Field Events Have Appeared Weak During Early Sessions

SPRINTS CARED FOR BY OLDER STARS

Raw Material Speedily Put Into Form

With the first meet of the season the Vanderbilt Commodores but a few days away, Coach Berni Shively is putting his track squad through hard work...

While the boys are not yet in first class condition, they should be in top form by the time the meet rolls around if they are favored with a few nice days...

The sprints look to be well fortified. "Cuey" Foster, Cull Ball and Ellis Johnson are in good form and are turning in some good time in the 100 and 200 dashes...

The half mile which was expected to be one of the strongest events on the program is deteriorating. John Thorne and Joe Saunders were expected to run in the 800...

Harry Emmerich, flashy little blond speedster and Doug Parrish will run the high barriers and Parrish and Kerch will be the "cat in the hat" on the 220.

With the departure of George "Sealey" Roberts, veteran high jumper and Robert Porter, second best jumper, Shively faces the task of developing two new men.

Kampus Kernels

The newly elected officers of Lexington chapter, Order of De Molay, will hold their regular meeting Thursday at 7:15 p. m. at the Masonic temple...

DRAMA MOTEL GUIGNOL'S NEXT

Little Theater Changes Its Program From Comedy To Tragedy For Sixth Presentation

APRIL 3 IS "FIRST NIGHT"

In presenting its production of the year, "Death Takes a Holiday," the Guignol theater hopes to give its audience some degree of criticism...

With such veteran players and well-acted roles, the play can not help but meet with approval.

The entrance play is set in one scene: a room in a castle. From the standpoint of stage scenery, the set is used in this play by expert, and the stage manager...

With the departure of George "Sealey" Roberts, veteran high jumper and Robert Porter, second best jumper, Shively faces the task of developing two new men.

There will be an important meeting of Mortar Board at 4 p. m. Wednesday in Patterson hall reading room.

Extension Offices Announce New Summer Bulletin

The summer session bulletin, relative to both terms of the 1933 summer school, has just been issued by the extension department...

The session will last ten weeks and will be divided into two terms; the first to begin June 12 and close July 15; the second to begin July 17 and close August 19.

The Bulletin contains a schedule of courses for the first term, a resume of requirements for degrees in various courses, and other things of interest to summer session students.

MORTAR BOARD WILL PLEDGE ON MAY DAY

FACULTY, GRADS, FRIENDS TOTAL 200 AT BANQUET

C. N. Manning, Dean Anderson Speak at Patterson Dinner

THIRTY MINUTES OF PROGRAM BROADCAST

Clubs Throughout State Hold Centennial Observances

Two hundred members of the faculty, graduates and friends of the University gathered for the annual banquet Saturday night at the Lafayette hotel...

Thirty minutes of the program, from 9:15 to 9:45, was broadcast over an extension of WHAS, from the Lafayette hotel ballroom.

Mrs. Mabel Politt Adams, for 20 years secretary to President Patterson and after his death his literary executor and biographer, related some anecdotes of the life of the former president...

President McVey introduced to the memorial gathering a number of the present and former members of the faculty who were associated with Doctor Patterson during the period of his presidency.

According to the director of the production, the script for which is under the direction of William Arday, former University student and member of Strollers, presented a theme, with a variety of skits of local interest to Kentuckians, leading to a final dramatic climax.

Try-outs for speaking parts will be held within the next two weeks, and although preliminary trials for the dancing routine have been held, final selections for the choruses will not yet be made.

Congressmen James Scruggman of Kentucky and James H. Hamilton of Kentucky spoke at a banquet of University alumni at the University of Washington, Saturday, last, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of James M. Smith, former University chancellor, a member of the Interstate Commerce commission, president of the annual conference of the United States gave memorial banquets and meetings and sent messages to the memorial banquet...

Commerce Booklet Elicits Much Praise From Its Readers

Fifteen replies have been received and more are arriving daily in response to the application mailed to 406 concerns throughout the country by the senators of the Commerce act.

