Man And Woman Of September

Sid Fortney, ODK president, and Jan Gover, Panhellenic president, are September's man and woman of the month. Selection is made by the Student Union Board committee composed of students and faculty. Deadline for nominating October's candidates is Nov. 4.

Sid Fortney, Jan Gover Named 'Man And Woman Of Month'

The Student Union Board has announced that the "Man and Woman of the Month" for September are Sid Fortney and Janis Gover.

These two have been chosen for this new campus honor on the basis of scholastic standing, departmental achievement, leadership, and major activities, as will be each "Man and Woman of the Month."

Janis is president of the Panhellenic Society. Her biggest job during September was serving as president during rush.

In addition to this, Jan is a member of the Kappa Delta sorority, the Student Congress, the League of Women Voters, and the Student Union Board, where she serves on the University social committee. She is president of the Kentucky Students' Education Association and for 2 years has taken part in the Leadership Conference.

A senior from Somerset majoring in elementary education, Jan has an overall standing of 2.9. Her plans for the future are "to teach somewhere around the second grade."

Fortney, majoring in anatomy and physiology with a 3.4 standing, plans to attend medical school next year. He, too, is a native of Kentucky, coming from Harlan.

Sid's toughest job during September was serving as freshman camp chairman.

Sid's activities include jobs as president of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, president of Omicron Delta Kappa, treasurer of Lamp and Cross, member of the Student Congress Judiciary committee, member of Lances, member of YMCA advisory board, and member of YMCA cabinet. He is a past president of Keys and a past secretary of Pryor Pre-Med Society.

A Student Union Board committee, consisting of three students, Dean L. L. Martin, Dean Doris Seward, Dr. Jane Haselden, Dr. E. D. McDaniel, Miss Maekle Rasdell, and Miss B. B. Gorrell, will choose the "Man and Woman of the Month" from applications submitted by the heads of University departments and students.

Applications must be submitted on or before the third of the following month. Applications for the "Man and Woman of the Month" for October are due Nov. 3. The honor is usually concerned with something outstanding done in the specific month.

Library Courses Attract California Girl To UK

By ANN FIKE

We often read about UK students from different towns in Kentucky or from far-away countries. But what about those from far-away states?

One of these is Andrea Tobias from Costa Mesa, Calif.

Andrea is a 19-year-old library science junior in the College of Arts and Sciences. She graduated in June from Orange Coast College in Costa Mesa where she majored in liberal arts.

She chose Kentucky to finish her education because of the very good library courses offered, and also because a number of her mother's relatives live in this vicinity.

Andrea became interested in reading when she was in grade school. At that time, she and her family lived in the foothills and there was nothing much to do but read "unless you wanted to get bitten by a snake."

In her junior year in high school, she worked in the library and became interested in library work as a profession. Her plans after graduation from UK include either working as a librarian or on a Master's Degree.

Along with her parents and 17-year-old sister Shari, Andrea has done quite a bit of traveling. When she was a junior in high school, they traveled through Canada and Alaska by boat.

Her high school graduation present was a trip through Central and South America. She has been promised a trip to Europe when she graduates from UK.

She "loves" movies, and although she lives about 50 miles from Hollywood, has never seen very many movie stars. Neither has she seen the famous Rose Parade. Reasons—"Too much traffic and the freeways don't help any."

Andrea finds the changeable weather in Lexington somewhat of a nuisance. So different, in fact, that "I've already gotten a cold."

When asked about hobbies, Andrea replied, "I'm crazy about knitting, sewing, and cooking!" She's unattached, boys, so, take heed!

Caine Mutiny Cast Named

Wallace N. Briggs, producing director of UK's Guignol Theater has announced the cast for their 31st season's first play "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial."

"The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial" runs Nov. 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8.

14 Colleges Debate Atom Weapons

Debate teams from 14 colleges and universities are competing in the first annual Kentucky Thoroughbred Tournament, being held in Guignol Theater today and tomorrow.

Schools represented are Dartmouth, Vanderbilt, Wisconsin State, Bellarmine, Centre, Kent State, Ohio State, Wheaton, Mississippi Southern, South Carolina, David Lipscomb, Denison, Indiana University, and the University of Kentucky.

