WELLINGTON PATRICK IS GIVEN SCHOLARSHIP TO COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

First Member of University Faculty to Receive Such Recognition

HEADS EXTENSION WORK

Plans to Enter New York City Institution Next September

The General Education Board of New York City has awarded a scholarship to Wellington Patrick, Director of University Extension at the University of Kentucky. Several such scholarships have been awarded to Kentuckians, but Mr. Patrick is the first member of the University of Kentucky faculty to receive such a scholarship.

For the past two years the General Education Board has had a policy of awarding scholarships to men engaged in education in the south, for the encouragement of further study, the idea being to send into the southern states as quickly as possible men well trained in educational administration, so the educational leadership in those states will be better equipped. The Board has in mind especially training men qualified for positions as city superintendents of schools, Deans of Normal Schools, and Deans and Professors in teachers colleges and teacher training institutions. The policy provides for the payment of a regular salary while such persons are engaged in study, the usual amount stipulated being about $2,000 annually for mar-

THIRD ROMANY PLAY TO BE INTIMATE STRANGERS

Booth Tarkington's Famous Play To Be Week of March 24

The Romany Theatre will present as its third offering of the season, Booth Tarkington's famous play, "The Intimate Stranger," beginning March 24. It is a delightful and charming comedy written in the inimitable style that characterizes Tarkington's work. The story of the play concerns two romances and gives a vivid contrast between the old fashioned girl and the modern day flapper, a theme that is being much discussed.

This play was originally written by Mr. Tarkington for that most charming of American actresses, Miss Maud Adams, and was played by her with great success.

The cast has not yet been definitely decided upon but will be announced in the near future. The members of the cast will be from the Romany Players, a large number of whom have already endeared themselves to the Lexington theatre-goers by their remarkable work in the other two Romany productions, "Liliom" and "Mr. Pin. Passes By."

The scenery for the play will be designed and built by the Romany stage crew who also proved their aptness in the other plays. The scenes are laid in a small town in New York state, one set being a railway station while the rest of the action takes place in a delightful old Eastern home.

NOTICE!

A table cover has been taken from one of the tables at Patterson Hall. It is thought probable that some men students have carelessly picked it up without thinking that it was needed and inconsiderate of guests who partake of the hospitality of the girls' dormitories.

This is not the first piece of property to disappear from Patterson Hall and we wish to request that the men who visit the halls and fraternities conduct themselves as gentlemen and be careful not to deface or take any of the property from these places.

Will any men who know where these lost articles are pleased to see that they are returned without delay.

DISTRICT CONVENTION KAPPA SIG HERE MAR. 28

Prominent Officers of Fraternity to Attend the Bi-ennial Conclave

The ninth district of Kappa Sigma fraternity will hold its bi-ennial conclave with Beta Nu chapter, in Lexington, Ky., March 28-29. The ninth district consists of five active chapters: Kappa, at Vanderbilt University; Lambda, University of Tennessee; Phi, Southwestern Presbyterian University; Omega, University of the South (Sewanee); and Beta Nu, University of Kentucky, also three alumni chapters, at Memphis, Nashville and Louisville. The conclave will be held for the purpose of discussing problems which are now confronting fraternities, and also to discuss the secret work of the fraternity.

Each of the chapters in the district is requested to send two official delegates to the convention, and as many other members as wish to attend. Several of the high officials of the national fraternity will attend, and will speak on various subjects of interest to the conclave delegates.

Among these are: Beverly W. Howe, Worthy Grand Master of the fraternity; Finis K. Farr, fraternity historian, and Jesse T. Caldwell, scholarship commissioner. Other prominent members of the fraternity who will attend the conclave are: John Howe, of Carrollton, Ky., and John Ware, of Cleveland, O.

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, of the University of Kentucky, who is district Grand Master of District Nine, has been in charge of the major part of the arrangements for the conclave, and has some very entertaining things planned for the visitors. Among these is a dance to be given on the evening of the 28th and a banquet to be given on the evening of the 29th. It is expected that Kappa Sigmas from all surrounding territory will attend the conclave as it will afford them an opportunity of hearing the high officials of the fraternity speak on very interesting subjects.

