PROGRAM, GET YOUR PROGRAM

Two special groups serve as program vendors at UK home football games

By David Kaplan
Host Communications

Chances are as you entered tonight's game you were asked to buy a program by a number of people. But you probably don't know who those people are.

This year, members of two special organizations are serving as program vendors at UK home football games. They are Kiwanis and Big Brothers/Big Sisters of the Bluegrass.

Kiwanis, founded in Detroit, Mich., in 1915, is a worldwide service organization appealing to men who have the desire to become personally involved in making their communities better places in which to live. As a group, these men achieve what individuals cannot do alone. Working together, Kiwanians voluntarily share the challenge of community improvement and leadership, assuming personal responsibility for humanitarian and civic projects that public authorities are not prepared or able to perform. These projects are dominantly local in nature. They include such activities as assistance to youth and the aging, conservation of natural resources,

YOUNG AT HEART

George Fugate may be 99-years old, but you'd never know it. Fugate, who spent much of his life working for a coal company in Jenkins, Ky., is a program vendor at UK's home games. He is a crowd favorite, as many people come specifically to George for their program. In return, he autographs the programs for all his customers.

On Dec. 10 of this year, Fugate will celebrate his centennial birthday. In celebration, the Kiwanis club will hold a dinner/roast in his honor as it did when he turned 90 and 99. More than 250 people are expected to be in attendance.

George works at the program booth inside of Gate 2 beside the Wildcat Den. Drop by and say hello. He'd love to meet you.

development of community facilities and creation of international understanding and goodwill.

The Kiwanis Club of Lexington helps community children by working at the Johnson school as role models throughout the year. The club also purchases shoes for needy kids in Fayette County. This is done with funds raised through football program sales and at the club's annual Pancake Day. This year's Pancake Day will take place Thursday, November 11 at Calvary Baptist Church from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Big Brothers started in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1903. Big Sisters started in New York in 1909. The two programs merged in 1978 and are now known as Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America, with 550 agencies in the United States.

One agency is located in Central Kentucky, serving about 650 children yearly in six central Kentucky counties (Fayette, Scott, Woodford, Jessamine, Madison and Boyle). Today there are 535 children active, 310 children are matched and 225 are waiting for that special adult who will be a role model and friend.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters works with concerned adults to provide friendship and positive influence for an at-risk child through a consistent one-on-one relationship. This strong role model can help the child learn trust, respect and responsibility.

Volunteers can be any age over 18 and can be either single or married. Each "Big" agrees to spend 3-5 hours of quality time each week with his/her young match for at least one year. A very important part of Big Brothers/Big Sisters is the thoughtful, heartfelt support of the staff. Whether helping deal with a difficult situation or putting together a group picnic, the staff puts their hearts into it. The caseworker, the parent and the "Big" work together as a team to make a difference.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of the Bluegrass serves children ages six through 13. They're children like your children or like the child you once were ... only they're missing a parent, and they are in need of friendship and attention from a mature adult. 🐾

TONIGHT'S GAME

KENTUCKY
VS
OLE MISS
OCTOBER 2, 1993

By David Kaplan
Host Communications

Again! It happened once again. The Kentucky Wildcats won a "big" road game for the second consecutive year and afterwards, sang their beloved fight song. "On, on, U of K," reverberated through the visitors' locker room in Williams-Brice Stadium following UK's upset of South Carolina, 21-17, just as it did at LSU last season. Only this time, Wildcat coach Bill Curry followed it up with a message:

"The last time we did this," said Curry to his jubilant squad, "we went down to LSU and had a wonderful win and we were so happy like this and we lost a little bit of our edge...let's start getting ready right now for the next SEC game. Somebody's got to come and play us."

But we must rejoice for at least a moment. The importance of last Thursday's win before a national television audience on ESPN can't be overstated. The Wildcats entered the game without starting quarterback Pookie Jones, with a banged up Maurece Williams and the weight of playing on the road laying square on their shoulders. UK was successful in only one of the previous 15 road games under Curry, its lone win coming against the lowly Tigers in Baton Rouge, 27-25.

And the outlook was even more bleak through three quarters in Columbia. With the Gamecocks ahead 17-7 and seemingly in total command of the game, the Wildcats looked to be well on their way to a 1-3 start.

But a 64-yard touchdown scamper by Randy Wyatt shifted the momentum back toward UK, and when backup quarterback Antonio O'Ferral worked the option to perfection for an 81-yard scoring drive, brought tears to the eyes of Gamecock quarterback Steve Taneyhill.

Antonio O'Ferral showed he is capable of filling in at quarterback with his strong effort versus the Gamecocks.

UK's defense was again superb, especially when it mattered most. With South Carolina ahead 14-7 and driving deep into UK territory, the Wildcats were able to hold the Gamecocks to a field goal. This proved to be a key to the comeback.

And Jenkins continued his steady play in the secondary. His game-saving interception was his fourth on the year which leads the SEC.

the Wildcats found themselves ahead 21-17. A Marcus Jenkins interception in the end zone put an end to South Carolina's final drive, sealed the UK victory and Enough. Ancient history. An awesome Ole Miss team comes to Lexington tonight and as Curry tried to emphasize to his troops, Kentucky must not rest on the laurels of last week's success. The Rebels sport not only the best defense in the Southeastern Conference, but the No. 2 rated defense in the nation.

They have held their opponents to a miniscule 183 yards and 11 points a game. Linebackers Dewayne Dotson and Cassius Ware, both Butkus Award candidates, are tough against the run. Try to pass and the Rebels have All-SEC safety Johnny Dixon waiting. The Rebels simply leave few options for their opponents to succeed.

They come to Lexington a team on a roll. After an opening week loss to Auburn, the Rebels have flat out been dominant. Ole Miss defeated their last three opponents, UT-Chattanooga, Vanderbilt and Georgia, by a combined score of 120-28. The Rebels sit one game behind Western Division leader Alabama, with a showdown against the Tide two weeks on the horizon.

If UK is to compete with the Rebels, Curry must build on what brought UK success last week: mixing up the game. Following the Indiana game, many Hoosiers claimed they always knew what the Kentucky offense was going to do. That wasn't the case against the Gamecocks as the Wildcats came out and threw

 First Meeting: 1944, in Lexington;
 Kentucky won, 27-7
 In Lexington: Series tied, 8-8-1
 In Oxford: Ole Miss leads, 5-2-0
 Other Sites: Ole Miss leads, 10-1-0

THE LAST MEETING

1992 in Oxford. Ole Miss won, 24-14
 Game Recap:
 Ole Miss tailback Cory Philpot rushed for 135 yards and scored one touchdown to lead the Rebels. Kentucky suffered four turnovers in the defeat.

UK quarterback Pookie Jones ignited the Wildcats in the third quarter, directing a pair of touchdown drives, but the Wildcats reached mid-field just once after that.

THE STORYLINE

Kentucky (2-2) engineered a fourth quarter comeback last week to defeat South Carolina 21-17 in Columbia. It looks to sustain that momentum this evening against the Rebels.

Ole Miss (3-1) is a team on a roll. After a season opening loss to Auburn, the Rebels have crushed their last three opponents by a total of 120-28. But they must beware of looking past UK.

on the first play of their initial drive.

Over the last two years, Curry has preached that his team needs to get the ball in the hands of their skill-position players and give them a chance to score. And that's just what happened last week. The Wildcats threw some twists into the game plan.

Wideout Alfonzo Browning actually handled the ball from out of the backfield on four occasions. All of them went for modest gains, but each time it appeared as though Browning could break loose for a long gain.

Two newcomers who have been counted on to upgrade the overall speed of the team, tailbacks Wyatt and Williams, combined to carry the ball 13 times. Williams, a true freshman, showed his grit by rushing nine times despite entering the game on a gimpy ankle. Wyatt broke one for a touchdown, proving the point UK coaches have learned from their opponents: speed kills.

And O'Ferral proved that he is a capable back-up to Jones, who was unable to start for the first time in 21 games. However the UK coaches made it perfectly clear that if Jones is healthy, he will be the starter.

So here we go again. Another "big" SEC game. Can the Wildcats put their successes of last week in the back of their minds and once again perform up to their capabilities? Will Kentucky once again be singing in the locker room following another big victory? Stay tuned. 🐾

MAKING THE SACRIFICE

Tight end Terry Samuels has made personal changes for the good of the team

By Todd Bell
Host Communications

Of all the "skill" position players on a football team, the tight end may have the most thankless job of them all. He is the only one who is assured of taking a hit on every play and he must be both an offensive lineman and a pass receiver, sometimes on the same play. Compare that existence with the other ball carriers on the team.

A wide receiver lines up across from a defensive back who is usually three or four yards downfield and is moving backwards when the ball is snapped. Tailbacks and fullbacks get a running start before they get hit and they have at least five of their teammates between them and the defense. Quarterbacks don't have to block anybody and can slide to the ground or throw the ball away to avoid a big hit.

Now think about what a tight end must put up with. He lines up right across from a 270-pound (or more) defensive lineman who is definitely not moving backwards at any time. He then spends the entire game either a) fighting through the defensive holding that the officials never see in order to run a pass route or b) engaging in hand-to-hand combat to keep the man across from him from maiming a running back.

No wonder it's so hard to find outstanding tight ends in the Southeastern Conference. Nobody wants to put up with that abuse every Saturday.

At most schools the tight end is just an offensive lineman wearing an eligible number. If he catches a pass, it's an accident.

Kentucky, however, is not most schools.

No, the Wildcats are fortunate enough to have the services of a player who gave up a spot in the relative safety of the backfield and actually asked to move to tight end.

Who in their right mind would volunteer to play tight end? This guy must have a screw loose or something.

Well, not exactly.

