GREETINGS TO ALUMNI.

BY PRESIDENT McVEY.

Commencement takes place June 2 to June 5 this year. The Baccalaureate Sermon is given on Sunday, Monday is Alumni Day and Tuesday will be devoted to the installation of the President. This last event is rather trying for the new President, and he really needs the Alumni to help him out. So I trust that they will come, bringing their wives and sweethearts to grace the occasion.

Just now the University is at the turn of the roads. It is desirable in making plans for the future that I should have the advantage of any counsel or suggestion the Alumni care to give me. The relationship of the University to the Commonwealth grows more important with the passage of each year. To meet this requires a broad knowledge of conditions and clear views regarding the part the University can fill. The friends of the University want it to live up to its heritage and its best traditions.

The call of the Government in this time of stress is more and more for trained men and women. The University must keep its halls filled with the recruits needed to occupy the responsible places of business, government and education. The Alumni can arouse the youth of their community to go on with their education. This is in no small way a patriotic duty.

To the Alumni, I extend good wishes for the future and congratulations on the past.

THE KENTUCKY ALUMNUS

IS PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY—SEPTEMBER, NOVEMBER, JANUARY, MARCH, MAY AND JULY OF EACH YEAR—BY THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, AT LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Entered as second-class matter September 28, 1916, at the post-office at Lexington, Kentucky, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE FOR THE KENTUCKY ALUMNUS IS $1.00 PER YEAR. TO ALUMNI, INCLUDING DUES TO THE ASSOCIATION, $2.00 PER YEAR.

The Kentucky Alumnus is the official publication of the Alumni Association. It is issued bi-monthly by the Association under the direction of the Executive Committee in the interest of the Association and University. It therefore represents the sentiment and policy of the Alumni organization.

The Editor-in-Chief is appointed by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association and the Associate Editors are the Class Secretaries of the various classes and the Presidents of the Alumni Clubs.

Editorial Comment

Announcement.

Upon the recommendation of Dr. S. B. Marks, '99, editor of The Alumnus from July, 1907, to April 1, 1918, Marguerite McLaughlin, '03, was given permission by the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky to perform the duties of editor of The Alumnus, and also on the recommendation of Doctor Marks by members of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association, although there was not a quorum present and the appointment could not be ratified officially. Permission of the Board of Trustees was necessary first, because of the fact that the acting editor is a member of the teaching staff of the University and there has been an unwritten law that two such positions should not be held by the same person.

The Alumni Association will have opportunity to select an editor to fill the place permanently at its annual meeting Wednesday, June 5.

An Explanation.

Because of lack of funds there has not been an issue of the Alumnus since November, 1917, and the current number is intended to cover news of the events of interest to Alumni for this year. This issue is the first to be prepared by the acting editor and could not have been published had not C. R. Brock, of Denver, Colo., President of the Alumni Association, made a financial donation sufficiently large to cover the expenses incurred.

The assistance of the former editors, class secretaries and student reporters is appreciated by the acting editor.

The Birthplace of Democracy.

One is often impressed by the democracy of England despite the fact that the English people "toast" their King. We do not have to look far or long for the source of this democracy which had its beginning and acquires great strength in the old, time-honored system of the public schools. Scan lovingly the pages of Tom Brown's Schooldays; live with Brown and East, his chum, through Rugby and love them, for there is democracy.

So it is today with us; our greatest asset is our public school system. We all know how it is constituted with the University the "keystone of the arch." Large numbers of substantial folk come forth each year from these portals, each bearing his own scars, his own triumphs and his own hopes. No one can say each student is not the equal of any in our great Nation.

Let us look about and consider the personnel of our own student body, made up of sturdy, stalwart sons and daughters of the people of the State. These boys and girls become men and women while yet in the University, and go forth to be citizens, makers of our laws, builders of our institutions. Seldom does the scion of a house of wealth enter a State University, a fact to regret, for if more of the sons of rich men came to us, more of them would go forth imbued with principles and heritages greater than which no wealth can buy. But few of our girls become society butterflies and there are few of the boys who are not character builders. So let us enter into this our new era with a bigger, better and broader knowledge of what our University is and for what it stands.