NOTICE TO STAFF

There will be a meeting of the Kernel staff next Thursday at the fifth hour for the election of officers for next year. All staff members are requested to be present.

NOTICE TO SENIORS!

Each student who is a member of the class of 1924 is requested to come to the Registrar's office and make formal application for the degree desired. This includes all who will complete their work during the coming summer session. The cards furnished you, upon which the application is to be made, call for information which will be used as follows:

- (1) In preparation of the diplomas.
- (2) In publishing the commencement program.
- (3) In recommending to the University Senate the candidates for degrees.

(Your name will be placed on your diploma and on the commencement program exactly as it is written on the application.)

All applications will be referred to the respective deans for approval. No one will be considered who has not made application. We want the names of all who expect to be counted with the class of 1924.

Teachers or persons preparing to teach, should, in addition to the above, ask for special application blank for teachers, Very truly yours, Ezra L. Gillis, Registrar.

WHY ALL THE DELAY?

Students, do you realize that the fourth payment, due on January 1, is now more than two months over due? You are one of the 50 per cent. who still owe for that payment. It's no business of yours why somebody else has not paid, but why all the delay yourself? Soon another payment will be due. If the students right here on the campus do not keep up enthusiasm enough to meet the Greater Kentucky payments as they fall due, what can you expect of those hundreds of miles away who subscribed much heavier than you did?

UNIVERSITY RIFLE TEAM UNDEFEATED THIS YEAR

New Rifles Donated by President Frank L. McVey and Others

The Men's Rifle Team of the University of Kentucky has the distinction of being an undefeated team this year. This team represents the University and is making a remarkable record in states where it is not so well known, as in California, Alabama and Ohio, in producing a winning team, the University is placed in high regard by these schools in the Southland and elsewhere.

Both the men's and women's rifle teams have been firing these matches under difficulties, as there is not a sufficient number of high-powered rifles. President McVey, the sponsors and the "hop" committee each presented one of these rifles to the Military Department and money is being raised by the classes in military science to purchase other rifles.

In the match between the University of Illinois and the University of Kentucky ending March 8, our "musketiers" were victorious by the score of 1872 to 1849 points. The men on the team who fired were:

J. B. Phillips	.....193 points
C. C. Rice	.....192 points
J. C. Bobbitt	.....190 points
Mayo Anderson	.....190 points
M. A. Trusty	.....190 points
W. M. Weems	.....187 points
O. B. Tevis	.....186 points
George Woolf	.....180 points
G. D. Rogers	.....181 points
H. B. Brown	.....184 points

A match will be fired this week between the University of Indiana and the University of Kentucky.

DR. SHALER MATHEWS OF UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO SPEAKS HERE SATURDAY

Stresses Danger of Modern Youth Possessing Modern Powers

PRESENT YOUTH INHERITS

Says Youths Did Not Fight the War But Were in High School

Dr. Shaler Mathew, Dean of the theological school of the University of Chicago, spoke in chapel Saturday afternoon of the danger of allowing the modern youth to come in possession of all the powers of scientific invention and wealth which were earned by the past generation. President McVey introduced the speaker.

In stressing the plight of the young people he said, "Youth is but the grown movement without experience. I sympathize with the young people, but I do not envy them, for the past generation has achieved, the rising generation merely inherits. What is left for them to do? They can't discover the north pole, we have discovered that twice, there are no more frontiers for them to conquer."

The equality between the young men and women which has developed since women have been allowed to vote and the organization of young people under 25 years of age into groups which fix for themselves their own code of customs and morals were two distinct tendencies among modern youth citizens.

THE FIRST GAME PLAYED IN THE NEW BUILDING

The first game has been played in the new basketball building.

It was played by ten future students of the University who came to Lexington from Henderson High School and Manual High School in Louisville to compete in the State High School Tournament. The first laurels went to Manual 29 to 6 but the game was a better one than it sounds and all who saw the men on the two teams hope that they will soon be counted among the students of the University of Kentucky.