Actually Terry Samuels is a pretty intelligent guy. The kind of football player you would like to have about 50 or 60 of on your roster. But he approached UK coach Bill Curry and asked to move to tight end, the position he was recruited at when he signed with UK out of Louisville Male High School four years ago.

Samuels led the Wildcats in rushing in 1991 and 1992, totaling more than 1,000 yards those two years. He had firmly established himself as a top-flight fullback in the SEC. With an NFL career a definite possibility, why try to learn a new position, especially one as demanding and inglorious as tight end?

"I went to coach Curry and told him I wanted to use my receiving skills more," Samuels said. "I was thinking about tight end and he suggested it anyway. That was the most logical position for me and it was a way to get me and (fullback) Damon Hood on the field at the same time."

Bill Curry was looking at ways to retool the Cat offense after last season's poor offensive showing. His main concern was trying to find ways to use as many of his offensive weapons at one time as possible. To do that would require a few players to change positions.

Samuels was one of the players Curry was looking at, but when his fullback approached him and asked about switching positions, Curry wasn't surprised.

"Terry is taking up the mantle and seeking to be a leader," Curry said. "He is such a dominant presence because he has such ability first of all, but he is also a strong personality."

Terry Samuels played fullback for his first three seasons at UK.

Curry has talked about trying to find players who are committed to winning at Kentucky and playing as a team. That message did not escape Samuels, who is hoping that his moving to a new position would send a message of his own to his teammates after an off-season that saw a lot of changes on the coaching staff and the roster.

"I want them to see this as an unselfish move," Samuels said. "At first I worried about how many passes I would catch, but once I got into it I started worrying about making the key block to spring somebody for a touchdown. That's what this is all about, helping us win some games."

The move has also allowed Curry to do the one thing he felt was necessary for UK to get the offense going this season and that is get as many of his top players on the field as possible. With Samuels at tight end, Hood was able to move to fullback and that in turn opened up the tailback spot for the likes of Randy Wyatt and freshman Maurece Williams.

It wasn't an easy move at first, but tight ends coach Tommy Limbaugh said that Samuels is improving on the field with the work he does off of it.

"One of the things that has helped him is he has spent a lot of time watching tape and studying in his free time," Limbaugh said. "He goes over to the Nutter Center or back to the dorm and pulls tapes out and studies the guy he'll be going up against."

Samuels was already a good pass receiver when he moved to tight end, so catching the ball wasn't expected to be a problem; learning to block against some of the toughest defenses in the country was a concern however.

"It's been an interesting transition for Terry," Limbaugh said. "He'd been gone so long (playing fullback) it was almost like starting over at a new position. We had to work a tremendous amount on his blocking and it's really improved since spring practice. I think he'll be a great blocker."

Even though he was a tight end in high school, Samuels found he was indeed starting over when he made the switch. At Male High School he was usually bigger than the defensive players lined up across from him and he generally had his way with his opponents.

That, however, is no longer the case.

"Now I'm blocking guys that are two times bigger than me," Samuels said. "It's all brute strength and they're only a yard away. In high school I could get by because I was bigger than everybody else. Now I have to study the person I'm going to be in front of, how quick he is, how he played last week, everything."

Samuels is, without a doubt, a team player. But his reasons for analyzing his opponent's every move go beyond the good of the team.

"I don't want to embarrass myself, or my mother up in the stands," he said. "I have to make sure I'm on top of my game and every little thing that I can find out about a guy helps me be an effective blocker."

Worries about disgracing the family name have proven to be unwarranted as Samuels has been everything Curry hoped he would be at tight end.

"He has great hands, great size, great quickness and great intelligence," Curry said. "When you have all those things you have a real chance to be a major factor at tight end."

With all those tools one has to wonder why Samuels was moved from tight end to fullback as a freshman in the first place. Curry said it was based more on where people were needed than what they could do at that time.

"We've had good tight ends in the past, that's why Terry played fullback for three years. We needed him there," Curry said. "But he combines a lot of the things we had to divide up before."

The combination of skills is so impressive that Samuels is believed to be an even better NFL prospect at tight end than he was at fullback.

Regardless of whether or not he makes the jump to professional football, Curry feels that Kentucky has been good for Samuels.

"He's matured enormously since he got here," Curry said. "Terry and I have had a lot of long talks about things. Some guys can't go talk to the head coach. Terry can. It hasn't always been pleasant, but it's always been honest."

Samuels agrees that his time here has helped him grow, not just as a football player, but as a person as well.

"There is nothing that can describe my experience here. It's helped me grow in leaps and bounds," Samuels said. "At times I've hated it, at times I've loved it, but I wouldn't want to be anywhere else."

Even if being here means butting heads with a defensive lineman on every play. 🐾

These days, Samuels spends most of his time butting heads with opponents.

SHOOTING UP THE RANKS

Willie Cannon has gone from walk-on to starter during his career as a Wildcat

By Jared Svoboda
Host Communications

When Willie Cannon was a senior at Southridge High School in Miami, Fla., a former teammate and freshman UK wide receiver, Troy Hobbs, encouraged Cannon to join him in Lexington as a walk-on.

That was 1990.

Now it is 1993. Three years and a lot of hard work later, the former walk-on now starts at cornerback.

"I didn't even think of playing here until Troy Hobbs encouraged me to come and walk-on," said Cannon. "Since then it's been a lot of fun."

A lot of hard work and determination along with a little luck has brought Cannon into playing extensively in the defensive secondary and special teams, now as an experienced veteran.

"Willie does so much for us, he's on the field all the time," said defensive coordinator Mike Archer. "He is a leader by example and really works hard. It's incredible that he's a walk-on. He is invaluable to our team for the way we play our man defense. He is very good playing bump-and-run and did a great job against Florida."

Cannon made the team as a true freshman and played in two games on the kickoff team against LSU and Florida before earning a scholarship.

"It was hard at first because you don't get looked at very much," said Cannon about his first year on the Wildcat football team. "But the more playing time that I got the more fun it became and now that I'm starting, it is a lot more fun."

Archer installed a man-to-man pass defense which he believes Cannon fits in well. Cannon says the system makes him feel more comfortable, and credits his teammates for that.

"This is a cut-loose, no-holds barred defense, but I like it because I know that if I make a mistake I've got 10 other guys going full speed to help me," said Cannon.

After his first year he earned a scholarship and continued to get more playing time. His hard work started paying off in his junior year when he became a regular on the special teams. With some injuries to other players, the door opened for Cannon's first starting assignment against Florida early in the 1992 season. At free safety he notched 15 tackles and one interception against the Gators. He started the next three games at safety and ended the year ninth on the team in tackles and as the team leader in interceptions.

Finally as a senior, he has earned the starting position at cornerback. While starting at the corner this season he has had 10 tackles, one fumble recovery and five deflected passes through the first three games of the year. He also got one of the team's seven interceptions in the Florida game.

His hard work this past spring led Cannon to earning a starting position this fall. He was named by the UK coaching staff as Most Improved Defensive Back in spring drills.

Besides having fun on the football field, Cannon also enjoys the civic service work that he has been involved with since he joined the Wildcats. One of his favorite activities is volunteering as a mentor for the fifth graders at Booker T. Washington Elementary School.

Willie Cannon has developed into an important fixture of the UK defense.

"We (he and other football players) went out to the elementary to talk to the 'troubled' kids and try to encourage them. That was a lot of fun. I love kids," said Cannon.

After he graduates he plans on taking his undergraduate degree in mathematics and furthering his education with a master's degree in electrical engineering. That is, of course, unless he gets a chance at the NFL.

Cannon said he and the team want to use their heartbreak defeat against Florida and the setback against Indiana as a motivational tool for the rest of the season. "I think the team will pick it up and hopefully when Christmas time comes around we will be going to a bowl game and not going home."

Wherever Cannon and the rest of the Wildcats will be for Christmas, Cannon has definitely shown what it takes to shoot up the ranks. 🐾

SCOUTING THE OLE MISS REBELS

Ole Miss' and Kentucky's records stood virtually identical two weeks into the season. Each owned one huge win and one four-point loss. But their seasons took different paths two weeks ago when Ole Miss slammed Vanderbilt 49-7, while Kentucky lost 24-8 at Indiana. Tonight the Rebels visit Commonwealth Stadium for homecoming, which might be the Blue and White's biggest advantage.

Ole Miss has beaten Kentucky eight times in Lexington and has won the last three meetings between the Rebels and Wildcats.

As Ole Miss celebrates its 100th year of football in 1993, the Rebels and coach Billy Brewer are looking for a big year. Finishing second in the SEC Western Division behind Alabama, the Rebels overcame preseason doubts last fall. Brewer, the dean of SEC football coaches, prefers the lower ranking during preseason, though: "It's not how you start," he says, "it's how you finish."

The first absence of an experienced quarterback in the 10 years Brewer has been at Ole Miss could justify his point. Lawrence Adams, however, is confident in his new role as the No. 1 signal caller and has proved it by passing for 597 yards and four touchdowns in Ole Miss' first three games. Senior tailback Marvin Courtney is the Rebels' top rushing threat. He has surpassed more than 1,000 yards on the ground during his career. Junior tackles Jeff Miller and Ahmed Shahid, and freshman center Skip Joyce provide protection on the offensive line along with junior guard Jeff Miller and sophomore guard Joel Jordan. Senior split end Eddie Small and junior flanker Roell Preston are Adams' main receiving options.

The Rebels count on Small heavily at split end. The senior returns after catching 39 passes for 558 yards and two touchdowns last season to rank fifth in the SEC. Small displayed his big-play ability two weeks ago with a 74-yard touchdown catch against Vanderbilt.

