

Bulletin No. 2.

S. Bennett Alderman, 42 Church Street, New Haven, Conn.

Sam is of the opinion that we should have mentioned in the last bulletin that he is practicing law. Hence this additional paragraph.

William T. Bahlman, 2117 Reading Road, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Now single. Has two sons, 11 and 14. Member of the University Club, Cincinnati Tennis Club, and Cincinnati Association. Was student officer, Engineer Corps, during the war.

Clarence V. Blake, 14 York Street, Portland, Maine.

Married and has two sons. Treasurer, Blake-Rounds Supply Company, wholesale plumbing and steam supplies.

Nathan P. Bloom, Adler Manufacturing Company, Louisville, Ky.; home address, 1408 Cherokee Road, Louisville.

Married and has four daughters. Is president of his company, which manufactures radio cabinets, etc. President of the Board of Education and active in the Rotary Club, Children's Free Hospital, and Pendennis Club. Plays golf and squash. During the war was First Lieutenant, Battery B, 326th F.A., commanding battery for eleven months and serving overseas with 84th Division. Travels to Chicago, New York, and occasionally Philadelphia and Buffalo.

Charles A. Bowles, Jr., 1200 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Married and has two daughters. Has been in the insurance business since 1924. Plays a bit of golf and states that he enjoys life. During the war was at Camp Devens and Camp Zachary Taylor with the Field Artillery.

Brice Bowman, 750 Huron Road, Cleveland, Ohio.

Married Esther C. Wolfe - has two sons and one daughter. Is general commercial engineer for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company. Does some traveling and is interested in gardening and woodworking. Still says he is a good Republican. During the war was with the 75th Company, 6th Regiment, U.S. Marines; served overseas and was with the 2d Division, Army of Occupation.

*Thomas F. Buckley - died April 8, 1933 at Whitefish Bay, Wis.

After leaving Yale was employed in the engineering department of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, then with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul at Milwaukee - afterwards with the engineering department of the Milwaukee Street Railway. For a number of years before his death he was located at Whitefish Bay, first as village engineer and later as commissioner of public works. Married in 1917 to Sarabel Valentine Booth, who survives him with two sons.

Edgar U. Burdett, 183 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

Married and has three sons and one daughter. Does not tell much about his activities except that he spends his time keeping his family well and getting three square meals a day.

George V. Caesar, 50 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York City.

Married and has two boys. Still in the chemical line with Stein, Hall & Company at 285 Madison Avenue, New York City. Has been in Bridgeport, Conn., Plainfield, N. J., and Tacoma, Wash., since graduation. Says he does not feel any older, but his hair is thinner and his waist is thicker, although he struggles to reduce with squash and tennis.

William E. Camp, Edge Hill Road, Abington, Pa.

Married Helen Olp and has two sons. Industrial engineer. Besides amusing himself with riding, trapshooting, fishing, swimming, and restoring old furniture, he also collects antique maps. Said he was a Republican, but would vote for Roosevelt again. Wonder if he is still of that opinion.

Edward O. Carlson, care New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, Westfield, N. J.

Married Edith L. Johnson and has two daughters and one son. Is assistant track supervisor of the New Haven Road. Was in the Army from May, 1917, to May, 1919, and outside of that has been with the railroad since graduation.

Walter S. Carr, 1310 East 1st Street, Dayton, Ohio.

Married and has one daughter. Treasurer of the Tower Varnish & Dryer Company (that used to be a swell business - note from the editor). Spends his spare time hunting and fishing.

Benjamin W. Case, Jr., Wakefield, R. I.

Has not had any matrimonial ventures. Spends his time practicing law. Ben is very careful not to give any further details. It is suggested that he write them in.

*Daniel F. Conlon, Jr., died, of angina pectoris, on March 23, 1934.