The bad weather early in the year created the general impression that the workmen would not be able to get the new building ready for the High School Tournament. However, during the last two weeks the work has been pushed night and day and on Thursday morning when the first teams appeared at the building they found the floor in excellent condition.

It is true that the building still presents an unfinished appearance both inside and out, but the roof is on and the floor is laid and polished so that things could not be better for the players if the structure was completed. The heating system on the days of the tournament has been rather primitive. Four sheetiron stoves with coal for fuel have sufficed to keep the building comfortable, for fortunately the weather has not been cold.

The seats are not yet in place but several hundred students and visitors have constantly occupied the places where the seats ought to be and from the interest they manifested in the games they evidently took no thought of the lack of cushions and chairs.

With the completion of the new building even to the point where it can be used in its present condition the Greater Kentucky campaign begins to see the harvest of its labors. Those who come to see the tournament know that they have not contributed in vain to a project destined to be indefinitely delayed.

It would have been better if the building could have been finished so that its beauty would have impressed the prospective students from the high schools as well as its space and utility. However, even in its present condition the beauty the building will possess when completed can not be denied by one who gives it the slightest attention.

CHICAGO CLUB GIVES DANCE

Annual Election of Officers Held During Intermission

A letter which just came to the office from Chicago Alumni Club contained an account of the club's annual dance and election of officers held Saturday night, March 1, at the Bismarck hotel.

The secretary's account of the dances says: "We had a dinner-dance starting at 7 o'clock and lasting until all present had enjoyed a delightful evening meeting old friends and making new ones. The usual Kentucky spirit prevailed and while the number in attendance was smaller than expected, it was a very successful affair."

The Chicago Club has a custom of electing officers for the year during an intermission of the annual dance. At the meeting this year, W. T. Woodson, class of '14, was elected president after serving last year as secretary-treasurer of the club. N. E. Philpot, class of '15, who has recently moved to Chicago from Buffalo and Cleveland, was elected secretary-treasurer. A vote of appreciation was given J. R. Watkins, class of '15, the retiring president, and Mr. Woodson for their past year's work in behalf of the club.

The club in Chicago announces that it has a number of meetings planned for this year, the next of which will be held at 12:30 o'clock on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, at Marshall Field's restaurant. For this occasion the club has issued a special invitation to its Irish members to be present.

LEXINGTON ALUMNI PLEDGE SUPPORT TO COACH MURPHY

At a banquet given at the Lafayette Hotel last Saturday night a group of loyal alumni of Lexington pledged their support to Coach Fred J. Murphy, in whose honor the dinner was planned.

About thirty Lexington business men who formerly attended the University or who are very much interested in its welfare were present. Judge R. C. Stoll, class of '95, presided as toastmaster. After a brief speech he introduced Coach Murphy, who outlined his policy and told what he hoped to accomplish here.

Coach Murphy is the new resident coach. He comes to the University of Kentucky with a very complimentary record and the first weeks of his stay at the University have made him very much respected by the students on the campus and the business men he has met in the city.

At the dinner last Saturday he said, "Character is the most important requisite of a football player. I hope to see my men develop self reliance. I would rather have them use their own judgment than mine on the field. After a preliminary glance over the men I am inclined to think we have a great deal of good material here for a football team."

The new coach has repeatedly stated that the people of Lexington have received him more cordially than any place he ever coached. At the dinner a number of addresses were made by alumni, who promised the new coach that so far as they were able, the spirit which had pleased him on his first appearance would continue to co-operate with him in his efforts to produce a good football team next fall.

SOME MORE ATHLETES

The Alumni Secretary has undertaken to stimulate the interest of the alumni who are teaching in the high schools of the state in influencing their students, especially promising athletes, to enter the University upon graduation from high school.

A number of letters have been written to high school professors asking for help and the names of students who might be influenced to come to Lexington to school. Most of the persons to whom letters were written have answered, pledging their support in gaining valuable recruits for the University from high school graduating classes. In most cases the letters enclosed a list of students who were favorable candidates for admission to the student body. The secretary has undertaken to correspond with as many of these students as possible.