The defense returns possibly the best pair of linebackers in the nation. Senior Dewayne Dotson, an All-SEC selection last year, ranked second on the team in tackles a year ago with 100 and had 10 quarterback sacks. Two weeks ago against Vanderbilt, Dotson, a Butkus Award candidate, had a monster game with 15 tackles, including eight solo, two sacks and a fumble recovery. For his effort, Dotson was honored as the SEC Defensive Player of the Week. Seniors Cassius Ware and Gary Abide along with junior Abdul Jackson round out one of the best linebacking corps in the nation.

As if a ferocious linebacking unit isn't enough, Ole Miss also has an outstanding secondary in seniors Johnny Dixon and Tony Collier and sophomore Michael Lowery.

Dixon is one of the most feared hitters in the SEC and an outstanding cover man.

Up front the Rebels have plenty of beef in seniors David Harris (250 pounds) and Sean O'Malley (250) and junior Norman Hand (300).

The kicking game is inexperienced. Walter Grant has been solid as the place kicker thus far. The No. 1 punter for the Rebels is sophomore transfer Chris McCardle. Senior Franz Lorio returns to the snapper spot, taking control for the fourth straight year, which may well be the biggest plus for the kicking game. Freshman Ta'Boris Fisher and Small share the punt return duties and sophomore Mark Smith handles the kick returns.

CAREER PLACEMENT CENTER

UK athletes have tremendous opportunities off the field

By Chris Gousha
Host Communications

Life after college sports? Some student-athletes don't think about it until it's too late. But at Kentucky, life after athletics starts the moment a student-athlete steps on campus for the first time.

To ensure young men and women are planning for the future, UK started the first academic center for student-athletes in the country. The center is called CATS, which stands for the Center for Academics and Tutorial Services, and it opened in 1981.

CATS, located inside Memorial Coliseum, was developed with the student in mind. It contains a large study area along with additional tutoring areas for special attention. CATS was brought to prominence during the Jerry Claiborne football era in the mid-1980's. Ever since, UK athletes have been at or near the top in the academic world.

CATS is headed by Bob Bradley, UK's assistant athletics director for academics. Bradley is assisted by director of student-athlete development Barbara Deniston, her assistant Sheila Breeding and academic counselor Mike Jenkins.

Another feature of the CATS program is the career placement program. The Wildcat Career Development Program was installed by Kentucky athletics director C.M. Newton who brought the system with him from Vanderbilt. It was first implemented with the men's basketball team in an attempt to get the Nashville community more involved with the student-athletes outside of the sports arena.

The program has a seven-member committee known as the K-Association Wildcat Career Development Committee, with the members coming from different walks of life, from doctors to lawyers to businessmen. It begins with a "New Student Seminar" where Bradley and his associates have incoming student-athletes fill out what is called an "Interest Inventory," which helps give the group an idea of what interests each student-athlete.

"We like to get them started in their freshman and sophomore years," Bradley said.

Following an evaluation of the information gained through the seminar, the next step is to get the student into what is known as the "Shadowing Program."

The Wildcat Career Development Program helps prepare Kentucky student-athletes such as former Wildcat Doug Pelfrey for life after sports.

This program gives the student-athlete an opportunity to spend between one half and two days a week observing someone working in the field which most interests them.

No course work, college credit or pay is involved in this program. "Shadowing" gives the student-athlete a chance to watch and observe someone throughout the day and to see what a professional career really involves. This helps introduce the student-athletes to the careers they might choose and help enlighten them if they aren't sure what they might want to do after graduation.

Another step in the program is "Career Mentoring."

The Mentoring Program is an opportunity to become closely involved with student-athletes, helping and informing them in both their personal and career choices. Mentors become long-term personal and professional role models for student-athletes interested in a particular field.

One former Wildcat who participated in the mentoring program is Doug Pelfrey. He mentored with doctor Len Morrow, a specialist in oral and maxillofacial surgery in Lexington. Morrow believes the experience was a good one for both his staff and Pelfrey:

"It was a wonderful experience for me and certainly after talking with Doug, I was likewise a wonderful experience for him. Doug Pelfrey is a very unique person. ... His ability to relate to us, our staff, our patients and to basically fit in, made things quite easy."

The third step in the development program is the "Internship Program." In the internship program, qualified student-athletes are placed in semester and summer positions that are directly involved with their career plans such as a bank or law office. This gives the student-athletes daily work experience in the career field of their interest. The internship experience not only helps them in deciding on their chosen career but it also is valuable when it comes to the employment process, giving that student-athlete the extra edge it takes in today's limited job market.

Another important aspect the career development program is that it continues beyond the time when a student-athlete graduates. The University of Kentucky has developed what is known as a "résumé booklet," containing résumés of not only football players but of student-athletes from all sports in which UK competes. The booklet contains résumés developed by the career development program that highlight all the work and activities including volunteer work done by the student-athletes who attend Kentucky.

The booklet is then sent to more than 250 businesses and educators in Lexington, Louisville and Cincinnati. It is also sent to corporate headquarters in Atlanta.

"The booklet has received great praise" says Bradley, "It makes it easier to find the résumés when they're all together and not lying everywhere."

Three factors that make the difference on a résumé according to Bradley are 1) G.P.A. 2) experience and 3) activities. "This is what an employer looks for from an applicant," Bradley says.

The ultimate goal of the Wildcat Career Development Program is to help UK student-athletes learn more about careers, gain real life experiences and begin life's work by interacting with business and community leaders.

Morrow feels as though the program does a great job of doing just that:

"I think it's important that the community understands what C.M. Newton is really meaning to this University and what he's doing for our athletes beyond what other people are doing elsewhere. He's showing how much he cares by what he's doing for these young people. For instance with Doug, by placing him in our practice where he quite honestly gets minimum wage and nothing else, we were absolutely advised to give him no dinners, no gifts and to do nothing with him beyond what we would do with any other student at UK. By putting him in that position however, Doug had a chance to check hands-on and eyes-on a career that he's selected. They can make an educated decision about a career rather than say 'Well I think I want to go into marketing,' and then get into marketing and be so disappointed, there's nothing worse. C.M. is making a real effort to be sure these young people who are giving a lot to the University are given tremendous opportunities to make informed decisions about their career by doing hands-on and eyes-on experiences."

And it's not only a learning experience for the student-athlete, it is a learning experience for all those involved.

"I think it's beneficial for the people in the community to be exposed to the young people in the University," said Morrow, "and see we do have some quality people there playing sports and we can be educated, as well as the kids can be educated with us."

With the development of this program along with CATS, UK wants to keep the "student" first in student-athlete. With this philosophy, Kentucky is able to grant every student-athlete the opportunity to succeed not only in athletics, but in academics as well. Judging by the strides of all of the CATS services, UK athletics is in a class all by itself.

If you would like to get involved in this program or have questions or suggestions, please contact Bob Bradley at (606) 257-1897. 🐾

UK IN THE NEWS

Library Unveiled

Academic credit seemed appropriate for the two dozen or so news media and UK representatives who heard Architect Michael McKinnell Sept. 9 describing the proposed new library on the campus in Lexington.

McKinnell kept his audience at rapt attention as he strode amidst floor plans and models of the structure he described as a "building within a building."

The proposed $58-million library will be the dominant structure on a developing 30-acre academic area of the Lexington Campus known as Clifton Park.

The day before the architectural unveiling, the Louisville-based Liberty National Bank announced a $100,000 gift to the library fund raising campaign which now has taken in $19.5 million. The gift was announced by Liberty CEO Malcolm B. Chancey Jr.

The 1994 Kentucky General Assembly will be asked to approve the sale of bonds for the new library and UK hopes to break ground by mid-1994.

Student Achievements

Andrea Verburg Hill, a UK senior from Harlan, who is majoring in human studies, has been designated a 1993 Harry S. Truman Scholarship Finalist. Hill's paper on fetal alcohol syndrome among American Indians attracted the scholarship judges' interest. Hill is the daughter of Dr. Vicki Verburg and the Rev. John Verburg of Perryville. Teresa Baker, a College of Nursing graduate student from Lexington, has won a cash prize for her paper "Image of Nurse-Midwifery: A Barrier to Practice." Shaun Spencer, from Louisville, president of the Student Health Advisory Committee, is the national president of the Student Health Advisory Committee, the third UK student to hold that position.

UK Gets "First Generation" Program

The U.S. Department of Education has awarded UK $680,000 over four years to increase the retention and graduation rate of first generation college students.

The program will provide academic assistance each year to about 150 students who are the first members of their families to attend college.

Lauretta Byars, UK's vice chancellor of minority affairs, had a special interest in assisting with preparing the grant proposal for the new program. She was the first member of her family to graduate from college.

New Architecture Dean

David Mohney, a partner in a New York City architecture firm, has been named dean of the University of Kentucky College of Architecture beginning Jan. 1. Mohney succeeds Jose Oubrierie, who resigned as dean in 1991. Clyde Carpenter, professor of architecture, serves as acting dean.

David Mohney

Mohney, a partner in the firm of Chapman and Mohney Architecture, graduate magna cum laude from Harvard University in 1977 and received a master's degree in architecture from Princeton University in 1981.

UK People in the News

Rodovan Kovacevic, an associate professor of mechanical engineering, has received a $10,000 grant from the Society of Manufacturing Engineers for a project he is performing under a Toyota Motor Corporation Endowment Fund grant. Kovacevic is studying weld penetration in gas tungsten arc welding. Patsy Anderson, associate director of the Kentucky Transportation Center at UK, has been elected chair of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Transportation Technology Transfer Centers. Bernard Hennig, College of Human Environmental Sciences, has won the Borden Award for exceptional research in nutrition in North America. Richard H. Underwood and Todd B. Eberle, College of Law, have co-edited a new book titled "Kentucky Legal Ethics Opinions and Professional Responsibility Deskbook." 🐾

AROUND THE SEC

What's up with the nation's toughest conference

Compiled By David Kaplan
Host Communications

Make no mistake about it. The 1993 season will go down as the year of the linebacker in the Southeastern Conference.

