

Competent Planning Needed In Education Says Dr. Donovan

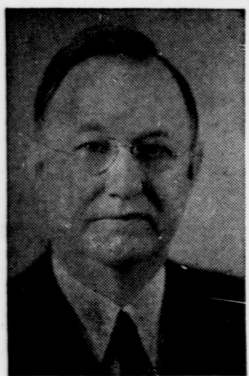

That the most important thing in the world at the present time is to carry on the war successfully but at the same time uphold education by competent planning, was stressed by Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University, speaking yesterday in Memorial hall for the second convocation of the summer quarter.

Teaching staffs in the state have been greatly reduced in the past year due to the Selective Service act and the defense industries which attract young women because of the high salaries paid, Dr. Donovan continued. "The Federal government is unwittingly destroying public schools of this commonwealth," he said.

Dr. Donovan said that the federal government has not taken enough interest in public education, but has dismissed it as a state function. He stressed the fact that salaries should be equalized. "No one has said that it is a patriotic act to teach, but I declare that it is," he continued.

The citizens of Kentucky have not awakened to the pending crisis in education, Dr. Donovan said. "A trained and disciplined mind is more important today than ever before in times like these," he stressed.

The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. John K. Johnson of the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church. Seated on the platform were Dr. Leo Chamberlain, Mrs. Lela Cullis, who played the organ prelude, and Miss Anne Cowgill, a former student at the University, who presented several vocal selections.

Women To Hold Formal Saturday

The Women's Residence halls will entertain with a formal dance on the roof of Jewell hall from 8:00-11:30 p.m., Saturday, July 17, Miss Margaret Lester, director of the halls, has announced.

The dance will be a program affair and admission will be by invitation only.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements are Doris Singleton, Dorothy Kirtland, Kitty Crapster, Brewster Phelps, Libby Crapster, Delores Shifflet, Charleen Burris, June Horton, Helen McMurry, Mary Elizabeth Stigall, and Carolyn Hill.

Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Donovan, Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes, Capt. and Mrs. Gene Myers, Dr. and Mrs. Niel Plummer, Dr. and Mrs. Jim Daily, Mrs. Eugenia Williamson, and Miss Alberta Limbach.

No Special Day Set For Finals

Final examinations for the first term of the summer quarter will be held, for the most part, on the last day of classes, Wednesday, July 21, Dean Leo Chamberlain has announced. The length and exact day of the exams will be left to the discretion of the instructor, he stated further.

Dr. Donovan Speaks

President Herman L. Donovan will be in Pikeville Friday, July 23, where he will speak before the Pike county teachers in the morning and address the Rotary club at noon.

Democracy Is . . .

Democracy Interpreted By Students

By Doris Singleton

"Democracy is everything that Nazism isn't," was the reply of the majority of the students and soldiers queried on the campus when asked their interpretation of democracy in a poll taken by the Kernel this week.

Many expressed the opinion that democracy is the freedom of speech, press, religion, and from want. It may also be thought of as the freedom of the seas, our economic independence, and the natural resources of our country. The right to think as you please and when you please was stressed by all. One student thus defined democracy as a theory that gives one freedom when one wishes it.

More Army Men Expected Here; Boyd Hall Will House Soldiers

Boyd hall, women's dormitory at the University, will be taken over by the Army for the housing of additional ASTP trainees at the end of the first term of the summer quarter, Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University, has announced.

The women now living in Boyd hall will begin moving out July 22. They will be housed in Jewell hall, the remaining women's dormitory on the campus, in the Patterson hall annex, and in the Sigma Nu house, if necessary, Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes stated today.

The Boyd hall lounge, dining room, and kitchen will be retained by the University for the use of women residents. Plans are being made for double rooms in Jewell hall to be converted into rooms for three occupants. It may not be necessary for the women to live three in a room for the completion of the summer quarter, but in September this plan will be instituted, Dean Holmes said.