Early Registration Boosts UK Standards

The new faculty ruling requiring applications for admission 90 days prior to the date the student expects to enroll seems to be having a selective effect on the student population, according to Dr. Charles P. Elton, Dean of Admissions and Registrar and Dr. Ernest McDaniel, Director of Testing.

Test score data indicates that this fall, as compared to two years ago, seven per cent fewer below-average students (those below the 30th percentile), and nine per cent more of superior students (those above the 70th percentile were enrolled).

Since the 1956-57 freshmen included both early and late applicants, and the 1958-59 freshmen excluded late applicants, Dr. Elton said it is likely that, in the past, a good number of below-average students were admitted within the four weeks immediately preceding registration.

He said the above-average student not only decides sooner to attend college, but he decides early where he is going to school. Also, some students, Dr. Elton said, probably apply to the University in August after having been rejected by the school of their earlier choice or choices.

A deadline for applications for admission was not in effect for 1956-57 academic year. At that time 168 male undergraduate students applied for admission during June (early admissions): 140 male undergraduate students applied from the middle of August until the opening of the Semester (late admissions).

Test scores reveal that the early group has an average of 60 per cent on the College Qualification Test, while the late group average is in the 35 percentile.

Fifty-eight per cent of the early group is still in the University four semesters later, while 38 per cent of the late groups remains.

Among the 168 early-admission students, there were 136 who completed one or more semesters of college work; 121 of the late group completed one or more semesters of college work.

The grade point average of these groups was: early group, 2.20, late group, 1.99; number of times on probation: early group, 80, late group, 98; and number of times dropped: early group, 31, and late group, 40.

SC May Join Nat'l Group

Student Congress will meet Monday night to discuss the merits of joining the National Student Association.

The National Student Association is based on a nationwide setup and consists of over one million college students throughout the United States.

By membership in this association the UK Student Congress would be placed on a national level.

Pete Perlman, president of Student Congress, stated that all points of favor and disfavor of the association will be discussed to decide whether or not the association meets the standards of this university.

Also scheduled on the agenda is a discussion of several new types of insurance plans which may be set up to benefit university students.

The various committees will give their weekly reports.

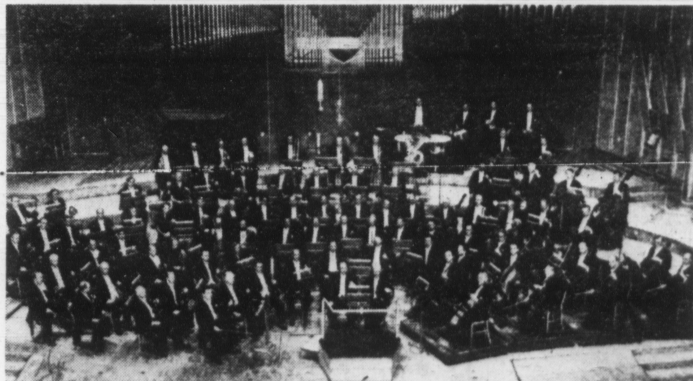

Student Congress meetings are held at 7 p. m. each Monday night in the Law Court Room of the Law Building. Meetings are open to anyone.

Ky. Engineer Takes Articles

An award of $15 will be given for the best article appearing in each issue of the Kentucky Engineer, and the second-best article will be awarded a $10 prize.

Any UK student, except Kentucky Engineer staff members, is eligible to submit articles of a technical or non-technical nature, but relevant to the engineering field.

The readability of the article should be slanted between the sophomore and senior level.

Danish National Orchestra

Favorite works of Carl Nielsen will be featured during the course of this year's visit by the Danish National Orchestra. The American tour of the musicians is under the high patronage of King Frederik IX, the "Musical Monarch." Part of the community concert series, the group will appear in the Coliseum on Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 8:15 p. m.

Kappa Study Hall

Insufficient space for studying in the house has caused the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority to look elsewhere. A room in the Journalism building was the answer. The room is open from 7 to 10 each evening for Kappas only, by arrangement with the University.