Every year the top linebacker in the nation is honored with the Butkus Award, named after Hall of Fame linebacker Dick Butkus who played college football at Illinois. In the eight years the Butkus has been awarded, only one SEC player, Alabama's Derrick Thomas in 1988, has received the coveted award. That may very well change this year.

The Downtown Athletic Club of Orlando, Inc., the organization which annually presents the Butkus Award, has announced the preliminary list of 48 candidates for this year's award. Of this season's 48 finalists, nine come from SEC schools. They are: Mitch Davis, Georgia; Ernest Dixon, South Carolina; Dewayne Dotson, Ole Miss; Randall Godfrey, Georgia; Lemanski Hall, Alabama; Darwin Ireland, Arkansas; Juan Long, Mississippi State; Marty Moore, Kentucky; and Cassius Ware, Ole Miss.

The list will be trimmed to 10 semifinalists on October 21 and the three finalists will be announced November 18. The winner will be announced December 11 at the 1993 Butkus Award Ceremonies. 🐾

The National Football League has captured America's heart like no other sport. It's a true American Classic.

Now the NFL introduces genuine NFL inspired sportswear where fashion meets football. Jackets, caps, sweatshirts, shorts, shirts and more. Styles every bit as classic as America's love for the game.

For those of us who have a different idea of how the game should be played.

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

A Tradition of Value

From its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning. As a comprehensive land-grant university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth. In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that await students at UK. At Kentucky, there is a tradition of value.

University History

UK was founded in 1865 as a land-grant institution, and the present name dates to 1916. The Lexington campus has 673 acres. Dr. Charles T. Wethington, Jr., is UK's 10th president.

Students

The University of Kentucky now has more than 72,000 students with 24,000 on the Lexington campus and 48,000 at the 14 community colleges across the state. UK now educates 40 percent of all students in Kentucky attending a public or private college or university. There are 5,100 students enrolled in graduate school with 95 master's and 59 doctoral programs offered.

Faculty

There are 1,643 full-time faculty on the Lexington campus and the Medical Center and another 1,096 faculty in the community colleges. Faculty brought in more than $95 million in grants, contracts and gifts to the University during the last academic year.

Academic Programs

Currently, there are 17 academic colleges and a graduate school on the Lexington campus. Students have a choice of more than 100 majors. The University is recommended in seven books or publications for its value in providing higher education.

Research

UK ranks among the Top 100 research institutions in the nation and is one of only 45 public universities in the United States — the only one in Kentucky — to be classified as a Research University of the First Class.

Library

The UK Library System contains more than two million volumes and is interconnected by computer with each of the 14 community colleges.

The Library is ranked 34th among the top 108 university research libraries in the U.S. The University is planning to build a new $58 million state-of-the-art facility.

Historic Memorial Hall symbolizes UK's picturesque campus.

Medical Center

The Albert B. Chandler Medical Center, including a 461-bed hospital, is located on the campus in Lexington. More than 3,500 students are enrolled in its five colleges — medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy and allied health professions.

Sports

The current number of UK sports on the varsity level is 21 — 10 men's sports, 10 women's sports and one coed sport. The men's sports consist of football, basketball, baseball, cross country, indoor/outdoor track, tennis, swimming, golf and soccer. For the women, UK sponsors basketball, volleyball, swimming, golf, tennis, gymnastics, cross country, indoor/outdoor track and soccer on the varsity level. The one coed sport is rifle. 🐾

How A Little

Town In Kentucky Turned

Steel

Into Gold.

Congratulations to all Georgetown team members on achieving J.D. Power and Associates' prestigious Gold Plant Quality Award.

And not just any gold. This metal is far more precious. Because this gold is worth its weight in people.

Recently, J.D. Power and Associates awarded its prestigious Gold Plant Quality Award-North America to Toyota Motor Manufacturing in Georgetown, Kentucky. Ranking it as the auto manufacturing plant producing vehicles with the fewest reported problems in North America.

Impressive stuff. But not surprising, considering what we had to work with.

The dedication and commitment of the people of Georgetown.

OUR COMMITMENT TO AMERICA IS WORKING.

But Toyota Motor Manufacturing does more than win awards. By making most Camry Sedans and all Camry Wagons in Georgetown, selling them in America, and exporting them around the world, TMM has created jobs and economic opportunity that help benefit Kentucky, and America. Nearly 5,000 American men and women are employed at TMM/Georgetown. In addition, 58,000 people have benefited directly or indirectly through jobs in the 32 states and 174 American firms which supply TMM with parts and materials. All of which contributed, in 1992 alone, more than $1.5 billion to the Kentucky economy, and an additional $4.5 billion to the country as a whole.

So we congratulate everyone at Toyota Motor Manufacturing, for proving that when it comes to Georgetown, our commitment to America is working.

"I love what you do for me."

CHARLES T. WETHINGTON, JR.

President of the University of Kentucky

Charles T. Wethington, Jr. was elected the 10th president of the University of Kentucky on September 18, 1990.

Wethington began his career in higher education in 1965 as an educational psychology instructor on the Lexington campus of the University and two years later was named chief administrator of Maysville Community College. In 1971 he moved to Lexington as assistant vice president, becoming vice president of the Community College System in 1981.

In the University reorganization of 1982, he was named chancellor of the UK Community College System, one of the three major sectors of UK. In 1987, he was given university-wide responsibilities for public and governmental relations in addition to his community college role, and his title was changed to Chancellor for the Community College System and University Relations.

Wethington earned his master's and doctorate degrees at the University of Kentucky.

The Kentucky native has been a member of the Executive Council of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Colleges, and served as its vice chairman in 1984. He served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools from 1986 to 1989.

Wethington is a member of the Southern Regional Education Board and its Executive Committee and has served as vice chairman. He currently serves as president of the Southeastern Conference Presidents' group.

During 1957-61 he served in the U.S. Air Force Security Service. He studied Russian at Syracuse University, 1958-59.

Wethington is married to Judy Woodrow Wethington, from Danville.

erseverance. Persistence. Tenacity. Steadfastness.

Those four words best describe the characteristics which must be engendered in the tireless efforts of program building. And when speaking of "program building" in Division I-A collegiate football, no one better understands the true meaning of those four terms than Bill Curry.

Program building has different meanings in different arenas. To some, program building is a fixed number of victories in season one, two, five or 50. Not with Bill Curry. It goes much deeper. The process enters the very souls of young people and touches their every angle.

"I'd like to say that I'm a person that really likes to serve young people," said Curry. "It is my wish to have every single one of them be the best they can be in every aspect of their lives, and that certainly includes a championship football program."

Curry's football pedigree weighs heavily in his expectations of championship performance. After all, he did play and work under three of the most successful coaches the game of football has ever known — Bobby Dodd, Vince Lombardi and Don Shula.

Curry, 50, lettered three years (1962-64) as a collegian at Georgia Tech under Dodd and served as team captain his senior campaign. Dodd compiled an impressive 22-year record of 165-64-8, including Southeastern Conference titles in 1951 and '52, at Georgia Tech.

After earning his bachelor's degree in industrial management from Georgia Tech in 1965, Curry began his professional career under Lombardi with the Green Bay Packers. He played on two Packer teams which won the National Football League title (1965-66), including the first Super Bowl, Jan. 15, 1967. The legendary Lombardi guided Green Bay to five NFL championships in seven years during the 1960s.

Following the 1967 season, Curry was traded to the Baltimore Colts and became All-Pro in 1971 and '72. His mentor for two seasons at Baltimore was Don Shula, who today is the winningest active coach in the NFL and has appeared in more Super Bowls (six) than any other coach.

Those qualities opened the eyes of UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton when he began his search in December 1989 to replace Jerry Claiborne, who stepped down after eight seasons with the Wildcats. But Newton took an interest in another side of Curry.

"William A. (Bill) Curry is recognized by many to be at the very top of his profession," said Newton during his introduction of Curry to the media. "He has been credited for dignity, class and integrity with which he conducts his football programs, both on and off the playing field."

Curry has that rare mix of both worlds.

He came to Kentucky from the University of Alabama. His overall record of 26-10 at 'Bama was the Crimson Tide's most successful three-year total since Paul "Bear" Bryant compiled a 27-8-3 record in his final three campaigns (1980-82). In his last season, Curry led Alabama to a 10-1 regular-season mark and a share of the SEC title. He took three Crimson Tide teams to bowls — the 1987 Hall of Fame

HEAD COACH BILL CURRY

Bowl, the 1988 Sun Bowl and the 1990 USF&G Sugar Bowl.

In all, Curry owns a 68-75-4 record in 13 seasons as a collegiate head coach.

Curry, a native of College Park, Ga., signed a scholarship with the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets after a fine prep career at College Park High School. At Georgia Tech, Curry helped lead the Yellow Jackets to a 21-9-1 record and a Bluebonnet Bowl berth during his final three seasons.

Before his professional career was over 10 seasons later, Curry played at Green Bay (1965-66), Baltimore (1967-72), Houston (1973) and with the Los Angeles Rams (1974). Curry was a member of three Super Bowl teams and two National Football League Championship teams. A knee injury forced him to retire in 1975.

A year later, Curry was back at his alma mater as an assistant coach under Pepper Rodgers. Then in 1977, Curry returned to the pro ranks as an offensive line coach with the Green Bay Packers under former teammate Bart Starr. Curry answered Georgia Tech's call once again in 1980, this time as head football coach.

Facing a pair of daunting schedules, Curry and Tech turned in 1-9-1 and 1-10 records in 1980 and '81, before things began to change in 1982. During his final five years at Tech, Curry produced a 29-24-3 ledger which included a sparkling 9-2-1 season in 1985. The successful '85 campaign earned Tech an All-American Bowl bid and victory over Michigan State, 17-14. It was Georgia Tech's first bowl appearance since 1978.

