Wildcats Have Toughest SEC Schedule—

Collier Needs Solace, and 11 Lou Michaels

By ALF VAN HOOSE
News Sports Writer

Say this for the football team Blanton Collier will send out of bluegrass Lexington, Ky., next Fall:

It'll not be dispatched looking for children. It's challenging giants, just as Adolph Rupp's basketball teams do, and nearby Calumet Farm's big horses.

The University of Kentucky Wildcats win the title as playing the Southeastern Conference's roughest family schedule, win it fairly easily—unwanted though it may be.

The Wildcats take on eight league clubs before November ends, including the five highest rated outfits.

With 11 Lou Michaels, Paul Brown's ex-aid might not worry. But nearly a dozen short of that All-World type, Collier needs sympathy and quiet music.

Under a new (and mathematically sounder) system of determining schedule toughness, Kentucky's card gets a rating of 77.3. Tennessee, player of the meanest list for the last two years, ranks next in line at 73.9.

Mississippi State tackles the No. 3 difficult intraconference run (72.9), and the list runs from there through Georgia Tech in 11th place, at 59.3, and Vanderbilt 12th at 52.0.

The News formula is simply this:

Each opponent is listed at the exact number of points it totaled in the News' Spring poll. The points are added down the schedule, then divided by the total SEC games. It's easy to do, and fair.

Thus Kentucky's schedule, listing Georgia Tech (87), Ole Miss (103½), Auburn (114½), LSU (48), Georgia (50), Mississippi State (93), Vanderbilt (34) and Tennessee (88), adds to 618 points. Divided by eight, that's 77.3.

The complete rundown on each team's schedule toughness is:

1. Kentucky, 77.3
2. Tennessee, 73.9
3. Mississippi State, 72.9
4. Auburn, 67.7
5. Alabama, 66.6
6. Georgia, 65.3
7. Tulane, 62.6
8. LSU, 61.8
9. Mississippi, 60.0
10. Florida, 59.6
11. Georgia Tech, 59.3
12. Vanderbilt, 52.0

Kentucky was ranked in seventh place in Zipp Newman's poll.

TO THE PRESS AND RADIO

Here is your copy of the 1958 facts booklet on the Kentucky Wildcats which we sincerely hope will aid you in covering and answering questions on U. of K. football this season. Material in this brochure is up to date as publication was delayed until after the first few days of pre-season practice to allow for normal changes. If you desire additional information or have any questions not answered herein, please feel free to contact the Sports Publicity Office.

Information

WORKING TICKETS—Address requests to Sports Publicity Office as far in advance as possible. After Tuesday preceding the game, tickets will not be mailed. Pick up at the Information Window in Memorial Coliseum, directly across the street from the stadium.

COMPS—No individual game allotment.

WESTERN UNION—Advise if you intend to file from press box so that you may be assigned a seat adjacent to your Western Union operator. It is also advisable to notify the Commercial Manager of Western Union in Lexington.

RADIO—Apply directly to Radio Director, University of Kentucky, McVey Hall, Lexington, supplying information regarding proposed sponsors and any network arrangement. Booth assignment will be made and working tickets issued by Sports Publicity Office upon receipt of approved permit from Radio Director. Spotters are available if requested well in advance. Stations should order lines installed by contacting Commercial Department, General Telephone Co., 151 Walnut St., Lexington.

TELEVISION—Rules of the NCAA and Southeastern Conference prohibit "live" telecasting of U. of K.'s football games except in such event as the University is a participant in the NCAA-controlled "Game of the Week" series. Only the official cameramen of the two teams are allowed to make motion pictures of the game for delayed showing on TV. Newsclips on game highlights will be furnished to TV stations by the Sports Publicity Office upon advance request and on an actual cost basis.

STOLL FIELD — McLEAN STADIUM

Much confusion among the general public and the sports-writing fraternity apparently exists over a seeming duplication of titles in referring to the University of Kentucky's football setup along "Avenue of Champions."

Officially, by action of the University Board of Trustees, the general area encompassing the playing field is known as "Stoll Field." Likewise, by authority of the same body, the stadium proper is known as "McLean Stadium."

Kentucky's first football field, occupying the general site of what is now the practice field west of the stadium, was first given a name when it was dedicated on October 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University of Kentucky. Soon after the first sections of the present concrete stadium were completed on September 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

The first attraction to be held on the new Stoll Field was a football game with the University of Louisville on October 4, 1924. A gridiron clash between Kentucky and the then-powerful Centre College team was the first game played in the fully-completed stadium on November 1, 1924.

The later reference to the concrete stands as "McLean Stadium" has existed since November 1, 1924, when the stadium was officially dedicated in memory of Price Innes McLean and a bronze plaque placed in the south stands by the Class of 1925. McLean, regular center on the 1923 Kentucky football squad, died November 7, 1923, as the result of injuries sustained in the U.K.-Cincinnati game played in the Queen City the afternoon before.

Major expansions of McLean Stadium in 1948 and 1949 have resulted in a current over-all seating capacity of approximately 36,000.

"Avenue of Champions" came into being in the spring of 1950 as an honorary title for that stretch of Euclid Avenue running between the University's $4,000,000 Memorial Coliseum and McLean Stadium. The street was officially re-named by the City of Lexington in recognition of the UK athletic teams' unprecedented success of 1950 in annexing the Southeastern Conference titles in both football and basketball and their national championships in the Sugar Bowl grid game and the NCAA cage tournament.

STOLL FIELD 'COW PASTURE' BIRTHPLACE OF DIXIE GRID SPORT

University of Kentucky's campus boasts the distinction of serving as the birth-place of Dixie football. Ironically, however, the forerunners of the present day Wildcats were not involved in the early grid contest.

The first inter-collegiate football game ever played in the South, and probably the first to take place west of the Alleghanies, came about April 9, 1880, on old Stoll Field. This gridiron, located adjacent to the present U.K. stadium and now used as a baseball field, was the site of the early tilt that saw Kentucky University (now known as Transylvania College) take the measure of Centre College, 13¾ to 0. The match, which was said to resemble a combination of soccer and rugby, followed by only six years the introduction of the game of football to the United States.

University of Kentucky (then called A & M College of Kentucky) did not play its first game until a year later on the same field, which once served as the private pasture for University President James Patterson's bovine herd.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

BERNIE A. SHIVELY

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is the Herculean task being carried out successfully by Bernie A. Shively.

Few who have observed the untiring efforts of the tall, silver-haired former All-America footballer in the service of the University of Kentucky since 1927 and as Director of Athletics since 1938 will argue his fitness as an athletic Hercules. Not only has Shively guided the development of Kentucky as a nationally-respected power in major sports, but he has also gained personal prestige through a fair-minded approach to many problems.

During his tenure as Athletic Director, Shively has directly supervised major expansions in Kentucky's athletic plant resulting from the progression of the school's football and basketball teams to greater national prominence and increased patronage by the sports-minded public.

The seating capacity of Kentucky's football stadium, McLean Stadium on Stoll Field, has been doubled to bring the current number of seats to approximately 36,000 and on par with most other schools located in heavier-populated areas. Powerful lighting equipment also was installed during the 1948-49 construction to bring night football into new popularity. Partly to satisfy the overwhelming number of basketball devotees, who could not squeeze into the 2,800-seat Alumni Gymnasium, a long-planned Memorial Coliseum was completed in 1950. Seating 11,500 persons for cage contests, the four-million dollar Coliseum also houses the Athletic Department and provides the first permanent home for the school's minor sports teams. More recently, Shively was instrumental in the acquisition of a pair of modern, ranch-style living units which have served as the home of the football team since 1954. "Wildcat Manor" and "Kitten Lodge" replace three frame houses which the gridders had occupied since 1946.

A large dressing room building and football practice field, used since 1955, will be abandoned after this fall to make way for a huge new men's dorm to be built by the University. Under Shively's supervision, a spacious new Sports Center is to be prepared a short distance away on the University farm to take even better care of the footballers and spring sports teams.

All-America Guard At Illinois

A native of Paris, Ill., Shively attended the University of Illinois where he was an All-America guard in 1926 on the same grid team made famous by Red Grange. Demonstrating a claim to being one of the finest all-around athletes in Illinois' history, "Shive" also laid claim to the Big 10 heavyweight wrestling championship and annexed letters in track before graduating in 1927.

Shively came to Kentucky in 1927 as line coach of football under Harry Gammage. A shift in the coaching ranks in 1933 resulted in Shively's promotion to head of the UK Physical Education Department, a position he retained until he succeeded Chet Wynne as Athletic Director in 1938. During this period and the years following, he also served as track and baseball coach for several seasons and continued to assist the football staff as line coach until 1944. The next year, 1945, he assumed full charge of the grid squad for one season before turning the job over to mentor Paul (Bear) Bryant in 1946.

The Kentucky Athletic Director served as chairman of the Southeastern Conference basketball committee for a number of years and for the past five years has been president of the SEC Coaches and Athletic Directors Association. Currently, he is a member of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee and serves as chairman of the NCAA Summer Baseball Committee. He also has been active in numerous state and civic organizations and projects, including present direction of the county recreation board. For several years he was Supervisor of Officials for the Ohio Valley Conference.

Shively and his wife, Ruth, have two children. Doug is a star end on the UK grid team and will serve as co-captain this fall while daughter Suzanne, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University in 1957, is in the teaching field.

ATHLETICS AT KENTUCKY

Kentucky's athletics program is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletic Association.

A firm believer in sports and sportsmanship, Dr. Frank G. Dickey serves as chief administrative officer in his capacity as University president. He also is currently vice-president of the Southeastern Conference. Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice-president of UK, has general supervision over the Department and also serves as vice chairman of the Board of Directors of the Association.

Former UK football player and one-time Wildcat coach, Dr. A. D. Kirwan, acts as secretary to the Association. He also is the school's faculty representative to the Southeastern Conference and currently is chairman of the NCAA committee on infractions.

Bernie A. Shively heads the Department as Director of Athletics.

Maintaining over-all control of U.K. athletics affairs is the Board of Directors of the Athletics Association, composed of the President of the University and 10 other directors appointed by him, including five members of the faculty of the University, the president of the Student Government Association, an alumnus of the school, a member of the U.K. Board of Trustees, and two others. Frank D. Peterson, University Vice President of Business Administration, serves the board as treasurer.

The current Board of Directors consists of the following members:

Dr. Frank G. Dickey,
Chairman

Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain,
Vice Chairman

Dr. A. D. Kirwan, Secretary

Robert Hobson

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

BLANTON COLLIER

Head Football Coach

(Four Years — Won 22, Lost 17, Tied 1)

A quiet-mannered native Kentuckian who is widely regarded at all levels of the game as one of football's most brilliant tacticians and finest gentlemen, Blanton Long Collier is a man of unique background and the personification of a patient, thorough teacher.

With only four years in the collegiate coaching ranks behind him, the popular Wildcat mentor might be considered a novice to the uninformed. But to his fellow mentors throughout the country, who know the facts of his background and football philosophy, he is held in the highest respect and already has been accorded "Coach of the Year" honor in the tough Southeastern Conference.

A great many, both in the profession and out, feel that Kentucky is fortunate to have the services of one of the keenest minds in the grid sport who needs only a few more "tools of the trade" (outstanding players) to boost the Wildcats to the top. Although his first four Kentucky elevens have not reached the Southeastern Conference throne room or taken part in post-season bowl activity, both University officials and the "Man In The Street" are solidly behind Collier and the program he directs with hard-working efficiency.

When Collier gave up the security of his position as backfield coach and chief aide to fabulous Paul Brown of the perennial world pro champion Cleveland Browns to take over the reins at his home-state university in 1954, he fulfilled a life-long ambition and climaxed a unique rise in the coaching game. He became a college coach for the first time after nearly a quarter-century in the profession of tutoring football.

Born in Millersburg, Ky., and brought up in Paris, Ky., only 17 Miles from the University campus, Collier began his athletic career at Paris High School by playing both football and basketball. Later at Georgetown College, he lettered in both sports. Although not an outstanding gridder because of his lack of size (he weighed only 125 pounds then), he nevertheless was regarded as a close student of the game and, upon graduation in 1927, was named coach of all sports at Paris High.

He held this position until he entered the Navy in 1943. During 16 years in the schoolboy coaching ranks, his teams won or shared two

Central Kentucky Conference football titles and six basketball championships. His last high school grid team (1943) ranked as unofficial state champions. Also during this period he took postgraduate work at the University of Kentucky and received a master's degree in educational administration in 1942.

It was while he was stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station during his Navy tour that Collier and Paul Brown discovered each other. Brown, a lieutenant and head coach of the Great Lakes football team, became impressed with Yoeman Collier's football knowledge and added him to the staff as an assistant coach. The following year (1946) when the Cleveland Browns were organized with Brown as head coach, Collier made the unique jump from high school ranks (via service ball) to the pros by going along as backfield coach.

During eight seasons with the perennial world champion Browns, Collier made a reputation that stamped him as a great teacher of football—determined but quietly patient. His special function as number one aide to Brown was pass defense and the club consistently ranked tops in the league in this department.

Enters College Ranks In 1954 As UK Coach

When the Kentucky job became available in 1954 with the transfer of Paul Bryant to Texas A & M, Collier was lured into collegiate ranks for the first time in nearly a quarter-century of coaching experience.

Given a three-year contract, Collier launched an immediate attack based on his version of the Split T offense and spiced with a generous helping of gridiron fundamentals and stress on perfection in play execution.

The results came almost immediately as the Wildcats, after an erratic start that saw a 2-3 split in the first five encounters, forged a victory string of five straight from mid-season and capped it with a win over arch-rival Tennessee in the rain at Knoxville. The Kentuckians were in bowl contention all the way as they wound up with a 7-3 record for the 1954 campaign.

Coach Collier was rewarded by grateful school officials with a new five-year contract and fellow mentors of the Southeastern Conference voted him "SEC Coach of the Year." In gaining this honor in his "freshman" season at UK, an achievement made all the more noteworthy considering that it was the first time the title had been bestowed on a coach in his initial year of college tutoring, Collier climaxed a unique rise in the game.

The 1955 campaign was virtually a repetition of the previous year. In carving out a 6-3-1 mark, Collier could point with pride to the fact that his men registered a win over Ole Miss, the only setback suffered by the eventual SEC and Cotton Bowl champs, and a second straight triumph over Powerful Tennessee that eliminated the Vols from bowl contention and again boosted the Wildcats' stock for a post-season date.

Two years ago, Kentucky slipped to sixth place on a record of six wins and four defeats and in 1957 hit rock bottom in the conference standings as the result of only three victories in 10 starts against some of the South's toughest grid powers. But there was some solace to be gained in the knowledge that impartial observers classed the '56 record as remarkable in view of personnel problems and praised the 1957 outfit, which wound up in a blaze of glory by upsetting Tennessee for the third time in four years, as "probably the nation's best non-winning team." Another point of pride in the luckless '57 record was the Wildcats' near upset of eventual national champion Auburn, who needed a key penalty and questionable help at the goal line to eke out a 6-0 win on their home ground.