Was local agent in Lawrence, Mass., for the New York Equitable Life Insurance Company - later district manager of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company - then connected as a salesman for the brokerage house of Chase & Company of Boston and subsequently, with A. B. Leach & Company. Trained at Plattsburg, where he received a commission of Second Lieutenant in the Field Artillery. Stationed at Camp Devens and then at Fort Sill and in September, 1918, went to France. Promoted to First Lieutenant and assigned to headquarters of the 59th Brigade, 2d Army. Married in 1925 to Susan Flynn, who survives him with a daughter.

Harry Cook, 115 Broadway, New York City.

Married and has one child. Was in the manufacturing business up to 1932 and since then with Dominick & Dominick.

David L. Dunn, 272 Main Street, New Britain, Conn.

A note in the Alumni Weekly gives us information that he has been elected mayor of New Britain, Conn., on the Democratic ticket. No further information.

Harold S. Dwight, 1019 Redway Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Married Rosalind D. Vail and has three sons. At present an idle capitalist. Member of the Kenwood Country Club - was in the Engineer Officers' Training Camp during the war. Says he spends his time keeping ahead of the sheriff, but enjoys life just the same.

William Emery, Jr., 1050 Rockefeller Building, Cleveland, Ohio.

Married Susanna Fleming - has three daughters and one son. President of a coal company - belongs to the Kirtland Country Club and Tavern Club. Spends his spare time playing golf.

John T. Finnegan, 123 St. Rose Street, Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Has been in the jewelry business at 16 Munroe Street, Lynn, Mass., since 1914. Married and has two sons. The last time the editor saw him he was looking fit and well.

Alexander H. Fosdick, 422 5th Avenue, Bethlehem, Pa.

Married Ethel Baldwin and has two sons. Superintendent of the Blast Furnaces of the Bethlehem Steel Company. Has been with that company since graduation, starting as assistant to the master mechanic, and holding various positions up to that which he now occupies. Is president of the Bethlehem Club, was president of the University Club, and is a member of the Savcon Valley Country Club. Believes industry needs some control, leaving out politics and brain trusters.

Curtis Franklin, 131 Kenilworth Road, Mountain Lakes, N. J., office, 19 Rector Street, New York City.

Married and has one son and one daughter. Does not tell what kind of business he is in, only states that he spends a great part of each day commuting from the hills of New Jersey.

Harold H. Gilbert, Alameda, Calif.

Married and has two sons and two daughters. At the present time is engineer on designing the bridge between San Francisco and Oakland. He is rated as a senior designer on bridges for the State of California. Has been with the Maryland Steel Company, then the Bethlehem Steel Company, the Submarine Boat Corporation - then went west to Portland, Ore., and worked for the Albina Engine & Machine Works. Married a Portland girl in 1918. Spends his spare time raising filberts, which some of you may not know to be nuts.

Darwin L. Gillett, 102 Elm Street, Westfield, Mass.

Married Ruth Thomas and has one son and one daughter. Started making bricks in 1914, dabbled in real estate and contracting. Was in aviation during the war and landed back in the brick business.

Frederick H. Glover, Box 304, Franklin, Mass.

Unmarried. Rates himself 50% idle and 100% poor. President of the Franklin Petroleum Products Company, wholesale dealers in petroleum products. Started with the Whitaker Paper Company in 1913 in Cincinnati and went to New York with the same company in 1918 and to Detroit in 1919 and finally in Chicago until 1922. Then went with the American Writing Paper Company and finally went to Franklin, Mass., in 1927 and started his own business. Was in an assembly plant for gas masks in Philadelphia during the war.

Bernard Gordon, 35 Bates Road, Swampscott, Mass.

Married Sara Littman and has two sons. At the present time is with the Home Life Insurance Company, 75 Federal Street, Boston, Mass. Since graduation has been with the Bureau of Engineering, City of New Haven, Eastern Malleable Iron Company, Bridgeport, Conn., duPont in New York City - landed in Florida in 1927 and back to New England in 1929.

George A. Gore, 319 Kearny Street, San Francisco, Calif.