Curry was named the 1985 Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and ACC sportswriters, the 1987 SEC Coach of the Year by United Press International and the 1989 SEC Coach of the Year by AP and the Nashville Banner. Curry received a special honor after the 1989 season when he was named the Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year, in honor of his former collegiate mentor.

Curry is a member of the NFL Former Players Advisory Committee and is serving his second term on the AFCA Ethics Committee. In 1992, he was inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame.

Curry is married to the former Carolyn Newton of College Park, Ga. Carolyn has a Ph.D. in history and teaches at UK. They have two children — Kristin, 26, and Billy, 22. 🐾

ASSISTANT COACHES

MIKE ARCHER

Defensive Coordinator/
Linebackers

Mike Archer is in his first season as defensive coordinator at Kentucky, 18th coaching the college game. He also coaches field goal/block teams and linebackers.

Archer came to UK following a two-year stint as linebackers coach at Virginia.

He lettered three seasons (1973-75) at Miami (Fla.) as a free safety and punter. As a senior, he was named Miami's Football Scholar Athlete of the Year.

Archer began coaching at Miami as a graduate assistant in 1976. He was promoted to a full-time position in 1979 and spent five seasons as defensive backs coach (1979-83) under Howard Schnellenberger.

He joined the Louisiana State coaching staff, headed by Bill Arnsparger, in 1984 as the Tigers' defensive backfield coach and served two seasons as the LSU defensive coordinator (1985-86).

Archer, 39, served four seasons as head football coach at Louisiana State (1987-90). He led the Tigers to a 27-18-1 record and two bowl appearances in addition to the Southeastern Conference title in 1988. 🐾

DARYL DICKEY

Offensive Coordinator/
Quarterbacks

Daryl Dickey is in his first season as offensive coordinator and his fourth year at Kentucky. He also serves as UK quarterback coach.

Dickey, 32, is in his fifth year as a collegiate assistant coach.

Most Kentuckians remember Dickey from his collegiate days as quarterback of the Tennessee Volunteers. In 1985, Dickey helped lead the Vols to a 9-1-2 record and the Southeastern Conference title. He was named most valuable player in the 1986 USF&G Sugar Bowl after engineering Tennessee's 35-7 victory over Miami (Fla.).

Following a brief stint with the San Diego Chargers of the National Football League, Dickey returned to his alma mater as a graduate assistant coach for two years (1987-88).

He then moved to Florida State, where he coached quarterback Peter Tom Willis during the 1989 season. Dickey helped Willis earn a No. 7 ranking nationally in total offense and passing efficiency while Florida State went 10-2.

Under Dickey, Kentucky has thrown for more than 2,000 yards in two of the last three seasons. The Wildcats threw for 2,151 yards in 1990 and 2,017 yards in 1991, second and third, respectively, on the Kentucky season charts. 🐾

RAY DORR

Runningbacks

Ray Dorr is in his first season as an assistant football coach at UK and 27th in collegiate coaching. His responsibilities will include coaching the UK runningbacks and punters and coordinating film exchange with opponents.

The 1965 graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan comes to Kentucky from Southern California, where he served five years as an assistant coach.

Dorr began his coaching career in 1965 at Wadsworth High School in Akron, Ohio. He spent two seasons at Wadsworth before taking a position as graduate assistant coach at the University of Akron in 1967. He became a full-time assistant at Akron the following year.

Dorr began a 13-year stint as an assistant under Don James in 1971 when he accepted the position of quarterbacks coach at Kent State. He moved to Washington with James in 1975. The Huskies appeared in six bowl games during that span, including three Rose Bowls.

In 1984, Dorr took over the helm at Southern Illinois, where he posted a 17-27 record in four years. 🐾

BILL GLASER

Defensive Line

Bill Glaser is in his 17th season as an assistant football coach at the University of Kentucky and his 18th as a collegiate coach. His responsibilities include coaching defensive tackle, coordinating special teams, and coordinating the annual Bill Curry Football Camp during each summer.

Glaser, 50, came to Kentucky in 1977 from Morehead State. He has worked for three head coaches at UK — Fran Curci, Jerry Claiborne and Curry. Glaser was the only full-time UK assistant retained by both Claiborne and Curry.

After graduating in 1965 from Bellarmine College, Glaser began coaching at St. Xavier High School, his alma mater, as an assistant football and baseball coach. He was named head football coach in 1974 and led St. Xavier to consecutive state titles and a two-year slate of 25-0.

Glaser was named defensive coordinator at Morehead State in 1976, where he completed work on a master's degree. A year later he moved to UK as defensive line coach under Curci. In the Claiborne era, Glaser coached the UK defensive guards. 🐾

New York Life is large, conservative, and dull. Reassuring in times like these, isn't it?

Things are a bit shaky these days in the financial world. Investors are getting a lot less adventuresome. And words like "stability" and "security" are coming back into vogue.

To some, of course, this is just the current economic trend. But at New York Life, we've had a conservative investment policy for 148 years.

A policy that, over the years, has allowed New York Life to amass assets under management of more than $50 billion. And why 95 percent of the bonds in our portfolio are investment grade.*

Does that make us large and conservative? We should say so. And as for dull, well, we look at it this way: If being exciting means investing heavily in junk bonds that end up in default, that's the kind of excitement we can all do without.

Offensive Line

RICK SMITH
Defensive Backs

Tommy Limbaugh is serving in his third season as assistant head football coach and his fourth campaign as football recruiting coordinator at UK. On the field, Limbaugh will serve as full-time assistant coach in charge of the tight ends.

Overall, Limbaugh enters his 19th year in intercollegiate athletics and his 11th season as a college assistant coach. He was the first member to be named to Curry's staff at UK.

The Wildcats' recruiting under Limbaugh has gained national attention. In fact, the 1991 UK signee class rated 13th in the country by National High School Football Magazine (Max Emfinger). The 1992 class was rated 19th by the same publication, and the 1993 class ranked 13th.

Limbaugh comes to UK from Alabama, where he had been associate athletics director since 1988, after being named assistant AD the previous year.

The 1967 Alabama graduate got his start in the college football coaching ranks as an assistant to Steve Sloan at Texas Tech (1975-77). He then served as administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator during Sloan's next two stops — Ole Miss (1978-82) and Duke (1983-86). 🐾

Joker Phillips begins his third season as an assistant coach at Kentucky. His responsibilities include coaching flankers and split ends, along with the kickoff return team.

Phillips, a 1986 graduate of Kentucky, was a four-year letterman as a wide receiver. During his career (1981-84), Kentucky appeared in the 1983 and '84 Hall of Fame Bowls. Phillips' best season was 1984, when he grabbed 28 receptions for 305 yards and five touchdowns. Currently, Phillips ranks sixth on the UK career reception list with 75 catches for 935 yards and nine touchdowns.

He played briefly in the National Football League and the Canadian Football League and was a member of the 1987 Washington Redskins team which won Super Bowl XXII.

Phillips began his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Kentucky (1988-89) under Jerry Claiborne and was responsible for the receivers. In 1990, he was named assistant recruiting coordinator under Bill Curry. He also worked with UK recruiting coordinator Tommy Limbaugh and coordinated the Wildcats' walk-on program. 🐾

Don Riley begins his second season as an assistant football coach at UK and 29th season in college football. In addition to directing the offensive line, Riley also coordinates the field goal/PAT teams.

The 1956 graduate of East Tennessee State came to Kentucky from his alma mater, where he spent four years as head football coach.

Riley began his coaching career in 1956 as head football coach at his prep alma mater, Lynch High School. After three years, Riley moved to East Tennessee State for one year as a graduate assistant coach. After five more years in the high school ranks, Riley took an assistant spot at Vanderbilt in 1966. He accepted another assistant coaching job in 1972 at Oklahoma State.

In 1976, Riley began a 12-year stint as the offensive line coach at UCLA under Terry Donahue. He was part of the Bruin program which posted a 98-36-7 record during that span, including a 6-2-1 record in nine bowl appearances. When he left for East Tennessee State, Riley was the only assistant to remain from the original 1976 Donahue staff. 🐾

Rick Smith is in his fourth season at UK, his 14th overall as a collegiate assistant coach. He is responsible for coaching the defensive backs and kick coverage teams.

He comes to Kentucky from Baylor, where he was defensive backfield coach for three years.

Smith, 45, began coaching football at Godbey High School in Tallahassee, Fla., in 1970, a year before he graduated from Florida State University. After three years at Godbey, Smith was named athletics director/head football coach at Wakulla (Fla.) High School in 1973.

Four years later, Smith served a year as head junior varsity football coach at Georgia Tech. The following year, he served as an assistant coach at East Tennessee State.

His final high school job began in 1979 at Marianna (Fla.) High. Smith again doubled as AD/head football coach at Marianna through the spring of 1982, when he left for Georgia Tech to become Bill Curry's defensive backfield coach. In 1986, Smith moved to Alabama under Ray Perkins for one year.

Smith moved to Baylor in 1987, where the secondary quickly became one of the most respected units in the nation. 🐾

Wildcats ASSISTANT COACHES

DAVID TURNER
Defensive Ends

JACK FLIGG
Assistant Athletics Director/
Football Operations

David Turner begins his first season at UK, his eighth as a collegiate assistant coach. In addition to coaching defensive ends, he also coordinates the punt return unit.

Turner, 30, a 1985 Davidson graduate, comes to UK following a two-year stint as outside linebackers coach at James Madison. He helped lead the Dukes to a 9-4 record in 1991 and a berth in the NCAA I-AA playoffs.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater, Davidson, in 1986. After two years, Turner joined coach Dick Sheridan as a graduate assistant at North Carolina State.

