WHAT'S WRONG WITH THESE PICTURES?
Well, nothing, but there's plenty wrong with the favor face of the compadres shown here. The lounge friends on the left are systematically disregarding all the rules of common courtesy, while the young men on the right are equally guilty of the rule of "cherchez la femme" or something. Anyhow, for full particulars see your YM-YW booklet on courtesy.

Watch The Way You Act And Speak -This Is Campus 'Courtesy Week'

Boys, get up when a girl comes in Whether she's pretty or ugly as sin.
To cram your mouth, then drink some water
Is something that you hadn't oughter.

These and about 17 other poems of advice to the would-be courtiers are displayed in eye-catching places around the campus this week which has been designated as "Courtesy week" by the YW social committee.

An etiquette book, listing the dos and do-nots of introductions, personal appearance, table manners, invitations, and conduct at teas and receptions is to be replaced in every student's mailbox during the week according to Mary Frank Wiley, chairman of the committee.

A Cappella Choir Presents Program 'Almost Flawlessly'

Technically almost flawless, and containing a full well sustained tone with a beautiful cantic restraint, Transylvania college's A Cappella choir presented a program of sacred music at the Sunday afternoon musicale at Memorial Hall.

The choir, under the direction of Jack Bryden, showed a fine balance between the different sections and the entrance of parts was always precise.

The powerful nature of the compositions "A Mighty Fortress is Our God" by Johann Sebastian Bach was enhanced by an elaborate arrangement.

The reverent spirit of the twentieth century melody "Beautiful Savior" was achieved by the maintenance of a delicate balance between the melodic line and the soft, organ-like humming that provided harmonic background.

It is unfortunate that the program as a whole lacked variety and genuine music content. The technical perfection of the group was offset by a seeming lack of flexibility. For this reason, the choir never realized to the fullest its very fine potentialities.

Heller To Speak At Three Meetings

Rabbi James Heller of Cincinnati, authority on the Jewish race, religion, and politics, will make three addresses on the campus Thursday.

He will speak at a joint meeting at 10 a. m. in Room 302, Frazer Hall, at a forum from 4 to 6 p. m. in the Union music room, and at a dinner meeting in the International Relations club at 6:30 p. m. in the Union, where he will speak on "Present World Situation and the Status of the Jewish Group within it."

ENGINEERS PICK MAGAZINE STAFF

Williams Will Edit Student Publication
J. B. Williams, junior from Shepherdsville, was chosen editor of the Kentucky Engineer for the year 1941-42. It was announced yesterday. He succeeds George D. Robertson, Shelbyville.

Case Work Course To Start Thursday

A three-day session on "Case Work in Home Service" for graduate ROTC cadets, will be given Thursday through Saturday, in Room 226, McVey Hall, under the direction of Poly Station, field director in war service for the American Red Cross.

MOVIE SATIRES WILL BE THEME May Day Queen Will Be Selected

"Satires on a Movie" will be the theme of the floats for the annual May Day, which the University has officially approved for Friday, May 2, San Ewing, president, announced yesterday. All classes will be dismissed after the fourth hour that day, he said.

Organizations planning to enter floats must reserve the movie, which they want to satirize, with Eddie Nickerson at the Chi Omega house. Five trophies will be awarded for the best float, two to fraternities, two to sororities, and one to other campus organizations.

Election of the May queen will be conducted under the supervision of the Student Government association on Thursday, April 24. One member from each sorority and three Independents will be nominated for the honor.

Names of candidates, who must have a University standing of 1.0, must be submitted to Carrie Lou Reid at the Alpha Gamma Delta house by Wednesday, April 16, Ewing said.

Photographic enlargements of 44 of the world's greatest self-portraits masterpieces will be on display April 7 in the art gallery of the Biological Sciences building. Prof. E. W. Hartsfield, head of the art department, announced yesterday.

Lent to the art department by the Philadelphia Museum of art is the exhibition, entitled "Self-Portraits Through the Ages," is the story of the way artists have seen themselves in paint, sculpture, and in other mediums from the time of the Pharaohs to the present day.

SPEECH CONTEST SLATED TO OPEN ON WEDNESDAY

500 Students
Of State Schools
Are Expected

More than 500 persons are expected to attend the annual Kentucky High School Speech festival, which will be held under the auspices of the extension department and the Kentucky High School Speech league Wednesday through Saturday on the campus. Ninety-two high schools will be represented.

