MORE HIGH SCHOOLS ON ACCREDITED LISTS

Thirteen New Ones Added and Entrance Credits Changed.

53 NEW SCHOOLS

At a meeting of the Committee on Accredited Relations for the Intercollegiate Association of Kentucky, held in the office of McHenry Rhoads Saturday afternoon, thirteen high schools not heretofore listed, were put on the accredited list and important changes were made in regard to college entrance credits. A rule was also passed requiring that all schools applying for admission as "Class A" high schools must have college graduates for three-fourths of their teachers.

The schools admitted to the accredited list were the following high schools: Barlow, Brandenburg County; Calhoun, Campbell County; Clay, Mt. Vernon, Owen County; Painsville, Sedalia, Water Valley and the Morehead Normal School. These are in "Class B."

In "Class A" are Ogdon College, Bowling Green and Jackson Collegiate Institute. These schools were admitted on the recommendation of Professor Rhoads, who is State High School Inspector.

Five schools, Springfield, Midway, Corydon and Frenchburg High Schools and Vanderbilt Training School, of Elkton, were raised from "Class B" to "Class A." Sandy Valley Seminary was reduced from "Class A" to "Class B" on technical grounds.

In future two entrance units will be given for two years' work in algebra, instead of 1 1/2 as heretofore; two units will be given for two years' work in general European history and one-half credit for a half-year in general science.

In his report to the Committee, Professor Rhoads stated that fifty-three new high schools were created in Kentucky in 1914 and praised the spirit of co-operation that is being built up between the colleges and the schools of the State.

Those present at the meeting were Dean T. B. McCartney, of Transylvania; Dr. A. L. Rhoton, of Georgetown; Prof. M. E. Marsh, of Berea; Prof. C. G. Crooks, of Central, and Professor Rhoads, of State. Kentucky Wesleyan and University of Louisville were not represented.

HON. E. P. MORROW TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, formerly United States District Attorney and prospective Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky, will address the State law students Friday, January 22nd, at 7:30 o'clock, in Judge Chalkley's lecture room, Natural Science Building.

Mr. Morrow is one of the best speakers in Kentucky. The address Friday night will be strictly non-partisan. All students are cordially invited.

Mr. M. O. Wheeler, president of the State University Republican Club, was instrumental in bringing Mr. Morrow here.

PROHIBITION LEAGUE TAKES UP THE FIGHT

Petition Circulated Proposes to Get Census of University People.

TO HOLD BIG CONTEST

The students and faculty of State University are being asked where they stand on the liquor question. A campaign conducted by the Prohibition Club of the University and intended to take a census of the students and faculty members' position on the liquor question began Monday. The following petition is being circulated throughout the University and each student is being requested to line up on the issue: "ARE YOU WET OR DRY. We the undersigned believe in Prohibition of the liquor traffic in the United States and being opposed to the open saloon in the State of Kentucky hereby approve of the work of the Prohibition Association of Kentucky State University in its endeavor to aid in eradicating this evil from county, State and Nation."

The purpose of this campaign is to arouse interest in state-wide prohibition and prepare leaders for campaign work throughout the State. The work of the Prohibition League at State University heretofore has lacked interest and enthusiasm but it is to be a live issue henceforth. The efforts of this club of young men and women have begun to take on a definite aim and some big things are to be done during the year.

In addition to the campaign for prohibition which will run for one month some team work among the young people's organizations of the city will be attempted. The League is also making preparations for a Prohibition Oratorical Contest to be held in March. The victor in this contest will represent State University in the State Intercollegiate Prohibition contest which will be held at Wilmore, Ky., in April.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR TWOFOLD DEBATE

Henry Clay Law Society Members to Discuss Question in Ohio.

OFFICERS ELECTED

At the meeting of the Henry Clay Law Society Monday evening, officers for next semester were installed. They are: J. T. Goodrich, President; R. E. Cullen, Vice-President; W. P. Mayo, Secretary, and B. D. Sartin, Treasurer.