In 1990, Turner was named assistant coach at Division II powerhouse Indiana (Pa.) University. He served as defensive line coach as the Indians posted a 12-2 record before losing to North Dakota State in the Division II championship.

Turner, a native of Goldston, N.C., earned three letters as a running back at Davidson. He led the Wildcats in rushing and receiving as a senior and was a three sport standout (football, basketball, baseball) at Chatham Central High School in Bear Creek, N.C. 🐾

Jack Fligg is in his third year as assistant athletics director for football operations after serving one year as the UK Football administrative assistant. His primary responsibilities include coordinating football operations and the major administrative duties of Coach Bill Curry.

Fligg begins his 28th year in intercollegiate athletics. He came to Kentucky from Alabama where he spent three years as an administrative assistant. He officially became a member of the UK staff in January of 1990.

Prior to his administrative appointments, Fligg spent 22 years as an assistant coach at four schools — Georgia Tech (1965, 1984-86), West Virginia (1966-69), Texas Tech (1970-74) and South Carolina (1975-82).

Fligg played two seasons (1950-51) of college football at Auburn. He received his undergraduate degree from Oglethorpe in 1955 and his master's degree from George Peabody College in 1959.

He is married to the former Jonell Upchurch of Hapeville, Ga. They have three children — Matt, Joanna and Mrs. Terri Carter — and four grandchildren. 🐾

C.M. NEWTON

Director of Athletics

When Charles Martin (C.M.) Newton became the University of Kentucky's seventh director of athletics April 1, 1989, he hit the ground running.

After a little more than four years on the job, Newton has become one of the most popular public figures in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. In addition to a lengthy, impressive list of credentials, Newton brought to Kentucky a sparkling reputation of integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK athletics. In accepting the position at his alma mater, Newton summarized his goals and objectives by saying, "I have a resolve to try very hard to continue that great tradition, and at the same time, to totally do it within the NCAA and SEC rules and not sacrifice the academic integrity of this University."

He capped an illustrious basketball coaching career by leading his 1988-89 Vanderbilt University squad to a 19-14 record, a second-place SEC finish and its second consecutive NCAA tournament appearance. He was named SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and received the Kodak NABC District IV Coach of the Year award.

Newton served as head basketball coach and associate athletics director at Vanderbilt (1982-89), compiling a 129-115 overall record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama and Vandy, Newton compiled a 509-375 overall record, ranking him among the top 10 active coaches in the game in terms of total victories at the close of the 1988-89 season. Newton's Alabama teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships.

Perhaps more impressive, however, was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team — over 50 percent more than any other league school. And including his last graduating class, all 21 seniors received their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He has served on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chairman for five years. He currently serves as president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for international basketball, and as chairman of its Games Committee, which is responsible for all international competition, including the Olympic Games. He is also a member of the prestigious NCAA Division I Basketball Committee, and is chair on a NCAA committee on basketball issues.

Newton has literally circled the globe to promote basketball. He served as team manager — a combination coaching and administrative position — on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal.

In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

After playing on the 1951 national champion Wildcat squad and pitching in the New York Yankees' minor league system, Newton began coaching at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington.

C.M. Newton is known throughout the U.S. as a man of integrity.

In 1969, with the backing of Adolph Rupp, Newton took on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a 211-123 record.

With few horizons left to conquer in Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, when Vanderbilt athletics director Roy Kramer was searching for a coach of national stature to head the Commodore basketball program, Newton was the man for the job.

Newton was born in Rockwood, Tenn. He grew up in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he was eventually named a charter member of that city's Sports Hall of Fame, along with Chris Evert, Julius Boros and the late Brian Piccolo.

Newton and his wife, Evelyn, have three grown children — Deborah, Tracy and Martin — and four grandchildren.

If You Think You're Having A Heart Attack...

Feeling of fullness in chest

A strong unrelievable burning in your chest

A lasting pressure or squeezing pain

Look For A Sign.

Each year, over one and a half million people suffer heart attacks, and up to 300,000 die before reaching a hospital. The reason? Many ignore the symptoms. The numbers are too staggering not to be aware of the warning signs that may indicate your chest pain is a heart attack.

At Saint Joseph, we know immediate response to any chest pain is crucial. And we're proud to bring you that response through our new Chest Pain Emergency Center, the first of its kind in Lexington.

How does the Chest Pain Emergency Center work? As a special service within our Emergency Department, the Center is staffed around the clock with emergency specialists who utilize the latest technologies to provide prompt diagnosis and treatment of heart problems. Any chest pain requires prompt attention, and the care and skill of a team you can trust.

For decades, people in the Lexington-Fayette County area have known Saint Joseph as the place to go for cardiac care. And the Chest Pain Emergency Center is another innovative example of our commitment to excellence.

If you ever feel you're having symptoms of a heart attack, call 911 or your local ambulance service. In the Lexington-Fayette County area, request to come to The Saint Joseph Chest Pain Emergency Center. The sign of innovative cardiac care, prevention and treatment for today and tomorrow.

COMMONWEALTH STADIUM

Home of the Kentucky Wildcats

When it comes to football, Kentucky-style, there is certainly no better place than home — Commonwealth Stadium.

The stadium was built in 1973 at a cost of $12 million by the firm of Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. Commonwealth, including parking areas, rests on an 86-acre plot of what was once the UK Experimental Station Farm grounds.

The stadium took on a new look in 1990 with the addition of a $600,000 scoreboard and message center located in the north end zone. The scoreboard is 19 by 78 feet in size, almost 3.5 times the size of the original scoreboard which had been in place since 1973.

The stadium was officially opened September 15, 1973. The Wildcats moved into their new home after spending 48 years at Stoll Field/McLean Stadium across from Memorial Coliseum. Kentucky defeated Virginia Tech in the stadium-opener, 31-26, behind three touchdowns by quarterback Ernie Lewis.

Since its opening, Kentucky has fashioned a 71-50-4 record and .584 winning percentage. The Wildcats have averaged 55,133 spectators for contests at Commonwealth since its inception. In total, 6,891,664 spectators have witnessed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium — that's about 1.8 times the population of Kentucky.

Commonwealth Stadium can officially seat 57,800 fans, though standing-room only crowds exceed that figure. Most sat but many of the stadium-record 58,450 spectators stood to watch the Wildcats defeat rival Indiana, 37-25, Sept. 19, 1992.

UK plans to eventually enclose the south end of Commonwealth Stadium to bring its capacity to 72,000. The addition of luxury suites and boxes is also in the plans. 🐾

UK INDOOR FIELDHOUSE

University of Kentucky Athletics Director C.M. Newton has called this $8.5 million facility the final piece of the puzzle. Finally, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association has an indoor fieldhouse which can accommodate the year 'round needs of 11 Wildcat sports — football, baseball, gymnastics, men's indoor/outdoor track, women's indoor/outdoor track, men's and women's golf and men's and women's soccer.

"In my opinion, we already have in place the finest coaches in the country," Newton said. "The addition of this indoor facility, which I consider the final piece of the puzzle, means we have the ability to attract the finest student-athletes.

"The facility is a multi-purpose building, something which will be a tremendous boost to all of our programs."

The indoor facility, constructed by Ce.Pennington General Contractors, encompasses more than 132,000 square feet and is located adjacent to Commonwealth Stadium behind the south end zone in the game-day Yellow Lot. For size comparison, UK's E.J. Nutter Football Training facility is only 48,000 square feet.

"This facility was very crucial in the expansion of our facilities base," UK head football coach Bill Curry said. "I consider this indoor practice facility to be the finest of its kind in the world. With our weather and being the northern-most state in the Southeastern Conference, we have needed a facility of this magnitude.

"We have also needed the indoor facility to allow our skill-position players to work on their respective skills, so we can measure up to the rest of our league. The one thing our staff understands about our skilled athletes today is the importance of practicing every day. Our young men will now be able to do that."

The finest indoor practice facility in the nation rests on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

The indoor facility features an actual playing field area of 108,000 square feet, including a full-size artificial turf football field. The football field is surrounded by a six-lane, 290-meter track which expands to nine lanes down the straight-aways. Areas for the pole vault, high jump and long jump also are included. A 9,000-square foot gymnastics room is located in the front of the building and will serve as the UK GymCats home.

One of the most unique features of this multi-million dollar fieldhouse is the computerized netting system. This system will allow for different combinations of sports to practice safely, all at the same time, by dividing the playing field. The nets can be lowered to separate the entire playing field from the track, or form four batting cages for baseball or driving ranges for golf. The playing field can be divided in halves to create two football, soccer or baseball practice areas.

"This type of facility is also important for the togetherness of our athletics program," Curry said. "It allows us the opportunity to have everyone participating under one roof."

UK President Dr. Charles Wethington says this facility can also be utilized for faculty, staff and students in general.

"This facility is very significant not only to UK Athletics, but to the entire University of Kentucky community," Wethington said.

The height of the indoor facility is 72 feet at its apex. Inside, the netting clearance is approximately 65 feet. This height will allow punting (into the net system) and PAT/field goals during football practices. The playing field of the indoor facility runs perpendicular to the playing field of Commonwealth Stadium.

Also included in the facility is 3,000 square feet of office and lobby space for the facility manager, receptionist and coaches.

E.J. NUTTER CENTER

A State-of-the-Art Training Facility

One of the nation's showcase football facilities rests on the southeast corner of the University of Kentucky campus.

Indeed, the ultra-modern E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility ranks among the best in the nation.

Built at a cost of $5.7 million, the facility officially became the home of Kentucky Wildcat football in September 1987.

The Nutter Center, as it is called on the UK campus, encompasses more than 48,000 square feet and is built adjacent to the Shively Sports Complex.