State Science, Classical Meets Set This Weekend

Scientists throughout the state are attending the 44th semi-annual meeting of the Kentucky Academy of Science today and tomorrow at Kastle Hall and the Funkhouser Building.

Dr. A. T. Krebs, head of the radiology division of the Army Medical Research Laboratory at Fort Knox, will address delegates tonight on "Newer Concepts of Radiation Dangers."

Free and inexpensive science training materials will be displayed today from 3 to 6 p. m. in room 124 of the Funkhouser Building.

Walt Disney's film "Man in Space" is set for a showing this afternoon from 4:15 to 6:00.

A business session is scheduled tomorrow in Kastle Hall, room 201, at 8 a. m.

Section meetings will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. Scientific papers will be read to sections in bacteriology and medical technology, biology, chemistry and psychology.

The Kentucky Junior Academy of Science will also meet tomorrow at 10 a. m. The group is composed of state high school students.

CLASSICAL MEETING

Attending the fall meeting of the Kentucky Classical Association today and tomorrow will be three men representing UK's Ancient Languages and Literatures department.

Dr. Jonah W. D. Skiles, Dr. Robert J. Buck, and Dr. W. L. Carr will travel to Louisville today for the two-day meeting.

KD Retreat, Peace Study Group, AFROTC Sponsor Dance Soon

Members of Kappa Delta are re-creating and roughing it this weekend. They are leaving from their house at 4 p.m. Saturday by chartered bus for Meriwether Lodge at Skyview Farm on the Kentucky River. Apparently this type of sorority function is unique on the UK campus.

The purpose of this outing is to better acquaint the actives with the pledges. Special emphasis, through workshops, will be placed on scholarship, congeniality, and development of leadership in the sorority and on the campus.

Chaperons will be local KD alums.

PEACE STUDY GROUP

The Peace Study Group will hold its first meeting today at 2 p.m. in room 204 of the SUB. Faculty members and students who attend will discuss the problem of war and peace. Future programs will be based on the interests expressed at today's meeting, which has no formal agenda. Founders of the club said this week that they want to develop "a science of peace for this nuclear age of anxiety."

AFROTC DANCE

The Air Force ROTC will entertain about 100 girls who are candidates for AFROTC sponsors Tuesday from 4 to 6 p.m. at a tea dance in the SUB ballroom.

Candidates will be escorted to the dance by advanced AFROTC cadets, who will wear uniforms. Basics who attend will not need to wear uniforms, according to Cadet Wing Commander John Zachem.

Eight sponsors will be elected to fill vacancies and new positions. The sponsor program provides one girl to march with AFROTC higher headquarters, wing staff and each of three groups and eight squadrons.

Five freshman and three sophomore girls will be chosen by cadets as new sponsors. Sue Carol Jones is commander of the group, which meets Monday afternoons and on the drill field Wednesdays.

PHI TAU PLEDGES

Bill Frye was elected president of Phi Kappa Tau's 1958 pledge class Wednesday.

Joe Wright is vice president; Bob Edwards, secretary; Dave Countin, treasurer; Hugh Wyle, sergeant-at-arms and Steve Robbins, social chairman.

Frye and Wright are delegates to Junior IFC and have been elected to attend the Leadership Conference this weekend.

SUB BRIDGE GAME

The Student Union Bridge Committee is sponsoring a duplicate Bridge game next Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. in the Social Room of the SUB.

Katy Kirk, committee chairman, announced today that the game will continue as a weekly series with games being held each Tuesday.

Misguided Missileman

It appears that the government inadvertently created a Frankenstein when it recently authorized the establishment of the National Aeronautical Space Agency.

Under the direction of Dr. Keith Glennan, the NASA earlier this month took over control of all satellite programs and major space projects. At that time, Glennan said that aside from taking over 150 civilians who were working on the Navy's Vanguard satellite, NASA would not acquire people and facilities now devoted to other space projects.

Now, however, he has asked the Army to surrender some 2,100 scientists and engineers at Alabama's Redstone Arsenal, plus all facilities and personnel at the Army's jet propulsion laboratory at Los Angeles.

