Board of Trustees approves new apartments' name

By DEBBIE McDANIEL

After eight weeks, students living in the "new" apartments south of Commonwealth Stadium can drop the "new" from the title — UK's Board of Trustees approved a name for the apartment complex yesterday. The trustees and UK President Oils Singletary arrived approximately 15 minutes late. After proceeding with business, they unanimously approved two UK students' suggestions to name the 25-building complex the Greg Page Stadium View Apartments. The students' entries were chosen by a standing committee of UK faculty and staff members charged with naming University buildings.

Former UK Black Student Union President Jonathan Hines of Paducah submitted Page's name, and apartment complex resident Fred Farmer of Pembroke completed the naming with "Stadium View Apartments."

The two offices were submitted in The Committee of Page 10 of 10 o naming with Apartments.

The two entries were submitted in the Housing Division's competition.
Sixteen married students, their families and 728 undergraduates are living in the first University facility named in honor of a black person.
Page was the second black scholarship athlete recruited at UK in the mid-1960s following the University's desegregation of intercollegiate athletic teams. In 1967, the 19-year-old freshman died during

The Board also approved adding five renovation proposals totalling $2.2 million to the University's Five 3.2 milion to the or of the projects involve the Albert B. Chandler Medical Center and the other involves UK's poultry facilities. Funds will be taken from the University Plant Funds, which totalled $40,818.407 June 30, according to UK's 1978-79 Financial Report. If approved by the Council on Higher Education, the construction

Higher Education, the construction projects include:

— Replacing the Hospital's ceiling and floor tiles, wall coverings and drapes at an estimated cost of 500,000;

— Replacing and synchronizing the door mechanisms on the Hospital's original three (there are now five) elevators at an estimated cost of $300,000.

200,000;

Expanding on-call house staff quarters for students and staff who remain in the hospital nights and weekends. Estimated cost is $300,000; — And adding poultry facilities to the College of Agriculture which will allow new research in poultry reproduction, nutrition and disease control. Estimated cost is $800,000:

In his report to the trustees, UK President Oits Singletary said the percentage of part-time students at Continued on page 6

Vol. LXXII, No. 44 Wednesday, October 17, 1979

Songbird

Music may soothe the savage beast — or audience — freshman, Ladd picked a few bars on his guitar but Burt Ladd played it safe and perched high in the around 6 p.m. in an old tree located near University branches above his audience yeareday. An undecleded Avenue.

Controversial book being used in English

By PAUL MANN

One of the three novels which was removed from the freshman English 101 and 102 required reading list last spring semester is now being used in a 105 freshman English class.

Dr. Joesph Bryant, chairman of the English department, forbade the use of William Faulkner's Light in August, Henry Miller's Black Spring and Bran Stocker's Dracula in freshman English composition classes last spring after a student's parent complained to Bryant about the content of Black Spring.

Mary Ann Banner is currently teaching a 105 English composition course which includes Light in August in the classes' required readings. Banner said the book removal did not affect English 105 composition affect English 105 composition said. "105 is centered around literature, the others are centered around writing."

Banner, whose class began studying Light in August earlier this week, said in her opinion students in English 105 are "theoretically more advanced."
"The book was banned not because of morality, but because of the difficulty of the material," she said.
Betty Jean Gooch, a graduate student TA, taught the English 101 course which caused the controversy.

student TA, taught the English 101 course which caused the controversy. She asked her class to write a comparison contrast theme on Light in August and Black Spring.

One of Gooch's student's father, Eugene Goss (a former UK trustee), complained to Bryant that the sexual content in Black Spring was not satisfactory for freshmen students.

Broatt freshmen students.

Bryant then read over the freshman English required reading list and determined the three books to be unacceptable for freshman composition courses.

Many claimed that Bryant's removal of the novels from the reading list constituted an actual book ban. However, Bryant says the situation was blown out of proportion. "There was no book ban," Bryant said.

said.
According to Bryant, the Freshman Composition Committee is supposed to approve all texts used in freshman English courses. But Bryant said there were a number of novels on the list the committee was not familiar with, so he stepped in and reviewed it himself.
Bryant said as of March 1, 1979, he delegated the authority back to the committee. "I don't have any knowledge of what's on the list now," he said, "And I don't are."
Ken Davis, director of freshman English, said there are two types of texts used in freshman English classes texts and novels.

Continued on page 4 According to Bryant, the Freshman

'Cost' of fake ID often very high

By CLAUDE HAMMOND

A 17-year-old high school senior is charged with two counts of using an altered driver's license to buy beer. The youth pleads guilty and is assessed a total of $76 in fines and court costs. His case and sentence are typical. Although Kentucky law allows for a fine of not less than $100 or more than $100 as penalty for minors who buy alcoholic beverages, minors caught using fake or altered IDs when buying liquor are usually treated like traffic offenders.

ising iask of altered 1Ds when longing liquor are usually treated like traffic offenders.

"Where we frequently get them (possessors of false 1D cards) is in traffic cour." District Judge John M. Famularo, sand.

However, most first offenders caught in the act of just buying liquor are tried in District Court.

"More often, we get cases of minors possessing alcoholic beverages (instead of) using 1Ds to get fiquor (in District Court)." District Court criminal division employee Donna Spakley, said."We get very few fake 1D cases in court."

Even though the person charged with using a fake or altered 1D is usually not tried, the fines can be much greater. "The penalty (for possession of an altered ID) is a fine no less than $17 or more than $500 and/or a six month jail sentence," Famularo said, adding that a first offender is usually fined and given a probated sentence. "The first offender is then warned not to appear before the court on the same grounds, or he will be punished in a more severe manner. A lot of people, and especially high school kids, are shocked to find out that you can actually go to jail for something keypee, and especially high school kids, are shocked to find out that you can actually go to jail for something like that, "Famularo said.

But the person caught making a second go-around at using altered or fake IDs may not be so lucky.
"The second, or repeating offender, is often charged with criminal possession of a forged instrument in the second degree, which is considered a more serious offense. Possession of a forged instrument in the second degree is punishable by a sentence of one to five years in the peniternitary," Famularo said.
Famularo noted, however, that the

Famularo noted, however, that the Famularo noted, however, that the attitude of the arresting officer plays a big role in deciding if the offender is charged with a criminal charge or a traffic charge.

Cases involving those who manufacture fake IDs are very rare—the last one that occurred in Lexington-Fayette County involved a UK student approximately three years ago.

That student was charged with possession of a forged instrument as well as forgery. He was found guilty and was sentenced to spend a series of ten weekends in jail, was fined several thousand dollars, was put on probation for two years and his driver's license was suspended.

Persons with a record of possessing a fake 1D may find that it creates obstacles to their future. "I doubt if anyone could take the bar (a licensing exam for lawyers) with something like that on their record. I guess that even companie, would be reluctant to hire someone (that had been convicted of a fake 1D charge)," Famularo said.

Penalities for luquer stores caught selling alcohol to minors can range from a $535 fine to the suspension of the store owner's liquor license.

Keene said he throught liquor stores made a conscious effort to check 1Ds, but added, "this is not as much the case with places holding just a beer license.

After violating the law (by selling with places holding just a beer license.

After violating the law (by selling liquor to minors) twice in two years, liquor to minors) (wice in two years, the liquor store's license costs less and the owner is less likely to take the precaution to protect it."

Keene estimated a liquor license in Fayette County would be worth $35,000 to $50,000.

Rogers favors more responsibility

By CARY WILLIS

The Republican candidate for lieutenant governor of Kentucky claims he wants to do more in office than just wait for the governor to leave the state.

the state.

Harold Rogers told a small group of supporters in the Student Center last night that many people consider the lieutenant governorship of Kentucky "a wasted office" and restated his plans to expand the role of the state's se highest governmental position.

(Currently, the only two official duties assigned the lieutenant governor are presiding over the election will be "made up of people from around the state who ve been involved in economic work."

He proposes a "think-tank" 79 biennial meeting of the state senate and assuming the governor's role when the governor dies, resigns or is temporarily out of the state.) Rogers, the 41-year-old common-wealth's attorney for the 28th District, said he wants to head up economic development efforts for Kentucky. He cited his experience with the Pulaski County Industrial Foundation as qualification for such a duty.

"I'm running because I think Kentucky must have more qualification for such a duty.