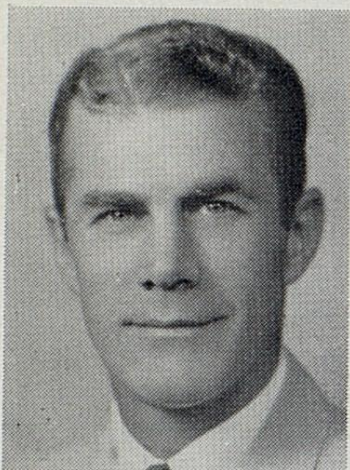

Coincidental with his success on the football field, Collier has gained increasingly wide popularity and respect throughout the state and nation. Relations with Kentucky high school coaches are at an all-time high and the Wildcat mentor is constantly in demand as an authoritative lecturer at coaching clinics all over the country. In the summer of 1957, he went overseas for the Army and Air Force to conduct clinics for armed services personnel in Japan and Hawaii. He also has served as one of the East coaches in the annual Shrine East-West game at San Francisco for the past two years and, in 1955, was a coach in the Christian Bowl game.

Collier married Miss Mary Forman Varden of Paris in 1931 and they have three daughters—Carolyn, Kay and Jane.

ALUMNUS COACH

Although Head Coach Blanton Collier did not receive his initial college degree from University of Kentucky, he nevertheless might rightfully be called the Wildcats' third alumnus coach. He was awarded a master's degree in educational administration by the University in 1942. Only other graduates of U.K. later to take up head football coaching duties at their alma mater were J. White Guyn (1906-08) and A. D. Kirwan (1938-44).

THE COACHING STAFF

ERMAL ALLEN

(Kentucky '42)

Backfield Coach

One of Kentucky's most famous athlete graduates, Allen at 37 has had a full career as a collegiate star, pro-football player and successful college grid coach. He starred at quarterback for the Wildcat forces from 1939 to 1941 and entered military service following graduation. Returning as a graduate student after his discharge, Allen became the center of one of the Southeastern Conference's most controversial cases when he attempted to play a fourth year of football in 1946 and was declared ineligible after two games. Allen joined the UK coaching staff of Paul Bryant for the remainder of the '46 season, spent the '47 campaign as a T-quarterback with the professional Cleveland Browns, whose backfield coach at this time was Blanton Collier, and then re-joined the Wildcat staff in 1948. He became Kentucky's head freshman mentor in 1950 and was promoted at season's end to backfield coach. Allen was retained in this capacity when Collier became head man of the Wildcats and now also is chief aide in charge of defense. In the off season, he plays a lot of golf and copped the state amateur championship this past spring and in 1955. The mentally-sharp Allen holds a master's degree. Hometown: Morristown, Tenn.

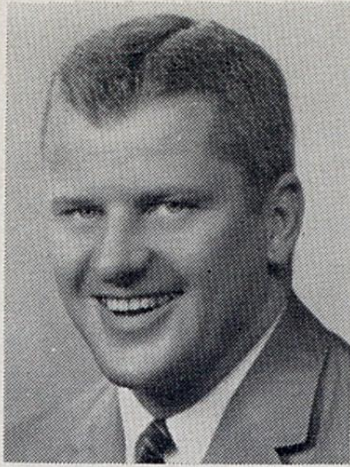

BILL ARNSPARGER

(Miami (O.) '50)

Offensive Line Coach

One of Coach Collier's former grid pupils at Paris (Ky.) High School and a native Kentuckian, Arnsparger joined the UK staff in 1954 as an assistant in charge of offensive line play. The 29-year-old former Marine brought to the staff an excellent background of coaching experience which began at Miami (Ohio) U. following his graduation from that school in '50. In 1951, he moved with boss Woody Hayes to Ohio State where he was tackle coach in charge of offensive line play for three seasons. Arnsparger played at tackle and guard on Collier's teams at Paris High from 1941-43 and entered UK as a freshman in '44. His tour of duty in the Marines began shortly thereafter and he transferred to Miami U. after his discharge to play under Sid Gillman and later Hayes. Like his current boss, Bill has his master's degree. Hometown: Paris, Ky.

MATT LAIR
(Kentucky '48)

Defensive Line Coach

A tough competitor who looks the part of the former top-notch football guard that he was during his days at University of Kentucky, Lair is another product of Blanton Collier's coaching. He was born in nearby Paris, Ky., and played three years of the grid sport under Collier when the latter was coach at Paris High. Entering UK in 1941, Lair was a blocking back for two seasons before going in the service. Upon his return in '46, he played out his final two years' eligibility as a guard regular and then began a career in high school coaching. He was line coach at Sidney Lanier High in Montgomery, Ala., for three years, served one year as an assistant at Louisville Manual and in 1953 was head coach at Parrish High in Selma, Ala. Matt has inherited the task of keeping a scholastic check on Kentucky's gridgers to make certain they tackle the classroom grind with the same forcefulness asked of them on the football field. He holds a master's degree. Hometown: North Middletown, Ky.

CHARLEY BRADSHAW
(Kentucky '50)

Offensive Backfield Coach

An outstanding flankman during his playing days at University of Kentucky, Bradshaw is a serious-minded student of the game who brings to the coaching staff experience as a gridger of great native ability and as a successful high school coaching assistant. He played center and earned his first letter as a freshman with the Wildcats in 1946 and was the team's regular right end for the two and a quarter seasons following until he was ruled ineligible early in the '49 campaign by Commissioner Mocre on grounds that he had played out his eligibility. Bradshaw finished out the season as an assistant freshman coach at UK and then moved to Sidney Lanier High in Montgomery, Ala., as an assistant football coach and co-ordinator of a junior high program. He became an aide on the Collier staff in 1954, and was shifted this summer from end coach to offensive backfield coach. He holds an M.A. degree to supplement his football knowledge. Hometown: Montgomery, Ala.

DOMINIC FUCCI
(Kentucky '51)

Defensive Backfield Coach

Experienced as an outstanding collegiate gridder and professional player, Fucci this fall enters his fourth term as an aide on the staff of Blanton Collier. The former all-around athlete, who in 1949 became the Wildcats' first All-America baseball star, helped out in the fall of 1954 after he had suffered a broken arm in early action with the pro Detroit Lions football club. Returning to the Lions for the '55 campaign, he saw considerable action as a defensive back and now handles these familiar chores in a coaching assignment at U.K. In three seasons at Kentucky, Fucci saw duty as a reserve quarterback, special occasion half-back and regular end and was the team's number one punter in both 1949 and '50. Following graduation in 1951, he played professional baseball for a time with the New York Yankees' farm system and then entered service. Hometown: New Village, N. J.

JOHN NORTH
(Vanderbilt '48)

End Coach

A former star flankman at Vanderbilt, John North joined the Kentucky coaching staff in the spring of 1956 as Freshman Coach after a full career as collegian, pro player, high school and college coach. The 36-year-old Tennessee native was in the Vanderbilt camp for the 1941 and 1942 seasons before entering military service during World War II. He served three years in the Marines, attaining the grade of sergeant, and upon his release returned to Vandy to play out his remaining years of eligibility in 1946-47. Despite shot-up legs from Marine battles in the South Pacific, he earned second string All-SEC honors and went on to play end two years for the Baltimore Colts. He started his coaching career at a high school in Tallahassee, Ala., in 1951 and three seasons later became line coach at Tennessee Tech, a job he held for the two campaigns immediately preceding his transfer to Kentucky. After guiding the Kentucky freshmen to two straight undefeated seasons, John this summer moved up to varsity end coach. North holds a master's degree from Peabody College in Nashville. Hometown: Old Hickory, Tenn.

ED RUTLEDGE
(Western Ky. '41)

Head Freshman Coach and Scout

Promoted this summer to the post of Head Freshman Coach and chief scout, Rutledge attended Western Kentucky State College and he played end for three seasons prior to graduation in 1941. He spent the next six and one-half years as a Navy pilot and rose to the rank of Lt. Commander during service in the Panama Canal area. Rutledge also starred in 1941 on the Pensacola NAS football squad recognized as the all-service champion of the USA. The 39-year-old Ohio native has a coaching background that includes a short stint as an assistant at Ironton, Ohio, and Bowling Green (Ky.) High as well as experience as athletic officer of the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Memphis. He also served seven months in 1948 as a special agent of the FBI. Rutledge became coach at Danville (Ky.) High after the 1952 campaign and in three seasons posted one of the most outstanding records of any high school coach in the country by annexing 24 victories against only three losses and two ties. The 1954 Danville team, only undefeated and untied eleven in the state, claimed the Kentucky schoolboy grid crown. Coach Collier brought him to UK in the spring of 1956 as Freshman Backfield Coach and during the past two seasons the Kittens have gone undefeated. He holds a master's degree and calls Ironton, Ohio, his hometown.

CHARLES SNYDER

Newest addition to the Kentucky coaching staff, Snyder was appointed last July to take over the duties of coaching freshman linemen as a reorganization moved Head Freshman Coach John North up to the varsity and promoted Ed Rutledge, yearling backfield mentor, to North's job. Snyder comes to UK with a 10-year high school coaching record that has been surpassed by few. After stints as a collegiate tackle at Marshall and athletic instructor in the Navy from 1943-46, he coached Catlettsburg High to nine straight successful seasons before giving up the reins there to take over the Lexington Lafayette job last year. Charlie tutored the winning East team in the 1954 All-Star Game at Lexington. Hometown: Catlettsburg, Ky.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL OUTLOOK — 1958

Take an abundance of youth, add ability, instill a desire to learn and aggressiveness, mix with plenty of hard work and you have the formula that Kentucky Football Chief Blanton Collier is cooking up for 1958.

Just how potent the mixture will be probably won't be known before the youth-dominated Wildcats are at least half way through the obstacle course of 10 difficult games this fall. There are no indications that Kentucky will be coming up with a championship contender in 1958, but the chances for improving on last season's luckless, 3-7 record should rate classification in the "better than an outside possibility" category despite heavy graduation losses, greenness of replacements and another back-breaking schedule.

At least hard working Coach Collier is not pessimistic over the outlook and tempers his judgment of the bad situation with hopes for quick learning on the part of the youngsters and improvements in both individual veterans and various phases of team operations.

"I can promise only that we'll put a hustling, aggressive team on the field," Collier says. "We will have sixty percent—30 out of 53—sophomores who will have an awful lot to learn and that fact speaks for itself. If these young boys, who have a lot of potential talent, mature faster than is normal and if the breaks fall our way, we might do better than last year. Otherwise, we'll have to be content with building for the next season."

Graduation, Few Red Shirts Trouble Cats

Graduation hit the Wildcats hard, with two-time consensus All-American Lou Michaels and 14 other valuable lettermen lost, but the lack of a sound red-shirting (holdout) program hurts even worse as all but a small handful of the upcoming sophomores will not have had the benefit of an extra year of seasoning which most opponent newcomers thrive on. The problem dates back to 1954 when Collier inherited a squad minus 23 lettermen and not a single new face from holdout ranks.

The 20 letter winners returning for the coming campaign reflect another problem besetting Collier. With a numerically small squad last year, he was forced to play many men who should have been held out a year. The result sees the lettermen group as a whole sporting an average of only 18 minutes a game of action for 1957—not much experience to count on against high-rated foes dotting the 1958 schedule.

The Wildcat chief points out that he is hopeful for improvement in the backfield where the big man on the scene is swashbuckling halfback Bobby Cravens, a prime prospect for All-America honors after a banner season in 1957. "Cravens is as good a back as there is in the South," his coach avers. "He's a fine runner who has a somewhat unique knack of being able to gain more ground sideways and backwards than most backs do in the conventional manner." The flat-footed but fleet Owensboro, Ky., senior led the Southeastern Conference in ground gaining until the final week of last season when idleness caused him to be beaten out for the top spot. As it was, he finished with 669 net yards from scrimmage for a 4.7 average and the second best yardage total in the SEC. He also was fifth among league pass receivers, grabbing off 13 aerials and picking up 143 yards. Cravens already has been picked on advance All-Conference teams by several selectors.

Cravens Due Help From Ace Passer

Cravens will have help of varying degrees from several of his mates in the Kentucky backfield, chief among them junior quarterback Lowell Hughes—fourth best passer in the SEC last year. Starting all but one game and going a full 60 minutes in the Wildcats' near-upset of eventual national champ Auburn, Hughes overcame sophomoric inexperience by displaying exceptional level-headedness under pressure of a tough schedule and bad breaks. He completed 40 out of 83 attempts for 447 yards and demonstrated fine running ability as well as proving himself a good defensive back.

Hughes likely will inherit the duties of punting and extra point kicking relinquished by Michaels and it's more than likely that the kicking game will suffer by comparison. The powerful Michaels, national Lineman of the Year and most valuable player of the conference, averaged 40.6 yards per try on his punts last year to stand a close second in the league. He was successful on 12 of 13 tries for point after touchdown.

There will be little change in the appearance of Kentucky's overall attack as Collier sticks with his own particular brand of Multiple T offense.

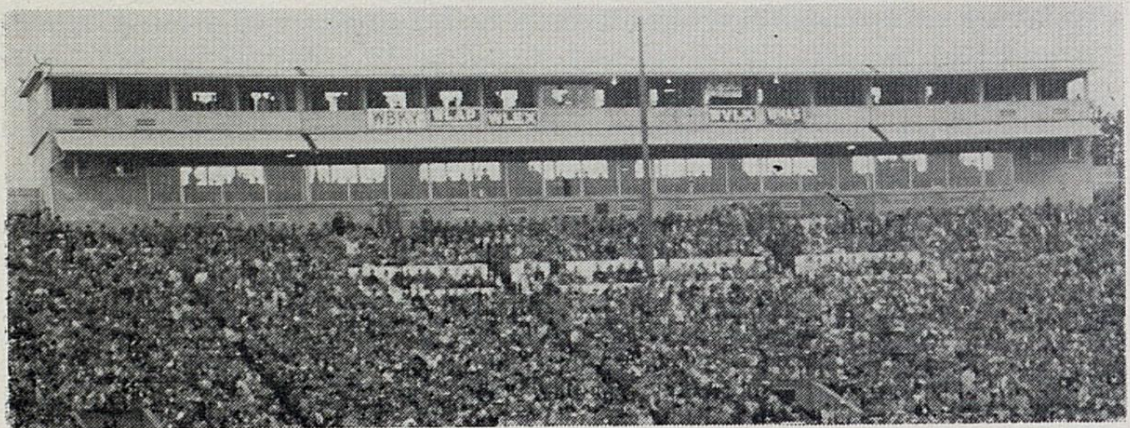

The fact that two valuable pass receiving ends were lost via graduation will not help the Wildcats' aerial game. Co-Captain Doug Shively, a regular except for a few games in mid-season when he was hurt, is back on the left side but the other flankmen are generally inexperienced and Hughes is the only quarterback with game experience under his belt.

