

Social Committee Revises Serenades

The University Social Committee voted recently for serenades to be held before 10:30 p.m. and for them to be limited mainly to pinning and other special events. Serenades still may be conducted by the organizations after 10:30 p.m., but those which are must be scheduled by the University Social Director.

These serenades held after 10:30 p.m. will also count as one of the 10 social events allotted to each fraternity and sorority a year.

The group to be serenaded before 10:30 p.m. is to be notified at least 24 hours in advance. These groups to be serenaded then have the liberty to refuse the serenade at that particular time.

The previous ruling on serenades was that they were to be cleared through the Program Director's Office, but they did not count as one of the 10 social events allowed. A maximum of two women's groups and two men's groups could serenade fraternities, sororities, and other residence groups on the same evening. Hours for the serenades were 10 p.m. to 12 midnight.

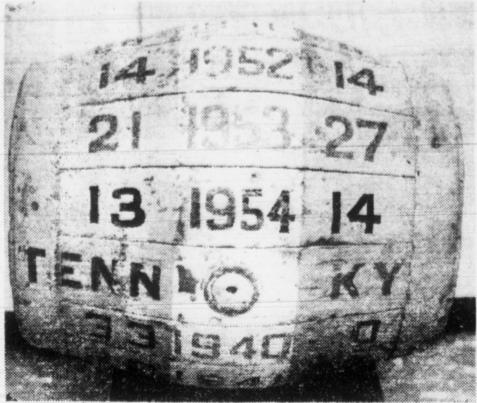

The Social Committee passed the new ruling submitted by Charlie English, IFC president, after having difficulty in scheduling numerous serenades wanted for the same weeks prior to Christmas holidays. Social Committee members stated this new ruling was an attempt to encourage more serenades before 10:30 p.m. and to abolish the many conflicts in scheduling serenades.

The University Social Committee is a group composed of faculty and students for the purpose of regulating social activities.

Student representatives are the presidents of IFC, Panhellenic, House Presidents' Council, Student Union Board, Suky, SGA, YMCA, and the YWCA social chairman.

Faculty and staff members include Maurice Clay, V. F. Cowling, T. T. Jones, Bruce Cruise, J. A. King, Dean L. L. Martin, Bart Peak, Miss Mackie Rasdall, E. F. Rannels, Mrs. Alberta Server, R. E. Sigafus, Miss Margaret Storey, Miss Poyce Laase, and Dean Sarah Holmes, chairman.

Who Wants a Vinegar Keg Anyway?

What now? The traditional keg kept by the winner of the Ky.-Tenn. football game each year has no more room for the scores of the games. The question is who gets to keep this keg now in Kentucky's possession. Another question is, "Will the new keg be a 'gen-u-wine' beer keg or just another vinegar keg?"

Card Section To Be Revived Next Fall

The card section at UK football games will return next fall. The announcement came at a recent SGA meeting in which the Assembly was told that Suky had accepted the suggestions of the SGA committee that formulated plans for a workable card section.

SGA Asked To Limit Offices

Leslie L. Martin, dean of men, presented the question to SGA recently of limiting the number or type of offices held by individual students on campus.

The present policy allows any student to hold as many offices as he can get elected or appointed to hold, Martin said. Some students, he continued, have in the past held so many offices that their scholarship has dropped.

Dr. Martin, also stated that there was a great concern to get as many different students with leadership ability into offices as possible. In discussing this problem the dean said he and other faculty members often get letters asking about leadership qualities of former students.

It is difficult to tell whether or not they have the ability to lead he stated, as many students have not had the opportunity to hold office in any organization.

The president of SGA asked the Assembly to think over the problems of leadership and a discussion will be held in future meetings.

Five Girls Receive Panhellenic Award

Nina Hash, of Iphernia, Ky. was awarded a $240 scholarship from Panhellenic Friday night at the Flecke Presentation. Other girls who received a $65 scholarship each from Panhellenic were Mary Burman, Frankfort; Mary Tippet Daniel, Louisville; Barbara J. Burcham, Lexington; and Clara Sue Hedger, Lexington.

Correction

Unintentionally the Kernel failed to state last week that Westminster Fellowship was the winner in the independent division of the homecoming displays. This was through an oversight for which the Kernel is sorry.

After the suspension of the card section last year, Suky asked SGA to help draw up plans for a workable card section at the UK games. Suky has previously sponsored the card section.

The report of the committee stated that independent and Greek organizations will be asked to sign up for places in the card section. The organization will be responsible for the conduct of its members in the card section.

Throwing of cards or any other misconduct with the cards will be punishable by fines. Suspension from succeeding games was suggested as an enforcement measure, but this method failed to pass.

Although the report on the card section had previously been accepted by SGA, argument arose at the SGA meeting on whether or not it would work. The argument was resolved when a delegate to SGA stated that the only way to find out was to try it out under the new regulations compiled jointly by SGA and Suky.

A motion was also passed by SGA to add "and Suky" to the sentence stating which organization had the power to suspend the card section. Only SGA previously had the power to suspend the card section.

Plans submitted For Sorority Row

Representatives of six sororities gave their recommendations for the new houses to be built on Sorority Row to John T. Gillia, Lexington architect, in a meeting this week, Frank D. Peterson, UK vice president, announced.

Gillia will consolidate these plans into one program and make sketches of the houses.

The six sororities bought and gave to the University 2 1/2 acres of land which will be used to build at least five sorority houses.

The property cost over $82,000. The estimated cost of the new houses is $600,000.

The site is an "L" shaped tract fronting on Columbia Avenue and running east of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. The base of the "L" runs north along Boone Alley to a point near the Chi Omega house. The leg of the "L" extends east from Boone Alley, parallel to Columbia.

Representation Changes Also Discussed This Week

SGA this week appointed a committee to meet with Dean L. L. Martin, Dean Sarah B. Holmes, and the social committees of the dormitories to discuss a proposed program of social activities planned weekly by the University.

Other action taken at the SGA meeting was a motion to have the Constitution and Rules Committee discuss with the SGA faculty advisors the constitutionality of the changing of representation in SGA.

The committee for the planned University social activities came after President H. L. Donovan stated the facilities of Bowman Hall Lounge, Keeneland Hall Lounge, and the SUB Grill would be available for these planned activities.

Raising funds to have live entertainment at the proposed social functions will also be studied by the committee.

Changing of representation in SGA was discussed in SGA Oct. 24, as the number of students represented by members of SGA is rising each year. The issue was deadlocked because of conflicting enrollment statistics. The bill was again sidetracked this week when the constitutionality of the bill was questioned.

At present there are 30 representatives in the Assembly with each standing for 199 students. According to statistics presented to SGA, the College of Arts and Sciences with an enrollment of 1,642 students should have eight members instead of the present 10.

The Agriculture College, 681 students, should have three instead of five and the Commerce College, 941 students, now have four rather than a possible five. In the Education College there are 517 students represented by two instead of the proposed three, and the Engineering College, 1,373 students, should have seven instead of the present four.

Law College, 122 students, has one representative and would have no change but the Graduate School, 692 students, should have three instead of the four representatives now in SGA.