The program includes nine events, debate, oratorical declamation, interpretative reading, poetry reading, extemporaneous speaking, junior and senior student discussion, radio speaking, and a junior legislature.

Composed of one representative from each member school of the speech league, the legislature is a new event on the festival program from the past legislature, which G. Homer Neikirk, state representative, will convene in Memorial Hall. Assisting will be Uebel Barrickman, Jack Lovett, Donalphan Burrus, Edwin Ockerman, William Nofsinger, Shelby Deitrich, Ed Short, James Howell, and Sarah Ratcliff.

The boy and girl will be chosen from the student body by the popular vote of University students. In addition to the winners of the contest, ten "best dressed boys" and ten "best dressed girls" will be selected.

Voting will officially begin at 8 a. m. Friday and will continue until noon Saturday. Ballots will be printed in Friday's Kernel in order to give one vote to each student. The ballots will be checked with the student directory when the votes are counted so that no student may vote more than once.

On properly filling out a ballot, the voter must place it in a special receptacle in the lobby of the University post office. Each student may vote for both a boy and a girl.

Y Conferences Slated
Clarence Prossy Shedd, authority on religion movements among students, will be on the campus from Wednesday to Sunday, during which time he will confer with the combined YM-YW advisory board, combined YM-YW cabinets, and faculty groups.

EMORY HORN
They have been adjudged the University's safest drivers because they scored the most points in the Kernel-Student Union safety-driving contest held on the campus last week.

Best-Driving Trophies Won By Harris, Horn

232 Register
In Annual Contest,
161 Pass Tests

Emory Horn and Lorraine Harris, both of Lexington, were awarded the best driving trophies in the University's second annual Safety Driving contest which closed Friday afternoon. Triangle fraternity won the group participation trophy.

Prizes were awarded Friday afternoon following an address by Sergeant A. O. Carr, one of the state police officers who administered the program, on "Safety on Kentucky Highways."

Of the 232 students who registered in the contest, 161 passed both the indoor and outdoor tests. Seven failed the road test and 39 failed to complete both examinations.

It was a much bigger contest than had expected. Bill Karstner, co-chairman of the contest committee said yesterday. "We had three times as many students as we had last year."

Horn received a $20 automobile heater and Miss Harris and the Triangle fraternity were given bronze trophies.

Scabard, Blade To Initiate Thirty

Scabard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity is holding initiation this week for 30 pledges, who were tapped at the Military Ball in February.

The week's activities will be climaxed by a camping trip, probably to the Kentucky lake. Approximately 30 activities will accompany the pledges to the camp.

HAYES, MARTIN RECEIVE AWARDS AT AG BANQUET

McCown, Jackson
Named Associates
Of Block, Bridle

Jane Hayes, Lexington, received the annual Phi Union medal, and Clifford K. Martin, Nicholasville, was named winner of the Jonas Well Memorial scholarship of $100 at the annual all-agriculture banquet last night in the Ballroom of the Union building.

Miss Hayes, with a standing of 2.54 was the sophomore home economics student making the highest standing during her freshman year. Martin, whose standing was 2.3, was the agriculture major with the highest University standing.

Women Honored
For the first time in the history of the University, two women, Douglas McCown, Versailles, and Betty Jackson, Lexington were named associates of Block and Bridle, honorary annual husbandry fraternity. These two women are definitely annual husbandry majors and certainly deserve the honor. Glenn Clay, president, said.

Announced as pledges to Block and Bridle were Edgar Murphy, Chilton, Jett M. Oliver, James K. Dinning, Frankfort, Royal K. Kelley, Bardwell, Elmer Hixon, Lexington, Howard J. Evans, Woodburn, Voss Gardner, Somerset, Leonard B. Allen, Cleveland, O. Robert L. Goodpastor, Hillsboro, Sam Cooper, Jr., Hatcher, Gerald Schaffer, Henshaw, Paul Clark, Lebanon; James E. Wright, Franklin; James W. Cowell, Hickman; Reginald Prater, Wilmore; and E. R. Russell, Hartford.

14 Tapped
Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity, tapped 14 students during the banquet. These were Floy Russell, Hartford; Josephine Grant, Burlington; Agnes Sublette, Capes; Taylor Bess, Rollins, Wickliffe; Dorothy Angle, Woodburn; Bessie Capone, Mina; Myrtle Binkley, Fulton; Edith Coritt, Crown; and Lorraine Harris, Elizabeth, Wigginton. James Hayes, Benish Cooper, Catherine, Bushel, and Virginia Gay, all of Lexington.