A list of names will be furnished "Daddy" Boles, director of athletics, to supplement the list of possible football players with whom he is corresponding. The University is justifiable in using the influence of each alumnus in gaining for the institution any man who would be a valuable addition to one of the Varsity teams.

It is only through the combined efforts of the alumni out in the state that the athletic organization of the school can be maintained. Each semester some of the old reliable men graduate and their places must be filled. If the alumni cannot recommend Old State and recommend it highly, to all the promising athletes, the ever occurring vacancies cannot be satisfactorily filled.

An enthusiastic talk with a graduate of the college will do more to influence a high school boy's choice of a college than a bushel basket full of catalogues and written communications. Therefore the alumni office is looking to the men and women graduates out in the state to send up all their best material to be used in building up a "Greater Kentucky."

DO WRITE!

The recent request of the compiler of the Betwixt Us column for long and newsy letters drew the wonderful response of one letter. The editor of the column is still looking for the one you are going to write, because you always write such interesting letters when you write at all. Come on! Write!

Hon. Joe F. Bosworth, representative from the 84th district in the General Assembly of 1924, is a former student of the University. He has always been a loyal supporter of the Alma Mater. As a member of the Survey Commission in April, 1921, and member of the 1922 General Assembly—and at that time speaker of the house, he was active in all movements for the progress of the University. Mr. Bosworth resides in Middlesboro, Ky.

Although James A. Yates has been a life member of the Alumni Association for quite a few years, he continues to subscribe to its support very generously. He has been head of the Chemical & Physical Science Department at Kansas State Teachers College since 1921 and has been connected with that school for a much longer period. Professor Yates' interest and love for his Alma Mater has been expressed in many other ways. At the time the "monkey bill" was up before the General Assembly in the 1922 session, his was the influence that balanced the scale for Kentucky, a letter from him bringing the deciding vote to kill the bill. This is another proof that neither time nor distance need prevent an alumnus coming to the support of his Alma Mater in her time of need. Mrs. Yates was formerly Miss Elizabeth Bryant. Their family consists of two daughters and a son. The residence address is 112 East Lindberg Street, Pittsburg, Kans.

John William McFarlin is representative of the 27th District in the 1924 session of the House of Representatives. For a long while after graduating Mr. McFarlin was connected with the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. For the last several years he has been farming near Franklin, Ky. R. F. D. No. 2.

Hon. Arch L. Hamilton, another supporter of the University, is a former student. He was representative of Fayette County in the 1922 session of the General Assembly and is Senator from the 27th district in the 1924 session. Mr. Hamilton is a farmer and financier and resides at "Kirklevington," near Lexington, Ky.

'04

Hiram M. Brock, who is Senator from the 33rd district, 1924 General Assembly is a former student of the University, and has been a loyal supporter at all times. His home is at Harlan- Ky.

'06

Fred C. Mahan is a life member of the Alumni Association, having taken out life membership after graduating. He was in the government engineering service for several years and was last stationed at Manila, P. I. For several years now he has been connected with the Southern Mining Company, with offices at High Splint, Ky.

'08

Arthur Wallace Babbage practiced law very successfully at Pineville, Ky., for several years after he graduated. He has been identified with the development of the coal interests in Eastern Kentucky, and is now auditor of the Cornett-Lewis Coal Company, at High Splint, Ky. Mrs. Babbage was Margaret L. Crowder, also of the class of '08. There are two children, Richard Wallace, aged seven and Florence Kennedy, aged five.

'10

Alexander Frank Baker, Jr., with whom the Alumni Office had not been in touch with for several years, is now on the active list. He is with the advertising section of the News and Observer, Raleigh, N. C., postoffice box 11.

'12

An interesting letter reached the Alumni Secretary recently from Arthur H. Gernert, who is in Paris, France. Since leaving the American delegation last September, he has been selling phonograph records, but the drop in the franc ruined that business and he expects to get into consular service with the U. S. S. lines soon. He expects to come home next summer for a visit and it is rumored this will be a honeymoon with a Russian bride. Mr. Gernert sent some copies of the Legionnaire and asked for some U. K. publications in return. Permanent address is No. 5, rue du Lunain-Paris XIV.