Nurses Robbed By Unknown Thief

A thief worked quickly at the UK infirmary on Nov. 3, taking three billfolds from the nurses' quarters on the second floor. The theft occurred sometime between 10 a.m. and 10:45 a.m.

The stolen billfolds belonged to Miss Martha Reynolds, laboratory technician; Mrs. Ann Holbrook, infirmary nurse; and Miss Faye Montgomery, supervisor of nurses.

Two of the billfolds—belonging to Miss Reynolds and Mrs. Holbrook—have been recovered. The money was missing from them. Miss Reynolds' billfold was found in a field close to the Zoology Department, and Mrs. Holbrook's billfold was found close to the mapus post office.

The police have no suspects so far.

IFC Acts To Curb Drinking

IFC responded to the suggestion made by a delegate to try to curb excessive drinking by students at football games, by asking each fraternity president to be responsible for the actions of his fraternity.

Randy Dupps, the delegate asking IFC to help remedy the situation, further stated that if the IFC would lead the way in less drinking, the rest of the student body would follow.

Bill Henry and Charles McCullough Jr. in other IFC business were elected delegates to the National Interfraternity Council Convention Dec. 1 at St. Louis, Mo.

Henry, Lambda Chi Alpha, is currently secretary of IFC. McCullough is a member of IFC representing Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

The National IFC is composed of two delegates from each college and university having fraternities in the United States and some parts of Canada. The delegates discuss fraternity problems in general and present new ideas about rush and other phases of fraternity life.

Pharmacy Bids Are Received

Bids for the construction of the College of Pharmacy will be received until 1:30 p.m., Dec. 1, Frank D. Peterson, UK vice president, has announced.

The College will be built at 135 Washington Ave. The site consists of approximately one acre.

The Washington Avenue property, located immediately behind the Biological Science Building, was recently valued by the Fayette County Court at $50,000. This value was set by the Court as a result of a condemnation suit brought by the University against the property.

SCHULTZ IS A MANY SPLENDORED THING

Beppo Schultz, boulevardier, raconteur, connoisseur, sportsman, bon vivant, hail fellow well met—in short, typical American college man—smokes today's new Philip Morris Cigarettes. "Why do you smoke today's new Philip Morris Cigarettes, hey?" a friend recently asked Beppo Schultz.

"I smoke today's new Philip Morris Cigarettes," replied Beppo, looking up from his 2.9 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car, "because they are new."

"New?" said the friend. "What do you mean—new?"

"I mean modern—up-to-date—designed for today's easier, breezier living," said Beppo.

"Like this 2.9 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car?" asked the friend.

"Exactly," said Beppo.

"She's a beauty," said the friend, looking admiringly at the car. "How long have you had her?"

"It's a male," said Beppo.

"Sorry," said the friend. "How long have you had him?"

"About a year," said Beppo.

"Have you done a lot of work on him?" asked the friend.

"Oh, have I not!" cried Beppo. "I have replaced the pushrods and rockers with a Rootes-type supercharger. I have replaced the torque with a synchromesh. I have replaced the tachometer with a double side draft carburetor."

"Gracious!" exclaimed the friend.

"I have replaced the hood with a bonnet," said Beppo.

"Land o' Goshen!" exclaimed the friend.

"I have replaced the gasoline with petrol," said Beppo.

"Crim-a-mentlies!" said the friend.

"And I have put gloves in the glove compartment," said Beppo.

"My, you have been the busy one!" said the friend. "You must be exhausted."

"Maybe a trifle," said Beppo with a brave little smile.

"Do you know what I do when I'm tired?" asked the friend.

"Light a Philip Morris?" Beppo ventured.

"Oh, pshaw, you guessed!" said the friend, pouting.

"But it was easy!" cried Beppo, laughing silverly. "When the eyelids droop and the musculature sags and the psyche is depleted, what is more natural than to perk up with today's Philip Morris in the red, white and gold package?"

"A bright new smoke in a bright new pack!" proclaimed the friend, his young eyes glistening with tears.

"Changed to keep pace with today's changing world!" declared Beppo, whirling his arms in concentric circles. "A gentler, more relaxing cigarette for a sunnier age, an age of greater leisure and broader vistas and more beckoning horizons!"

Now, tired but happy, Beppo and his friend lit Philip Morris and smoked for a time in deep, silent contentment. At length the friend spoke. "Yes, sir," he said, "he certainly is a beauty."

"You mean my 2.9 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car?" asked Beppo.

"Yes," said the friend. "How fast will he go?"

"Well, I don't rightly know," said Beppo. "I can't find the starter."

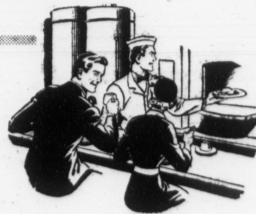

The makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column, assure you that whether you're in a sleek new sports car or the old family sedan, your best driving companion is new, gentle Philip Morris.

Soft Living

One of the most alarming trends in America today is the everlasting search for "security"—the kind of material security that evolves into owning a home in the "right" section of town, buying a new car every year, and having the latest kitchen appliance.

Within themselves these aims are not bad. Every man has the right to work for a comfortable existence. This is part of democracy. But when material security becomes a burning lust that tramples over every other objective, it is time to stop and re-evaluate our goals.

In a middle aged family man the need for security is understandable. He has grave responsibilities to look after. But in young college graduates the obsessive search for security should be questioned.

A dangerously growing percentage of America's young men are concentrating on the steady, safe income rather than reaching for the intangibles. Here lies the problem.

It has faced every civilization in history. The Romans were destroyed by it. A steadily rising standard of living softens the people, and they lose the hungry toughness that made them strong and free. Progress stops, and the people stagnate and grow indifferent. They gradually lose their freedom, but their strength is so dissipated that they can't halt the menace of dictatorship.

Thankfully, America has yet to reach the point of no return. We're still growing and still fighting for liberty. But nevertheless

Lazy Politics

The Student Government Association two-party system needs a shot in the arm.

Students complain that the only time they hear the words "Constitutionalist" or "United Student" is immediately before an election. The complaint is justified.

Neither party has made an attempt this semester to present itself to the student body. Student opinion has been neglected, and probably will be until the SGA election comes near.

The United Students party has been extremely active this semester; but it has not held the student "beef sessions" as it promised in its platform of last spring. "Beef sessions", or meetings where any student can voice a problem or suggestion, were popular last year.

The Constitutionlists, on the other hand, have failed to have any type of regular meetings. No concrete actions by the party have

Sweater Swing

Sweater Swings in the Student Union used to be a great UK custom.

Somewhat students lost interest in them over the last three years. Sweater swings are still held; there is one scheduled tomorrow night.

It is hoped, however, that Saturday night's Sweater Swing won't be the dull affair so many of them were last year. There are many indications that this time the event will be successful.

For one thing, there will be "live" music—not a phonograph. Also, the affair has been well publicized on campus bulletin boards. There seems to have been considerable interest in it.

Certainly UK needs inexpensive, informal social events like the Sweater Swings. They help fill the big void existing in the present UK social calendar.

