State Government

The Honorable John Y. Brown, Jr. Governor of Kentucky

ohn Y. Brown, Jr., became the 51st governor of Kentucky on December 11, 1979. He succeeded incumbent Julian Carroll after defeating Republican candidate Louie B. Nunn.

Born on December 28, 1933, Governor Brown graduated from Lafayette High School in his hometown, Lexington, and obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Kentucky in 1957. He graduated from the UK College of Law three years later.

The Governor served in the U.S. Army Reserve from 1959 to 1965.

He has been named the Outstanding Young Man of America by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce (1965), as one of the outstanding Civic Leaders of America (1967) and Louisville's Oustanding Young Man by the same group. Lions Club International gave him an Outstanding American Award (1974) and he is the youngest person to be named to the University of Kentucky's Hall of Fame.

He has three children by a previous marriage, John Y. Brown, III (17), Eleanor (15) and Sandra (14). He married Phyllis George on March 17, 1979 and they recently added a fourth child to the family, Lincoln George Tyler Brown, born in June, 1980.

Ashland Oil has an infinite source of energy-

the creative minds of our research scientists and engineers.

Instead of searching around the world for new sources of crude oil, Ashland Oil is developing alternative sources of energy in the laboratory. For example:

More gasoline from crude oil. Ashland Oil's new Reduced Crude Conversion (RCC) process makes it possible to get 24 percent more gasoline out of every barrel of crude oil we refine. This means that Ashland will be able to produce the same amount of gasoline we're producing now, using fewer barrels of expensive crude oil.

And if the RCC process is adopted by other oil companies, America could substantially decrease its dependence on foreign crude oil.

Crude oil from coal. America has enough coal to take us well into the 22nd century. At Ashland Oil, we're experimenting with coal liquefaction, the process which turns coal into synthetic crude oil. This new synthetic crude oil can be refined into gasoline and other petroleum products.

We now plan to build a major facility in Breckinridge County, Kentucky, to produce oil from coal commercially.

Both our RCC and coal liquefaction projects are under way at our refinery in Catlettsburg, Kentucky.

Gasohol from corn. Ashland will soon be able to meet 12 percent of America's goal for ethanol production from its coal-fired South Point, Ohio, ethanol plant.

By converting corn into ethanol (ethyl alcohol) and adding ethanol to gasoline, we'll be producing gasohol—a third important ingredient in America's formula for decreasing energy dependence.

At Ashland Oil, we're depending on one of America's greatest natural resources—new technology from our innovative research team.

Your energy needs, we're working on them.

Administration

The University of Kentucky has become one of the major institutions of higher learning in the United States under the leadership of Dr. Otis Singletary, the eighth president of the University.

Dr. Singletary was named president of the University in August, 1969. He had previously served as executive vice-chancellor for academic affairs in the University of Texas System and director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dr. Singletary, a native of Gulfport, Miss., holds degrees from Millsaps College and Louisiana State University.

As president of the principal institution of higher learning in the Commonwealth, Dr. Singletary is greatly concerned with the University's role as a land-grant institution, a "people's university" accessible to all who can profit from education.

DR. OTIS A. SINGLETARY
President, University of Kentucky

In the nine years he has been president, the University has grown to where there are now more than 22,000 students on the Lexington campus and more than 17,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges. The University has also become one of the major research institutions in the country.

Recognition of his service to the University was evidenced by the UK Alumni Association, which presented to Dr. Singletary its Alumni Service Award - an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

Dr. Singletary is the author of two books and several monographs.

A Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, he is a commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children: Bonnie, Scot and Kendall.

The Singletarys live at Maxwell Place, traditional home of UK presidents.

Athletics Director

xpansion of the football training room and addition of a beautiful player's lounge at Shively Sports Center, new carpeting in the stadium football offices, a new basketball office complex in Memorial Coliseum, rearrangement of the baseball fences and a new surface for the running track are just a few of the recent improvements that signify the continuing progress of UK athletics since Cliff Hagan joined the Wildcat Staff eight years ago.

Recognized nationally as a progressive, business-oriented and promotion-minded administrator, Hagan has seen and overseen vast improvements in all phases of an ever-expanding operation that has encompassed 16 sports since the men's and women's programs were merged in July, 1978.

The merger, under Hagan's direction, has been orderly, with office space remodeled, and in some cases created, to make room for the women's coaching and administrative staff.

The indoctrination of Hagan into the UK athletics administrative structure came in 1972, when he was named assistant to Harry C. Lancaster and given the task of implementing the Blue & White Fund for 57,600-seat Commonwealth Stadium and later for Rupp Arena. The fruits of his labors in this area have provided the additional financial support that has elevated the UK athletics program into a first class operation.

Hagan was named Athletics Director in July 1975 following Lancaster's retirement.

Hagan has also been an advocate of a strong scholar-athlete program, feeling "a genuine commitment to provide all the academic support and encouragement we can to help our athletes

Head Coach

FRAN CURCI

Guiding a young, inexperienced and injury-riddled team to a 5-6 record in 1979, Fran Curci ended his seventh season at the University of Kentucky with a 41-35-2 overall record, a victory total equal to that of Blanton Collier, who was 41-36-3 at UK from 1954-61.

On the all-time Kentucky coaching list, Curci is second only to Paul "Bear" Bryant who had a 60-23-5 record from 1946-53.

Included in Curci's UK record are a conference co-championship and a Peach Bowl championship in 1976 and a 10-1 record in 1977, best for a Wildcat team since Bryant's 1950 team finished 10-1 and won the Sugar Bowl. The 1977 Kentucky squad was undefeated in conference play (6-0), but ineligible for the championship.

The 1979 Cats, weakened by the suspension of eight experienced players due to a dormitory infraction in the spring, got off to a slow start, but finished strong. UK won three straight games and was in bowl contention until losing to Tennessee, 20-17, on a field goal in the closing seconds of the final game of the year.

Kentucky finished 5-6 and was tied for fifth in the Southeastern Conference with a 3-3 record, having been selected to finish near the bottom by pre-season pollsters.

During his tenure at UK, Curci has been named SEC "Coach of the Year" by both wire services - UPI in 1973 and AP in 1977 - and has finished high in the national balloting (1977).

He has produced four All-Americans and three Academic All-Americans at UK, which did not have an All-American of any type during the nine years before he came to Lexington. He also has produced 10 All-SEC players named 15 times to the honor squads.

Curci came to UK from the University of Miami, FL, where he was head coach two years. He started his career as freshman coach there in 1962 after earning All-American honors as a quarterback for the Hurricanes in 1959 and playing QB for the old Dallas Texans in the AFL.

Curci went to Tampa as head coach in 1968, putting together a 7-3 season that included victories over Mississippi State and Tulane and earned him the Florida Sports Writers Association's "Coach of the Year" award, a recognition repeated in 1970.

His 1969 team finished 8-2, while his 10-1 record in 1970 included a 31-14 triumph over Miami and brought the Tampans the nation's No. 1 College Division ranking. Curci was runner-up for College Division "Coach of the Year" honors.

He coached the Hurricanes in 1971 and 1972.

A native of Pittsburgh, PA, Curci played his high school football in Miami, where he lettered three years as a quarterback at Archbishop Curley High and was All-City, All-Conference, Catholic All-State and his team's Most Valuable Player.

At Miami, where he was known as the "Mitey Magician," he parlayed intelligence and desire to become All-American as a senior in 1959 after receiving All-America honorable mention in 1957.

He set Hurricane seasonal and career marks for total offense, most passes thrown, most passes completed and most yards completed and most yards gained passing. He was co-holder of the record for most passes thrown.

He rolled up 2,767 yards rushing and passing during his varsity career, breaking a total offense record that had stood for more than two decades. He captained the Hurricanes his senior year and climaxed his career by engineering a stunning upset of Michigan State

After graduation in 1960 with a degree in marketing, he played one year for the Texans and then served as a lieutenant in the Army, coaching and playing football for the Fort Eustis team, which won the National Service championship in the Missile Bowl.

Curci has been selected seven times to coach in all-star games. He assisted Bear Bryant with the South team in Tampa's first annual American Bowl game five years ago, then served as South head coach the next year. He helped Charlie McClendon of LSU and Alex Agase of Northwestern direct the East in the Coaches All-American game and has also appeared at the North-South Game, Japan Bowl, East-West Game and Hula Bowl.

Assistant Coaches

Charlie came to UK in 1975 from Rice University where he served three years as defensive coordinator and was assistant head coach. A native of Poca, WV he was a high school quarterback there, earning three letters each in football, baseball and basketball. As an end on both offense and defense, he lettered four years at the University of Tampa, being named outstanding lineman and team captain, among other honors. After graduating from Tampa, he coached one year each at Poca High and Brandon High before serving as an assistant at Tampa from 1964-70. He was defensive coach for Curci one year at Miami before moving to Rice; served as UK defensive coordinator before being elevated to Assistant Head Coach last year.

A native of Ft. Campbell, Mike earned letters as a defensive back for the Wildcats in 1973 and 1974. He was an assistant coach at Paducah Tilghman High School before returning to his alma mater last fall. At Ft. Campbell, he earned three letters each in football, baseball and wrestling and captained each team. Cassity's honors included All-Western Kentucky, All-State in football, state wrestling champ in the 167 lb. class and he played in the East-West All-Star game. At UK, he shared the Kiwanis 110 Percent Award with Rick Nuzum and Marty Marks in 1973.

George is a native of Chicago and a graduate of Cleveland's West Tech High School, where he was All-City and All-Scholastic offensive end and safety, and a basketball letterman.

He earned his bachelor's degree at Purdue and his M.A. there in 1969. A three-year letterman, he earned the Noble E. Kizer Academic Award his senior year and was co-captain and outstanding defensive back on the Boilermakers' 1967 Rose Bowl team.

After being drafted and trying out with the Philadelphia Eagles, he returned to Purdue to serve two years as a graduate assistant and then was at Middle Tennessee and Louisville. He returned to Purdue in 1971, working with the secondary. He has been at Kentucky since 1977.

DAN COUGHLIN, DEFENSIVE LINE University of Miami - 1962

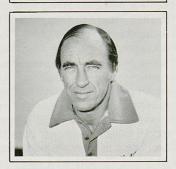

A teammate of Fran Curci and a two-year starter as offensive guard and linebacker at the University of Miami, Dan cut his coaching teeth at Coral Gables High School, where he spent nine years with the perennially powerful teams there. During his tenure, the Cavaliers won 102 games, lost nine and tied one, registering nine shutouts in 13 games in 1967 and winning two national championships. A native of Cleveland, he played his prep football at Benedictine High. After graduating from Miami, he coached one year at LaSalle High there. Dan came to UK with Curci in 1972.