In the wake of Glennan's request have come rather ominous warnings from a number of top rocket experts—including famed Dr. Werner Von Braun, who helped develop the deadly V-2 rocket for Germany in World War II—that transferring this team might result in its dissolution.

Many of the Army's scientists have been offered positions in private industry at salaries far greater than those they now receive. They have repeatedly declined such offers in the past because many of them have worked together since the end of the war, when the United States brought some 150 of Germany's foremost rocket experts to this country.

The effect of Glennan's request, and of the President's ultimate decision in granting or denying it, could have serious—perhaps even disastrous—consequences for the United States. If the civilian agency is allowed to split up the Army missile team, it appears certain that some of the key personnel will enter private business.

Obviously, this would be a blunder from which the country could gain nothing and might lose a great deal. To break up the team which gave the United States its first earth satellite, with the forewarning already issued that many experts may quit if this is done, would be little short of stupid.

We await the final decision with curiosity and anxiety.

Politics In U.S. Foreign Policy

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The politicians are in a big hassle over who is playing partisan politics with American foreign policy.

They nearly all agree it's a reprehensible thing to do.

This, they say, is a time of great crisis for the great affairs of this great republic, when its great people must present a front of great unity for the world to see.

This field of agreement begins to fall apart when it comes to determining what is a partisan approach to foreign policy and what isn't.

Well, says former president Truman, he wouldn't think of doing to Eisenhower and Dulles what they did to him and Acheson in 1952. But when it comes to domestic affairs, such as the recession which he says the Republicans caused and did little to stop, and which he seems to think is continuing—that, he says, is another matter, and he can be partisan about it.

Vice President Nixon says he doesn't like to bring it up, but the Democrats are accusing his party of all sorts of things, and he thinks it only fair to remind people that the Republicans have done great work for peace whereas the Democrats failed all along the line and got us into a war.

The former president doesn't mention that America's economic stability is vital to her system of alliances around the world. Her recovery from the recession is a political factor among her allies. Her ability to launch new supports for world trade is just now as important to the British-Commonwealth as military co-operation with Britain in the Middle East.

The Readers' Forum

Kernel Defended

To The Editor:

Concerning Mr. Robinson's letter to the Kernel last Tuesday against the "Overheard in the Grill" column, I would like to make a few comments.

To begin with, I do not find the Kernel "devoid of meaningful material." Anyone can walk through the Journalism Building and see the AP teletype flowing with copy every day, pattering out national and international news. Although the Kernel does contain a small quantity of important national and Lexington news, the purpose of the Kernel, as I see it, should not be destroyed. The Kernel is the UK newspaper and cannot plunge extensively into immediate coverage of world news.

Then again, when studying journalism, one will find three objectives in newspaper writing: to inform, to influence and to entertain. From letters written hitherto, I find that many outspoken students have not kept these principles in mind. With this attitude of wanting merely straight, noteworthy news of great importance, the Courier-Journal would cut out the comic sections, picture sections, crossword puzzles and other casual, entertaining material.

In the attack against "grillology," the writer condemned the personnel for thinking "grillology" was a very important phase of college life. In reply, the editor did not say it was important nor did he say it was in the paper because of its news importance.

"Pogo" is not important; "Freddy" is not important; "Peanuts" is not important, but they are there because people like to read them. They entertain millions.

The Kernel is not necessarily a reflection of all the attitudes and desires of UK students. It is a college newspaper with journalistic standards, not trying to boast the power of the press but using the principles of newswriting rationally so that a good, well-rounded newspaper might be published for the students and University, as well as for others.

When and if said column loses its categorical value, I'm sure it will be cut.

Albert "Happy" Cawood
Journalism Major

Wherefore The Soapbox?

Individuals around universities generally have rather definite opinions on current events and situations, and we think the UK community is no different. For that reason the Kernel has made the editorial University Soapbox column open to faculty and students to express their views.

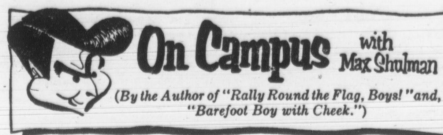

The disappointing thing is that it has been used in only two of our 16 issues this year. Judging from some of the letters the editor receives, the interest in local, national and international events exists. What we would like to see are persons concerned enough to put their opinions on paper.