Students could bring back the interest in Sweater Swings simply by attending them. Co-eds used to go in groups without dates to these affairs, and there were a lot of "stags" to dance with them.

Now the co-ed seldom ventures out of her dorm unescorted. This is ridiculous for both many of our young men are sacrificing their talents to the creeping paralysis called security.

Our nation's moral values were not drawn out of the painful fire of revolution and civil war to be twisted and corrupted by the tin god of gold.

Today a young man becomes a doctor, not for humanitarian purposes, but to make money. A young lawyer considers his shingle the first step to the governor's chair, conveniently forgetting his moral obligation to uphold the ideals of justice. The beginning newspaperman ignores community service and sets himself up as a budding demigod.

No longer can we find a soldier like George Washington, who gave up wealth and position to lead a miserable, half-starved army against the finest military organization in the world, or a scientist like Thomas Edison who poured a fortune into an idea, the electric light.

Our colleges are partly to blame. Counselors urge young men to accept jobs that offer money and security. Today men who dedicate their lives to an ideal are considered stupid. The dignity of labor is rapidly being replaced by the man with an angle.

It's time for us to re-read the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence. Unless we return to the principles boldly outlined in these documents, the American way of life is dead, and our civilization is doomed.

been made this year, and the next SGA election is less than a month away.

Both parties have failed miserably in carrying out their platforms of last spring. The silver-tongued candidates who promised much have produced relatively nothing.

The Kernel will not support either campus party in the forthcoming December election in order that it may freely criticize the actions—or lack of them—of either party.

Unless the two parties get to work, they can hardly expect any student interest in the next election. The two-party system has been cheapened to a silly week-before-the-election poster battle at UK.

Fortunately for the United Students and Constitutionlists there is still time to act. The Kernel wants every student interested in belonging to one of the campus political parties.

Only the parties themselves, however, can provide the motivation for this goal.

the male and the co-ed. There used to be no better place to "get acquainted" than at the old Sweater Swings.

When the music strikes up tomorrow night in the SUB Ballroom, it will be the test of whether or not a good, sound custom heaves its last sigh or comes back to life.

Students, with dates or without, can best vote their opinion of Sweater Swings by their attendance or non-attendance. Here's hoping that the outcome is favorable.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

No Support

It isn't very often that a sports writer gets out of his own department, but this is one time that this sports writer can't say what he wants to in his department and make it fit.

This letter is being written in the wee small hours of the morning after our humiliating defeat at the hands of an inspired Vanderbilt team 34-0 last Saturday. And to make it more clear I am wondering. Wondering if we as students of this University aren't partially responsible for this defeat, each in our own small way.

How did we the students let the team down you ask? Of course it isn't anything that you yourself directly did that affected the outcome of the game but on the other hand it might be. This stunning upset, at the hands of what was believed to be an inferior team, might have come through a lack of spirit of the players about their University and about the students, and faculty of the University.

It is common knowledge on this campus that the students lack this intangible something that I have chosen to call spirit. Whether this can win ball games or not I can only speculate. But people who have something to work for and know that they have the backing of others generally achieve what they set out after, no matter how great the odds. I'm sure that the Wildcats unconsciously felt they did not miss this vital thing called student backing when they took the field at Nashville.

Time after time this year pep rallies have failed miserably because you, the students, did not think it important enough to come out and send the team off with a feeling that the students were one hundred per cent behind them, no matter what the outcome. And, I may add, this not only applies to athletic events. Th's spirit should manifest itself in every aspect of our college life.

How this can be brought about no one can say. Spirit can not be legislated. It must come from you and you and you. It has to be an individual thing, that each of us must foster and nourish in our own comings and goings here at school. We are going to have to let it be seen that we have an interest and enthusiasm in things that happen in, around, and to our school before we can ever hope to have a truly great University that the state of Kentucky can be proud of. This is a challenge to each and every one of us.

Bill Henry

Reports have it that the AFROTC is planning to buy a squadron sponsors this year. This is a good morale-booster, beyond a doubt, but let's hope that the young ladies chosen for the titles know how to drill—or at least walk straight. Pulchritude can go only so far.

What happened to the traditional mock election this year? The Young Democrats and Young Republicans generally sponsor the event during a hot election year. It used to be a safe motto that "As UK Goes, So Goes the Commonwealth." The mock elections were interesting as well as educational. Why wasn't there one this year?

Kentucky has become the second state in the Union to permit 18-year-olds to vote. This is very significant to UK, as in future elections practically every student on campus will be an eligible voter (if he registers). Politicians dare not overlook the state university—and its 5,000 or more potential voters—in the future.

Small-Sized UK ROTC Major Large Hero In 2nd World War

By PHILLY MCINTOSH

Major Olaf W. Christopherson, small in size and quiet in manner, has a large record to his credit both in military and civilian life. He is a far bigger hero than his modesty will admit. He "participated" in the Battle of the Bulge, and his unit "assisted" in the retaking of St. Vith. He holds four campaign stars, the Bronze Star and the Oak Leaf Cluster.

Major Christopherson has had an extensive education. He is a graduate of George Washington University with an AB in foreign affairs and an LL.B. in law. He attended the University of Iowa and is a graduate of the Government Printing Office Apprentice School in Washington. He also took a special language course at Harvard.

Major Christopherson, a native of Austin, Minn., went on active duty from the reserves in 1940 at Fort Meade, Md. During the Second World War, he served with the 7th Armored Division in Europe and was headquarters company commander, reserve command.

With the 1st Army at the Battle of the Bulge, near Spa, Belgium,

Major Christopherson organized and commanded a small provisional company which set up defenses around the largest gasoline dump in Europe. The German army, needing this gasoline desperately, sent elements of its 6th Panzer Army to take it.

Meanwhile, Major Christopherson's men began talking to each other—over every communication device at their command. The Germans, already too close for comfort, intercepted these communications, and, thinking there must be at least a division before them, turned tail and ran.

If German intelligence had only been aware of the weakness of American defenses around this gasoline dump, their troops might easily have taken it. According to German General Sepp Dietrich, this was one of the greatest blunders of German intelligence during the entire war. Fifty-four of their tanks were abandoned for lack of gas, two miles from the dump.

At the close of World War II, Major Christopherson left the Army. From then until the Korean War, he worked for a time at the Library of Congress. While at the Library of Congress, he worked to repair and preserve original Washington and Lincoln papers and other historical documents. After that he returned to law school and began a practice in Washington.

Recalled into the Army in 1950 during the Korean War, Major Christopherson was assigned to duty as a reserve Units Advisor in Washington, D. C. In the spring of 1952, he went to Korea where he was in Headquarters, IX Corps, assigned to G3 section (operations and training).

After a year in Korea, the Major was assigned as chief of the legal section, Kekura General Depot, Japan. Returning to the U.S. in 1954, he was chief of instructor group—tank training regiment—3rd Armored Division, Fort Knox.

In April, 1955, Major Christopherson was assigned to the UK ROTC detachment. When asked how he felt about the ROTC, Major Christopherson replied, "I am very enthused about the ROTC program. The ROTC is a mighty fine thing for young fellows."