Married and has one daughter. President of Gore & Crossman, Inc., a realty firm operating at the above address. Still has his yearning for athletics and issues a large invitation to any one of the Class going to Frisco to stay with him indefinitely.

William D. Graves, Jr., 404 West 1st Street, Dayton, Ohio.

Single. Manufacturers' agent for metal novelties. Belongs to the Dayton Country Club and the Buzfuz Club. During the war was a First Lieutenant, overseas with the 329th Infantry.

*John R. Green, Greenwich, Conn.

It is noted from an article in the Alumni Weekly that John Russell Green died in Paris last November. He had been connected with the American Radiator Company and had served for a time as president of the Associated Motors Company. He is survived by his wife and five sisters.

Albert V. Hall, Coral Gables, Fla. (temporary)

Married and at the present time is at 2601 Columbus Boulevard, Coral Gables. Mrs. Hall writes that he has been suffering from an infection of the blood stream which kept him in the hospital in Grand Rapids for seven months and in bed in Miami for four more. The Class wishes him the best of luck. Permanent address, Kent Hills, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Benjamin P. Harwood, Billings, Mont.

Married and has one son and one daughter. Now practicing law. Was formerly county attorney and irrigation district counsel, U.S. Indian Irrigation Service for Montana and Wyoming. Issues a very hearty invitation for any one getting near his country to get in touch with him.

J. Crossan Hays, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Married Frances Dalzell and has one son and two daughters. President, Iron City Tool Works, Pittsburgh. Spends his leisure golfing and horseback riding.

Bergen Herod, 56 East 54th Street, New York City.

Recently married Irene Dillemath, of Berlin, Germany. Has not replied to questionnaire, but editor knows he has spent most of his time in Europe since graduation, served in the Army during the war - looks just about the same as usual except that he is a bit gray.

William F. Howe, Weston, Mass.

Married Margaret Allen. Has two daughters and one son. Is bond salesman and manager, Boston office of Rutter & Company, 35 Congress Street, Boston. Also treasurer of New England Distillers, Inc., Clinton, Mass. In 1916 went to the Mexican border with the 1st Massachusetts Field Artillery. Was Captain of the 102d Field Artillery, 26th Division, American Expeditionary Forces. In 1920 went with Ayers Lane & Company, wool brokers - from 1921 to 1930 was with Kidder Peabody & Company and since 1932 in his present job. Is now Lieutenant Colonel, 102d Field Artillery, Massachusetts National Guard. Interested in squash racquets and tennis. Says his weight is the same as in 1913, but getting old. Can you imagine it?

Robert M. Hume, Millinocket, Maine.

Married Blanche Towne and has two sons. Superintendent of the Great Northern Paper Company at Millinocket, with which he has been connected for twenty years, with the exception of one year which he spent in the Army during the war.

George Ingram, 99 John Street, New York City.

Married and has three daughters and one son. Lives at Mountain Lakes, N. J. Is in insurance business, with offices at the above address.

Wilbur W. Jenkins, 124 Bruce Avenue, Yonkers, N. Y.

Married. After graduation went into the box board game at Haverhill, Mass. To Plattsburg in 1917. Left the Army and joined the Marine Corps in 1918. Was down in Carolina and Virginia and back to Montville in 1919, and in 1920 was purchasing agent for Robert Gair & Company. Assistant manager at Montville in 1923. From 1924 to 1931 in his own business as paper stock broker in New York. 1931 to 1933 manager of the Androscoggin Pulp Company at South Windham, Maine.

A. Shelton Keith, 5632 Callowhill Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Married Lillian Kiskadden. No children. Is engineering clerk for West Penn Power Company. Has been with the Crucible Steel Company of America, the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Company, and, for the last twelve years, with his present connection.

William T. Ketcham, 19 Thomas Street, New York City.

Married and has two sons. Has been in the same business ever since leaving college, Ketcham & Bell, dry goods commission merchants. Lives at Cedarhurst, Long Island. Plays golf and squash racquets.

