Tuesday afternoon

My dear sister.

As brother George speaks of going to the city this evening, I will try to write a few lines. Victor Fanny and Phebe are here spending the day. Phebe is going to stay all night with "Grandma" while I go to our "Social Circle" which is to meet at Mrs Collins. You must know that last Tuesday afternoon we had quite a full meeting of ladies at the church some 25 or more and Mr Breck besides who by request offered a few suggestions and he proposed exactly the same plan you had in Covington last winter and which he had found very successful in New Albany in all the churches there, and to which Mrs Blaine and I added our testimony as she had attended them in Peoria, Mrs Blattermann was the only dissenting voice. She and her husband are the only ones I have heard of being opposed to them. We are to meet at the elders house first then at the deacons, Phebe returned from the country