Pledges to Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity, James H. Thompson, Burnside; James Crowley, Butler; H. C. Allbritton, Murray; Don Kinnaman, Chester; Brown, Shelbyville; Carl Porter, Bushel; Paul R. Robbins, Lexington; James Kearney and Robert McConnell, Jr., both of Versailles; and John Conwell and Reginald Prater.

Sophomores Win
Members of the sophomore class basketball team were recognized as winners of the agriculture college basketball contest.

Ira Dymond, president of the Lexington Kiwanis club and Fayette county farm owner, spoke on "Sense and Nonsense" and "Chaplin Yesterday" was the subject of the talk by Miss Margaret McLaughlin to various organizations.

Approximately 975 agriculture college students and faculty members were present. Guests of honor were Prof. E. S. Goss, head of the state husbandry department and Mrs. Good; Dr. D. H. Peak, business agent, and Mrs. Peak; James H. Martin, assistant chemist at the experiment station, and Mrs. Martin; and S. D. Averill, chemist at the experiment station, and Mrs. Averill.

Kampus Kernels

Dr. Hunley Dugre will discuss "The Philosophy of Sherwood Edge" at a joint meeting of the Freshman club and Sophomore commission at 7 p. m. today in the Y lounge.

YMCA members should vote and turn in ballots at the post office by Thursday noon, according to Bart Peak, executive secretary.

They have been adjudged the University's safest drivers because they scored the most points in the Kernel-Student Union safety-driving contest held on the campus last week.

RULE BARS 30 GLEE CLUBBERS FROM CONCERT

Because of University Senate enforcing ruling
For Activities

Because of University Senate rule regulating student participation in extra-curricular public activities, 30 members of the Men's and Women's glee clubs were notified last night that they are ineligible to take part in the Palm Sunday Afternoon Musical, last concert of the season.

To be eligible to participate in public activities the rule provides that a student "must be carrying a schedule of at least 12 credit hours" must not be on probation, and must have no incomplete grades.

A student is placed on probation for failing to "pass in three-fourths of the normal load required in his college in his preceding year."

The glee clubs have been rehearsing twice weekly throughout the semester in preparation for Sunday's concert. Enforcement of the rule will not only decrease the club's membership for the musical, but will also affect participation in several concerts scheduled out in the state.

Sunday's program, as rehearsed by the two organizations during the past week, will be presented by the club without the ineligible members. Dr. Alexander Canoro, head of the music department, said last night.

The Board of Trustees will meet Wednesday to consider the rule and its application in the present case. The Kernel was informed, the availability of deferment this semester was discussed, it was learned.

The arts and sciences faculty discussed the rule and its application to various organizations at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Since rigid enforcement or any change in the rule must be made by the Senate or Council, the faculty was taken no action in the matter. Dr. Paul Boyd, dean of the college, said last night.

Shropshire Takes Leave of Absence

James S. Shropshire, director of the Board of Publications, and of the Student Union, began a five-month leave of absence today. The leave was granted at the last meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

Although appointments of persons to serve during the absence have not yet been made, it is expected that the board will fill the vacancies when it meets this morning. Bart Peak, YMCA secretary, is being considered for the Union position, and Dr. Neil Plummer, head of the journalism department, probably will be appointed temporary director of publications. The Kernel learned last night from authoritative sources.

Students Will Plan Physical Betterment

To plan a program of raising the general physical condition of the student body, students will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Fo-Club room of the Union building.

Proposed of voluntary physical improvement program for the University was made at a student-faculty meeting last week during which campus measures for physical betterment during the national defense effort were discussed.

Fraternity Balance Sheet

(Note: Because of the recent editorials I have written in THE KERNEL against fraternity hazing and hazing in general, I have been accused of being anti-fraternity and of deliberately trying to damage the Greeks' reputations. Such is not the case, and if I may I should like to present evidence to the contrary.)

I am a fraternity man myself, and will say without hesitancy that I am proud of it. However, when it comes to the issue of hazing and hell weeks, I am not quite so proud. I think that in retaining such practices fraternities and other organizations are being selfishly unfair to the University and unworthy of themselves.

THE KERNEL has for almost eight years now been opposed to hazing of all kinds—no matter whom it is by. In writing such pieces as I have written in the past two weeks, I have simply been carrying out the policy of this paper—a policy which I have long believed to be right. I intend to continue this policy as long as I am editor.