BILL GLASER, DEFENSIVE ENDS Bellarmine College - 1965

A native Kentuckian (Louisville), Bill came to UK in 1977 from Morehead State University, where he was defensive coordinator. He played offensive guard and linebacker at St. Xavier High School, in Louisville, and returned to St. X as an assistant coach after graduating from Bellarmine College. He became head coach in 1974. His teams won the state AAA crown in 1974 and the AAAA title in 1975. He was named Courier-Journal "Coach of the Year" in 1974, and in 1975 was selected to a similar honor by the Kentucky High School Coaches Association

LARRY KIRKSEY, RECEIVERS Eastern Kentucky University - 1973

Larry, a native of Harlan, came to UK in 1977 from Miami of Ohio where he was coach of wide receivers and supervisor of scouting. He played split end at Eastern Kentucky University where he earned four varsity letters and was named to "Outstanding College Athletes of America." While at Eastern, he had 82 career catches for 1,155 yards. He received his bachelor's degree in 1973 and remained at EKU as a graduate assistant until July, 1974, when he joined the Miami University staff.

CHARLIE McCULLERS, OFFENSIVE BACKS University of Tampa - 1960

Charlie joined the UK staff last year after serving as offensive backfield coach at Vanderbilt the past two years. A native of Plant City, FL, he was a three-year starter at tailback for Tampa, earning MVP recognition and serving as co-captain of the Spartans in 1960, his senior season. He joined the Tampa staff as a graduate assistant in 1961, was elevated to the varsity in 1962 and moved in 1964 to Wichita State. He spent the next two seasons at Parsons College before going to the University of Kansas, where he was offensive coordinator from 1969 until 1973. He was offensive backfield coach at Ole Miss three years before going to Vanderbilt.

TOM TURCHETTA, TIGHT ENDS University of Miami - 1972

Tom moved up to a full-time assistantship last year after serving as a graduate assistant at UK in 1978. He came to Kentucky from North Miami Beach Senior High School, where he served two years as an assistant and three years as head coach. A native of Pennsylvania, he was an All-Catholic offensive and defensive tackle and the Outstanding Athlete (1967) at Altoona Catholic. He was cocaptain and JuCo All-American (1969) as a senior and LB at Taft Junior College in California. At the University of Miami, he was first team All-Southern Independent two years. He earned the Most Dedicated Player award in 1970, co-captain and MVP in 1971.

JON MIRILOVICH, PART-TIME COACH University of Miami - 1960

Jon returned to UK last year after two years with bowl teams at North Carolina State. During his playing days, he teamed with Fran Curci at Miami. After a leg injury cut short his career with the Dallas Texans, he served as assistant coach at Columbus and Southwest High Schools (1961-63), head coach at Columbus (1965-66) and assistant coach at Coral Gables High (1968-69) before joining Curci at Tampa in 1970.

TOM KALINOWSKI, EQUIPMENT MANAGER

A native of Middletown, CT, Tom was manager of the football, bas ketball and baseball teams at Xavier High School. He served as student manager for the Wildcat football team, moved up to assistant equipment manager in 1977 and equipment manager last year.

Athletics Department

Frank Ham became assistant director of athletics soon after Cliff Hagan succeeded Harry C. Lancaster as director of athletics.

A native of Scranton, PA, Ham came to the University in 1969 as administrative assistant to football coach John Ray, and was reassigned to the athletic director's staff in 1972.

Ham graduated from high school at Niles, Michigan and completed his undergraduate work at Olivet College. He did graduate work at Indiana University and coached high school football and track at John Adams High in South Bend. He then returned to Olivet as athletic director and head football and basketball coach

In 1962, he became assistant to the president at Olivet, with responsibilities in public and alumni relations. He was in private business from 1956 until 1968.

Kentucky's 1980 Football Season in Review

Larry McCrimmon (11) was moved to wide receiver after picture day, but played quarterback late in the season for UK.

A football season that started out with much promise finally gave way to injuries, youth and a demanding schedule. That sums up Kentucky's disappointing 1980 campaign.

When Fran Curci opened practice in August of this year, he worried. He was scared that Kentucky's youth would not be able to play with the "big boys" - Oklahoma, Alabama, Indiana, Georgia and Tennessee — that dotted the Wildcats' schedule. Curci told the Skywriters when they visited Lexington that he would pick the Cats 10th in the Southeastern Conference if he had to choose a pre-season ranking. Most writers scoffed at the notion, saying Curci was tearing a page out of Bear Bryant's coaching book that calls for a coach to cry a lot before a good season.

And there were some reasons the writers thought that Curci's assessment of the year was wrong. Many looked at the talent the Wildcats possessed — especially at running back and on the the defense. Yes, Kentucky faced a murderous schedule, they said, but they also faced seven of those teams at home. surely the Cats could pull off an upset or two somewhere along the line.

But what no one could foretell was the incredible rash of injuries that hit the Wildcats. After the Georgia game this year, several papers resorted to just printing injury lists in the paper — many taking up four or five inches of column space. And those strengths at the beginning of the season became weaknesses as backs Chris Jones, Shawn Donigan and Henry Parks went down with hurts, and Pete Venable was suspended. The defense was also hard hit with injuries.

But through all this gloom and doom, some good had to come out of all of it. Curci surprised many of his critics by opening up his offense after the Oklahoma game, inserting freshman quarterback Randy Jenkins into the lineup and throwing the ball quite a bit. It proved to be a good move, at least for a few games, as the Cats gave Indiana all they wanted before bowing late in the last quarter, and then beating Bowling Green. But as Curci moaned himself, you have to establish a ground game to go with the passing — it can't be onesided. Another change that occurred late in the year was the move Curci made after the LSU loss (17-10) to change his offense to the wishbone. Operating at the controls was Larry McCrimmon, who had been sensational at quarterback in 1978, but had been suspended last year, and then moved to wide receiver for much of this season. McCrimmon was impressive, but he really did not have any running backs to pitch the ball to — most of them were injured by the Georgia game.

Here's a look at a game-by-game recount of the season:

Utah State

Expectations were high, and most were met following Kentucky's 17-10 win over the Aggies from Utah State. USU gave Kentucky all it wanted for most of the game, though, as the Wildcats' ground-oriented offense was not very successful in the early stages of the game, despite several excellent scoring opportunities. Tim Gooch intercepted an Aggie pass on the two-yard line, and Terry Henry took it in for the first TD of the year. Utah State came back to take a 10-7 lead in the third quarter, before the defense recovered a fumbled punt and Kentucky tacked a fourth quarter touchdown on the board when Henry scored again. A field goal was added for the seven point margin later in the fourth stanza.

Oklahoma

Sporting a 1-0 record, the Wildcats rolled to Norman, OK, to open OU's season. Kentucky hoped that Oklahoma's history of fumbling several times in their opening game of the season would continue - and it did. But the Cats were unable to capitalize. Jim Campbell teamed up with Terry Henry for an early first quarter touchdown from nine yards out to give UK a 7-0 lead. The Sooners continued to stop themselves with fumbles throughout the first half and into the third quarter before they got things rolling against a tired Wildcat defense. OU tied the game 7-7 late in the third period, and then rang up 22 more points in the fourth to provide the final 29-7 margin.

Indiana

With the Hurryin' Hoosiers breathing down their necks, Curci inserted an innovative passing offense into the Cats' scheme of things. It worked at first as Kentucky built an early 14-3 lead against the visitors. But Indiana came back, primarily on a strong passing game that was aided by the injuries that had riddled the Cat secondary. Tim Clifford rallied Indiana to a seemingly insurmountable 30-14 lead late in the fourth quarter. But Jenkins put together two beautiful drives to tie the game with only minutes left at 30-30, including an 83-yard pass-run play to Allan Watson. Just when it seemed the game would end tied, Clifford found Steve Corso in the end zone, and Indiana left Lexington with a hard-fought 36-30 win.

Bowling Green

What was supposed to be a breather, turned out to be a chiller. Kentucky battled Bowling Green down to the wire, as injuries continued to take their toll, including the loss of star running back Chris Jones in the third quarter just as the Wildcats seemed to be taking control of the game. UK and the Kentucky's fleet corps of running backs was quickly depleted this fall. Injuries felled most of them.

LSU

In one of the most disappointing losses of the season, Kentucky was upended by LSU 17-10. The Tigers looked impressive on an opening touchdown drive, but were then shut out by the Wildcats for the rest of the game, except for a last-gasp, desperation drive in the final minutes of the game that pulled out the win for LSU. Kentucky, trailing 7-0, dominated most of the game, The second quarter was especially good to the Cats, but the Big Blue could not turn several Tiger turnovers near the goal line (inside the ten) into any sort of score. Clinging to a 10-10 tie late in the game, Kentucky was then worn down by the Tigers, who got a TD from Alan Risher with only 31 seconds left in the game for the win.

Georgia

Herschel Walker and Company came up north and on a cold, windy night, beat Kentucky as was expected. The Bulldogs, ranked fifth in the nation, took control of the game from the start. Fran Curci and his coaching staff tried all sorts of offensive tricks to get some

Falcons matched touchdown for touchdown, with Kentucky seeming to pull ahead for good with under three minutes to play in the game as the Cats scored a go-ahead TD to make the score 21-14. But the Falcs came right back, marching steadily downfield, and finally scoring with less than a minute to go. A two-point pass was just missed, as the receiver was open in the end zone, but the ball was underthrouwn, and the Wildcats escaped with a 21-20 win.

Alabama

With injuries abundant, the crippled Cats took on Alabama's well-conditioned Crimson Tide. The result was devastating, a 45-0 loss. Kentucky's thin but tenacious defense held the powerful Tide to a 14-0 advantage on two Peter Kim field goals and a touchdown and two point conversion. But the third and fourth quarters were just too much, as Bama's legion of players wore down Kentucky for the final 45-0 margin.

SEC Update

Bulldogs Take No. 1 Ranking, SEC Lead

Inbeaten Georgia took over the No. 1 college ranking and the inside track to the Sugar Bowl as SEC champion with a dramatic come-from-behind win over inspired Florida last Saturday. The Bulldogs play Auburn today and close out the season Nov. 29 against Georgia Tech. Alabama, with one SEC loss, rose up against a stubborn LSU team to remain just a game off the conference lead. In action around the league last Saturday:

Alabama

The Tide made it 52 straight victories in Bryant-Denny Stadium with a 28-7 win over the LSU Tigers. Major Ogilvie scored on runs of 2 and 3 yards and quarterback Ken Coley sprinted 35 yards on the Crimson Tide's first possession. Coach Bear Bryant's charges finished out the scoring with a 1-yard plunge by Joe Carter with 58 seconds remaining. The win came despite a wrist injury that kept Coley out of the game after 'Bama's second possession. Alabama must cope with Notre Dame today and Auburn Nov. 29.

