Dr. Chamberlain already has been performing a number of these duties in his capacity as dean of the University. However, he has been very much overworked with work for the past year or more, and some of the work which I would like for him to undertake has not been performed heretofore as a result of the heavy load he has been carrying.

President Donovan explained that in his new capacity Dr. Chamberlain will continue administrative supervisory service to the University with the department of collegiate athletics and the department of public relations. Other auxiliary services, including the office of the dean of men, office of the dean of women, department of extension, health service, libraries, personnel office, radio station WPKB, the University with the University of the United States, and YVCA, will continue to report directly to the dean of the University.

College Men Use More Color In Postwar Clothes

The traditional pre-war garb of the average American man-about-campus, as enviable and mass-produced as the military dressmaker's line ensembles which lent a college man that distinctive look of innocence, an uncluttered devil-may-care freedom, has suffered a sea-change since Pearl Harbor.

Style scouts from the nation's campuses report the greatest reason for this change is the terrific shortage of those items really preferred by the ante-bellum collegian and we mean the tried and true button-down oxford shirt, good quality grey flannels and jackets of imported Shetland and Harris tweed.

Two trends have sprung from this situation and are most evident wherever one looks from Harvard to Stanford and from Wisconsin to the University of Houston, trends which may greatly influence college styles of the future. The college man of 1946 certainly has more color and comfort than his pre-war counterpart. Whether these two trends will terminate with the reappearance in quantity of those more conservative items now missing, is a moot question.

One thing is sure, however, that the college male who for years has been the less flamboyant of the sexes when it came to dress, has made considerable headway lately in closing up the color gap. His ready adoption of the bright sports shirt, dandied pure-wool sweaters knitted with authentic Norwegian designs and neckties that fairly write in a riot of bold colors and futuristic patterns, seem proof enough.

If this trend should continue, it seems quite within the realm of possibility that the American collegian may soon out-shine his co-ed friend as much as in the feathered world, the rooster out-gories his sober hen and the robin's golden waistcoat obscures the moody breast feathers of his mate.

As far as the other trend—comfort—goes, we have evidence from certain sections that the casual or leisure jacket is fairly popular. It seems from here that this half-sweater, half-jacket, or half-jacket, half-sports shirt, though fairly widely accepted, is until it can compete fairly with the wonderful tweeds of yesterday, an unknown quantity and may or may not become a permanent part of the collegiate wardrobe.

Good Bays for College Guys
When you guys send the home folks your gift request list, it'll be in line to put the emphasis on things like:

It's been a long wait, but suits are a little easier to get than a year ago, so why not think big and add yourself down for a gray flannel outfit. If that's too much to even dream about, why not shoot for shirts—maybe you'll land one of those new button-downs like the Gordon Fenway or a widepread collar job like the classic Sussex.

Don't overlook sports shirts either. These are fairly plentiful. Warm wool shirts in medium or light weights, in solid shades or plaid can be found readily.

The sweater world has a sensational new pace-setter this season—the Norwegian ski model. Most campus stores report a big demand for these beautes with prancing reindeer or evergreens or snowflake designs running across the chest.

When it comes to ties, it's best to be super choosy with your suggestions. The personal tastes of the uppermost. Silks are still a bit scarce and up in price, but you can get good rayons and rayon and wool mixtures for $1.00 and $1.50. College striped ties with matching handkerchiefs have been put on the must list for heavy dates by a long list of well-dressed campus wolves.

As for the pattern and color, the style spies say conservative stripes and foulards on subdued grounds are still a nose ahead of the more flamboyant creations in spite of the popularity of understated neckwear since the war.

Math teacher: And now we find X is equal to zero.
Amazed friend: What! all that work for nothing?

Campus Needs Movie Theater

A motion picture theater to show outstanding features of interest to college students is a definite need of the University. Such an auditorium—of considerable size—could present foreign pictures, especially those of England, France, and Russia—newsreels, and perhaps some important films obsolete in the regular movie circuits.

These features would be of interest probably only to the intellectuals (college students), and they would not be money-makers in the downtown movie houses. But they are among the best entertainment materials in the motion-picture world today.

Full-length newsreels, pictures of history, would be especially beneficial to hurried college students who do not have time to listen to the radio or to read the daily paper as carefully as they would like.