Allen S. Lake, 32 Conshohocken Road, Bala, Pa.

Married Juanita Smith. No children. Is at present in the oil business. Served in the U.S. Navy during the war.

George D. Macbeth, 5620 5th Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Married. Is at present president of the Macbeth Evans Glass Company. We have received no other information regarding his recreations or further activities.

Walter L. McGill, 144 Gibbs Street, Newton Center, Mass.

Married Priscilla A. McGill and has one son and two daughters. Connected with Lombard & Company, Inc., manufacturers of abrasives and grinding wheels of Somerville, Mass.

Alvan Markle, Jr., Hazleton, Pa.

Married and has three sons and one daughter. President of the Markle Banking & Trust Company at Hazleton. Director of the Jeddo-Highland Coal Company, the Hazle Brook Coal Company, The Markle Corporation, The Fuel Service Company, General Coal Company, Rockhill Coal & Iron Company, and Jeddo Tunnel Company. Served as a Second Lieutenant U.S. Signal Corps, and later in the Aviation Section of the U.S. Army. Member of the Art Club and Midday Club of Philadelphia, Craftsman Club, and Valley Country Club. Finds recreation in golf, tennis, and landscape painting.

Dennis Bernard Martin, Park Square Building, Boston, Mass.

Is in the security business, maintaining an office in New York City at 104 East 52d Street and also in Boston at above address. Single and does not mention how he spends his spare time.

Standish Meacham, 1100 Broadway, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Married Eleanor Rapp and has one son. Member of the firm of Rapp & Meacham, architects, recently appointed one of six firms working on $10,000,000 housing project for Cincinnati. Member board, Ohio Mechanics Institute, trustee, the Berry Schools in Georgia, treasurer, local chapter, American Institute of Architects. Returned to Yale to study architecture, graduating in 1928. Expresses regret at missing last reunion.

Harold W. Merritt, 1 Grafton Street, Greenwood, Mass.

Married Marion L. Bolton and has two daughters. Assistant engineer in valuation department, Boston & Maine Railroad. Has been in valuation work with the Boston & Maine and the Grand Trunk Railway - in the training school at Durham, N. H., then E.O.T.S. at Camp Humphreys, Va., during the war. Is active in American Legion work.

Rushworth I. Munder, 124 Buckingham Street, Springfield, Mass.

Married Elvera L. Klein and has one son and two daughters. Was in the engineering department, City of Springfield, as his first job - then with Fred T. Ley & Company in construction work for five and a half years. Then went with the Fiberloid Corp., in 1919 as superintendent of their novelty division for five and a half years. Made tungsten incandescent lamps for three years and then went into business, manufacturing radio tubes and therapeutic lamps. Says he is well and happy and starting to save money to send his son to New Haven.

Hrand K. Najarian, St. Joseph Lead Company, Josephtown, Pa.

Married Vera E. Blumer and has two sons. Is now plant engineer of Electro-Thermic Zinc Smelter of St. Joseph Lead Company. Has been with this company for the last twelve years in various positions and in various locations, including Missouri, Montana, northern New York, Pennsylvania, and Argentina, South America. Previous to that was with the Utah Copper Company, Salt Lake City, Missouri Cobalt company, Fredericktown, Pa., U.S. Smelting Company, Midvale, Utah, the American Smelting & Refining Company of Leadville, Colo., and the Nevada Construction Copper Company at Nevada. Says he plays contract bridge and golf badly - is a Republican and ends with the remark that twenty-one years have passed by pretty fast.

William H. Nimick, Jr., 334 South Dallas Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Married Nancy Griffin, has two sons and one daughter. Swims and golfs for recreation - is a Republican and thinks the country might be better off without NRA. A lot of other people seem to think so. Makes a plea for more classmates back to reunions.

Herndon J. Norris, 818 Pershing Square Building, Los Angeles, Calif.

Married and has two daughters. After leaving Yale, went to the University of Virginia. Practiced law in Prescott, Ariz., until 1926, then went to Los Angeles, where he has been practicing law ever since.