In an editorial published last October, I stated my views on fraternities. Since my motives have today been challenged, I shall state these views again. And because they have not changed in the slightest since October, I feel it is only just to reiterate what was said then.

—JIM M. CALDWELL

The college fraternity, for over a century tucked snugly away in its academic cradle, has now reached the point where it must face the facts of life. The time is come when the Greeks must be viewed objectively, must have proved their case—not only to the campus itself, but to those in the world outside who contribute the wealth which makes that campus possible.

No one, surely, who has been awake to the times can deny that such a fact exists. For several years, much of the press of the nation has devoted a great deal of its space to discussion of fraternities and their lot. At least three magazines of national circulation have carried articles, picturing and describing every phase of fraternity life, from rush week to hell week, from songs to cups. Some have lauded, some have damned, but whatever their collective conclusion, they have served the purpose of putting "the frats" squarely before the public, to be judged as to be judged on their own merits and nothing else.

One occasionally hears talk about the fraternity system "dying out." Nothing, however, could be more untrue; a glance at the record will show that there are now more individual chapters in the country than ever before, and a larger active membership. It is hardly, then, a question of numerical and monetary strength.

The issue, as placed before the public by the press, seems rather to be one of "Is the fraternity system today justifying its existence, or is it merely a hollow shell of a thing that has outlived its usefulness and is living in the past?" In short, is the fraternity system keeping pace with the changing times?

What's Good About Them

Fraternities—and here we include the women's lodges as well as the men's—are "good" for the following reasons:

▲ They aid, often to the point of indispensability, their respective universities in their problems of housing and organization. On many campuses fraternities houses comprise almost the entire dormitory system, in some cases without costing the institutions a cent. They help, because they are organized, their colleges to carry out innumerable programs that could never succeed on large campuses that spread without system.

However, our attempts at securing a field house have been limited to be deferred because he found it una academic discussion or petition which has been met with the equally academic rejoinder: "Lack Of Funds!"

The state authorities say we have no money. Everyone agrees that spending where no money exists, or in sight is the proverbial irresistible force striking an immovable object. But, it is my contention that we do have the money.

When Senator A. B. Chandler was governor he set as his goal the liquidation of state debt. His work was honorable and was fairly well ac-

Field House Would Be Wise Investment

To the Editor of The Kernel:

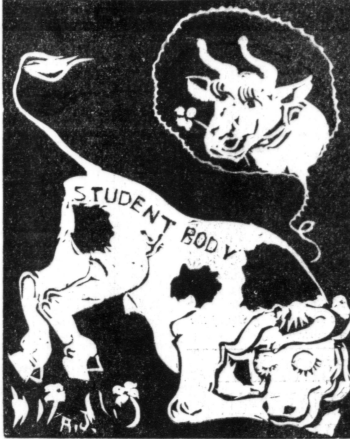

I quite agree with Mr. Brooke's statement in the last issue of The Kernel in which he said that the subject of a field house is a tender spot.

No doubt every angle of the question has been raked over the fire-coals of pen and harangue until death can be nothing but a mere spot, honorable and was fairly well ac-

If the dog-bites-man-bites-dog standard of news is still in effect, this story should make the front page all over the country: An agriculture professor in a midwest college was tossed by a bull.

Of course, we are not so highly informed on foreign affairs as Wendell Willkie who has actually been over there and has made an extensive study of conditions, but it seems to us that, next to the white chalk cliffs of Dover, Adolf Hitler is the biggest bluff in Europe.

"The poetry of Edgar Guest is justified by his poetic license," says a critic. If you ask us, Edgar ought to have his license revoked.

People at sea over America's foreign policy will find there are lots of others in the same boat.

You may consider us converted to the philosophy that there is some good in everything, for we have discovered a good intention in even the California branch of the Nazi American band. They tried—but failed, sadly enough—to shut up Dorothy Thompson last week.

For a long time we, along with Jester Lester, considered the middle of a turnip patch about the safest place in the world. But a few days ago a woman in Alabama had her head cut off by a low-flying airplane while she was having turnips. It just ain't safe nowhere anymore.

U. S. Seizes Axis, Danish Ships

WORLD'S WEEK By JIM WOODBRIDGE

Seizure of Italian, German, and Danish ships was announced in Washington late Sunday after the Naval Intelligence bureau had uncovered a plot of Axis seamen to sabotage all their vessels in American ports.