The sessions of the General Assembly which the Society has been conducting will be abandoned, and a series of literary programs given. Judge Barker will be invited to address the Society at an early date.

Arrangements for a debate between the law colleges of State and Cincinnati Universities were completed at this meeting. This debate is twofold. One division of it will be held here March 5 and the other in Cincinnati on the same date.

At the tryout to be held Monday evening, January 25, six men will defend the question here, "Resolved, That the United States should equip and maintain a navy equal to that of any other foreign nation;" and three men will go to Cincinnati and take the opposite side against a team there.

Ten or twelve men are working to make these teams and the prospect for able men to oppose Cincinnati is good. It is hoped that the IDEA will have the pleasure of telling of a great victory after March 5 for the men of the College of Law in K. S. U.

EVANGELISTIC PLANS OF Y. M. C. A. OUTLINED

At a meeting of the Campaign Committee Monday, plans for a Student Evangelistic Campaign which were discussed in a Cabinet Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association last November, were fully outlined, and the campaign is to begin February 7 and continue until February 11.

Preparation is now under way and some big meetings are forthcoming. Committees of all kinds have been appointed and have entered into definite work. Secretary Hall urged the necessity of such work being done.

The best speakers in the United States will be here. One of those men is mentioned in this issue of THE IDEA. Readers may expect further developments of plans next week.

Chairmen who have this work in charge are: Frank Kennedy, campaign; Karl Zerfoss, Personal Work; J. W. McDonald, Program; Marcus C. Redwine, Advertising Manager; Clifford Dodson, General Advertising, and J. T. Gelder, Conservation.

MANY DESIGNS FOR MEDAL SUBMITTED

Prof. C. P. Weaver, chairman of the committee appointed at the Lexington meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association to select a design to be used for a uniform medal to be awarded the athlete in each college of the association, who has the highest class standing, said Saturday that a number of designs have been submitted by Lexington jewelers.

The design will be selected when the meeting of the committee, composed of Prof. John L. Hill, of Georgetown; Prof. Frank L. Rainey, of Central, and Professor Weaver, is held on a date to be chosen later.

HIGHWAY ENGINEERING COURSE SUCCESSFUL

Attendance This Year Thrice What it Was at Last Meeting.

LEADING MEN ATTEND

The Short Course in Highway Engineering of State University, which was concluded with Friday's program was generally conceded to be the most successful course yet conducted in the interest of good roads.

This course is designed to help the cause of good roads in Kentucky, and the workers believe, and advocate strongly the educating of the people up to the point that they must have good road builders before they can have good roads.

An excellent indication that the people are rapidly becoming more and more interested in the cause lies in the fact that this year's attendance is three times as large as that of last year. Fifty-five counties sent representatives, 43 of which sent their road engineers, 10 sent judges, and 26 sent magistrates. Thirty-eight demonstrators and lecturers were present and those preparing to be road engineers, contractors and good road enthusiasts were numerous.

Addresses during the course were given by men of national reputation, expert machinists, practical road men, and men skilled in the science of engineering, were replete with information and a great benefit to all present.

Resolutions of appreciation to the president and faculty were drawn and adopted at the last meeting Friday. Professor D. V. Terrell, under whose leadership the course was prepared, announced that the work for next year would be in advance of any heretofore offered, and that an effort would be made to have the county road engineers, county judges and magistrates meet at the same time for organization and co-operative work in the interest of good roads throughout the State.

"Charley's Aunt" was presented by the Strollers, the dramatic organization of the University, at the Ben Ali Theater, Friday night, to an enthusiastic audience and the Strollers deserve credit for putting on one of the best amateur performances that has been seen in Lexington for years.

The play is an English comedy with the scenes laid at Oxford and a synopsis was given in last week's IDEA.

Much of the credit for the success of the play belong to Herbert Graham, the stage manager, for under his direction the cast was whipped into shape by long and arduous rehearsal, that was so necessary to the success of the play.

The players were all well versed in their lines and entered into the rollicking spirit of the enterprise with vim and an individual star is hard to pick.