Along the rest of the forward wall, Collier fears the replacements might not be mature enough to take over and do the job in the way it will need to be to stop nationally-ranked foes like Auburn, Ga. Tech, Ole Miss and Tennessee. Sorely missed will be left tackle Michaels, a vital cog last season with his leadership and ability to handle a roving assignment of up to five different defensive positions.

Co-Captain Bobby Lindon, a starter at right tackle last year, may move over to fill in bodily for Michaels, but Wildcat coaches are high on 190-pound guard Jim Miller as possibly the best lineman in camp by pre-season reckoning. He's hardly in the same class with Michaels and may never be his equal. He's never received the publicity buildup, either last year when he was a late season starter or when he was here before as a freshman starter in pre-service days of 1953. Coach Collier lavishes praise on Miller as one of the most dependable lineman last fall and as outstanding in spring practice.

Whether the presence of a handful of really experienced veterans can offset the problems of too many inexperienced sophomores, too much need to depend on them and too much schedule makes for interesting speculation. Kentucky partisans are sure of one thing, however: If anybody can do it, Collier can.

FOOTBALL WRITERS SALUTE KENTUCKY PRESS BOX

University of Kentucky's football press box on Stoll Field rates as one of the best in the country from the standpoint of both working facilities and service to writers—so says the Football Writers Association of America. The national organization this summer added Kentucky to an exclusive list of schools that have been cited in both categories. To date, only 67 institutions have won the award for press box services and 45 for facilities since the FWA started officially honoring the nation's best press boxes and sports publicity departments (who are responsible for service) several years ago.

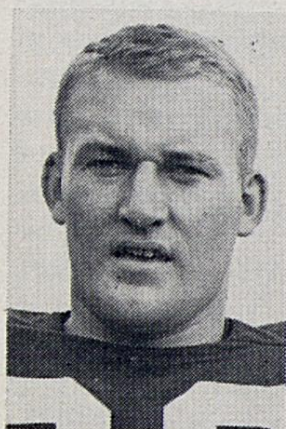

PROFILE OF AN ALL-CONFERENCE CANDIDATE

BOBBY CRAVENS

'Flatfoot Extraordinary'

When you call Kentucky's stellar halfback Bobby Cravens "Flatfoot," be sure to smile brother because you'll be complimenting one of the South's leading All-America hopes in a back-handed sort of way that he doesn't particularly like.

The simple facts of the Cravens case are that the swashbuckling Wildcat has a somewhat unusual (for football players) chiropodial condition, generally known as flat feet. While most grid and some medical authorities will explain that it is a blessing in disguise, Bobby gets downright embarrassed when the subject is brought up.

This very trait, however, gives the hard-running Kentucky senior wonderful balance and an uncanny ability at faking that leaves would-be tacklers grasping for thin air.

Primarily a slashing, power-type runner—again something a little unusual for a halfback—Bobby seems to prefer throwing himself recklessly into the opponent line rather than skirting its flanks in a maneuver making the most of his speed and faking ability. As one opposing lineman put it last season, "That guy doesn't seem to have any regard for life or limb. He doesn't know when to go down and picks up more ground running backwards and sideways after being trapped or tackled than most backs do in the conventional fashion."

Wildcat Coach Blanton Collier likes to compare Cravens to another "flatfoot," the great Frankie Sinkwich. "Bobby is a lot like Sinkwich in using his flat footedness to make deceptive changes in direction at top speed without losing his balance. I would hesitate to claim that he is as good right now as Sinkwich was in his time, but he is as good an all-around back as there is in the South today."

Almost overlooked in the hubub of attention lavished on All-America tackle Lou Michaels the last two years, Cravens made the experts take notice with a sensational, season-ending performance in the Wildcats' startling upset of Tennessee in '57. Playing a near-flawless game, Bobby racked up almost as much yardage as the entire Vol club combined, scratching out 96 vital yards on 26 trips with the pigskin and personally accounting for two touchdowns. His performance was so outstanding that he was high in the voting for national "Back of the Week" and lost out, many believe, only because teammate Michaels got the lineman honor.

Although playing under the psychological handicap of a losing season last year, right half Cravens nevertheless wound up the campaign as the second best ground gainer of the Southeastern Conference. His season total of 669 yards on 141 carries for an average gain of 4.3 per try gave him the league leadership as UK closed its season, but idleness the following week unavoidably cost him the final number one spot.

Cravens' outstanding work definitely stamped him for high honors in 1958 if he can take up where he left off. A couple of opponent coaches who think he rates a nod are Tennessee's Bowden Wyatt, who could only keep repeating "that Cravens was great," and Vanderbilt's Art Guepe, who said flatly: "Cravens is as good a back as there is in the SEC."

A pre-season All-Conference pick this year and prominently mentioned in the national magazines, the 5-10, 203-pound Cravens will be capping off an illustrious career if he makes the honor teams this season. He won top All-America schoolboy honors following a brilliant showing at Owensboro (Ky.) High and starred in the All-America Prep Classic at Memphis in 1955 where he was unanimously voted the Frank Leahy Award as the outstanding player of the game. As a collegian, Cravens has lived up to every inch of this great schoolboy reputation. Following a creditable freshman season, he became a brilliant sophomore and led the team in rushing yardage despite averaging only 30 minutes a game of action time as a relief right halfback.

SERIES HISTORY: The game will mark the first time Kentucky and Hawaii have met in any sport. Although the Rainbows have made several trips to the mainland in recent years for games with Far West teams, this will be the Wildcats' initial venture into international grid relations. The early season encounter at the new State Fairgrounds Stadium on the closing night of the State Fair will be Kentucky's first Louisville visit since a 60-19 loss to Alabama Nov. 3, 1945. All told, Wildcat grid teams have appeared in the Falls City 12 times with the initial game recorded Nov. 12, 1892, when old Kentucky State College triumphed over Louisville A.C. by a score of 14-10. Against nine different opponents, Kentucky holds seven wins offsetting five losses.

LAST MEETING: No previous games.

1958 OUTLOOK: One thing is certain—these Hawaiians may hail from the land of sunshine, but they are definitely out of the warmup class when it comes to football. Coach Hank Vasconcellos' stocky islanders are a veteran-studded club of fleet footed scatbacks and massive forwards averaging over 200 pounds down the line. Like the Wildcats, they may have to scramble for suitable football talent to back up the starting unit. However, the Rainbows will be strengthened by the influx of several transfers from stateside colleges and some highly-reputable prep standouts who are eligible to play immediately. Greatest strength of this Hawaii club reportedly lies in their experienced "pony" backfield. Talbott George, an extremely versatile performer, is back at quarterback and rates as the top threat in Vasconcellos' modified T formation attack. Brothers Nolan and Henry, tricky and elusive runners with speed to burn, again are scheduled to hold down the halfback posts. Henry will be remembered by Kentucky fans as the colorful Hawaiian who was a UK freshman back in 1953 and departed for his homeland the following summer after running into scholastic difficulties. Completing the backfield combo is 195-pound fullback Aylett Wallwork, sidelined part of last season with a leg injury. Belying any thoughts that Hawaiians are small in stature, the Rainbow line will be built around 6-1, 200-pound flank star George Naukana and 5-11, 215-pound center Sam Foster. The Wildcats will not see any relief from the brawn when the second unit comes in. Bolstering this outfit will be mammoth Glenn Derr, 6-4 and 260 according to the conservative listing on the Hawaii roster. The uneasy feeling that Coach Blanton Collier and his aides have is that the Rainbows have the "equipment" to give Kentucky a tougher game than anybody expects and will be emotionally ready to make a superior effort in their debut against the toughest team on their schedule. Every indication points to the belief that the Wildcats, with only 10 practices under their belts, will be hard pressed to grab off their first season opener win since 1951.

SERIES HISTORY: Although Kentucky and Georgia Tech first met on the gridiron in 1923, only 15 meetings are recorded in the series due to a couple of lengthy gaps in an otherwise generally-consistent rivalry. The series stands at eight wins to six and one tie in favor of the Yellow Jackets, but UK's record in recent years against one of the nation's foremost grid powers is surprisingly good. Notable Wildcat victories are a 28-14 upset handed Tech in a 1950 meeting at Atlanta and an equally-surprising, 13-6 stinger plucked out of the 1954 game, also at Atlanta. The former proved an important stepping stone in Kentucky's successful bid for a first SEC title and invitation to the Sugar Bowl. Two years ago, the two teams clashed before the live TV cameras in the NCAA's "Game of the Week." Tech took a 14-6 decision in that first nationally televised encounter ever videoed out of Stoll Field.

LAST MEETING: Year 1957 was not supposed to be one in which the Yellow Jackets accomplished great things in the usual Dodd fashion and it turned out exactly that way. However, they gave every indication of latent power in vanquishing the Wildcats, 13-0, in the season opener at Atlanta. The Rambling Wreck picked up their first marker in the initial period of the game as Stan Flowers (gone) skirted end for seven yards to climax a 60-yard drive. Capitalizing on recovery of a UK fumble of the second half kickoff, Tech's Fred Braselton (back) tossed to end Jerry Nabors (gone) for the other score. Kentucky mustered two serious threats inside the 30, but otherwise was handicapped by gaining possession deep in their own territory.

1958 OUTLOOK: The cautious but confident word out of Atlanta is that "The Georgia Tech football team should be slightly improved for the 1958 season." Biggest reason for the expected improvement is a bevy of capable hands coming back with a valuable year of Dodd coaching under their belts. Latest count showed 24 returnees expected in the letterman category with probable starters rated on a par or better than their '57 counterparts. Topping the list of anticipated standouts, following the unexpected defect to the pro ranks of pre-season All-Conference tackle Urban Henry, are junior center Maxie Baughan and junior end Jack Rudolph. Baughan is getting rave notices comparing him with former Tech All-America greats, but scouts witnessing the "T Night" spring game saw signs of greatness in other graduates of the famed Dodd "B" squad as well—particularly junior quarterback Fred Braselton. Few predictors venture the prophecy that Ga. Tech will finish on top this year, but the Rambling Wreck should be one of the top four teams in the SEC title picture.

SERIES HISTORY: A strange sequence of upsets and near-upsets flavors the comparatively-young, but colorful rivalry between the Wildcats and Ole Miss. In the dozen-plus meetings since the series was inaugurated in 1944, neither club has been able to win more than two successive games to gain a distinctive edge in the battling. The Wildcats got the series off to an auspicious start by winning the first game, but the men of Coach Johnny Vaught came right back to take the decision in three out of the next four meetings. But it was in 1949 that the fireworks started. Kentucky claimed a 47-0 advantage in overcoming an underdog role and starting on the road to big-time football prominence. Since then, the Kentucky game has proved the "make or break" situation for the Rebels' season and upsets have been in the category of "a dime a dozen." The 1954 meeting in Memphis will be remembered as a penalty-marred spectacle resulting in several new conference records on yardage walked off for violations. In 1955, Kentucky added new fire to the "beat the favorite" series history by upending the defending SEC champions in Lexington. The 21-14 setback was the only blemish on the Rebs' record as they waltzed to a second straight SEC title and Cotton Bowl win. Ole Miss got its revenge the following season at Memphis as they routed UK, 37-7.

LAST MEETING: Frustrating was the word to describe the 1957 meeting at Lexington. The Johnny Rebs were bottled up for almost three periods before they suddenly exploded to cop a 15-0 decision that was used as a stepping stone to a second place SEC finish and Sugar Bowl victory. Heaping further frustration on themselves, the Wildcats saw admirable offensive drives of 90 and 88 yards fizzle out inside the five yard line. In the end it was history repeating itself as an unheralded quarterback came off the bench to engineer a death-dealing aerial attack, Bobby Franklin connecting to flankman Larry Grantham with only three seconds left in the third quarter. Two seasons back, it was third-stringer Ray Brown who sparked a revenge rout of the Cats in Crump Stadium.

1958 OUTLOOK: Virtually every pre-season prediction tabs the Rebels, runners-up in the league and Sugar Bowl champs last year, as the team to beat despite admittedly heavy graduation losses. Coach Johnny Vaught's hopes for beating out defending national champion Auburn for a fourth conference title rest squarely on the shoulders of last season's number two and three units who return intact. Only holdovers from the roll of '57 "number one boys" are center Milton Crain and left end Billy Templeton and they likely will be overshadowed in the Rebs' Split-T operations by highly touted Ken Kirk, 208-pound junior center, and quarterback Bobby Franklin, also a junior. The word out of Oxford is that foes of Ole Miss again can be on the lookout for terrific speed that has been a trademark of Vaught-coached elevens for the past 11 seasons. The annual Birmingham News Poll of SEC sports publicists pointed the finger at Mississippi to finish a nose behind Auburn in this year's race. However, the comparative ease of the Ole Miss schedule might give them an edge in the final reckoning.

SERIES HISTORY: Former Southeastern Conference football "doormats" Kentucky and Auburn first got together on the gridiron at Lexington in 1934, the year after the league was organized, and played another game the following season at Montgomery before interrupting their series for nearly two decades. Each held a victory out of the early meetings and the 1954 scrap, which resumed the rivalry, resulted in a 21-14 decision in the Wildcats' favor. Tilts between the new-found grid powers the past three seasons have been fraught with frustration as neither could boast of decisive change in a trend to close games. The Tigers moved ahead in the series count with a hard-earned, 6-0 disputed victory over the fired-up Kentuckians at Auburn last year.

LAST MEETING: Auburn's eventual national champions needed all the luck in the book to measure the Wildcats in one of their finest hours of the season last year at Auburn. The record will show only that Kentucky lost, 6-0, to mark the first time a Wildcat grid unit had dropped its first four starts of the season. But behind the headlines is the story of how the Tigers' lone marker came about. With less than four minutes gone in the third period, Kentucky quarterback Lowell Hughes tried a pitchout that went astray and was recovered on the UK 35 by Auburn's Billy Atkins. A 15-yard penalty, apparently for roughness by the Wildcats' Lou Michaels in knocking Tommy Lorino out of bounds, gave Auburn a first down on the six. On the next play, Atkins was declared by the officials to have scored. But movies of the disputed play clearly showed that Atkins' knee seemed to touch the ground around the two as his forward progress stopped and that teammate Red Phillips then picked Atkins up to help him across the goal line—a clear violation of the rules which the officials missed.

1958 OUTLOOK: The Tigers are "loaded for Bear" again, according to the experts who are picking them to repeat as Southeastern titlists. Losses from the 1957 national championship unit included six of the 11 starters and eight other lettermen. But the quality of the reserves on the undefeated and untied team of last season plus the influx of a very promising sophomore crop is figured to take up any slack. Among the most outstanding returnees to the Auburn fold are Jerry Wilson, All-SEC end; Jackie Burkett, pre-season All-Conference pick said to be "a coach's dream athlete"; and All-America halfback candidate Tommy Lorino, who led the nation two years ago with his 8.44 rushing average. Defensively, the Tigers don't figure to be as strong as last year when they led the nation in this department of play. Only unknown factor in estimations regarding probable strength is the possible psychological effect of the NCAA probation extension to Sept. 1, 1961. This bars them from bowl participation for another three years.