The foreign films offer opportunity for better understanding of continental life and for appreciation of the motion-picture industry of Europe, which produces many pictures far better than our own of those so highly advertised by our own Hollywood.

Perhaps such a theater as this could be included in plans for the new Fine Arts building which will be constructed soon.

Dr. Donovan couldn't be reached, it was always to the dean's office that a kernel reporter or any other interested person went. The answer was there, with an explanation and always "if there's anything I can do, let me know."

We haven't had occasion yet to go to the office of the new vice president, but we are expecting the same reception there. For some time Dr. Chamberlain has performed duties of a vice president without the added title. He well deserved his promotion.

Instead of calling for Dean Chamberlain now, we shall call for Dean Seay. Most students have had little contact with Dr. Maurice Seay, but his work with the Sloan experiment has attracted nationwide attention among educators. In his new post as Dean of the University and Registrar, he will become better known to students.

Dean Kirwan, former Wildcat football coach, has worked with young men for many years as football coach at Louisville Male and Manual high schools and at the University and as a professor of history. His former training should make him well prepared for the new work as dean of men.

These changes in the University set-up are ones which long have been needed. We welcome them and hope that the "new University" will be a better one.

Changes Welcomed

The University could have made no better choice than the advancement of Dr. Leo Chamberlain to the post of vice president. Dean Chamberlain—and we'll likely call him that for a long time yet—has been close to students for several years in his post as Dean of the University and registrar. If anything went wrong when

At last we've discovered why the spotlight shines nightly from the Administration building. Some day President Patterson will arise from his chair, and no one wants to miss the excitement.

Life's lowest moment: Forgetting in which shelf in the library you hid the only copy of an important required reference book.

Wright or Wrong

In the last Kernel of the fall fault. Perhaps, Mr. Stewart, if you quarter there appeared a letter from one of the Greeks, I would like to reply to that letter for three reasons. First, I am a Greek. Second, I think that Mr. Stewart's accusations are unjust and untrue. Third, any student misrepresentation of fact, however identified it may seem, should be clarified and corrected. In the first paragraph of his letter, Mr. Stewart states that Greek organizations seek only the "well-known" students of those "famous on the athletic field." This statement is certainly not borne out by existing conditions. The majority of the men in school on athletic scholarships are independent students. Ability is a nice thing to have but it mainly won't get a man in a fraternity. Now, for that matter, will money. I know of at least three boys in my chapter who are putting themselves through school without any help from their parents. If you want to meet a poor fraternity boy, Mr. Stewart, you can find me hanging around the men's frat office most any afternoon. No, Mr. Stewart, it takes more than money.

Stewart goes on to say that Greeks tend to look down on independent students. This is absurd and hardly worthy of a reply. Look around the campus, Mr. Stewart, at the independent students wearing fraternity pins. This should convince you that Greeks don't look down on independents. And please, Mr. Stewart, don't look down on the little girl who didn't care much for him because he was an independent and preferred to stay that way. Undoubtedly, there are some women on this campus who won't date a boy unless he has on a fraternity pin even though I don't care any of them (and don't care to) but take it from me, Mr. Stewart, those women are in the distinct minority and really aren't worth your time. Believe me, if a woman is that much of a prig, you'll be better off without her. If you are having trouble dating the same girl, you know it might not be entirely the girl's fault.

The independents outnumber the Greeks of this campus and if they don't control the SOA it's their

According to league rules, each team must play, cancel, or forfeit all scheduled games, as how could any team "boycott" any other team? Is it "hilarious," Mr. Stewart, that fraternities mutually hate one another? How then, can you explain the Phi-SAE picnic last spring, the Phi Tau-Phi Sig dance (what a dance!) this fall, or the interfraternity dance of any year? If you would try sticking out your hand instead of your neck, Mr. Stewart, you will find that whether it has waited for so long, Vaughn is a determining factor as to what kind of friend he will make. Come again, Mr. Stewart, come again. But first take time to grow up a little.

Pro And Con Of Stewart Stand

Editor, Kentucky Kernel:
Congratulations to The Kernel for printing the letter from Robert Stewart. I believe that he hit the nail right on the head and was just what The Kernel needed. I was beginning to believe that our school paper was a frat and sorority gossip sheet (with the first and second exceptions). Stewart said what many of the veterans of the school have been thinking—believe me!

