

Dear Mother,

I have been very much disappointed in not having received any letter from home since I reached here & have become quite uneasy for fear that some of you are sick & thus prevented from writing.

I wish that Annie would prove a more regular correspondent as I always feel alarmed when I do not receive a letter from one of you at least once a week. You may ask why I have not written before. It is because I have been so busy in getting my lessons arranged that I have had time to do nothing else. I have to get up here quite early as I have a lecture in Greek every morning at 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ o'clock. I have fourteen lectures a week & these you can readily