George Phillips Orlady, 1421 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Married and has one daughter. Has been engaged in engineering and law work since graduation. Swims for fun and fishes for a basis of conversation. Is a Republican and thinks NRA fine in theory and not so hot in practice.

William R. Parmely, 14122 Terrace Road, East Cleveland, Ohio.

Single. This man has the right idea. He retired a number of years ago and is connected as a director of The Rayon Company. His hobbies are swimming and motoring. During the war was with Battery C, 135th Field Artillery, A.E.F. Is a little hesitant about mentioning his actual experiences since leaving college. Aren't we all?

Arthur Phillips, 2141 Chapel Street, New Haven, Conn.

Information given in April 1, 1934, bulletin. Have additional information to the effect that he has been promoted from associate professor to professor of metallurgy at Yale. Has been a member of the faculty since 1919.

Lester B. Platt, 19 West 44th Street, New York City.

Married and has one son and three daughters. Is connected with Stevenson, Jordan & Harrison, management engineers, which is quite an extensive enterprise having offices located in various large cities in the country and employing a large number of engineers. Lester travels quite a bit, but can usually be reached every so often at the New York address. It is quite interesting to note that Lester's son is just about ready to enter Yale.

Edmund T. Plumb, 736 Argyle Road, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Married, no children. Has been in Connecticut and New York working for his father in the Eagle Lock Company and also in Kentucky. Says he is feeling fine and wishes the best to all of the Class.

T. Peter Polson, New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, South Station, Boston, Mass.

Married and has two sons. Except for a time that he spent in the Army, he has been employed with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company since graduation. He likes the railroad game and it is pretty well bred into his bones. At present is division engineer of this railroad.

Theodore M. Prudden, Jones Street, Hingham, Mass.

Married Evelyn Converse and has three sons. He has had many connections since graduation and gives them as follows - Oakville Company, Waterbury - Chapman Manufacturing Company, General Electric Company, Lynn - Army A.E.F. Ordnance - Whitin Machine Works, Noiseless Typewriter Company, Kalix Cup Company, Korola Company, and Pacific Mills, being now with this last company as consulting engineer on acoustics. Ted is a hard one to keep track of. I know. I write him letters.

S. Leonard Root, Farmington, Conn.

No letter received. It is noted in the Alumni Weekly that he has been named state director for Connecticut of the apple maggot and disease control program.

Malcolm B. Ross, 22 Wellesley Street, Springfield, Mass.

Married Mildred E. Roulston and has no children. Gives the following definite information, just as any engineer should. 1913-17, engineering on industrial construction and state highway work; 1917-19 - Company A, 101st Engineers, A.E.F.; 1919-20 with Charles Strang, mining coal at Minersville, Pa.; 1920-21 with Rush Munder at Fiberloid Corporation, Indian Orchard, Mass.; 1921 to date with the City of Springfield, the past ten years being spent in preparing plans and data for the Board of Assessors.

Richard H. Royce, 133 Grove Street, Rutland, Vt.

Married Hazel Ranney Williams and has one daughter. Has been pretty much on the keen jump since he left Sheff in 1912. Was on hydroelectric projects and land surveying in Vermont until 1914. Then in contracting work in Ohio. Went to the Mexican border with the Cavalry and then with the 136th F.A., 37th Division, as First Lieutenant and as First Lieutenant went into the war. Went to France and was mustered out in 1919. Was then an engineer for the telephone company and a construction company in Ohio until 1921. Returned to Rutland as city engineer until 1926. Was then appointed commissioner of public works, city engineer, and superintendent of streets. In 1932 became vice-president and general manager of the North American Gypsum Company of Baddick, N. S., a company which is a subsidiary of the Rutland Fire Clay Company of Rutland, Vt.

Dana C. Sanborn, 201 Cottage Street, New Bedford, Mass.