Bands 'n Stuff

By Charles Whaley
Sometimes a band hangs around the musical circuit for several years. It may be commercial, easy-to-listen-to, and well-liked; but for some reason it doesn't get into the top brackets of show business. Then without any fanfare or enthusiastic acclaim the band in question records a tune. Primarily through repeated plugging by disc jockeys, the song becomes popular, the record is in great demand, and the manufacturer concentrates on turning out all the platters that he can. The orchestra is carried up to the top along with the tune and at last receives the public recognition that it has waited for so long. Vaughn is no exception.

I'm a bachelor girl—any bachelor will do.
I wish him better luck this time and then he can share in the many advantages that he claims exist under the system.

Becky Noble tells me that when Archduke Felix of Austria visited the Alpha Xiis recently, he sat cross-legged on the floor and asked his accept to some of the sorority songs they sang. Must have been fun to watch.

When Dottie Ann Dare, new vocalist with Freddie Slack's band, appeared with Slack at the Band Box in Chicago, Slack said that she attracted many Randolph street writers to the spot. If visual evidence is needed, she may be seen with Freddie Slack and band when they appear at Joyland Casino the night of October 15th.

British songwriters complain that the popularity of American songs in England is jeopardizing their livelihoods, according to The Billboard. They demand that 50 per cent of all music on British airways be of British origin. The tunesmiths are reported meeting soon to draft a complaint for submission to the BBC director general.

TELEPHONE men are hard at work extending and improving telephone service in rural areas served by the Bell Companies. They're pushing a $100,000,000 three to five year program to give telephone service to all who want it just as fast as possible.

To do this they had to look beyond conventional telephone practices. New techniques and new and improved equipment had to be planned, developed and proved. Now they are furnishing telephone service over rural power lines, over steel wire that requires fewer poles per mile, over insulated wire that can be buried directly in the ground and by means of rural radio.

Men who approach every problem with open minds... who are guided by ingenuity and resourcefulness rather than by established method... find telephony an ever stimulating and interesting career.

Engineering Head Attends Annual ASME Meeting

Professor E. B. Penrod, head of the Mechanical Engineering department, attended the sixty-seventh annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in New York City, December 2-6.

When interviewed concerning the function of the ASME, Professor Penrod said that it was essentially a forum for discussion of and information on current and future developments in the engineering world. One of the highlights of this meeting was a paper by J. I. Yellott, director of research of the Bituminous Coal Research Inc., of Baltimore, Md., on the use of powered coal as fuel for gas turbine driven locomotives which he presented to the heat transfer section. This development opens a previously unexploited field in pressurized combustion. A panel of distinguished representatives of labor and management also created considerable interest in their discussion of the problems before employer and employee in industry as a whole today. Penrod said that the discussion was notable for its unanimity of thought.

The dean of the law school was very busy and rather cross. The telephone rang.

"Ah," she answered sweetly. "I didn't miss it so far, did I?"

Kyian Pages Must Be Paid For!

Several campus organizations may lose their page reservations in the 1947 Kentuckian because they have not made payments as specified by the space contracts, according to Charles R. KAUFMAN'S

Basketball, Bowling Head Winter Intramural List

By O. C. Hayward

Plans for the winter quarter intramurals have been announced by Bill McCubbin, intramural director, and show five sports in the offering. Basketball and bowling are top sports on the schedule, but badminton, ping pong, and a free throw contest in basketball share interest.

As previously announced, boxing and wrestling will not be offered until the spring quarter, because variously basketball, intramural basketball and badminton will use up most of Alumni gym's available time.

Free Throw Contest Tonight
The free throw contest starts off the quarter of student-participation sports. All men desiring to enter the fray should be in the Men's gym by 7:30 tonight, dressed and ready for participation. Each man will get 25 shots, and the five highest from each fraternity will qualify for the finals. A similar proportion of the independents will be selected for the finals.

Finals will be held Monday night, January 13, in the gym, with each finalist getting 25 additional shots. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of the highest scores in the entire 50 shots. An entry fee of 25 cents will be charged each entry.

Basketball will be next on the schedule and there is very little time left to organize teams, as the deadline date for entries is Tuesday, January 14. The round-robin tournament will start Monday, January 20, and will be followed by elimination tournament for the trophies.