The Wildcat facility is named after Ervin J. Nutter, a UK alumnus who contributed $1 million to get the fund-raising campaign started for the construction to begin. The Nutter gift to the UK Athletics Association is the largest single grant ever received by the Association.

Aside from new dressing facilities, which feature large, personal lockers for every Kentucky football player, the Nutter Center is highlighted by a 9,000-square foot weight room with more than 100,000 pounds of equipment. The center also houses 11 meeting rooms, a state-of-the-art video and editing room for coaches' film, equipment and training rooms, staff and player lounges, an interview area, a 60-yard sprint track, sauna and jacuzzi, an aerobic exercise room and three racquetball courts.

"It is a privilege to get to work in a facility such as this every day," said Bill Curry. "The planning and design with the student-athletes at heart is what we're about today." 🐾

THE UK ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Welcome to Homecoming 1993 and Mardi Gras Wildcat Style!

The UK Alumni Association is honored to act as host for reunion celebrations for the classes of 1943 and 1953 this weekend, and for the many folks who are using the King Alumni House as a gathering place. It's an exciting time of the year for us.

We're also excited about this opportunity to introduce your Alumni Association officers for 1993-94.

Your UK Alumni Association is a volunteer organization, and has been since 1889, when Dr. Alfred M. Peter became the Association's first president. One-hundred and four years, and 88 presidents later, we are still depending on volunteer leadership and expertise ... volunteers who give willingly of their time, talent and often, their travel budget.

Current association officers elected at the annual June summer workshop are: T. Eugene Spragens '57 of Lebanon, president; Michael A. Burleson '74 of Henderson, president-elect, and William I. Mason '59 of Tampa, Fla., treasurer.

Spragens is owner and president of Farmers National Bank in Lebanon. He is a member of the board of directors of the Graduate School of Banking at LSU, where he graduated in 1975.

For more than 10 years, Spragens was a member of the Lebanon City Council and was mayor of Lebanon for four years. He is a life member of the UK Alumni Association, and a UK Fellow.

Burleson is vice president of Family Pharmacy, Inc. A UK Fellow, he is a member of the Alumni Association board of directors and has served two terms on the board of directors of the Kentucky Pharmacy Association.

Mason is owner and president of Condenser Products Corp. He was on the Association board of directors for 12 years and is past president of the Tampa Bay Alumni Club. Mason is a life member of the UK Alumni Association and a UK Fellow.

If you would like to join the UK Alumni Association, or want to know more about its programs and services, call 606-257-8905. Or, write to the King Alumni House, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY 40506-0119. 🐾

“Hilliard Lyons
showed us the smart way to invest for our son’s education.”

It's never too early to start investing for your child's college education. But you want to be sure you invest wisely. Which is why you should come to Hilliard Lyons. Our investment counselors take the time to know you better before we ever present any options. We ask the questions necessary to learn all about your financial needs and goals. Only then do we present a college investment program that's specifically designed for you.

For more details on how Hilliard Lyons can help you prepare for college tuition, give us a call.

OUR BEST INVESTMENT IS YOU.

Hilliard Lyons has 23 offices throughout Kentucky to serve you.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL NETWORK

Veterans Charlie McAlexander (L) and Ralph Hacker will again serve as announcers for UK games.

The University of Kentucky will again package one of the most comprehensive radio and television networks among Division I-A institutions.

Sports Communications, Inc., which owns the radio rights to UK football and basketball, has constructed a massive network. WVLK-AM/FM of Lexington will once again serve as the flagship station for the UK Football Radio Network. The feature attractions of the network are 50,000-watt radio stations WHAS (840 AM) of Louisville and WCKY (1560 AM) of Cincinnati. WHAS blankets over two-thirds of the United States and can be heard in 40 states. WCKY can be heard from numerous states as well.

The UK Football Television Network features full-game, tape-delay action of all Wildcat home football games which are not televised by a network affiliated with the CFA Package. The Network is also one of the nation's largest. Sports Communications, Inc., administers the network with WKYT-TV of Lexington as the telecast's producer.

This fall, Ralph Hacker will be behind the microphone once again to serve as the play-by-play announcer on the UK Radio Network. The president and general manager of Lexington radio station WVLK-AM/FM is joined by veteran broadcaster Charlie McAlexander, who served as Vanderbilt's play-by-play announcer for 14 years prior to joining the UK network last year, WKYT-TV's Dave Baker and WKYT-TV sports manager Dick Gabriel, who doubles as sideline reporter for both radio and television networks.

On television, McAlexander serves as play-by-play man with WKYT-TV sports anchor Rob Bromley providing color commentary and Gabriel reporting.

CENTER FOR ACADEMIC AND TUTORIAL SERVICES

The University of Kentucky keeps the term "student-athlete" in the proper perspective — student first, athlete second.

For that reason, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association opened the nation's first academic center for student-athletes in 1981. The academic-center is simply known as CATS — Center for Academic & Tutorial Services.

CATS is located inside Memorial Coliseum. The center, designed with the student-athlete in mind, contains a large general study area, along with several smaller rooms used for tutoring.

CATS expanded during the past academic year and added a language library, additional tutoring rooms, a media center and a new computer facility.

"Our CATS is one of the best academic services in the land and that's based on results," UK coach Bill Curry said. "For Kentucky to be up there with Duke and Virginia and Notre Dame is a real tribute to first, the student-athletes, but also to our academic support staff headed by Bob Bradley."

Kentucky is in the same league with the aforementioned schools in winning the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award, given to the CFA school whose program has achieved the highest graduation rate in the nation. Kentucky won the honor in 1989 after graduating 90 percent of its 1983 freshman class. Kentucky is the only Southeastern Conference school to have won the award.

"We get more response from parents who visit us on the CATS program than any other part of our program," Curry said. "Parents are really excited about it."

Curry is also excited about the combined effort former UK coach Jerry Claiborne and his staff put forth during their tenure. Since 1980, Kentucky has placed 110 players on the All-Southeastern Conference Honor Roll — more than any league school in that period. In 1989, the Wildcats set a conference record with 17 players named to the SEC Honor Roll. And during the 1993 spring semester, UK football had 28 players achieve a 3.0 grade point average or higher.

"With winning the CFA award and leading the SEC in Honor Roll picks, it certainly let everyone know we were serious, and still are serious, about making sure our athletes receive their degree," Claiborne said. "A lot of the credit goes to our CATS Center staff. They do an excellent job in monitoring our student-athletes' academic progress from day one."

Bob Bradley, assistant athletics director for academics, supervises the CATS program. Bradley is assisted by Barbara Deniston, director of student-athlete development, her assistant, Sheila Breeding, and academic counselor Mike Haley. CATS also employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and surrounding community. Currently, the UKAA budgets close to $500,000 per year for CATS.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley said. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center (CATS) provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions."

Bradley also says it helps to have head coaches like Claiborne and Curry who place such a strong emphasis on academics.

"Many support systems across the nation do an excellent job at helping their student-athletes," Bradley said. "I have been blessed at Kentucky in having Jerry Claiborne. He really believed in the student-athlete concept. The same holds true for Bill Curry. We are in total sync in the business of educating our student-athletes."

The philosophy at the University of Kentucky is this: Colleges should be able to afford the student-athlete every opportunity to succeed not only in athletics, but in academics as well. Looking at recent statistics in Academic Honor Roll selections and graduation rates, Kentucky is standing by its philosophy.

"We will continue to support our academic staff to the hilt," Curry said. "We're very excited about the work Bob Bradley and his staff have done. We will not accept anything less from our players. We talk about championship performance, we expect championship performance in academics, too." 🐾

The Wildcats have led the SEC in academic honors since 1980.

CHEERLEADERS & MARCHING BAND

Two of the nation's best groups line up beside the Kentucky Wildcats on football Saturdays each fall: the award-winning University of Kentucky Cheerleaders and Marching Band.

Under the direction of adviser T. Lynn Williamson and coach Glenn Cook, the UK Cheerleaders have become the model cheerleading squad in the United States. Four of the last nine years UK has earned the national cheerleading title. They were runners-up in 1988, 1990 and 1993.

This squad's ability to help bring the Wildcat crowd into the games and its precision stunts have become a trademark and a source of pride for the University.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band is recognized around the country for its sophisticated sound and visual images through innovative drill writing.

Under Director of Bands Richard S. Clary, Assistant Director Bradley P. Ethington, Percussion Coordinator James B. Campbell and Drill Designer's Fred

Gebhardt and John Laverty, UK Marching Band was one of the first in the nation to use computers exclusively for drill writing. An average halftime show will contain around 130,000 different moving sets for all members of the band, coordinated simultaneously with approximately 180,000 notes.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band numbers approximately 250, with members representing many different states. 🐾

The UK Band and Cheerleaders are among the nation's finest.

“Someday,” they said, “the energy used to run your home will run the family car.”

Well, someday is here with natural gas. Because, today, there are many innovative new uses for natural gas for home, business and industry.

In the home, you'll find advanced natural gas heating and water heating systems, ranges and fireplaces. Outdoor security lighting. Space heaters for indoors and out. Even natural gas powered generators to take over your electrical needs during an outage.

