GENERAL OFFICES,

WASHINGTON, D.C.
May 23, 1890.

Mr. H. C. Mc Dowell,

Lexington, Ky.

Dear Sir:-

We beg to hand you herewith for your private information, in advance of any authorized public announcement, a prospectus of Barrow-on-Potomac.

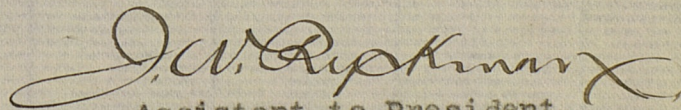

In the compilation of this statement only absolute facts have been used as they will appear upon investigation. You will find the situation at this point altogether unparalleled at any place in the country where speculation and development are being carried on.

Barrow does not depend upon one class of industries; it has unequalled advantages for many varieties of manufactures. It has shipping facilities equal to any American harbor. The fortunes of Barrow are in the hands of careful, successful men of the highest reputation who will conserve all interests, avoid over speculation and carry out the Company's plans on the highest plane of business prudence.

When you have examined the prospectus we would be glad to see you or your representative here to go over the ground and make such selections of business and residence property as you would like to secure at the first auction sale which will occur on or about June 20. These lots are sure to yield the first investors several hundred per cent profit.

Very respectfully yours,

Barrow Land Company,

Assistant to President.