All members of a fraternity are eligible to play on their fraternity team, while independent teams must be limited to 15 men. Intramural managers should sign practice dates for their teams when they turn in the entries. Each team will be eligible for two dates. The entry fee will be $2.00 per team and must be paid before the team will be permitted to play.

Referees Needed
Coach McCubbin needs additional referees for the basketball games. In order to qualify a person should know high school basketball rules. Referees will be paid 75 cents a game and have an opportunity of working three games a night. Both singles and doubles will be offered in ping pong and badminton. The deadline date for entries in ping pong will be January 28, and the elimination tournament will start February 3. Entry fee will be 25 cents each.

The last date for entry in badminton will be February 11, and the elimination tournament will start as soon as the basketball battles will be completed. Badminton fee will also be 25 cents each.

Bowling will wind up the quarter as far as intramurals are concerned, running up until exams start. The deadline date for entries will be February 18, with tournament play starting February 24. Teams will consist of five men with two alternates. The entry fee for bowling will be $2.00 for each team.

Bad weather prevented the completion of the tennis doubles, but victory was slated to be the SAE's, with two teams from that fraternity in the finals. The SAE's copped her singles with Evans beating Rousch, Ind., in the finals.

The Delta's team of Lear and Stewart took the golf doubles, while Lake, DTD, topped Gorman, KA, in the singles. The SAE's win the volleyball tournament with the SAE's finishing second, just as they did in touch football.

NO STUMBLING WHEN YOU PLAY A CONN

EVEN STEPS THROUGHOUT THE SCALE
Unequal steps in inferior instruments cause a player to stumble in his performance just as he would stumble running up and down a flight of steps which were unequal in height.

On a Conn you never stumble because the steps are evenly placed throughout the entire scale. This is insured by the use of the Conn developed Chromatic Serranose, which assures a sensitive, even touch in an extreme, this great feature to you.

PLEASE!

During the Christmas holidays, the fire department started enforcing the "no smoking" rule in Alumni gym. During the last three games played the only smoke has been from the team themselves, and last Saturday night even it didn't create too much.

Enforcement of the rule has helped tremendously. If you have ever had to sit high in the back of the gym during a game chances are you nearly suffocated and your friends had to leave while playing a strenuous game. Athletic authorities are especially pleased by the consideration shown in recent games.

The clear visibility also helps the players and is easier on them while playing a strenuous game. Athletic authorities are especially pleased by the consideration shown in recent games.

Bryant in New York For Coach Conclave

"Bear" Bryant, Kentucky grid coach, will return Saturday from New York, where he has been attending a meeting of the nation's plebein tutors. Many papers there carried an AP wirephoto of the "Bear" with Lon Little, Columbia coach, and Jim Tatum, Oklahoma A. & M. mentor. The cutline read "talking things over as three of the nation's top football coaches."

Since the grid season ended six weeks ago in Knoxville, Bryant and his staff have been off the road, signing outstanding high school prospects for future varsity service. Still field next spring and summer will probably see more talent than any time in its history, when the candidates begin vying for places on the 1947 roster.

Aggies Hand 'Cats First Loss Ruppman Win Nine Other Starts

By Tom Dislin

Kentucky's Wildcats are midway in their basketball schedule, list 12 victories and a lone loss. Oklahoma A.&M. ended the 'Cats' 29-game winning streak over a two-year period by upsetting the Ruppman, 37-31. In the annual Sugar Bowl cage attraction January 30 in New Orleans.

Before the Aggie tilt the Blue basketballers were ranked well above any team in the country. The top perch is now debatable, but a return to form should enable the 'Cats' to drop in 16 points, 11 of them in the first half.

In the last week prior to Christmas holidays Rupp's Rippers garnered four top-heavy wins over Cincinnati, Idaho, DePaul and Texas A. & M. During vacation they topped Miami, Baylor, and Wake Forest, ran over St. John's in New York's Madison Square Garden before the New Orleans nightmare, in their only start since school opened they decided Ohio university, 46-36, in a slow game.

Kentucky 65 Idaho 35

Another walk-away for the Kentucky boys this game played in Alumni gym. Jones started the game for the Cats, but sprained his ankle early in the game and Groza took his place at center. The Vandals of Idaho trailed at the half, 31-15, and never pressed the local team during the game. Beard again was the star with 14 points, closely followed by Groza who tossed in 12.