"I'm running because 1 think Kentucky must have more employment opportunities for you (students of the state). Most of the state's taxes are spent on education, but once our graduates receive an education, they leave the state.
"Well, my idea is to let people live where they want to work — in Kentucky."
The industrial foundation Rogers

The industrial foundation Rogers

The industrial foundation Rogers directs brought the first factory to Pulaski County in years, and now employs over 1100 persons. Rogers claimed that experience is necessary for the position he wants to fill. "When we (the foundation) started out, we had 12 percent unemployment. Lexington was not the employment mecca it is now; everyone was leaving Kentucky to go to work," he said. "I want to keep people working in Kentucky." Rogers, who received his law degree

Rogers, who received his law degree from UK, later said he believes the campuses — professors and administrators — who think (economically) way down the line and can extrapolate that back to the present."

He also advocates research centers

He also advocates research centers at colleges and universities. "They will be researching things like ... community development and technical data — studying resources and their uses." Rogers said. The Monticello native spoke of Kentucky's poor financial situation. "Last year, Kentucky's per-capita income dipped to 59th in the country. Can we really build the state up with that kind of brain drain? "Lexington, Bowling Green and Elizabethtown are the bright spots," Rogers said, noting the recent financial growth of those cities, "but today

state

A REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN SPOKESMAN raised questions yesterday about John Y. Brown Jr.'s fitness to serve as governor because be "seem to have an unconcerned attitude toward drugs."

Ron Meredith told a news conference that Brown has tried repeatedly to cover up his relationship with a convicted marijuana smuggler, who has worked in the Democratic nominee's campaign.

A MAYSVILLE POLICE OFFICER was shot t uesday as he and his partner investigated a t of an intruder at a Maysville market, officials said.

Daniel L. Hay, 22, was shot three times in the chest when he and officer George Chambers entered the Clyde Super Valu Store, said Police Chief Douglas E. Culp. ONE WEEK AFTER WINNING a major victory in Kentucky's Supreme Court, Christian school supporters were urged yesterday to organize politically to protect their schools.

Television evangelist Jerry Falwell told approximately 1.500 people including a large gathering of Christian school representatives, at a rally on the capitol steps in Frankfort, that they should stress voter registration in their churches.

nation

UNITED MINE WORKERS President Arnold Miller says he wouldn't be surprised to see U.S. Steel quit the filtuminous Coal Operators Association, the group that negotiates wage contracts with the union. Miller said, "it wouldn't bother me in the slightest." Consolidated Coal Co., one of the largest coal companies in the nation and one of the founders of the BCOA, announced earlier this year that it was withdrawing from the group. There have been reports that U.S. Steel, and other steel companies that own mines, are thinking of leaving, too.

SCREAMING PASSENGERS were sent "flying" down the aisles and slamming into seatbacks when three packed trains crashed in a chain reaction at the peak of the morning rush-hour yesterday in Philadelphia. There were more than 400 injuries, most of them minor, authorities said. "We were going at a good clip, 40 to 45 miles an hour," said R.C. Morrow of Glen Mills, a structural engineer and one of the commuters on board. A JURY CONVICTED two former nuclea

A JUNE CONVICTED two former nuclear employees setterday on felonyc harges of damaging a public utility in Surry, Va. The two had admitted they sabotaged the Surry nuclear plant, saying they wanted to draw attention to safety standards.

The utility that operates the Virginia Electric & Power Co. plant there has estimated damages at $1 million from the sabotage.

weather

MOSTLY CLOUDY TODAY with scattered showers and possible thunderstorms today and tonight. Highs today will be from the upper 60s to the mid 70s. Lows tonight in the low to mid 50s. Showers will end in the west and continue in the east tomorrow. Highs in the low 70s.

KENTUCKY

editorials & comments

'Pork' comes from the 'soapbox'

The gubernatorial race has hit the home stretch and the candidates are out promising the sun, the moon and the stars — or at least one of them is.

and the stars — or at least one of them is.

Promises for pork barrel projects are a time-honored way of life on the campaign trail. The majority of voters recognize these pledges for what they are — bribes. "Vote for me and you'll get your — ," filling in the blank with the appropriate project — bridge, highway, courthouse, what-have-you.

One of this year's aspirants for governor, the former Gov. Louie B. Nunn, is breaking all records for pork-barrel promising. His opponent, John Y. Brown Jr., charges that Nunn has promised 5550 million worth of projects in his campaign thus far. The former governor has denied the charge, but without replacing it with what he considers a realistic figure.

The majority of Nunn's promues have been for roads—an interstate connector in Northern Kentucky, entrance ramps to the Mountain Parkway, an extension to New Circle Road—but in his campaigning Monday, Nunn reached a new low in gubernatorial pork barrel.

Speaking in Mount Sterling, Nunn criticized

Speaking in Mount Sterling, Nunn criticized Brown's scheme of looking at "the big picture," a reference to planning for the future.

reterence to planning for the future.
"My opponent talks about seeing the big picture," Nunn was quoted as saying in yesterday's CourierJournal. But "the big picture is a stoplight at an intersection over here that would save lives; the big picture is knowing where to put an entrance onto the Mountain Parkway.

"Do you think that he (Brown) knows you need a stoplight at the Maysville (Street) intersection with Cardinal and Virginia Avenue? Well, I'm gonna promise you one this morning."

A stoplight 1 a gubernatorial candidate trying to pull Kentucky up from the depths of the Union by promising stoplights? This is the type of politics which has left Kentucky standing as the punchline in national government jokes.

Experts have said the state's road program will be short some $200 million this year, and both Brown and Nunn agree the next governor will have to practice fiscal austerity. Nunn told the Contier reporter all promises include a warning that the project is subject to the strength of the Road Fund. But Monday performance makes it highly doubtful whether Nunn will practice the austerity he says is needed.

Brown has charged that Nunn's promises are "the Brown has charged that Nunn's promises are "the needed.

Brown has charged that Nunn's promises are "the epitome of old-style politics," and he is not far from the truth. He exaggerates by saying his opponent "has promised everything to everyone except Phyllis (George Brown, his wife) — and I'm going to try and keen her."

keep her."

The line never fails to draw laughs from the audience. But in light of Nunn's past performances and Monday's stoplight pledge, we wonder if it's an exaggeration anymore.

Russian sci-fi writers light years ahead of their American counterparts

The phenomenal popularity of "Star Wars" has had an unfortunate result in American science-fiction. SF periodical editors sense that readers want a return to the "good old days" of space opera, with the cowboys and Indians done up in mechanical trappings and with space heroes wearing white helmets. Many writers of SF in the 60's and early 70's marked a bright potential: science-fiction would finally emerge from the "pulps." That hope is rapidly fading, although there are many fans of Ursula K. LeGuin, whose stories are beautifully there are many fans of Ursula K. LeGuin, whose stories are beautifully expressed with a constant underpinning of modern anthropology. But the usual offerings are the repeated ho-hum plots of sterling 30's-style mechanics and aeronatics types who somehow wander through the pages to save the world from some impending disaster. And we are about to be blessed with another penultimate psuedo-SF flick called "Meteor." Again Vonneegu would mutter, "so it Again Vonnegut would mutter, "so it goes."

In contrast to the editorial policies of American (and to some extent British, French, and West German, and somewhat less Japanese) SF, there has been a boom in high-quality SF from behind the Iron Curtain. Russian writers are happily probing the worlds of the near future with delightful insight that puts most western writers

'in mente agitare_,'

by john scarborough

by john scarborough
to shame. Arkadi and Boris strugatski Hard to be a God (English translation, Seabury, 1973) is a minor masterpiece as it speculates on how our future holds a socio-technological balance that may or may not be applied to another earth-like planet.
Old images are here (Plato's attempt to apply his political ideals to the real King of Syracuse, or Lot's wife looking back at the condemned city), but they are fresh in their impact, embedded in that softly Byzantine manner characteristic of so much Russian fiction. Then there is Nicholas
Amosoff's Notes from the Future (English translation, Cape, 1971), a harrowing book about cryogenics, written by a practicing cardiovascular surgeon from Kiev Question: will it be worth the expense to be frozen, to wake up in a future that may be more dismal than the present? Technical details in Notes are, of course, taken for granted, a quality that rarely appears in "medical" science fiction written in America. Russian SF also boasts the works of Genrish Altov, Romain Yarov, Ilya Varshavsky, Nikolai Toman, Anatoli Dneprov, and many others. All deftly dissect the foibles of modern science, casting caustic remarks at modern society's presumptions, particularly the trampantly heartless role of the now-universal bureaucracies. We do not meet many heroes. Russian authors insist that we concentrate upon our flaws, well illustrated by Rumata in the Strugatski Brothers' Hard to be a God. Why must we in the West read Russian SF to gain insights into our Russian SF to gain insights into our century? After all, we are constantly reminded that Russians "cannot write freely" in their system. It would seem that our Russian compatriots pinpoint essential questions, while American authors, "writing for the mass market," are frittering away their talents (and they are considerable) on tales that will satify the craving for simple (and simplified) adventure. One notes, too, that U.S. science fiction has returned to the "good old days" of the 50's, where DC Comics shoved Wally Wood's exceedingly well-endowed women into space opera — such women cooked, raised the children, and were home to welcome the space hero.