SERIES HISTORY: Inaugurated with a game at Baton Rouge in 1949, the Kentucky-Louisiana State grid series is the youngest rivalry within the Southeastern Conference. Eight meetings make up the series which has been played annually with the exception of the 1951 season and Kentucky has a slight upper hand in the low-scoring games, chalking up four wins to the Tigers' three and a 6-6 tie in 1953. Coach Paul Dietzel, a former Kentucky aide under Paul Bryant who took over the football reins at LSU in 1955, got his career as a head coach off to an auspicious start by trouncing the Wildcats in the season opener that year which was ranked as one of the biggest shockers of the campaign. A year later, when the Tigers visited Lexington, Dietzel's darlings found the going a bit rougher and the Cats gained vengeance with a comparatively-easy, 14-point whitewash job. Last year, UK turned in one of its poorest games to drop a 21-0 decision at Baton Rouge.

LAST MEETING: Penalties, fumbles, interceptions and a generally ineffective offense contributed to the Wildcats' poorest showing of the season and a 21-0 shellacking absorbed at Baton Rouge last year. Unable to make the most of scoring opportunities and seemingly off balance throughout, it was a case of beating themselves more than the admittedly good play of Bengal scatback Billy Cannon and company. The highly touted Cannon, however, had to take a back seat to the Wildcats' Bobby Cravens for ground gaining honors. Cravens put on a superb show of running in picking up a net of 73 yards for the Kentucky cause. Other generally decisive edges also went to the Wildcats as they notched 276 total offense yards to the Bengals' 235, made two more first downs, and posted 110 yards to LSU's eight via the airwaves. But the all-important scoreboard lead escaped the Kentuckians.

1958 OUTLOOK: Nobody expects the Bayou Bengals to come up with a serious championship contender this season (the Birmingham News poll picked them ninth), but neither do opponent coaches discount the potential danger of taking Coach Paul Dietzel and company lightly. The blues being sung in Baton Rouge tell a story of success hinged to the finding of a replacement for All-America fullback Jimmy Taylor, discovering a capable director for the LSU variable T offense and locating capable line material. On the credit side of the ledger, Coach Dietzel can call on Cannon, one of the South's best breakaway runners, and a power runner in the person of half-back-turned-fullback J. W. Brodnax. Also around is 195-pound junior center Max Fugler, called the league's best linebacker by his coach. The arrangement of the schedule should not pose too many problems with four straight home games in mid season.

SERIES HISTORY: Georgia and Kentucky began their rivalry on the football field with a game at Louisville on Oct. 21, 1939. The two schools met almost annually from that time until the series was broken off after the 1949 game and not resumed until 1957 with a game at Athens. Veteran Wally Butts, dean of Southeastern grid mentors, can lay claim for the Bulldog cause of a slight edge in the rivalry—Georgia having won six of the meetings while UK has taken but four decisions and one tie (1940) has resulted. Georgia, at the height of its power in the forties, took four straight victories from the Kentuckians in those years before Wildcat football came of age. Although the last top flight club fielded by Butts was a '48 aggregation that took the SEC title and brushed aside Texas in the Orange Bowl, the Bulldogs have managed to keep their series with the Wildcats interesting. Kentucky broke a string of four straight Georgia wins with a 26-0 upset in Lexington in 1947 and repeated two years later with a 25-point shut-out enroute to a first major bowl bid.

LAST MEETING: Kentucky suffered their sixth straight defeat of the season as the Bulldogs romped to a 33-14 victory on a Stoll Field visit last season. Not only did the margin of victory represent the worst licking taken by the 'Cats in 1957, but to followers and the team itself it was doubly disappointing to know that they had beaten themselves in a battle with a club not in their class. Fumblitis, a disease that had plagued the Kentuckians all season, again hurt their chances. Five straight bobbles lost and two interceptions gave the Bulldogs all the incentive needed to roll to victory.

1958 OUTLOOK: With better linemen, a top flight fullback in Thunderin' Theron Sapp and a dangerous passing attack, Butts' Bulldogs could be hard to handle this season. Most of the forecasters are picking Georgia to finish deep in the second division—about the same as their ninth place of last year, but all caution that there are unknown quantities present in the picture that might boost the Bulldogs into first division prominence. The influx of transfers and B team products could give Butts just the right combination. There's also help due from an unbeaten freshman contingent. Graduation did not hit hard as 26 lettermen return to offset the loss of eight letter winners. Included among the returnees are nine starters who helped bring a halt to the downward trend in Bulldog grid affairs with a 7-0 upset of arch-rival Georgia Tech in the '57 finale.

SERIES HISTORY: Gridiron relations with Mississippi State began before World War I, but a surprisingly small total of only 10 contests have marked the series which was interrupted after 1917 for a long period. The Wildcats forged into the lead in the rivalry by dropping the Maroons, 32 to 13, in 1953. But State came back after a one-year lapse in the series to even things up again at five wins apiece as they engineered a come-from-behind victory over UK in a 1955 meeting at Lexington. Kentucky holds the biggest win margin with its 48-21 shellacking of the Maroons on their home ground in 1950. The two grid aggregations did not meet in either 1956 or 1957.

LAST MEETING: Mississippi State surprised their hosts with an age-old football lesson in the last meeting at Lexington in 1955. Proving that a game is never over until the final whistle, the Maroons overcame Kentucky's lead to take a 20-14 decision on a desperate and sensational pass play in the closing minutes. The Wildcats were rocking along on a slim, but seemingly-safe 14-13 lead with only minutes left in the final period. Then the State quarterback fired a pass upfield from his own 17 which was gathered in by halfback Bill Morgan. The Maroon speedster gathered in the ball on UK's 47 and left Kentucky defenders looking at themselves in disbelief as he trotted the remaining distance to the end zone. That single running pass play not only cost UK a victory, but proved also to have cost the 'Cats a probable national lead in pass defense that year.

1958 OUTLOOK: The Maroons look like one of the nation's top sleeper bets again this season. A year ago, they surprised with a third place tie after being pegged in pre-season polls to wallow in the depths of the SEC's second division. This season, energetic Coach Wade Walker has a unit which most of the experts say should battle the leaders but hardly take it all except in a surprise showing. Nevertheless, whether they are on top or near the top at the finish, State is not a club to be taken lightly with such slick Split T operatives as two-time All-Conference quarterback Bill Stacy still in the fold along with nearly two full teams of other experienced hands. Bubber Trammell, senior left half, is pegged as the club's best running back and Stacy's two favorite receivers of last season—end Charlie Weatherly and halfback Gil Peterson—also are still around. The annual Birmingham News poll estimated the Maroons for a close third behind Auburn and Ole Miss in the Southeastern race.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky and the Vanderbilt Commodores first got together on the gridiron way back in 1896 at Nashville and the rivalry has been perpetuated intermittently ever since with the result that it is one of the oldest in the South from the standpoint of first meeting and number of games. Only the series with Tennessee exceeds it on the UK schedule. Surprisingly, in view of the fact that Vandy's football fortunes are thought of as being at a low ebb until 1955 (they rank ninth in the SEC composite standing), the history shows a record solidly in their favor—22 wins to Kentucky's six and two ties. An indication of the Commodores' greatness of yesteryear is reflected by 12 shutouts they registered in the first 26 years of the rivalry and the fact UK did not get into the win column until 1939. However, the post-war years saw the Wildcats blossom into national prominence and the record shows only three setbacks in the past decade, one of them a 34-0 humiliation helped along by injuries two years ago at Nashville.

LAST MEETING: The Wildcats had just solved their scoring difficulties the week before against Memphis State with a 53-7 victory and seemingly were ready for a top effort as they visited Nashville for the Commodore tilt. But Dame Fortnue refused to take their side and the resulting 12-7 loss to Vanderbilt in a really hard-fought game just about clinched occupancy of the cellar. Just how unlucky the Wildcats were is typified by the game details. Late in the third period, UK climaxed a 54-yard march with Bobby Cravens bulling over for the tying TD and Lou Michaels putting his team ahead, 7-6, with a successful conversion. But a short time later, when Glenn Shaw apparently had the Wildcats in position for another marker with a first down on the Vandy 19, an illegal procedure penalty nullified the opportunity. The Commodores eventually tallied again for their winning margin.

1958 OUTLOOK: In spite of the graduation loss of outstanding halfback Phil King, All-Conference end Bob Laws and 14 other bread winners, the Vandy Commodores could cause a lot of woe in league circles. Making capable Art Guepe's "Variegated T" go in convincing fashion will be a trio of solid backs—QB Boyce Smith, HB Tom Moore and FB Jim Butler—plus one of the South's top linemen in the person of guard George Deiderich. There's also a dozen other talented and experienced hands still around that Guepe believes can form the nucleus of a team stronger than last season, when they finished sixth in the league race.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky and its neighbor to the north of the Mason-Dixon line have met on the gridiron 14 times with the initial contest taking place in 1935 at Cincinnati and the last at Lexington a year ago. The meet-Dixon line have met on the gridiron 14 times with the initial contest taking place in 1935 at Cincinnati and the last at Lexington a year ago. The meeting in 1956 resumed the rivalry which had been interrupted after the 1949 renewal and contracts have been inked to extend the annual games through the 1961 season. The Muskies' lone triumph in their series with the Wildcats came in 1938 as they posted a 27-6 success at Cincinnati. Kentucky has taken all the others, generally by decisive scores. A 70-0 shellacking administered by UK in '46 stands as one of the biggest point-production efforts ever seen on Stoll Field. The record high is an 83-0 debacle involving hapless North Dakota in a 1950 meeting with one of UK's greatest teams.

LAST MEETING: After six straight setbacks opening the season and a split in the next two games, the Wildcats flexed both offensive and defensive muscles while playing "under wraps" against the Musketeers. The 27-0 final tally did not represent the true power of Kentucky, the nation's best losing team, as they were readying themselves for a supreme effort the next weekend with Tennessee. The Muskies never mustered a serious threat after failing to score on a 52-yard drive with the opening kickoff.

1958 OUTLOOK: Coach Mick Connolly has at his disposal an experienced hand at every position save center and a highly promising crop of sophs up from a yearling squad that went undefeated last season and were called one of the best freshmen groups in Xavier history. An improvement in the Muskies' running game should be noted this season, Connolly says. Key to the expected improvement over last season's 5-5 record reportedly is the passing game phase of multiple T operations. Tops in the personnel department are Art DelConte, 218 pound guard who serves as captain; fullback Ed Serieka, already drafted by the Cleveland Browns; leading scorer Terry Meyer and a good ground-gaining halfback, Faust Coyle. Xavier will have good size as usual to go with improved speed.

SERIES HISTORY: Among the six oldest football rivalries in the South, the Kentucky-Tennessee series dates from a memorable encounter in Knoxville 65 years ago. In that meeting, Oct. 21, 1893, the Wildcats annexed a 60-0 victory to get the warfare off to an auspicious start in a fashion that hasn't been equalled in the many and colorful renewals of the traditional rivalry. Except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943), the two schools have met annually on the gridiron with the result that the Vols hold a distinct-but-fading edge of 30 wins to Kentucky's 15 and eight ties. Tennessee's sparkling advantage has become slightly tarnished in the past few seasons as Kentucky started reversing the victory trend with an upsetting tie in 1952 and ate into their polished record with successes in four of the last five meetings. The seniors on the 1955 UK squad became the first class in 43 years to graduate with the accomplishment of never playing in a game in which the Vols emerged victorious and they bowed out in a blaze of glory, triumphing to the tune of 23-0 over the bowl-hungry Vols in the most one-sided Kentucky win since 1935.

Since 1925, the two schools have stimulated their grid rivalry with a rotating trophy—a battered old beer barrel. Much shenanigans on the part of the rival student bodies have added to the color of the series. Following the 1953 UK win, disgruntled Tennessee students raided the Kentucky campus and “kegnapped” the barrel and held it in a secret hiding place in Knoxville until persuaded to return it by threats of reprisal against their coon dog mascot, Smoky. In 1955, UK students visited the Tennessee campus hiding place of Smoky and “dognapped” him. UT students promptly retaliated by painting up the Kentucky campus in a surprise raid and carting away “Colonel,” UK’s stuffed wildcat mascot. A trade was engineered as an added attraction at the game and harried university officials wondered, “What next?” They didn’t have long to wait. Although mild by comparison with the more spectacular stunts of previous years, 1956 pre-game pranks saw students from both schools in painting expeditions to the other’s campus. Last year, Kentucky students made a foray to the Tennessee campus, but were unsuccessful in locating the barrel won by the Vols the year before.

LAST MEETING: It was the sweetest Homecoming in the memory of many an old grad and to most of the rest of the 36,000-plus fans who crammed into Stoll Field on a beautiful day last November when the oft-beaten, underdog Wildcats completely demoralized the visiting Vols, 20 to 6. Tennessee was off balance from the start and never really mustered enough power to offset magnificent Lou Michaels. The great Wildcat tackle proved his right to All-America laurels by almost single-handedly defeating Tennessee at its own game of capitalizing on mistakes. Hardy taking a back seat to Michaels’ great defensive showing was a tremendous effort turned in by Bobby Cravens in carrying the pigskin for almost as much yardage as the entire UT backfield.

1958 OUTLOOK: The friendly Colossus to the South is supposed to be hurting from graduation losses and a too-tough schedule. Gone via the cap and gown route are six of last year’s seven starting linemen and the entire backfield. The schedule, while not as difficult by impartial rating as the Wildcats’, does present a chore that few coaches would care to tackle early in the campaign—an opener against Auburn’s defending national champs in neutral Birmingham in TV Game of the Week, then darkhorse Miss. State and dangerous Ga. Tech on the following Saturdays. But most experts figure Bowden Wyatt to have a fine nucleus in the 14 lettermen back. Heading the array is powerful Carl Smith, called "one of the most explosive backs" in UT history. Despite its problems, Tennessee figures in everybody's mind to be a strong first division contender who will be tough to handle by mid-October.

BUSTER BROWN—Equipment Manager: Handling the duties of handing out approximately $10,000 worth of football gear to the team is a seasoned veteran, S. C. (Buster) Brown. The tough-but-popular Brown served the University athletic teams in the capacity of Equipment Manager for several years before World War II. After wartime work as a stevedore on the West Coast, Buster returned to Kentucky and his old job in 1952.

KEN KUHN—Publicity Director: A veteran of ten years in the job of publicizing Wildcat football and other sports activities of UK, Kuhn came to Lexington via Michigan State from which he was graduated in 1942 and later served as an assistant in the Public Relations Department. Before moving over to the Athletic Department in 1948, he worked two years as News Editor in UK's Department of Public Relations. Kuhn is a past president of the Southeastern Conference Sports Publicity Association.

JOHN (Rusty) PAYNE—Trainer: John first came in contact with Kentucky football when he helped out his predecessor, Smoky Harper, during the Wildcats' pre-Sugar Bowl practice on the Louisiana State campus in 1950. After graduating from LSU that year, the red-haired Arkansas native spent two years in the Marine Corps at Paris Island and Quantico, serving much of the time as athletic trainer. He joined the Kentucky staff in 1954, the same season that Coach Collier came.