The Soapbox is for you, the reader. If you have a pet theory, gripe, or universal panacea, don't keep it hidden—write a Soapbox. Manuscripts must be double-spaced, preferred length 750 words.

Kernels:

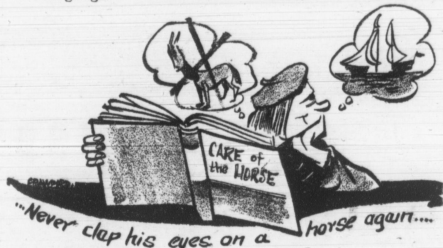

The fickleness of the woman I love is only equalled by the infernal constancy of the women who love me. —George Bernard Shaw.

SAIL ON, SAIL ON!

I suppose October 12 is just another day to you. You get up in the ordinary way and do all the ordinary things you ordinarily do. You have your breakfast, you walk your ocelot, you go to classes, you write home for money, you burn the dean in effigy, you watch Disneyland, and you go to bed. And do you give one little thought to the fact that October 12 is Columbus Day? No, you do not.

Nobody thinks about Columbus these days. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment and retell his ever-glorious, endlessly stirring saga.

Christopher Columbus was born in Genoa on August 25, 1451. His father, Ralph T. Columbus, was in the three-minute auto wash game. His mother, Eleanor (Swiftly) Columbus, was a sprinter. Christopher was an only child, except for his four brothers and eight sisters. With his father busy all day at the auto wash and his mother constantly away at track meets, young Columbus was left pretty much to his own devices. However, the lad did not sulk or brood. He was an avid reader and spent all his waking hours immersed in a book. Unfortunately, there was only one book in Genoa at the time—Care of the Horse by Aristotle—and after several years of reading Care of the Horse, Columbus grew restless. So when rumor reached him that there was another book in Barcelona, off he ran as fast as his fat little legs would carry him.

The rumor, alas, proved false. The only book in Barcelona was Cuidar un Caballo by Aristotle, which proved to be nothing more than a Spanish translation of Care of the Horse.

Bitterly disappointed, Columbus began to dream of going to India where, according to legend, there were thousands of books. But the only way to go to India was on horseback, and after so many years of reading Care of the Horse, Columbus never wanted to clap eyes on a horse again. Then a new thought struck him: perhaps it was possible to get to India by sea!

Fired with his revolutionary new idea, Columbus raced to the court of Ferdinand and Isabella on his little fat legs (Columbus was plagued with little fat legs all his life) and pleaded his case with such fervor that the rulers were persuaded.

On October 12, 1492, Columbus set foot on the New World. The following year he returned to Spain with a cargo of wonders never before seen in Europe—spices and metals and plants and flowers and—most wondrous of all—tobacco! Oh, what a sensation tobacco caused in Europe! The fitter had long since been invented (by Aristotle, curiously enough) but nobody knew what to do with it. Now Columbus, the Great Discoverer, made still another great discovery: he took a filter, put tobacco in front of it, and invented the world's first filter cigarette!

Through the centuries filters have been steadily improved and so has tobacco, until today we have achieved the ultimate in the filter cigarette—Marlboro, of course! Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! Great tobacco, great filter, great smoke! And so, good friends, when next you enjoy a fine Marlboro Cigarette, give a thought to the plucky Genoese, Christopher Columbus, whose vision and perseverance made the whole lovely thing possible.

© 1965 Max Shulman

And thank Columbus too for Philip Morris Cigarettes, for those who want the best in non-filter smoking. Philip Morris joins Marlboro in bringing you these columns throughout the school year.

Hayrides, Picnics, Parties Begin Tonight

By ANN ROBERTS

At last we are going to get a few days of rest from the busy school schedule. Or are we? There are still many things to do on campus this week. But there certainly are a lot of smaller things going on.

ROBERTS

House and Wesley Foundation are going to Sleepy Hollow and Maxwellton Co-op House is having a hayride to Lawrenceburg.