Auburn

The Auburn Tigers delighted a home-coming crowd with a 31-0 thrashing of Southern Mississippi. The victory margin was especially satisfying to an Auburn team which has suffered through a few narrow losses this season. Quarterback Joe Sullivan figured in two of the scores — by passing 33 yards to Byron Franklin for one score and running 19 yards for another. Auburn is now 5-4 on the season but 0-4 in the SEC.

Florida

The Gators came within 1:03 of beating the conference-leading Georgia Bulldogs last week in Jacksonville. Freshman sensation Herschel Walker set a Georgia single season record of 1,334 yards but it looked like the surprising Gators were going to pull an upset when Mark Dickert punted out of bounds at the Georgia 8-yard line with only 1:35 to play. But quarterback Buck Belue passed to Lindsay Scott and speedster Scott outran the Florida secondary for the winning TD. The play offset a fine 286-yard passing exhibition by Florida's Wayne Peace, a freshman who was starting only his fourth game. Kentucky's opponent this week is still the most improved team in the conference — and maybe the nation — with a fine 6-2 record.

Georgia

The Bulldogs, down with less than a minute to play, reached back and pulled out a miracle Buck Belue-to-Lindsay Scott TD pass to defeat the tenacious Florida Gators 26-21. Herschel Walker romped 72 yards for a TD on Georgia's first possession and went on to surpass 200 yards for the third time in four games. Georgia's premier placekicker Rex Robinson kicked field goals of 25 and 20 yards plus a pair of extra points and tied the SEC career scoring record of 254 points held by LSU's Charles Alexander. Coach Vince Dooley's Bulldogs have earned their No. 1 ranking.

Kentucky

The Wildcats took out their season-long frustration on the Vanderbilt Commodores in front of a Kentucky Homecoming crowd Saturday. Kentucky won 31-10. Quarterback Larry McCrimmon completed 19 out of 30 passes for 272 yards, and no interceptions to earn MVP honors. It still took an 81-yard drive engineered by a hobbled Mc-Crimmon to take the life out of the Commodores in the final quarter. Starring in the Wildcat aerial display besides McCrimmon were wide receivers Greg Wimberly (94 catches for 103 yards) and Allan Watson (6 for 91 yards).

LSU

The stubborn Tigers didn't have anything to be ashamed of down in Crimson Country Saturday. The Tide only broke it open in the last quarter on TD runs by Major Ogilvie and Joe Carter. After watching 'Bama take a 14-0 lead, the Tigers battled back on a 1-yard plunge by Alan Risher capping a 54-yard, 10-play drive near the end of the first half. The loss broke a five-game LSU winning streak and left them 4-1 in the SEC, 6-3 overall.

Vanderbilt

The Commodores could have rolled over and played dead after Kentucky took a 17-0 lead but they outplayed the Cats in the third quarter and were down only 7 points until a determined 81-yard Kentucky drive took the heart out of the Commodore comeback. The loss dropped Vandy to 0-5 in the SEC, 1-7 overall.

Today's Game

Cats Tangle With Improved Gators

oday's game should tell if Florida's last-minute loss last week to No. 1 Georgia took the starch out of the vastly improved Gators. After playing chin strap to chin strap with the Bul-Idogs, Coach Charley Pell's team saw victory slip away on a Buck Belue-to-Lindsay Scott TD pass and run. A victory would have only reaffirmed what Kentucky Coach Fran Curci has said, that Florida is the most improved team in the South.

Last year's edition of the Gators finished 0-10-1, 0-6 in the conference. The disappointing season included a 31-3 loss to the Kentucky Wildcats.

What a difference a year makes! Florida is 3-2 in the SEC and 6-2 overall coming into today's game. The Gators have found a quarterback in freshman Wayne Peace who will be starting his fifth game. Last week against Georgia, Peace passed for 286 yards. All-America candidate Cris Collinsworth caught a TD pass but that's nothing unusual for the senior speedster who made all-SEC the last two seasons. Collinsworth was a high school All-America quarterback at Titusville, Florida, and was a track and baseball star, too. (His father, Abe Colinsworth, played on Kentucky's 1958 national championship basketball team).

If the Wildcats are to stop Florida today, they will have to shut down "cardiac" Collinsworth, a gamebreaker in every sense of the term. Defensive backs Chris Jacobs and Greg Motley will be assigned that unenviable task but they will receive help from Venus Meux and Greg Long. Naturally, the Gators will be trying to get single coverage on Collinsworth while the Cats try to doubleteam.

Should the game go right down to the wire, the Florida Gators might have the advantage in the kicking game. Brian Clark kicked five field goals a few weeks back against Ole Miss and, going into last week's game against Georgia, was ranked fourth in the SEC in scoring. Punter Mark Dickert has battled Vanderbilt's Jim Arnold for the conference lead all year but more importantly, the two were ranked No. 3 and No. 4 nationally going into last week's games.

The Kentucky Wildcats have lived and died by the pass in recent weeks. Larry McCrimmon, MVP in the last two games, is now firmly entrenched at quarterback filling the air with footballs and directing the wishbone attack. Wide receivers Greg Wimberly and Allan Watson had their best days receiving last week against Vanderbilt. Wimberly caught 4 tosses for 103 yards while Watson caught 6 for 91 yards. Last, week, Coach Curci started reserve quarterback Terry Henry in the backfield along with McCrimmon, fullback Randy Brooks and halfback Charlie Jackson. Brooks remains the workhorse and has gained nearly 600 yards

On defense, the Wildcats are hoping for the return of defensive tackle Earl Wilson. Wilson missed last week's game against Vanderbilt but should be ready Today's game pits two young, hungry, offense-minded teams against each other. Kentucky will be trying to salvage a disappointing season while the Gators are looking for a bowl bid.

The Series History

Gators, Cats Keep Topsy-Turvy Series Going

It's a strange sort of rivalry — the Southeastern Conference's southernmost school playing the SEC's northernmost member. Kentucky and Florida aren't what you'd call geographic rivals, but the two have played some real exciting football games in the past 63 years.

The Wildcats definitely had the upper hand in the early meetings with Florida, winning 10 of the first 13 contests. Then the Gators got tough. Florida has won 11 of the past 17 games between the Cats and UF. All-in-all, Kentucky leads the series by a scant margin of 16-4-0. Kentucky has held the most recent advantage in the series, having claimed three of the last four games.

Kentucky blasted the Gators in the first meeting between the two, in 1917, 52-0 in the last game of the season for both squads.

The next time the two schools met was in 1926 in hot, hot Gainesville. UK's 1926 team was not as good as some of the Kentucky teams had been in the past, as the Wildcats managed to beat only Maryville and Florida and tie Virginia Tech.

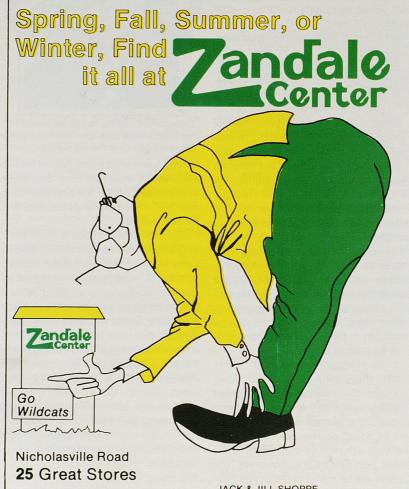

Kentucky was trailing Florida in 90 degree weather on a hard clay field in Gainesville in 1926 when Paul Jenkins threw a 59-yard pass to Gayle Mohney on a fourth and 20 situation. Mohney gathered it in for the winning score, as UK won 18-13.

Florida's first win of the series came in 1927 against a weakened Kentucky squad, who had had a change in coaches from 1926 to 1927. In a game in Jacksonville, FL, the Gators measured the Cats 27-6 under new coach Harry Gamage.

In 1932, Kentucky and Florida again tangled. On the Wildcat team that year was John "Shipwreck" Kelly, who was an all-star candidate with the Cats in the 1930s. Kelly had something of a reputation for doing just what he predicted he would do. For instance, against Alabama in 1931, Kelly called a press conference the day before the game and told reporters he would score a touchdown against the Tide that would be longer than 50 yards. He scored on a 57-yard reverse the next day.

Later that same season, the Rose Bowl decided to choose either Tennessee or Tulane to represent the east in the Pasadena game. Kelly, a few days before the Kentucky-Tennessee battle, sent a telegram to the Tulane captain saying: "Make your plans to go to the Rose Bowl for we will take care of Tennessee for you tomorrow." The Cats and Vols tied, 6-6, as Kelly gained 117 yards in that game. The Green Wave was then invited to the Rose Bowl

"I only saw him (Kelly) do one foolish thing," said Frank Seale, who centered the ball in the UK offense. "In 1932, I gave him a long lead, and he got by everybody and was in the clear against Florida at Jacksonville. He turned and waved at the Florida players, hit some sand, stumbled and failed to score. But we won, 7-2."

"We had them beat with fourth down and seven or eight to go, about their 20," Kelly remembered. "In the huddle, I told (captain) Babe Wright, 'I want you to do one thing for me. I want to see Kercheval kick one more time. Ralph took the ball on the 25, kicked it out of the end zone and into the bay. That is the only time I've ever seen a ball kicked out of a stadium.'

On the day, Kercheval averaged 48 yards in nine attempts.

In a bit of trickery, some 20 years later, Howard Schnellenberger (now head coach at the University of Miami, FL) had a hand in a bit of fakery involving guard Bob Collier in the 1955 game with Florida. With only 23 seconds remaining, and the score deadlocked, reserve quarterback Delmar Hughes, suffering a broken nose and other facial injuries from earlier action, came in to boot a successful 20-yard field goal. Gator coach Bob Woodruff later unofficially protested that Hughes' entry into the game was made possible by sideline signaling and a faked injury. Blanton Collier (the UK coach at the time) was visibly upset by the implied reflection on his personal integrity and declared he had never signaled for a fake injury and had never coached any of his players to resort to such tactics.

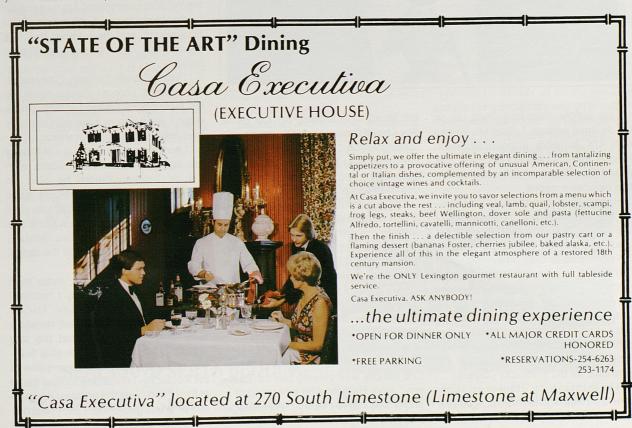

Twenty years later, Dr. William Wheeler, who was a tackle in that game for Kentucky, shed some light on the incident. "Bob Hardy, Schnellenberger, and I grabbed hold of a sophomore (Bob Collier) and told him on the next play he was hurt," he said. "Blanton

Collier didn't know a thing about it. After the game, (Bob) Collier walked around on crutches three days, but he wasn't hurt''

Hughes, a career air force officer, recalled that his real injuries were "annoying" him quite a bit and that it was hard to keep his eyes from watering. "I could see Hardy and the ball, but I couldn't see the goalposts," he said. "I knew they were up there some place, so I just kicked and hoped."