Then there are the Poles, Czechs, Rumanians, and Bulgarians. In Polish, Stanislaw Lem's books have set us to laughing uneasily at ourselves, as he brilliantly lampoons computer technology, cybernetics, the seemingly-immune and mute bureaucracy dominating scientific research. A number of Lem's books have been translated. The Ster Diaries research A number of Lem's books have been translated: The Star Diaries (Avon, 1977); Memoirs Found in a Bathub (Avon, 1976); and several other titles including The Cyberlad. The Futurological Congress, and The Investigation. Where is the American counterpart? Czech literature proudly displays Carel Capte's now-classic War With the Newts (English translation, 1937), and the Czechs continue that venerated literary tradition with the SF stories by Joseph Nesvadba. Modern psychiatry looms in these tales, but such theories as do in these tales, but such theories as do appear become involute, as seen in his In the Footsteps of the Abominable Snowman (English translation, Gollance, 1970). Rumania Valdimir Colin publishes science fiction that wryly needles human parasites of all sorts, and Bulgaria's Anton Donevenjoys spoofing the West's fascination with "lost civilizations," especially Atlantis.

Science fiction may be the mirror of the twentieth century, and Eastern European authors are telling us something very important. While the West hopes for Instant Solutions via technology, Russian writers are saying technology, Russian writers are saying that there are no simple solutions to that there are no simple solutions to any problem involving human beings and their machines. They say first we must study ourselves and how we view our technology in light of our bedrock values. The Czechs may sadly recall heir short time of independence, but they tell us how to deal with an imponderable outside force, but Nazi Germany or Soviet Russia: one searches the inner soul and gains small but accurate insights on the world at large. This kind of science fiction is rich and meaty, thought-provoking without being stuffy, and — most importantly — an avenue between the active minds of the authors and their readers. Why must we tolerate the incredibly shabby stuff that passes for SF in America? Why must the "fans" drag this most significant genre into the muck of yawn-producing and merely titillating stories of pseudo-sex and quasi-heroics? Stanley Kubrick said it loudly with his "2001," but we only wanted more of the 'special said it loudly with his "2001," but we only wanted more of the 'special effects.' The Russians are quietly plodding their way into space, while we speak smugly of the shuttle and our admittedly brilliant robotic space exploration. But when are we going to indulge in the coming Renaissance of the Age of Space? The Russians, in both their fiction and their research, seem to know.

John Scarborough teaches history and the classics. His column dealing with books, academics, the bureaucracy, questions of teaching and the like will appear every Wednesday.

Letters to the Editor

Earley endorsed

I would like to recommend Debbie Earley for freshman senator. Debbie was an outstanding leader during high school — president of her senior class, and captain of her fleth hockey team. She received honors such as the citizenship award, leadership award and most outstanding senior award. Debbie attends UK on a National Honor Society scholarship

Debbie is a hard worker and I believe that she will be an effective legislator. I urge freshmen to vote Debbie Earley.

Jack Heath

Urban snobbery

The pages of the Kernei frequently The pages of the Kersel frequently the pages of the Kersel frequently multiples rest. Not this time. The editorial of your October 15th issue ittled "Rednecis mar Big Blue's game." I'm not cerain how you interpret the word "redneck," but it has been used for docades — along with "grit," "stoney," "hill are," "stump jumper," "jack; ne savage," "dirt eater," etc. — by urbanites intending to degrade rural people. Given you paper's obvious predilection for slurs, I'm surprised that the football game's headline doesn't read "Niggers Spark Victory." Elsewhere Dr. Harriet Rose, amongst otherwise astute comments amongst otherwise astute comments regarding falling ACT scores, disparages the teaching of courses like "Appalachian Folklore" in histories hoshools on the grounds that they are not "universal and broad." Had members of the Kernel's provincial editorial board taken a course in Appalachian Folklore, they might've shed their ethnocentric, elitist blinders to realize that "rednecks" have, in many areas, traditionally maintained aesthetic and cultural systems of broad, universal significants. broad, universal significance

Dr. James P. Leary Folklorist

(Editor's note: The use of the term "reducek" — and its negative connotations — was not intended to degrade rural people. If that is the intent derived from its use, the Kernel apologizes. The use of the term referred to the uncivilized actions of certain spectators at the football game and was a blatant attempt to shame them into modifying their behavior. But, 'obvious predeliction for siurs,' shem!)

I would like to point my comments toward a certain Don Simandl, who was very upset about the conduct of B & E senior the band in an article that appeared yesterday. I would like to publicly apologize to you, sir, for the conduct of some of our band members at the Ole Miss game Saturday night. However, I do not understand your complete condemnation of the entire band over the actions of this small percentage. It is obvious that you do not have to sit in the band week after week and swallow drunken comments of all kinds from surrounding fans, including the foulest of language and absolute crudities that are aimed at some of our girls. Obviously, about the prevent of our number (290) have decided that they must "fire back." Most of us, however, have learned to accept this abuse, but again I apologize for the rowdy percentage.

apologize for the rowdy percentage.

As for your comment "who needs them," I am totally bewildered and very hurt. For the past several years we have fielded what has been considered in knowledgeable band circles as THE finest collegiate marching band in the nation. I'll tell you who needs us. The football program needs the band; the student body needs the band; and the reputation of the University and the state of Kentucky absolutely glisten when we perform at away football games! I am curious as to how many hours you give each week to the betterment of our University or state.

Your own fault

Mr. Simandi: You may say you didn't want to sit next to the band at the Ole Miss football game. I assume you had to get tickets like the rest of us, by standing in line for them. No one made you choose those seats. If you were afraid the band's music would be too loud and distracting why did you get seats there in the first place?

I sat next to the band and thoroughly enjoyed the game except for feeling like a sardine when five people tried to cram into the three seats next to me. As it turned out these people didn't even have seats in this section. When the real occupants arrived, there almost was a fist fight. Talk about immaturity. Are pot smoking and getting falling down drunk mature? Plenty of that went on among students not in band, why not say something about that?

I'm surprised more of us didn't hear the 200 band members making the witty comments you heard. 200 voices calling you names in unison surely would have been heard by all.

I'm mot trying to make excuses for those few who are rude and inconsiderate, but why condemn the entire band? If their behavior offended you so much you could have asked the people making the comments to stop, (this would have shown more maturity on your part than wanting to hit them) you could have complained to Mr.

on your part than wanting to hit them you could have complained to Mr have simply moved.

Who needs the band Mr. Simandl?

We do. They put on a great show and add to the spirit of the game.

Kathy Pauer A & S junion

Not'Now'

Well, I got sucked into another one.

I let television advertising and positive reviews persuade me to waste $3.75 on the currently popular movie Apocalypse Now.

This $30 million movie is about as worthless as the war it portrays, unless you enjoy watching bullet-riddled bodies, smoldering flesh and terror

Henderson, their director or you could stricken faces for three hours.

People say, "Oh, it's so revealing and intense though." So is a dead opossum spread all over the highway, but would you pay $3.75 to see that? I realize that war is cruel and immoral, but why watch a movie, in technicolor, about it?

In this case the movie industry is marketing toward a sector of the American public that has a warped view of entertainment. I guess I was included in that sector, but I learned my lesson. I hope this opinion keeps you from spending your money on Apocalypse Now.