Saturday, the Pi Kaps are having a Cabin Party, the Lambda Chis are having a house party, and the ZBTs are having a Baby Party of all things. Also Saturday is the Delt picnic to Darby Dan Farm and the Triangle Hayride to High Bridge.

With all these hayrides coming up, let's hope this nice fall weather prevails. Wet hay can get awfully nasty.

The ADPIs are having a pledge open house this afternoon in honor of all their new pledges. All fraternity pledges are invited to this affair and activities may come too.

With all the parties this weekend, maybe things won't be so restless after all. If you do get a chance though, run out to Danceland tonight for the Jam Session. These have been going on for a couple of weeks and from what I hear they are very successful. They also have a good combo if you are inclined to dance.

There are more activities going on later in the week in case you can't find enough to do over the weekend to keep you busy.

Sunday is the KD Retreat to Meriwether Lodge, the Newman Club Picnic and an Art Exhibit on Contemporary Art at the Art Gallery. Tuesday afternoon is the AFROTC tea Dance in the SUB Ballroom and that night the Danish State Symphony will be at Memorial Coliseum as a part of the Community Concert Series. Thursday is the YWCA United Nations Picnic at Castlewood.

And, if you get a chance, drop out to Keeneland. The races are still going on and post time is at 2:00.

The Dope Sheet

SCOTTIE HELT

To those students of UK who have noticed a man with the label of "somebody important" ambling around the Memorial Coliseum Pool of late with an optimistic grin that stretches from ear to ear, an explanation may be in order for the existence of such an expression on such a person.

The person is the capable University of Kentucky swimming coach, Algie Reece, a husky-built, handsome, middle-aged instructor who has had the job of directing the antics of the aquarians since coming to UK in 1950.

The facial expression of delight stems from the fact that Coach Reece has been surprisingly presented this season with a comparative massive candidacy to his swimming team. In round figures, the head tank teacher says that he can probably count on about 25 men to be scholastically and physically able to go into action when the Catfish open play this winter.

Of course, the big gap to fill for Reece's crew will be that created by the absence of the team's top point-getter of last year, Dave Wild, who befell the disaster of grade troubles. However, due to the fact that Reece was able to swim a team of only nine and 10 members on occasion last year which resulted in repeated duplication of men in events, the greater quantity of talent available this year should make amends for a rather discouraging 0-7 record of a year ago.

That figure was the worst compiled by a Reece-coached contingent in the nine-year period that the native-Lexingtonian has been at the helm. All toll Reece's record shows 29 wins against 37 losses which isn't bad, at all considering the heretofore progressive decline in personnel plus the presence of a schedule that annually includes some of the deeper South's best and usually farther advanced teams at the time UK takes them on.

The best record the Catfish have presented Reece was the 9-0 showing of 1953.

It was particularly astonishing but truly greatly satisfying to this corner to see Auburn's "unbeatable" dropped this week from the coveted number one national ranking position they had held prior to last Saturday's battle with the Wildcats. Having to pull out all the stops in nipping a UK team that is not even ranked among the top SEC contenders, much less the nation's "bigwigs," Auburn was fortunate to get out of that one even with an 8-0 win.

Kittens Out For First Win Against Powerful Cincinnati

One of the nation's outstanding freshman teams of the past seven years, the Cincinnati Bearkittens, will place themselves as obstacles in the path of the UK Kittens as the locals attempt to post their first win of the season tonight.

The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock on the Stoll Field pasture and University students will be admitted on ID cards for the home finale.

The men of coaches Lee Haslinger and Don Grammer are scheduled to bring with them a 33-man squad that rates as one of the best in an already glory-covered history of outstanding first-year elevens.

In the last 29 games in which the Bearkittens have participated they have only suffered defeat on two occasions—with both losses being inflicted by their UK fresh foe. The first of two consecutive victories under the tutorage of current varsity and coach, John North, was accomplished by the Kittens by a 39-7 count here two years ago to snap a string of 19 straight triumphs achieved by the Queen City crew. Last year, led by a present UK Wildcat end of prominence, quarterback, Tom Rodgers, the Northmen posted a come-from-behind verdict, 41-18 at Cincinnati.

