Guignol's Present Handicap: LAST NIGHT in a shabby, inadequate clapboard theatre, a group of amateur players presented their third drama of the season.

In the last few years those who have observed the Guignol have seen in it an ever-widening scope, a constantly increasing excellence of workmanship.

As a cultural institution, it is the obligation of the University to do all in its power to further the progress of its drama, an art far more ancient and revered than basketball for instance, and to see that students interested in the theatrical profession have ample opportunities and laboratories for its study.

Col. Brewer Leaves University: ABOUT six years ago a big man came to this University to head the military department.

Because students are only human and they sometimes forget, THE KERNEL wishes to recall some of Colonel Brewer's work and suggest that a man's accomplishments not be allowed to pass unnoticed or unappreciated.

In the first place, according to army regulations an officer usually is stationed at one post for four years—Colonel Brewer was granted two extra one-year extensions.

Students and faculty alike have found in him a man with infinite capacity for understanding petty grievances and complaints without attaching undue importance to them.

"Today international economic relations are taking on more and more a character of exchange between economic units constituted by the States themselves."

Action Is Needed In Athletic Snarl

Another meeting of the reorganization committee in investigating the tangled athletic situation will be held tomorrow afternoon in the office of Dr. Frank L. McVey.

This committee, which has been sounding Alumni sentiment for the past few weeks, should make its recommendations known to the Athletic Council without much more delay lest friends of the University and students lose hope.

The situation now is at the critical stage. Football drills are scheduled to begin during the next two weeks.

We cannot delay much longer. After weeks of discussion the time for action has arrived.

THE KERNEL believes it expresses student opinion in requesting that the Athletic Council act upon—approve, modify or reject—its committee's recommendations when they are received.

ON THE LAM

By GEORGE LAMSON

THERE is art in entering a class late. The novice who comes into a classroom late with a guilty expression on his face, a general air of breathlessness exposes himself to the rage of the professor and the ridicule of classmates.

If you are addicted to arriving at classes late, you may desire to know two methods of sneaking into a class unnoticed if you so wish.

The simplest thing to do is to leave your coat and hat outside, to throw a cupful of water on your face, and to open the classroom door, inside the room, you whip out a handkerchief and mop your face until you reach your seat.

You look like a person who is just coming back from a drink of water down the hall. Using old logic, the professor figures he has given you permission to leave.

He remembers neither (a) giving you permission, nor (b) seeing you leave the room.

You must have gone, because you have just returned. Therefore, (b) is true.

He was in a mental lapse, forgot seeing you leave, and must have forgotten giving you permission.

Therefore, (a) is true, a foregone conclusion, an inevitable result, and an established fact.

If the class hour is almost over, a good method is to walk in backward, again minus hat and coat. Proper timing is essential to the success of this system.

About once a week it is advisable to check with the professor on the number of cuts he has marked against you.

We admit we used to arrive late. Well, we were cured by arrival at a class on time one morning.

We apologized to friends in the neighboring seats, said that it wouldn't happen again, etc., but it didn't do any good.

"In this competitive, capitalist system most people are trying to make money out of other people."

Shively To Referee: Bernice Shively, assistant professor of physical education, will be on of the two referees at the 12th annual Kentucky intercollegiate athletic conference tournament.

Spanish Club To Meet: The Spanish Club will meet Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. B. Holmes, 620 Orchard Avenue.

A PEOPLE'S music and its form of dance are fairly good indices of its inward advancement. Someone has written that the more the percussion instruments were used, the more backward the general culture.

At the Saturday night savagery the growing tendency to devilism was more obvious than ever before. In every corner of the floor there were dozens of couples diving grayly.

Both the floor and wall cases in the ground floor display room will be filled with the exhibit, which will be viewed by history groups from various schools and colleges in this section.

In connection with the display, the library has arranged an "open house" for Sunday, February 13, to which Gov. A. B. Chandler and other officials of the University and college heads, history department chairmen and representatives of historical societies in the state will be invited.

Y. W. C. A. Activities: Tuesday 3 p. m.—Freshman group meets at the Woman's building.

Wednesday 3 p. m.—Sophomore commission meets at the Woman's building.

Thursday 3 p. m.—Senior Floor will meet in the library.

Friday 3 p. m.—Worship group meets at the Woman's building.

