Ornithologists Go To Botanical Gardens 'To Study'

Robins were numerous. Fat and well-groomed, these heralds of spring lend a cheerful note to the atmosphere. Pausing to watch a brown thrasher build her nest in a hedge, one began to feel a little of what Henry Thoreau must have meant when he said that every sight and sound in nature was filled with friendliness.

Far off, and ever coming closer, we heard the two-syllable whistle of the blue jay, a beautiful but distinctive bird. The startling, haunting plumage of metallic green and purple, flew about frequently, reminding us of its domineering character and unfriendliness towards the song birds.

Witchy-witchy-witch came a call, and we raised our eyes to see a splendidly hued regal grosbeak and yellow coat of the Maryland Yellow-Throat pecking forth. The phoebe, vigorously twitching his tail, informed us that he, too, was an early morning riser.

We were breathing deeply of the odor emitted by the Magnolia blossoms, when a sudden flash of red caught our eyes. Noble in carriage, beautiful of plumage, and an excellent singer, this was the Kentucky Cardinal.

Early to bed and early to rise, will make a bird wealthy, healthy, and wise might well be the motto of these graceful birds, who tune up their vocal chords and clear the rubbish from their nests while the majority of people are sleeping.

"snorky" looking color coats, add sport slacks in a solid color, and a checked shirt.

For "dogwood winter" or "blackberry winter" (also coming up) you'll find nothing better—I mean you gals—than one of Denton's casha skirts. They're either gored or pleated, in natural, yellow, blue, or dusty pink. Llamora sweaters, nice and fuzzy, with boat necks, short sleeves, are the thing, too.

For a little later on, we might suggest string dresses in natural or pastel shades. They really hold their shape well and will launder easily. There are crew, boat, button, or collar necklines. For your suit, you'll be well pleased with a dainty organdie blouse—or perhaps a basic with eyelet embroidery.

Then there's the gilet with a trim of hemstitching. And there's nothing lovelier than the pin wheel motif in soft lace crocheted used on the organdie.

Very chic indeed are the Jean Arlet creations in hats—found at Mitchell, Baker's. Natural baku and stiffened linen are combined in a smart broad-brimmed model trimmed by navy and regal grograin braided together. Navy linen is shaped into a grape design placed at intervals on the brim. The crown is flattened into a diamond form. Black baku is employed for a roll-brimmed number trimmed in the old-fashioned manner by tiny white daisies and a dotted veil bow placed at the side. Black taffeta form the upright beret style, with two strips of wide white grograin and stitched together for the crown and continuing at the back. Incidentally, this may be removed and the hat used for the open-crown effect in summer.

With all these formals chasing each other along here now and the Suky dance coming up next week, you men will want to know just what is the correct attire for such occasions. Well, according to our Graves-Cox style authority, the appropriate spring formal consists of a Palm Beach outfit, first of all—black sateen-striped trousers, white coat in single- or double-breasted model with a shawl collar. Your accessories should be a turn-down-collared shirt with a maroon cum-bertbund, and, for the final touch, a crimson boutonniere. The coolest and most practical outfit in summer is the Palm Beach, for all-around wear. Select one either in the double-breasted drape style or the single-breasted, full swing back. In addition to white, colors are tan, check or plaids. For a real sport wear, choose one of the

An illustrated lecture on Eugene O'Neill was given by Doctor Dana before the Woman's-club of the University Tuesday afternoon in the Training School auditorium. He dwelt with the life and works of O'Neill and showed pictures of the theatres in which his plays have been presented in America and in foreign countries. Scenes from many of the plays were also shown.

Doctor Dana also gave an illustrated lecture on "New Experiments in the Theatre" Wednesday morning in Memorial hall.

"The art of the theatre is the most comprehensive of all arts, for it includes not only the art of acting, but the art of direction, stage management, lighting, ticket selling, publicity, dramatic criticism, listening, and the complex art of scenic design," said Doctor Dana in his discussion.

A round table discussion on play writing was given by Doctor Dana Wednesday afternoon in McVey hall for students, faculty, and townpeople especially interested in that topic.

"The Russian Theatre" was the subject of another illustrated lecture made by the famous author Wednesday night in Memorial hall. A student of the Soviet theatre, Doctor Dana has made numerous trips to Russia to study the latest developments in the Russian drama.

Doctor Dana closed his series of lectures at the University last night with an address on "The Spanish Situation," made before the International Relations study group at the University Commons.

PUBLIC NOTICE TO ALL PIPE SMOKERS

THE CONFLICTING and bewildering claims made for pipe tobacco make it our duty, we believe, to publish this straight-forward statement.