ORIGIN OF "WILDCATS" NICKNAME

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State College. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and about 10 other major athletic teams.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat served as a live mascot for UK teams until his death in 1955. As yet, no new wildcat has been obtained.

COLLIER GOES FROM SINGLE WING TO SPLIT T IN 25 YEARS' COACHING

Collier's football philosophy has varied little during more than 25 years of coaching experience. During his high school days at Paris, he taught the Single Wing system and didn't change over to the T formation until he was coaching the quarterbacks at Great Lakes during the war. He first gained experience with the "T" as a spectator during his boot camp training at Bainbridge, Md., and later while observing the pro Philadelphia Eagles of Greasy Neale. During his tenure as backfield tutor of the Cleveland Browns, he stressed the straight or "back-up" T formation. At Kentucky, he chose to utilize the Split T and plans to stick with the system this season with minor variations that make it a Multiple T now. He considers himself basically a running coach and attempts to keep a 60-40 balance in favor of the ground attack.

VICTORY KICKS

A game unique in University of Kentucky football history occurred in 1900. Kentucky beat the Louisville YMCA, 12-6, without running a single offensive play during the entire game. Kicking on first down every time they gained possession of the ball, Kentucky made its scores through the recovery of opponent fumbles in the end zone.

BACKGROUND BRIEFS

ENDS

RONALD (Ronnie) CAIN—Junior—Cumberland, Ky.

The state's top prep scorer for two years while playing fullback at Cumberland High, Ronnie Cain has led a life of many changes since coming to UK in 1955 . . . When he indicated on his publicity information form that he filled out when he arrived here that he was a candidate for the position of "Anything," UK coaches placed him at the position at which they most needed help—guard . . . He played the guard slot through his freshman season and again two years ago on the red shirt squad . . . In spring practice a year ago, Coach Collier asked him to try end duty and Cain made the shift without quibbling and last season's records show with great capability . . . Although starting only one game (Georgia), Ronnie finished up the '57 season as the team's third-ranking pass receiver on both number caught and yards gained as five catches netted 99 yards . . . Best game was Memphis State game in which Ronnie caught two passes good for 58 yards, including a 48-yard TD . . . Saw action in all 10 games for total playing time of 140:58 . . . In scoring 154 points as a schoolboy junior and 139 as a senior, he was an All-State and honorable mention All-Southern and All-American selection . . . 20 years old, stands 6-0 and weighs 208.

FRANK GOETZ—Sophomore—Clinton, N. J.

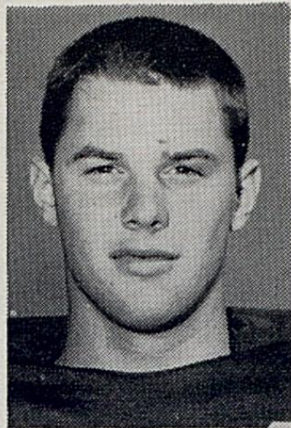

One of five end candidates up from the undefeated freshman squad of a year ago, Goetz's versatility may be the deciding factor in his success as a future Wildcat . . . Saw action in the first two Kitten games as a flanker, but shifted to center against the Tennessee frosh . . . Starred as an end at Pottsville High in Pennsylvania for four years . . . Played both end and guard at Greenbrier Military Academy where he went for two years . . . Somewhat of an oddity as a center as he is left-handed . . . German-Irish ancestry . . . An Engineering major . . . He's 20, 6-1, 190.

LEDGER HOWARD—Junior—Pineville, Ky.

Another of Coach Collier's position changes that paid off . . . Howard, after being listed on the UK roster as a quarterback and then a halfback, returned to an end slot where he played as a Pineville high school standout and ended the '57 season as starting right end . . . Did not even see action until the Memphis State game in which he turned in an eye-catching performance . . . Progressed so rapidly that he gained a starting job against Xavier and Tennessee in final two games . . . Caught three passes during year good for 35 yards . . . Long pass received was a 14-yarder against Vandy . . . Had total playing time of 109:04 minutes . . . Ledger was scholastically ineligible for the '56 season and spent much time in successfully recouping his scholastic ability . . . Played quarterback on the UK freshman team in 1955 and looked very promising . . . The 6-1, 197 pounder was an end and quarterback four seasons under Coaches Walt Green and Bob Howard at Pineville High . . . Captained his team, selected All-Conference and second team All-State in football . . . Made All-District and All-Regional basketball squads . . . Has good speed as was indicated by his running of the 100 and 440 yard event in track at Pineville . . . Ledger is 23.

DOUG SHIVELY—Senior—Lexington, Ky. (CO-CAPTAIN)

In a year in which the highly publicized son of the UK Athletic Director was being touted for All-Conference laurels, Doug fell victim to the old nemesis that has hampered many a would-be great—the injury . . . Having a knee operation before the season started, he reinjured the knee in the Ole Miss game and, coupled with an ankle injury, missed three games entirely . . . Still, in starting four games, was able to manage a total playing time of 222:15 . . . Caught only two passes for total gain of 19 yards in '57 whereas in '56, when he made the SEC All-Sophomore team, he led the team with 107 yards netted on seven catches . . . Outstanding games of the year were the Vandy tilt, in which his play was rewarded with selection to the SEC checklist, and the Tennessee game in which he blocked Sammy Burklow's PAT try . . . As an all-sports participant at Lexington Lafayette, Doug became renowned as one of the greatest all-around athletes in state schoolboy history . . . While winning four letters in football, he was All-America on the Scholastic Magazine selection as well as a second team choice by Wigwam Wiseman and was most valuable player of the 1954 Recreation Bowl game . . . Shive also made the All-State team in basketball in a year his team captured the state championship, picked up five letters as a top baseball prospect and won the 440-yard run two straight years in the state track meet . . . Does duty for Coach Harry Lancaster's baseball corps in spring . . . Definitely has the ability for stardom if he can remain in good physical condition . . . Has improved as a blocker and is best when the going is the roughest . . . Good size at 6-2, 201 . . . Engaged to be married after the season ends . . . Doug will serve as Co-Captain along with Bob Lindon this season.

RICHARD (Dickie) MUELLER—Sophomore—Louisville, Ky.

One of the most promising end prospects to come up since the days of All-America Howard Schnellenberger . . . As a schoolboy sensation for

Coach Johnny Meihaus' St. Xavier teams, Dickie served as team captain, was All-State, All-City, All-South and All-America . . . While playing center and forward on basketball team of Coach Gene Rhodes, the 206-pound, 6-3 lad gained All-City, All-Regional and honorable mention All-State selection . . . Rated as the second best broad jumper in the state as well as doing duty in the shot put and high jump competition . . . Was cited for outstanding line play in leading Louisville to a 14-0 win over Jefferson County in '57 exhibition . . . Coach John North praised Dickie's outstanding line and defensive play in all three Kitten games . . . Most impressive single play was a 50-yd. aerial hauled in from Quarterback Tom Rodgers to set up TD against Cincinnati frosh . . . Led freshman ends in pass receiving as he caught two good for 56 yards . . . Intercepted one pass for team's longest single return of year—32 yards . . . Possesses good speed . . . Was a member of UK freshman track team . . . This 19 year older of Dutch ancestry is being touted in many circles for a right end starting berth come the opening game . . . Mueller is a Commerce major.

TOM RODGERS—Sophomore—Madisonville, Ky.

Another rejuvenated end, Rodgers will attempt to make a name for himself at his newest position after making a successful switch from half-back to quarterback a year ago . . . The 19 year old, 6-2, 185 pounder moved to the quarterback slot for the first time in the East-West schoolboy grid classic of 1957 and engineered the West crew to a 13-0 win as he passed for one TD and scored one himself . . . As a UK Kitten, he was outstanding although playing in only two of the three games on the card . . . Was unable to play against Baby Vols when he suffered a freak minor injury . . . Against the Cincinnati Bearkittens he tossed for nine completions to lead a tremendous 311-yard aerial attack . . . For the year, he had 10 passes completed on 16 tries for 343 yards and one TD . . . His passing percentage was .625 . . . Other statistics show one interception for a five-yard return, two punts for a total yardage of 49 yards, one six-yard punt return, a kickoff returned nine yards and one TD . . . At Madisonville, Rodgers achieved All-State, All-Conference, All-South and All-America honors and was team captain . . . His versatility was further demonstrated as his four-year basketball participation was recognized with All-District selection . . . He brought his total letters won to 12 as a member of the track crew . . . Tom has proved himself the fastest lineman on the team as he does the 40-yard dash in less than five seconds.

CHARLES (Charlie) WATKINS—Sophomore—Henderson, Ky.

An outstanding high school fullback of three years back, Watkins has not participated in the grid sport since playing with the 1956 freshman team . . . Got married in freshman year, quit school and is just returning . . . Made All-State with 1955 Henderson undefeated club . . . Was standout in '56 West win over East in East-West classic . . . Alternated as starting fullback for Coach John North's Kittens for whom he booted extra points . . . He stands an even six feet and tips the scales at 197.

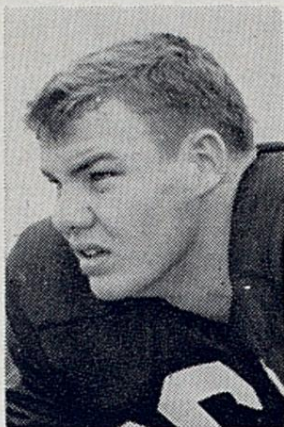

CHARLES (Charlie) VAUGHAN—Sophomore—Celina, Tenn.

Although not seeing action last season, Vaughan still has the desire to play college football despite the keen competition at the flanker position . . . He is experienced at virtually every type of offensive formation since he played the T, Single Wing, Wing T and Split T in four years at Celina High . . . Served as co-captain of his team and was an All-Mid-State and All-Conference selection . . . Also captain and All-Conference in basketball . . . Tried at quarterback on the Kentucky freshman team two years ago, but was moved back to end in spring of '57 . . . He's 6-1, 182 and 20 years old.

TACKLES

GEORGE BOONE—Junior—Louisville, Ky.

When the Associated Press named George Boone to its 1957 SEC All-Sophomore team, it represented the realization of one of the most determined efforts by a UK grid player in some years . . . Not even on a grant-in-aid when he joined the freshman squad two years ago, Boone quickly showed Kentucky coaches surprising ability and determination by winning a freshman numeral as a standout right guard . . . Despite the great desire and potential he displayed, it seemed an immense task to beat out the more publicized promising youngsters ahead of him . . . However, he did beat them out . . . Nobody was more happy at Boone's All-SEC Sophomore selection than was Coach Collier. Early in the season he had honored the Louisville tackle by rating him as "the most improved player on the club" . . . Started two games last season and had a total playing time of 216:29 . . . Has average speed for his size of 6-2, 202.

JAMES (Jim) BOWIE—Junior—Detroit, Mich.

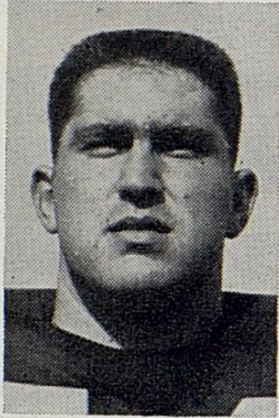

Second largest man on the team at 6-4, 225 . . . Never has quite fulfilled the great promise he has shown . . . Jim was at Kentucky previously in 1953 as a freshman and left for service in August before he could see varsity duty in the last season freshmen were eligible . . . Practiced with the Wildcats while on furlough in spring two years ago and was discharged just before 1956 pre-season drills started . . . Lacked familiarity with the system and did not see action that year either . . . Big Jim finally got into a game when he played against Memphis State last year . . . Also played against Xavier for total playing time of 8:32 . . . He's a hard-nose gridder who attended Millersburg (Ky.) Military Institute . . . Has average speed.

HARRY (Animal) JOHNSON—Sophomore—Neon, Ky.

Starting right tackle on the 1957 freshman team . . . Has size at 6-2, 235 but lacks desirable speed . . . Was the starting right tackle for the East in the '57 East-West game and turned in a creditable job . . . Harry was a 12-letter-man at Fleming-Neon where he also played baseball, track and basketball . . . As a gridder, he gained All-Conference honorable mention . . . He's 20 years old.

BOBBY (Tank) LINDON—Senior—Hazard, Ky. (CO-CAPTAIN)

In the presence of All-America Lou Michaels, Lindon was the "other" tackle on the 1957 team . . . The right side tackle was greatly overshadowed by Lou's outstanding play, but Lindon started all except one of the season's games and had a total playing time of 356:55 . . . A bad knee, injured in '56, was re-injured in the LSU game, forcing Tank to miss three quarters of that contest . . . He is considered virtually a shoo-in at the left tackle post vacated by Michaels . . . Filling in for Lou will not be a new task for Lindon as he was the number-one reserve behind the big tackle in 1956 . . . Although not even earning a letter that year, as Michaels was averaging 56 minutes a game, he was named to the honorable mention list of the All-Conference Sophomore team . . . The mention was the equivalent to second team honor since only a first team and honorable mention were selected and it was considered quite a distinction for Lindon to make the team with as little game action as he saw (25:08) and without the recommendation of a varsity letter . . . Last season was the first in which the 6-0, 237 pounder lettered due to his insufficient playing time in '56 and because he was held out for more seasoning the year before . . . Did not even gain a numeral on the 1954 freshman squad . . . Hailing from the Eastern Kentucky mountain community of Hazard, Bobby is a cousin of Luke Lindon who played at UK in the late 30's and later with the pro Philadelphia Eagles and Detroit Lions . . . The big co-captain was honored August 13 in his hometown on "Sports Day" along with fellow-Hazard native, basketeer Johnny Cox . . . Has average speed . . . Plans to be a dentist.

RAY SCHRECKER—Sophomore—Louisville, Ky.

A big boy (6-2, 205) who was held out of action last year due to injuries . . . An end as a freshman, Ray is expected to see action this season at tackle where there's a need for capable depth . . . Played two years as a tackle under ex-Kentucky luminaries Charley Kuhn and "Moon" Conde at Louisville Male High . . . Also a shot put and discus man on the Male track team of which he served as co-captain . . . Sherman Hinkebien, a cousin, was a swimming great at UK years ago . . . Studying business administration course in College of Commerce.

BILL (Scotty) SCOTT—Sophomore—Pikeville, Ky.

One of a sextette of tackles whose 215-pound average weight were very instrumental in the second straight undefeated season accomplished by the forces of Coach John North, Scotty had a big hand in compiling that average as he checks in at 223, 6-4 . . . Saw action in all three Kitten contests as a relief man while picking up his numeral . . . As a four-year grid letterman at Pikeville High he was chosen captain and gained All-State honorable mention and All-Conference selections . . . All-Military in one season's play at Staunton Military Academy . . . Played center on Coach Bill Trivette's outstanding basketball teams for three years . . . Saw action at left tackle in Blue-White game . . . Lists golf as hobby . . . Enrolled in College of Education with hopes of coaching.

