Dear Major

I was obliged to leave Indianaapolis for Chicago immediately after the sale, but did not fail to telegraph to telegraph you. When I rejoined the party Wednesday evening he said he had not done so but would upon his return to New York & I suppose has done so.
There are so many people to be seen & so many interests to be consulted that we make slow progress in getting all necessary papers executed.
I hope we shall wind up