"It not only fits them better for military service but for civilian life. The leadership principals are applicable to any phase of life. Opportunities for development of leadership potential are particularly valuable to the ROTC student and of course there is no counterpart in civilian life that can equal it."

Hawaii Subject Of Snow Lecture

Dr. Charles E. Snow, head of the Department of Anthropology, will speak on the "Prehistoric Hawaiians" Nov. 11.

His talk will be given at the Fine Arts Building, in the music lounge, 7:30 p.m., before the Kentucky Archaeological Society. It will be illustrated by color slides of the islands and work site.

Dr. Snow investigated skeletal remains from the Kaneohe burial area while he was on sabbatical leave this summer. Kaneohe is a hook of land on the west side of Oahu Island.

One skeleton, that of an old woman called "Grannie" by the workers, shows the woman had to walk bent double. Part of her backbone collapsed and her ribcage grew together. There is one tooth left imbedded in her skull.

HERE'S A HIT — LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

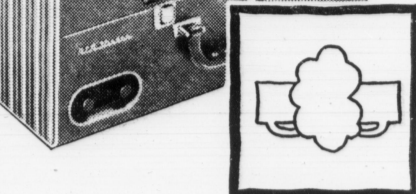

YOU ALWAYS COME OUT ON TOP when you light up a Lucky, because Luckies are tops for taste. Luckies taste better because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . mild, mellow tobacco that's toasted to taste even better. The men in the Droodle above have come out on top, too — in more ways than one. The Droodle is titled: Convention of baldheaded men smoking Luckies. Follow their shining example: light up a Lucky yourself. You'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

'Here's A Nuptial For You' Is The Typical College Wedding

While glancing through Max Shulman's "Guided Tour of Campus Humor", I came across an article describing the ideal wedding, (as seen in the newspaper every day) which might be of interest to all those girls making the big step in the following months. The story is from the Yale Record:

Yellow sweet peas and Spanish moss formed a colorful background this morning for the marriage of Miss Pearl Antilles, daughter of Mrs. Sadie Swinton and Mr. Anthony Antilles, of Grosse Point, Michigan, Punting - by - the - Sea, New Hampshire, Key Largo, Florida, Antwerp, Belgium, and 1069 1/2 East Main, Toledo, Ohio, to Mr. Samson San Salvador, son of Mr. and Mrs. John San Salvador of San Diego, California.

Miss Faith Farewell was maid of honor, while the rest of the bridal attendants were made of flesh. These lovelies wore fitted bodices and each carried a bunch of flowers.

Fergus Fouts, a school chum of Mr. San Salvador, was the best man, or at least the best they could find. The ushers were Floyd Bodoni, Dwight R. Turco, and Rocko Marconi, all of Loe's Poll.

After the honeymoon in Peoria, the couple will make their home in Peoria, where Mr. San Salvador runs his barber shop (9 barbers 9).

The bride attended school, struggling through a year and a half at Yassar before flunking out. She made her debut in the 1947 season and is now a member of the National League.

Following the ceremony, a small reception for members of the immediate family and a few close friends was held in Madison Square Garden. Televising of the event kept the attendance down to 13,900.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a close-fitting ivory satin tulle with pin-point lace and red piping, set off by a dazzling, finely-woven brocade, and a tiara of seedless pearls caught up at her wrists, the veil of which hung down to her knees. She carried a Bantam Book draped with eucharis lilies.

On the side of her mother, the former Miss Sadie Sierra, granddaughter of Sierra Leone, who was the sister of Sierra Madre, and the cousin of Sierra Nevada, the bride is the paternal great-grandfather of the late Claude Seabourne, one-time president of Seabourne, Inc., of Peoria.

Mr. Antilles, who, if you'll remember, is the groom, is an alumnus of Harvard College, where he was a member of the Hominy Grits Club of 1812, and the Harvard Co-op.

Last Day Announced For Kyian Pictures

Individual pictures for the Kentuckian will be made at the Journalism Building, Friday, Nov. 11, until 2 p.m., Perry Ashley, Kentuckian editor, said today. This is the last time the photographer will be on campus and no pictures will be taken after Friday. Those who have not had their pictures made are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Ashley also said that the proofs are not being returned within three days as they are supposed to be. Friday, Nov. 18, has been set as the deadline for turning in proofs at the Kentuckian office. Those people who do not turn in their proofs by Nov. 18 will not have their pictures in the Kentuckian.

Canadian Players To Stage "St Joan"

George Bernard Shaw's classic play, "Saint Joan," will be presented in Memorial Coliseum at 8:15, Wednesday, Nov. 16, by the Canadian Players. This is the first company to produce the play on a professional basis without costumes or scenery.

Described as "workmanlike" by critics, this platform presentation makes use of simple sound and lighting equipment but no costumes or scenery. According to Director Douglas Campbell, this type of production "places the emphasis on the actors and drama rather than on external trappings."

The Canadian Players from Stratford, Ontario, are Canada's foremost touring company. The company was formed by Tom Patterson, founder of the Stratford Shakespearean Festival, and Douglas Campbell, the company's leading feature actor.

Shaw wrote the play in 1923. He describes Joan of Arc as a healthy, shrewd, pious girl of a bourgeois family. Her voices which came from her imagination were the dictations of common sense. She wanted to lead a man's life and to wear men's clothes.

The play opens with her appeal to Robert de Baudricourt to give her armor and a horse. She asks them to send her with a small escort to the Dauphin at Chinon so that she may raise the siege of Orleans. She finally wins over him and sets out.

She tells the Dauphin that she wants to crown him at Rheims and he puts her in charge of the army. Joan joins her friend, Danois, who is waiting for a favorable breeze to cross the Loire to attack the British. With her arrival the breeze shifts.

Joan's destruction is plotted by the Earl of Warwick and the Bishop of Beauvais, Warwick for political reasons and Beauvais considers her a heretic.

Joan is losing her friends. Even the Dauphin wants her to return to her father's farm. She is captured by the Burgundians from whom Warwick buys her and brings her to Rouen to face the Church. She is forced to recant by the threat of being burnt at the stake, but when she learns she is to be imprisoned for life, she chooses the stake.

The play ends with an account of her name being cleared 25 years later by a reinvestigation. An epilogue reveals Joan in 1928. She is honored at her canonization and she pleadingly asks God when the world will be ready to receive His saints.

This presentation of the play condenses the original four and one-half hour production into just over three hours, by eliminating costume changes and scenery shifts.

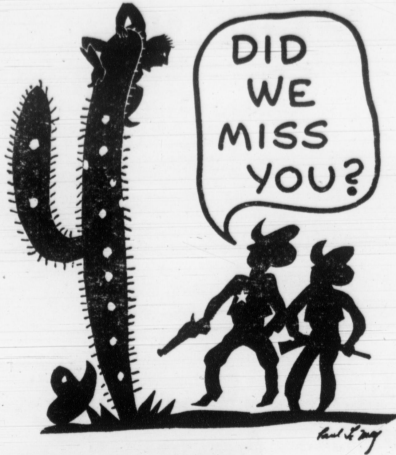

Ingrid Bergman starred as Joan in the Broadway production several years ago and the play ran for several years. The Canadian Players also presented the play on Ford Foundation's TV program "Omnibus" at the end of the 1954-55 season.