JAMES (Jim, Luke) CAMBRON—Senior—Louisville, Ky.

Along with Bob Lindon, Luke was one of the first men to try to fill the shoes of the great Lou Michaels as he was the starting left tackle for the Blue squad in last spring's Blue-White tilt . . . Lindon was the starting left tackle for the Whites . . . The big 6-2, 224 pounder was rated as one of the most promising young tackles on the roster a year ago and seemed on the threshold of fine things but was hobbled by a bad leg injury early in practice . . . Saw first action of year against LSU . . . Did manage to earn a letter by compiling a total time played of 41:40 . . . Not certified as a freshman in 1954, red-shirted in '55 and tried at three position two years ago (tackle, guard and center) before settling down to a tackle slot . . . Was hampered in '55 with hand injury suffered in automobile accident . . . In four years of play at Louisville Flaget, he made the All-City, All-County and honorable mention All-State lists . . . Was also a basketball, baseball and track standout.

ROBERT (Bob) HUNT—Sophomore—Richmond, Ind.

Rated as the top tackle prospect up from the freshman ranks . . . Coach John North stated at end of '57 frosh campaign that Bob had the best chance of gaining a starting berth the quickest of any of the tackle corps . . . The bespectacled, fleet-footed gridder has the size at 6-2, 215 and the background as an Indiana All-State choice to get the job done . . . Started every game for the Kittens and is being pegged as the number one relief man behind co-captain Bob Lindon at left tackle . . . Hunt was co-captain and All-Conference selection as well as All-State . . . Heaved the shot for the track team . . . A 20-year older in the College of Education.

DON SINOR—Sophomore—Hazard, Ky.

As if having two of the school's leading athletes of the present season from the heretofore unheralded town of Hazard (Lindon and cager Johnny Cox) were not enough, that mountain community may have something to crow about for at least another three years in the person of Sinor . . . Won freshman numeral with action in all three Kitten games . . . May even surpass the deeds of Lindon as he already can boast among his accomplishments All-State first team selection following two years as an honorable mention on the list, All-EKMC, All-County and All-South as a schoolboy sensation . . . Sinor was also a basketball center and was shot and discus man at Hazard . . . Stands 6-1, weighs 217 . . . A PE major.

DAN (Danny) RHYNE—Sophomore—Montgomery, Ala.

UK coaches are hoping that the year of seasoning this boy picked up as a red-shirt last season will bring into reality the great potential he showed as an outstanding Alabama schoolboy and as a UK freshman . . . Was not intentionally red-shirted at first as a leg injury sidelined him early in pre-season drills . . . Did not get to work out until last few weeks of the season, but was a constant onlooker as he studied the team's style of play in practice sessions . . . Rhyne earned his numeral as right tackle on the '56 Kitten contingent and has seen action at that position in the last two Blue-White games . . . Played his high school ball at Sidney Lanier High where he was preceded by present UK Asst. Coach Charlie Bradshaw who was mentor at the Montgomery school through the 1953 season . . . Sizes up at 6-2, 219, 20 years old.

CULLEN WILSON—Junior—Turkey Creek, Ky.

In an effort to take advantage of his size, Wilson has been moved to a tackle position after turning in a creditable job last season at guard . . . Was the starting right tackle for the Whites in the spring intra-squad tussle and Coach Collier was very much pleased with the way he made the adjustment . . . He was the biggest man among the guard corps last year when he was 6-2 and 205 . . . Now has raised his weight to 217 to rate as the pre-season choice for the number-two right tackle spot behind Boone . . . Fought neck and neck with Jimmy Johns and Jim Miller for starting job last year and won the nod in three games . . . Managed a letter on a total playing time of 226:45 . . . Cullen is a durable, hard worker who can take punishment in the heaviest going and come back to dish out more himself . . . A real tough customer from Eastern Kentucky community of Turkey Creek, near Williamson, W. Va. . . . Born in Laura, Ky., and attended Belfry High School where he was a tackle for four years, captain of his team and honorable mention All-State . . . Gained membership in National Honor Society in High school and studying a tough Engineering course at UK . . . Has good speed for big man . . . Best game of year was against Tech.

JOHN (Big John) MARTIN—Sophomore—Pittsburgh, Pa.

This hard-hitting youth still figures prominently in UK tackle plans after making an impressive showing with the frosh two years ago despite being held out last season . . . After viewing the game films of the Kentucky freshman team's triumph over arch-rival Tennessee for their first of two consecutive undefeated seasons in '56, Coach Collier commented: "I promise you that boy is going to be playing some football for us real soon!" . . . Although that was his only starting job as a freshman, he showed up well in the two previous Kitten tilts at left tackle . . . Martin was hurt slightly last February when he, along with quarterback Jerry Eisaman, was involved in an auto mishap in Ohio . . . Although feared to be quite serious at first, Big John was able to mend his wounds well enough to see extensive action in the Blue-White game last April while playing number two left tackle behind Lindon . . . Got his first grid experience at Homestead (Pa.) High . . . Record Info: 6-3, 218, 21, born in Wilkensburg, Pa.

CLYDE (Tiny) MURRELL—Sophomore—Hamilton, Ohio

If size has anything to do with it, this boy will have no trouble making a grid name for himself at UK . . . He's the biggest man on the squad at 6-6, 243 and still growing . . . Fast for a big man, Murrell beat Michaels in the 60-yard dash . . . Believed to be one of the South's outstanding sophomore tackle prospects last fall, Tiny did not come around as expected and was held out a year to gain needed seasoning and training . . . Gained a freshman numeral in '56, although his play was somewhat limited due to injuries . . . Clyde was born in Fonde, Ky., but now makes Hamilton, Ohio, his home . . . Played three years at tackle for Hamilton Public team, making the All-State first team and being chosen on the All-America squad in 1955.

GUARDS

JAMES (Jimmy, Demo) JOHNS—Junior—Morristown, Tenn.

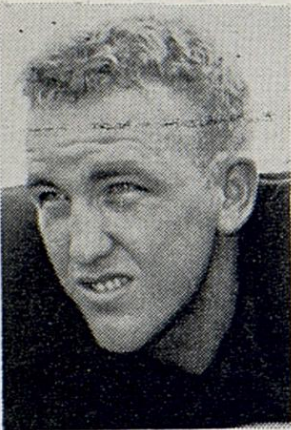

A real competitor who was an alternate starter at the right guard post last season at the team's most competitive single position . . . Despite less than average size for a man at his position, he is extremely fast and hard-hitting with the uncanny knack of putting the enemy in a hole by cracking through their line without getting himself trapped very often . . . Has real determination and has let it be known that he will be fighting all the way for a starting job . . . Had a total playing time of 208:59 last year as he started three games . . . An All-Stater at Morristown (Tenn.) High, where he earned an unheard total of six letters in football and one each in basketball and track, Johns was a regular standout with the '56 freshmen and was especially impressive against the Baby Vols . . . Started at right guard for Blues in spring . . . Demo was born on Armistice Day, 1937.

ART JANES—Sophomore—Louisville, Ky.

A starting guard up from the freshman team . . . May be a year away from realization of his true potential, but UK coaches rate him as a sure-bet standout of the future . . . Although at 5-11, 186, he is the smallest guard on the team his desire and ability seem to even things up when the going gets rough . . . Got into Blue-White game this spring at left guard as a member of the Blue team . . . All-State honorable mention as a tackle and end at Louisville St. Xavier . . . Also was on the track team . . . Enrolled in the College of Engineering.

PASCAL (Lard) BENSON—Junior—Henderson, Ky.

Along with Bob Talamini, Benson could possibly present the closest battle for a starting berth of any one single position on the team . . . An added year on Talamini and bigger size may give the former Henderson High All-Everything a slight edge on his competitor . . . Started the opening game at guard against Georgia Tech last season and saw action in eight games for a total playing time of 116:16 . . . One of only four returning lettermen at the thinly-manned guard slots . . . He's the best when the going is the toughest and seems to thrive on contact . . . Probably is most outstanding as a defensive performer and is used as a linebacker on defense . . . Originally a center at which position he performed for the freshman team two years ago . . . Played the same position three years under Coach Don Shelton at Henderson . . . Captain, first team All-State, and honorable mention on the All-South and All-America teams . . . Seemingly almost squat in appearance due to his poundage (210) despite a six foot frame . . . Has tremendously muscular legs . . . Gained All-State honors as a guard in high school . . . Also hit .446 while posting a 9-1 pitching mark in his senior year of baseball . . . Possesses average speed . . . Started at left guard for White team in last spring's Blue-White tilt . . . May be called on for some kickoff, extra point or field goal duty.

ROBERT (Bob) EANES—Sophomore—Clifton Forge, Va.

UK coaches, feeling the strain of a lack of desirable strength at the guard positions, have reached down into the fullback ranks to pull out an impressive guard candidate in the person of Eanes . . . Physically equipped for the position as he stacks up at a stocky 5-11, 203 . . . Saw extensive action in the spring intra-squad tussle where he was the number-one replacement at left guard for the White's starter, Pascal Benson . . . Entered in mid-year (February, 1956) and that extra semester he had to adjust has seemed to make Eanes one of the more matures youngsters on the squad . . . Came to UK via Clifton Forge High and Fishburne Military School . . . Played halfback and captained the All-State team . . . Also took part in basketball, track and was state schoolboy batting champion in baseball with a .482 average as a catcher-third baseman . . . Bob was regular catcher and one of top hitters for Coach Lancaster's baseball nine . . . Has better than average speed for lineman . . . A red-shirt in '57.

JAMES (Jim) MILLER—Senior—Madisonville, Ky.

Coach Collier singles Miller out as one of the team's most superior linemen and worthy of at least sectional recognition if his play this fall approximates past performances . . . Although overshadowed by Michaels last year, Miller was one of the most dependable work-horses on the squad after mid-season . . . Has not received either the buildup or recognition generally accorded a standout player by the time he reaches his senior season . . . He saw action in just about every game and was a starter at right guard in the final four contests of the season last year . . . Looked especially good defensively, breaking through on many situations to make key tackles far behind the line of scrimmage . . . Started at guard as a freshman back in 1953 . . . Jim departed after initial season for military duty and played service ball in Japan with excellent reports . . . Returned in the fall of 1956, but handicapped by lack of familiarity with system of new coach (Bear Bryant was coach when he left and Blanton Collier took over in 1954) and by the necessity to make adjustments, physically and mentally, after service duty . . . Expected to start the opening game at right guard . . . Collier has heaped praise on Miller for tremendous defensive ability and for the success with which he has adjusted himself at the University . . . Played his best game against Tennessee a year ago and also was outstanding in the Tech game where he made a key fumble recovery . . . Has good speed . . . Played 149 minutes, 59 seconds last year . . . Made third team All-State at Madisonville High.

WILLIAM (Bill, Bud) SPICER—Junior—Irvine, Ky.

At 26, the oldest of any Wildcat, Spicer stands as something of a question mark in his bid for front-line guard duty with the varsity . . . Although seemingly not bothered with the continued appearance of much younger and supposedly more energetic guard candidates, Bud may be in an awkward position as the more youthful gain more attention . . . However, he has made up his mind that he is as good as any and is out to prove it . . . Spicer was a total stranger to Coach Collier when he walked into the football office one spring day a year ago and inquired about the possibility of a grid scholarship . . . The Wildcat chief sized up the square-jawed husky with an understanding-but-hesitant look that prompted Bud to offer the explanation that he was an ex-Wildcat who had been away on service duty for four years . . . A promising freshman member of the 1951 Cotton Bowl team, Bud got his "old job" back and has looked pretty good in competition with the youngsters . . . Good blocker, quick and aggressive on defense . . . All-State and team captain while at Irvine High . . . Checks in at 198, 5-11 . . . Played in two games last season for total playing time of 14:19 . . . Has good speed . . . Plays baseball in the spring.

ROBERT (Bob, Tally) TALAMINI—Junior—Louisville, Ky.

This big, muscular, 5-11, 192-pounder demonstrated himself as a real "speed-demon" in '57 as he was the only lineman, with the exception of

Michaels, to tally . . . Although Lou got himself a TD on a recovery in the end zone against Tennessee, Talamini took off on a pass interception against Xavier that resulted in a 48-yard scoring jaunt . . . If that wasn't enough, a few plays later he grabbed another Xavier heave and would have gone all the way again if his teammates had provided him with a little more interference . . . Rated by Collier as a really exceptional prospect who will definitely play a lot of ball for his team before his collegiate days are over . . . Did not create much attention while playing fullback, guard, and tackle at Louisville St. Xavier . . . Talamini, Italian in descent, did earn All-State honorable mention . . . Received break when he was picked to replace celebrated teammate Don McAllister (now of Notre Dame) when the latter couldn't play in the '56 East-West game at Lexington . . . Capitalizing on the opportunity, Bob turned in some attention-grabbing workouts in preparation for the game and showed up so well in the contest that Coach Collier grabbed him off . . . Played well as a freshman two years back and was rated as one of the top three soph guards last year . . . Played in every game in '57, including two starts, while combining a total playing time of 147:08 . . . Started at left guard for Blues in Blue-White game last April.

JAMES (Jim, Yar) YARBROUGH—Sophomore—Morganfield, Ky.

One of the state's outstanding schoolboy guard performers two years ago as he was named to various units of the All-State, All-Conference and All-America squads . . . Started at left guard for the West in the '57 East-West all-star game . . . Saw considerable duty with last year's freshman crew and was especially impressive against the Tennessee frosh . . . The straw-topped, 19-year-old is stockily built at 5-11, 187 . . . Has pretty good speed . . . Jim was one of only two men to work at right guard for the Blue team in the spring intra-squad encounter.

WILLIAM (Bill) LIVINGS—Junior—Montgomery, Ala.

Can boast the right of being one of only four men on this year's squad to have earned as many as two varsity letters . . . First lettered in '56 when he posted a total action time of 147 minutes, 33 seconds while serving as the chief replacement for oft-injured Dave Kuhn . . . Added letter number two last season by playing in all but one game for total action time of 187:14 . . . Started two games in '57 . . . Should see extensive duty this year as Coach Collier plans to take advantage of the returning trio that shouldered the load last year—namely Livings, Blocker and Schollett . . . Although not blessed with a great high school record, Livings has proven himself a better than average collegian . . . Served as co-captain of his team at Sidney Lanier High in Montgomery and played three years at fullback under ex-UK grid standout Bill Moseley . . . Never made the All-State list . . . His track coach at Lanier was Charley Bradshaw, current Kentucky backfield assistant . . . Had an outstanding freshman campaign at UK in which he served as co-captain of the Kittens and was the regular fullback . . . Converted to center the next season (1955) and red-shirted for the year while familiarizing himself with the new duties . . . Made the honorable mention list (no second, third teams selected) of All-Conference Sophomore team two years ago . . . Served as vice-president of Kitten Lodge, freshman house, in 1954 . . . Has one of the best scholastic standings on the team with a B-plus average.

RICHARD (Dick) BLOCKER—Senior—Louisville, Ky.