Saturday 3 p. m.—Social service group will meet in the library.

Sunday 3 p. m.—Junior round table will meet for supper at the Woman's building.

Former Students: Write Scientific Magazine Articles: Four former students of the department of bacteriology have published articles of a scientific nature in current bacteriological publications.

The Relation of Bacteria to Diarrhea in the Water: is the name of a treatise by J. L. Stokes, now a graduate in the bacteriology department at Rutgers University.

Robert Brodh-Kahn is coauthor of "The Role of the Liver in Acute Anaphylactic Shock in the Guinea Pig," now published in the Journal of Immunology.

Seniors and graduate students of the University who are interested in securing teaching positions in Kentucky the next scholastic year will meet for a 45-minute discussion.

Dr. M. E. Ligon, director of the department, will be in charge of the discussion with an explanation of the function and procedure of that organization.

Included in the meeting will be a description of the placement bulletin, an annual publication which is mailed to all employing officers of colleges, high schools, and elementary schools throughout the state.

Spanish Club To Meet: The Spanish Club will meet Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. B. Holmes, 620 Orchard Avenue.

The sweetest roses of this week go to Alpha Gam Jane Schiffer. After a prolonged affinity between her and AGO George Kurtz, Jane consented to have her dress jeweled with her and she was made up by her helping the farmers plan credit as an assistant county agent while she goes to school.

Sunday morning the Alpha Gam meet the rumors of a conflagration. It bothered them to no end, in fact they were very perturbed.

Then too, the SAE's had a similar experience. Saturday night, someone brought in a balloon filled with helium. It was so cute, and everybody was playing with it when the balloon went up the string.

Add Window department—Since Johnny Menden has departed for the Palm trees and sitting sands, Nancy Orrel, grade of Kuttawa, is now in charge of the window department.

If one looked closely through a huddle of masculine backs on right-hand side of the station, one could see a blonde in their midst.

Ralph Conington, advocate of Esquire, received a special delivery picture yesterday from a former beauty queen of Stephens College.

Since "the Colonel" Reid has returned from his swimming trip, Gertrude Gauntlett's section is happily over. Helen Shearer has a white woody top that she got at the Alpha Gams when it was new.

After Fritz Jilison broke her date with him for Saturday's campus hop, he danced the sixth to break with Virginia Smith.

Frank Dutton sent her. Basil Baker is not planning to go to the dance with her.

Plans Made To Aid Drive For McVey Plaque Funds

Philadelphia Group Elects L. C. Davidson New President

Philadelphia Alumni Club should get in touch with its president, Frank Daugherty, Schilfield Engineering Company, Commercial Trust Building, Philadelphia.

With the realization that President McVey is to retire at the close of the school year 1938-39, Omicron Delta Kappa, in response to a general demand from students, faculty, and alumni, has begun a movement by which a bas-relief plaque in bronze is to be placed in the University library in recognition of President McVey's years of service to the University.

The plaque, which will be the work of the sculptor Christian Peterson, will be six feet high and four feet wide. It will be installed on the ground floor of the library in the entrance facing the north side.

The amount to be raised is estimated at $2,000. Alumni who are interested in subscribing to a fund for this purpose are asked to send their contribution, in whatever amount they desire, to Robert K. Saylor, Alumni Secretary, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky.

Tobacco Farmers Bank of His Judgment

IN the warehouses Mr. Pinnix has managed in Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, 46,000,000 pounds of tobacco have been sold. Farmers travel many miles to bring their crops to Mr. Pinnix's warehouse for sale. Reason is that they respect his tobacco experience and business integrity. So surely Mr. Pinnix's views are worth your respect, too.

"At every market I've ever attended," says Mr. Pinnix, "Lucky Strike has brought the ripest, mellowest tobacco offered. That's why I've smoked Luckies ever since I first became a warehouseman 20 years ago."

Mr. Pinnix's statement is borne out by sworn records which show that, among independent tobacco experts—auctioneers, buyers, and warehousemen—Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Gaz-ing At Sports

By MARVIN GAY

STUDENTS at the University, unlike Alumni in all sections of the state, are showing a deplorable lack of interest in the football tangle.

Then students display disgust with their team's showing, it is had enough. But it is even worse when they have reached the point at which they apparently fail to care whether the hard working pigskin artists win or lose.