So marked has been the success of the scheme that the Commerce senators are holding a meeting at noon today in Room 301 to discuss the publication and mailing of the pamphlet.

The pamphlet was mailed to 100 persons who graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1913, 15 schools employing secretarial teachers, 12 insurance companies, 30 investment bankers, 35 accounting firms, and a number of general business houses.

The new officers will be presented formally for the first time at the annual banquet of the Women's Administrative council.

PLAN EFFECTIVE 2ND HALF 1933-34 IF GIVEN O.K.E.H.

Students Required to Undergo Four-Hour Examination In Major Subject

COMMITTEE TO ADVISE AS TO TYPE OF TESTS

Special Departmental Honors May Be Available On Quiz Success

Beginning with the second semester of the 1933-34 school year all seniors majoring in work in the departments of anatomy and physiology, ancient languages, geology, mathematics, and astronomy, philosophy, physics and zoology will be required to take an examination in the subject in which they are majoring, according to a ruling passed on by the Arts and Sciences college faculty at a meeting held at 4 p. m. March 26 in Patterson hall.

Each major student is to be assigned to an advisor at the beginning of his junior year. This advisor will guide the student's work, meet him in conference weekly and discuss his current work. For this work done with a tutor, the student will be eligible to one credit per semester.

During the senior year the advisory direction of the student will take the form of independent work courses, carried on one to three credits per semester.

Each student will be appointed to make a continuous study of the types of examinations used and to advise the various departments in the formulation of their examinations. The examinations will be written according to a ruling passed on by the Arts and Sciences college faculty at a meeting held at 4 p. m. March 26 in Patterson hall.

Special courses, tutorial work in the field of independent study, oral examinations may be added at the discretion of the department. Special departmental examinations will be used by the department. Examiners may be brought in from outside institutions if the department so desires.

Passing in the comprehensive studies will be a prerequisite for graduation in the various departments. On the basis of the student's record and his performance in the comprehensive examinations, he may be graduated with special departmental honors. If the student fails in the comprehensive examination, he may be given another examination with special departmental honors. The total time allowed for the conference fee is not less than four hours.

Geology Society Will Meet at U. K.

The Kentucky-West Virginia division of the Appalachian Geology Society, at the invitation of the department of geology and Bureau of Geology and Mineral Resources, will hold its April meeting at the University April 8. The organization is composed of the active petroleum geologists of this region, together with the members of geology staffs of various universities.

The program will be a discussion of some geological factors of oil and gas exploration and formations of the places for the annual field excursions. The excursion will cover a period of several days, during which the sands and other formations in contact in drilling will be studied.

SHIRINERS HOSPITAL HEARS U. OF K. GERMAN BAND

The German band, a unit of the University of Kentucky band, presented a delightful hour of music before the children at the Shiriner's hospital at 7 o'clock last night. The program consisted only of music from the repertoire of the old time organ band.

Relations Group Will Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the International Relations class will be held at 7:45 p. m. Monday, in the recreation room of Patterson hall. Mrs. Leon Cohen, who will preside over the meeting, will present Dr. George K. Brady, speaker for the evening. Doctor Brady's subject is "Some Trends in Comparative Literature." This is the fourth in a series of subjects under the general title of "Intellectual Cooperation."

Sigma Xi To Hear Dr. Reid Meacham

There will be a meeting of Sigma Xi, honorary chapter of fraternities, at 7 p. m. today in the Natural Science building. Dr. Reid P. Meacham, of the geology department, will address the society on "The Petrology Method as a Guide to the Location of Some Natural Resources." All members are urged to be present to consider a new method for the election of officers. The chapter also has for consideration the reduction of annual dues to 75 cents per semester for active members, and to 10 cents for associate members. A social hour will follow the regular program.

Philharmonic Orchestra and Iva Dagley Present Last in Series of Musicales

With Miss Iva Dagley, Lexington, as guest soloist, the University Philharmonic orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Carl A. Lampert, presented its final program on the University musicale series this season before a capacity audience, at 4 p. m. Sunday, March 26, in Memorial hall.