The University and the Alumni. We hear frequently the statement that Americans do not realize that the world is at war and that Kentuckians are by far too comfortably and peacefully situated to appreciate or sympathize with the afflictions of warring nations. We know this is true to a certain extent and it is reasonable because we find, in affairs generally, that there is a tendency to be interested in things that are near at hand or which effect us directly and forcefully and to give little time, thought or attention to things concerning us remotely, to dangers which may never reach our locality or which we can not prevent.

That the University of Kentucky is in Lexington; that a new President has taken up his duties; that an annual appropriation of $350,000 has been made by the Legislature; that plans in proportion to the requirements and opportunities of the institution are being worked out and that the future is bright for the leading educational institution of the State, are facts that have been vaguely disseminated through the students, faculty and alumni, but we doubt if all these realities are appreciated by those who have merely heard of them or by many of those who have seen them come about. But there are a few who since their matriculation day have watched with unwavering interest the triumphs and defeats; the clouds and downpours; the hesitations and stops in the progress of the University until, when this brighter day dawned, vision was almost dazzled and those few whose faith has kept them whole may now breathe a fervent Deo gratias, close their eyes against the light that blinds, and smile.

Will those who see and do not know, stop and think? Will those who have heard, come back and learn? Will those who doubt, investigate and accept the facts? If so there will be an Alumnus every two months, and it will be worthy of the University and you.

ANNUAL ALUMNI ELECTION JUNE 5.

The annual election of officers for the Alumni Association year 1918-1919 will be held Wednesday, June 5, as a part of the business meeting of the organization.

The nominating committee appointed by E. C. Freeman, chairman of the Executive Committee, is composed of L. K. Frankel, E. B. Webb, Henry Curtis, Frank Battaile and Marguerite McLaughlin. The committee at a meeting May 9 made the following nominations:

President—T. R. Bryan, Lexington; Harold Amos, New York.

Vice-President—W. H. Grady, Louisville; Rodman Wiley, Frankfort.

Secretary-Treasurer—J. D. Turner, Lexington; J. P. Johnson, Lexington.

Executive Committee—Mrs. E. T. Proctor (Marie Louise Michot), Louisville; V. E. Muncey, Cincinnati; G. C. Brock, London; T. T. Jones, Lexington. (Two committee members are to be elected.)

 THE SERVICE FLAG.

The Service Flag of the University with its galaxy of 474 stars was unfurled before the faculty and student body in chapel, February 22, 1918. The presentation of the flag by the girls of the Department of Home Economics was a feature of the patriotic celebration of that day, which is recalled as one of the most brilliant in the history of chapel programs. In the three months that have passed since the flag was accepted there have been 141 stars added, and in addition to the gold star, placed in the center in memory of Stanley Smith, who was a student of the College of Law last year, and was reported lost in foreign waters in September, there will be added one in memory of Frank Coffee, of the class of 1915, who was killed in the Dardanelles, and a third for Lewis Herndon, who was killed while on engineering duty at the front early in the spring.

The banner is hanging in front of the windows on the platform in chapel and extends from the ceiling to the floor. The stars are blue, arranged to form five large stars, one in the center and one on each corner on a background of white and surrounded by a border of red. Stars mounted on the flag since it was presented have been arranged in bars at the bottom and top. Miss Louise Mayer, of Loiusville, presented it to the University on behalf of the girls of the Department of Home Economics and President McVey accepted it for the University.

In appreciation of the gift a trustee of the University said:

"The Department of Home Economics has endeared itself to the faculty, alumni, old students and under-graduates by making and presenting to the University the huge Service Flag with its 474 stars. One of those stars is burnished with living gold. To give upon it brings a hush, the heart fills and we know that we have paid our first sacrifice in the person of Stanley Smith. We are proud of all the other stars, and we know full well that each representative is ready to carry the burden on, and on, and on, and yet it is not the purpose of those stars to remind us of the honor of each representative, for what has each one done other than his duty, and even his pleasure, and no more than every man, woman and child in America must and will have done before the war is over.