It worked for a 10-7 victory.

A very, very sweet victory, was one of the most recent — a 41-24 win for UK in 1974. Florida, a heavy favorite and headed for the Sugar Bowl was upset by the Wildcats who did it without offfensive ace, running back Sonny Collins. John Pierce kicked a school record-setting 52 yard field goal in that victory, played in Lexington.

Ralph Hacker of the UK Network: A Student of the Game

Tust before Kentucky lined up on defense against Tulane two weeks ago, UK Network announcer Ralph Hacker told his listeners not to be surprised if the Wildcats' defense included five defensive backs.

Hacker was able to tell radio listeners that Kentucky would operate out of the wishbone formation against Georgia. He knew about it on Monday.

Keeping up to date on every aspect of the Wildcat game plan is just part of Hacker's job but it is just as important as his "color man" duties with Cawood Ledford, "the voice of the Wildcats." Hacker prides himself on being a student of the game and his preparations during the week are practically as extensive as the Kentucky players."

"I try to listen a lot," Hacker explains. "And as a rule, I go to three practices a week. I'll talk to anybody who will talk to me about what's going on. On game day I have the same depth charts and rosters as the coaches next to me (in the press box) have. I have the same scouting report as the staff and coaches and players have.

The general manager of Lexington's WVLK radio station has been announcing on the UK Network since 1971. Hacker started on the broadcasting road at age 15 in Richmond, While working as a disc jocky at WEKY, he filled in doing play-by-play of local high school games. By the next year he was occasionally subbing for the regular announcers for Eastern Kentucky University football games.

"That was back in the days when Lee Majors was playing ball for Eastern," says Hacker. And what kind of a player was Harvey Yeary? "An average player, average.'

By 1966, Hacker was doing play-byplay of high school games in and around Lexington for WVLK. He also announced various area college games and soon he moved up to broadcasting the University of Kentucky freshman games. UK had some outstanding freshman teams in those days and fan interest was high. There was even a separate "network" of four stations which broadcast every frosh game. As if this were not enough, Hacker did television commentary of Ohio Valley Converence basketball games and even did sports play-by-play for Channel 27.

"I'll talk to anybody who will talk to me about what's going on."

The "big move" came in 1971 when Hacker joined Cawood Ledford to do the Wildcat broadcasts. He had known Ledford from the early days doing EKU broadcasts and had know the late Claude Sullivan, the longtime Wildcat

"I knew Claude Sullivan, Cawood, all the legends, before I started doing the UK Network so I wasn't in total shock when I sat down to work with them. In awe maybe, but not total shock.'

"I was extremely fortunate of having the opportunity to work some with Claude Sullivan before he died (in 1967),"Hacker says. "I would save tapes of some of my broadcasts until Claude would return from a Kentucky game and then he and Ted Grizzard would sit down and critique the tapes. They were tough critics.

"From those two guys, more than anyone, I created the way I recreate the Kentucky games on the air," Hacker explains, adding that he still recalls a tape of a 1953 game that the late announcer's wife gave him after Sullivan passed away. The description of the Kentucky-Tennessee football game at Stoll Field "was the greatest description of a ball game that I ever heard."

Hacker says he must always remember that he is the listener's eyes. "I've received maybe a dozen calls or letters from blind people saying they appreciated the way I was describing the game because it made them feel as if they were there."

The responsibility of providing listeners with the whole picture, the pagentry and the excitement and the blow-by-blow account, is a big one and Hacker thinks television has had a detrimental effect on radio announcing.

"On a national level, there are no longer many announcers left for young announcers to emulate. On radio, the idea is to recreate the picture for the guy sitting at home. On TV, you have people who just need to ramble because you're already seeing what's going on. I just think many young announcers rely on gimmicks. Like replay for example. That's a gimmick that is only good for television or on radio, for the wrap-up."

Broadcasters, in most instances, will tell you that football is more difficult to call because there are many more players. That might not be exactly true in the Commonwealth.

"Basketball in Kentucky is difficult (to broadcast) because every fan in Kentucky is an expert and if you do make a mistake the majority of fans know it right away. I've had UK basketball recruits tell me that in addition to the other reasons for attending Kentucky, the fans' knowledge of the game was an important factor."

The description of that 1953 Kentucky-Tennessee football game at Stoll field "was the greatest description of a ball game that I ever heard."

In his travels, Hacker has been able to get a line on what other sports fans think of Kentucky rooters and he says Kentucky fans are looked at almost in awe. "In football, if Kentucky can ever come up with representative teams, consistently representative teams, there won't be a stadium built that can accommodate their fans." He adds that Peach Bowl officials still are talking about the enthusiasm and support given the Wildcats in that game several years ago. Thirty thousand rabid Kentucky fans can make an economic impact on any city.

"I don't know of any team that has as dedicated fans as Kentucky does. And, when you stop to think about it, there's only one University of Kentucky. The people in Paducah are just as proud of their team as those is Lexington or Pikeville or anywhere in the state.

"Their pride is blue and white."

Players of the Week

Offense

Allan Watson Split End

Rentucky's "Mr. Hands" had his best day last Saturday against the Vanderbilt Commodores. The 6-2, 186-pound sophomore, former all-stater from North Miami Beach, Florida, was quarterback Larry McCrimmon's favorite target. Watson caught six passes 91 yards. Going into the Vandy game Watson was the No. 7 ranked receiver in the SEC and he will most certainly move up. He caught an 83-yard Randy Jenkins TD pass against Indiana and that was his most exciting moment. But for his most satisfying performance, the Vandy game had to be it. Why? Because the Cats won.

Defense

Chuck Smith Linebacker

Senior linebacker Chuck Smith earned defensive Player of the Week honors on the strength of seven solo tackles and four assists. The 6-0, 215-pounder from Louisville's Jefferstown High School leads the Wildcat defense in solos and has been one of its most steady defenders. His job hasn't been made any easier with the injury to the guy who plays in from of him, Earl Wilson. Wildcat coaches credit Smith with setting a good example for the younger members of the improving defense.

More People Are Going With The Up-And-Coming Airline.

For years, we've provided dependable airline service to mid-Eastern America.

Better service than any other airline.

But now we're also providing service that links this region with major cities, north, south and west. Nonstop flights. Single-plane flights. Or connections in less crowded airports. To save you time, wherever you're going.

Nearly all our planes are Boeing 727 and 737 jets. And we're making them look brand-new, inside and out. So you'll not only have a fast trip; you'll have a comfortable one.

It all adds up to just one thing: an airline that gives you better and better service to more and more places.

That's why more and more people are flying with us. It's also why we say we're the Up-And-Coming Airline. To see for yourself, call your travel agent.

The Kentucky Sports Scene

Baseball "Swinging" For the Top

by Thomas K. Shropshire

unior colleges are playing a monumental role in the upswing of the University of Kentucky baseball

Beginning the 1981 season next spring, eight of the Kentucky players will have transferred from a junior college to come to UK and play major college baseball. The influx of players has been a source of optimism for third-year head coach Keith Madison.

Among the JUCO's that are represented on the Wildcat team are Southeastern Illinois, Macomb Community College, Oakland Community College and South Florida Junior College.

In Madison's first year as the Bat Cat mentor, he led his squad to the Southeastern Conference playoffs and, thanks to the cycle of graduation, Madison only lost one pitcher from the 1980 team that finished with a 25-21 record (8-11 SEC) and fourth in the SEC East.

The following is how Coach Madison views each position for the upcoming year

First Base: "We are inexperienced at first on the major college level. Bill Sandry (a JUCO transfer) had 19 home runs last year. He is going to help up at the plate. He will be batting third or fourth and we are counting on him to produce RBIs.

Second Base: "Dan Potosky will be the second baseman. He is a switchhitter that led the team in RBIs (40) last season and batted .338. He is a very dedicated baseball player who practices with every opportunity. He is not a '9-5' player.

Shortstop: "This is a question mark. Mike Harding started there last year but had two major injuries; thus he played very little during the whole season. His speed adds a new dimension to our overall game. He is fast and gives us speed on the bases. He's an outstanding base stealer. The two injuires that Harding had were a knee injury and after coming off that, he suffered a hyper-extended elbow. Right now, he seems to be 100 percent. Mike Botkin, from Lexington Catholic, has been working out at short-stop and will play in case of further injury to Harding."

Third Base: "We are solid at third with Jeff Shartzer. He led the team in home runs last year (10). As a sophomore, he played shortstop. He really looks good at third. Jeff is definitely an all-conference player this season.

"He is a very dedicated baseball player who practices with every opportunity. He is not a '9-5' player.'

Outfield: "Jim Leopold is one of the best defensive centerfielders in the league. He has good speed and gets a good jump on the ball. He is very valuable and he can also be used as relief. Leopold is an excellent all-round athlete. He might be the best all-round athlete at the University. Mike Botkin played very well in left field last year. Bill Barker hit .500 but didn't qualify for the league batting title. He led the team in hitting. Bill won a starting position in mid-season because of his hot bat. Steve Williams led the team in hitting during his sophomore year. Jeff Sikes will fit into the program somewhere. He can play the outfield or third base. Sikes was one of two players that the major leagues tried to sign.'

Catcher: "Greg Ryle is our number one catcher. He has a lack of footspeed, but an excellent arm. Not many base stealers like to run off him. Defen-

at Patchen Village ...fine clothing for men & women!

Keith Madison, Kentucky baseball coach.

sively he is much better than Scotti Madison (Vanderbilts All-SEC catcher last spring), but not as solid offensively."

Pitching: Pitching will be the strongest aspect of this season's team. "This team is as good, talent-wise, as the 1979 team," commented Madison. "There are a couple of differences. In 1979, we only had two quality pitchers and a lot of power. This year, the roles are reversed."

The staff for 1981 will include 10

pitchers, that, according to Madison, will be very strong. Among the top hurlers for the Bat Cats will be 6-3 Scott Tockstein and Jeff Keener, both transfers from Southeastern Illinois Junior College and both from Alma, II. Although a starter last season, Madison is considering using Keener out of the bullpen. His sidearm motion makes him a duplicate of the Pittsburgh Pirates' Kent Tekulve. Others to watch for are Al Beahn, Denny Knoll, Kevin O'Conner, Jeff Parrett and Bob Silvanik.