Miss Dagley returned last week from an extended stay in New York city where she studied under Madame Schumann-Heink. Miss Dagley sang several times in the grand opera in Manhattan, and was a member of the Pan-American opera company, which made several concert tours, and which is booked for an extensive tour in South America.

Miss Dagley's number, the third in the program, was "The Rose and the Crown," by Alexander Capuro, a student in the department of music at the University, was rendered by the trio composed of Lee Crook, violinist; Wesley Morgan, cellist, and Lela W. Oulis, pianist.

Harp duets by Mary Ann O'Brien and Ethel Congleton, accompanied by Mary Laytham, composed the fifth group of the numbers of the program. These numbers were particularly charming.

The selections by the orchestra, the first two numbers and the concluding number were worthy of professional players, and were indicative of the excellent directing of Professor Lampert and the diligence of the students in mastering their instruments.

Now Someone Says Funkhousers Visit African Villages

Dean and Mrs. W. D. Funkhouser have been spending the last few weeks visiting the different cities on the African coast. Some of the places they have already seen are Mombasa, Zanzibar, Dar-es-Salaam, Zebra, Lawrence, Monques, and Mornamp.

They will reach Durban on March 30. There they will go by auto to the Marine's parade, the old fort, Shell parade, Country club, Riverside, Mertone Innes, Ferndale, Valley view, the famous Ridge road, Mitchell, Essenwood, S ydenham, Berea and Chelmsford.

Their itinerary also includes a full day excursion to the Zulu village of Eshove and another day to Karridene and the native Kraal.

Dean and Mrs. Funkhouser will leave Durban on April 2nd and will arrive the next day in Bloemfontein, where there are many interesting tourist spots.

ALUMNI WILL SPONSOR PATTERSON BANQUET

The Lexington Alumni club of the University will sponsor a dinner at 7 p. m. Saturday, March 25, in the ball room of the Lafayette hotel in honor of the birthday centennial of Dr. James Kennedy Patterson, former president of the University.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University, will be the toastmaster. Dean F. Paul Anderson and Alexander Bonnyman. The program will be broadcast from 9:15 to 9:45 p. m. through the University extension studios of WEAS.

Wet Weather Fails To Dampen Netmen

Elimination in the competitive tennis ranking process was continued in spite of the fact that the weather conditions have not permitted the utilization of the outdoor courts. Word has just been received by Coach Downing that the Maryville netmen can not come here on April 28, as had been scheduled.

During last week's matches Howard Wilson topped Don Braden from number one position by defeating him 8-6, 6-3. House defeated Bishop 6-3, 7-5; Kee beat Brown 6-0, 6-3, and Brown later defeated Robert, a new comer, 6-3, 6-3. K. P. Smith has challenged Turner Howard for number three, and George Yost has challenged Roger Klein for number five. These matches will be played off of the first of this week.

This Is My Lucky Day

Coach Pat Payne, whose Hazard team won the 1932 State championship, believes his lucky piece in this tournament is "Blackie Davis," a University guard, who formerly played with the Hazard and quiet.

Davis did the drawing for the Hazard team and Coach Payne says, "He always brings luck."

"Little Bill" played with Hazard two years ago, and was given an all-state berth for his guarding. He was selected this year as the best player to appear on the Creighton home floor by the latter team when they picked their all-opponent team. He is all-Southeaster, as well.

BUREAU ISSUES NEW BULLETIN

Quarterly Personnel Bulletin Makes Appearance Today; Interesting Surveys Appear As New Features

The Kentucky Personnel Bulletin, issued quarterly by the University Personnel Bureau, was released today. The Bulletin includes abstracts of studies made in Kentucky colleges and reviews of such studies.

