MIKADO TO BE STAGED WOODLAND AUDITORIUM NOV. 23, MATINEE WED.

Strong Cast Now Rehearsing Under Direction of Lampert

CAST TO RECEIVE PINS

Mikado May be Taken on The Road

"To those who render efficient, faithful and satisfactory service in the production of the Mikado will be given a pin or some small insignia, in token of appreciation. This applies to Principals, chorus, orchestra and all," Professor Lampert who is directing the opera, has announced. Orchestra and chorus rehearsals are going along beautifully and the "Mikado" will very probably be presented on the evening after the Thanksgiving football game, at Woodland Auditorium.

No doubt there have been better companies who have rendered the "Mikado" but certainly never a more beautiful or a larger chorus than on this occasion. The cast is being very carefully selected. Chorus rehearsals are to be held three times each week on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 3:30 and every member is urgently requested to be present each time. The orchestra now composed of twenty-two members rehearses for at least two hours each week and is working splendidly.

A large crowd is expected to attend the "Mikado" composed of faculty, students, Lexingtonians, and out-of-town people. The prices will probably not exceed $1.00 and so is within the reach of everyone. From all present indications there will be only one evening performance and one matinee. The matinee will be given on the Wednesday afternoon preceding Thanksgiving Day for the benefit of the school children of Lexington. Last year at the matinee of "Robin Hood" the Opera House was crowded to its limit with children and they made the most appreciative audience for which any company might wish. This matinee serves a two fold purpose. Not only does it acquaint the children with a very popular light opera but gives the members of the company an opportunity for a very effective rehearsal.

There is a great probability that the "Mikado" will be taken on the road. Negotiations with the Louisville Alumni Club are pending in regard to presenting it there. On account of the difficulty of accommodating such a large company it is thought best to take the opera only to towns near enough for the company to return to Lexington after the performance.

Part of the proceeds of the "Mikado" will be used to pay for uniforms for the band.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

There will be a meeting of all graduate students in chapel, Monday at the fifth period. All members who are registered under Dr. Terrell are urged to be present and on time as the meeting is of great importance to those concerned.

"BIG BOY"

Pribble put Butler, Kentucky on the map last Saturday when he bucked the ball over for the first touchdown that the Wildcats have ever scored on Vandy. On the defense he was one of the outstanding players of the entire contest.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS WILL BE COMPULSORY

Students Who Fail to Report Will Be Subject to Suspension

Physical examination of men will be conducted at the Dispensary every afternoon from 3:15 to 5:30 except Saturday. Doctors Wilson, McLean and Herring will assist Doctor Lreland and Doctor Holmes. This examination is given each year, the object being to detect physical defects that need remedying, to assure those who are physically sound that they are so, and lastly to establish a helpful and sympathetic point of contact between the Department of Health and the students.

Doctor Josephine Hunt of the city will make physical examinations of new girls only. She will be at the girl's gymnasium each morning from 8:00 to 10:00.

All students will also be given a dental examination each year. The object of this examination is to detect and record all dental defects. Such students needing dental treatment will be urged to have same done by dentists in the city or at home. The local dentists will be asked to treat students in accordance with their ability to pay. This will make it unnecessary for anyone to suffer because of inability to have teeth repaired. Doctor E. C. Elliott of the city will conduct the clinic on Wednesdays, 3:30 to 5:00 at the Dispensary, under the direction of Miss Greathouse, dentist nurse.

In order that these examinations may be finished before Thanksgiving it is absolutely necessary that every student come when requested by notice. These notices will be put in letter boxes two or three days in advance. Those who fail to come when notified, without adequate excuse, will be subject to suspension by order of the President of the University.

The instructors are asked to excuse men for the latter part of the eighth hour and women during the first and second hours in the morning.

NEW CADET OFFICERS ELECTED IN R. O. T. C. BATTALION OF CADETS

Office of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Created by Army Law

PROMOTIONS MADE

Advanced Course Men Chosen As Provisional Cadet Officers

In accordance with the new strength tables in the organization of the army a new office has been created in the University R. O. T. C. The rules demand that the battalion of cadets be commanded by a cadet official with the rank of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel with a Major G-3, operation officer and second in command. The office of Lieutenant Colonel is the highest office granted by the R. O. T. C. to a cadet in the battalion. All men who are taking training in the advanced course have been chosen as provisional cadet officers in the battalion.

Promotions and appointments in the Department of Military Science have been delayed this year due to the eligibility of an unusually large number of men in the course, for the offices open to the cadets in the battalion. However, the following appointments of Cadet Officers for the academic year 1921-1922 having been approved by the President, and the Professor of Military Science and Tactics, are hereby published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

"INJUN BILL"

Mentor Juneau is coaching old Kentucky back into the ranks where she belongs. His knowledge of football, his ability to transmit that learning to others, and his gift, loosely described as personality, have produced a team which can carry the name of "Wildcats" and all that the name implies. When he came into our midst last year we began to realize what we were capable of. The showing made against Vanderbilt last Saturday was only a starter. He is here to beat Centre and he is striving with his men in order to reach the coveted victory.

"BOBBY"

Lavin played the best game of his career. His broken field running was second to none, and he had the good fortune and ability to make the second tally against Kentucky's age old rivals in the game of one week ago. He has been on crutches since the game.

LEXINGTON HERALD ENCOURAGES WILDCATS

Editorial in Tuesday's Issue Throws Light on Feeling of Townspeople

The Kernel so greatly appreciates the encouraging attitude that both Lexington's excellent daily newspapers are maintaining toward the University and the student body that it takes pleasure in reproducing in part an editorial found in the Lexington Herald of Tuesday.

"Victory does not always go to the winner.

"The final score of the Vanderbilt-Wildcat football game on Stoll Field Saturday, showing a twenty-one to fourteen of the Commodores and a conclusive defeat of the University of Kentucky eleven, fails to tell what actually happened on the Lexington gridiron.

"Vanderbilt made the highest score. The referee accorded the game to the Tennesseans, and rightly, for they had won their points in sportsmanlike honesty, cleanly, in true football manner.

"But a football score may tell everything or it may tell nothing. In the Vanderbilt-Wildcat game it only reveals what happened if one reads between the lines. When Pribble, the Wildcat fullback, crossed the Vanderbilt goal line it was the first time in more than twenty years a University of Kentucky player had crossed that goal. When Lavin followed suit later in the game he did again what no Wildcat had done in ten consecutive years of annual contests before him. When Vanderbilt's men bucked the tackles they didn't find the old "holes" they were accustomed to. The relation of the teams, the comparison of strength with former years, the success of open full play, at these showed the Wildcats to be winners.

"Nor was the outcome of the gridiron contest the only thing in which Kentuckians may find pride. The size of the attendance, the enthusiasm of the crowd, their cheers even after defeat, for a team which played the game fair and played it hard, these things count.

LAVIN, STAR KENTUCKY ATHLETE IS ELECTED SENIOR CLASS PRES.

Senior Class Honors Are Distributed Among All Colleges

WOMEN ARE OFFICERS

Elizabeth Kimbrough Voted Most Popular Girl.

The annual Senior class election which was held in chapel Monday, 5th hour resulted in the following selections:

- President Robert (Bobby) Lavin
- Vice-president Josephine Evans
- Secretary Margaret Harbison
- Treasurer Joseph (Bud) Slomer
- Orator Raymond Johnson
- Permanent Secretary Cova Watson
- Class Prophet Eva Congleton
- Historian Henrietta Rogers
- Grumbler Burton Prewitt
- Most Popular Girl,

Elizabeth Kimbrough

In summing up the brief history of four years Robert Lavin, or Bobby as he is more familiarly known, stands out as a prominent figure in University circles. He has been an invaluable member of both the varsity basketball and football teams and has proven himself a dauntless foe. In addition to these achievements he is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, of Lamp and Cross and of Mystic Thirteen.

Josephine Evans has in the four years that she has been at the University learned to number her friends by the score. She has been actively interested in all phases of student activities including Kappa Kappa Gamma, the Y. W. C. A., and the Girl's Glee Club.

Margaret Harbison better known as "Deanie", is a girl who is known campus-wide as one who can accomplish that which she sets about to do. As a member of Chi Omega, of Y. W. C. A., as Vice-president of her class in her sophomore year and lastly as a member of the Girl's Basketball Team '19-'20 she has proven herself worthy of the office of Secretary of the class of '22.

It would be exceedingly difficult to determine for which of his accomplishments "Bud" Slomer is better known. For his prowess in baseball or his skill with the saxophone for he does them equally well.

When you hear the name of Burton Prewitt you immediately think of the word Business Manager for in that capacity has he best served the Strollers and the Kernel. He is also familiarly known as an orator having held that position last year. As a member of Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Delta

DOCTOR McVEY LAUDS TEAM, BAND, STUDENTS

President Spoke on "The Will to Do" In Chapel Tuesday

Doctor McVey conducted the devotional exercises and made the address in Chapel Tuesday morning, taking for his theme "The Will to Do." He publicly congratulated the football team on their game with Vanderbilt, saying their spirit and efforts were all a president could wish for. He complimented the student body very highly on their untiring enthusiasm throughout the game and expressed appreciation to the band on its splendid appearance, marching and playing.

Dr. McVey said "many people fail to get the best out of the opportunities of college because they lack enough will and purpose and set their goals too low. The four years spent in college is the time for constructive dreaming and planning and the person who has the will, purpose, ability, and a moderate degree of personality is the one who makes his dreams and plans come true. To the young man or woman who engages in clean living, high thinking, and hard work, all gates are open. It is true that sometimes failure is due to bad health but more often it is due to lack of will."

Besides the very important things of study and exercise in college Dr. McVey very earnestly urged the formation of the habit of reading. He believes it would be excellent for every one to read a great many of the biographies of the men who have made our country and of the men or women who have been highly successful in the particular line in which you are interested. He wants the students of the University of Kentucky to acquire the habit of the reading of the best in literature.

Dr. McVey called particular attention to the need of leadership in American life. "We naturally expect to get our future leaders from the present day college groups. Without leadership there can not be further development and advancement." The President pointed out these qualities which he considers necessary in a successful leader: 1. Courage; the leader must have courage to meet the unscrupulousness which we find in every walk of life; 2. Patience; the lack of patience is the cause of the failure of Radicalism; 3. A Sense of Humor, it saves the relationship with other people very often and relieves many difficulties; 4. Health, he must know something of proper exercise, of the care of the body, of sanitation and Hygiene. 5. Knowledge, without it there cannot be successful leadership; 6. Ideals, an adequate leader must have a spiritual attitude of mind and ideals.

If the University of Kentucky can produce real leaders it will be a blessing without compensation to the state and to our country as well. The speaker closed with the remark that, "To go through college is a job but the results are satisfying."

ROLLS-ROYCE ENGINE LOANED ENGINEERS

Expert From Rolls-Royce Company Will Lecture to Engineers

Through the efforts of C. H. Anderson, Professor of Engineering Design, College of Engineering, University of Kentucky, the American branch of the Rolls-Royce Automobile Co. has loaned the University one of its engines to be used in test work and in addition to this has agreed to send an expert here to lecture to engineering students on the operations and achievements of this wonderful machine in Europe and other parts of the world.

The importance of this concession is indicated in some measure by the fact that the Rolls-Royce engine, said to be the most nearly perfect automobile engine in the world, is valued at $6,000 outside the chassis and the Rolls-Royce Co. has decided to take this step is evidence of the importance of the work being done in the Engineering College here.

Professor Anderson has been engaged intensively for more than two years with the vital problem of correct carburetion and it is in the prospective fuel saving possibilities of his device that the Rolls-Royce Co. is chiefly interested. It very frankly told Professor Anderson that it desired, not private gain, but in the interest of perfecting the best automotive mechanism possible, that it was lending its engine for test purposes. This valuable machine is expected to arrive in this city from Springfield Mass. in the next few days and will be subjected at once to the test designed for it.

While east last summer Professor Anderson purchased for his own use and for further testing of a carburetion device being perfected here, a Rolls-Royce chassis, perhaps the only one in Kentucky. This machine has been the cynosure of all engineering eyes on the campus for the last several days.

GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE
the founder of the
Westinghouse industries

The Vision of This Man Gave America Alternating Current

Thirty-odd years ago state legislatures were being importuned to prohibit the distribution of alternating current on the pretense that it was dangerous. Today, legislatures are asked only to compel its makers to distribute it more widely and sell it more cheaply.

Times have changed since Westinghouse bought the Gaulard and Gibbs Transformer patents, and brought Alternating Current to America. This was the necessary preliminary step to the tremendous developments that Alternating Current, once known as "Westinghouse Current," has made possible.

To eliminate all the alternating systems and apparatus that are in use everywhere today would set this country back thirty years; but there was a time when all the resources and courage that Westinghouse could command were required to withstand the bitter opposition of those who fostered direct current instead. The whole Electrical Industry now recognizes that there is a proper field for each system, but it was all or nothing in the late '80's, when the question was first raised.

The original alternating current system was hardly practicable, even for lighting purposes. From it, however, have resulted all the modern applications of the alternating current system, the many methods and devices for transmitting current at high voltages and stepping it down to lower pressures by transformers located in connection with the consuming apparatus, whether in the home, in industry, or for the Public Service.

The foresight, the engineering genius, and the courage of Westinghouse fathered the evolution of Alternating Current, one of the greatest modern commodities.

Alumni Notes

An old-fashioned football rally in Chapel sponsored by a committee of Lexington alumni featured developments preceding the great victory over precedent when the Wildcats played the Commodores of Vanderbilt 14 to 21. On the committee were W. D. (Dunc) Hamilton '14 Joe De-Long ex-13, Guy A. Huguelet '14 and W. C. Wilson '13. They were accompanied by a score of other alumni who occupied Senior Corner in Chapel and yelled like Comanches. The undergraduates responded with the greatest demonstration of the year.

This committee arranged for a theatre party for the Vanderbilt squad at the Ben Ali, through John Elliott, president of the Strand Amusement Company and life long friend of the University. They also took the Commodores on a motor trip Saturday morning including a visit to Man-o'-War.

Alumni dues paid last year and subscription to the Kernel have expired. The paper was ordered discontinued October 15 for all who had not renewed. Because of general interest in the great showing of the Wildcats against Vanderbilt the Alumni Secretary is sending this number to all the old subscribers. The Association's year ends June 30. Membership drives by alumni clubs and by classes are being speeded up so that the new members may keep in touch with early fall developments.

"Whenever my dues expire you are at liberty to draw on me through the Citizens National Bank. In the past my movements over the country kept me out of touch with the University, but since my retirement from active service in the Medical Corps, U. S. A., I have settled down here for keeps, right under the shadow of the University and I expect to keep my eye on all she is doing.

"While I am interested, of course, in the larger affairs of the University, I can not but feel a special interest in the foot ball team. For four years I spent a great deal of my spare time and often time not to spare down on the foot ball field—now called Stoll field, so I understand, in honor of my old, enthusiastic and lovable friend Dick Stoll—working harder that I ever have since. While that was twenty-five years ago I would not be surprised if a careful search would reveal sundry portions of my anatomy scattered about the park as a result of Harlan, Van Winkle, Frew and other reckless heavyweights landing on me as I tried to advance the ball. The old game was my favorite in college days and has remained so during the passing years.

"I take great interest in the ups and downs of the Wildcats and it hurts somehow every time I have to read that they have been defeated. Should they begin to slip I would suggest that they call on some of us old timers, Lyle, Carey, Severs, Beard, Hobby, to show them how the game is really played!! We think we know how and all feel young enough to don the new-fangled contraptions which go with the game and wipe up the earth with most any of these young bloods."—Wm. A. Duncan '97, Lt. Col. U. S. Mattison Boyd Jones '94, attorney of Los Angeles, was a prominent figure in happenings on the campus during the last week, his first visit to Kentucky since 1900 when he gave up his work as an instructor in the University and commandant of cadets. After visiting with Lambda Lambda chapter of Sigma Chi, of which he was a charter member, renewing acquaintance with classmates and members of the faculty he went to Louisville to attend the Grand Lodge meeting of Kentucky Masons. He is a national officer of Royal Arch Masons. Mr. Jones called on President Emeritus James K. Patterson at his home on the campus.

OCTOBER 21, 1921.

"ALL MAIL KENTUCKY"

At last the heroic Wildcats have succeeded in overcoming their jinx and scored on the Commodores. Not only did they score on their ancient rivals but gave them the scare of their lives and if the little green god of luck had favored the Blue and White one half as much as he did the visitors there would have been a different story to tell.

It was a glorious fight and every member of our team should feel proud of the showing he made. Much has been said of football classics but never before was there such a battle royal as was fought on Stoll Field last Saturday and never before have men fought harder or against greater odds. Kentucky, outweighed fifteen pounds to the man and confronted with a lead of fourteen points, came back and rushed the Vanderbilt team off its feet. For the first time in all the twenty four years that the two teams have locked horns the Wildcats fought, and clawed their way through the Vandy eleven for a touchdown and then repeated the performance. That game was a history maker in the University of Kentucky, for while the visitors carried the long end of the score the Blue and White banner waved over the game team that ever donned cleated shoes.

AT LAST

At last that elusive thing which has threatened to invade this University for years has made its appearance. We refer to the "spirit" that was displayed the students during the Vanderbilt-Kentucky football game last week. To quote the Nashville Tennessean: "The cry that swelled up from Stoll Field swept into the mountain fastnesses of bloody Breathitt and the Pennyrite in the west of old Kentucky."

Never again can it be said that the Kentuckians are without spirit. The thousands that filled the bleachers demonstrated that when they yelled and cried and pleaded with the Wildcats to score. Then when "Big Boy" Irribble carried the oval across the line the stands went wild and rent the air with a burst of cheering the equal of which has never been heard on Stoll or any other field.

The exhibition between halves when the entire student body marched onto the field and arranged themselves into the magic letters "U. K." was a picture which would make any university proud of its students. The old disorderly snake dance ending in a mad rush to the gate is a thing of the past and in its stead we see the new Kentucky spirit expressed in the enthusiasm and good order which prevailed during the game last week.

"The sun shines bright in my Old Kentucky home."

Society

The Sigma Nu house on Winslow Street was the scene of an informal dance on Saturday evening, given by the active chapter in honor of their pledges, alumni and friends. The well planned chapter house was rendered more attractive on this occasion by simple decorations of the fraternity colors, black, white and gold. Dancing was held from 8 to 12, the music was furnished by the Original Kentucky Six. The chaperones were: Dean and Mrs. C. R. Melcher, Dr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood King, Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Marr, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hugelot, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Mrs. T. B. Fuller and Mrs. J. B. Beam.

As guests of honor, the pledges and friends of Alpha Sigma Phi were entertained at a delightful informal dance on Saturday evening at the fraternity chapter house on South Limestone. The house was attractively decorated in the fraternity colors. The dance was given from 8 to 12, after

"Moreover the student body of the University of Kentucky, both the present student body and the alumni back for the annual home-coming event conducted itself in a way which would gain for the university greater plaudits. The elevation of the customary snake dance into a dignified, impressive and, in fact, beautiful, march to the formation of "U. K." is the center of the field was typical. The overwhelming rejoicing, even in defeat, yet the restraint exercised on the part of the students when they swarmed the streets after the game, the reception given to the Vanderbilt visitors, these are good signs.

"If the spirit shown by the students of the University of Kentucky Saturday is a test, if the courage, the skill, the gameness of the football team is characteristic of the school's morale, if the presence and interest of the people of Lexington in the Vanderbilt game is an indication of their true sentiment, the Blue and White banner will wave loftily not in the far but in the immediate future, in the ever advancing present, in fact, not only upon the athletic field but wherever its standard rests."

In Selecting a University

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

Parking Space on Campus to be Restricted

Due to the fact that the parking of cars about the buildings where classes are held, causes much noise and confusion and disturbs classes, it was decided at a meeting composed of a faculty and student council to change the place of parking. In the faculty council was Dean C. R. Melcher, chairman, Colonel Freeman and Professor Daniel Terrill and in the Student Council David Thornton, William Finn and George Rouse. The place where the cars are to be parked will be announced at an early date.

R. O. T. C. UNIT MAY HAVE TARGET MACHINEGovernment to Furnish Battalion With Machine Valued at $5,000

The Military Department of the University is making a strong effort to procure for the cadets in the battalion a new contrivance furnished by the United States government, in the form of an animated target machine. The machines cost approximately $5,000 each and it will be a great advantage to the target practise.

It is the purpose of the government to furnish each R. O. T. C. unit in the country with a target machine, but at present there are only seven available. The government purchased ten machines to be located at Camp Benning but the camp could provide room for only three of those procured. The University has made application for one of the remaining ones to be placed here.

As a target machine the instrument has been pronounced 100 per cent perfect. It may be used in the capacity of target range, for machine guns, as a rifle and as a pistol. It is so constructed that there is a moving picture being shown at the time of the target firing and the machine automatically stops for three seconds so that the student will be able to see how close he came to the object at which he was firing. At the end of the three seconds the machine resumes its motion until the firing begins again.

The machine, if procured will prove of great value and will tend to increase the interest in the target practise.

A Gateway—Electrical

ONLY a forty-foot gateway bounded by two brick pilasters and ornamental lamps, but it is unlike any other gateway in the entire world.

For back of it is the General Electric Company's main office building, accommodating 2300 employees. And just next door is its main laboratory with the best equipment for testing, standardizing and research at the command of capable engineers. Then down the street a mile long—are other buildings where electrical products are made by the thousands of electrical workers who daily stream through.

Through this gate messages and representatives from a score of other factories and over fifty branch offices come and go every hour—an endless chain of co-ordinated activities carrying on and enlarging the scope of over a quarter century's work for the betterment of mankind.

What a story this gate would tell, if it could, of the leaders of the electrical industry and of ambassadors from other industries and institutions—and from foreign lands. The story would be the history of electric lighting, electric transportation, electrified industrials and electricity in the home.

CATS LOSE STUBBORN SCRAP TO VANDERBILT; KY. SPIRIT UNDAUNTED

Greatest Grid Contest of the Decade Lost by Narrow Margin

LAVIN IS HERO OF GAME

Kentucky Scores on Vandy For First Time

Kentucky playing a brand of football the like of which has not been seen under the Blue and White colors since 1916, ran two touchdowns across the Vanderbilt line for the first time in more than twenty years last Saturday on Stoll Field and had it not been for two unfortunate fumbles might have defeated the Commodores instead of receiving the short end of a 14 to 21 score.

Approximately six thousand spectators, loyal alumni, and students packed the stands to their capacity and pronounced it one of the best games from all standpoints, of a decade. Not for one moment was there slack in the tense anxiety of the onlookers, hoping, and rooting to the point of hoarseness that the Wildcats would be able to overcome the lead of the visitors. The lucky team had the upper hand from the start and the game team was trying with might, tact and main to win.

Lavin's Work Sparkling.

The open field work of "Bobby" Lavin, quarter back, for the Wildcats, and Bruce Fuller right halfback, was the most sensational seen on Stoll Field since the golden jubilee game of 1916, when "Doc" Rodes and "Rabbit" Curry dueled for supremacy in open field running. Lavin played the best game of his career, skirting the ends time and again for long gains refusing to be stopped after his interference had been downed. In the last quarter, after having literally run himself breathless he repeatedly mustered strength, just enough for a new dash of his present needs. After being tackled Big Server and others would lift him to his feet. He would then puff out a few more signals, key himself out for one more run and gain ten yards around end. Bobby was carried off the field apparently dead having collapsed when he heard the final whistle.

A short pass from Lavin to Fuller and from Fuller to Lavin repeatedly worked well. Not once did it fall to gain ground. Lavin went over for the second touchdown after receiving such a pass from Fuller.

Pribble First Over Vanderbilt.

Pribble and Sanders were unable to gain much ground thru the heavy oppressive line. An average of fifteen pounds per man in the line was a great handicap but despite this, Pribble took it over for the first tally of the century against Vandy thru the middle of this wall of brawn, just after King blocked a would be punt. Sanders often made gains thru the line.

In the line, the work of "Slug" Fleahman and Freddy Fest stood out. They backed up and blocked plays of their opponents, holding them for downs, once upon the five yard line.

Wade and McCullough were the mainstays of the Commodore line while Godchaux and Neeley were the big ground gainers for the visiting outfit. The punting of Godchaux stood out and this aid contributed much toward victory.

Fumble Favors Vandy.

Vandy's first tally came a few minutes after the whistle. Godchaux bucked it over after Neely recovered a fumble on the ten yard line. The second came after a valuable exchange of punts, an unprotected pass, a slight gain by Bowmar and an end run by the sorrel-top Smith, Vanderbilt half. Twenty yards around end, a twenty four yard pass to McCullough and Smith skirted the end for the third and last pointmaker.

Neither side scored during the last half. Kentucky outplayed them in every department of the game and not once was in danger of having to line up behind the goal posts. Passing was frequent and for the greater part of the time the ball was held within the Commodores 40 yard line.

Colpitts, out in the first three quarters, nipped the oft tackle plays and end runs in the bud during the last period. He also got away with a nice pass which put the team within striking distance of the goal.

Tennessee Paper Praises Cats

The Nashville Tennessean says: "Victory came to Vandy, but the Wildcat left indelible scars. Two of them, that many times did a Kentucky boot leave its imprint behind the Commodore line. Never before in history has a Wildcat claw been sharp enough to leave its mark across the Vandy goal. * * *

"Not only did Lavin Pribble Sanders and Fuller move into action quicker than the McGuggin backs, but the Wildcats' line out charged the Commodores. * * ½

"Kentucky today finally answered the age-old query, 'What Makes the Wildcat Wild?' It's the lust of blood, once the Wildcat had tasted the warm gore of a touchdown on the Commodores he became a frenzied beast. Defeat grinned right in the faces of the McGugginites. In the last half they were almost wholly on the defensive. Only with a minute remaining to play when Jess Neely sprinted 40 yards up the field did another Vandy score even so much as bud. Fuller, who harassed the Commodores all day, stood between Neely and a forth touchdown. Fuller snagged the Murfreesboro boy just as he has repeatedly snagged forward passes in the last two periods in an aerial attack which bewildered Vanderbilt."

Governor also a Rooter.

Governor Morrow was a guest in the President's box and declared that he was proud of the Blue and White. Coach Juneau was pleased with the game. It showed that the man had made use of his "never say down" spirit coming back stronger after each touchdown.

Math Club Elects Officers

At the meeting of the Mathematics Club Tuesday at 3:30 in the Mathematics room in the Civil building, the following officers were elected; Professor H. H. Downing, president and Dr. Flora Le Sturgeon, secretary and treasurer. In addition to the election of officers plans for the year were discussed and it was decided to have a meeting for the major and graduate students each Tuesday at 3:30 and one meeting a month especially for freshmen and sophomores.

FRESHMAN ELEVEN HOLDS CYNTHIANA

Playing their first game of the season against Cynthiana High School on Friday afternoon October 14, the University Freshmen were unable to do better than to hold the Harrison county aggregation to a scoreless tie. The Freshies were robbed of victory in their initial clash when the whistle of the referee sounded the end of the first half with the Freshman having the ball on Cynthiana's ten yard line.

Considering the fact that it was their first game, the Freshies displayed fine form and the indications are that they will make a strong bid for the class championship.

W. E. Hansen a student in the law department is the coach of the Freshman team. Harry Hopkins, Louisville, is business manager and Layman Mays, New Castle, is captain.

The lineup of the Freshman team is: Litsey and Ashby, ends; J. Ray and H. Ray, guards; McClean and Tate, tackles; Mays, quarter; Hamlett and C King, halves; and Foust, full back.

SENIOR, ONLY CLASS WITHOUT WARRIORS

Unless the gridiron enthusiasts of the Senior class make up for lost time by putting a class football team in the field this week, the class championship for the University of Kentucky will be decided after a three cornered fight. So far the Seniors have failed to muster enough strength for a class team. However, the Seniors have not given up hopes for a class team and it is probable that they will be represented in the class league.

"The first interclass game took place Thursday afternoon between the Juniors and the Freshmen. The date of the next game has not been decided. The Sophomores will probably meet the winner of the Junior-Freshman game. In the event that the Seniors enter the contest for the class championship they will meet the Sophs and the winner of this scrap will meet the victors of the first game of the class league.

My idea of a fish is a guy who will take a girl out to dinner and then let her have another date for the evening.

Everything for QUALITY— nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS — the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

FIRST GRADUATE IS PLEASED WITH U. OF K. Says Citizens of Kentucky Owe University Gratitude

Congratulations on achievements of the University of Kentucky and a reminder to the people of the state-at-large of the debt they owe to the institution are contained in a message from William Benjamin Munson '69, first graduate of the University. Mr. Munson, now one of the leading figures in finance and industry in Northern Texas, writing from his home in Denison, addressed his message to the 16,000 former students and graduates of his Alma Mater. He is one of the very few first graduates of universities of the country now living. He is in active charge of his several enterprises. The message follows:

"As the first graduate of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, class of '69, I wish to congratulate you upon the great success achieved by the University of Kentucky and the great benefit accruing to the citizens of the State of Kentucky and other adjacent states who have patronized the institution.

"The State of Kentucky has reason to be proud of the accomplishments of its own University. It has served to vastly increase the intelligence and patriotism of the citizens of Kentucky, who owe it a debt of lasting gratitude. May it continue to grow in strength and in the esteem with which it is held not only by the citizens of the Blue Grass State but by all those who have enjoyed the benefit of its beneficent influence. May it long continue to serve in the great work of human enlightenment."

Photos For Annual Must be Taken by Wed.

Only Official Photographer's Pictures will be Used

The work of taking the pictures for the annual is progressing steadily and the photographer hopes to complete the individual pictures by Wednesday. The studio is very comfortably located in the Stroller room in the basement of the Science building. It will be open all day Saturday and there are several open appointments on this day. Every student is asked to "get behind" this work and have his picture made as soon as possible.

The "Kentuckian" is hoping to feature some views of the campus and has made arrangements with the Art Department to turn out some very unusual work. The general effect of the publication will be considered in every detail and for this reason none but the regulation pictures made by the photographer under contract will be used. A regular scheme is being carried out in light and dark backgrounds.

The new office is proving to be a source of inspiration to the staff. The partition dividing it from the rest of the Journalism Department insures its privacy yet it has the advantage of being right in the center of things and convenient to the students who have the largest interest in it.

POPULARITY CONTEST TO BE HELD TUESDAY

Students Choice to be Selected From the University At Large

The Popularity Contest will be held Tuesday October 25, from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m., in the hall of the Administration building for the purpose of selecting the two most popular young women from the school at large. Already the Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes have selected their most popular member and these of course are negligible and must not be voted on again.

A ballot box in charge of C. V. Watson, business manager of the 1922 Kentuckian, and members of the Student Council will be placed near Dean Melcher's office, where students may go from the hours of 8 to 4 and cast one ballot containing the names of their two "favorites"

In order that the Contest may be carried out in an orderly systematical way, and there can be no "stuffing of ballot boxes," a complete list of the students registered in the University will be kept at the desk and the voter must first give his name according to the record in the Registrars office. This is to be done in order that persons with "assumed names" may not obtain more than the one ballot to which they are entitled. The voter then must sign his name to the ballot, and have his namechecked off of the roll book, and the ballot dropped in the ballot box.

No votes may be cast before 8 o'clock, nor will they be accepted after 4 o'clock. Ballots will not be counted unless the name of the voter is properly signed to it, and his or her name found on the book of Registrar. The votes must be cast on ballots provided for this purpose.

Before her election to rank of major Miss Kimbrough was commissioned as lieutenant in Company A. There will be an election held by the cadets of the three companies at a specified time to elect sponsors to fill the vacancies left by the absence of sponsors elected last year who did not return.