How is the attitude on this year's team? Is there a feeling of overconfidence?

"I've been very impressed with the team's attitude," Madison said. "Last year, we did a lot of talking. This year, the players are working hard going about their business. I'm real pleased thus far.

Will the competition be as tough this season as last year?

"The competition will be just as tough," the head man said. "We have more going for us because we have 34 home games. Florida is definitely the team to beat in our division. Player-byplayer, they aren't as deep as we are. They have an advantage by just playing and practicing in Florida. Georgia is also going to be a force. Something else that might aid us is we have our last nine conference games at home.

No mirrors, no wires, nothing up our sleeve. Citation really is both compact and mid-size. Watch closely. Compact on the outside.

Outside, Citation measures only 15 feet bumper to bumper. That's trim enough to fit into 3/4 of a parking space.

Mid-size on the inside.

No hocus-pocus. What we did was to mount Citation's engine sideways, giving you enough room inside to seat five adults comfortably. With space left over in the hatchback that could even surprise Houdini. There's also a removable shelf panel that makes every bit of cargo just seem to disappear.

You've got to drive it to believe it.

Of course, there's a lot more about Citation than meets the eye.

- There's its front-wheel-drive traction on wet roads, through snow and in mud.
- The way its ride can make a stretch of road seem a whole lot smoother.
- Its impressive acceleration.
- And yet still, in the hatchback, wagon-like convenience.

Why not see your Chevy dealer about buying or leasing the new Chevy Citation. You might be amazed. It could be just the car you have in mind.

Chevrolet

It's a whole new kind of compact car.

Bill Carr, Director of Athletics

Bill Carr Director of Athletics

Bill Carr, a dynamic young leader who worked his way up through the ranks in the Gator athletic program, assumed duties as Director of Athletics at the University of Florida on March 15, 1979.

Carr served as a graduate assistant football coach at Florida in 1970-71 and joined the staff full-time in April, 1972 as academic advisor and junior varsity assistant coach.

He turned to athletic administration in 1974 and was named assistant to Athletic Director Ray Graves. In 1976 he was named assistant athletic director, working primarily with spring sports budgeting and scheduling and facility maintenance.

In 1977 Carr added duties which included working with basketball scheduling and budgeting and football scheduling.

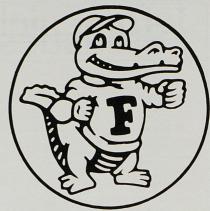

Carr was a first string All-American center for Florida in 1966. He started 32 consecutive games for the Gators, playing in the 1965 Sugar Bowl and the 1966 Orange Bowl. He was offensive captain of the 1966 team and was drafted by the New Orleans Saints following that season.

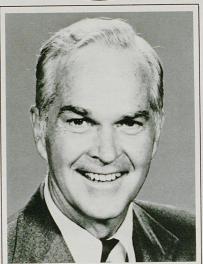

An ROTC commissioned officer, Carr spent 1967-69 in the Army, serving in Korea.

Carr was born in Gainesville on Nov. 29, 1945. He attended elementary school in Vero Beach and high school in Pensacola, the son of a Baptist minister moving around to various churches. He graduated from Florida with a BA in Spanish (1967) and an MA in Education Administration (1971). He is married to the former Jan Jackson and they have two sons, Jason (8) and Scott (6). Carr also has a daughter, Julia (3).

Gator Chief

Charles Byron (Charley) Pell, 39year-old native of Albertville, AL, was named head football coach at the University of Florida on Dec. 4, 1978.

Pell, Atlantic Coast Conference Coach-Of-the-Year in both 1977 and 1978, took over the Gator reins following two consecutive outstanding teams at Clemson, bringing a reputation as a man who loves the challenge of turning collegiate football programs around.

The challenge is obvious in the rebuilding of Florida's program. His injury-riddled 1979 team, playing the nation's second toughest schedule, finished 0-10-1.

His first Clemson team finished 8-2-1 and went to the Gator Bowl in 1977. The Tigers had finished 3-6-2 the previous season and had only one winning team in the eight years prior to '77.

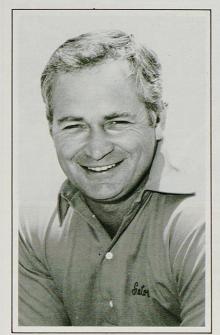

In 1978 Clemson was 10-1, captured the ACC title and returned to the Gator Bowl. That team finished ranked sixth in the nation and wound up fifth in the NCAA statistical charts in both scoring and defense against scoring.

Pell's 1978 coaching effort resulted in his being named District III Coach-Of-the-Year by the American Football Coaches Association.

Pell is a hard-working, rugged competitor whose only speed is full-speed. He went to the University of Alabama as a 180-pound halfback who had played only one year of high school football. He wound up starting for three years at offensive and defensive tackle (1960-62) and was a member of the Tide's 1961 National Championship team. He also played in the Orange, Sugar and Bluebonnet Bowls.

Following graduation he served as a graduate assistant on Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's 1964 Alabama team, was defensive line coach at Kentucky (1965-68), head coach at Jacksonville State (1969-73), assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at Virginia Tech (1974-75), a position he also held at Clemson in 1976.

At Jacksonville State, Pell inherited a losing team and turned it into a small college power which finished second in the nation in 1970 while posting a 10-0 record and beating Florida A&M in the Orange Blossom Classic. His overall record at JSU was 33-13-1.

Pell was Coach-Of-the-Year in the State of Alabama in both 1970 and 1973, and was runner-up for Division II national coach honors following the 1970 season.

He holds a BS degree from Alabama (1964). He married the former Ward Noel of Lexington, Kentucky on February 1, 1969, and they have a son, Carrick, who was born March 1, 1970.

Gator Outlook

James Jones(30) a proven performer at fullback, returns this fall.

If your living depended on making an accurate forecast of what the Florida football team might accomplish in 1980 you would have most certainly been in a precarious position. Who would have guessed the Gators of Coach Charley Pell would be under consideration for a bowl bid going into today's game against Kentucky?

Coming into the season, Florida was very solid in areas such as the defensive front five, wide receiver, tight end and running back. There were the gamebreakers like flanker Cris Collinsworth, fullback James Jones, tight end Chris Faulkner and tailbacks Doug Kellom, Derald Williams and Johnell Brown.

But the Gators had some question marks. Quarterback was up for grabs, only one linebacker was of proven SEC calibre and the secondary included only one veteran. Depth in the offensive line and lack of a good punter were also sources of concern. Florida's fine record attests to the team's ability to solve many of those problems.

Freshman Wayne Peace will be starting his fifth game at quarterback. Since taking over for Bob Hewko, Peace has brought the Gator offense to life. The attack has been run-and-gun and the Gators have the best man in the conference for that, Cris Collinsworth. The Titusville, Florida, native was one of the big reasons Coach Pell went to the dropback passing attack this season.

The offensive line is built around 6-3, 270-pound tackle Joe Wickline and features good young players in tackle Dan Fike (6-6, 250), guard Dan Plonk (6-2, 242) and center Doug Smith (6-2, 222), all sophomores. Senior guard Jim Subers is the vet of the bunch. Chris Faulkner, 6-5, 248-pound sophomore, has potential greatness at tight end. He tied for the SEC lead in TD receptions last season and is an outstanding receiver and hard-nose blocker.

The sophomore running backs need only experience, they have the talent. James Jones is a 6-3, 235-pound fullback with 4.6 speed, having moved to the position from tight end. He is backed by a good senior two-letterman in Terry Williams. The tailback position is being filled by sophomore Doug Kellom ((5-8, 190) with strong backup from Johnell Brown.

Florida's defensive line is big, mobile and experienced. The ends are Tim Golden (6-2, 220) and Val Brown (6-4, 219). There is size and talent at tackle with David Galloway (6-3, 272) and Dock Luckie (6-2, 264). Nose Guard Robin Disher is an all-star (6-0, 229) and the team's leading tackler in 1979 with 110, including seven sacks.

Florida's only proven linebacker is senior David Little. He is joined by sophomore Fernando Jackson. Safety Tim Groves, a senior, will have to inspire the sophomores who play back there with him (Sonny Gilliam, Kyle Knight and Bruce Vaughan).

Coach Pell needn't have worried about his punter. Mark Dickert is one of the top 10 punters in the country.

Tim Groves(20) returns an interception while picking up a block from David Little (51).

University of Florida

The University of Florida, located in Gainesville, is a co-educational state university and land-grant college with a faculty of 2,500 and a student body of 31,000. The physical plant is valued at more than $300 million and includes more than 700 buildings on 2,000 acres.

Tracing its beginning to 1853 (founding date of the East Florida Seminary, one of six state-supported institutions consolidated in 1905 to form the University of Florida), classes on the present campus were first held in 1906.

The University has conferred more than 125,000 degrees since its founding. There are 5,000 individual courses offered providing 90 areas of instructional specialization for undergraduates and more than 50 specialities for doctoral degrees.

Encompassing 16 colleges and three schools, the University offers programs ranging from general to highly specialized education. It is unique in that all of its colleges are located on a single campus where the professional skills represented in the various departments can combine for interdisciplinary work.

In addition to numerous research projects in the colleges, the University has specialized laboratories carrying on continuous basic research in engineering, science, agriculture, forestry, business, public administration, architecture, building construction and other areas which make significant contributions to private industry and government agencies.

A broad program in medical education, research and patient care is provided for in the J. Hillis Miller Health Center. The expansion program provides space for the College of Dentistry.

The Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences is the University's statewide agricultural research and educational organization.

rogress and growth have become familiar companions for the National Collegiate Athletic Association during its first 74 years as the major governing organization for intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

A call for stricter control of college football by President Theodore Roosevelt because of the violence in the game brought together 13 institutions in 1905, formulating the original communications base for college athletics.

This initial body called itself the Intercollegiate Athletic Association and was officialy constituted March 31, 1906. In 1910, the name was changed to the National Collegiate Athletic As-

Seven progressive decades have molded this original 13-member body into a membership today of more than 860 colleges, universities, conferences and affiliated organizations.

Administration and rules, interpretation occupied early efforts of the organization. Shortly after World War II, the NCAA adopted legislative and executive powers, changing its function into one dealing with virtually all issues concerned with intercollegiate athletics.

Service first

Many things have become associated with the NCAA during its colorful history. Highest priority goes to the service it provides to more than 860 members, acting as the true "voice" of college athletics today.