One of a trio of centers who shared the chores at the ball-snapping post last season . . . Blocker held the upper hand as he started half of the ten-game card and led the center corps in total time played with 283 minutes and nine seconds . . . The returning letterman turned in what was probably his best single showing of the season against Ole Miss . . . Rewarded for play against the Rebels by being named to that week's SEC checklist . . . 1957 was the first year that he was able to go at full speed since coming to UK . . . His play was limited as a freshman enough to keep him from earning an numeral . . . A year later he was able to see only 29 minutes and six seconds of service due to recurring ankle injuries . . . At one stage, both ankles were sprained . . . Turned in a good job in Blue-White game this spring and should have a slight edge over his competitors for a starting role . . . He has the size at 6-2, 202 to get the job done and UK coaches will bear out the fact that he is plenty rough . . . Excellent linebacker . . . Dick was a star end for four years at Louisville St. Xavier under the tutelage of ex-UK halfback Johnny Meihaus . . . Selected on All-City and second All-State teams . . . Elected honorary captain by teammates after senior year . . . Planning a career in advertising or coaching.

WILLIAM (Bill, Peewill) HARMON—Sophomore—Bellevue, Ky.

Possessor of a 10 for 12 PAT record as a 1957 yearling makes this boy a very welcome sight in the UK camp, especially after Lou Michaels and his educated toe have departed . . . A tackle in high school, Bill switched to the difficult center post as a Kitten and made the adjustment without a hitch . . . Started all three freshman tilts and tried all but two extra points . . . His 10-point scoring total ranked him as fourth best point-getter and only lineman to tally . . . Played outstanding game against Tennessee's Baby Vols . . . At Bellevue High, he was co-captain, All-State honorable mention and All-Conference while averaging 20 points a season kicking . . . Also on basketball and track squads.

DENNIS (Denny) KUNKLE—Junior—Beaver, Pa.

Although he lacks above average speed, Denny has the size (5-11,203) and desire for the game that makes up any shortcomings . . . He was a high school and Kentucky freshman guard before being moved to center last year . . . Picked up an added year of experience when he layed out '56 season . . . Because of experienced competition Denny managed to get into only one game last season for a total playing time of 33 seconds . . . Earned his freshman numeral with the 1955 Kittens . . . Captained his team at Beaver Area High and picked on the All-County team in the Beaver Valley hotbed of football talent.

FRANK (Andy) SCHOLLETT—Junior—Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Schollett presented one of the most dramatic and story-book stories ever witnessed by Wildcat fans last year when Coach Collier gave him the starting nod for the Georgia game . . . Although he had never seen varsity action up to that sixth game of the season, he turned in a job that resulted in a sincere expression of praise by Collier . . . Went on to start two other games before the year was out and to pile up a total playing time of 126 minutes and 18 seconds . . . Frank is a big boy at 6-4 and 215 with average speed . . . Has the head that is required for a caller of defensive signals as borne out by his 143 IQ . . . Should see extensive service this year and doubtlessly will have the job all to himself in a year upon the graduation of competitors Blocker and Livings . . . Saw almost equal game time as his chief rival, Pascal Benson (now a guard), during freshman campaign. He was secretary-treasurer of Kitten Lodge, freshman house, in 1956-57 school year . . . Outstanding as a schoolboy at North Side High in Ft. Wayne, where he was named to the first team All-State squad his final year and also was captain, most valuable player, All-City and All-Conference . . . Born Detroit, Michigan.

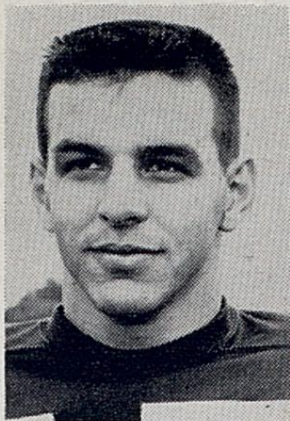

JOHN SLACK—Sophomore—Newport, Ky.

One of only two accredited centers on the 1957 freshman team, Slack had the opportunity of playing a great deal of football behind starter Bill Harmon . . . Played in all three freshman games . . . Saw action for White team in last spring's Blue-White battle . . . The handsome, 6-2, 195 pounder has average speed . . . John was a three-year letterman as an end on the Newport Public team . . . Gained All-Conference (NKAC) honorable mention . . . As a member of the track team for one year, he was region's top shot put man and number four hurdler . . . He's in Arts & Sciences College and plants to become mortician . . . Born Louisville, Ky.

QUARTERBACKS

LOWELL HUGHES—Junior—Prestonsburg, Ky.

This level-headed, versatile performer as a sophomore starter and field general for the 1957 Wildcat aggregation displayed an experienced brand of play that has rarely if ever been surpassed by first year varsity men under the pressures that plagued Hughes . . . Followed in the footsteps of brother Delmar who was the Kentucky number-one signal caller only a year before . . . Lowell wound up the season as the fourth best passer in the SEC on his 40 completions in 83 attempts good for 447 yards and a .482 percentage mark . . . His fine running ability was demonstrated by a net gain of 116 yards on 58 carries as a sophomore—a pretty fair mark for a quarterback . . . He is one of the team's outstanding defensive strategists . . . Especially good on pass defense as is borne out by the fact that he picked off three enemy tosses last season and returned them for a total of 52 yards . . . Coach Collier is confident that Hughes will be a better man this year even though the pressure could be even greater due to the departure of veteran Kenny Robertson, the chief relief man last year, and the overall inexperience of the other quarterback candidates . . . He will no doubt handle the majority of kicking chores this year, including both punting and PAT's . . . Understudy to Michaels a year ago and responded to his predecessor's teaching by booting two of three extra points tried and posting a 40.5 punting average on two kicks . . . Started every game but one (Georgia) for total playing time of 417 minutes and 36 seconds . . . Finished eleventh in SEC in individual total offense as he was credited with 563 yards . . . Sixth in conference in number of passes intercepted and was eighth on yards run back of interceptions . . . SEC's 20th leading scorer with 20 points . . . Intercepted two passes against Ole Miss as the Wildcats held the Rebs scoreless for over a half . . . Scored first Kentucky TD of the year on a six-yard run to paydirt against Florida. Played without relief in Kentucky's great bid for an upset of Auburn . . . Had field day at the expense of Memphis State as he had a 64-yard TD run, which was the third longest in the SEC for the year and threw two TD passes to end Jim Urbaniak . . . Hughes scored on a 33-yard jaunt against Xavier . . . He was game's leading ground-gainer against both Memphis State and Xavier . . . Lowell was named to the Nashville Banner's All-SEC Sophomore team . . . One of the most widely-sought backfield prospects in the country as an All-American schoolboy record breaking quarterback . . . Highlight of three-game freshman career in '56 came as he tossed two touchdown passes in leading the UK frosh to a 19-0 victory over arch-rival Tennessee frosh . . . Outstanding in both Blue-White games in which he has played . . . Rewrote all previous records at Prestonsburg High where he was grid All-Stater for two years and basketball All-State for one season . . . Also named to football All-South and three All-America selections . . . Ranked as one of the nation's 10 best prep passers . . . Possesses excellent speed and is a good student . . . During the off season, he shifts his abilities as an all-around athlete to baseball and basketball . . . Last winter, he performed with UK's NCAA champion cage team as a guard.

JOSEPH (Joe) BRUECK—Sophomore—Brookhaven, Miss.

Another quarterback who has been handicapped by having to battle stiff competition . . . He was a red-shirt last year in an effort to pick up added experience and size . . . Played for Whites in Blue-White game in spring . . . Saw much action in last fall's intra-squad games and handled his team well . . . Biggest drawback is his erratic passing ability . . . Did not see a great deal of action with '56 freshman team, but did manage to get in enough time to win his numeral . . . Wildcat coaches have faith in the Brookhaven lad's future and will do everything possible to mold him into a fine football player . . . As a freshman at UK, he connected on one pass in two attempts for 10 yards . . . In the spring practice windup game a year ago, he showed slight improvement in limited action as he completed two out of three tosses good for 12 yards . . . Studying engineering . . . Came to UK with high school background of winning four grid letters, four in basketball and six in baseball at Brookhaven . . . He was first team All-State, All-Conference and named on the All-American squad . . . Gives appearance of being taller than his 6-1 as he weighs only 170 . . . Married the sister of '57 UK end Joe Johnson last summer.

GERALD (Jerry) EISAMAN—Sophomore—Bethel, Pa.

One of the unluckiest boys ever to wear jersey and pads for UK . . . He was counted on to team up with Hughes to give the 'Cats one of the nation's top sophomore quarterback duos last season, but as luck had it he suffered a shoulder separation in last full-scale workout before the opening game . . . Held out the remainder of the season to allow complete recovery from the injury . . . Received another setback last February when returning to the campus from vacation between semesters as he suffered a minor fracture of the lower spine resulting from an auto accident in Ohio . . . He was thus unable to take part in rough drills in spring practice and had to set out this spring's Blue-White tilt . . . An almost unheralded prize package from the western Pennsylvania hotbed of football talent, Eisaman has natural talent galore . . . Great things are still expected of him . . . Called one of the brightest lights on the Kentucky football scene since the fabulous Babe Parilli came down from Pennsylvania to lead the Wildcats to three bowl appearances and their greatest era in the grid sport . . . Aside from the fact that he captained and made the All-WPIAL teams in both football and basketball while at Bethel High, Eisaman was virtually an unknown since he was never named to the All-State or All-America teams . . . Coach Collier rates Eisaman "One of the finest prospects we've had in a long time . . . a fine thrower and field general who should give us plenty of help in the future." . . . Passing is Jerry's long suit, so to speak, as he can throw accurately for distances up to 60 yards . . . Ruggedly built at 6-1, 206, he is more than adequate when carrying the ball . . . As a freshman he completed more than half of his passes during three Kitten contests, one for a TD against Cincinnati frosh and set up UK's first score in Tennessee freshman game . . . Showed up well in '57 Blue-White spring game as he connected on six out of 15 passes for 73 yards and two scores, added another marker while piling up 28 yards on nine carries and punted for a 31-yard average.

TOMMY (Tom, Rocky) HUNDLEY—Sophomore—Johnson City, Tenn.

Just because he's the smallest man on the squad at 5-11, 162, don't think that's going to keep Hundley from giving it all he's got and being able to take the rough stuff as well as dish it out . . . They don't call him Rocky for nothing . . . Surprised everyone with a great freshman season that saw him finish up as the Kitten's top ground-gaining quarterback on a net of 39 yards on 10 tries for a 3.9 average gain . . . Teamed with Tom Rodgers in completing 10 of 14 passes for 311 yards gained via the air against the Cincinnati Bearkittens . . . For the year, had two pass completions out of five attempted good for 76 yards and one touchdown . . . Led freshmen in kicking, percentage-wise, as his lone boot was good for 47 yards . . . Turned in a good job in Blue-White contest in relief of Hughes who missed the entire second half with a pulled leg muscle . . . Had two passes find the mark out of five thrown in the spring game . . . Tom was one of Tennessee's leading high school prepsters . . . Participated in basketball and track as well as football . . . Captain of the All-State squad and selected to the All-Conference and All-South teams . . . Nominated for All-America honors . . . He earned a place on the Big Six Conference track honor list . . . Attended Science Hill High in Johnson City, although he was born in Cleveland, Ohio.

LEEMAN BENNETT—Sophomore—Paducah, Ky.

Prospects of seeing important game action are looking up for this youngster after a year on the red-shirt squad in 1957 . . . When he came to Kentucky in 1956, he operated under the disadvantage of too much competition and last year was still faced with the problem of biding his time behind such standout signal callers as Lowell Hughes and Kenny Robertson . . . Bennett may still rank number three in the quarterback picture this season, behind Hughes and Jerry Eisaman, but many observers are betting he will pull himself up by his bootstraps to give his competitors a good battle . . . Saw only brief action as a freshman, but looked good in squad scrimmages during his hold-out season last year and showed up well as a starter for the White team in this spring's Blue-White game . . . Racked up 30-yard rushing total in only three carries . . . Leeman has put on about 10 pounds since his freshman campaign, but still has good speed . . . Studying tough academic course—enrolled in College of Engineering and majoring in mathematics . . . Came to Kentucky from Paducah Tilghman High, the school that produced ex-Wildcat quarterback star Bob Hardy . . . In high school, Bennett gained honorable mention All-State.

Younger brother of last year's co-captain and reserve quarterback Kenny Robertson . . . Has good speed despite getting into only one Kitten contest last year and carrying the ball twice . . . Was captain and All-State third team choice while playing half and quarterback at Palm Beach High . . . Also was co-captain and All-State third-teamer as a baseballer . . . Born in Miami, Fla. . . . He's 19, 6-1, 183 . . . Plans to enter business world upon graduation.

CALVIN BIRD—Sophomore—Corbin, Ky.

One of the best prospects up from the undefeated freshman team of 1957 . . . Led the Kittens in virtually every statistical department . . . As a schoolboy standout at Corbin High under the direction of Coach Bill Tucker, Bird was named captain of the All-State team, placed on the All-Conference, All-South and All-America aggregations while setting a new state scoring record on 268 points . . . Also was second-team All-State and SECK Player of the Year in '56 as a basketballer . . . Played baseball and also was on the track team . . . Gave his Blue team a 6-6 tie with Whites in spring practice game this year on a last quarter, 67-yard TD run . . . Leading ground-gainer for the East team with 66 yards in 10 carries in 1957 East-West schoolboy classic . . . As a Kentucky yearling standout, he scored two TD's on runs of 37 and 12 yards and accumulated 196 yards on eight tries against the Vandy frosh . . . Longest run against Baby Commodores was 62 yards . . . Scored twice against Cincinnati frosh, one tally coming on a 71-yard pass-run play . . . Against Tennessee's yearlings he had 81 yards rushing in seven attempts . . . Coach Collier says, "He's a good prospect, impressive defensively and on blocking, and a good runner . . . He's still a sophomore, but we hope he will play for us." . . . Could possibly work his way into a starting job . . . Freshman Stax: Team's leading ground-gainer as he got 301 yards on 27 tries for an 11.2 average gain . . . Led team in pass receiving as he caught five good for 171 yards and one touchdown . . . Had one punt return for 17 yards. Returned three kickoffs 60 yards for a team-leading average of 20 yards per return . . . Was team's leading scorer with 25 points on four TD's (three rushing, one pass) and one PAT.

JAMES (Jimmy, Jimbow) POYNTER—Sophomore—Danville, Ky.

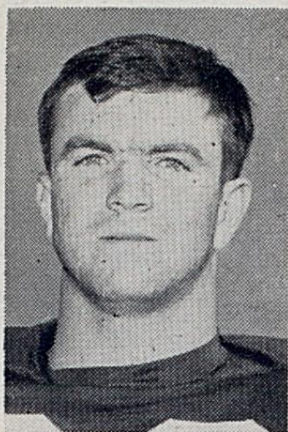

This 21-year older was a constant thorn in the sides of Lexington and surrounding area high schools as an all-sports star who "holed out" from locals over at Danville High, a 30-minute drive from Lexington . . . He was team captain and an All-State selection while also being named football and basketball Most Valuable Player at Danville in his senior year . . . Won the regional discus championship in 1957 . . . Also a prep baseball pitcher. As a UK freshman last season he saw only token duty at halfback after being moved from his customary fullback position . . . Carried the ball three times for a total gain of three yards . . . Caught one pass for five yards and had three punt returns good for a 7.1 runback average . . . At 177, he is the lightest of halfback crew . . . Has good speed . . . Plans to coach when he graduates.