:18

David Yeise

Letters policy

The Kentucky Kernel welcomes all contributions from the UK community for publication on the editorial and opinion pages. Letters, opinions and commentaries must be typed and triple-spaced, and must include the writer's signature, address and phone number. UK students should include their year and major and University employ should list their position and department.

should list their position and department.

The Kernel may condense or reject contributions, and frequent writers may be limited. Editors reserve the right to edit for correct spelling, grammar and clarity, and may delete libelous statements. Contributions should be delivered to Room 114 Journalism, University of Kentucky, Lexington, 87, 48596.

For legal reasons, contributors must present a UK ID before the Kernel will be able to accept the material.

Spike it!

Lady Kat volleyball player Kim Clay, number her power spike the 5-11 freshman from 17, attempts a spike during yesterday's win over Dayton, Ohio, is majoring in physical Eastern Kentucky in Alumni Gym. Known for education and coaching.

Page UK's second Black scholarship athlete

By DALE MORTON

UK's new apartments,

UK's new apartments, located on south campus near Commonwealth Stadium, now have a name: Greg Page Stadium View Apartments.

The apartments will be "the first facility on campus named for a black person," Jack Blanton, UK vice president for business affairs said.

Greg Page was UK's second black scholarship athelete following the desegregation of intercollegiate athletic teams in the mid-60's, Blanton said.

At the age of 19, Page suffered a fatal spinal injury in the fall of 1967 while practicing football under former head coach Charlie Bradshaw.

"We think it especially lifting that a student housing complex in sight of Commonwealth Stadium should be named for Greg Page," UK President Otis B. Singletary said.

According to Blanton, the name Greg Page Stadium View Apartments was a combination of two names.

The suggestion of "Greg Page Apartments" was submitted by former Black Student Union President Jonathan Hines and the name "Stadium View Apartments" by Fred Framer, a UK sophomore living in the apartments, Jean Lindley, UK housing director, said.

using director, said. "There were 92 or 93 (names submitted) altogether, I believe," she said. "I think it's a

After President Singletary presented the name to the Board of Trustees for consideration, it was accepted

We were wrong

Due to a reporter's error, Tuesday's Kernel reported that SG's special elections were to start yesterday. Actually, the special elections will begin today. The Kernel regrets the error and hopes that everyone will take the opportunity to vote.

by a unamious vote, Blanton said.

The UK Housing Office sponsored a contest to name the new apartments. Since Hines and Farmer submitted the winning entries, the will receive a dinner for two at UK's Spindletop Farm.

Before Page came to UK, he was an all-state defensive end at Middlesboro High School.

"Greg was the middle boy for three," said his father, Robert.

"We (Page and his wife by a unamious vote, Blanton said.

The UK Housing Office

Wilma) didn't know that it (the

A Workshop Focus: Female Sexuality

9am-2pm Carnahan House

Oct. 29

Keynote speaker: Dr. Paul Gebhard, Director of the Institute for Sax Research at the University of Indians Or Gebhard's talk is made possible through "final contributions from the College of Nursing, Family Studies and Educational Psychology and Courseling).

Mini-presentations on sexual relationship problems, adolescent sexuality, female sexuality at different ages and concepts of masculinity and femininity.

Registration Fee: $6.00 (includes lunch) Registration Deadline: October 26 Hegistration Deadline: October 26 Limited to 85 participants. For more information call 258-2751. Co-sponsored by: UK Woman's Club and Continuing Education for Women.

Counseling and Testing Center offers help to UK students

By DONNIE WARD

Interested in a class where the subject is yoursel? That is the primary purpose of the Counseling and Testing Center, whose staff of professional counselors help students solve academic, vocational and personal available

Counseling psychologist Charles O'Neill said, by exploring interests, aptitudes, values and personality traits, as student can learn more about himself and formulate suitable occupational choices for a lifetime career.

"The center provides assistance in career research, personal or emotional problems, and helps with learning academic skills by individual or group counseling, and may include psychological testing." O'Neill said.

Four full-time and five part-time counselors are ready to discuss confidentially students yroblems. The discussions are usually held in 50-minute sessions at the Counseling Center, third floor of the Matthews Building.

"Some past examples of counseling include adjustment to college, depression, making new friends, roommate problems and loneliness," O'Neill said.

The Center also provides a Study Skills conforcedit courses and workshops, in addition to studying special problems on an individual basis, said Peg Payne, learning skills coordinator.

The program is divided into

The four workshops

The four workshops available:
Study Reading and Classroom Strategies offers undergraduates basic study skills such as comprehension, note-taking, test-taking and time management.
Study Reading and Classroom Strategies for Evening School Students teaches basic study skills to academic life. Given in two colder students returning to academic life. Given in two actions, this class meets one evening per week or on Saturdays.
Study Skills for Women in Continuing Education is for developing reading and thinking skills and to help build a career for women returning to college.
Critical Reading and Indian studies and studies and studies and studies and studies and studies are for women returning to college.
Critical Reading and Indian studies and studies are studies and studies are studies and studies are studies.

Thinking is mainly for helping upperclassmen and graduate students in problem solving, personality factors and four courses, lasting from six to eight weeks at the beginning of each semester, Payne said.

"The Study Skills Program has had tremendous success and has operated since the Counseling and Testing Center has been in existence." She said.

The four workshors at a speed-reading course," Payne The The Topic Workshop and a speed-reading course, "Payne workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne The Topic Workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne workshop and a speed-reading course, "Payne workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne workshop and a speed-reading course, "Payne workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne workshop and a speed-reading course, "Payne workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne workshop and a speed-reading course, "Payne workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne workshop and a speed-reading course, "Payne workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne workshop and a speed-reading course, "Payne workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne workshop and payne worksh

"Special programs are also set up within each semester, including a Math Anxiety Class, Study Skills Derby, Test-Taking Workshop and a speed-reading course," Payne said.

The Test Taking Workshop involves discussions on objective and essay test strategies, and will be held in the Aids room of the M.I. King Library, having its next meeting Saturday, November 10.

A one-day workshop during each semester, called the Study Skills Derby, gives students the opportunity to discuss student-faculty relationships with faculty members.

Students concerned about math may be interested in the Math Anxiety Class. Interested students should contact Dr. Louise Dutt at 258-8701.

"The speed-reading course is new this year, meeting on second and fourth Fridays each month with a tremendous turnout," Payne said.

The Kennucky Kernel 210 Journalism Building, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40006, is published each class day during the spring and fall semesters and weekly during the summer session. Third class postage paid at Lexington, Kentucky 40511. Subscription rates are mailed $13 year, $6.50 semester, $2 for summer or one cent per year non-mailed.

Lynda Wilson

"Students planning to attend should try to arrive early to get a good seat." Although the class is successful, "speed reading is no substitute for study reading, but combining the two is favored." Most of the classes are held in White Hall Classroom Building, Payne said. Except for the Math Anxiety Class and the speed-reading course, study the speed-reading course, study skills have ended for the semester, but will resume again next semester.

BIKE-A-THON '79 00000

KAO ATA WKQQ

Awards Night At

TWO KEYS Thursday October 18 9-1:00

Presentation of awards begin at 10:00

WILDCAT SLEEPSHIRTS

Curl up with a good look in a Big Blue T by JAY-VEE of comfy poly cotton knit. WHY NOT have both! In royal blue, what else. "Wildcat" shortie will look great over jeans, too. $14; long UK sleepshirt, $21. D-352 Junior Lingerie, First Floor. Also available Louisville Downtown and Oxmoor.