Each January the NCAA membership comes together at the annual Convention to review, propose and amend legislation. The Convention presents the opportunity for the nation's institutions of higher learning to speak and act on athletic matters at the national level

Commonwealth Stadium

ommonwealth Stadium, the University of Kentucky's football facility, is located on an 86-acre tract on the Kentucky Experimental Station Farm grounds south of the main campus. Completed in 1973, the concrete and steel cantilevered structure replaced Stoll Field, where Wildcat football teams had played since their begin-

Constructed by Huber, Hunt & Nichols, Inc., the facility has a capacity of 50,000 sideline seats, with end zone bleachers swelling the total to 58,000.

Bids for the stadium were opened in mid-July 1972, and construction began a short while later.

The pressbox, located between the two levels on the south side of the playing field, is serviced by two elevators and contains a main working area, radio booths, food service areas, private booths and a camera deck extending along the entire front of the box.

Thirty-four concession areas and 30 restrooms are located conveniently throughout the facility. Four first aid stations with emergency health equipment also are provided. There are four major pedestrian ramps at each corner of the stadium and 40 ramp exits to

The area immediately surrounding the stadium contains 6,000 parking spaces, with half of those paved and the other half in grass with gravel driveways. Another 8,500 parking spaces are located within a mile, all north, of the stadium.

The playing surface was sodded in Kentucky bluegrass in July 1973, and this was replaced with Bermuda in 1974. A fairly new scoreboard was moved from Stoll Field and installed with a similar scoreboard at the new stadium

By action of the University Board of Trustees, the general area encompassing the old Wildcat playing field, located first on what is now an intramural field, was dedicated Oct. 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University. Soon after the first sections of the concrete stadium on Euclid Avenue were completed Sept. 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

Kentucky Athletics Director Cliff Hagan has also announced a study be conducted to expand Commonwealth Stadium's seating capacity within the next five years. The expansion would call for enclosing one end zone. The seating capacity for Commonwealth Stadium would then jump to 73,000.

Hopes Are High for Lady Kats Basketball

The first-year coaching team of Terry Hall and Dottie Berry has a tough act to follow — the 1979-80 version of the Lady Kats produced a 24-5 overall record and an unblemished 14-0 mark in the Kentucky Women's Intercollegiate Conference.

But Hall thinks last season's tough act will provide incentive for an even tougher squard this year.

"Once you taste success," she said, "you work even harder. Our girls want to obtain the same status and success as last year, so they work a little harder."

The Lady Kats return seven players from last year's squad plus a talented freshman crop that includes 5-10 guard Lisa Collins, a first-team Parade All-American from three-time Kentucky girl's state basketball champion Laurel County, and 5-11 guard Kathy Lokie, a two-time All-District and All-City Champion from Chesapeake, Va.

"Collins and Lokie can add depth to our squad immediately," Hall said.

She also said newcomers Jody Runge (6-4 F), Beth Kogoy (5-10 G) and Lynette Lewis (5-9 G) would be helpful in coming off the bench.

Hall is particularly excited about the veteran players on her squad.

"All seven returnees are really strong players," she said. "And experience wise, they're not going to make freshmen mistakes."

The team's four sophomores, Hall said, are the "main nucleus of the team"

Valerie Still, the 6-1 forward/center who averaged 22.1 points per game during her sensational freshman year, has apparently recovered fully from an illness she contracted while playing in an exhibition basketball game in Taiwan.

"Valerie is not showing any effects from her illness," Hall said.

Still is a member of the sophomore foursome that includes 5-7 guard Patty Jo Hedges, who with 141 assists her freshman year became UK's all-time assists leader; 5-7 guard Lea Wise, who averaged 8.2 points and 2.2 rebounds per game, and 5-8 guard Lori Edgington, last year's winner of the UK

Alumni 110 per cent award

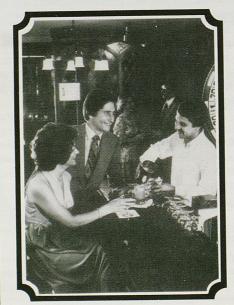

The upperclassmen include 5-10 junior forward Tayna Fogle, who averaged 4.8 points and 3.7 rebounds per game last year; 5-11 senior center Maria Donhoff, UK's fifth all-time leading scorer, and 6-4 senior Liz Lukschu, who is UK's second all-time leading scorer with a career total of 1,084 points

"Each year I've seen Liz play," Hall said, "she's improved greatly. She will continue her leaderhsip role."

The Lady Kats were ranked No. 10 in Street and Smith's preseason basket-ball poll. However, three UK opponents were also ranked in the top ten (Tennessee at No. 2, Rutgers at No. 4 and South Carolina at No. 6).

"Of course," Hall said, "we'd like to make it to the final four, but any time you play ranked teams, it's not easy."

Of major significance in the area of medical research is the recent opening of the Sanders-Brown Research Center on Aging, one of the first facilities of its kind in the nation. The building, made possible by a matching grant from the John Y. Brown, Jr. Foundation, will enable UK scientists and researchers to study the biological aspects of aging with the ultimate goal of improving the quality of life for the elderly.

School spirit is on a continuous high at UK. The 1979-80 cheerleading squad was judged the second best collegiate cheerleader in the nation. The Kentucky band receives standing ovations whereever it appears.

The University has had only eight presidents since its founding in 1865. Dr. Otis Singletary, now in his 12th year as UK president, is a history scholar and nationally-recognized university administrator. He came to Kentucky from Texas where he served as executive vice chancellor for academic affairs of the University of Texas system.

Roark Lends Experience "Up-Front"

Roark has been the anchorman for a young, injury-riddled offensive line bone attack against Georgia. Through it all, Roark has played very well, made all the changes with few mistakes, and has not missed a game yet.

The center on any football team is hardly in the limelight. He's rarely the guy you think of as leading the team. The only time a center really gets any attention is when a snap is fumbled. Yet his job is a delicate one. Not only must the center first set the play in motion by getting the ball to the quarterback, but he also must be an effective blocker. Roark has done both well Extremely well.

"Playing center just comes natural to me," he said. "I've done it so much. It's like everything else in football, there are no special rules that protect a

"A good center needs to have good quickness, good technique and be able to get the ball to the quarterback everytime. Your job can be difficult at times when a new quarterback comes in. You have to concentrate harder on getting the ball into his hands."

Cimply put, Ken Roark should be an All-SEC candidate, and possibly All-American

But when you play for a team that has not had a spectacular season, it is hard for an offensive lineman to get conference or national recognition.

Ken Roark, however, is just too good to be passed over.

This year, not one of the better ones in Wildcat football history, Roark has been the anchorman for a young, injuryriddled Kentucky offensive line. He has had to bring along several youngsters in the line, as he is the only senior that UK has up-front. In addition, Roark has had to make at least three major transitions during the season: the Cats started out using the veer offense, and staying primarily on the ground. Then Coach Fran Curci switched his offense after the Oklahoma game, the second contest of the season, to a more passoriented game. After staying with the passing offense, which was exciting, but not effective enough for UK to win consistently, Curci went to the wish-

Roark has been playing center for a long time — for someone with his build (6-3, 230-pounds), it would seem likely that he would play in the middle of the line. He's always played the position well, since he was put there at the beginning of his freshman year of high school at Middlesboro (KY) High. While with the Yellow Jackets, Roark was awesome. He played both ways — offense and defense. Even more impressive is that he played the middle line on both sides of the ball — at center on offense and noseguard on defense.

But Roark was successful at it. The UK senior was a four-year letterman, and twice was named to the All-State team. During his tenure with the Jackets' football squad, the team compiled a 32-11 record. He was also named to the All-District team in basketball and played baseball as catcher with Middlesboro.

Then he came to Kentucky. At first, it was hard to break in. He started out by playing primarily with the Junior Varsity in 1976. In 1977 he was red-shirted. Then he made the big time. He played in all 11 games for UK in 1978, and started a Wildcat victory (24-17) against Ole Miss in Oxford in 1978. Against the Rebels, he was in on an incredible number of plays (88). From then on, Roark has started with the varsity, except for two games in mid-season last fall when he was felled with an injury.

This season, the history major has been named to one of the highest honors any Kentucky football player can achieve: he's co-captain of the squad along with Tim Gooch. What are some of his goals?

"We're real young. I'm the only senior in the offensive line," he said. "All the seniors, and everybody else on the team for that matter, want to go out a winner, do a good job. I also want to help the younger guys as much as I can.

According to Roark, having a good game for a center would be "making all the right blocks, and having few fumbled snaps from center."

While some offensive linemen insist that pass blocking is easier than runblocking, Roark couldn't agree.

"I'd just as soon do one as the other," he said. "Neither one of them is very easy, so you can't really compare the two. Both take a lot of concentration and a lot of technique. Those are the keys to a good offensive lineman."

With this being his last season, Roark definitely has his eye on the future.

"I would like to get a shot at the pros.

If I get drafted, I'll surely give it a shot."

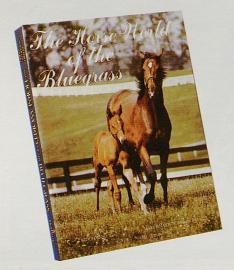

And what if you don't?

"I'd like to go into coaching and teaching. I haven't thought just a whole lot about that, though."

Ken Roark, a history major, hopes for either a pro career, or to go into coaching and teaching.

points on the board — but all to no avail. Curci inserted Larry McCrimmon at quarterback and changed the offensive alignment to the wishbone, but the 'Dog defense was too tough. Walker got 131 yards on the night, and the methodical Georgia offense put the game away in the second period.

Tulane

Nothing could have prepared the Wildcats for the shocker in the New Orleans Superdome. After being down 21-3 late in the first half, quarterback Larry McCrimmon directed his team 78 yards in 28 seconds closing out the first-half scoring with Tom Griggs' second of three field goals. The Cats took up where they left off in the second half, the key play being an 18-yard TD pass from McCrimmon to Greg Wimberly.

Victory turned into defeat when, with just 12 seconds to play, Green Wave quarterback Nickie Hall's desperation passes resulted in two interference penalties which allowed Vince Manalla to kick a 22-yard field goal with time expired to win the game 22-21.

The bitter defeat overshadowed a fine offensive showing by Larry Mc-Crimmon who connected on 16 out of 30 passes and showed the poise of a senior (he's a sophomore). The controversial finish seemed only to stiffen the Wildcat players' resolve to salvage the season with victories over Florida and arch-rival Tennessee.

Vanderbilt

The Wildcats celebrated Homecoming and took out their season-long frustration on the Vanderbilt Commodores, winning 31-10. Larry McCrimmon had a field day, hitting 19 out of 30 passes for 272 yards. Greg Wimberly and Allan Watson were the big targets and tight end Jim Campbell caught one TD toss. It wasn't until the final quarter, however, that Kentucky broke the spirit of the Commodores. With Vandy on the comeback trail behind only 17-10, McCrimmon marched the Wildcats down the field 81 yards for a score. The sophomore quarterback had gone out of the game with a strained knee but was able to come back for the salting away of the Commodores.