Coast Guardsmen placed cordons around the ships on both eastern and western seaboard and the Panama Canal Zone when President Roosevelt gave them the go-ahead signal Saturday.

Italian crews had succeeded in placing at least 20 vessels out of commission when the federal government took action through the treasury department.

Investigations of the sabotaged ships showed that saboteurs had started fires under dry boilers, bursting the tubes and ruining them permanently. The Axis seamen also used axes on bearings and deck machinery.

The captain of the Italian ship revealed that orders to destroy his engines had come to him from the Italian naval attaché in Washington. The Fascist attaché, as well as other Italian officials in America, refused to comment on the sabotaging.

Some resistance was offered to Coast Guardsmen on several ships. Rifles and machine guns were used by a number of the boarding Guardsmen.

Commenting on the ship seizures, Senator Burton K. Wheeler said "We have no right under law to seize those ships. This is another act of war."

STUDENT GOVERNMENT By JOHN LONG

IT THE OFFICERS

Because the duty of selecting SGA officers falls directly on the student body, we need to acquaint ourselves in the process by which they are selected. Moreover, in order to make a wise selection, we need to know something of the duties and qualifications of the various officers.

Let us first classify the officers according to the manner in which they gain their positions, consider their individual duties, and finally look at the qualifications and election procedure.

THE PRESIDENTY

The officers elected from the student body include a president, a vice-president, and a woman's vice-president. Elected by and from the Legislature are the secretary and treasurer.

The president of the SGA is really the "man behind the plow." He serves as chairman of the Legislature, as a member of the Rules Committee (which considers, by recommending or disapproving, all proposed legislation that is presented to the Legislature), and as the principal executive of SGA.

Besides his constitutional duties the president sees that the committees function in the job of keeping the will and interest of the student body in their attention, and attends to a host of other details accompanying such a position.

THE VICE-PRESIDENCIES

The men's vice-president and the women's vice-president are ex-officio voting members of the Legislature. Both are members of the Student Standards and the Student Publication committees. The men's vice-president serves as chairman of the latter.

THE ELECTION BOARD

The examination, which is factually objective in nature, is prepared, administered, and graded by the Election Board.

Running Wild

By JOHN CARRICO

There are a number of honorary organizations on the campus but only one selects its members on the basis of physical ability. Not one of its proud sons is a skinny, emaciated individual whose brain is as big as his frame. To the contrary, Charley Atlas would look twice before laying his title to the body beautiful on the line before the K club.

Yes, the muscle-merge referred to is the K club. Established in 1938, it now has an enrollment of 61 which makes it carry a lot of weight in campus affairs—in fact, about 5 1/2 tons of weight all told. However, an excess of arduousness has very little to do with admission to the organization. The catch is to be able to handle that weight, according to the specifications of Messrs. Kirwan, Rupp, Moseley, or Rupert.

To be tapped by the K club you must have earned a monogram in either of the sports conducted by the gentlemen mentioned. The senior managers in football and basketball are usually members also. Dr. Downing, tennis coach, acts as faculty adviser.

The purpose of the K club is to provide a form of social entertainment for its members and to bring about a closer comradeship among the boys who don the Blue and White for its alma mater. In addition to its social activities the K club sponsors numerous teams to take part in the University intramural program.

In order to feel that they really had a compact and unified organization, the K club asked for and obtained a room in the basement of Alumni gym. Here comfortable chairs and inviting sofas extend cheering sympathy to aching tendons and bruised muscles. A record-keeper and a pile of records give indication that "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast." Tables are readily available since practically every member plays bridge. Decorations include two trophies signifying University basketball championships.

The K club elects its officials, conducts its meetings, and initiates its members. Harry Deabam, football and basketball star, is now president and Sully Jacobs, Ab Kirwan's big lineman, is vice-president. Jim Hardin, who has played varsity football for three years, is secretary. Elections are held annually, usually in the spring.

One of the most important functions of the K club is its sponsorship of K-Day. This event is like M-Day or Der Tag to the K clubbers. On April 5, this year's K-Day, there will be a Blue-White intrasquad football game which will conclude spring practice. In quick succession will match diamonds tilt between Kentucky and Illinois college and a track meet in which the Wildcat harriers will engage Hanover.

The K club dance will be held that night. The entire affair will be conducted under the auspices of the K club which will handle the admission tickets, programs, and refreshments.