Kernel Crossword

		L	JN	ITE	D	F	ea	tu	re	S	yn	di	ca	te
ACROSS	50 Make do		Tu	es	da	v's	s F	u	zz	le	S	olv	ec	i:
1 Boutique	51 Sparse
5 Cake topping	53 Primo -
10 Ago	57 Arranges:	πŤ	ďΝ	aΓΔ		D	0	ī	L	S		т	0	w	Г
14 — Scotia	2 words	0	N E	S					0				R
15 Rajah's wife	61 Singer Ed -	S	N A	K	E	F	Ε	N	C	Ε		M	A	R	ľ
16 S.A. Indian	62 Burn	E	S 1	A					K	Ε	T	T	L	Ε	ľ
17 Church area:	64 Bill of fare				A					L	0	0
2 words	65 Range			C									В
19 — Musial	66 Always			3 C			D	0	M	Ε	s		A	D	Ŀ
	67 Brace		L I	L	P	R	E	ľ	Ε	S	T		T	E	Ľ
21 Corroding	68 Desniser			S T								Р	н	A	ŀ
23 Propose	69 Others	5	113		8			8	E	Y	E	E	Ε	Į,	ŀ
25 Sqt., e.g.				ST					A	÷	N	E	1		i
26 Looker	DOWN			TA	Ē	'n	0	c					Ť
29 Supine	1 Photo	10	i l	A L	ı				ì			Ť	A	'n	ť
34 "For				G S					Ť				L jolly	3 Kiln	_	_	_	_		-	_	_	-	_	•	_	_	•
35 German river	4 First woman:	22	G	ael	s				4	5 1	Pr	ov	ide	er
37 Gist	Gr. myth.	24	Ki	dd	er	5			4	7 1	Die	9
38 Guile	5 Non-magnet-												P	re	fi
39 Ocean fish:	ic			arti									1 F
	6 A Ia —										se			- 64
	7 Roadhouse			bou					5				/ b	as	4
fiv				M/a									Δ.

Buy One ENCHILADA Get One FREE

(With Coupon)

OFFER EXPIRES: Oct. 22, 1979

118

(Limit one per customer)

By CHESTER SUBLETT/Kernel: Bottoms up

Lady Kat Gymnast Jackie Chatfield, a freshman physical education major, glances down while practicing her routine yesterday at Seaton Center.

Partners' Place

Dear P.P.

birth control pills and some times I have trouble remembering to take the pills. What should I do when I forget to take the pills?

Dear Forgetful,

If you forget to take a birth control pill, take it as soon as you remember and the next pill at the regularly scheduled time. at the regularly scheduled time. If you forget two or more pills, take them two days and use a "back up method" such as foam and condoms until you finish out your pack of pills. It is a good idea to associate taking your pills with some part of your daily routine. You are protected from pregnancy as long as you take the pills and use them correctly. If you habitually miss the birth control pills then yes, you could get pregnant.

get pregnant.

I met a new girl at school and several of my buddies told me to leave her alone because she has "bad blood." What is it and can it be contagious?

can approve it."

Davis, who has been the director for three years, explained that a sub-committee of the Composition Committee of the Composition Committee or the 102 classes. The committee, committee, composed of one part-time teacher, one TA and worked out yet." Dear J.L.

"Bad blood is a slang name for syphilis, a highly contagious venereal disease, it is easily spread by some kind of sexual contact. Syphilis can last a life-time if untreated. If untreated if can cause paralysis, brain injury, insanity, heart or skin disease. However, it can be easily cured by a doctor who will prescribe by a doctor who will prescribe.

However, it can be easily cured by a doctor who will prescribe penicellin or other antibiotics If you have had any sexual-contact with your new friend it is advisable that you have a check up done at the Lexington Fayette Country Health Department on Newmon Pike on Monday, Wednesday or Friday at their free V.D. clinic, or you can receive treatment at the Student Health Services Monday thru Saturday free if you have a valid health fee card you have a valid health fee card or on a fee for service basis.

For answers to your questions regarding birth control or related matters write: Partners' Place; Lexington Planned Procest Lexington Planned Parel hood; 508 2nd St.; Lexingt Ky. 40508; or call 252-8494.

YOU WON'T BELIEVE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Mother Nature takes her toll

... California earthquake injures 91... Tidal wave hits France

By ROBERT E. LOCKE

EL CENTRO, Calif. EL CENTRO, Calif.
Officials said yeserday that California's worst carthquake in eight years left cracks and separations in the major canal bringing water to this arid border region, leaving some cities in the area with only a two-day water supply.

City and county officials iffered on the effect of the canal damage. A county supervisor said water flow was "down to a trickle."

But Lonnie McGlocklin, assistant to the general manager of the Imperial Valley Water District, said El Centro had a two-day water supply in storage ponds, adding that by Thursday, "we will be moving towards normal flow." City and council officials met nued from page 1 "The text is approved by the Freshman Composition Committee," Davis said. "If a text then they come to me and I can approve it."

'Light in August' back at UK

neon lights left askew by the earthquake. The meeting was jarred by one of the hundreds of aftershocks from Monday afternoon's quake, which measured 6.5 on the Richter scale.

At least 91 persons received injuries in the quake, almost all of them minor. Damage in the area was put at "$10 milion to $12 million but that's a very preliminary figure," said-Imperial county Fire Chief Rudy Medina.

Initial reports from the Imperial county Fire Chief Rudy Mediona.

Initial reports from the Mexican Red Cross said that one Mexicali, Mexico, resident died in the quake. But that report was later denied by police officials in that city, who said the report was erroneous. Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. cut short an East Coast political visit and returned to Los Angeles, touring the Imperial Valley later in the day. Local authorities have already declared a state of emergency.

in the garage of the Imperial County fire station beneath declared a state of emergency takes

people to help people

Wanted

delivery

persons

A New Menu Every Meal

Meat and Vegeterian Entrees

Homemade Whole Wheat Bread

and Desserts Espresso Coffee

Lunch: Tues.-Fri. 11:00-2:00
Dinner: Tues.-Thurs. 5:30-9:00
Fri. & Sat. 5:30-10:00
Brunch: Sat. 10:00-1:30, Sun. 10:00-3:00

557 So. Limestone 253-0014

Across from U.K. Main Gate

The quake along the imperial fault, 150 miles southeast of Los Angeles, shifted some home foundations by a foot in El Centro and moved a road six inches.

Officials lowered the water level in the All-American Canal after the tremor caved in the earthen walls that bound both sides of the conduit, running 80 miles from Yuma, Ariz. to the Mexican border. The banks on the south side were damaged for about 500 yards, where the Lamperial Fault intersects the canal, and some water seeped into the desert.

The north bank, bordering newly-planted crops, collapsed for about 200 yards but no water escaped to flood the fields.

Immediately after the quake hit, irrigation officials cut the flow of water from the Colorado River by about 85 per cent to allow buildozers and cranes to rebuild the banks. Drag lines were also used to remove the silt that had fallen into the canal from the embankments.

embankments.

The canal is the chief aqueduct in a network of canals that has made this once arid desert region bloom with irrigated fields, yielding one of the nation's richest array of two faculty members, makes the final decision on what novels are included on the required reading list. Davis said the procedure of selecting books for the English 105 is different than that of the crops.

NICE, France (AP)—A tidal wave crashed down yesterday on a 60-mile stretch of the French Riviera, killing at least eight men who were building a seaside breakwater, police said. Five other persons were reported missing and feared dead on the popular Mediterranean resort coast. An undetermined number of yachts and other pleasure craft were wecked at many noints were wrecked at many points

three workers were reported missing. Two workers were rescued.

In the resort town of Antibes, the tidal wave swept two pedestrians into the sea and both are feared dead. The French weather service said the tidal wave was felt from Menton to Cannes and was probably caused by an underwater landslide off Antibes.

were wrecked at many points along the Riviera.

The huge wave swept cranes, buildozers and trucks from the breakwater at Nice harbor into the raging Mediterranean, on the police reported. They said few days by the Vár River, flooded by almost 10 inches of rain since Oct. 1.

FISH BOWL/BEST PETS

- Exotic Birds

Many apartment sized pets to choose from 1817 Alexandria Drive 277-0003

THREE MILE ISLAND AND

MARBLE HILL:

A Conference on Nuclear Power and Political Control

featuring:

Mayors of Madison, Ind., and Middletown, Pa. Legislative Counsel, Union of Concerned Scientists
Director, School of Nuclear Engineering, Georgia Tech

Thursday, Oct. 18, 7:30 p.m.

Seay Auditorium, Ag. Sci-North

Free Admission

Sponsored by The Office of the Dean of Undergraduate Studies

SUB CENTER SERVING OUTRAGEOUS SANDWICHES

FREE DELIVERY 269-4693

TUNA SALAD1.29

RÓAST BEEF...... MIXED.....

BOLOGNA......1.19 HAM..... TURKEY......1.29 SALAMI (Ge HAM.....129 ROAST BEE HAM & CHEESE ... 1.29 TURKEY

SALAMI (Genoa)...1.29 LIVERWURS SALAMI & CHEESE 139 TUNA..... LIVERWURST CHEESE ..