Leo Sandman, as Sir Fancourt Babberly was a scream at every appearance. He handled his lines with skill, the skill born of many stage experiences, some of which have taken him even into vaudeville. Those who were here last year will remember that he appeared on Keith's Circuit at the Ben Ali.

Rebecca Smith, who took the part of Kitty Verdun, carried her part through as if play-acting were her daily routine. She was charming of manner, winsome and with a voice that equalled all demands.

Katherine Mitchell, the Donna d'Alvadorez of the play, imparted to her work the quiet graciousness and forcefulness of impersonation that have marked her student work, although her work was retarded by a deep cold.

The part of Amy Spettigue was taken by Alice Gregory. A graceful miss, still in her teens, she made a capital sweetheart for Charley Wykeham.

Ela Delahay was done by Adelia Williamson with a strong enactment of the part. Her lines were not so numerous as those of the other women, but she handled them well.

Perhaps the most accurate portrayal of the cast was done by Emery Frazier, who took the part of Francis Chesney. Tall, commanding and compactly built, he carried the part through without a hitch.

Louis McCloskey, as Jack Chesney, acquitted himself with credit in the heaviest speaking part of the play.

John Marsh, as Brassett, the butler, had all the staid and finished dignity so necessary to the part.

James McConnell, as Charley Wykeham, a roystering lad, did his work well.

"Billy" Shinnick, as the designing Spettigue, in his quest for Donna Lucia's hand and millions, played like a veteran. His work was snappy and full of dash.

All who saw the play were loud in their praise of the Stroller organization. Hamilton Lewis, of Louisville, a graduate of Harvard University, saw the performance and pronounced it as the best amateur performance he had ever seen, not excepting the play given by the dramatic club of Harvard.

The play will be presented in Louisville sometime in the early part of February under the auspices of the fraternal organizations of the city, it was announced Tuesday.

Dates have been made for performances at Mt. Sterling, January 29, and Cynthiana, February 1.

AN "IDLE."

As I sit and ruminate
Over lessons antique,
Being quite effeminate
In my mind I now debate
Things that to the men relate,
(Forgetting lessons antique).

Why does mere man day by day
Over feminine follies bray
And all their projects new survey
With merriment and some dismay?
"Away, away, get home," they say,
"That's the place for you to stay!"

Put hubby's slippers by the fire
Patch your dear papa's attire,
To the kitchen then retire,
Prepare a dinner quite entire;
That is what we all desire,
You're the girl we'll then admire."

Is it that they are afraid
Of dinner gotten by the maid,
Or that their sceptered sway will fade,
Or their comfort retrograde,
If a little "sufferage"
The dear, dear "sacred home" invade?

A FAREWELL TO A PIPE

We sit alone in the gathering dusk
Old friends just you and I,
And no hearty clasp of a friendly hand
Or words, mark our last good-bye.

We sit mid the ruins of castles built,
In the smoke of your altar fire,
And the ash that falls from your bowl seems like
The ash of a funeral pyre.

You have given rest to the weary mind
And balm to the wounded soul;
With a generous pinch of the golden weed
Packed down in the deep black bowl.

We have eaten of sorrow's bitter bread,
We have drunken of laughter's wine,
In all that I've had you have always shared
And all that was mine was thine.

You have joined my laugh in my hours of mirth,
You have echoed my sob or sigh;
But now is the hour when our trails must part,
Good-bye, old friend, good-bye.

"AGS" ELECT OFFICERS FOR SECOND TERM

The election of officers of the Agricultural Society for the second semester was held at the meeting Monday night.

J. W. Worthington was chosen as president and the other officers selected were: Vice president, L. H. Nelson; treasurer, M. D. Amburgey; secretary, Homer Perry; corresponding secretary, R. B. Hayes; sergeant-at-arms, G. M. Gumbert.

It has been announced that the entertainment of the members of the Agricultural Society by the young ladies of the Home Economics Club has been postponed to February 5. The entertainment will be at Patterson Hall.