Included in the articles is a study of "Training in Relation to Occupations Followed by Alumni of the University," by Jessie Wilson and J. B. Miner. The study is inclusive of graduates of the University, from 1869 through June, 1931. Questions of occupational distribution, advanced study, and present geographical location were analyzed in relation to the various colleges of the University. Of 5,861 alumni who received degrees, 25 are deceased, 418 could not be reached by postal service; 82.7 per cent of the others responded to the follow-up of the questionnaires. Three-fourths of the graduates have completed their work since 1917, when President McVey came to the University.

That the University stimulates the desire for advanced study is indicated by the fact that one-fifth of its graduates have taken second degree and nearly as many more have taken work beyond the first degree. Approximately twice as many men as women have graduated at the University and almost twice as many men as women have taken a second degree, but twice as many women as men have taken advanced work.

Regarding actual achievements of the alumni, as community leaders, there have been 1010 government positions held at one time or another by alumni of the University. This does not include students who attended the University, but who did not receive degrees here. One alumnus has been governor of another state. Six were appointed to Rhodes Scholarships and 18 received honorary degrees.

Although the graduates are scattered in every state in the union and 23 foreign countries, 57 per cent still reside in this state and 17 per cent more in bordering states.

From 87 to 90 per cent of the graduates of the colleges of Agriculture, Engineering, Law and Commerce were following the occupational aims for which they prepared while at the University.

CRUTCHER TAKEN HOME

By DELMAR ADAMS

Now that the basketball season is concluded the only intercollegiate sport here at the University is varsity track.

With the excellent team that in prospect this season some improvement should be made to the track. It is doubtful if there is another school in the Southeastern conference that has as poor a track as the one on Stoll field.

Another regrettable incident of the usual track season here in Lexington is the lack of attendance at the meets.

Tennis and Golf the chief minor sports are drawing a lot of attention just now. Coach Jones of the golf team expects a great team with three lettermen back and a host of talented freshmen on hand.

Bill Carr, Olympic middle distance star and record holder in several events, was injured in an automobile accident in Philadelphia recently, suffering two broken ankles and a fractured pelvis bone.

Fishermen beware! During the month of May fishing in Kentucky is banned by the State Fish and Game department so as to preserve the fish.

Y.M.C.A. OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED

Names Approved by Board of Directors; Ballots Will Be Mailed to Members Before April 1

The nominating committee of the officers for the Y. M. C. A. for next year announced candidates for the various offices at 7 p. m. Tuesday, at a meeting of the cabinet in the Y. M. C. A. building.

The members of the nominating committee were Julian Cox, chairman; Lee Gaitler, John Carter, David Sutherland, Dr. W. W. Jennings, and Dr. J. H. Martin.

Those nominated are, for president, J. Rogus Miner, and Clarence Moore; (the person receiving the most votes will be president, the runner-up secretary, Henry Spragens, and Julian Cox; for treasurer, Sylvester Ford.

Pre-Med Honorary Will Meet Monday Omega Beta Pi, national honorary professional pre-medical fraternity, will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday, March 27, in room 207 at Science Hall.

Will the honors never cease? A report from Atlanta says that the name of Forrest Sale will go down in the record books as one of the finest players ever developed in the South.

This lanky Kentucky center and forward was the main attraction here during the first annual tournament of the new Southeastern conference, says the report.

"Veteran observers of basketball tournaments for more than ten years declare Sale, perhaps the greatest all-round player ever to perform in Dixie circles.

Colonel Vernon D. Rooks, former sports editor of the Kernel, endorsed into the news room the other day with a great big black cigar in the corner of his mouth.

Shively Preps Hard For Vandy Trackmen (Continued from Page One) Miller looks to be the best but Sale and Parrish are improving and from the three, a pair of good jumpers may be developed.

Frank Seattle is the sole shot putter and Sam Tuttle is the lone discus tosser. Kercheval is the ace of the javelin throwers, but some help is expected from Vinson and Johnson. Parrish has been going strong in the pole vault and has reached 11 feet.

Was You Dere, Alice? The girls in Pat Hall could tell Coach Shively that all the fast boys are not out for track.