For 60 years we have been making fine pipe tobaccos, which we guarantee against tongue bite. Now for the first time we divulge the methods which have made this guarantee possible.

Pipe tobaccos may be rushed through a plant at a great saving in expense. Every tobacco expert knows this.

Or they may be made by the slow, patient method used in Edgeworth. This method we call Process-Aging. There are twelve required steps, each under laboratory control. It takes 4 to 7 times as long as might seem necessary.

This prevents tongue bite as no other method will. We invite you to prove this statement to your own satisfaction at our risk. You are the only judge.

NOTE: There are three kinds of Edgeworth for you to choose from:

- 1—Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed—a cool, low-burning tobacco preferred by seasoned smokers.
- 2—Edgeworth Plug Slice—for the smoker who likes to crumble the tobacco in his hands until it's just right for him.
- 3—Edgeworth Jr.—the same tobacco also Process-Aged, but cut for a milder, more free-burning smoke.

Please accept 50¢ Gold Plated Collar-Pin for only 10¢ when you buy Edgeworth. Merely send inside white wrapper from any tin of Edgeworth with your name and address and 10¢ to Larus & Bro. Co., Dept. 201, Richmond, Va.

Seeing Sport Stuff

By TOM WATKINS
Kernel Sports Editor

WHEN Coach Chet Wynne's Wildcat gridmen open their 1937 season in Nashville September 25 against the Vanderbilt Commodores, they will be one of the few Wildcat teams that have taken the initial start of the season before an enemy crowd. For ten years the 'Cats have played the opening game on Stoll field in view of Kentucky supporters, against Maryville and Sewanee. Now they will hear the starting gun in Nashville before a conference foe, with the Commodore supporters greatly in the majority. Opening games have heretofore provided a chance for Kentucky supporters to see their speedy backs gallop through a game but greatly outclassed eleven. Vanderbilt will not be so easy. The game will be a close one, and it also will be played against a conference foe, something that Kentucky has heretofore not met in the first three games of the season.

Two inter-sectional gridiron will be held by the Wildcats for the 1937 season. This is also something new, as Kentucky football teams have always confined their talents to the South, with few exceptions. Last year's schedule boasted of one inter-sectional game, the tilt played against Manhattan on Ebbetts field, in Brooklyn. Now, Manhattan invades the Blue Grass for another crack at the Wildcats, whom they defeated in New York. In addition to this tilt, Kentucky's eleven will travel to Boston to meet Boston College. This eleven is a newcomer on the Kentucky card, but is an old foe of Centre College. The South Carolina Gamecocks are also newcomers on the Wildcat schedule.

The 1937 football schedule is as follows:
Vanderbilt at Nashville, Sept. 25
Xavier at Cincinnati, Oct. 2
Georgia Tech here, Oct. 9
Washington and Lee here
Manhattan here, Oct. 24
Alabama at Tuscaloosa
South Carolina here
Boston College at Boston
Tennessee here, Nov. 25
Florida at Gainesville, Dec. 7
Dates not included are not definitely set.

Intramural events should swing into greatly increased activity this week, as all the delaying factors of the past two weeks have been eliminated. The new horse-shoe courts are now ready for action, and it is expected that all these matches will be played within the next two weeks. The tennis courts have been temporarily vacated by the varsity team, absent on their Southern tour, and all ball matches, which were never impeded, are also in full swing.

Two of the matches scheduled by the tennis team have had to be postponed because of rain. The Wayne University team, Detroit, one of the Wildcats' most formidable rivals last year, was not able to make its appearance on the Kentucky courts because of rain. After starting a match with Berea there, games had to cease. These matches will be played later, the dates as yet not being definite.

FROSH NETTERS OPEN SEASON TODAY

The frosh racquetballers will open their schedule this afternoon when they meet an independent team from Wilmore on the home courts at 2 o'clock. The freshmen have a promising team this year and should present some good matches for the tennis fans.

The schedule to date is: April 30 Wilmore here; May 3 Berea, here; May 6 Cumberland College, here; May 10 Winchester, here; May 15 Berea, here; and May 20 Winchester, here. Two meets are being arranged with K. M. I. and one with M. M. I.

In the singles Friday, George May, Middleboro, will handle the number one assignment; David Ragland, Lexington, number two; Jesse Holbrook, Millstone, number three; Bubble Boone, Springfield, number four. Endicott or Powers will take care of the number five position.

Wilmore promises to bring a strong team to Lexington, and the students are cordially invited to come out and watch the Kittens in their initial performance.

VARSITY TRACKSTERS ROUT BERA; KITTENS BOW TO MOUNTAIN FROSH

The Wildcat track team completely routed the Berea College thistles, 95 to 36, for their second straight win in dual competition this season, Wednesday afternoon on the Stoll field oval. In a meet held right along with the varsity contest, the Berea freshmen, in some manner made up for their big brothers' defeat by defeating the Kentucky Kittens, 73 to 57.

