

My dear Son.

Lexington 12th Feb. 1845

I write from the R. Bank to say that they have agreed to discount your note; but it is done upon the usual condition that the amount or any part of it must be subject to call, if the interest of the Bank makes it necessary. What produced some hesitation yesterday, about the discount of the note, arose out of an understanding that you wanted the loan positively a year. I am sure that there exists here a disposition to serve you.

Yrs affly
