

GRIEF AT WINDY SIDE.

Death of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Walcutt's Little Daughter, Nancy.

Nancy, the little two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Walcutt, died at "Windy Side," the suburban home of her parents at an early hour yesterday morning.

Like the garden's first fragrant sign of spring, she was the light and joy of a happy home; and like the spring bud, parched by the summer's heat before it can bloom, the delicate little frame was an easy victim to disease's first blighting touch. Her passing was hardly death; but a fading away more like the sigh of the early morning breezes in the tree-tops about the grand, old and now darkened home.

No parents who have suffered a similar affliction ever had the sympathy of a larger circle of true friends.

The funeral will take place from the residence at 4 o'clock this afternoon.