Kentucky 65 DePaul 45

The Louisville Army was the victor in this game. DePaul got off to a good start and led, 8 to 2, early in the contest, but the Wildcats soon took the lead and never gave it up. "Moose" Mikan topped DePaul scorers with 18 points, while the Blue Louisville lead, Beard was high for Kentucky with 15. Groza and Holand followed with 10 markers each.

Kentucky 83 Texas A. & M. 18

The red-jerseyed Aggies were never in the game with the smooth playing boys from the Blue Grass. Kentucky led, 10-0, at the start, increased it to 25-2, then 37-3, and at the half led by the huge margin of 42-10. In the second half the score jumped to 62-12. Texas finally ended 83-18. Rupp's boys made 51 per cent of their shots in this game while the not-so-tall Texans connected for 15 per cent of their attempts. Jim Line, the Akron freshman, was the outstanding star in this game by scoring 16 points. He made eight field goals in only 13 tries, and the crowd gave him much applause when he left the game late in the final period.

Kentucky 62 Miami (Ohio) 45

In a rough contest at Alumni gym, the Kentucky basketballers beat the Miami Redskins, 62 to 45. Rupp's charges started off well, and led 17-5, when the Orange decided to make a rough game of it and from that point on the two teams battled an even terms. In this game, Beard received a bruised leg, but it was not a serious injury. For the seventh time in eight games, Beard was the high point man for Kentucky with 14, while Groza was right behind him with 13. Brown and Schenckenberg led the Red and White team from Oxford, Ohio.

Kentucky 78 St. John's 59

In packed Madison Square Garden, Kentucky trimmed a good St. John's team, 78-59, after Tennessee had dropped the opening game in the double-header to Long Island U., 42-32. A record crowd of 18,493 Beard each had eight markers.

Kentucky 75 Baylor 34

This game was played in Alumni gym before a "public" crowd. Kentucky started off slowly and at the half led only 28-21. In the second half, however, the Cats pulled away from the 1945-46 champions of the Southwest conference led by Beard, Braunam and Rollins, turned the game into another one-sided contest.

Kentucky 96 Washab 24

Another walk-away for the Kentucky boys was chalked up by the 1946-47 Wildcats, when they hit the hoops for 96 points. It was the Kentucky team's 26th straight victory in a two-year span and 113 straight of the young season. Score at the half was 42-12. The Indiana netters were held to a feeble six field goals and 12 free throws, for a total of 24 points. This game was also played in Alumni gym. Beard was high with 18 tacks.

Oklahoma A. & M. 37 Kentucky 31

The Wildcats were held to only 31 points—the lowest number of points scored by them in the last 98 games. It was a defensive game from the start. Rupp's Cats jumped into a 6-0 lead at the start, but for a total of 24 points. This game was also played in Alumni gym. Beard was high with 18 tacks.

Each team made 12 field goals, but the Aggies made 13 free throws while Kentucky tossed in only seven. The Wildcats were off, offensively, connecting on only 23 percent of their shots; Oklahoma did little better, making 27 percent of their attempts. Rollins was top tally man for the Lexington quintet, scoring eight points. Beard Groza had six each, Oklahoma A. & M. was led by their center, Harris, former Murray, Ky. player, with ten points; Bennett hit for eight. Bradley seven. Williams seven, and Amara had the points for the opponents. This game was played before 8,500 fans in New Orleans in the annual Sugar Bowl basketball classic. It was the Wildcats' fourth appearance in this game and their record is now two wins and two losses.

Kentucky 46 Ohio U. 36

Approximately 2400 students saw the Wildcats fight off a scrappy Ohio U. team in Alumni gym last Saturday. The Kentuckians played a sluggish game and had the Bobcats been hot, it might have been an upset for the Athens, Ohio, five. At the end of the first half, the Blue and White led, 28-16, but mid-way in the second half the Ohioians started lusting the basket and crept up to within five points of the favored Cat quintet. Jim Line was sent in at this point, came through with eight quick points and Kentucky pulled away as the time went out. Final score, 46-36. Kentucky, Groza flipped in 12 points, while Line, Rollins and Beard each had eight markers.