Married Leonora Brownson and has one daughter. Is teaching physics in New Bedford High and experiencing situations which incline his belief to the point that teaching is no longer a profession. Gets some recreation from fishing - says he retains his hair and girlish figure and that is something.

Henry D. Schmidt, Lock Drawer 707, York, Pa.

Married Margaret McD. Hawkins has one son and one daughter. Was with the American Chain Company, then Pullman Motor Car Company, then Aircraft Production, U.S. Army, and now is a member of the firm of Schmidt & Ault Paper Company, which outfit manufactures paper board. During 1932 was president of the Paperboard Industries Association. Is a Republican and does not list his recreations, so you can take a guess.

John M. Seaton, 1401 Bath Avenue, Ashland, Ky.

Single. Is president of the Seaton Realty Company. Says once in a while he sees Hart Foster and Nat Bloom and has spent the last five years trying to make both ends meet because of the possession of so many repossessed houses. Was Second Lieutenant, C.A.C. during the war. Is a member of the Rotary Club, American Legion, Bellefonte Country Club and Kentucky Admirals Club. What is a Kentucky Admiral, and are they as numerous as Kentucky Colonels?

Frank H. Sebring, Jr., Sebring, Ohio.

Married Margaret Ramsey and has one son and one daughter. President and general manager of the Salem China Company, Salem, Ohio, making semi-porcelain dinnerware. Travels a bit - states his hobbies as golf and aviation. During the war was sixteen months at Camp Sherman in the training department. Is a member of the Masons, Elks, Union Club, and Golf Club.

Benjamin D. Smith, Irvington, N. J.

Married - has one daughter and two sons. For the last three years has been doing business under the name of the Sound System Engineering Company at Irvington. His work covers centralized radio, public address and special microphone installations, including design, construction, and installation of this equipment.

Edson H. Smith, 5747 Holden Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Married Eleanor Ann Armesworthy - no children. When he reported he advised no particular occupation except estate work. Has been connected with Dodge Brothers from 1914 to 1925. Was district manager of the Pittsburgh and Detroit Pontiac Motor Company from 1926 to 1931 and later regional manager at Kansas City and New York. Has no particular recreation except reading. Is a Republican. Thinks perhaps the basic idea in back of NRA all right, but it has gone too far.

Walter C. Smith, Vah-Ki Inn, Coolidge, Ariz.

Married Theodora Blake Holmes and has two sons. Spent some time in Connecticut after graduation, in general contracting and in 1917 went to Arizona. Since that date has been engaged in engineering and contracting in Arizona and Mexico, serving two terms as county engineer of Pinal County. Was admitted to the bar in 1919 and still retains active membership, although not engaged in active practice. Served as receiver by appointment of the Superior Court of Maricopa County. In 1931 moved to Coolidge, Ariz., acquired a small acreage under the San Carlos Irrigation Project, and built a home which by popular demand developed into the Vah-Ki Inn, a winter resort half way between Phoenix and Tucson. Retains active interest in mining engineering and specializes in mine development. His hobbies might include a great many things, but probably that of amateur archeologist prevails. Any one going through that part of the country had better stop at the Vah-Ki Inn and see him.

Francis L. Stephenson, Linden Farm, Ambler, Pa.

Married Helen Thomas Wilbur and has two daughters. Has been with the Hudson Coal Company, Scranton, Pa., and the Bethlehem Fabricators, Inc., Bethlehem, Pa. At the present time is in the sales department of the Bethlehem Steel Company. His main recreation is golf. He is a Republican. Gives some very strong criticism regarding NRA.

John A. C. Stevenson, 109 North Irvine Avenue, Sharon, Pa.

Single. Was purchasing agent for the Savage Arms Company, treasurer of the Standard Tank Car Company of Sharon, and is now liquidating trustee of the First National Bank of Sharon. His recreations are rowing and fishing. Is a Republican, does not think much of NRA and hopes a strong political party will go into power before the country is ruined.

John H. Stewart, 40 Wall Street, New York City.