Piano Prince Plays UK

By Jackie Bondurant
UK Information Services

Victor Borge at UK Nov. 24.

The irrepressible piano prince of comedy — Victor Borge — will bring his one-man show to the University of Kentucky Center for the Arts on Monday, Nov. 24.

The second in the 1980-81 University Artist Series, Borge possesses a unique gift — he is an acclaimed musician with the rare ability to laugh at the music he worships, at life, and above all, at himself.

Borge studied at the Ostre Borgerdyd

Skole in Copenhagen and the Royal Danish Music Conservatory. His first steady job — he claims this is the absolute truth — was assistant forganist in the chapel of a cemetery in Copenhagen.

In true fairy tale fashion, Borge came to America penniless in 1941, learned English by attending gangster and Disney movies, and began his classical rise to fame. His first exposure to American audiences came on Bing Crosby's Kraft Music Hall national radio show. The response was so overwhelming he stayed 56 weeks and was named "Comedy Find of the Year" by the nation's radio columnists. The Victor Borge Show and other radio shows became immediate hits.

In 1953, Borge opened his one-man show on Broadway for a record-shattering 849 performances. Since then it is estimated that his ever-changing concert and stage presentations have been enjoyed by over 8,500,000 people in more than 4,300 live performances.

While Borge's comic reputation has been built on his not playing the piano, he really does posses a magnificent gift that amazes audiences when he does play.

This season, he will again be "on the road" to the world's cities, big and small; produce an all new television special; return to Las Vegas, and make another appearance on Broadway. Borge also is scheduled to be a guest conductor with various symphony orchestras, including the New York Philharmonic and the London Symphony.

As one critic wrote, "Borge has brought new audiences to the concert halls by making them feel comfortable with the music."

Tickets for the Nov. 24 concert are $10 each for the general public and $6 for students. For reservations or information, contact the ticket office, located in the east corner of UK's new Center for the Arts, or telephone (606) 258-2680. The ticket office is open weekdays from noon to 4 p.m.

Joe Hall, head coach.

The 1980-81 edition of the Kentucky basketball Wildcats, ranked number one in several preseason polls, will attempt to use talent, size, quickness, and youthful enthusiasm to offset inexperience as it battles for conference and national honors.

Nine of last season's 12 lettermen return, including three starters, but the 1980-81 roster includes only two seniors and two juniors. Five sophomores and four freshmen — the top ranked recruiting classes of the last two seasons — give Coach Joe B. Hall's Wildcats a very youthful appearance.

Starters Kyle Macy and LaVon Williams and top reserve Jay Shidler ended their Kentucky careers last season.

Kentucky's three returning starters top the list of young and talented returnees. Sam Bowie (7-1, C) gained valuable experience with the United States Olympic basketball team this summer and appears ready for a superb sophomore season. Bowie led the 1979-80 Wildcats in rebounding (8.1 rpg.) and ranked second to Macy in scoring (12.9 ppg.)

"Sam gained immeasureable experience and confidence this summer with the Olympic team," Hall said. "Many players would have become complacent after the type of success Sam had this summer, but it's quite the opposite with him. He has rededicated himself and has increased his size and strength and is becoming a team leader."

Fred Cowan (6-8, F) has added 50 pounds to his frame since coming to Kentucky three years ago. The senior from Sturgis, Ky. was sensational in the clutch last season, scoring 27 points in the SEC clincher against LSU and 26 in the NCAA tournament against Duke.

"Fred is a senior who is exhibiting senior leadership," Hall said. "We expect an outstanding senior season from Fred, and if he picks up where he left off last season, he'll be one of the top forwards in the country."

Dirk Minniefield (6-3, G) started 18 of the last 19 games in 1979-80, and Hall calls him the "key to Kentucky's offense and defense." The probable starter at point guard, Minniefield averaged 5.0 points and ranked second on the team in assists (126) last season.

Juniors Chuck Verderber (6-6, F) and Bo Lanter (6-1, G) and senior Chris Gettelfinger (6-2, G) will be counted on to provide leadership for the many Wildcat underclassmen. Verderber started one game last season and averaged 3.0 points and 2.2 rebounds. Lanter came off the bench and gave the Wildcats lifts on several occasions. Gettelfinger's work and determination that enabled him to earn a scholarship after coming to Kentucky as a walk-on typifies "Wildcat spirit," according to Hall.

Joining Bowie and Minniefield in Kentucky's sophomore contingent are Derrick Hord (6-6, F-G), Charles Hurt (6-6, F) and Tom Heitz (6-8, F). Hord played in all 35 games last season and started two. He averaged 5.9 points and 2.5 rebounds. The Bristol, Tenn., native is slated for swingman duty this season and has lost 10 pounds in anticipation of playing the guard position.

Hurt also played in all 35 games, with one start. He averaged 3.9 points and 2.5 rebounds. Hall calls his jumping ability "legendary." Heitz made more progress than any player on the team during the offseason, according to the coaching staff. He was one of the top weightlifters in the Wildcat preseason conditioning program.

Four prep All-Americans make up Kentucky's 1980-81 freshman class. The newcomers are Jim Master (6-4, G), Melvin Turpin (7-0, C), Bret Bearup (6-9, F), and Dicky Beal (5-11, G). Master was Indiana's "Mr. Basketball" following a brilliant career at Paul Harding High School. He averaged 27.8 points and hit 52 percent of his field goal attempts Turpin, who prepped at Lexington's Bryan Station High School, spent last season at Fork Union Military Academy in Virginia. He led his team to a 25-1 record by averaging 24.5 points, 14.2 rebounds, and 7.5 blocked shots.

Fred Cowan will provide senior leadership and sharpshooting around the basket.

Bearup averaged 28.5 points and 17 rebounds at Harborfields High School. Midwest Basketball News ranked him as the number one power forward prospect in the country.

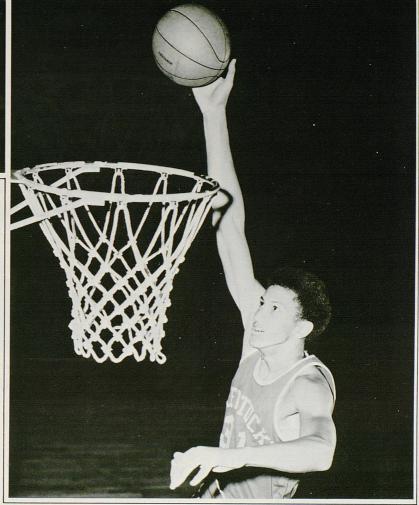

Beal was a four-year letterman at Covington's Holmes High Schol. He led his team to a 33-3 record last year with a 23.6 point scoring average. An excellent leaper, Beal also averaged 8.3 assists and hit 55 percent from the field as a high school senior.

"All of our freshmen are outstanding both on the floor and off," Hall said. "They are talented and also work very hard. We expect every one of them to contribute to our team this season."

The Wildcats began practice following what Hall termed "the best conditioning and weightlifting program we've ever had."

"Nearly every weightlifting and running record we have has been broken this season," he said. "If the work exhibited by our players during our conditioning program carries over, we will have an enthusiastic, determined team."

If the youthful talent blends together and does offset inexperience, the 1980-81 season should be another exciting one for Kentucky fans.

Sam Bowie could be a dominating force in the SEC this winter.

Alumni News

By Liz Demoran UK Alumni Editor

Parents are a special constituent group of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association. Through membership in the UK Alumni Association, parents receive a number of mailings each year to supplement the letters from their students.

The PAC (Parents Alumni Council) newsletter is sent once each semester with items of special interest to parents concerning student activities, fees, fads and fashion. There is a question and answer column in the newsletter that is based on questions the Association receives from parents.

In addition to the newsletter, parents receive a calendar of activities scheduled at the University each month. The brochure lists athletic, cultural and special events that the parents themselves may want to attend or may urge their children to see.

The Kentucky Alumnus magazine and the Open Door newspaper distributed to members of the Alumni Association are other sources of information about the University that are helpful to parents in knowing and sharing the college environment with their student.

Each year the Association hosts a parent-student seminar in conjunction with a weekend of activities that generally includes a basketball game in Rupp Arena. PAC members enjoy the same access to tickets to athletic events that alumni members have. The PAC is offered tickets to at least one football and one basketball game each season on a first come-first served basis. Parents living in areas with organized alumni clubs are eligible to participate in all local programs which is another way to be a part of the University experience.

Parents receive all these benefits of the Parents Alumni Council in addition to the benefits of associate membership in the Alumni Association for the same annual fee charged to regular members of the Assocation — $18 per couple; $15 single parent.

If you are already a member of the UK Alumni Association, but do not receive PAC mailings, let the Alumni Association know that you have a student on campus by sending his or her name and expected year of graduation to the Alumni Office. Parents of students are invited to join now by sending their check for $18 per couple; $15 per single parent to the UK Alumni Association, Lexington, KY 40506, along with the student's name and expected year of graduation.

AND THAT'S THE WAY IT WAS

Id-time Kentucky fans still talk about it--1950. The mere mention of that year brings back memories of "Sweet Kentucky Babe" Parilli, an All-American quarterback who led the Cats to 10 victories in 11 tries and a Sugar Bowl upset over national champion Oklahoma; Bob Gain, the big agile lineman who was the Outland Trophy winner that year and was recently elected to the College Football Hall of Fame; and Coach Bear Bryant, now on the verge of becoming the winningest college football coach ever.

That Wildcat team combined two elements to help them win: a passing offense and a tenacious defense. In the first four games of the year, against North Texas State (25-0), LSU (14-0), Ole Miss (27-0) and Dayton (40-0), Gain led the defense to shutouts while Parilli passed and ran the offense to impressive victories.

The season started Sept. 16 in Lexington against North Texas State. Gain, co-captain with Wilbur Jamerson.

Babe Parilli

blocked a North Texas punt, picked up the ball on the 30 and returned it to the 19 to set up a TD plunge by Parilli. In the meantime, Parilli got the job done against the Mean Green, despite suffering a groin injury. The nifty quarterback completed 4 of 11 passes for 40 yards and scored a touchdown. A few of his passes missed their marks, but others were bull's-eyes with such force that receivers couldn't hang on to them. Following the North Texas State rout, Gain and Jamerson led the squad in wind sprints.

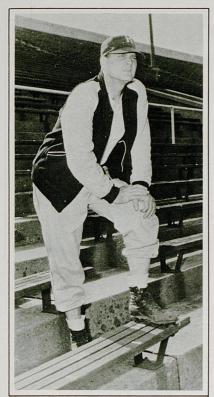

While Parilli recovered from his injury at the UK infirmary the week before the LSU game in Lexington, he was also studying the game plan. Bryant made sure of that

"Coach Bryant came to me with the whole offense against LSU," Parilli recalled in 1975. "He threw them out on the bed and said, 'Learn them.' I couldn't walk, I couldn't move, but that Saturday night I was out there playing. The guy was something else. He believed you could do anything you wanted to. He was a great motivator. He got you up for a game better than anyone I know."

