Emergency Medical Workshop - Reminder

The Staff Development Committee is sponsoring an Emergency Medical Workshop on Wednesday, March 28, 9:30-11:30 and Friday, March 30, 2:00-4:00 in the 3d floor, North, Staff Lounge. Marcia Green will present the program, which will tell you what to do until the ambulance arrives. If you have any questions, please call Barbara Galik at 7-1631.

LIBRARIANS IN PRINT

Susan Csaky is the author of How to Use Government Documents for Legal Research. This is a written descriptive museum-tour type program upon which an audio cassette is based. A brief story of government printing introduces the body of the work. A chosen topic is searched through relevant sources, with explanations. This is an invited part of a multi-media Audio Research in the Law series sponsored at the University of Florida.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR PROFESSIONAL GROWTH

Current Issues Symposium

Information for the Community, Current Issues Symposium Series of the College of Library Science, is scheduled for Friday, April 6. Dr. Sineath is inviting the faculty to attend free of charge. Please call 258-8877 April 1 for reservations. The Symposium will examine the processes involved in bridging the gap between informational needs and resources in contemporary society while exploring the potential for cooperation among information professionals.

Community Analysis

Mr. Dave Genaway sends note of a meeting whose focus will be the assessment of the particular needs of a university community. This Community Analysis technique has not been previously conducted in an academic library setting. The program, to be held 4:00 p.m. Friday, March 30 at the Lexington Hyatt-Regency, is a part of the KLA/ALS. For further information, see Mr. Willis.

Energy Development in Kentucky

Of concern to us primarily as "people" and certainly as those working in the field of information communication is the subject of a Social Science Technology Colloquium. "Energy Development in Kentucky: Its Impact Upon Community Life and Higher Education" is the topic of a colloquium scheduled for March 28, 7:30-9:30, Commerce Building, Auditorium.

FOR A CHANGE OF PACE

- March 26-27: Underground Architecture, A Day with Malcolm Wells. The revived interest of an ancient way will be at Shakertown. For further information, contact IMMR or KRF.
- April 23-25: Pompeiian Festival. Berea. For information, contact Kenneth W. Tyler, Department of Foreign Languages, Berea College, Berea, Kentucky 40404.
- April 26-28: Kentucky Foreign Language Conference. For information, see Jane E. Phillips, Department of Classics, U.K.

UKRF RESEARCH REWARDS

Awards for outstanding achievement in research or creative art will be given to four members of the UK faculty. The University of Kentucky Research Foundation solicits your nominations, before 4:00 p.m. March 28, 1979. For further information, call 8-5766.

HISTORICAL NOTE

On January 18, 1939, an article appeared in the Lexington Herald (p.14) announcing the purchase of three microfilm readers by the University of Kentucky Library, and describing their function. A photograph on page 1 shows Miss Margaret I. King, university librarian, and her assistant, Mary Ada Sullivan, examining the new equipment.