"I am attaching check to cover second payment of my pledge to the Greater Kentucky Campaign fund and dues to the Alumni Association. I am wishing you all the luck in the world in your stadium work."—J. A. "Fred" Myers, M. of W. Division, Big Four Railroad Co., Gallon, O.

Harry B. Miller, representing the 76th district (city of Lexington) in the 1924 General Assembly, is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He held this office also in 1922 in the General Assembly and is always active in behalf of the Alma Mater. He is practicing law with his office at 705 Security Trust Bldg., Lexington, Ky. Duran K Tackett is accountant with the Combs Lumber Company Lexington, Ky. He married Miss Fontella Cogswell, August 14, 1914. They have one daughter, Billie, seven years old.

"I am enclosing check for the amount due on my pledge toward the stadium fund. I am anxious for this to go through so that Kentucky can take her place among the other great Universities of the South and so that every alumnus may point with pride to the achievement of his Alma Mater. There are two other Kentuckians with me here and they have done their bit and join me in good wishes for ultimate success."—R. Brooks Taylor, General Supt., Speer Carbon Co., St. Marys, Penna.

'16

"Enclosed find dues and checks on stadium fund pledges. We are located in Wayne, West Virginia, and like it fine. Claude (B. Taylor '15) is teaching vocational agriculture here and I am teaching science in the high school here. We are always glad to get the Kernel and read what the rest of the bunch are doing."—Mrs. Claude B. Taylor, nee Elizabeth Alexander.

WELCOME TO YOUR TOURNAMENT

The Kernel desires to welcome the young high school students from various parts of the state who are here for the sixth annual high school tournament to the campus and to the fellowship and good comradeship of their elder brethren and sisters of the university.

The occasion of the annual high school tournament is always fraught with happy experiences for the University students in that they thus have opportunity to get acquainted with and welcome young men and women who in other years will be their successors in the class rooms and upon the campus.

The Kernel congratulates the University upon its opportunity thus to entertain its guests and to get in return from them the inspiration that youth invariably imparts to the older grown.

The Kernel wishes to assure these young folk that their coming has been eagerly looked forward to and that more than half a hundred men have been busy for weeks, both night and day, in preparing for their use the magnificent basketball building which they have the honor to christen in the tournament.

It is a matter of peculiar pride and an occasion for congratulation that this tournament, which now involves the honorable and friendly contests of representatives from more than 36 high schools in Kentucky, has grown steadily, even enthusiastically, from the small beginning of a gathering of 18 high schools until it now involves more than 210 schools in its district meets.

The Kernel calls upon the students of the University to extend to these young folk every courtesy at their command and make them feel that this is their University, and that we want them here.

In behalf of the University we wish to thank the sororities and fraternities of this institution that are co-operating so admirably with its athletic association in opening their homes to these young folk during the period of their visit.

NO RETRACTION

Several weeks ago there appeared in the editorial column of the Kernel and indictment of the publishers of the various so-called scandal sheets that have appeared on the campus of the University from time to time during the current session. This editorial has caused quite a bit of comment and criticism from some students. The Kernel wished to retract nothing from what was said and the only comment that we could possibly make is that we perhaps did not say enough.

Never before in the history of the University have men supposed to be Kentucky gentlemen and students stooped so low as to publish papers concerning material such as appeared in some of these publications. The material was such that some men to hesitate to tell and its effect upon the women of the institution can easily be seen.

When men of the University go to such lengths with their coarse and low grade humor as to cast slurs at the good name of some of the women students then it is time to call a halt.

The forerunner of all these publications, "The Yellow Streak" was published by women students and had in it nothing but clean and good natured jokes. It did not direct its jokes at people for the purpose of injuring. Neither did it sink to the vulgar to obtain a laugh.

We merely wish to make it plain that we do not retract anything from what was said in the first editorial and wish to add further that gentlemen of the highest type will not countenance such publications to say nothing of helping in their publication.