Wishing to have his men in top condition for the meet with the University of Tennessee track and field men here on Saturday, Coach C. F. Striplin did not allow the 'Cats to extend themselves. He withdrew his stars from several events in which he did not need victories.

Captain Ben Willis, of the Wildcats, led the point makers for the afternoon by winning the two hurdle events and the 100-yard dash. Dave Rogan, who won his specialties, the mile and half-mile runs, and Bob Davis, winner of the 220-yard dash and the discus throw, were close on his heels. Rogan just missed the track record for the mile by one second, and Willis threatened the century record by running the distance in 9.9 seconds.

In downing the Mountaineers, the 'Cats took 11 first places out of 15 events. The only wins relinquished by Kentucky were to Powell in the pole vault, Ward in the 40, Roberts in the high jump, and Clark in the two-mile. Ward and Powell were individual stars for Berea.

Powell, of the Berea frosh, led the yearlings by winning both hurdle events, placing second in the 100-yard dash, third in the 220, and running on the winning relay team. Starring for the Kittens were Kennedy and Hammond. In winning their respective events, the shot put and the broad jump, both yearlings bettered the winning marks of the varsity winners.

Summary:
One-mile run: Rogan (K), Hillard (K), Pilson (B). Time 4:22.7.
440-yard dash: Ward (B), Ledridge (K), Doyle (K). Time :53.2.

OLD KENTUCKIAN REVIEWED AS '37 BOOK'S DEBUT TIME APPROACHES

"Dead men tell no tales," but old Kentuckians certainly do.

And probably twenty years hence, a glance through the blue backed '37 Kentuckian which will appear in a few weeks will reveal as many tales of the campus life of today as a hurried trip through a 1917 yearbook tells about the life twenty years ago.

That old edition shows that our University of Kentucky was considered extremely modern. Only that year it celebrated its golden jubilee on October 13 and 14, and it must have been a gala festival from the description in that quaint annual.

The celebration was such an event that graduates came from far and wide to gather at their beloved Alma Mater. For twenty years ago they were proud of the accomplishments attained by their school.

Why there were no buildings instead of the dormitory, classroom buildings and home of the Commandant which the campus originally contained when the school was established in 1866 as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky? There were even 1,300 students enrolled in the ten distinct courses offered!

Lexington enjoyed the festivities, including the mammoth downtown parade. Before the Vanderbilt-Kentucky game, the townspeople flocked to the campus to see Stoll Field dedicated "In Honor of Richard C. Stoll, Alumnus, Trustee and Benefactor of the University of Kentucky."

Everyone was happy, including the freshmen, who finally succeeded in dragging the sophomores through icy Clifton Pond in a tug-of-war.

Glancing through the remainder of the annual, it is obvious that the ideas of the book's makeup have not changed to any great extent. The same groups of pictures, humor, feature, scandal and beauty sections were included.

Court Rigors Of Collegiate Tennis Explained

A warm sun shining down upon a small gallery and closely-packed clay courts. A methodical rhythm of raquets meeting the ball that is suddenly checked, then resumed as a point is scored by one contender. Continual dread lest the opponent place a ball out of your reach. An absolute oblivion to the audience. That is a collegiate tennis match.

Not requiring bulk and strength of football, tennis demands a steady hand, an alert mind, speed, and stamina required by no other sport with the possible exception of track events. One must keep his mind on the game, and try to out-smart his opponent, who must be regarded as superior by the clever racketeer.

When the games stretch into sets and the sets go on into matches with the hot sun beating down on the players' heads at the same time, then you have a real picture of what tennis is like. A tennis match takes as much out of an average individual as any other sport, not only that but it taxes the nervous system when the glare of the hard baked courts stings the eyes.

In tennis as in any other great sport, it takes real men to play the game, such men as Perry, Tilden, and Vines staying in their mind on the game, and try to out-smart the average man and have more stamina and in most cases are larger than the average individuals which should prove in itself that tennis is a real sport of champions.

Campus Penniless, Ponies Migrate, Classes Resume

By DON IRVINE "How'd you do on that last one?" "I don't know. My horse hasn't come in yet!"

"I thought you had lab this afternoon."

"Only in theory. What are you going to do on the next one?" "Well, I think Burp would make a good place bet."

"Burp? Are you crazy? Why he has never seen any mud before. Much less tried to motivate in it. He won't get in before Labor Day. Right now a boy's best friend is his mud!"