The only set used is composed of 10 feet high screens of beige monk cloth, which form a simple relief background to the action. Props are few and functional, plain benches for both soldiers and clergy, a folding table that does triple duty as the Judge's bar, a royal table and military desk. Costume is kept at a minimum with Joan being the first Maid to appear on the stage in twentieth century style slacks.

The title role is played by Frances Hyland, star of Canada's Stratford Shakespearean Festival.

An amateur theatrical company in Nottingham, England, guarantees "Satisfaction or your money back."

Around The Turntable

Gene Highland, Guest Writer (Manager Sterling's Record Dept.)

This is the first time we've ever attempted anything like this, so we hope all you "Around The Turntable" readers will bear with us.

We can hardly go to press without mentioning the single record that has accounted for the majority of our total sales of the past week, none other than the "coal miner's lament"—"16 Tons" by Tennessee Ernie. It's his biggest hit since "Shotgun Boogie", and that one was no slouch either. At the rate it's going now, he can soon trade in his Ford for a Cadillac.

This week's Variety calls it the fastest-selling disc in Capitol's history, with 400,000 copies sold in first 11 days of its release, a record previously equaled only by Stan Freberg's "St. George and the Dragonet", which hit 1,000,000 copies in 40 days.

But when a fast-moving number like "16 Tons" comes along it sort of puts a damper on everything else out, good numbers which may be moving slowly but steadily. And there are a flock of really good platters out now, more so than in a long time.

But numbers like Nat "King" Cole's "Someone You Love", Les Paul's "Amukiriki", Eddie Fisher's "Magic Fingers", and Kitty Kalen's "Sweet Kentucky Rose" are liable to get lost in the shuffle now. Speaking of "Sweet Kentucky Rose", doesn't anybody but us like the flip side, "How Lonely Can I Get?" Real dreamy stuff that deserves more attention than it's gotten so far.

Come to think of it, there are a lot of good discs on the market now that aren't moving like they should. There's Ralph Young's "Bring Me A Bluebird" (great new voice, good material, tricky arrangement), June Valli's "For Favor" (one of her very best we think), Peggy King's "Learning To Love" (getting plenty of TV exposure to no sales avail, and Sarah Vaughn's "Hey Naughty Papa" (right in the current rock and roll vogue, and certainly a nice change of pace for Vaughn).

One particular number we liked—"Vacation Train" by a new group, the Night Riders—started out like "Hey Naughty Papa" (a "sleeper" hit, but it has slacked off altogether now for some reason or other. It was the type of thing we were sure most of you readers would go for.

Highland's Highlight: "Cry Me A River" by Julie London, has "hit" written all over it, or there's just no justice. It just oozes with sex appeal. It was previewed on Steve Allen's TV show, and according to all the trade papers, the response was tremendous. Interesting sidelight: Miss London is the ex-wife of Jack "Dragnet" Webb. She used to be in movies too, but never got anywhere. Her first record should put her on top.

TOP POPPS: Fontane Sisters with double-barreled possibility, "Adorable" and "Daddy-O" and also Bonnie Lou's version of "Daddy-O" (the original). (This Bonnie Lou's classed as a hillbilly artist, but she's just liable to break through with her first definite hit in both the pop and hillbilly fields with this one.)

With the new Fontane Sisters' and the new one by Snooky Lanson (of Hit Parade fame), "Stop", the little independent company, Dot, continues the hot lead it has steadily maintained over the major labels like Columbia and Victor in the last couple of years.

FLOP POPPS: The last three biscuits put out by Sammy Davis, Jr. just haven't been up to snuff. "A Fine Romance", "Back Track", and the current "Adelaide" have all missed the boat. "Adelaide" is a new song written for the new Marlon Brando-Jean Simmons movie, "Guys and Dolls" (the famed long-run Frank Loesser stage musical), and may still have a chance, with the release of the movie, but somehow it leaves me cold.

YMCA Sponsors Discussion Groups

For the 35th year, the YMCA is sponsoring discussion groups in fraternity houses. The topics for this year's discussion are "Courtin' for Keeps", "A One Cylinder Religion", "Alcohol or Religion", and "Actions at Home and Abroad."

Speakers participating in this program are Dean Ray Holder, Howard Stephenson, Rev. James Angell, Dr. James Kemp, Dr. Eduardo Hernandez, Dr. Earl Kauffman, Dean Leslie Martin, Rev. T. B. Cowan, Rev. Yandell Page, William Bass, Dr. Merl Carter, Dr. John Meizer, Rabbi Maurice Davis, Father James Herlihy, Dr. Dewey Steele, Dean Lyman Ginger, and Professor John Proffit.

All the groups meet each Wednesday night for four weeks for 45 minutes of discussion. The speakers have dinner at the fraternity houses and present the program afterward.

Change Announced In Cinema Schedule

Mrs. Ruby Hart, director of the Audio-Visual Department of the College of Adult and Extension Education, announced a change in the Campus Cinema schedule. The afternoon showing of "Oliver Twist", the next Campus Cinema production, will be at 3:30 p.m., Nov. 16, in the Guignol Theatre. Instead of Nov. 17, as previously announced. The evening showing will be as scheduled, 7:30 p.m., Nov. 17.

"Oliver Twist" is the drama by Charles Dickens brought to the screen with Robert Newton, Alec Guinness, and Francis L. Sullivan. It is a J. Arthur Rank production and is released by United World.

Thompson to Hear Report on Project

Dr. R. H. Thompson, Department of Anthropology, will attend the annual meeting of the American Anthropological Association in Boston, Nov. 17-19.

He is especially interested in the presentation of a paper on "Cultural Stability and Instability." It is a report from one of four seminars held at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, this summer. Dr. Thompson is one of the men who worked on this project.

"Cultural Stability and Instability" is a study concerned with the persistence of various practices in the past. It covers the world in general, but the New World in particular.

Inspection Team Visits Journalism Department

An inspection team from the American Council on Education for Journalism will visit the University of Kentucky and the School of Journalism on Nov. 14 and 15.

This is the regular program for the approval of courses of instruction. The School of Journalism heques of general editorial, advertising, community-publishing, and radio-journalism will be evaluated by the inspection committee. The Radio Arts Department is joining the School of Journalism in presenting the Radio-Journalism sequence.

The University of Kentucky has been on the ACEJ approved list since the beginning of its inspection services. It has been a member of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism since 1931. The AASDJ is composed of over 40 outstanding schools of journalism in the United States.

In charge of the inspection committee will be Professor I. W. Cole, assistant to the director of the School of Journalism at the University of Illinois, and executive secretary of the ACEJ.

Also on the team will be professors from the University of Kansas, the University of Missouri, and Northwestern University. Pro-

State YMCA Holds Fifth Annual Clinic

The fifth annual Youth Day and Cheerleaders Clinic, sponsored by the state YMCA, will be held tomorrow.

The purpose of the clinic is to help build better sportsmanship in high school athletics. A. D. Litchfield, state YMCA secretary, will preside at a panel discussion of sportsmanship.