The University has taken over the Sigma Nu and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity houses, in addition to a large building at 343 Harrison avenue, which will be used as a residence hall for women students in September. More fraternity houses will be taken over as they are needed, according to Dean Holmes. These houses will be completely redecorated and new furniture will be bought.

Dr. Donovan stated that Jewell hall, the remaining women's dormitory, would not be occupied by the Army.

University Buys Bowling Lanes

The University's purchase of the Colonial Bowling Lanes from William I. Bippus was announced this week by Frank Peterson, comptroller. James O'Brien, present operator of the lanes, will continue to manage the business under a lease.

The University now has control of the north side of Euclid avenue from South Limestone street to the DeBoor laundry, with the exception of one lot owned by the Amster estate. Negotiations for this lot will be completed in the near future. The property will be used as a site for the proposed University field house.

ZBT At Top Of Standings

Zeta Beta Tau made the highest average scholastic standing among the 13 fraternities on the campus during the Spring quarter, with an average of 1.906, according to an announcement from the office of the Dean of Men. Alpha Gamma Rho was second with an average of 1.829.

Fraternity men who made perfect standings were Arthur H. Sawyer, Delta Tau Delta; Robert H. Hillenmeyer, Phi Delta Theta; and Seymour S. Pudding, Zeta Beta Tau.

Phi Sigma Kappa led for pledges with a standing of 1.733. Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Sigma were second and third respectively with averages of 1.600 and 1.054.

Only thirteen men were pledged to fraternities during the Spring quarter. For the 145 men affiliated with fraternities the average standing was 1.623.

A complete list of average standings and rankings follows:

1. Zeta Beta Tau	1.906
2. Alpha Gamma Rho	1.829
3. Alpha Tau Omega	1.687
4. Kappa Alpha	1.632
5. Phi Delta Theta	1.628
6. Delta Tau Delta	1.542
7. Sigma Alpha Epsilon	1.526
8. Sigma Chi	1.459
9. Phi Kappa Tau	1.346
10. Phi Sigma Kappa	1.342
11. Kappa Sigma	1.259
12. Sigma Nu	1.179
13. Triangle	1.080

Soldiers Will See "Young April"

"Young April," Guignol's summer production of youthful comedy, will be held over the week-end for the benefit of servicemen in this area.

A special performance for soldiers stationed at Transylvania college will be held at 7:30 p. m. tonight. University soldiers will attend a performance at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, and men from Avon will see the play at 7:30 Monday night. Admission will be free.

An additional 550 to 700 men will be enrolled in the University's Army Specialized Training Program according to a letter of intent from the Army received here this week, according to Dean Leo Chamberlain.

The first contingent of the new group will arrive within the next few days, the entire complement to be complete by August 9, starting date for the next ASTP quarter, Dean Chamberlain said.

The new men, who will be enrolled either as basic or advanced engineers in the ASTP, will be in addition to the 514 soldiers already here and scheduled to enroll for the new quarter. Of the total of 576 now on the campus, 62 will not return for the quarter beginning in August, Dean Chamberlain stated.

Housing for the new men will be provided in Boyd hall, women's dormitory to be taken over by the soldiers, and in space available in Patterson, Kinkead, Bradley, and Breckinridge halls, already occupied by servicemen.

Under the ASTP at the University it is possible for a student enrolling in Basic 1 to complete six quarters of 12 weeks each before finishing the entire course, Dean Chamberlain explained.

Registration Set For 8 a.m., July 22

Registration for the second term of the Summer quarter will be held from 8:00-11:30 a.m. and from 1:30-4:00 p.m., Thursday, July 22, in the Union building.

There will be no alphabetical registration. Although many students enrolled in June for the full quarter, they will be required to fill out new registration cards. No additional fee will be charged those who paid for the full quarter.

