My Dear Husband

I have just received your kind letter and was truly glad to hear from you we are all well at this time I got back from Sister Clarissa's on Saturday last and sent Will to the post office and he has went every day since and to day he got your letter and he was so delighted he nearly ran his legs of coming home Sister Clarissa and her Children are well but her husband health is very bad he is confined to his bed at this time with the pleurisy as for my health it is better then it has been for some time I don't think that you need give your self any trouble about me but perhaps we may have to stoway up another name in our family but we need not talk on about that I do not think it is worth while to consult a doctor about every thing at present you must get dose given to notice randal and if he does not get well soon you must let me no and I will come home as soon as possible I dont think I have every thing more to write at present so I may as well bid you good knight from your affectionate wife