Members of the panel are Ed Ashford, sports editor of the Lexington Herald; Johnny Carrie, assistant sports editor of the Courier-Journal; Claude Sullivan, sports announcer at WVLK; George Walsh, sports announcer at WHAS, and Phil Grawemeyer, captain of the UK basketball team.

A demonstration of good and bad cheerleading, under the direction of Mrs. Stella Gibb, will follow the panel discussion. Cheerleaders from UK, Henry Clay, Lafayette, and Lexington Catholic will help with the demonstration.

A session for majorettes will be held under the direction of Warren Lutz and Don Wilson.

Cheerleaders and majorettes, in their school uniforms, will come onto the field for a program just before the Memphis State game. The majorettes will be accompanied by bands from Henry Clay and Lafayette. The high school cheerleaders will join the UK cheerleaders in giving a yell for Memphis State and UK. A special section of the grandstand has been reserved for the high school students.

The UK basketball team will put on an exhibition during the day, along with a talk by Coach Rupp.

Professional members will be from the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Cincinnati Times-Star.

The inspection team will be the guests of the School of Journalism staff at a luncheon in the Student Union Building at noon Monday.

Other features on the program are a Troupers show, a dramatic skit, a brass choir, and a concert by the Men's Glee Club.

There will also be student presentations of academic, social, physical, and religious opportunities at UK. A tour of the campus, with YMCA and YWCA members as guides, will be another highlight of the day's program.

One reason for having this Youth Day is to encourage high school students to go to college.

Another is to show them what UK has to offer.

More than 3,000 high school students are expected to attend. Last year more than 2,500 students from 156 high schools participated in the program.

This is the third of three similar programs promoted by the state YMCA this fall. On Oct. 22, the first Cheerleaders Clinic was held at Western, and the second was held Nov. 5 at Kentucky State College.

'Hello Walk' Revived By Student Party

An attempt to revive the old campus tradition of a "Hello Walk" is being planned by the Constitutionalist Party.

"Hello Walk" is a designated area of campus where everyone is to speak to each person he passes. The Walk as planned is to extend from the steps on the campus side of the Student Union Building, around the walk past White Hall, and along the main walk past the front of McVey Hall.

Signs will be placed at strategic points along the Walk for the next few days to acquaint the campus with the revival of the tradition and with the route which the Walk is to follow.

The "Hello Walk" was one of the suggestions which came out of the recent Leadership Conference which advocated more traditions for the campus.

Civil Defense Workshop To Be Opened Tuesday

The Civil Defense Workshop for Kentucky Women will be held Tuesday Nov. 15 in the Memorial Hall at UK.

The morning session will include discussions on "National and International Civil Defense", "Coordinating Civil Defense in Disaster", "Radioactive Fallout and Its Problems", and a panel discussion.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"It sounded good to me"

Charles Poole, B.S. in Business Administration, Boston University, '52, is working for New Jersey Bell Telephone Company as a Traffic Superintendent. For a young man he has a lot of responsibility. And responsibility is what he likes. He has three New Jersey exchanges under his supervision—Dover, Madison and Washington—which total nearly 16,000 customers, and he manages a force of some 160 operators, including nine chief operators and fifteen service assistants.

"It's the type of job," says Charlie, happily, "where you can never say you're caught up. There's always something to do." Each day brings Charlie new problems, new experiences. And with every passing day his grasp of the telephone business is getting stronger, his value to the company is growing.

That spells the kind of future that Charlie wants: the opportunity to take an ever-increasing part in an ever-expanding business.

"It sounded good to me," Charlie says, remembering what he thought when the telephone interviewer had finished telling him about the company and its future. And, as you might expect, it still sounds good to him.

Charlie Poole is typical of the many young men who are building careers in telephone work. Similar opportunities exist today with other telephone companies, and also with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has the details.

What's doing at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

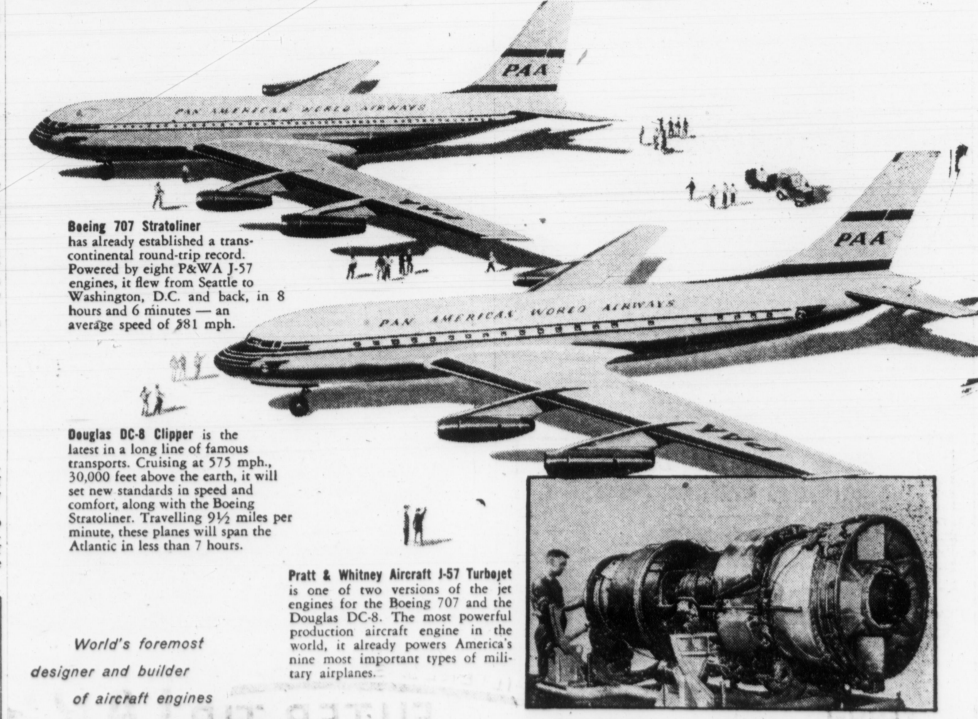

World Travel in the Jet Age

Carrying forward a great tradition of American leadership in aviation, a team of four world-famous organizations has ushered in a new era in commercial transportation. Between December 1958 and January 1961, Pan American World Airways, who pioneered trans-oceanic air travel with Pratt & Whitney Aircraft piston engines, will put into passenger service twenty Boeing 707 and twenty-five Douglas DC-8 jet transports. This fleet of airliners will be powered by twin-spool axial-flow jet engines, designed and developed by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft.

Behind this significant achievement lie countless engineering man-hours. The development of a jet-turbine powerplant with more than 10,000 pounds of thrust, entailed far more than performance on paper. By the time the engine was proved experimentally in 1950, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft engineers had coped with some of the most complex problems of present-day engineering. Just how successfully they solved them is well evidenced by the widespread use of the J-57 turbojet in today's military aircraft for both intercontinental and supersonic flight.

Some recent engineering graduates are today working on careful analytical studies of the J-57 to provide commercial airline operators with data that will insure maximum performance with operating economies and rugged dependability.