ROBERT (Bobby, Moose) CRAVENS—Senior—Owensboro, Ky.

See "Profile of an All-Conference Candidate" sketch on page 23-24.

GLENN (Glenn Ed) SHAW—Junior—Paducah, Ky.

Although disappointing to many in view of a phenomenal freshman year, when the final figures were tabulated last season it was revealed that

Shaw was second only to the outstanding Bobby Cravens as a 1957 UK back . . . Picked up 241 net yards rushing on 59 tries for a respectable 4.1 average gain. Best game of the year by far was against Mississippi and he merited SEC checklist recognition . . . Against the Rebs, he had a 50-yard run while leading the Wildcats rushing with 69 yards garnered on eight carries . . . Suffered leg injury in Florida game that resulted in an infected shin bone . . . Started a total of seven games, saw reserve action in another and missed two games entirely because of his injury . . . After layout, started against Vandy and picked up 52 yards on 13 tries as well as throwing a surprise pass to Ledger Howard that set up the team's lone score. Scored TD against Memphis State . . . Big, strong and fast and seems inclined to run over people instead of around them . . . Cited by the Associated Press in a pre-season analysis as one of the top sophomore prospects of the country for the 1957 season . . . Did not play in April Blue-White game as he layed out to nurse injury . . . The year before he was the leading ground gainer in the game for the winning Blues . . . Final freshman figures pegged him as the leading ground gainer and scorer of the Kittens, totaling 352 yards on 30 trips for an 11.7 average and 30 points (four rushing, one on pass) . . . He can run wide or power his way through the line . . . Has shown himself an excellent blocker and alert defender . . . Accorded only third team All-State honor in football his final year at Paducah Tilghman, but made the All-America unit . . . Holds the state schoolboy shot put record.

CHARLES (Charlie, C. E.) STURGEON—Sophomore—Owensboro, Ky.

Along with Calvin Bird formed one of the outstanding pair of running halfbacks ever to perform for a Kentucky freshman grid team . . . Sturgeon is expected to rank high in the halfback picture and possibly could move up all the way to a starting job when he gets some experience behind him. As a frosh, Charlie was second only to Bird in rushing with 194 yards gained in 26 tries for a 7.5 average . . . Second leading pass receiver with three catches totaling 65 yards and a TD . . . Had two punt returns for 30 yards . . . Returned two kickoffs 37 yards . . . The "Owensboro Flash" tied Lloyd Hodge for runner-up spot in freshman scoring as he tallied three times for 18 points . . . Against Vandy team, scored a touchdown on a 27-yard jaunt and collected 79 yards on 10 carries . . . Scored on a 44-yard aerial against Cincy frosh . . . In Tennessee game had 90 yards gained on eight carries including a 54-yard TD run . . . Sturgeon was the game's leading ground-gainer in the 1957 East-West game, picking up 77 yards on 11 tries in his only appearance as a fullback . . . As a four year gridman at Owensboro Senior High, he gained first team All-State honor and All-Conference, All-South and All-America selection to various units . . . Also captained team . . . Played high school baseball, track, and basketball . . . Was a first-baseman for UK freshman baseballers last spring . . . Has pretty good speed, but picks up yardage much like Cravens by bulling and fighting his way forward . . . He's stocky at 5-11, 191.

CLIFTON (Cliff, Twinkles) TRIBBLE—Senior—Lebanon, Tenn.

After serving as a two-year fullback letterman Cliff will try his hand at the halfback post and should be of even greater help to the Wildcats at that position because of his blazing speed and more adept size . . . Was smallest at his position as fullback but his 5-10, 182-pound frame is more in keeping as a half . . . Last season, saw action in every game, three as a starter . . . Had total playing time of 219:39 which was high among fullbacks . . . Was shaken up in opener against Tech and missed a portion of that game . . . Scored Kentucky's third touchdown of the year on a three-yard rush against Georgia . . . Finished with rushing mark of 3.3 on 34 carries for 112 yards . . . Had one pass interception . . . May be chief replacement for Cravens this year . . . Picks his holes with terrific agility and blasts through the slightest opening with lightning speed . . . Has great power for little man . . . Played well at his new position in Blue-White game of this year . . . Co-captained the winning team in Blue-White tilt two years ago . . . Cliff was an All-Tennessee choice and leading scorer of the state (162 points) at Lebanon High, playing under former UK griddler Jim Babb . . . Enrolled at Middle Tennessee State College in 1954 . . . Transferred to UK in '55 but had to lay out a season due to transfer rule.

JAMES (Jim) READER—Sophomore—Louisville, Ky.

The number-one halfback replacement and fourth ranking ground-gainer for Coach John North's freshmen of a year ago . . . Although not starting a single game, but playing in all three, he picked up an even 100 yards gained on 19 carries for a 5.3 mean . . . Led team with average punt return of 18 yards . . . Had a 19-yard touchdown run against Cincinnati frosh and pulled in one interception . . . Led 1956 St. Xavier football team of Coach Johnny Meihaus to mythical state championship . . . Gained All-State second team and All-City grid honors . . . Also was basketball and track participant . . . Leading runner for the City in the Louisville City-County game at close of schoolboy play . . . Has good speed . . . A Commerce major.

FULLBACKS

JAMES (Jim, Tank) FISHER—Sophomore—Morganfield, Ky.

Lives up to his nickname of "Tank" only by appearance . . . Despite 6-0, 215-pound heftiness, he picked them up and laid them down in the manner of a record-setting sprinter as a freshman standout . . . Saw playing time in all three Kitten games in which he gained 59 yards rushing good for a 4.2 average on 14 trys . . . Played outstanding game against the Tennessee yearlings . . . Was a fullback participant for West squad in '57 East-West game . . . Lettered for four years in the grid sport at Morganfield while gaining All-Conference honorable mention for two seasons . . . Also played basketball and baseball . . . Had .568 batting mark in the latter . . . Dutch descent.

DONALD (Don) NUERGE—Sophomore—Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Did not see much action in first two Kitten games last year, but came on in the season finale against Tennessee frosh with an eye-catching display of ability . . . Against the Baby Vols, he had his only TD of the year, coming on a six-yard run . . . Had best rushing average of freshman fullbacks with 6.1 mean as he gained 43 yards on only seven carries . . . Caught one pass . . . While playing at Ft. Wayne North Side High, he was All-City and All-State honorable mention although playing the sport only two years . . . Also was a dash man for two-year state track championship team . . . Came to Kentucky joining high school teammate Frank Schollett, who preceded him by one year . . . Has size (206 and 6-0) and speed to make the grade . . . A commerce major. (NOTE: Moved to end in pre-season practice.)

LLOYD HODGE—Sophomore—Whitesburg, Ky.

One of three sophomores that will compose the numerical nucleus of a five-man fullback corps . . . Seems to be best bet of the trio for immediate service . . . Figures in present plans as a front line reserve man at the position . . . Could use a year of red shirt ball for further seasoning, but probably can't be spared . . . Slowest of fullbacks, but makes up for it in bulling, yard-getting ability . . . As a '57 freshman, Hodge scored three touchdowns—each against a different opponent . . . Tied halfback Charley Sturgeon for runner-up scoring honor with his 18 points . . . Kitten third leading ground-gainer with 110 yards netted on 26 carries for a 4.2 average gain . . . Returned one kickoff 17 yards . . . He started at fullback for East in '57 East-West game and turned in a very impressive showing . . . At Whitesburg High, the 5-10, 197-pound back was an All-State and All-Conference choice . . . Under the guidance of Coach Edd Moore, Hodge compiled an incredible average gain per game of 250 . . . Scored 140 points in senior year . . . Played high school baseball and basketball and member of the track team . . . Was Blue's only man to score in Blue-White game of this year and was game's leading rusher . . . Born Bonnie Blue, Virginia, and wants to play pro football.

WAYMOND (Bogie) MORRIS—Senior—Owensboro, Ky.

Looks like the safest bet for the starting fullback post . . . One of only two returnees at the position who have seen varsity duty, Bogie played 103 minutes and 33 seconds a year ago . . . This ranks him as the number-one returning fullback in terms of action time . . . Played outstanding game in spring intra-squad battle as he was White's best ground-getter . . . Last season, he had the best rushing average of any fullback with a 4.8 mark posted on 15 carries for 72 yards . . . Was second leading rusher in Memphis State game—his best of the year . . . A knee operation before the '57 season has completely healed and he displays the fastest speed at his position . . . The ex-Owensboro High standout was the leading ground-gainer on the 1955 Kentucky freshman team . . . Posted a 44-yard gallop against Tennessee that ranked as the longest run by any Kitten back that year . . . Saw action in eight games for a total of 47 minutes, 28 seconds as a sophomore varsity performer . . . Can really ramble once he's through the line . . . Was All-State and honorable mention All-America as prepster . . . A history major . . . He's 5-10, 188 . . . Birthplace: Logansport, Ky.

RICHARD (Rich) WRIGHT—Junior—Nappanee, Ind.

Gave UK followers something to crow about at the formerly weak fullback position in early season games only to suffer a knee injury in Georgia game that forced his retirement for the rest of the year . . . That Georgia game, which he started, was by far the best single effort by a Wildcat fullback last season . . . Scored TD, picked up 36 yards on nine carries and made the week's SEC checklist . . . Lettered although having a total playing time of only 63 minutes, 31 seconds . . . Has very good speed for a fullback and Coach Collier regards him as an "exceptionally hard tackler." In final statistics he showed a 3.9 average on 63 yards gained in only 16 trips with the ball . . . Rich should give Waymond Morris a lot of competition in an attempt to regain a starting berth . . . Saw action two years back at halfback with the undefeated UK freshman team . . . Second only to Glenn Shaw in the ball carrying department during his yearling campaign as he picked up 105 net yards and one touchdown for a commendable 6.1 average on 17 carries . . . Also caught two passes, one of them a 24-yard TD . . . Was All-State at Nappanee High and was mentioned on the All-America team . . . Set a school record for the 100-yard dash of 10.2 and 220-yard dash of 23.4 as standout schoolboy trackman.

HONORS COME LATELY

From its football beginnings in 1881 through 1942, Kentucky had only one player named to a recognized All-America team. In the short span of years since, no less than seven have earned first team mention on the national honor rolls and four of the stars were repeaters. Sixteen Wildcats have received All-Conference recognition since the loop was organized in 1933.

PASS HEARD 'ROUND THE NATION

A single running pass play by Mississippi State in the fading moments of a game on Stoll Field in 1955 not only cost Kentucky a victory, but proved to be even more important when the statistical filberts added up. If the Maroons had failed to complete the 83-yard, desperation aerial, the Wildcats probably would have led the nation's colleges in pass defense that season. Taking away that one play would have meant a per-game average of 39.6 yards allowed opponents via the airwaves, which would have topped the top mark posted by Florida (42.0). As it was, UK finished sixth in the nation with a 47.9 average.

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

Located in Lexington, a community of over 100,000 population, UK is a state-supported institution which operates under the direction of a Board of Trustees. Membership of this Board includes the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Commissioner of Agriculture, ex officio, and twelve members appointed by the Governor, three of whom are alumni of the University and three members of the State Board of Agriculture. It is one of a number of institutions known as land-grant colleges, which were established by the Morrill Act of 1862.

At the start of the 1956-57 school year, the University marked a milestone in its history as a change of chief administrative officers took place. Dr. Frank Graves Dickey, youthful former dean of the UK College of Education and a firm believer in the value of athletics, became the 92-year-old institution's fifth president succeeding venerable Herman L. Donovan.

Dr. Frank G. Dickey, President

The major function of the University is that of instruction, although great benefits to the citizens of the state are derived from research and special services. For instructional purposes, the University is organized into eight colleges, a Graduate School, and a Northern Extension Center at Covington. Other off-campus centers are planned to better serve the state and relieve some of the pressure on the Lexington campus caused by rapid growth of the student body. The colleges are Arts and Sciences, Agriculture and Home Economics, Engineering, Commerce, Education, Law, Pharmacy and Adult and Extension Education.

The 1956 session of the state Legislature also authorized, at the request of Governor A. B. Chandler, the beginning of a Medical School and plans call for a first class to be accepted in 1960.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is fully accredited in its respective colleges and departments by all of the major professional societies and educational associations.

The University began as a part of Kentucky University under a co-operative plan authorized by the Legislature in 1865. The purpose of this plan was to unite sectarian and public education under one organization. This experiment was tried for a number of years. In the meantime, the federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts in Kentucky University. In 1878, when the people of Kentucky decided to establish a state institution of higher learning, the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts was separated from Kentucky University and reestablished on land given by the City of Lexington and the County of Fayette. Thirty years later the Legislature changed the name of the institution to the State University of Kentucky, and gave it additional financial support. In 1916 the name was again changed, this time to the present title.

(Kentucky University is not to be confused with the present day University of Kentucky. U. of K., known in these early days as A&M College, was separated from K.U. in 1878. Transylvania College of Lexington evolved from old K.U. while A&M became Univ. of Ky. During the process, U. of K. carried successive titles of A&M College, Kentucky State College, and State University of Kentucky. See Footnote A for explanation of scoring in these early games.) Footnote A — Although numerical scoring had not yet been introduced in Rugby football, either here or in Great Britain, when Kentucky and Transylvania (then known as Kentucky University) played their series in 1881, persons in charge of the games obviously had arrived at some sort of agreement assigning numerical values to the various scoring plays. Records never existed and men who played in the games are scattered or dead. All we can do is accept the scores printed in the newspapers — and surmise that a touchdown perhaps counted ¼ point and that a goal or an end-kick (a punt into the modern end zone) counted 1. That seems logical, since in the ratio scoring of that day, a touchdown was worth one-quarter of a goal. The end-kick, a British heritage.
undoubtedly was introduced because all realized that green players would score few goals, if any.

Footnote B — The football rules took no official position on the score of a forfeited game until 1908 when it was pegged at 1-0 to make it different from any other score possible in the game. By common consent, forfeited games prior to that were entered into the records as victories by 6-0 for the offended team — everywhere, that is, except in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, predecessor of the Southern Conference and the Southeastern Conference. In the S. I. A. A. the 6-0 practice was followed unless the offended team had a greater number of points. In that case, the offended team won by the greater score to nothing. Thus, Kentucky's forfeiture to Central University in 1900 is 6-0, since Kentucky led by 11-0 at the time. Kentucky led Cumberland by 12-11 in 1905 when the Tennesseans forfeited. The Blue and White, under S. I. A. A. rules, gets credit for a 12-0 victory.