STATION HOLSTEIN MAKES MILK RECORD

What is probably the best record for profitable milk production that has ever been made by a dairy cow in the Blue Grass has been made during the last three months by Duchess Rose DeKol, a registered Holstein in the Experiment Station herd.

During October, November and December this cow earned $178.56 above the cost of all feed. Further, had it not been for an increase of nearly 100 per cent in the cost of her feed her earnings during the third month would have been the greatest for any month. The cow is not being pushed for a record of any sort, being fed exactly like the regular herd. The records now show that this cow's earnings, after deducting the cost of all her feed but not including the very small charge of labor expense that would fall to her share in so large a herd, were $61.98, $60.98 and $55.50 during October, November and December, respectively. She gave an average of about 1,500 pounds of milk a month, which is nearly six gallons a day, and kept this up for three months and is still giving milk at the same rate.

The remarkable record in cash value of the milk, however, was made possible by the fact that this Holstein milk, which contains hardly 3 1/2 per cent of butter fat, is sold with Jersey milk that is so very rich in butter fat that when mixed the average is still considerably above the 3 1/2 per cent butter fat the law requires shall be in market milk.

HOME ECONOMICS ELECTS OFFICERS

- President, Lois Bartlett.
- Vice-President—Elizabeth Farra.
- Secretary—Elizabeth Pickett.
- Corresponding Secretary — Jessie Florence.
- Editor—Minnie Cramer.
- Assistant Editor—Annette Martin.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

John McDonald, Senior "Ag." and Major of the battalion, has been unable to return to the University since he holidays, due to illness.

Prof. W. E. Freeman and Perry Cassidy, of the Electrical Department, attended the dinner given by the Jovians, an electrical society, at the Phoenix Hotel, Tuesday.

Mrs. and Mr. Edward D. Shinnick, of Shelbyville and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Frazier of Lawrenceburg, were in Lexington last week and saw their sons William Shinnick and Emery Frazier in "Charley's Aunt."

Estimates announced by the Department of Agriculture show that Kentucky ranks fifth in the production of apples for the year 1914, the largest crop in the history of the United States.

Prof. J. J. Hooper left Thursday afternoon to attend the farmers' week exercises at Purdue University where he will address the stockmen, on January 22, on the subject, "Stock Feeding."

G. C. Rogers and H. L. Noel, Senior Miners, returned Monday from Indian Head, Ky., where they made a survey of the mines of the Indian Creek Coal Company. They will now make a detailed map of the mines, bringing them up to date.

"The Rescue of Prince Hal" was presented to an appreciative audience at the High School auditorium Tuesday night by the A Senior Class of Morton High School. The play was very creditably acted and the proceeds will be used to buy a curtain for the auditorium.

Miss Florence Dillard, city librarian, announced Monday that periodicals may be taken from the library the same as books. They may be kept three days, after which time a fine of one cent a day is charged.

The library is liberal, allowing one work of fiction, three works of non-fiction and one magazine to be taken out on an individual card.

Hywel Davies, Business Agent for State University, after spending a week in conference with the coal miners and operators in various parts of Ohio and West Virginia in an attempt to settle the pending strike of 10,000 miners in the Eastern Ohio coal fields, has returned to Lexington. Mr. Davies said that he was not at liberty just now to discuss any phase of the situation, except to say that he and Daniel J. Keefe, the other conciliator, had been well received by the miners and operators alike.

The University of Louisville girls basket ball team defeated the Transylvania girls by the score of 22 to 13. Louisville showed superior training and outclassed the T. U. girls. Miss Gaugh, the redoubtable Louisville player, who is known to State fans for her wonderful playing in past years, starred in the game, scoring eleven of Louisville's points. The State girls have two games scheduled with Louisville this year and they will probably be the hardest of the season.

The cadet hop which took place on the afternoon of Saturday, January 16, was one of the most delightful of the year. The music was furnished by Kidd's Saxophone Trio and the chaperones were Lieutenant Arthur Underwood, Dean A. J. Hamilton, President H. S. Barker and Miss Mary Fisher. The gathering was larger, if possible, than usual.