Boeing 707 Stratoliner has already established a trans-continental round-trip record. Powered by eight P&W J-57 engines, it flew from Seattle to Washington, D.C. and back, in 8 hours and 6 minutes — an average speed of 381 mph.

Douglas DC-8 Clipper is the latest in a long line of famous transports. Cruising at 575 mph., 30,000 feet above the earth, it will set new standards in speed and comfort, along with the Boeing Stratoliner. Travelling 9 1/2 miles per minute, these planes will span the Atlantic in less than 7 hours.

Pratt & Whitney Aircraft J-57 Turbojet is one of two versions of the jet engines for the Boeing 707 and the Douglas DC-8. The most powerful production aircraft engine in the world, it already powers America's nine most important types of military airplanes.

SAE Wins Eighth Straight Frat Grid Title

Newman Club 'B' Captures Independent Championship

By ROBERT WHITE
SAE Grid Mentor

SAE is the fraternity football champion and Newman Club B is the independent title holder.

Winning their eighth consecutive fraternity title SAE defeated SN 9-0 in the finals.

After a scoreless first quarter, SN moved down to the SAT three yard line. Dave Noyes threw a flat pass intended for Jim Ingram, but Curt Conleton, SAE, intercepted it and ran 79 yards to score.

Jim Baxter smashed through center for the extra point.

Following the interception SAE's defense stiffened and SN did not threaten the rest of the game.

SAE got their safety in the fourth quarter when Conleton took a pitch-out from Baxter and threw a pass intended for end Don Bennett. But a SN back intercepted it and was caught in the end zone by Bennet for a safety. It was the second straight year that these two teams have met for the fraternity championship.

Newman Club B easily captured the independent title when they defeated Dorm I 15-0.

Dick Lehmann led the hard running attack of Newman Club by tallying two touchdowns.

Lehmann scored the first one on a 10-yard smsh, and then tallied the second one on a 20-yard run to break the game wide open.

As in the fraternity final, a safety was scored by the winning team. Newman scored their safety when Pierre Olberz caught a Dorm I halfback in the end zone.

Newman Club B started the season off slow, but ended the regular play with a 2-1 record.

Then came the tournament. In their first game they handed Law School its initial loss 0-0. BSU fell before them 14-0 in the semifinals.

Dorm I reached the finals undefeated, but tied once. Dorm I romped over Freshman A.C. 39-0 in the semifinals. Jim Gibson and Jim Arnold led the way.

SAE gained the fraternity finals by winning over SPE 19-7 and ATO 7-6.

In SPE game, SAE received the opening kickoff and scored immediately when Jim Baxter passed 60 yards to Dick Page for the tally.

Johnny Adams' 16-yard pass to Baxter in the end zone accounted for the second SAE score. C. M. Boone plunged for the extra point.

After SPE tallied, Adams received an SPE punt, stood dead in his tracks, and threw a 40-yard pass to Curt Conleton, who ran to the one-yard line. Baxter snaked it over on the next play.

The game against ATO was SAE's toughest battle to the title.

After taking the opening kickoff, SAE scored on the third play of the game when Adams passed to Baxter, who ran 60 yards to paydirt. Baxter circled left end for the vital extra point.

ATO came back in the second quarter to score their touchdown. Fred Camarote passed to Odie Gilliam for the score. ATO attempted to pass for the tying extra point, but was unsuccessful.

SN won a hard fought game with PSK 20-12 to gain the finals. Ronnie Hood, on a 50-yard run, tallied SN's first touchdown. Jim Campbell ran for the extra point.

Bill Fisher's five-yard smash accounted for the second score. Again Campbell scored the extra point.

Dave Noyes scored SN's last touchdown when he ran 10 yards to paydirt.

PSK scored their two tallies when Don Dampier ran 10 yards for the first one, and Ronnie Gobel tallied the second on a thrilling 70-yard run.

Spalding Wins I-M Free Throw Title

Haydon Spalding, KA, is the winner of this year's basketball free throw tournament sponsored by the men's Intramural division. Spalding needed a playoff with Curt Congleton, SAE, to take the title. Both participants made 41 of 50 throws but in the playoff Spalding hit on 22 of 25 attempts while Congleton tossed in two less. A sophomore from Bardstown, Spalding is one of the leading amateur golfers in Kentucky.

The University of Cairo, Wyoming has slowed traffic with a simple sign. It says: "Slow—No Hospital."

LOOKS kinda dim doesn't it! A thorough lashing from Vandy, 15 blue shirts on the injury list, a 4-3-1 record, plus an invasion by small but dangerous Memphis State this weekend all adds up to worry, fume, and fuss for Kentucky. Yep, looks kinda dim.

From the Louisville Times' sports column, Gay's Say, its writer, Marvin Gay sums up the Tennessee outlook by saying, "Reports from Knoxville indicate the Volunteers are mean and I believe them. UK's nice guys should get by Memphis State this Saturday, but it looks bad for them Saturday week. Somebody might get hurt."

Here's a question. Who else is left to get hurt? Wednesday night saw an injury roster that should make Wildcat coaches have one of their worst cases of insomnia in many a moon.

when players such as Hardy, Kuhn, Frankenberger, Walker, Hughes, Callahan, Mills, and Dougherty are ailing. Mills is one of the newest injuries. Having just recovered from foot trouble, Brad is now "down in the back." A Tuesday afternoon scrimmage racked him up good and proper. He's doubtful for Saturday's tilt.

One ray of light on the blackened subject is that some of the injuries are slight. But Blanton Collier isn't taking any more chances; Tuesday finish the rough contact work.

ATHLETIC Director, Bernie Shively, is doing all he can to promote pep and spirit for the Tennessee battle. At a meeting yesterday afternoon, Shively, along with Suky, outlined plans and labored over ideas from various groups, both on and off the campus, for staging the largest pep rally in the history of the University.

Tentative plans call for the "Big Show" to be held November 18 at 6:45 p.m. in front of Memorial Coliseum. Over a dozen organizations and groups are backing Suky with the program which calls for a talk by "Happy" Chandler, Coach Collier, and some Wildcats. The Marching 100 will furnish mood music, cheerleaders will be exercising their lungs, and a drawing for two tickets to the Vol game will be sponsored by the K Club.

FOUR UK gridmen are on this week's Southeastern Conference statistical check list.

Bob Hardy is the leading passer in the SEC with 49 of 94 tosses finding their target. Hardy is also fourth in total offense for conference play. Lou Michaels commands slot number two for punting with a 42.5 average. Don Chandler of Florida leads in the booting bracket. Halfback Don Netoskie rates high on punt returns with a total of 109 yards runback on eight returns. Howie Schmellenberger has nabbed 17 tosses for 237 yards and four touchdowns to send him into the number three post for pass receiving.

HUNGRY? Then enter UK's annual Turkey Run. To be held November 22, the sprinter first to break the ribbon will be awarded a ham. Started in 1949, the run for feathers has become one of Kentucky's most popular I-M events for campus participation.

Last year, Roy Boorman, PKT, carried away a prize of not a ham but a huge turkey as he ran the distance in 8:55.4 to lead a group totaling over 100 entries.