Dr. Funkhouser To Address Y

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, dean of the graduate school, will speak to members of the YMCA and YWCA at 6:15 p.m., Tuesday in the Union building. The tentative subject of Dr. Funkhouser's speech is "The Development of Man." All civilian and cadet students and others who are interested are invited to attend, according to Bart Peak, YMCA secretary.

By Fleishman and Tevis

Any person interested in hearing a typical rip-roaring political speech from a soap box is invited to be at the west sidewalk of the Courthouse tomorrow at 8 p. m. It seems that Mr. W. R. Sutherland, professor of public speaking, feels that anyone willing to make such a spectacle of himself must be born to be a public speaker and thus deserve an "A" grade. Taking up this challenge and the star performers Saturday night will be Jane Oldham and Elizabeth Shaikun. As one of the requirements for the "A" is that the performers be able to attract an audience, they have decided to obtain one by fair means or foul. Murrel Salutsky will supply a little music until a sufficient crowd is present. If neither the girls' presence or Murrel's music succeed in attracting enough persons, they have devised a fiendish plan for starting a quick riot. All in all it promises to be an interesting program. Come one, come all!

We are wondering if the Army has any other way of expressing its approval of a girl besides saying, "She's on the ball," or by a whistle.

Long believing Lexington to be a fairly civilized community, we were surprised to see about nine boys crawling down Euclid avenue in a "stomach to the sidewalk" fashion. It turned out to be nothing more than the sophomore military class, hunting for enemy snipers in Stoll field and in the botanical gardens. However, many persons were convinced that the other state institution which is also located in Lexington had been transferred to this side of Main street.

This column wishes to extend deepest sympathy to all the friends and admirers of "88" Keyes on the campus. The "88" Keys fan club will be disbanded at an impressive ceremony next Monday, according to Rod Smith, president. Flares will be carried around Stoll field by a procession of mourners. Another group consisting of Nancy Adams, Bruce Kennelly, and Doris Hall, will pull a grand piano around the turf as three girls play it. The procession will assemble before the grandstand in silence. Next, a chorus of voices will shout three loud farewells—tossing piano keys into the air as a final toast. Then the following speeches will be addressed to the assembly:

- Keyes the Kid
- Keyes the Kriminal
- Keyes the Knovict
- Keyes the Korpse
- May he rest in peace!

Gweetins . . . who's up for this gloomy morn? . . . some ole' thing, looks like scandal always worms its way into some happy little life . . . gruesome, ain't it? . . . Say, what's Tri-Delt Watkins gettin' the blame for this column anyway, hear tell she's been asked if she dunnit, she monopolizes this paper enough during the regular quarter, who does she think she is, an intellectual? . . .

This column got robbed last week, had a little insignificant item about a certain KKG who didn't want it revealed that she's holdin' tight to a diamond-shaped frat pin (tough to figure out, no?), hope she's satisfied now, thought we had a scoop but that really fizzled out, dare it to happen again. . .

Weekend fore last, Phi Delt Jay C. Doyle really took a ducking, was playing tennis out at the Country Club, wandered down to the pool whereupon some friends and enemies shoved him into the water, however, not before they had withdrawn his shoes, anyway, what was the towel for, Jayce? . . . hear tell they were such pretty blue-striped shorts . . . also hear tell plans were under way for sending you opening night perfume for your gala coming-out in the dramatic world. . .

Now for a look at Kappa Julie Landrum who enjoys to the fullest entertaining fair Kentucky maidens . . . up for hearin' Clyde Lucas out at Joyland the other night were Shanky Shroust and Patsy McConnell to have dates with SAE's Clayton Cruise and Allen Cloyd, whatta' they think they're doin' anyway, movin' in on available men (wanta' call them that?) . . . now slated to thrill Lexington crowds is the sensational starlet of fame "Mimi" who just can't resist seeing all of her wonderful Kentucky friends . . . guess you got one of those engraved world premiere invites, Julie, for the performance at the Lyric in Versailles Monday night. . .