The time of dancing was shortened by the fact that the lights were, through some injury to the wires, suddenly extinguished.

HOME FOR THE STROLLERS.

Since the organization of the Strollers, the University's crack young dramatic club, six years ago, no similar body in any university in the South has accomplished more gratifying results nor accomplished them against greater odds.

While of course the foot ball team, the base ball team, the basket ball fives and all other bodies that periodically appear before the public in their various phases of entertainment, advertise the University and popularize its activities, it is doubtful if any reflects more credit upon the institution than the Strollers, who since their organization have grown in membership, in representation and leadership until today that hustling body is "on the map" in virtually every town in Central Kentucky. The recent successful production of "Charley's Aunt" at the Ben Ali Theatre and the prospective play with which this body will close its public career for 1914-15, have augmented enthusiasm in the work and accentuated the desire of its members to close the year brilliantly.

But the Strollers have no home, no place to meet, no club rooms, and are even compelled to hold their rehearsals wherever they may, overcoming obstacles that would discourage any other less courageous organization.

The authorities were approached again Tuesday with the request that quarters be assigned, accompanied by the announcement that if such quarters were arranged, the Strollers would bear the expense of ample and attractive appointment from their own funds.

The IDEA is gratified to announce that assurance has been given that every effort will be made at once to provide the required rooms and therefore indulges the hope that by the close of the forthcoming semester, this worthy body will be installed in quarters that will be a source of helpfulness and pleasure to them and a credit to the University.

The IDEA adds its voice to that of the Strollers that this modest request be granted, so that their work may proceed unhampered toward the greater achievements we are sure await their efforts.

 (o) In the advance write-up in The IDEA it was said, "Charley's Aunt" is a scream from start to finish."

Juniors, if you want to have an exclusive Junior Prom this year, be careful, or like unto last year, an unsophisticated yearling might get by the "Invite Committee" and turn that longed-for "Hesitation" of yours into the "Wall-flower Stand."

The opposing armies declared a truce during the holidays and played football in the trenches, which prompts the Gadfly to say that if football is played during their more peaceful moments, you can form your own opinion of what war is.

"PROM TO BE THE GREATEST EVER. Therefore get ready before it's too late to get everything in shape, it's too late to get everything in shape," says the Miami Student. Whaddyemeaneverythingsinshape?

To carry out the anti-hazing policy, the Board of Regents of the University of Oregon had to pass a ruling forbidding Sophs from ducking the Freshies in the troughs on the farm. In a few years the yearlings will have nothing to go to college for.

Some of the mistletoe is being cut out of the trees on the campus and we wonder if it is to protect the fairer part of the University from the more heroic part, says the Louisiana State Reveille. There's a possibility the "fairer" part thought the more "heroic" part would not see it so high up in the air.

"Billy" Shinnick's father mistook O. S. Lee for one of the players in "Charley's Aunt" and now Lee says that if he were the one Mr. Shinnick thought he was he wouldn't care how many times the play was produced.

"If you spit all over the floor at home, we want you to spit on the floor in our office, for we want you to feel perfectly at home," says the Miami Student. Yep, and some "guys" will actually do it too.

There is a freshmen in the University of Minnesota by the name of Iona Lozier. The company ought to give him a car and charge it up to the advertising department.

WHO'S WHO AT STATE

ELSIE SPECK.

If a mere man were ever bold enough to venture up on the third floor of the Education Building, he would find a veritable beehive of industry whence comes wonderful results in cooking, sewing and millinery, all bearing the stamp of the Home Economics Department of State University. In this atmosphere Elsie Speck has acquired the habit of keeping busy sixteen hours out of twenty-four, to the evident satisfaction of the faculty, for she will be graduated this June with one of the best records ever made in her department. She is endowed with the three-fold gift of brain, energy and executive ability, and her success at practical work during her undergraduate days augurs well for a most brilliant career in her chosen field.

