

268

April 2nd, 1914.

A. B. Howell, General Manager,
Lexington, Ky.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter of the 27th ult. inclosing summons in the case of Larkin Collins versus the Lexington & Eastern Railway Co. received and we are by this mail sending copies of the petition to Judge Samuel S. Wilson.

Lee Cobb, father of J. J. Cobb who is suing the Lexington & Eastern Railway Co. for 5000. damages sustained while working on a section near Hona, was in to see us to day and says that he is opposed to any further law suits with the Company, and that he will have the suit withdrawn if you have some kind of a position to offer him for a time long enough to try out his qualifications. The young man has had a course in telegraphy and wants some kind of employment that would lead to an agency later. Cobb thinks there is a vacancy at Hona at present.

Yours very truly,

D. D. Field & Son

(Copy)