Seen Around Town: Well now, didn't the Chios move in for a big reunion, Jean Sullivan up from Frankfort, Jane Bandy up from Ashland (and who was that Phi Delt god who came down from Louisville just to see her Saturday night, last name wasn't Hancock?)

Reckon that's 'nough said . . . anybody bored, anybody peeved? . . . see you next Friday . . . it says here.

Sailor George Smith Sees Alma Mater On Furlough

Why hello, George! When did you get back? How long are you going to stay? Where are you stationed now? How do you like the Navy? Are you going across soon? Gee, you're looking well? (Yes? What else?)

Such has been my welcome back on the campus of good old U. of K.—that is, when I could find an inmate who draft, for the place looked as incredible to me as Times Square to a stranger in town. Soldiers, soldiers, soldiers, and there, walking by himself as if he had not a friend left in the world, a poor, sulking civilian. Would that I could put my arm around his shoulder and console him, for his job is going to be even bigger than that of the lads in the Union suits. We are looking to him to make our peace plans work, you know. That'll take man-knew me from the good old days. It is like returning to the town of your birth and trying to find someone whom you recognize, or someone who recognizes you. Golly, how things have changed.

I walked around the campus with my eyes big as saucers and my mouth letting in a power.

And I could yield to the temptation to make a crack or two about the Army, but my intentions would surely be mistaken, for I envy each and every one these extra months of college. More power to you, boys—especially with all these luscious co-eds filling the air with Eau de Jet. Flit couldn't be more fatal to a fly.

Well, I must be going, for I have just 18 days and much to do. Thanks for the memories and for the welcome, U. of K. You are what we're fighting for. Mizpah.

G. I. Sweepings...

By BABY

The dance is over, and from all reports Company C seems to have made a hit with the girls. Both the original C idea and the set-up were well-received and according to all indications many more company dances are due to follow.

Major Carpenter, Capt. Gene Myers, and President Herman L. Donovan were some of the elite who attended. The affair will long be remembered by all members of the company.

Here is one fellow who won't suffer from indigestion. Ted Sloane gets a smile with his chow. You're doing all right. And we do mean that!!

Bob Tompkins is expecting a week-end pass to Richmond some time in the near future. Do you think you'll like Eastern State Teacher's College?

We agree with Carl Utack—individual instruction in dancing is a great help. But it takes two to make a dancing team and we thought the other half, Margaret J., was ours exclusively.

Members of Sec. 3 (Basic 1) reported a riotous picnic last week-end. Some of them were trying to prove that an object at rest tends to stay at rest. Well, the truck started moving so suddenly that the whole bunch was left sitting on Main street—with, of course, three empty kegs of beer and a million other personal articles bouncing about.

We are positive that you all have seen Donald Killough with his truly good-looking gal, Avera Collins. You make a fine pair!

Hornkohl—why are you always confined? Or does it only seem as if, since you are so industrious.

We would like to suggest that the newly formed USO, the Stopover, and the SUB get together and plan their affairs together. There is absolutely no use in running three affairs at the same time. In addition it's a duplication and you don't receive your maximum attendance.

Aside to "Ad Libbing"—If you have a personality, as you say, see our 1st Sgt. in regard to a fatigue hat. He may make a deal with you. (Miracles do happen.)

WHODUNNIT — Let the lonesome girls come around to us. We know of a number of fellows who have founded the "Wolf Make Happy" club.

Who is inviting trouble with whom? Johnny Hutchins or Marie Bean?

In Doris Singleton's column there is a statement, "I'd be willing to bet that the war will be over in five months—then we can all go home." Don't ever get the idea that we all feel that way. We all know that this is a hard and long struggle and won't be won by wishful thinking.

Yipee—only ten more days of actual tough schooldays.

Did you know we have a famous diver in our midst—Splash Channin?

