadian five to four; Second round: Barab defeated Burdiss five to zero; Gross defeated Siskip five to one; Kennedy lost to Grassie five to three.

Third round: Barab defeated Popernik five to one; Gross lost to Grassie five to three; Kennedy lost to Burdiss five to two. The foil matches ended with Kentucky winning five bouts to Cincinnati's four at a score of 35 to 30.

Dueling Swords: First round: Gross lost to Popernik one to zero; Barab lost to Grassie one to zero. Second round: Gross lost to Popernik one to zero; Barab lost to Grassie one to zero. Both teams added two points to their total, making the score: Kentucky seven bouts to six with a total score of 37 to 32.

Due to the lateness of the hour both teams agreed to call off the saber matches. The various colleges and schools of the university and those enrolled during the past year are as follows: College of Arts and Sciences, men 778, women 361; the College of Agriculture, men 188, women 125; the College of Engineering, men 617, women 6; the college of Law, men 111, women 7; the College of Education, men 119, women 328; the college of Commerce, men 353, women 25; the Graduate school, men 192, women 146.

According to figures in the periodical, 'School and Society', the University of Kentucky ranks in comparison with the 990 other like institutions in the United States: thirty-fifth among full time schools; twenty-eighth in residence students; Texas university and Tulane being larger.

SPATS PROTECT PEDESTRIANS
University students who affect spats are less likely to be hit by motor vehicles than those who do not. This statement comes from a new authority that Frank Kremb, director of the Evanston, Illinois accident bureau. Pedestrians are urged also to protect themselves when crossing streets by waving a handkerchief or removing their gloves. Imagine a husky athlete crossing the street waving a handkerchief!

Citizens of the state pay 39 cents per capita for support of the university. On basis of the present plan the university receives $200 on an assessed value of $10,000. The value of plant, campus and equipment of the university (this includes the sub-stations at Quicksand and Princeton) is $3,000,000.

Kentucky Tied With Alabama For S. C. Lead

Always a dangerous contender, but never a champion since the annual tournament was inaugurated eight years ago, Kentucky has again been in the Southern Conference of its basketball championship intentions, reports the Associated Press. The Wildcats, competing in the Wilkies, second ranking Southern Conference basketball tournament last year, are now tied with Alabama for the conference leadership, both teams having four wins and one tie.

By taking three games in three nights in spite of serious handicaps and outside, Kentucky defeated Florida and Vanderbilt in three days and three nights on a train, and three good teams as opponents. The Wildcats are confident themselves in a position second to none in the South.

Alabama has retained her position by defeating Florida two games straight. Maryland has lost two games to outsiders, and barely squeezed a victory out of an ordinary W. and L. team with two over-time periods to win 29 to 27.

Games this week being together Florida and Vanderbilt at Nashville, Louisiana State and Mississippi A. & M. at Baton Rouge and Sewanee and Tulane at New Orleans, Monday and Tuesday; Maryland and Navy at College Park and Georgia Tech and Mercer at Macon, Wednesday; Virginia and Maryland at Charlottesville, Thursday; Florida and Auburn at Gainesville, Alabama and Louisiana State at Tuscaloosa, Friday and Saturday; Duke and North Carolina State at Durham, Sewanee and Vanderbilt at Nashville, and W. P. I. and W. and L. at Lexington, Va., Saturday.

The standings:
Teams W L Pct.
Kentucky 4 0 1.000
Alabama 3 0 1.000
Maryland 2 0 1.000
Virginia 2 0 1.000
Miss. A. & M. 2 0 1.000
Auburn 2 0 1.000
N. Carolina 1 0 1.000
N. C. State 1 0 1.000
Georgia Tech 2 1 .667
Tennessee 2 1 .667
S. Carolina 1 1 .500