There is a theory in the University that a girl who does excellent work in

KILL THE HONOR SYSTEM?

What would we think of Jim Park if he had made his teams by under-hand methods?

Should we not consider any student who secured his diploma right in the same class with a crooked, sneaking, lying whelp who grafts the gold and pilfers the pockets of his fellow citizen through corrupt and dirty politics?

Why not?

In this University, the students a few years ago declared they would not tolerate dishonesty in class room and examination. They searched the country for an honor system. They adopted the only one that has ever succeeded elsewhere. It says they shall not give or receive nefarious help, and that every student must prevent others from doing the same.

This new form of government had actually developed a spirit of fair play that could not be eradicated from other institutions. Of course it has been a fight to put it into actual practice here; yet if there is not an organized student sentiment for honesty, the old idea of "let well enough alone," advocated by a few "personal liberty" cranks (the kind of stuff anarchists are made of) will actually dare to underwrite the value of our good name and diplomas.

Here are three questions for the "honorable" opponents of the Honor System to digest during the coming examinations:

1. Why are Lexington merchants so wary of certain student accounts?
2. How does cheating in examinations differ from gaining profits through lying about the value of the good you have to sell?
3. Are those who secretly countenance cheating equally guilty as those who openly practice it?

How far does the following, extracted from Ephesians 4:25-29 fit the situation: "Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor.....neither give place to the devil.....let him that stole steal no more; but rather let him labor.....let no corruption proceed out of your mouth."

Home Economics is busy all the time, but Miss Speck disproves the theory. She has found time to serve on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet for three years, and to fill the office of Vice-President in '14; she represents the class of '15 on the Student Government Association board, and she served as President of the Philosophian Literary Society in '12. Reverting again to domestic science, (for one doesn't talk of or to Elsie very long without mentioning it), she was elected secretary of the Agricultural Society in '13, and was president of the Home Economics Club in '14.

Miss Speck is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, and was tapped last May for "Staff and Crown," the Senior honor society. Nor has her own class failed to recognize her ability, for they elected her vice-president of the Sophomore class.

Sincerity of speech, honesty of purpose and loyalty to her friends have united to make Elsie Speck one of the most influential characters in State University, while a charming personality combined with a most attractive reserve has contributed largely to her personal popularity.

S. J. LOWRY, JR.

To complete a course in the College of Agriculture in three years is no mean task. That is exactly what Mr. S. J. Lowry does this year, and what is more striking still, he was absent several months last year due to a serious illness. Nothing could better indicate close application to the work and a readiness to understand, for he is one of the very best students in his department.

Mr. Lowry's home is in Christian County. Before coming to State he attended Bethel College four years and so on his arrival here his studies did not seem quite so foreign as they are to a rank beginner. But his work here is the basis upon which he is known and it has been uniformly excellent throughout. He has "gone about" it, too, in such a quiet and earnest way that it becomes all the more commendable in the eyes of the students. He was rewarded last year by being chosen for Alpha Zeta.

The intimate friends of Mr. Lowry know him as "Conie." They are not the only ones, however, who appreciate his kind and congenial manner, for he is happily possessed of those desirable traits usually summed up in the term "good fellowship."

Do not imagine that he has spent his entire time in mastering the scientific principles of farming for "Conie" has busted himself with a variety of affairs and has been recognized by his comrades with a multitude of honors. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, of Mystic Thirteen Society and was chosen last year for Lamp and Cross. He is also representative and Treasurer of the Pan Hellenic Council. But with all these he has not neglected those interests more peculiarly his own, for he is an active member of the Agricultural Society and has earned a place on the Fat Stock Judging Team this year.

One is naturally impressed with the high standard of Mr. Lowry's work and the number of honors conferred upon him. He has been able to accomplish so much because he is both capable and energetic, but he has never forgotten the personal element in university life, which, with just enough natural reserve, has made him warmly appreciated.

NOW "PISGAH" HAS A GROUCH.