Though everyone has his troubles in analytic geometry, Kaspark has a sound solution. "When in doubt use the distance formula" is his advice.

From The Type . . .

If one has no sense of humor, he might as well have no sense at all. It is a cushion for a fall, a salve for a bruise, and a flavoring for the commonplace.

"A new source of tax revenue" means tapping the anemic "little fellow" in a new place.

Courses Offered For Homemakers

Courses on ways to meet wartime problems will be offered this fall to Kentucky homemakers' clubs by the extension service of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Programs are being planned by sixty-three counties having home demonstration agents.

Wide interest in such subjects as new fabrics, substitutes and their care, as well as how to make garments on hand last as long as possible, has been shown by requests for information which have been received. Another subject in which great interest is being shown is conservation of house furnishings through repair, cleaning, upholstering, and slip-covering.

In several counties, homemakers' clubs have requested aid in planning better use of time and energy by means of shortcuts, labor-saving methods, and greater efficiency in arrangement of kitchen equipment and storage facilities.

Faculty Depleted By War But UK Goes Marching On

By Mary Jane Gallaher

The manpower shortage has seriously affected the nation's vital industries, but the University staff has successfully solved its faculty manpower depletion due to the decrease in student enrollment and the fact that the remaining professors are doubling up on the number of courses they are teaching.

Each college has lost a number of its faculty to the armed forces, either for actual military duty or for behind-the-scenes research work. These instructors are considered to be on "military leave," and though they will be away for the duration, their jobs are being held for them until they return.

An almost complete list of faculty members granted leaves of absence since 1942 and the positions they held at the University, follows:

College of Arts and Sciences: Lysle

W. Croft, Army, assistant professor the arts and sciences personnel director of psychology and assistant dean in vision; Dr. Leon W. Cohen, teaching at the University of Wisconsin, on leave of absence, 1942-43, professor of mathematics and astronomy; Dr. R. L. Driver, Army, assistant professor of anatomy and physiology; Dr. Alexander Edelmann, Army, assistant professor of political science; Dr. Robert J. Griffin, Army, physician in the dispensary.

William G. Haag, assistant professor of anthropology and archaeology; Dr. Thomas M. Hahn, Army, associate professor of physics; J. J. Huddleston, Army, assistant professor of physical education; Dr. Fritz John, associate professor of mathematics, on leave for the duration; Milo G. Karsner, Army, professor of physical education; Dr. David R. Lincicome, military leave, instructor in zoology; Ralph McRight, on leave for the duration, athletic department; Dr. J. W. Manning, on military leave, professor of political science; Frank Moseley, assistant football coach; Vincent E. Nelson, assistant professor of geology, on leave since January 1943, to return for fall quarter.

Dr. L. A. Pardue, on leave of absence for indefinite period, to do special work in physics, associate professor of physics; M. E. Potter, on military leave, professor and head of physical education department; Dr. B. P. Ramsey, on leave of absence, associate professor of physics; Edward Rannels, working on degree at University of Chicago, will return for fall quarter, head of the art department; John E. Reeves, on leave of absence for 1943-44, assistant professor of political science; Dr. Hobart Ryland, on military leave for the duration, teaching at West Point, head of romance languages department.

Dr. J. B. Shannon, division of farm economics in Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., 1942-43, associate professor of political science; Dr. D. E. South, teaching at a college in Tallahassee, Fla., on leave for 1942-43 and will return for the fall quarter, associate professor of mathematics and astronomy; Dr. E. G. Trimble, on leave 1942-43, associate professor of political science; Dr. Amry Vandenbosch, special research, Department of State, Washington, D. C., on leave until 1944, professor and head of political science department; Paul K. Whitaker, on military leave, assistant professor of German; Azlie Wofford, on leave for work in Washington, D. C., assistant professor of library science.

Law College: Dr. A. H. Eblen, on military leave, professor; W. H. Pittman, practicing law in Frankfort, professor; Dr. W. L. Roberts, practicing law in Baltimore, professor.