The UC freshmen opened their '58 card Monday by sneaking out a 24-22 win over the Baldwin-

Wallace College JV's in a game highlighted by a tremendous running attack by the Bearkittens.

The Kittens opened their present season October 4 against the Vanderbilt Baby Commodores and found the going tougher than expected as the visitors battled them to a 6-6 standoff.

Coach Ed Rutledge had planned to use that opener to take a look at his entire yearling squad and even go so far as to employ complete, three-team units. However, the surprisingly powerful defensive presented by the Vandy frosh kept the UK freshman mentor from accomplishing his goal.

Plans are to try once more to give the entire 47-man contingent a chance at game action experience again this weekend, and an effort at full platoon substitution will be demonstrated.

An individual battle seems inevitable between Kitten fullback David Gash, who scored the only TD and picked up 90 valuable yards against Vandy, and Cincy halfback sensation, Fred Oblak, who scored 12 points against Baldwin-Wallace.

Rival Hanover Opponent Of UK Harriers Today

By JOHN BAXTER

University of Kentucky's cross-country team meets rival Hanover at 4 p.m. today on the UK course at Picadome Golf Course.

Hanover was beaten by one point by Kentucky last year. Leading the Cats into the meet is Press Whelan, who won against Berea and Cincinnati last week. E. G. Plummer, who finished fourth in last season's meet, appears in much better form.

Austin Pyles, Roger Gum, Alan Lips and Darryl Sipple will be other Kentucky contenders who have helped prove to Coach Don Cash Seaton that the team has

Band Leads Division I In I-M Play

By RONALD KELLY
Kernel Intramural Editor

The Band, 3-0-0, playing in Division One of the Independents, has racked up the best record in I-M football.

Closely following the Band in Division One are BSU, 2-0-0, and the Newman Club, 2-1-0. In Division Two play the Raps, 2-1-0, are right behind the Tapa Kegs.

In Fraternity play, the hottest race so far is in Division One. PKT and SAE are tied for first place with identical 2-0-0 records.

PKT defeated the ATO's 14-12 on two touchdown passes in the first quarter. The SN's, 1-0-0, have the only other perfect record in that division. In Division Two, the Farmhouse started the I-M season by nosing out the SX's 6-0 in a tight defensive game. The game ended in a sudden death overtime. The Farmhouse's second game ended in a 26-6 rout by the PSK's, who now lead the second division with a 2-0-0 record. In Division Three play, the Phi Deltas and PKA's staged an early season spectacular with the PKA's edging the Phi Deltas by 12-7.

The fraternities are led in horseshoes by PKA, in tennis by PDT, and in golf by DTD. The BSU is leading the Independents in all three of these sports.

long-needed depth.

Seaton has predicted this year's team to be one of the best in the history of the school, and a contender for the SEC cross-country championship. His team finished second last season.

Although this game should produce a good game, Seaton is principally aiming for next week's meet with Pittsburgh and Vanderbilt.

Muzzling LSU's Billy Cannon Is Kentucky's Big Problem Saturday

"Cannons to the left; Cannons to the right"—a bit poetic in present day journalistic description, especially when applied to the antics of a football player.

Such a reference, none the less, is what opposing coaches and players that have had as their misfortune to try and compete with the red-hot LSU Baby Bengals this season have repeatedly uttered.

The firearm of power that has ignited the fuse of the Baton Rouge school's high-powered climb to the prominent position of number nine ranking team in the Associated Press national poll and a place among the contenders in the always rugged SEC is the all-environment, seatback Billy Cannon.

Dope Sheet

tended their win string to seventeen straight over a three-year period, pollsters of both the AP and UPI surveys seem to at last become aware of the fact that the Tigers have had some pretty close calls in the streak and that a number one ranking team must win, at least occasionally, by a decisive margin.

The record win string is composed of 10 wins by the men of Coach Ralph Jordan which were taken by a two touchdown margin or less.