We wish also to say that we do not include in our list of outlaw publications "The Meow."

PLANS FOR SENIOR TRIP

Buffalo, Pittsburgh and New York Clubs to Help Entertain

Plans for the Senior Engineering trip have been completed and the schedule announced. The Buffalo Club has made all the plans for the Engineers while they are in Buffalo. Plans for the trip were given the Alumni Office by Prof. W. E. Freeman of the College of Engineering. The Senior Engineers will leave Lexington April 3 and arrive in Pittsburgh Friday morning, April 4. In Pittsburgh they will visit the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company on Friday and the Colfax Power Station on Saturday. They may also visit the Rochester Glass Works and the Art Gallery of the Carnegie Institute.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Club will entertain the visitors at a banquet Friday night. Sunday the crowd will arrive in Buffalo. They will go in the afternoon to Niagara Falls. Monday the Niagara Falls Power Company plant and the Carborundum Company will be visited. Tuesday the plants of the Larkin Company and the Bethlehem Steel Company will be visited and Wednesday the American Brass Company, Research Laboratory of the American Radiator Company and the Pierce Arrow Motor Car Company will be inspected.

The crowd will visit a number of plants Thursday and at 7:30 o'clock return to the Hotel Lafayette for a banquet where the Senior party will be the guests of the Buffalo Alumni Club. The Buffalo Club has gone to great trouble to plan the trip for the members of the senior class in engineering and will help entertain them while they are in Buffalo.

All the party is invited to attend a banquet given by the New York Alumni Club at the Waldorf-Astoria Friday, April 11. The hospitality shown by the different alumni clubs where the party will stop is very gratifying to the officers of the college and shows the value a real enthusiastic Alumni Club may be to the undergraduates of its Alma Mater.

You know tobacco is a vegetable; it grows out of the ground, and when it's green, it is too harsh and strong to smoke. The very best way to remove that harshness and bitterness is by thorough ageing in wood. To age Velvet Tobacco in wood is expensive for us—yes, very expensive, and it takes time, but it gives you a milder, cooler smoke with a finer flavor.

ried men. This policy is a distinct advance over the scholarship and fellowships ordinarily granted by colleges and universities, the latter usually being limited to $700 or $800 a year, and sufficient only to defray part of one's expenses while engaged in study. Owing to the liberal financial allowance made in the General Education Board scholarships, they have been much more sought after recently. Five were granted in Kentucky last year and three have been announced in Kentucky this year. These scholarships have been granted only to the south, no scholarship being granted so far north of the Mason and Dixon line.

Although Mr. Patrick is the first member of the University faculty to receive such a scholarship, some of the former students of the University have received them. Some of those now holding scholarships are Dean H. L. Donovan of Eastern State Teachers' College at Richmond; A. L. Crabbe of Eastern Teachers' College at Bowling Green; John Howard Payne, former City superintendent of schools at Richmond; and A. B. Crawford, city superintendent of schools at La-Grange. Dean Donovan and Superintendent Payne are both graduates of the University, as well as Mr. Crawford. It is expected that the General Education Board will announce other appointments in the near future.

Mr. Patrick has been Head of the Department of University Extension at the University since 1919. For two years, he was Director of the summer session at the University. Since September, he has been a member of the staff of the new College of Education, and is now teaching courses in Education in that College in addition to directing the work of the Department of University Extension.

Mr. Patrick was a former student at the University of Kentucky. In 1915, he received the A. B. degree from Geo. Washington University, Washington, D. C., and in 1917, he received the M. A. degree from the same institution. He has been at the University of Kentucky since 1918. He is a native Kentuckian; he was born in Magoffin county, but for a number of years lived in Oklahoma, where his parents at present reside, and engaged in public school work there.

He expects to enter Columbia University in September and begin study for the doctorate degree.

ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY TO APPEAR AT AUDITORIUM

Matinee and Evening Performances With Special Features March 20

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, on its 1924 spring festival tour, with Rudolph Ganz, conductor, will appear in the Auditorium, Lexington, in two concerts Thursday, March 20, matinee and night.

Rudolph Ganz, the conductor, has won his way to world-wide fame thru his musical accomplishments, both as pianist and composer. He came to the United States in 1900. His acquisition of the baton of conductorship of a large symphony orchestra has been the achievement of which he has often dreamed, and his remarkable success as conductor has shown that his inherent qualities of musicianship have indeed led him into an ideal sphere.

Mme. Graziella Pampari, a renowned harpist, will be the soloist for the matinee, while Mme. Helen Traubel, soprano, will be heard in the famous aria, Dieu Teure Halle, from "Tannhauser" for the night concert.

The orchestra is composed of sixty-five men. The programs are well selected. While the matinee is called "children's matinee" it will be of special interest to all, since it is composed of such beautiful numbers as Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," Saint-Saens' "Swan," "Mediation" from Thais and other familiar numbers.

Write or phone the Lexington College of Music for reservations. Prices for evening concert, $1.10, $1.65, $2.20, $2.75. Matinee $1.65 and 55c. The latter price for students and teachers when bought in blocks of twenty or more.

For matinee tickets for University students and teachers see Miss Johnson in Educational Building office.

Another call for candidates

In this season of try-outs, seniors will do well to respond to the call for candidates which progressive business organizations are making.

The visit of the various company representatives offers a mutual opportunity. It puts you in position to judge whether a particular company offers sufficient scope to your ability and ambition. The representative can judge, after conversing with you and studying your record, whether you would be well placed in his company.

Do not ignore the invitation to these interviews. Do not be one of those—and they are many—who next Fall will write to the larger companies, "At the time your representative visited my college I did not think that I was interested in the work of your company and so did not meet him".

FRESHMEN IN TRAINING FOR GYM CLASS MEET

Winners Will be on First Year Track Team of the University.

Freshmen will begin training at once for the freshman gym class track meet which will be held on Stoll Field March 27 and 28. This meet will determine who shall represent the University on the Freshman track team, which meets most of the strong yearling squads of the South.

Tryouts for the Varsity team will be held April 2, 4 and 5 in the form of an Interclass meet. Four places will count in the meet and medals will be awarded to winners. The first meet which the Wildcats will hold is April 12 when the Kentucky speedsters will be pitted against the runners from Vanderbilt. Tennessee will be the opponents of the Cats on April 12.

Coach Buchheit is anxious that the Freshmen train for the gym class meet as the Freshman squad will be picked from the results of that meet.

Many places are open on the Varsity squad as well and the Interclass meet will have a direct bearing on who shall fill those places.

SCRAPS

One hundred and forty-four athletes of the male variety and as many more of the feminine species started things humming yesterday morning in what looks like the greatest prep tourney of all times. Four unfortunate aggregations, equally divided between the two sexes forlornly opened hostilities on the two courts at nine a. m., and as many more quintets duplicated the feat an hour later, including in the draw which compelled the winners to play two contests the first day and then as many more today—if they are lucky enough to stay in the running.

Our Own Dope Bucket—Pick the Winner

The 288 cagesters could comfortably fill a South Lime car during the rush hours with plenty of room on top for one or two more.

The noise, emitted by enthusiastic alumni of the various institutions, if bottled would be powerful enough to clean the streets of Lexington for one year.

The uniforms worn by the 144 male athletes, if pieced together, would make a new curtain for the Ben?

If the coaches in attendance were to be coupled together it would take all the engines in the L. & N. yards to pull them out of town.

If the worries of all of the feminine fives' chaperones were poured into a gasometer, we wouldn't have to worry about the gas shortage for another decade.

These valuable statistics, data, et cetera will enable anyone however expert in matters pertaining to tournaments, to pick the logical winner. Try and do it!

"The Frat Man's Prayer."

"Give me this day my daily bread, And some soft place to lay my head; The floor is hard, the bath tub worse, In two more days I'll need a hearse."

Heard in any fraternity house during a high school tournament.

By working day and night, construction of the new basketball building has been hastened to such an extent that the first games of the annual hi school tournament were played in it. The new building seats approximately 3,000 people and is one of the finest of its kind in the south.