This season all hopefuls must have a physical examination before they can vie for the ham.

AND from their performance against the young Vols, I would say that the Kittens have a long, long road ahead of them. Their play was mighty disappointing.

Ailing Wildcats Face Memphis State

Vandy Bout Is Summed Into One Word, Murder

By BILL HENRY

Kentucky's lifeless Wildcats suffered their worst defeat in a decade as the Vanderbilt Commodores murdered the Blue and White by a 34-0 homecoming score at Nashville.

The speedy Commodores, led by All-American candidate Charlie Horton, seized the initiative from the Cats early in the game and then kept increasing their lead as the contest wore on.

A spirited squad of Coach Art Guepe tallied a touchdown in every quarter, pushing across two in the third to actually sew up the game. Kentucky penetrated their opponents territory only twice throughout the humiliating defeat; once to the 24 yard line where it was broken up by a pass interception and again late in the game to the 21 where it fizzled out.

Fielding their best team in many a year the Commodores were paced by halfback Charlie Horton. He scored three touchdowns, one on a 61 yard punt return, and amassed an additional 41 yards by rushing. The Wildcats played most of the game without the services of their quarterback, Bob Hardy. He was injured early in the first period and saw little action the remainder of the game.

Also out due to injuries was fullback Bobby Walker who was hurt half way through the second frame.

Walker will be lost to the Cats for the remainder of the season.

First-line tackle J. T. Frankenberger and second string quarterback Delmar Hughes also were sidelined for the game due to earlier injuries.

However, it is highly doubtful that the Wildcats could have taken the game had they been at top physical strength.

Vanderbilt reeled off a total of 56 plays from scrimmage as compared to 35 for the Blue and so completely dominated play that they accumulated 250 yards on the ground compared to a meager 72 for Kentucky.

This was the worst grid drubbing that has been hung on Kentucky since 1945 when Alabama clobbered them 60-19.

The last time UK had been whitewashed was the first game of last season when mighty Maryland shut them out 20-0.

Vandy holds reign over Kentucky for series play. Of 29 contests, the Commodores have won 22 while UK has come out on top five times. Two tilts ended in ties.

The last time for Vanderbilt to whip Kentucky was in 1948.

Only three games have been played since that date though.

By MARNEY BEARD
Attempting to bounce back from last week's 34-0 loss to Vanderbilt, Kentucky meets the Memphis State Tigers on Stoll Field at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The Tigers of Coach Ralph Hatley, originally scheduled as a warm-up for the Tennessee game the following week, are expected to furnish somewhat tougher opposition than was thought at first.

Despite their mediocre record of two wins and five losses, the Tigers have shown steady improvement each Saturday.

Last weekend, although losing to Ole Miss by 39-6, they managed 19 first downs to 21 for the Rebels, and ran 71 plays to 58 for the SEC co-leaders.

Their total yardage gained against Mississippi, 321, was more than Kentucky accumulated against the same team, as the Cats ground out only 266 in winning 21-14.

Fans expecting to see a preview of Tennessee's famous single-wing powerhouse, are in for something of a surprise.

This spring, for the first time, Coach Hatley changed the offense of the Tigers from the single-wing to the split-T. This change will serve to nullify the "warm-up" aspect of the contest.

Sophomore fullback Bob Brooks leads the Tigers' offense with a 5.5 yards rushing average to his credit.

Scouting reports indicate other boys that will bear watching are quarterback Andy Nelson, who has tossed the pigskin for a total of 350 yards this year; halfback Gerry King, who averaged nine yards a carry against Mississippi last week; and end Jerry Christopher, a junior who also starred on last year's team and is the principal target for Nelson's passes.

Kentucky is expected to be bolstered by the return to action of All-SEC quarterback Bob Hardy, injured last week in the Vanderbilt game.

However, the Cats are still weakened by injuries, with fullback Bobby Walker being out for the season, and tackles J. T. Frankenberger and Jack Butler being listed as doubtful performers. If Frankenberger and Butler are unable to play, Kentucky will enter the fray with only three available tackles—Lou Michaels, Bill Wheeler, and Ken Lutz.

Due to these and other minor injuries, the UK starting lineup is still too uncertain to hazard a guess.

The Memphis State lineup is expected to be as follows: Ends, Christopher and Richards; tackles, Hazlett and Billings; guards, Meibaum and Clifford; center, Scholes; quarterback, Nelson; halfbacks, King and House; and fullback, Brooks.

Strong Vol Frosh Team Wins 26-0

Kentucky's freshman footballers, hampered by a case of fumbleitis, lost to the Tennessee yearlings 26-0 last Friday in their final game of the season.

The Baby Vols first hit paydirt when they recovered a Kitten fumble on Kentucky's three yard line. It took two smashes at the little Blue line for Carl Smith to score.

Jim Burklow added the extra point and Tennessee led 7-0.

Waymond Morris, fullback from Owensboro, tried to get Kentucky a first quarter touchdown by running 44 yards deep into Tennessee territory, but again the Kittens fumbled on the nine.

Tennessee started another march with George Wright and Smith leading the way. The climax came when Wright passed to Smith for the second score.

The Baby Vols hit paydirt again with 23 seconds in the first half remaining as Wright passed to Ralph Broyles for six points.

After a scoreless third quarter, Tennessee tallied their fourth touchdown in the final quarter when Hiley Carr smashed the Kitten line for two yards and the marker.

All was not gloomy for Coach John Shelton's Kittens. Jack Mossburg, fullback from Fort Wayne, Ind., looked promising with his hard running.

Doug Shively, former Lexington Lafayette star, looked good on defense and was the Kittens' top pass receiver.

The Kittens ended their season with a record of one win and two losses. After opening with a 14-7 victory over Morehead, they lost to Vanderbilt's freshman squad 13-0 before meeting the Baby Vols.

7 Air Force Cadets Chosen Outstanding ROTC Students

Seven AFROTC cadets have been selected as distinguished ROTC students, according to an announcement made by the Air Science Department.

The students selected, and their colleges, are William O. Billiter Jr., Arts and Sciences; William O. Cockerill, Engineering; Walter F. Currie, Engineering; John A. With a quick change of pace, the players next one act play is a Thornton Wilder comedy, "The Queens of France." Under the direction of Sonny Kirehdoffer, the scene is New Orleans near the end of the 19th century. A shyster lawyer schemes to take money from innocent women by informing them they are the alleged Queen of France.

The women Cressaux, Midge Mezera; Pugeot, Barbara Anderson; Madame Pointevin, Helen English; and old women, Lynn Graham fall for the tricks of Lawyer Cahusoc, Jim Herrod.

Switching back into tragedy, Director Dudley Saunders brings to the stage the last one act, "No Exit." It is the present time in the depths of hell, where three people find the tortures of hell are not fire and brimstone. Instead, through the interplay of a lesbian, a loose woman, and coward they find the tortures of hell are other people.

This drama features Garcin, John Darsie Jr.; Inez, Lois Cammack; Estelle, Betz Nurney; and valet, Dave Winters.

Sets are by Gus Collins and lighting by Suzanne Shively for all three plays.