The Editor of The IDEA:

Dear Sir: I do not wish to criticize such a prosperous paper as The IDEA, yet I do not fall in line with all its policies. I am referring now to some of the contributions which to my own knowledge, have been sent in. Not long since, while sitting in my room, I thought of a joke. I was at the moment in a very humorous mood, which accounts for it. I burst out laughing when it came to me and fearing I should forget it I wrote it down. I sent it in to your paper and since then I have looked over every word of each edition and have failed to see it. I think that your paper could be improved by such contributions and I advocate your looking through the past contributions and finding it. I am sure you will appreciate the point and laugh as I did.

Yours truly,

M. PISGAH.

BASKET BALL SEASON OPENS WITH VICTORY

Maryville the First Victim of Goal Tossing—Score 37 to 17.

GIRLS PLAY U. OF L.

In their first game of the season Kentucky romped over Maryville to the tune of 37 to 17. Although quite one-sided, the game was fast and exciting to the last minute. The visitors, greatly weakened by the loss of their captain, who is out of the game on account of a broken shoulder were unable to locate the basket. Nor was State's goal shooting any too good. Nine of Maryville's points were made on fouls, while Kentucky pitched only one foul.

For Maryville, Robinson at forward and Clarke at guard did the best work. For State Server was probably the individual star. He was all over the floor and succeeded in piling up 12 of the 37 points. Scotty at guard played a mighty good game and Zerfoss effected several difficult goals.

In the latter part of the game some second string men were sent, of whom Gumbert showed up well.

The line-up and score was as follows:

Ky.	Maryville.
Morgan (c).....F.....	Garrison
Zerfoss.....F.....	Robinson
Server.....C.....	Crum
Tuttle.....G.....	(c) Proffitt
Scott.....G.....	Clarke

Substitutes for Kentucky—Simpson for Server, Kinney for Zerfoss, Gumbert for Scott; Maryville—Hodge for Garrison, Garrison for Crum.

Goals: Kentucky—Morgan 4, Zerfoss 4, Server 6, Tuttle 2, Scott 2.

Fouls—Morgan 1, Maryville—Garrison 1, Robinson 11, Crum 1, Proffitt 1, Fouls, Garrison 7.

Halves, 20 minutes.

Officials, Hart, Kentucky State, Stanley, Maryville.

LUNCHEON BY JUNIORS

The Junior girls of the Home Economic Department assisted Miss Clara White in preparing and serving a luncheon to the Mutton Growers' Association, on Friday of Farmers' Week. There were about one hundred persons present and all pronounced the luncheon quite a success.

BASKET BALL

(Special to The Idea.)

Keep your eyes open for the big game of the season "six-one," five-two" match, which will come off soon.

Capt. "Goliath" Hedges requests that all "Runts" wishing to try out for the team will report for practice Monday afternoon in the gymnasium.

DOUBLE HEADER BASKET BALL SATURDAY NIGHT

University of Louisville Teams Play in Buell Armory.

The basket ball season at State will really be ushered in Saturday night when the Wildcats play the University of Louisville five, and the girls' team plays the quintet from the same institution.

Both games promise to be fast and exciting, for from all indications the Falls' City teams are strong and confident. The Wildcats will no doubt present the same strong line-up which smothered Maryville and which all State is confident will hold its own with all opponents. The lineup:

Morgan, F., (Capt.)
Zerfoss, F.
Server, C.
Scott, G.
Tuttle, G.

The young ladies will have worthy opponents, for the Louisville team is one of the very best ever on our floor.

It numbers several star players in the lineup. The teams will lineup:

Ky.	Louisville.
Hughes.....F.....	Kienzle or Wimp
Taul.....F.....	Best
Heller.....C.....	Gaugh
Wood.....G.....	McCallum
Innis.....G.....	Huber

The girls' game will be first, starting at 7:30.

PRESIDENT DEFENDS THE HONOR SYSTEM

Judge Barker delivered the address in chapel Wednesday morning that was postponed from last week. A large crowd of students and members of the faculty were present. Owing to a severe cold, Miss Katharine Mitchell was unable to sing, and Leo J. Sandman took her place on the program.