Indeed. Bryant, at age 66, is now on the threshold of breaking Amos Alonzo Stagg's victory total of 314. He should reach it sometime next season.

But against LSU, Parilli, ailing as he was, completed seven of 20 passes for 48 yards and threw only one interception in the game. Late in the first half, linebacker Harold Woodell intercepted an LSU pass. Bill Leskovar carried a Parilli handoff to the one yard line, and then scored on the next play. Parilli scored the second TD on a one-yard sneak to make the final score 14-0, Cats.

The next weekend, Parilli helped down Ole Miss by completing two long passes to Al Bruno as Kentucky blanked the Rebels 27-0. Against Dayton, he threw four touchdown passes and scored on a 38-yard run for a 40-0 win. Parilli did all his damage in the first half, as he sat out the whole second half.

Parilli threw five touchdown passes to tie a conference record, as he led the Wildcats to a 41-7 win over Cincinnati. He hit 18 of 29 passes for an SEC record 338 yards in that game. Bruno caught three of the scoring passes.

Kentucky blitzed through the rest of the season beating Villanova 34-7 in Philadelphia, Georgia Tech 28-14 in Atlanta, Florida 40-6 in a Lexington snow storm, and Mississippi State, with the Maroon defense ranked No. 1 nationally, 48-21.

"Coach Bryant came to me with the whole offense against LSU," Parilli recalled in 1975. "He threw them out on the bed and said, 'Learn them.' I couldn't walk, I couldn't move, but that Saturday night I was out there playing."

Before the annual blood-letting with Tennessee, the Wildcats killed North Dakota by an embarrassing score of 83-0 as Parilli basically only played in the first half, but completed 15 of 20 passes for 198 yards and five TDs.

Then came the UT game in freezing Neyland Stadium. Parilli hit 14 of 31 passes in the snow and Gain led the defense in an outstanding effort, but the Cats lost it 7-0.

After the disappointing season-ending loss, Kentucky players debated going to a post-season bowl. The Cats opted to take a Sugar Bowl bid and play undefeated Oklahoma who supported a 31 game winning streak. Parilli, Gain and Co. halted the Sooner express with a 13-7 upset of the national champions.

Kentucky walked away from 1950 with an 11-1 record and their first and, up to 1975, only SEC championship.

Parilli finished the year as the nation's fourth leading passer and was sixth in the country in total individual offensive gain. He was named by an Associated Press poll as the conference's best passer and most valuable player, an honor he also received from the Nashville Banner and the Birmingham and Atlanta Touchdown clubs.

Gain earned the Outland Trophy and went on to star in the professional ranks with the Cleveland Browns.

Russell Rice was named sports information director at U.K. in May, 1969, after serving two years as assistant to Ken Kuhn, who retired after more than two decades of service with the University. Rice came to the Wildcats from The Lexington Leader, where he was a general reporter eight years and sports editor five years. A native of Paintsville, Ky., he won letters in football, basketball and baseball at Van Lear High, served with the U.S. Marines in World War II, attended Kentucky Wesleyan College and received his bachelor's at the University of Kentucky in 1951

He has served as manager of the NCAA Mid-East Basketball Tournament (1969), and chairman of the Basketball Hall of Fame Committee of the College Sports Information Directors Association and was recipient of the 1971 Churchmen's "Sportswriter of the Year" award.

As a newspaperman, his duties ranged from agricultural hearings in Washington to spending three months as the traveling companion to a Kentucky gubernatorial candidate. He reported the activities of such Wildcat teams as football coach Charlie Bradshaw's "Thin Thirty" and "The Runts" of basketball coach Adolph Rupp. He is a former Kentucky area correspondent for Time-Life-Fortune magazines and was Kentucky editor of Tobacco Magazine and Religious News Service.

For the past 13 years, he has pursued a hobby of researching Kentucky basketball and football. He authored "The Wildcats: A Story of Kentucky Football," and "The Big Blue Machine: A Story of Kentucky Basketball." His latest work is the Kentucky portion of a "History of the Southeastern Conference." He edits the K-Men's Newsletter and has been named an honorary member of that organization. He also was honored by WAVE-TV for "Outstanding Contribution to Televised Sports." He was the first member of the Southeastern Conference Publicity Directors Association to be elected to a two-year term (1977-78) and recently completed his second year as president of the Blue Grass (Kentucky) chapter of the U.S. Harness Writers Association, which was organized in

He is married to the former Doris Thacker of Knott County. They have four children - Mrs. Rodney Morris of Louisville, Mrs. Mike Covington of Georgetown, Russell James and Kim of Lexington.

A Chess Player, a Flying Wedge... and the Rest is History

by JACK FALLA Free-lance Writer

It is hard for us to imagine, in this day of wide open football, the fear and confusion a chess player struck in the hearts of football players 88 years ago.

Loris F. Deland's "flying wedge" was a tactic so brutal in design and execution that it threatened the future of college football and the lives of the boys who played it.

Mass-attack plays were nothing new. Even before 1892, there was Princeton's "V-trick" and Yale's "wedge," both sort of moving huddles in which blockers escorted the ball carrier downfield amidst pushing and shoving reminiscent of a rugby scrum. As an index of the game's roughness in those early days, one of the approved tactics for stopping the wedge was for a defensive player to give the lead man a hard slap in the nose — all in good sport, old boy.

The "flying wedge" hardly qualified as sport. This was the embodiment of the chessboard principle of concentration of force wedded to the Napoleonic maxim of "multiplying mass by rapidity." It was a mass-momentum play.

Deland, a Boston contractor, chess expert, student of military tactics and Harvard football fan (though not an alumnus), desinged the play for Harvard captain Bernard Trafford, who chose to unveil it at the start of the second half of the 1892 game against — who else? — Yale.

Try to imagine it. Here is Trafford at midfield tossing the ball to fullback Charlie Brewer and here, never before seen on a football field, comes the full force of the "flying wedge." Actually, two wedges. Slashing across from right to left comes a file of four of Harvard's biggest players, shock troops aimed at splitting Yale's right end and right tackle. The second wedge is a fiveman, diamond-shaped affair that follows the four-man wedge into the same end-tackle hole, providing a sort of flying interference for the ball carrier. The play gained 30 yards the first time it was used.

Similar mass-momentum plays raised the level of football violence to a point where players were being killed and maimed. In 1905, the toll of Saturday afternoon dead came to 18, with another 149 seriously injured. And throughout it all, laments football historian Alexander M. Weyand in "The Saga of American Football," "no authoritative body could take the necessary action."

Even President Theodore Roosevelt met with limited success at his famous October 9, 1905, White House football conference, wherein he charged the game's leaders with reforming football before he or Congress outlawed the game.

It was then that Henry M. McCracken, chancellor of New York University, Made the single most important decision in the history of football and, arguably, in the history of college sport. McCracken called a meeting of his own on December 28, 1905, at the Murray Hill Hotel in New York City. Out of this meeting came the rules changes that, in the words of Yale coach Walter Camp, "reinstated football in popular favor."

Also, though less ballyhooed, there came out of these meetings a supposedly "educational organization," a loose alliance of colleges called the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the U.S. In 1910, the name was changed to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The rest, as the saying goes, is history, in this case 75 years worth of history never before published in one book but now in progress and scheduled for release in the fall of 1981.

History is the action of people. The official 75-year history of the NCAA will be the flesh-and-blood story of the people, the actions and the issues that brought the NCAA from a small coalition to its current position as the most influential organization in college athletics

It will be a history alive and charged with individuality. It will cover all of the major issues — the NCAA's influence in sports broadcasting, the development and failure of the famous "Sanity Code" followed by the slow, steady among the NCAA, Amateur Athletic Union and U.S. Olympic Committee; an account of the growth of women's athletics and the impact of Title IX, and a look at the evolution of the various championship series and rules changes that have influenced the history and direction of college sport.

The official history of the NCAA will interest everyone whose attraction for college sports extends beyond yesterday's game and this morning's agate.

It may even catch the eye of another chess player.

JEFF FOSSETT of Frankfort also is co-captain of this year's squad. This is his third year on the UK varsity squad. Jeff was a cheerleader at Franklin County High, and this summer taught cheerleading with the Universal Cheerleading Association.

SANDRA BURTON of Frankfort also is a telecommunications major and cheered with Jeff at Franklin County High. She worked as an intern this past spring with a television station and would like to go into broadcasting after graduation in May.

JIMMY MORTIMER of Glasgow is a junior majoring in business administration. This summer he worked in Glasgow with a magazine printing company. "One magazine featured a full-color picture of Paula Sumner (another Wildcat cheerleader) on the cover," he said. "It was strange to look up and see 10,000 Paulas whizzing past you on the printing press."

JENNIFER PARKS of Harrodsburg majors in psychology and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Parks.

"I'm having trouble with my knees," she explained. "The doctors thought if I rested during the summer -- I usually teach cheerleading during the summer -- I could finish this season without problems."

MARK WINGATE of Frankfort is the third member of the squad to come from Franklin County High School, joining Sandra Burton and Jeff Fossett. This is his first year on the varsity squad. Last year, he was on the Lady Kats cheerleading team.

PAULA SUMNER of Louisville is beginning her third year on the UK varsity squad. A senior majoring in special education, she will graduate in May and would like to become a teacher --preferably in Kentucky.

LEE ACKISS was born in Germany -- while his dad was stationed there in the U. S. Army. The Ernest L. Ackiss family now lives in Lexington. Lee graduated from Henry Clay High School

A newcomer to the UK varsity squad, Lee was a walk-on last spring for the Lady Kat squad.

MONA WILSON of Lexington is another newcomer to the UK varsity squad. A graduate of Lafayette High School, she has been a cheerleader since the age of eight. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson, she was a Lady Kat cheerleader for two years.

This summer Mona was a park director at Lexington's Southland Park.

GREG MEDLEY of Louisville is a senior majoring in marketing and advertising. This is his second year as a varsity cheerleader. A graduate of Bishop David High School, he ran cross country and track in high school.

LESLIE DAVIS of Louisville is a junior majoring in telecommunications at UK. A summer intern with a Louisville television station, she plans some day to work in sports broadcasting. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Davis, she is a graduate of Waggener High School.

TIM HUDSON of Henderson is a senior majoring in education at UK. An alternate on the UK squad, he worked this past summer for an industrial development firm in Henderson.

TOMI ANNE BLEVINS of Williamson, WV, is the youngest member of the cheerleading squad and an alternate. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack T. Blevins Sr., she was a cheerleader at Williamson High School.

Tomi majors in English at UK and plans to be a lawyer.