'Cats 'At Home' To Dayton, Meet Vandy In Nashville

By Baxter Melton

Kentucky's Wildcats, plagued by an unexpected, unexplained slump, make two efforts to rid themselves of lackluster play and loss-scoring exhibitions against Dayton University and Vanderbilt this week. Dayton's Flyers, who have done anything but that this season, visit the Baron and his boys Saturday night in Alumni gym. Ticket No. 18 will be good for the game. Monday night the 'Cats will make their second Southeastern conference start against Vanderbilt in Nashville.

By comparative scores Rupp's Flyers' hardest work Saturday night should be putting on their uniforms. Dayton has won only three of five games this season, has been walloped by two foes over whom Kentucky scored triumphs. However, the Flyers after losing their first five frays, have come back to win three in a row, including a decision over Youngstown, 63-36 victor in their first meeting. Miami routed Dayton, 66-39, while the 'Cats topped Miami, 62-49. Ohio University, last Kentucky victim, scored over the Flyers, 64-29. The Ruppmen realized a 46-36 decision over the Bobcats last week without showing any of the power so prevalent in pre-holiday performances.

Dayton Coached By Carter

Dayton's basketball destinies are directed by Jim Carter, former Purdue grid and court player. His protégés employ the aggressive, driving type of hoop tactics so typical of Purdue during its hey-day in Big 10 cage play, when Piggy Lambert, now National League professional basketball head, was at the helm. Formerly, Purdue's Bill Ginn is the kingpin of Dayton's offense, scored 24 points last year, though the Flyers won only three of 16 starts. Six lettermen from the squad are on this year's roster. Four other reserves from the 1945-46 team.

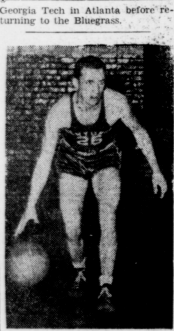

Wittenberg spoiled the Flyers' inaugural by winning, 49-46, before Youngstown, Akron, Ohio, and Miami bested the Flyers in that order. In a trio of recent attempts Saturday's callers garnered one-point odds over Youngstown, 42-40, and Xavier, 33-34, beat Anderson, 45-49, in their latest showing.

'Cats Work Long Hours

Long, hard practice sessions have marked the Wildcats' rehearsals this week. Dayton's challenge may be to one to lift Rupp's Raiders out of the "so-what" style of ball so obvious against Oklahoma A. & M. and Ohio. Night scrimmages have even followed afternoon workouts. The team is ready physically, blanchetiers are hoping that it will regain the inspired style of play that carried it to the nation's top cage perch before the end of last year. "Wah-Wah" Jones, haretore a center, may start at forward against the Flyers.

In Tennessee's capital city Monday night, Kentucky will also be favored, not only on this year's record, but also because of two triumphs over the Commodores last winter, 50-37, and 64-31. The Cooper, tutored by Norman Cooper, have beaten Sewanee twice in their only games to date. Tomorrow night's Vanderbilt-Albans clash in Nashville should give some indication of Vandy's strength, as well as a better picture of the Southeastern conference race in general.

The 'Cats will be on the road for four frays after Saturday night's game here. Following their trek to Nashville the boys in Blue return to the Volunteer state the next Saturday to test Tennessee's court prowess at Knoxville. The same trip takes them to Georgia, where they meet the Bulldogs at Athens and

Ken Rollins
Rollins 'Cat Captain For Rest of Season

Ken Rollins, Wickliffe junior, has been elected captain for the rest of the season by his basketball mates. The six foot guard, whose steady play has characterized his two years on the varsity, was named last week, following the Oklahoma A. & M. game.

The announcement was received favorably by all Kentucky followers. Even Coach Adolph Rupp calls Rollins "one of my best, most dependable boys." Always a great floor man and team-player, the Wickliffe Wildcat does his share of point production, too. He paced Kentucky's scoring in New Orleans, has always been consistent on long efforts. He has also developed a one-handed attempt that increases tally totals.

Rollins' last season at Kentucky was the 1942-43 campaign, when he was a sophomore starter. In the service he played with Great Lakes' all-conquering quintet, came back this year to win a first-string spot among Coach Rupp's talented candidates.

LUK POOL TOURNAMENT STARTS MONDAY

Pairings of the 47 pocket billiards tournaments, competing against each other for the honor of representing Kentucky in the Collegiate sectional qualifying tournament on February 19, will be posted in the game room of the SUBN Monday, January 13, with the tourney starting that afternoon.