Judge Barker took as his text a selection from Job and delivered an interesting and instructive talk. At the conclusion of his address he made an appeal for the support of the Honor System by the student body.

KENTUCKIAN STAFF IS HARD AT WORK

Specifications for Kentuckian Pictures.

Realizing that, in order to publish an annual of which we will be proud—one that is uniform in style, design, and of an artistic effect, it has been definitely decided to have, as near as possible, all of the "Kentuckian" pictures made at the same place, which will prove advantageous in more than one way. The pictures will be much easier to collect, and they will be the same size, with uniform background.

All individual pictures for the annual must conform to the following specifications: All pictures must be of cabinet size, with medium gray background.

Tell the photographer your picture is to go in the annual so he will finish those for the annual on a different stock of paper.

Mr. Spengler is official photographer for all individual pictures. See him today.

All club pictures are to be made in groups. Make a date with the photographer to have your club picture taken right away.

Honorary and academic fraternity pictures are to be handed in separately and they will be mounted by the art staff. Members of the same fraternities will please hand their work in all together to save extra trouble. Remember all pictures and copy are due February 15th.

UNION SOCIETY MEETS FRIDAY EVENING

The Union Literary Society will meet Friday night in the Society hall at 7:30 o'clock. The program prepared for last week will be rendered and followed by the election of officers for the second semester.

BIRMINGHAM ALUMNI HOLD BANQUET

The Birmingham Chapter of the Kentucky State University Alumni Association held their annual banquet at the new Molten Hotel, Saturday evening, December 28th, 1914, covers being laid for fifteen men. The membership has suffered greatly during the past year, but this was materially offset by the enthusiasm displayed by every one present. Impromptu speeches and reminiscences of the old college days were the order of the evening, while plans for the ensuing year were discussed.

There is usually an inclination for many to gradually lose interest in the affairs of the University after being launched into the business world for several years, but not so with the members of the local association. Besides the banquet, the Chapter has held meetings during the past year, practically all members being present at every gathering. This can be attributed chiefly to the efficient officers who have never let the old spirit wane for a moment, and have enlivened the proceedings by attractive arrangements.

The University has received unlimited advertisement in this section during the past few months, the medium being athletics. The games with S. I. A. A. teams, especially Mississippi A. & M. and Tennessee, the meeting of the S. I. A. A. in Lexington, besides several articles in the Birmingham papers by the local president have presented the University to the Southern public in a very favorable light. The Birmingham Chapter is striving to have the good influence more strongly felt in this section, not only in athletics, but in other college activities. The start has been made, may the good work gain impetus.

W. R. HOLDER TO LECTURE

Mr. W. R. Holder, a missionary from Southern Africa, will deliver a stereopticon lecture on the countries of the far east, this evening in the auditorium of Central Christian Church.

The pictures were brought home by Prof. W. C. Bower, of the College of the Bible and by two other missionaries sent out by the Foreign Christian Missionary Society and will show the people, customs and mission work in China, Japan and the Philippines.

The public is cordially invited to attend the lecture, which is to be free. However, an offering will be taken to pay the expenses of the machine and its operator.

A PRIVATE IN THE REAR.

The crowd goes wild with praises
As the troops go marching by;
They see the captain's sabre
And the colonel's flashing eye.
Yet, there's one who shows her tribute
By the dropping of a tear,
It's the mother of poor Danny
Who's a private in the rear.

Mid the shrieking of the shrapnel,
And the bursting of a bomb,
Mid the blaring of the bugle
And the rattling of the drum,
There's a life that goes unnoticed,
With the deaths of captains dear,
It's the passing of poor Danny,
Who's a private in the rear.

Though writers extol the virtues
Of commanders, and they say
There are many, many thousands
That nameless, pass away;
Yet they never tell the value
Of the soldiers without fear,
Who are brothers all to Danny
Who's a private in the rear.