Commerce College: Dr. Konrad Bekker, on military leave, instructor in economics; Hollis Guy, Navy, assistant professor; Dr. C. C. Carpenter, working with Lexington O.P.A., professor of economics; Dr. Marshall Ketchum, teaching in Chicago and returning for fall quarter, associate professor of economics.

College of Education: Dr. Ellis Hartford, Navy, stationed at Drew university, Madison, New Jersey; D. C. Kemper, on military leave, working in chemical warfare; Alfred Reese, coaching Air Corps cadets at Transylvania college.

BSU To Sponsor Picnic Sunday

The Baptist Student Union will hold a picnic Sunday afternoon at Grimes Mill. The group will leave the Union building at 12:30 p.m.

Merl Baker and Roland Kozlik are in charge of arrangements for the program and transportation, while Libby Landrum and June Baker are making preparations for the food.

It is urged that any Baptist student interested in attending give his name to one of the four mentioned before midnight tonight.

Seniors Must Take Tuberculin Tests

All seniors who expect to graduate in August and who did not have the tuberculin test given last June must report at the Health building Monday, July 19, from 8:30-11:00 a.m. or 1:00-3:00 p.m. for the test. Dr. Wilbur Heinz announced today. This is the last time the tests will be given.

The BSU Prayer Meeting group will have charge of the Calvary Prayer Service Wednesday night.

Film Almost Ready For Showing Here

"The University in War and Peace," a two-reel, color film of the University has been sent to a laboratory in Rochester, New York, for final work on printing the sound track and photograph film, according to Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the Journalism department.

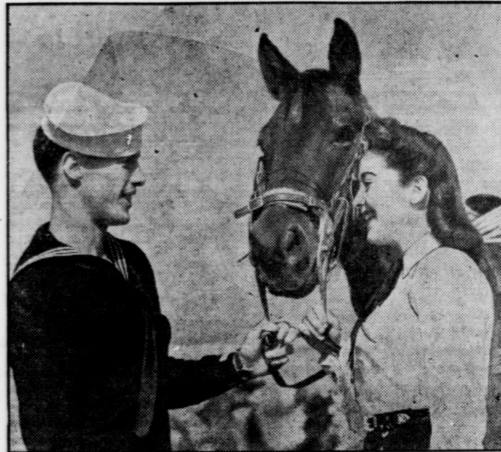

The film is scheduled for a showing within the next week or ten days at the University. Afterwards, it will be presented at theaters throughout the state.

Every phase of University life is included in the film. Training of soldiers, research problems, and social activities on campus are re-enacted.

New theater courses in puppetry are offered at Western college, Oxford, Ohio.

Baptist Spiritual Program To Be Held Here Tonight

"A Recipe for a Winning Witness" is the theme of the Baptist Student Union spiritual program to be held at 7:45 tonight in the Music room of the Union building.

The principal message of the evening will be given by Rev. Guy Ransom. He has been studying for his D. D. degree at the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, but is doing work at the University during the Summer quarter.

Lucille Grubbs will speak on the subject, "A Winning Witness Must Necessarily Speak Out of a Vital Personal Experience."

"A Winning Witness Must Have a Deep Compassion for the Ones to Whom He Witnesses," will be given by Jean Bach; and Libby McNeal, the sweetheart of the BSU, will talk on "A Winning Witness Must Know His Bible."

Selected music will conclude the program.

COLONEL Of The Week

JAY C. DOYLE

This week's "Colonel of the Week" goes to Jay C. Doyle, Arts and Sciences junior, from Lexington. Jay, who is president of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, had the male lead in "Young April" at the Guignol this week and recently appeared in "My Sister Eileen."

He is also a member of Phalanx fraternity, is vice president of the Student Union Board, and is a member of the Student Government Association.

For these achievements we invite you in to enjoy any two of our delicious meals.