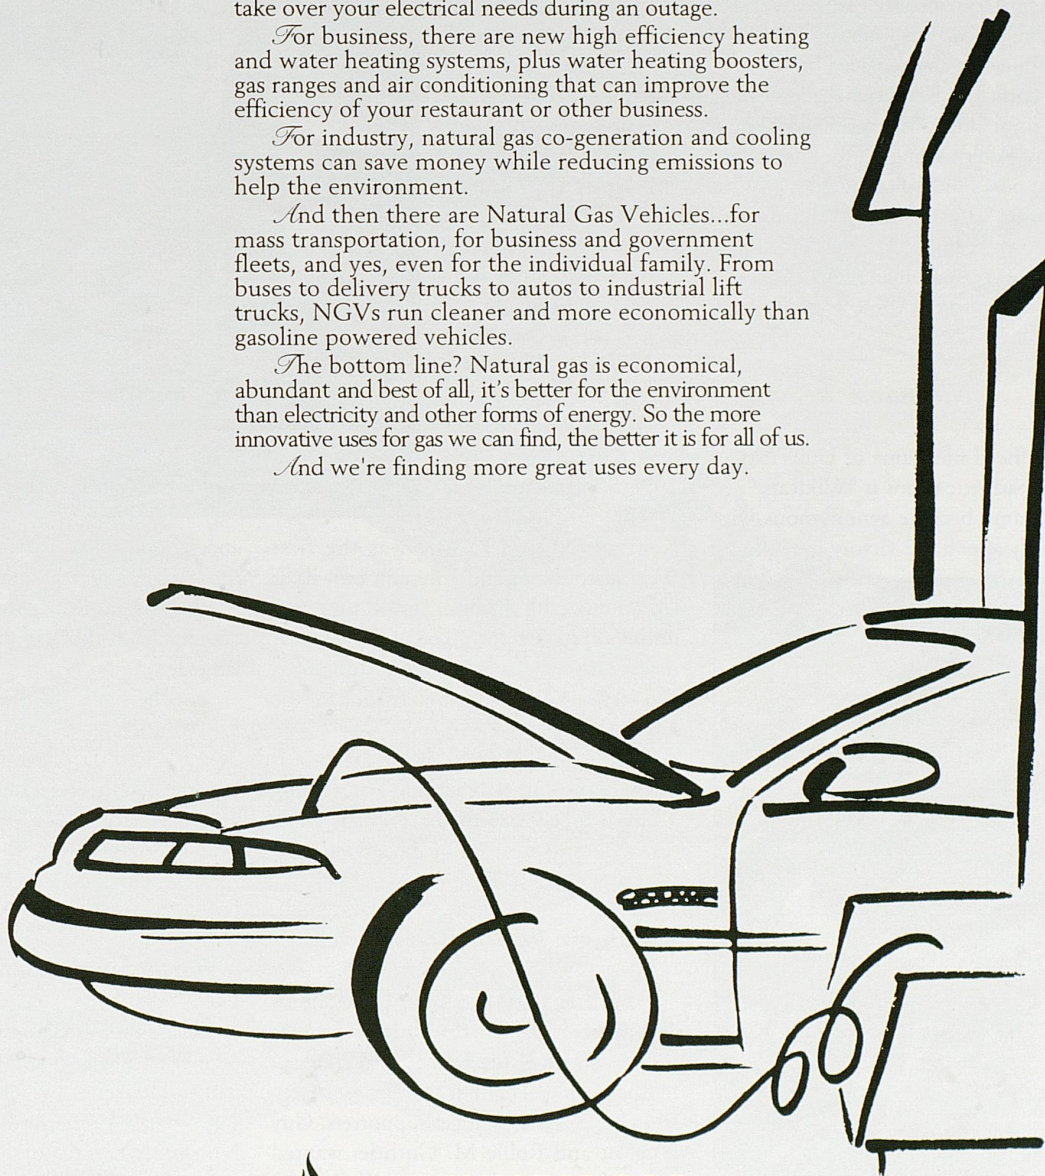

For business, there are new high efficiency heating and water heating systems, plus water heating boosters, gas ranges and air conditioning that can improve the efficiency of your restaurant or other business.

For industry, natural gas co-generation and cooling systems can save money while reducing emissions to help the environment.

And then there are Natural Gas Vehicles...for mass transportation, for business and government fleets, and yes, even for the individual family. From buses to delivery trucks to autos to industrial lift trucks, NGVs run cleaner and more economically than gasoline powered vehicles.

The bottom line? Natural gas is economical, abundant and best of all, it's better for the environment than electricity and other forms of energy. So the more innovative uses for gas we can find, the better it is for all of us.

And we're finding more great uses every day.

FOOTBALL TRADITIONS

Pride of Kentucky

Blue and White

The University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892. UK students had first decided on blue and light yellow before the Kentucky-Centre football game Dec. 19, 1891. The yellow was soon dropped from the combination and replaced by white.

The particular Kentucky shade of blue, close to royal blue, was determined without ceremony. After settling on the base colors, a student posed the logical question, "What color blue?" Letterman Richard Stoll looked down at his necktie and raised it to the air. The vote was unanimous.

And so Kentucky Blue is really Stoll necktie blue.

Nickname

The official nickname of University of Kentucky athletic teams is "Wildcats."

The name became synonymous with UK shortly after a 6-2 victory over Illinois on October 9, 1909. Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State University, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like wildcats."

The moniker "Wildcats" became increasingly popular among UK followers and the media. The University has since adopted it as its official nickname.

Wildcat Mascot

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at the University of Kentucky. Gary Tanner was the first Wildcat to dance and entertain crowds at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events. Today the Wildcat mascot also attends academic functions and serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

In the early 1980s, Wildcat mascot Terry Barney began the tradition of doing a one-armed pushup for each of Kentucky's points in front of the student section after every Wildcat score.

Battle for the Beer Barrel

The Beer Barrel, painted blue, orange and white, is the prize awarded each year to the winner of the Kentucky-Tennessee football game. The first barrel was awarded in 1925. Two Wildcat supporters, Guy Hugellet and Rollie M. Guthrie, wanted to produce something to symbolize the fierce rivalry between the two schools.

The Wildcat has been UK's friendly ambassador since 1976.

ance Union ruled it out. A beer barrel was more acceptable to the ladies.

UK and Tennessee have battled for the Beer Barrel since 1925.

But there was still the problem of Prohibition and the Anti-saloon League, which voiced displeasure at such a trophy. But the resourceful Hugellet and Guthrie appealed all parties by painting "Ice Water" on the barrel.

Kentucky has won the barrel 23 times in the 88-game series.

Battle for the Bourbon Barrel

The Bourbon Barrel is awarded to the winner of the Kentucky-Indiana football game. The series, which was renewed in 1967 after a 40-year break, began in 1893. No one is certain of the origin of this unusual trophy. Some think the blue and red-striped barrel represents the distillery industry in Kentucky and southern Indiana. Indiana leads the series, 14-8-1, but Kentucky has won five of the last eight outings. Both schools have signed a contract to meet each year through 2000. 🐾

A whiskey barrel was to be the original trophy, until the Women's Christian Temper-

How To Prove You're Still Blue On The Green.

There's no better way to show your Wildcat spirit than a University of Kentucky Wildcat putter.

Make no mistake: this is a player's putter. A solid brass bar concentrates 75% of the club's weight directly in the center of the putter head, allowing a smooth, controlled stroke and greater accuracy. A bent shaft design gives the club perfect balance. The result? A better feel, and a more confident putting game.

- Left hand putters available.
- Please allow 4 - 5 weeks for delivery
- All orders received by December 1st will be delivered by Christmas.
- VISA and Mastercard accepted

A Great Gift Idea For Christmas!

Price $59.99 + 6% Sales Tax (if in Kentucky)
+ $5.00 for shipping and handling

On, On, U of K

On, on, U of K, we are right for the fight today,
Hold that ball and hit that line; Ev'ry Wildcat star will shine;
We'll fight, fight, fight, for the blue and white
As we roll to that goal, Varsity,
And we'll kick, pass and run, 'til the battle is won,
And we'll bring home the victory.

My Old Kentucky Home

The sun shines bright on the old Kentucky home,
'Tis summer, the people are gay;
The corntop's ripe and the meadows in the bloom,
While the birds make music all day.

(Chorus)

*Weep no more, my lady,
Oh! Weep no more, today!
We will sing one song for my old Kentucky home,
For my old Kentucky home far away.*

The young folks roll on the little cabin floor,
All merry, all happy, and bright;
By-n-by hard times come a-knocking at the door,
Then, my old Kentucky home, good-night!

UK Alma Mater

Hail Kentucky, Alma Mater! Loyal sons and daughters sing;
Sounder her praise with voice united; To the breeze her colors fling.
To the blue and white be true; Badge triumphant age on age;
Blue, the sky that o'er us bends; White, Kentucky's stainless page.

You'll move forward. Fast.

A FEW ARE KNOWN FOR THEIR DEDICATION

Dedication. The few who have it stand above the rest. That's true in sports. And in insurance.

For more than 70 years, we've been dedicated to helping Kentucky families and fans protect what's important to them. Good insurance value at fair prices to insure lives, homes, autos, property and business. With A.M. Best's Superior rating for financial stability.

In recognition of our continuing dedication, we received the Company Award of Excellence twice from the Professional Insurance Agents of Kentucky for our service, support, and claims handling.

Let us prove our dedication to you. Ask your independent insurance agent about The Ohio Casualty Group for your personal, business and life insurance needs.

There's one hat we place above all others.

As one of America's 50 largest corporations with more than 30,000 employees, we wear quite a variety of hats. But through all divisions, interests and locations, there's one hat we place above all others.

TEAM VALVOLINE

Breaking From The Pack

At Valvoline, Inc. we believe contests are won before the competition begins. Success depends on preparation and staying a step ahead of the field.

Those same principles guide Valvoline and our subsidiaries. Our companies comprise a full line of lubricants, automotive chemicals and refrigerants, as well as oil-change service and used oil collection.

Valvoline Branded, Valvoline Instant Oil Change, Pyroil Performance Products, Valvoline International, Lube Refinery Sales, Ashland Industrial Products and First Recovery - all of these members of the winning Valvoline team call Lexington home. But more importantly, each is a leader in its field.

With this cast of strong performers, Valvoline has the horsepower to break away to the checkered flag.

VALVOLINE. THE PERFORMANCE TEAM.