What is the cause of this student lethargy? Frankly, we know. Students, whom we have questioned, express the belief that Kentucky will never have a championship team.

To make matters worse, these students have reached the sad condition where they actually joke about the team's poor showing of last season. They feel that little or nothing will come of the reorganization committee's long hours of hard work.

Here, we differ with our fellow students. The reorganization committee is doing a great piece of work, and its recommendations probably will be enacted.

The situation may be a joke to students, but it fails to arouse laughter among the University's Alumni, who have clearly indicated that they desire and demand action.

The press, particularly in Western Kentucky, has shown violent and extreme sentiments, despite the team's recent vote of confidence in its mentor. In order that students may become aware of sentiments of the more ardent sports fans, excerpts from the press, concerning the Alumni meetings are reprinted:

As the executive committee of the U. K. alumni went into a closed session, it became no secret that certain influential members of the alumni are out look, stock, and barrel for Chet Wynne's scalp, although the head mentor has the 100 per cent "paper backing" of the better men. — Kentuckian-Citizen (Paris).

Dissatisfaction with the work of Chet Wynne as head football coach and athletic director at the University was expressed at a meeting held by 40 former Western Kentucky students of the school.

Another motion approved placed the open substitution plan now in use in the Southeastern conference. It was voted to be a permanent one whereby alumni of Kentucky be called on to give financial aid to athletes at the school.

Group recommended that Adolph Rupp be given a new contract at the expiration of his present one. — Courier-Journal.

If the sentiment of Western Kentucky alumni of the University is representative of the feeling throughout the state, the handwriting is on the wall for Chet Wynne.

In no uncertain terms former Kentucky students let it be known that they consider the No. 1 remedy to the University's athletic headache is the firing of Coach Wynne.

I am thoroughly convinced that the authorities in Lexington are sincere in their desire to remedy the University's football ills. In fact, I believe that they are inwardly tickled that the athletes had enough gumption to bring an unsatisfactory situation before the public. If not, they should be pleased, for the trouble up Lexington way has been smoldering for some time and this threat of fire was keeping too many good athletes away from the University. — Sam Livingston in Paducah Sun-Democrat.

Clem Crowe Crows
Xavier University's net mentor, Clem Crowe, is happy. The fond dream of his life came true when his Midgets smared Kentucky.

For many long weary years, Xavier has been encountering Kentucky in athletic tests, but until Saturday night had always found itself second best. Some 3,500 thrill-crazed fans could hardly believe their eyes when their heroes pulled away in the final period to triumph by a seven point margin.

Coach Crowe had better make the most of his opportunity for rejoicing, because in a few short weeks his joy may turn to tears. If we know Adolph Rupp, it will be a

Cat Swim Squad Exhibits Major Strength In Relay

Concluding their Southern jaunt with a 48-27 loss to the strong University of Georgia swimming team, Kentucky's famous pool-less men returned to the home campus Friday with their record for the trip standing at two wins and two losses.

In the final splash-fest of the exhibition, the Cats succeeded in stroking to three firsts while the Bulldogs splashed out six. The meet was the inaugural bow of the year for the Georgians, while it marked the fourth meet for the Blue and White stars.

According to Coach Sherman Hinkelein, the Wildcats are 300 per cent better than last year's team which won the Kentucky Intercollegiate title. At the present time the team's greatest need is for more practice to develop into the form that Hinkelein believes it capable. Thus far the squad has shown more strength in relays than in individual competition.

The personnel of the traveling squad included Hinkelein, Frank Roberts, Lloyd Ramsey, Austin Triplett, Eddie David, Jack Huber, C. D. Moral, Herbert Hillenmeyer, Huston Curtis, Banded Sharp, Jim Scott and manager-trainer Phil Murray.

The opening meet of the eight day swing through Dixie was against Maryville College and Kentucky duked the Mountaineers beneath a 48-27 wave. Then, on to Tennessee where the Vols garnered a disputed 41-34 victory in a South-eastern conference meet. Against the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech the Cats displayed enough buoyancy to drop their hosts 47-29 in another conference tilt.

The next meet is tentatively scheduled for February 17 with Tennessee where the Vols garnered 28 Kentucky faces Indiana and Feb. 26 Lagoda University of Chicago will be encountered on a short North-South tour.