MINIMUM $1.75

"DIET THING"

1.552.25	Cheese on a bed of Lettu with Tomato Slices and y
1.552.25	choice of Dressing 1.9
noa)4.552.25	SIDE ORDERS
	COKE, SPRITE, TAB .3
F1.55 2.25	Lemonade or Ice Tea .3
	Coffee .2
	Assorted Potato Chips .2
	Hot Peppers .C
ST1.552.25	Kosher Pickle Slice

DELIVERY

CHEESE1.19 We Accept Checks

Mike Shutt moves

to defensive back

By JOHN CLAY

Athletic department has academic program designed to help Kentucky's student-athlete

By JEFF HOWERTON

The student-athlete appre-hensively sits in class. This may be hear are occasion in itself, but test time has arrived. Since he has been carefully buffeted by a zealous athletic department that caters to his every whim and writes his every paper, the student—athlete wonders how own. Whether scenario or merely a stereotype, this is part of the athletic lore at nearly every university. To combat this view and to help its student-athletes get their degree, UK has implemented an academic advisement program that tries to "help these guys help themselves," according to Assistant Athletic Director Bob Bradley.

Primarily designed for athletes in revenue—producing Primarily designed for athletes in revenue—producing sports (but available for all competitors, and all walk ons, male and female, the program uses various study aids, including "how to survive in college" lectures, required study halls for all freshmen and others with cumulative grade point averages of under 20, and a tutoring program.

The tutoring program—which, according to Athletic Director Cliff Hagan, costs the university approximately university approximately $23,000 per year, is done by the four graduate students employed by Bradley's office and by various undergraduKathy Magner is a typical tutor. The senior math education major has tutored for four semesters. She said she has already worked with approximately ten students this fall.

approximately four to eight hours a week in tutorial work. She defined her job as 'basically to help them (the athletes) to understand any thing they're not certain about as far as their class is concerned, so they can do it themselves." She aids athletes with the beginning mathematics courses.

athletes with the beginning mathematics courses. Although some students come by for weekly help, Magner said that test time brings many by for review help. Magner became involved with the program through a friend who was already tutoring tutoring.

The tutoring program has been beneficial in maintaining been beneficial in maintaining acceptable grade-point averages. According to Bradley, a cross-section of athletes and other students would produce a "normal bell curve." He cited last years basketball team (all with GPA's over 20) as an example.

The graduate students aid Bradley in various ways. Each student is assigned a group of athletes (three work with the football team, and one lives in Wildcat Lodge with the football team, and one lives in Wildcat Lodge with the football team, and one lives in Wildcat Lodge with the second transport of the second transport of the score than we were, we got a hodge-poot student is assigned a group of athletes (three work with the football team, and one lives in Wildcat Lodge with the sime to spend studyin most of us."

Wildcat Lodge with the time to spend studyin most of us."

In their first intercollegiate of the University of Sosh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of Josh Pons, a co-cap variety and the University of the Wildcat Lodge with the basketball players).

A third-year law student from Hustonville, Paul Long said that he spends approxi-mately 15-20 hours per week with his group of 35 football players. He said that last year, his first on the job, all six of his senior players received their

According to Long, student-According to Long, student-athletes undergo a change in college. He said that in high school, they are the star performers, but they realize while in college, "Hey, I need to get my degree." Since he lives with his players and since there are only fourteen of them, Charlie Weed spends considerable time with said. "I have worked with both girls and guys-these people really aren't stupid. Most people don't realize how much time they have to put in their athletic field. They don't have the time to spend studying like most of us."

of the score than we were," said Josh Pons, a co-captain. "We've got a hodge-podge of Players on this team and we really didn't know what kind but team we would field but team we would field hard and played enthussatically, and we almost beat them."

In their first intercollegiate effort, the University of Kentucky Lacrosse Club surprised a veteran University of Tennessee club in Knoxville Sunday afternoon, losing just 12-11.

The young Kentucky team twice railied from five-goal deficits to close the margin to one goal, but they could not wrest the lead from Tennessee in the late stages of the contest.

in the late stages of the contest.
"I don't think anyone was more surprised by the closeness the basketball program. The graduate business student from Bloomfield, Iowa said that he had to change some classes for his players due to schedule conflicts with basketball practice sessions. His duties, once school starts, are primarily study hall supervision, tutorial session arrangements, and teacher contact (to help athletes who are having scholastic difficulties). Perhaps Magner best justifies the existence of the UK academic advisement for athletes program.

academic advisement for athletes program. "One thing I don't like to hear is the stereotype of athletes as 'dumb jocks'," she said. "I have worked with both

Pirates tie World Series

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dave Parker and Willie Stargell, the power part of Pittsburgh's lineup, drove in a pair of seventh-innning runs to ignite the Pirates attack as the tied the 1979 World Series at three games apiece by defeating Baltimore 4-0 in last night's sixth game.

After two weeks of inactivity, the football coaching staff asked former starting quarterback Mike Shutt if he wanted to switch positions and he sald, "yes." Shutt will be a defensive back the rest of the Wildcats' 1979 season. He says his new position is "a lot of fun."

battimore 4-0 in last night sixth game.

It was the second straight victory for the Pirates and forced the Series to a decisive seventh game tonight. Scott McGregor, the winner in game three, will pitch for the Orioles, possibly against Jim Bibby, who started game four but was not involved in the decision for the position.

"Playing quarterback makes

System CLAY

Sports Edior

Mike Shutt, UK's starting quarterback at the beginning of the season has moved to defensive back because of his injured shoulder.

Shutt, a 6-4, 190-pound senior, has not played since UK's third game against Maryland. He injured his shoulder on the first play of the season against Mamin of Ohio. "I've been sitting around doing nothing for the past couple of weeks, so I'm just glad to be out there," said Shutt yesterday after his first day on the opposite side of the field. Shutt is really not new to the defensive backfield. His sophomore year, the Louisville native played some strong safety, but appeared in only three junior varsity games at the position. "Playing quarterback makes Pittsburgh.

Left-hander John Can-Left-hander John Candelaria and bullpenn ace Kent Tekulve combined for the seven-hit shutout, as Pittsburgh kept alive its chances to become only the fourth team to recover from a 3-1 deficit and win a best-of-seven series.

Candelaria, who has been bothered by back and rib cage injuries, pitched six solid innings before he was lifted for Tekulve.

it a little easier adjustment," said Shut: "I know the coverages and routs, and LSU does more shifting and runs more motion than anybody." Most of all, Shutt is just glad to be out on the field. "It's a little difficult hitting instead of getting hit. In fact, it's a welcome surprise. I feel a lot better now. It's a lot of fun." Shutt says the shoulder injury, which is defined as a torn rotator cuff, does not hamper his playing defense.

injury, which is defined as a torn rotator cuff, does not hamper his playing defense. "It didn't bother me, getting hit today," said Shutt, who added that he will begin wearing a leather harness on his shoulder today. "I can't throw and they can't use a quarterback who can't throw." Shutt said the move originated Sunday when the coaching staff mentioned a possible switch. "They asked me what I thought about the move," he said. "They had nobody backing up (Andy) Molls with Richie Boyd backing up both Wildcat and safety." However, Shutt is not sure when he will be thrust into a game situation. "I don't know if they expect me to play against LSU or not."

Volleyball victory

The Lady Kat volleyball squad defeated Eastern Kentucky 15-9, 15-5, and 15-13 in the best-of-five match last night at Alumni Gymnasium. The Kats will face Northern Kentucky Thursday at 7 p.m. in their first match ever at Memorial Coliseum.

