The standing committees were then called upon for reports. The only report offered was that of the Committee upon Entertainments Non-Athletic, which was read by Professor Zembrod as follows:

"First meeting of the Committee on Entertainments Non-Athletic of the State University, Transylvania University, and the Women's Club of State University, was called to meet in Patterson Hall by Mrs. Lafferty, President of the Women's Club of State University.

The following committees were present: Dr. Irvin Irvin Myers, Professors Henry Lloyd and Clarence Freeman of Transylvania University; Mrs. Lafferty, Mrs. Zembrod and Miss Chinn, the committee appointed by the President of the Women's Club of State University; Miss Hamilton and A.C. Zembrod, members of the Committee for Entertainments Non-Athletic, Professor Frankel being the absent member. Professor Lloyd acted as chairman, A.C. Zembrod as secretary.

The object of this meeting was to discuss ways and means leading to a regulation of student functions, formal and informal.

The first meeting makes the following recommendations:

- (1) Formal social functions to be held on Friday, to close not later than one o'clock in the morning.
- (2) Informal social functions to be held on Saturday, to close not later than half-past eleven o'clock at night.
- (3) Social functions to be held on nights preceding a legal holiday, if said holiday does not fall on Sunday, to close not later than one o'clock a.m.
- (4) That informal functions should not close later than 12 p.m. on Friday.
- (5) That formal functions should close not later than 1 a.m. on Fridays.
- (6) That formal or informal functions or other entertainments held on Saturdays should close at 11:30 p.m.

A.C. Zembrod, Secretary. "

On motion it was ordered that the matters presented in this report for consideration by the faculty be referred back to the committee with power to act.

Lieut. Kelly submitted the following resolution relative to excuses from military drill:

"Resolved: That the President of the University shall have the power, when he deems it proper to exercise it, to excuse from military work those students who are working their way through the university, and who are dependent upon their labor to enable them to attend the university: Provided that the student desiring the above exemption shall certify upon honor that he is dependent upon his labor to enable him to attend the university, and that he will report for military work when he is no longer dependent, and will make up his two years of military work or such part of it as he is able to make up before he quits the university by graduation or otherwise: Provided further that in case the student is unable to make up his military work or any part of it before graduation, that the President may remove such delinquency in military work and allow the said student to graduate: Provided further that students in a department using the credit system must make up the credits lost through absence from military work in some other manner."

The resolution resulted in some discussion. Professor Miller suggested that exemption from military drill would not afford much relief to students desiring to work their way through the University unless they also received exemption from physical education. President Emeritus Patterson thought that it would not be lawful for the President to grant excuses to able-bodied students in view of his obligations to the Federal Government, which had been instrumental in establishing the land grant colleges, with the condition that such military service should be required of all ^{able bodied} students in such colleges. President Patterson stated that experiments in the past had been tried in giving partial exemption to students and that the plan worked badly and was finally abolished.

President Barker expressed his feeling that the whole matter should be carefully considered, and stated that he would, without objection, appoint a committee of the faculty to whom should be referred all questions regarding the legality and expediency of this proposed resolution. He appointed upon this committee Judge Lafferty, as chairman, with President Emeritus Patterson and Lieut. Kelly.

President Barker then referred to the fact that some interest had been aroused during the spring and fall terms relative to the idea of adopting the honor system among students of this University. He stated that the matter had been taken up anew this September by the students and that he favored the appointment of a special committee from the Faculty to act jointly with a body of students and report back to the faculty. On motion of Dr. Terrell, seconded by Vice-President White, it was ordered that such a committee be appointed. President Barker then named on this committee Vice-President White, as chairman, with Professors Tigert, Terrell, Freeman, Scovell and Hamilton.

President Barker also called attention to the fact that, owing to the large numbers of both men and women required to take work in physical training, difficulty had been found in securing both time and space for the work of Mrs. Stout and Professor Mustaine. He thought it would be advisable to have a committee appointed to make a study of the situation and adjust the relations between the two departments as far as possible. It was ordered upon motion of Professor Mustaine, seconded by Dr. Terzell, that such a committee be appointed, and the President named as the committee, Professor Anderson, chairman; Lieut. Kelly, Mustaine, Stout, Norwood and Rhoades. It was further agreed that this committee should have power to act.

An additional list was submitted by Professor Miller of those who had some conditions to remove, and concerning whom it was not yet determined whether they would accomplish this, the delay in determining their status in some cases not being due to the student's fault but to his inability to secure examinations.

An ad Boreing, Ivat Belle submitted by Professor Miller of those Hart, Derrillo Wason to remove, and concerning whom it was Hughes, Mary Irene whether they would accomplish this, the Park, Lily terminating their status in some cases not being Rochester, Nathaniel Gray but of his inability to secure examinations.

Professor Miller then read the following resolution which was adopted by the faculty of the College of Arts and Science:

"At a meeting of the Faculty of the College of Arts and Science on October 20, 1911, it was resolved that with the consent of the general faculty the present rule in regard to maximum credits any student might obtain in any year be so modified as to permit in special cases a greater number than 21.5 in each of the Freshman and Sophomore Years and 18 in each of the Junior and Seniors Years. On motion of Professor Anderson it was ordered that the Secretary be requested to have a list prepared of the candidates for the bachelor degrees so that the list might be sent to each member of the faculty.

It was ordered upon motion of Professor Rowe that Ernest Louis Becker and Floyd Reed Naylor be presented for the degree of Bachelor of Civil Engineering in December 1911, these men not having fully completed their work last June, and that they be considered as members of the class of 1911. After a brief discussion of the status of these men, a vote to re-consider the motion was carried and it was then ordered that the case of these men lie over until the next meeting, like those of the other candidates for degrees.

Professor Miller called the attention of the faculty to a communication he had received from Superintendent Cassidy of the City Schools in which complaint was made that the High School was being deprived of undergraduate students who were coming to the University, and it was claimed were being admitted to the Freshman Class. Attention of the faculty was called to several cases of this sort, and Professor Rhoades explained that these complaints in many cases arose from the fact that students had entered the Model School but had been given one or more studies in the Freshman Class, which resulted in their claiming, in their home communities, standing in the Freshman Class of the University. Professor Rhoades stated that it was the desire and purpose of his committee to investigate these complaints and to correct any errors that may have been made, as rapidly as possible.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

President of the University.

C. W. Mathews

Secretary of the Faculty.