Married Marjorie Cooper and has one son and one daughter. Vice-president of Lawrence Stern & Company in charge of their New York office. Likes his job, travels a bit, and lived in Cedarhurst, Long Island, from 1916 to 1929, then lived in New York in the winter and Cedarhurst in the summer, and latterly at Marion, Mass. Was with the Equitable Trust Company from 1913 to 1916 - Hambleton & Company 1916 to 1928, being a partner from 1924 to 1928. Vice-president of Continental Illinois Company, in charge of New York office, 1928 to 1934, at which time he took on his present position. During the war was Lieutenant, Field Artillery, Regular Army. His son last spring was a sixth former at St. Paul's School and entered the Class of 1938 at New Haven last fall.

Charles H. Strange - 1819 Howard Avenue, Pottsville, Pa.

Married Louise Wright - has two sons and one daughter. Does not list all of his occupations since graduation, but is now a consulting mining engineer. Is a coal, land, and valuation engineer for Schuylkill County, Pa.

Vernon T. Strong, 58 Sutter Street, San Francisco, Calif.

Married and has one son. Since graduation has been engaged in the insurance business almost entirely. Eight years with Aetna Life Insurance Company in San Francisco, four years with the Maryland Casualty Company, and finally as manager of their offices in northern California, resigning in 1926 to take over his present business as general agent for the American Indemnity Company and operates and owns the Theodore P. Strong Company, insurance brokers. His son is a Freshman at Stanford University and mentioned last spring that he wished Yale would get back on the map in athletics. Apparently his wish has pretty much come true.

Daniel Summers, 1315 Ohio Bank Building, Toledo, Ohio.

Married Mary Price Abbott and has no children. Does not list his activities since graduation, but is now local manager of the Aluminum Company of America in Toledo. Travels some and mentions his favorite hobby as sailing. Gives reference to the Yale book on war service records for his service during the world war. Member of the Toledo Club, Toledo Country Club, and Toledo Yacht Club.

Max M. Suppes, Jr., Elyria, Ohio.

Married Florence Wick and has two daughters. Is vice-president of the Fox Furnace Company at Elyria, which company produces air conditioners and warm air heating equipment. Occasionally travels and gives no information as to his hobbies and other data.

William J. Sweeney, 272 Main Street, New Britain, Conn.

Single. Is a partner in the firm of Sweeney, Brainard & Company. Being still single, is free to travel. Has enjoyed much of this stimulating routine at various times since graduation. Mentions particularly a marvelous trip to Japan with Eben Takamine. Plays golf and, as I remember it, very well. Is on the executive committee of the Connecticut State Golf Association. Hopes to see the Class at Shuttle Meadow in 1938.

William N. Thomas, Jr., Fort Humphreys, Va.

Married Elizabeth Alexander and has one daughter. Is now Captain Thomas, Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, instructor at Engineer School. Was in active service from October, 1917, to March, 1922, in France, England, Russia, and Germany. Does not mention his particular experiences, but he must have had plenty. Belongs to the Army and Navy Club in Washington, and you can salute him at the address given.

Howard D. Thompson, Good Hope, Falmouth, Jamaica, B. W. I.

Married and has one son and one daughter. Since graduation has lived in California, New Jersey, and finally in Jamaica, B. W. I. Expresses pity for the editor of this sheet in trying to cover his activities, so it undoubtedly will be of interest to state that he is well, feeling fine, and runs a dude ranch, in fact the only one in the Tropics. His duties range from squire of 4,000 acres of coconuts and cattle down to chief mechanic in charge of an English Diesel electric plant. Has to keep track of live stock, see that the tarpon take the hook at the mouth of the Martha Brae river - that the cattle live up to expectations, that the cocktails and punches are mixed to a Queen's taste, etc., and so on. Sent along a booklet on this dude ranch, which is called Good Hope. It certainly looks like a mighty pleasant place to be if some one had the money and time.