And so it went. The campus-spenders were parimutuel-mad. They wandered to their morning classes with a racing form under one arm, an uncracked book under the other, and their pockets full of uncrashed tickets.

Although inclement weather has knocked them out of several of these days of practice, the Blue and White golfers are in the best condition that they have been in all year.

The 'Cats will enter this match as the underdogs, but are determined to prove the deposters are wrong by sending the Cincinnati boys back home on the short end of the score.

Friday night after this match the Kentucky team will leave for Dayton, Ohio, where they will be guests of the University of Dayton on Saturday. The Wildcats entertain little hope of defeating this team as the Dayton team is playing on the enemy's course, the Kentucky team will consider it a victory if they give the Ohio team a close battle.

The same team which has played in all early meets will probably be the one which plays Cincinnati and Dayton, today and tomorrow. Jack Mohney is expected to be at the number one post with Bain Smith playing number two man. Captain Robert Thaxton is rated as number three, while Bill Adams should retain his place at number four position.

"What races?" "Kentland, dunderhead." "Oh, that. I had just succeeded in forgetting all about it. I didn't come out. Fainted, after the last horse. Never, never again for me. I'll take up folk-dancing instead."

"Aren't you going to the trots in May?" "What trots?" "Here in town."

"Say, when are they? Maybe I can win back the family fortune." "Around and around the little nag, and where they come in no-body knows."

The University golf team will meet the University of Cincinnati divot diggers this afternoon on the Ashland golf course in its first home match of the season.

Having lost their first two starts on foreign courses to the University of Tennessee and Washington University of St. Louis, the Wildcats are out to show that they can do much better than this on their home course. Since their last meet they have had nearly two weeks in which to prep for the Bearcats.

Former Student Identifies Germ Of Black Cancer

Black cancer of the eye, frequently referred to as "the killer," has been robbed of at least half its deadliness because one of its two types can now be readily identified and removed.

Dr. Elbert DeCoursey, assistant professor of pathology, United States Army Medical School, Washington, D. C., who is a graduate of the University in the class of '24, a member of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity, and president of the Washington, D. C., University of Kentucky Alumni club, so reported to his colleagues in cancer work at the closing sessions of the American Association for the Study of Neoplastic Diseases, held in Jeanes hospital, Fox Chase.

Doctor DeCoursey, a captain in the Army Medical Corps, and assistant curator of the Army Medical Museum, described the technique of identification and diagnosis of this type of eye cancer to nearly 100 pathologists, surgeons, and radiologists assembled there from all over the country.

ART EXHIBIT ON DISPLAY

The exhibit of block prints and reproductions of American paintings will remain on display at the Art Center until May 20, it was announced yesterday.

It is called "the killer" because it shoots its malignant cells almost directly to the liver, then spreads through the body.

The young captain's report was an extension of the work of Col. George R. Callender, of the Medical Corps, U. S. A., who made the first discovery of the identifying characteristics.

Ran 2 Record-Smashing 440 Yd. Dashes in One Day!

RAY ELLINWOOD, sensational track star of the University of Chicago, clipped a second of the world's indomitable 440-yard dash record in his first college meet. HE DUPLICATED the feat 20 minutes later as anchor man on the relay team. Ray's start enables him to jump into the lead at the crack of the gun. IN THE FIRST FEW STRIDES, Ray unleashes almost explosive power. And keeps driving! JUST IMAGINE breaking the world's record twice the same day! That takes stamina and endurance of high order.

LIKE BEING CLOTHED IN AIR EVERY HOUR'S A BUSY ONE for attractive Claire Huntington (right), public stenographer. "Yes, it's a strain," she says, "but no matter how tired I get, smoking a Camel brings back my energy. Although I smoke a lot, Camels never jangle my nerves." SURVEYOR William Barrett (left) speaking: "I get in a lot of Camel smoking during the day. When I begin to feel below par, it's me for a Camel and that invigorating 'lift' in energy." "IT'S EASY to get fatigued at exam-time," says Bob Sommerville (left), college senior. "When I'm tired, a Camel gives me a 'lift' in energy, bucks up my spirits, and helps me sail along with pep to spare." "Please add me to the athletes who get a 'lift' with a Camel!"—Ray Ellinwood "I NEVER fully realized just how much 'Geta a lift' with a Camel" meant to me until I ran two world record-breaking quarters in one afternoon," Ray continues. "That's the time I put on my supreme effort. Afterwards a Camel helped me change over from being tired to feeling full of pep. And that night I ate heartily and digested my meal as well as ever. This convinced me 100% of the value of enjoying Camels for digestion's sake." In every line of endeavor—active, hard-working men and women light up Camels to renew their vim and energy—to add more enjoyment to mealtimes—and to ease strain and tension.