The proceeds from K-Day and from the concession which the K club has at all baseball games, are used for the improvement of the club room.

Intramurals

The Alpha Gamma Rho, extending for their second straight intramural softball title, turned a barrage of three home runs on Lambda Chi Alpha last Thursday to win 10-2, as the softball season took its initial bow.

Phi Delta Theta also started off with a win as they won from the Delta 13-7. The Delta got off to an early lead when McKinney, first man up in the first inning, hit a home run but McNeal, Delta pitcher, gave up 13 hits, including two home runs, to the Phi Deltas.

Pi Kappa Alpha committed four costly errors in their game with the Sigma Nus and lost the game by the close score of 7-4. Booth and servant, both of Sigma Nu, hit home runs.

The Delta Chi and Sigma Chi softball game was called a double forfeit as neither team showed up for their game. The Friday games were rained out and will be played at a later date.

Football, Baseball Track On Annual K-Day Program

Staff Picks Teams For Intra-Squad Grid Classic

The Blue squad will enter the fray with the more experienced line while the whites will rest with the whites. Last year the Blues defeated the Whites 12-6 on Mullin's runs and Allen's passes.

Moseley was not named the starting pitcher or even the starting line-up for Saturday. Carl Staker has shown up very well in spring practice and may get the first pitching assignment. Moseley has another thing to do up his sleeve in Martin Akers.

Rupert named Long, Mullins, Haas, Dumlup, Reams, and Durbin as the milers to compete between halves.

Following are the two squad line-ups: Moseley's Blues—Ends, Portwood, Edwards, Eble, Sandy and Moseley; tackles, Johnson, Colvin, Schaffer and Jaracz; guards, Beeler, Gumble, Casner, Welborn, and Huddleston; centers, Huletto and French; backs, Hurst, Ewing, Kuhn, Allen, Zoeller, Black, Mitchell, Bell, Kincaid, Kesinger, and Spectus.

Shively's Whites—Ends, Taylor, Sengle, Althaus, Parr, and Boehler; tackles, Schlegel, Iani, Wood, and McClure; guards, Oenbrink, Lord, Preston, Beck, and Graban; centers, Herbert, Hammond, Mullin, Jones, Zinn, Brown, Cutchin, and Ferris.

The University rifle team closed its season Saturday by winning over Pennsylvania State college, 499-495, and Northwestern university, 499-491.

Members of the team who will be awarded rifle K's are Maureen Arthur, Virginia Smith, Edyth Heston, Sarah White, Josephine Baldwin, Kathryn Pirkey, and Sylvia Siegel.

Doris Reichenbach and Ann Hatter will be awarded bars for positions on the team for the second consecutive year.

Coach Ray Gravis was assisted during the season by Roy Mullis, Royce Reiss, Ansel Davis, and Harold Gravis.

University defeated by the local team were Illinois, Kansas, Georgia, Louisiana State, Ohio, Maryland, Michigan, Cornell, California, Idaho, Northwestern, and Oregon State college. Kansas State college, and Pennsylvania State college.

The University of Washington handed the WAA team its only defeat, by a score of 300-495. The matches were with the University of Wichita and Pennsylvania College of Women.

With the exception of the National Intercollegiate matches, the Tennessee meet ended the regular varsity and ROTC matches this season. Lieut. John Carter, coach, said: "The University rifle team is now firing in the third round of this national event."

Also the highest scorer, Melford Garrison, who bowled a 233. The intramural department has extended the date on mixed doubles to April 4 in order to get the largest number of entries possible in this event, which is being tried for the first time.

Track Meet Date May Be Changed

Sponsors of the Southeastern conference track and field meet scheduled to be held in Birmingham May 16-17 may seek to have the dates changed to May 23-24 because of inability to obtain hotel accommodations for athletes.

All accommodations have been reserved for the 10,000 or more visitors to the Southern Baptist convention which will be held on the track meet dates.

Debating Team To Meet Vermont

WITH EASTER SHOPPERS

It's Chesterfield

FOR THERE'S NO BETTER GIFT THAN THE CLEAN WHITE PACKS WITH THEIR

Milder, Better Taste

Easter shoppers and all smokers, who are after smoking pleasure at its best, are asking for Chesterfield... because the finest tobaccos from our own Southland blended with costly aromatic tobaccos from far-off Turkey and Greece give Chesterfield a definitely Milder, Cooler, decidedly Better Taste.