258-4646

for sale

BEER 3.99 CASE-Big Daddy Liquors

MARANTZ RECEIVER-2 advent speakers $200 873-7634 after

The Kernel Classified office is located in room 210 of the Journalism Building on campus. All ads must be paid in advance.

classifieds

Pons said the UK club would

"probably" play Tennessee one more time this fall and then "we'll arrange for a five or six game schedule for the spring."

help wanted

BEER 1-90 CASE-Big Dady Liquors 1375 TRILIMEN SPITFIRE-4-spec 1375 TRILIMEN SPITFIRE-4-spec 1375 TRILIMEN SPITFIRE-4-spec 1376 TRILIMEN SPITFIRE-4-spec 1376 TRILIMEN SPITFIRE-4-SPEC 1376 TRILIMEN SPITFIRE-4-SP

ABK OUR DRIVERS-they earn over SS per hr. Domino's Pizza has immediate over own car with insurance, able to over own car with insurance, able to over own car with insurance, able to work rights and week-ins and hussle during rush Apply in person Domino Nicholiasville Road. Advancent Opportunity available. 89/10

JOIN THE NO. 1 PIZZA DELIVERY TEAM-in the nation. If you are 16 or over. Team-in the nation of you are 16 or over. Team-in the nation of your are 16 or over. Team-in the nation of your and the national properties of the national properties. So Journal of the national properties of the national properties of the November 10 properties. The national properties of the November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the November 10 properties of the November 10 properties. The November 10 properties of the No

KING CLEVELAND TRUMPET-600 $150, Gemeinhardt flute $150, 255-4090, 15O19

Men's 10KT $30.00 & Up

Women's 10KT

$15.00 & Up

$ $ CASH $ $ Paying Cash for Used Class Rings

High School or College

Also Buying Scrap Silver Bluegrass Coin Shop 444 S. Ashland Ave. (in Chevy Chase) 269-6213 269-1012

JBERTY MOBILE HOME-12' x 65', 3-pedroom, emaculate condition, 257-

AGNER LONG LEATHER COAT-worn once $175 Size 10 286-9377. 15019 included historic district 253-3285. 16O22

ROOM FOR RENT-meals and laundry $225 a month 269-2234 Mrs. Johns. 16O22

TYPING DONE-Most items 90 cents a page, pica, accurate, close to campus, 255-2706. 5N2 TYPING-Thesis dissertation, term paper experience. Wanda Hodge 299-4832. 1031

Darryl's 1891 Restaurant

3292 Nicholasville Rd.

NOW HIRING

Waiters & Waitresses (day shift) Utility Staff (day & night shift) (day & night shift) Host & Hostesses

Apply in Person Mon-Fri 2:30-4pm

254-7084. 17018 silver German hephal publy, female, wearing red searing red control of the contr

services

RESUMES-general typing, low prices and high quality executive secretaria services 276-4523 386 Walle services 276-4923 386 Walter Acrons 17023 STERRO REPAIR-fast expert service with all work guested Call 286-590, 6-107M 260-19 THEN CALL THEN CALL

PROFESSIONAL TYPIST-IBM T/W Thesis experience; reliable and reasonable; M. Sanders - 269-6526. 11024

roommate wanted

FEMALE ROUMMATE WARTED-near campus $83.50 plus utilities 255-7441. 17023 $100.MONTH-1/3 utilities Call after 3:30, 233-3866. 15019 MALE ROOMMATE WANTED-spacious two bedroom $115 monthly half utilities deposit 278-6932 evenings. 16019

personals

COME OVER AND MEET-the sorority swir-teams. 9PM Friday Oct. 19 Sigma Pi sin' vim All campus band party. 364 Aylestu.d. $1.50 donation. 160.19 FACULTY-staff Bible discussion. Noon, Fridays Room 110 Office Tower Bring your lunch. 170.19

your lunch. 17019

J. LINCOLN OF SIGMA CHI-will speak on Homosexuslilly Friday at the Sigma Chi House. 17019

WANTED-football tickets for the Tennessee game. Call 257-2966 or 885-4332. 16018

AGR BRAD F-Thanks for listening and understanding Sunday night.

BW 16018

doesn't get in the way Your Frends. 17017.

SIGMA NU ROSS-five years ago today you went from Rajos (Riches. 17017.

KKGAMMA DERRY OUEEN CAMDIDATE CONTROL OF MY OUT GUEST OF THE CONTROL OF THE YOUR CAMDIDATE CAMDIDATE CONTROL OF THE YOUR CAMDIDATE CAMDIDATE CONTROL OF THE YOUR CAMDIDATE CAMDIDATE

force. 17017

DELTA DELTA DELTA SWIMMERS-will create "smoke on the water"! Get ready to take home the winning trophy. Your Sigma Pi Coaches - Leo C. and Steve A 17017

A. 17017

NEW PIKE LITTLE SISTERS-Glad to have you. Looking forward to a fantastic year. Dana and Tracy. 17017

ABALONEY-The "Singing Sheet" strikes again - in French! Spader, P.R. 17017

memos

PRAYER AND SHARE-at the Westey Foundation. Tuesday rights at 7PM. Foundation. Fou

Rates

CLASSIFIEDS One day, $1.00 Three days, 95 cents per day Five days, 90 cents per day

The above rates are for ads of 10 words or less, there is an additional charge of 12 cents for each extra word per day.

LANCES HONORARY MTG-Thursday
Oct. 18 President's Room (Stud. Canter)
6.30PM. (Important-Membership selection). 16017

HE UK FENCING CLUB-meets 12esday and Thursday nights - 738 of the 830 in the Conditioning Room at the 830 in the Conditioning Room at the Members! 16018

FREE WRITING SKILLS TUTORING-In King Library, Aids Room (Rm 104 King South) Monday 5-9; Wed. 10-12, 5-7; Thurs. 12)2. 16O17

UK OUTDOOR CLUB MEETING-cold weather camping/hiking seminar - plan natural bridge hike Shelf-ones Trail - everyone interested welcome - Wed 7,30PM Seation Bmt 123. 17071 SEBINAR NOTICE-Thuan Van Trunong, Departments of Economics and Mathematics 'Choice of Estimators for Regression Models with AdMA Engression Models with Mode

Campus Party Weds. Oct. 17

9-1 Age 18 and up Welcome! Proceeds Donated Muscular Dystrophy

STUDENT HEALTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE-will sponsor a lour and presentations of the Student Health Clinic, Oct 18th 7PM Health Service lobby, 17018
ATTENTION RECREATION MAJORS Encreation Clinic meeting Thursday Detervione is urged to attend Get excited! 18018

BEO THE PRE-MEDICAL PREDENTAL HONDRARY will meet PRIVAL HONDRARY WILL BE BERNELD SHOW MEET
BENNELD SHOW MEET
BERNELD SHOW MEET
BERNELD SHOW MEET
BERNELD SH

for rent

Cell 269-198. 17016

47 CHEVY FOCKUM-model one start-varied pool of the Cell 269-198. 17018

THE SECRET-FOCKUM-med one start-varied pool ober offer 258-428. 17018

THE SECRET-FOCKUM-med one 17019

1873 CUBE CUTLAB-new time P. B. & P. S. p. septime condition 1896. 277-2238. 16017

1873 CUBE CUTLAB-new time P. B. & P. S. p. septime seconder condition 1896. 277-2238. 16017

FERROR PRECISION BASE-Excel. Could include case. 16017

ANATOMIC SECRET SECRET PRECISION 588-5 1510

deposit 269-2005 sites 5. 11017

1706 RALE-entition breats bid. $375 call 278-4357. 11017

POR BALE-entition breats bid. $375 call 278-4357. 11017

KINKO'S COPIES (C)
PROCESSING

FEMALE ROOMMATE-to share apartment with same, duplex near Lexington Mall. Private room and bath $137.50, 1/2 utilities. 266-0652 7-10PM. 11017

exandria, $75 month plus electric plus eposit. 253-1483 keep trying. 12017

Traditional Halloween Bowl gets an early kick off

By STEVEN W. LOWTHER

A group of residents from Holmes Hall, a freshmen dormitory which houses male students, invaded the upper lounge of Haggin Hall early last Friday morning in an alleged attempt to steal a large wooden barrel.

The barrel is the symbolic trophy awarded to the winning team in the annual Halloween Bowl— a flag football game played between male residents of the two freshmen dorms. Last year's Haggin team won the game.

About twelve men entered the lounge Friday at 12:30 a.m., Haggin night clerk Tom Dickinson said. While two of the intruders stood at the office group supposedly tried to unlock the chains which secured the barrel to the lounge wall.

Don Metry, head resident at Don Metry, head resident at Haggin, went out of the office's side door and locked the lounge door exit to prevent the intruders from leaving. Metry later released all but a few members of the group who insisted they didn't know what was going on. Clay Mason, a resident adviser at Haggin, arrived on the scene shortly after the release of most of the members of the group.

"They can't get it (the trophy) by winning," Clay said, "so they have to come over here and steal it."