FAMILIAR FACES

By ED SHANNON

There is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity on this campus who believes that modesty is the best policy. Did he mean it? George Skinner, who asked if he was active in extra-curricular activities on the campus, said that he was active in several of them.

George, a major in history in the College of Arts and Sciences, is a member of the Delta Tau Delta social fraternity, and is cadet colonel of the R. O. T. C. battalion.

He is a member of Lances, Seaboard and Blat Omicron Delta Kappa, and Phi Beta Kappa. He has received varsity letters in football and basketball and is captain of the 1932 football squad.

He is a member of the varsity rifle team and is president of the Pitkin club. George, a Lexington boy, says he is going to study law and is a shyster lawyer.

INTRAMURAL By HENRY C. MCCOWN The Phi Delta Theta's crack basketball team defeated the Phi Kappa Tau by the score of 18 to 12 last Thursday night in the Gym Annex for the fraternity championship of the University.

The fraternity champions will play the Independent Athletic club (Independent champions) at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday in the Alumni Gym. The game should prove interesting as the teams are evenly matched and both teams have talented players.

The I. A. C.'s manager expresses a doubt that Eversole can set up the team, as it is disassembled as he did Nugent of the Phi Kappa Tau team. In the final game for the fraternity championship the Phi Deltas have plans of their own.

The Sigma Chi again captured the laurels in Intramural bowling and were crowned champions for the second consecutive year. The S. A. Es were runner-ups.

The scarcity of money caused a decided drop in interest in bowling this year. Last year 10 fraternities and one independent team entered bowling while this year only five fraternities and one independent team entered this sport.

Spring Sports The entries in the Spring sports: tennis singles and doubles, horse shoe pitching, singles and doubles, golf twosome and foursome, track, and diamond ball have been 100 per cent among the fraternities, but hardly one per cent of the independents have entered in these sports.

There are surely more independents interested in these sports and for this reason "Hack" is holding the entry date open until 5 p. m. March 29. A diamond ball team consists of 10 men and has an entry fee of $1. Tennis singles and doubles have an entry fee of 50 cents per individual.

"Kentucky, a perennial runner-up in the Southern Conference, was the team to watch at Atlanta last week where the 13 teams of the new Southeastern Conference played their first tournament. Mississippi State, a dark horse in the upper half of the draw, got to the last round but the final was so one-sided—46 to 27 for Kentucky—that Ralph McGill, columnist for the Atlanta Constitution, put all five Kentucky basketball players on his Conference team.

Less enthusiastic observers agree on two—Ellis Johnson, stocky, cat-footed guard, who led the ball to Kentucky's 6 ft. 3 in. forward, Forrest ("Aggie") Sale."

Wildcat Fans See Spring Football Game Saturday

Gray Team Overpowers Reds 17-0 in First Full Time Session

By JOE QUINN Several hundred Wildcat fans braved a cold wind Saturday afternoon to watch the Gray team overpower the Reds, 19-0, in the first of the spring practice games.

Among the players who stood out during the long session were Jackson, Jack Jean, and Joe Rupert, who made his debut as a ball-carrier with a new end-around play.

Among the spectators for the first touchdown early in the game when he swept wide on an end run and dashed 25 yards for the first score.

Black Walnut Trees Donated by State

Three dozen black walnut trees have been donated to the University by the Kentucky State Forest service, resulting from the action of Eugene Flowers, Commissioner of Agriculture, and the Board of Trustees.

These trees were grown at the State fairgrounds and are being given as part of the state-wide distribution of them.

According to Tom Boyd, acting head of the department of buildings and grounds during the illness of Maury J. Crutcher, the trees will be planted in various parts of the campus where they will thrive best, and will carry out the plan of campus beautification by that department.

RANELLS TO ADDRESS CLUB Prof. Edward W. Rannels, head of the art department of the University of Kentucky, will address the Louisville Arts club Sunday night, April 9, at Louisville. His subject will be "Chinese Paintings," and he will use slides. Credo Harris is president of the arts club.