Kentucky's team will be made up of the eight quarter-finalists of the tournament here, five of whom will be the actual team, while the other three will serve as alternates. The winner of the tourney will be the team captain.

All participants in the local tournament must be scholastically eligible for athletics according to the University of Kentucky's requirements, and they must also be members of the undergraduate student body.

Finals of the pocket billiards division of the Collegiate national championship tournament will be held March 19, according to work from the sponsors, the Association of College Unions and the Billiard Association of America.

MUSING with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

The New Year has not been so happy for basketball coach Adolph Rupp and his Wildcats warriors. "Into each life some rain must fall," but the Baron must feel that "too much, too much has fallen in mine." Oklahoma A. & M.'s 37-31 win at New Orleans rang out the old year, but 1947 has not yet brought a return to form, if the 'Cats' performance against Ohio University is any indication. "What's wrong with Kentucky?" is No. 1 item among barber shop banalities.

Have they played too many games? Are they travel-weary? Did lack of red competition half the string of victories, ready them for a body blow? Had the time come when they expected to don their uniforms, run out on the court, say "boo" and expect the opponents to be beaten mentally before the game even began? These are but a few of the theories advanced by sidelineurs, and all are plausible.

We hold still another view—that the capers resented their peak too early against Ohio. Beard's failure to score on set-ups was especially noticeable after his talking earlier in the game on lightning-like guard-around plays, his point production all season.

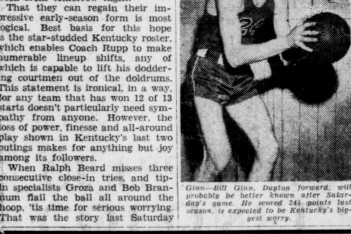

To date the Wildcats have outscored their opponents, 883-479, in averaging 67.1 points to the foe's 38.8 each game. Beard is far in front among the individual scorers with 163 markers, runner-up is Groza with 118. Captain Ken Rollins ranks third with 109. Jack Tingle has 82, Jim Line 66, and Bob Brannum 62. Curiously enough, "Wah-Wah" Jones has tallied the same number he wears on his jersey—27. Other totals are Cliff Jandymyter, 26; Cliff I. Barker, 36; Jim Jordan, and Muff Davis, 35; Buddy Parker, 33; Dale Barnstable, 23; Al Cummins, 15; "Dutch" Campbell, 14; and Jim McMullen, four.

When Halp Beard misses three consecutive close-in tries and tips in specialists Groza and Bob Brannum fall to the ball all around the hoop, 'is time for serious worrying. That was the story last Saturday.

Howdy Bill Groza, Dayton forward, will give up the ball after Saturday's game. He scored 24 points last season, is expected to be Kentucky's biggest scorer.

FENCERS OPEN VS. CHARLESTON

By Winfield Leathers

Comparatively "green" in material and competitive experience, the University of Kentucky fencing club will meet the Charleston, West Va. fencers in Alumni gym, Saturday, January 18.

Coach Karl Holland stated that his Kentucky team will be playing a defensive type of match against the semi-professional Charleston club, considered one of the best in the south-eastern United States, since he has only four men who have had competitive experience. These four, Brown, Kaufman, Thompson and Underleider, are the mainstays of Holland's team. Kaufman and Thompson lead fencers, while Brown and Underleider lead the dieliers.

After an absence of five years because of the war, the club was formed independently by Coach Holland and, even though the official support is lacking, it is making progress. A return match with the Charleston club is definitely slated for March 1, while two each with the University of Cincinnati and the Louisville YMCA are still tentative with no definite date.

All men who are interested in either learning the art of fencing or trying out for the team should see Coach Holland in the basement of the Men's gym, where the team practices between 4 and 6 p. m. five days a week, Monday through Friday.

Frosch: What's the best way to teach a girl to swim?
Senior: That requires technique. First you put your left arm around her waist. Then you gently take her left hand and...
Frosch: She's my sister.
Senior: Oh, just push her off the dock.

The footman coach, giving final instruction, suddenly turned to a sub who hadn't been put in a game all season. "What would you do if we were on the ten yard line and they intercepted our pass?"
The patient sub answered: I'd probably more farther up the bench to see better."