"so they have coome over here and steal it."
"It's no big thing really."
"It's no big thing really."
Metry said. "They do it every year. This year we decided not to put up with it because of what happened last year."
Metry said after some Holmes' residents to take the trophy again, but added the doesn't think it will work.
Haggin Hall has won the trophy from Haggin fast year, several Haggin residents tooks large Wildcat sign off Holmes'

"And to make matters worse," Metry said, "they went back and stole Holmes' color television on the night of the Muhammed Ali fight. They didn't have anything to watch the fight on.
"When things started to get out of hand to the point of stealing a color television, stealing a color television.

Italian financer hospitalized

NEW YORK (AP)—Italian financier Michele Sindona, who disappeared mysteriously two and one-half months ago, surfaced in Manhattan on yesterday and was hospitalized with. a leg wound, federal officials said.

officials said.

A government spokesman said two federal marshals were sent to Doctors Hospital to guard Sindona. He was not under arrest but a 24-hour guard was assigned, according to an FBI spokesman.

A determination will be made later on how long 59-year-old Sindona, who faces trial on a host of federal charges involving the failure of a major bank, will remain in the hospital.

An FBI spokesman said that at 11 a.m., Sindona called the office of Marvin Frankel, his attorney, from a telephone Frankel was out of town, Frankel was out of town, so one of his associates and Pier Sandro Mangoni. Sindona's son-in-law, went to the telephone booth and took Sindona to Mangoni's Park Avenue residence.

A doctor arrived and "determined he (Sidona) should be admitted" to the hospital, the FBI spokesman said.

One donor can earn up to $50

Plasma donor special with this ad.

o plasma alliance

"We were told he was haggard looking and has a dressed wound on his left leg," the spokesman said, adding the financier was sedated and would thus not be interviewed by federal officials until today. The spokesman, who declined to be identified, said he did not know where Sindona was before he made the telephone cail.

Sindona disappeared Aug. 2, and since that time several messages were sent to his family from alleged kidnappers and from himself.

He had been scheduled to stand trial Sept. 10 on fraud charges involving the 1974 collapse of the Franklin National Bank. He was also fighting extradition to Milan.

The FBI never termed the disappearance a kidnapping, but Frankel said he had received letters from Sindona and his alleged captors.

In one of the notes, sent to the national saileged captors.

and his alleged captors

In one of the notes, sent to Magnoni, the family was told:
"If you value his life, you will provide all the facts in your provide all the taxts in your possession."

Sindona said in some of the correspondence that his alleged captors had demanded information about his financial dealings and warned that his life depended on the response.

$1000

vest n (F veste, fr. It, fr., L vestis garment) Coat without big, bulky arms, providing warmth without restriction of moveme

Scotty's Pink Pig

BAR-B-Q

1466 Village Dr.

Lexington (606) 253-2910

All our meat is Hickory

Smoked Pit Bar-B-Q.

are found at the leading area outdoor speci-alty store, specif. Phillip Gall & Son, 230 W. Main St. and in Lex. Mall.

DISCOUNT CALCULATORS

AST DELIVERY GUARANTEED. Use cashiers check under well ship within 48 hours (subject to availability), hipping charge. Call-f. residents add 6% tax. (Visa and MC accretes, 25 surcharge on HP). All units brand new charges on the continuity brand new charges on the continuity brand new charges.

(213) 744-1444

be a ······ Kernel writer

Drop by Rm. 114 Journalism Bldg.

Drug use revealed Elvis' aunt prints his private life

NEW YORK (AP) — Elvis Presley, his veins pumped full of drugs, died hours after he asked God 10 "help meget back when I fee. down like this," according to a book by his step mother and three stepbrothers.

stepmother and three stephothers.
Excerpts from the book — Elvis: We Love You Tender, by Dee Presley, David Stanley, Billy Stanley and Rick Stanley and Rick Stanley and Park Stanley and Rick Stanley eldest of the tare singer's entourage. Rick Stanley, eldest of the trio, said that he not only saw Presley take ampletamines, but also injected Elvis with

Continued from page 1 we lack progressive govern-ment in economic develop-

He called universities the 'hubs of training, research and growth of Kentucky," and proposes more college courses for community development and e-momie growth.
"We need more courses related to employment —vocational education. We should stop looking down our noses on vocational education courses," he said, and he advocated more job-oriented colleges.

Continued from page 1 UK is increasing because more women are returning to campus.

"Last year, 19.2 percent of

Rogers opposes CHE

colleges. I won't tie his hands; I'll give Rogers supports running him a hand," he said.

them. He said Presley was "addicted, for sure."

Ne never seen anybody who could take it like that," said Stanley, who admitted that he had been addicted himself. "You just don't do dope like he did and live through it."

Stanley said he refilled a prescription for Dilaudid

Stanley said he refilled a prescription for Dilaudid capsules for Presley on the day of his death, and returned to hear Presley pray, "Lord help me to have insight, and forgive me my sins. Dear God, please help me to get back when I feel down like this, and to always strive for good in the world. In the name of Jesus Christ. Amen."

Amen."
Stanley then said Presley

mate Louie B. Nunn's wish to abolish the Council on Higher Education, favoring a board

The money is "earmarked" in his will for UK and two charities; Blanton identified them as being a Baptist church and Samford University in said he shold not be disturbed until 4 p.m., because he needed "plenty of rest for the tour." He was found unconscious on the bathroom floor of his home at 2:30 p.m., and was pronounced dead an hour later.

David Stanley said he had found Presley unconscious on the bathroom floor often before, and speculated that he had suffered an overdose of drugs he took that morning. The excerpt alleges that habit while serving in the army in 1959, and told Rick Stanley that he brought home "two trunks full of Dexedrine." David Stanley said he had

The singer's narcotics and amphetamines were legally prescribed for him by a number of doctors, who cared only about the "cars and other gifts he gave them for writing prescriptions," Rick Stanley said.

According to the excerpt, Dr. George Nichopoulous, who has since been civilly charged with indiscriminate charged with indiscriminate prescription writing, often went into Presley's medicine cabinet and replaced drugs with vitamins. But Presley always was able to get drugs from other sources.

But the writers say that Presley always thought his drugs were legitimate, and disapproved of the use of drugs like marijuana.

adoust the Contain on Ingine Education, favoring a board which will be comprised of professional educators. Currently, the CHE is primarily made up of attorneys and prominent businessmen, and Rogers claimed there are too many different levels (from kindergarten through college) "competing for the limited educaction dollars available." Rogers called gubernatorial candidate Nunn "a tough quarterback" and he wanted to be "the number one substitute. I won't tie his hands; Il give Women returning to UK campus about one quarter of a million dollars," said Jack Blanton, vice president for business affairs. Blanton said UK's share will go for capital improvements and scholarships for UK-bound northern Kentucky students.

"Last year, 19.2 percent of the enrollment was represented by part-timers; this year they represent 19.9 percent," the report stated. In addition, the number of full-time women students increased this fall over last year's by 5.2 percent. According to the report, women currently make up 46.8 percent of the student body. A "preliminary count" of UK's current enrollment on campus is 22.5565 students. Singletary reported. In other husiness Finance Singletary reported. In other business, Finance Committee Chairman Albert Clay told the Board money from one half of the $478,000 Thomas Brooks estate, now held in a trust for his wife, Marion Brooks, will become UK's when she dies.

Guys & Gals! Haircut Special! Two For The Price Of One!

Here's your chance at a very special kind of two-tert Gals, on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday bring your favorite guy with you to any McAlpin's Styling Center and get two cuts for the price of one with any of our require styling. any of our regular stylists!

> REDKEN Present Coupon And Student I.D. Void After Nov. 17.1979 We Now Specialize In Ear Piercing!!!

LEXINGTON MALL 269-3511 TURFLAND MALL

SOUTHPARK

SAVE ON CLASSIFIEDS

75 cents

One Day Only - 10 words with this coupon.

Good until October 31, 1979

Kernel

Classified Ad Form

Print your want ad or personal here:
Personals Lost and Found For Sale Wanted Help Wanted For Rent Services Other	Dates you want your ad to run
Make your check payable to The Kernel Press, Inc. Mail it with this form or bring it by our office, Rm. 210,	See the top of classified section for rates. Your name: Campus address:
Journalism Bldg. All classifieds must have payment in advance.	Phone number: