Things Are Happening Already, things are happening which indicate that the next few weeks may bring.

Turkey's Pledge Thousands of English troops are stationed at nearby Suez in temporary camps, ready to move instantly.

The Balkan region seems to be the logical theater of the next stage of the war, but last week something happened which led observers to believe that the scene of action may shift far to the east.

Several miles off the coast of Russia, not far from the famous port of Murmansk, enemy aircraft warships were sighted.

The English and the French, observers say, are beginning to give Finland all possible aid against the Russians because of rumors which spread into London and Paris recently.

HELINKI—After a month of the fiercest fighting since the battle of Verdun, the Finnish army still held its positions around the city.

What They Think By BOB AMMONS

QUESTION "Should fraternities and sororities have Hell Week?"

Jim Stapp, A & S Junior—Yes, but it should not interfere with class work. It should be more of a work-week.

Lillian Gaines Webb, Grad—No. Initiation should be serious, and since Hell Week comes the week before, it gives initiates the wrong attitude.

J. D. Davis, Commerce senior—No. It interferes with class-work, and there are always active who can take advantage of it.

Stanley Carter, A & S freshman—If they are crazy enough to get in a fraternity they ought to expect something like this.

Authors Of 'Show Me A Land' Say Civil War Presented Big Problem

By LOUISE CALBERT
The heckling of a delightful little white-haired lady was the stimulus for the writing of Kentucky's latest novel, "Show Me A Land," by Clark McMeekin.

The white-haired lady is Mrs. Atwood R. Martin and Clark McMeekin is the pen name for Mrs. Dorothy Park Clark and Mrs. Isabel McLennan McMeekin. Yesterday afternoon at Maxwell Place they gave the first interview they have had concerning the publication of "Show Me A Land."

Mrs. Martin, Louisville, is the author of "Emmy Lou" and many other children's stories. It was Mrs. Martin who told publishers that her two friends had been talking about a historical novel but couldn't get down to writing it. The publishers insisted that Mrs. Martin "keep after" the two friends until they could be induced to write the book.

Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Clark, and Mrs. McMeekin were guests of President and Mrs. McVey at Maxwell Place yesterday. Mrs. McVey entertained at luncheon honoring the three writers and Mrs. L. McLeban gave a tea at the Phoenix hotel yesterday afternoon introducing the three.

"Show Me A Land" is a historical novel with its main setting in and around Lexington. The story brings in a description of the great cholera plague of 1832 and the first Kentucky Derby in 1875.

Asked what was the biggest problem in writing "Show Me A Land," both women said, "Civil War." "In fact," joked Mrs. Clark, "we even thought of putting a footnote on a page saying that the people on lired on a lonely road and did not know the war was going on."

Writing of "Show Me A Land" was begun on Derby Day, 1935. The book was finished one year later, in true movie fashion, on Derby Day, 1936, and sent to the publisher the same day, "just for good luck." The publishers accepted by telegram.

When asked how the book was written, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. McMeekin replied that the book was fully outlined before actual writing began. Then each took certain chapters, wrote them, and turned them over to the other for criticism and rewriting.

PROPAGANDA
Suppose I am a manufacturer or a publicity agent for him. We want a tariff passed which will keep out foreign goods so that the domestic consumer can be charged a higher price for our products. I would not think of the propaganda writer as a job or evaluating the statistics on both sides.

Wildcats Win 43-38 In Last Home Game

With Marion Cluggish shouldering the scoring burden, the Kentucky Wildcats crushed their 1939-40 basketball campaign by ripping a lightning-hot Vanderbilt team 43-38 in a harrowing, hair-graying game Saturday night in Alumni gym.

While the other Wildcats were sadly off keel in their shooting, the cloud bumping Cluggish, in his final home show, dumped in points from all angles to collect a total of 22 for his night's work. During the first half, which ended with Kentucky trailing by 24-17, the Cats scored just four field goals, three being Cluggish contributions.

It took Kentucky exactly 10 minutes to collect a total of 22 for his night's work. During the first half, which ended with Kentucky trailing by 24-17, the Cats scored just four field goals, three being Cluggish contributions.

Captain "Mickey" Rouse sent Kentucky into a first minute lead when he connected with a foul shot, but Thwaitt and Milken scored Vandy field goals before Keith Parsley hit a Cat foul.

Cluggish opened the second half by crumming a rebound through the cord and Parsley scored soon after on another rebound and the point deficit was reduced to 24-21. Hyden scored two foul shots and Irby a field goal as Combs was connecting with a field goal and three foul chances. Then Cluggish turned the heat and scored a foul goal on the best and scored a foul goal on the two tree wheelers as Davis was connecting with a foul. Again Cluggish rebounded and Kentucky shot into the lead by 33-31.

ACTION SLATED TO START AT 7:30

Never beaten by a state opponent, Kentucky's dry-dock swimming team will return to action against two state foes, Murray and Eastern State Teachers in a triangular meet tonight in Richmond.

Action is scheduled to start at 7:30 and admission for Kentucky students making the trip will be 25-cents.

Not since the Kentucky team was organized five years ago come next month—have the Cats been dunked by an inter-state rival. Included in that list are four successive state titles, or every time the crown has been offered. Holders of six excellent records, the Cats vow they will be out to shatter those marks in tonight's water fiesta.

Despite the fact that the Cats have won two last two and tied a fifth meet, Kentucky as a whole is stronger than last season's team which was defeated in 10 meets.

On a recent Southern trip, after tying Tennessee and ducking Georgia Tech, the Cats hit Georgia and Florida. Against Georgia one of the best rounded teams in all Dixie, the Cats suffered their first defeat in 17 meets by a 20-25 score. Two nights later the Blues became the 37th straight victims of Florida by a 25-17 margin.

Top heavy as the Florida score appears, Kentucky scored more points and first places against the Gators than any of eight other teams, including Duke and North Carolina. Have been able to collect this season.

Kentucky's tentative lineup: Mickey Rouse—Bill Scott, Eddie David and Captain Lloyd Hyden. 273 lb. center—Gilbert Wymond and Walter Reed. 250 lb. forward—Coach Frank Roberts and Hanson. 200 lb. forward—Huddell and 190 yard backstroke—Huddell and 150 yard backstroke—Scott and Combs. Dash relay—Rouse, Hyden, Hanson, Reed, Huddell, Wymond, and Roberts.

FRESH END YEAR WITH EASY WIN

Off to a slow start, Kentucky's powerful freshman basketball team picked up momentum late in the first half to collect a wide lead and coast to a 48-22 win over Cumberland junior college in a preliminary game to the Kentucky-Vanderbilt bout Saturday night in Alumni gym.

In annexing their 18th win of the season, the Kittens also became the only college team in the state to finish its season undefeated.

With half the opening period played, Kentucky held a slim 12-11 lead, but the Kittens suddenly began to find the range and at intermission held a 28-13 margin. When the riot continued through the opening minutes of the second half, Coach Paul McBrayer began to shoot a steady stream of substitutes into the game.

Calling 'Em Wild

By JOE CREASON

The fellow who kept trying to turn around fast enough to see the back of his hand was not nearly so foolish as those who would attempt to pick the winner of the confused South-eastern conference basketball tournament which opens Thursday in Knoxville.

No frustrated Edison has as yet invented a slide rule capable of computing figures to prove any team in the conference is much better than the remainder of the pack. For one who has but few mathematical brains (me), the situation is as involved and jumbled as a bowl of Chinese alphabet soup.

By taking the situation in easy stages, and using Kentucky, defending champion, as a sort of guinea pig, it is something like this: based on an easy 48-18 win over Alabama at the Tide's subsequent 26-23 decision over Tennessee, it's easy to see, on paper, a 31 Kentucky point advantage over Tennessee.

But, 10 days ago the Vols nudged the Blues 27-24, which makes the Wildcats some 28 points worse than themselves.

Take then the case of Tennessee. Breeding along at the top of the heap with 6 wins, 2 losses, the Vols took a spill when, like the lady who fell into the Everglade below and the alligator (repeat sorry), the inoffensive Florida Gators matched a 41-38 win Friday night.

To carry this screw-loose motif ever further, it was but appropriate that 11th place Mississippi should beat fourth place Mississippi State by a 64-51 margin last week.

Every Team A Winner
These cases are mere typical examples of what has been consistently going on in a topsy-turvy season. Looking over the comparative scores of league teams is coming from a dark room into the light—the more you look the more you see.

That can be eliminated from title gossip is gassing Sawney, which hasn't won a conference game since the bustle and buggy days.

But even at that, as I see it, the teams will have a lot in common. None of the clubs will be allowed to wear brass knuckles on the floor, players on all the teams were born to proud parents and all will probably be glad when the tournament is over.

Coaches Flatter Each Other
That the meet will be wide open as a prize country is indicated by the way competing coaches view the affair. For instance, in a letter to Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, executive secretary of the conference, Hank Crisp, of Alabama stated "our basketball team certainly went to work on us in Lexington, and from the way they looked against us, I believe Kentucky will have another championship this year."

However, Coach Adolph Rupp insists that his haven't a chance to win, that he hopes, since his entire squad is just one stop ahead of a long hospital rest, they drop out of the first game rather than go through a lengthy elimination process and then get beat.

The winner, says the Cat Fueller, will be Tennessee or Georgia.

Mauer Likes Lampe, Lampe . . .
In an example of reciprocal back slapping, Coaches Johnny Mauer and Carl Lampe of Georgia help straighten out the matter a lot by each stating the other's team is a cinch for the title.

Despite the fact that Kentucky will not, for the first time in the memory of man, be the tournament favorite, every team with title ambitions will breathe a lot easier when and if the Wildcats are plowed under. For that reason every team in the meet will be out to get Kentucky. And there's a reason for that feeling. Since Rupp, the tournament monopolist, came to Kentucky the Cats have won three of the six conference titles, defeating Mississippi State by 46-27 in 1933 and Tennessee by 39-25 and 48-38 in 1937 and 1939.

Cats End Season
Kentucky's regular season was ruffled Saturday night as the Cats, playing like fugitives from the show "Hellzapoppin'", overcame an early Vanderbilt lead to mail their 12th victim of the season by a score of 49-38. Since the object of basketball, so far as it is to win, matters not that Kentucky looked like the change from a dime in reaching this end.

For two members of the Cat squad, Captain "Mickey" Rouse and Marion Cluggish, the bout marked their final home appearances. So it was highly appropriate that Cluggish, who is so tall that the average citizen talking to him has to bend his head back like he was yelling up an elevator shaft, should turn in possibly the best game of his entire career and lead the scorers with 22 points.

Fouls Get Rouse Early
While Cluggish ended his victim in a blaze of glory, Rouse made a rather insignificant exit, the work of Referee Dan Tahan after just 8 minutes of play. But it isn't because of his last game that Cat cage customers will remember Rouse as one of the truly great

Chesterfield's Twin Pleasures are

Real Mildness and Better Taste

You can't mistake the extra pleasure you get from Chesterfields. Because of their right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos, Chesterfields give you a cooler, better-tasting and definitely milder smoke.

Jack and Bob Heasley

When the HEASLEY TWINS, stage and screen skating stars, perform for your pleasure, it's almost impossible to tell which is which . . . but you can't mistake the twin pleasures you get in Chesterfield's REAL MILDNESS and BETTER TASTE.