Venetian blinds are to be used at these windows with gold fabric draperies. Harmonizing with the drapes and bringing out the distinctly modern theme, will be other gold, turquoise and burnt-orange fabrics and leathers framed in glossy woods and aluminum.

Ballroom Described
In the ballroom, the orchestra will be seated in the balcony high above the heads and conveniently out of reach of the dancers. At the other end of the floor, comfortable couches and other modern furniture will be placed for the use of the chaperons. A rich fabric of tan and turquoise will cover these couches and blend with the bright coral and gold drapes which will hang at the tall window-like doors leading out to the promenade.

A multi-colored linoleum with blue predominating will cover the floor of both the ballroom and the great hall. Because of the indirect lighting in the building, brilliant colors in fabrics and leathers will be used in all the rooms, and a completely modern feeling will dominate the design. Ping-pong, pool and stationary card tables have been selected for the recreational rooms. Offices will be equipped with chrome furniture in blue and variously colored leathers.

April Opening Schedule
According to the present schedule, the building will be ready for occupancy sometime near the first of April. Leonard Carr, chairman of the committee in charge of the supervision and administration of the structure, announced last yesterday afternoon that work on drawing up the constitution and house rules is progressing rapidly and that the completed draft will be presented to the Board of Governors for approval within the next ten days.

Carr urged that interested students make suggestions regarding any phase of the administration or use of the building either to some member of the committee or through its Kernel.

The Board of Governors, including two A. W. S. students, three members of the Men's Student Council, and three faculty members, is appointed by President Meyer. It is composed of the following: Jay Edgerton, Carolyn Sigler, Nathan Elliott, Leonard Carr, Roland Price, James S. Shropshire, Dean Sarah G. Shanding, and Dean T. J. Jones.

Whirely Hodge Lost To 'Cat Basketeers

Star Netter Will Consult Specialist Regarding Chest Injury

Definitely lost to the Kentucky basketball team for the season, Walter Hodge, Wildcat star, left Thursday afternoon for Memphis where he will consult a specialist regarding a back injury sustained during the football season, which may necessitate an operation to correct the trouble.

Hodge, who before entrance into the University, starred at Paris High school, suffered the injury in the grid year and finished the campaign in a crippled condition. When the impairment failed to respond to treatment, X-ray photos revealed the source of irritation to be a separation of the third and fourth ribs from the sternum.

As a Sophomore last year Hodge merited a regular guard slot on Coach Rupp's Southeastern conference championship cage team and was expected again to handle one of the back court assignments this season.

Intramural Net Tournay Starts On February 14
With the largest list of entries ever to compete in an intramural sport, the annual basketball tournament will begin on February 14, according to plans just completed.

Representatives of 10 independent teams will be present to register squads for competition. Trophies will be presented to winner and runner-up in each league. To qualify for the finals, a team must win three out of the first five games played.

Teams taking the necessary three wins will then compete in tournament play to decide the championship. All games will be played in the gym annex and will start at 7 o'clock, with four games scheduled for each session.

Xavier Takes First Game From Cats
The Kernel's Special Service
CINCINNATI, Feb. 5.—For the first time in the history of athletic relations between the two schools, Kentucky tonight lost a contest to Xavier University. The Wildcat basketball team dropped a torrid game to the Cincinnatians by 26-22 before 3,500 howling fans in Xavier Field House. It was the Wildcats' fourth defeat. On many ventures this season north of the Mason-Dixon Line.

Red Hanson, Cat forward, who went on to grab top scorer's honors with 12 points, put Kentucky out in front with the game's first goal. It was Hagan, too, who starred in the three previous Kentucky games in the North. His 12 points scored tonight were made on six field goals.

Cats Lead 19-18 at Half
Xavier ran wild and tallied 15 points before the Cats found the basket again after Hagan's opener. The Wildcats rallied strongly and led 19-18 at the half.

Just after the second half got under way, Roy Neary, Cincy forward, made a goal and from that point on Xavier never was headed.

Only 15 penalties were called during the game despite the speed of the play. Kentucky drew 10 and Xavier 5 of the penalties. Coach Clem Crowe used only one substitute. Coach Rupp called on four.