The 10 include 6-0 and 8-0 wins over UK, 7-0 and 13-0 victories over Tennessee, 27-20 and 15-7 edgings of Mississippi State, and a 13-7 triumph over Florida State, a 13-0 clipping of Florida, a 6-0 count of Georgia and a 3-0 score posted over Georgia Tech.

Come on Tech! Maybe this Saturday the rabbits' feet and four leaf clovers will be coming your way.

It will be the maneuverable strategy of the University of Kentucky forces to silence the Tigers' chief weapon if the Kentuckians are planning on getting revenge for last October's 21-0 whitewashing dished out by former UK grid coach Paul Dietzel's men. The site of battle is again slated for the southern Louisiana turf, and the Colliermen would like nothing better than to come home with this one tomorrow night which would give the Tigers their first defeat of the present campaign after four straight successes.

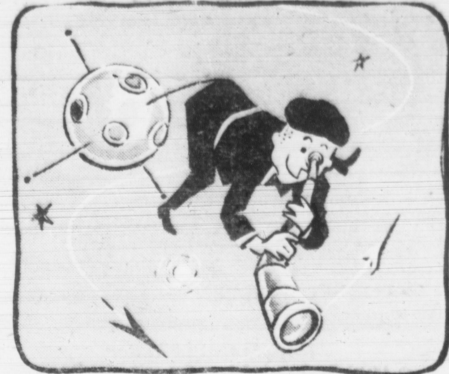

Although the Wildcats are still feeling the blunt of the strong-armed blow administered them last weekend by Auburn both physically and spiritedly, the Kentucky team should have their bread and butter man, Bobby Cravens, back in the game for unlimited action to give Cannon a run for his money.

Cannon currently is second in the league as a ball carrier as 41 carries have netted him 256 yards and a 6.2 average gain. These figures are only slightly better than Cravens' net yardage of 239 on 41 tries and a 6.0 mean.

Other 'Cats-Tigers who are among the SEC leaders in various departments are LSU quarterback Charley Rabb, who is the conference's number seven passer as he has completed 14 of 30 good for 219 yards and two TD's, and UK's Calvin Bird who leads the circuit on pass receptions on 14 for 197 yards. Collier said that he will probably start with virtually the same lineup that opened against Auburn last week.

WANT TO SEE WHAT YOU'RE DESIGNING?

What engineer doesn't! Seeing finished hardware is a special kind of satisfaction. Matter of fact, an engineer needs to be close to his product throughout design. He should be in close touch with lab and field testing of his own components, see the final product. At least, that's the way we feel at Chance Vought. Ask our representative.

6 Law Students Win Scholarships

Six UK law students have been awarded scholarships for the fall term.

One of the six, Nelson S. Shafer, was presented the $300 E. Reed Wilson Law Scholarship, given annually by Wilson, a graduate of the school's first class in 1910. Shafer is from Nutley, N. J., and is a senior.

Alumni of the college and members of the Kentucky bar contribute to the Kentucky Law Scholarships, which were presented to William M. Dishman, Danville; Carl R. Clontz, Berea; Charles E. English, Bowling Green; A. Gene Oliver, Lexington; and Robert E. Adams, Salyersville.

Dishman, who received $200, is a first year student. Clontz and English, second year students, and Oliver and Adams, seniors, got $100 apiece.

The recipients are selected by a committee of the Kentucky Bar Association on the basis of scholarship, character and need.

Truck-Car Crash Hurts 3 Students

Three UK students and a Nicholasville man were injured Wednesday night in a truck-car collision on the Nicholasville Road.

Rodney Griffin, 19, Kinkead Hall, suffered a broken right arm and lacerations. Nathan S. Nunley, 19, Donovan Hall, was treated for back and arm injuries. They were treated at Good Samaritan Hospital.

Admitted to Central Baptist Hospital for treatment of head injuries was Richard Miller Harrison, 19, of Owensboro.

Nunley, who was driving, told police he attempted to pass a line of traffic, not seeing the oncoming truck.

Officers said a head-on-collision was averted when Nunley, unable to get back onto his side of the road, applied his brakes and went into a spin.

The truck, owned by Charles B. Morgan, struck the automobile on the right side, police said, badly damaging the car.