James Tod

Information given in last bulletin. It is to be noted that Jim's mother died in Colorado Springs on July 24 last.

Joseph C. Tulloss, 814 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C.

Has mainly devoted himself to auditing since graduation. Unfortunately ran into marital difficulties and is now single. Has two daughters and one son. Was not engaged in war service - keeps fit by dancing and only wishes we could all get together more often.

Jacob G. Vassian, 1118 West 37th Drive, Los Angeles, Calif.

Information collected from his sister-in-law Mrs. M. T. Dokoosian, of 2149 Walton Street, Chicago, Ill. Vassian has three children and apparently has been out of work for about three years. Any one who can lend a helping hand to this man, please bear it in mind.

Harold S. Warren, Room 1515, Sun Life Building, Montreal, Canada.

Married Helen MacArthur - has one son and two daughters. Harold has been very helpful in his report - 1913-14 United Fruit Company, Costa Rica; 1915-16 - New Haven Pulp & Board Company, New Haven; 1917 U.S. Navy; 1919-24 - assistant purchasing agent, Laurentide Company, Ltd., Grand Mère, Canada; 1924-30 - purchasing agent for this company; 1930-34 - manager of purchases and stores, Consolidated Paper Corporation, Ltd., Montreal which is his present position. This company is the result of a merger of various pulp and paper companies, including the Laurentide Company, Ltd. Any one who gets to Montreal should look Harold up.

Leonard H. Welton, 504 Bunker Hill Avenue, Waterbury, Conn.

Married Anna B. Schneider, has two sons and one daughter. Since 1933 has been with the Caster-Waterbury Rolling Mills and has been very helpful in giving the following information -

1913-15 - engaged in casting various metals at the Waterbury Rolling Mills.

1915-16 - same work with the Caster-Seymour Manufacturing Company.

1916-19 - " " " " Stamford Rolling Mills.

1919-20 - " " " " Bristol Brass Company.

1920-26 - Foreman of this work with the International Silver Company.

1926-33 - Foreman of the same work with the Reed & Barton Company of Taunton, Mass. After discontinuance of this casting shop, took on special supervising assignment for Seymour Manufacturing Company and went back with the Waterbury Rolling Mills in 1933.

Lives in the old Welton homestead which is well over one hundred years old.

Harold L. Williamson, care U.S. Embassy, Paris, France.

Is in the Diplomatic Service and at present Secretary of the American Embassy at Paris, where he has been since 1928. After graduation he was two years in banking and manufacturing - served in the Army throughout the war and entered the Diplomatic Service in January, 1919. Since then he has served at posts in the following countries - Cuba, Poland, Colombia, France, with temporary details to Rome and Havana. His wife, Margaret W. Williamson, died in Paris in 1930. Writes that he is representing us taxpayers and trying to find a market for American goods, which must be somewhat of a real job considering the present international problems in this country. Has a son fourteen years old and hopes he will go to New Haven when he is old enough. His hobby is all kinds of sports and undoubtedly he would welcome hearing from any members of the class.

Edmund C. Wood, Room 3819, Department of Commerce, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Washington, D. C.

Single. Was with Smith & Nichols Inc., oils and waxes, New York City - then with the Permutit Company on water rectification - then went to work with the Chemical Division, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, at Washington, where he can be reached at the above address. He is a member of the Yale Club of Washington, which he mentions meets the second Tuesday of each month for luncheon. Any members of the Class who are in Washington on the second Tuesday of the month will find him ready to take them in tow. Likes golfing, also bowling, and is a member of the Washington Golf and Country Club. Is a Democrat and in favor of NRA when he reported last June.

William I. Wymond, 421 West Avery Street, Louisville, Ky.

Married Maria Crittenden and has one daughter. Does not give much information regarding his career since graduation. He mentions that he was in the Aviation Service during the war and is now president of Chess & Wymond, Inc., of Louisville, whose product is cooperage. Travels some for his company. Does not mention it, but perhaps with beer back in the picture, barrels are again a necessity.