"One life and even this group of lives is little. Each has gone forth joyfully, earnestly, willingly to pour out his life's blood for democracy. The real sacrifice is made by those men when they leave their loved ones at home. In the vernacular 'that is the rub'—that is when the heart of each of these 'stars' has bled; that is where the anxiety lies for each of these brave boys.

"Each has gone forth with his heart bursting with devotion for loved ones—wife, children, mother, sister or brother. It is no task to fight for a just cause, but it takes courage and prayers to strengthen one to leave home and all home means. When we think of Belgium, France, Serbia, England and Canada we realize that here lies the real tragedy. The greatest, most noble, most bounden duty of all is to those left behind.

"Let those who have not been called to offer human sacrifice remember those who have and gladden them with your prayers, your smiles, your love, and when you look upon a service flag remember not only those that are gone, but those at home."

NEW BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

At the request of President Frank L. McVey, E. C. Freeman, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association being absent from Lexington, a committee of Alumni was called together Monday morning, April 1, to make recommendations from which Governor Stanley would select Alumni trustees. The committee sent the following communication:

"DR. FRANK L. McVEY,

President University of Kentucky,

"Dear Sir: A committee of Alumni of the University of Kentucky, in response to your request that it supply you with names of alumni from which Governor Stanley will select three representatives on the Board of Trustees of the University, desires to submit the following names:

"Louis Hillenmeyer, Lexington.

A. C. Ball, St. Louis.

P. P. Johnson, Jr., Lexington.

"John Brown, Shelbyville.

"J. I. Lyle, New York.

"Frank Battaile, Lexington.

"George Brock, London.

"Emma Woerner, Louisville.

"MARGUERITE McLAUGHLIN,

"T. R. BRYANT,

"ELIZABETH KING SMITH, Committee."

Governor Stanley has since made these appointments:

From the State Board of Agriculture—James Rash, Henderson; H. H. Frohman, Ghent; J. M. Elliston, of Elliston.

From the Alumni—P. P. Johnston, Jr., Lexington; Irvine Lyle, New York.

From the State at Large—R. C. Stoll, Lexington; R. C. Gordon, Louisville; R. P. Ernst, Covington; Rainey T. Wells, Murray; J. W. Turner, Paintsville.

According to the plan adopted by the Legislature, three members of the Board of Trustees are ex-officio, the Governor, the Commissioner of Agriculture and the Superintendent of Public Instruction. This leaves two members of the board yet to be appointed.

R. P. Ernst and Rainey T. Wells are the only new members of the board, the others having served under the former regime. Mat Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture; V. O. Gilbert, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Governor Stanley are the three ex-officio members.

LAW AUTHORIZES CREATION OF BOARD.

An Act to create a Board of Trustees for the government, administration and control of the University of Kentucky; providing for its appointment, and repealing previous laws relating to the same subject.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. (a) The government, administration and control of the University of Kentucky is hereby vested in a Board of Trustees, constituted and appointed as follows:

The Governor of Kentucky, who shall be chairman of the Board; the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, who shall be ex-officio members, and twelve men, discreet, intelligent and prudent, who shall be appointed by the Governor of Kentucky. Four of each shall be appointed each biennium for a term of six years and until their successors are appointed. One of the four so appointed shall be a member of the State Board of Agriculture, one shall be appointed from among three alumni nominated to the Governor by the Alumni of the University, and the other two shall be distinguished citizens of the Commonwealth, one of whom shall be appointed from each of the political parties having the right to appoint a member of the State Board of Election Commissioners. With the exception of the members of the Board of Trustees appointed upon the nomination of the Alumni of the University, no two members of the Board of Trustees, who are appointed by the Governor, shall be residents of any one county in Kentucky. All appointments as members of the Board of Trustees by the Governor shall be made during the month of January in the even years. The Board of Trustees of the University shall prescribe the methods by which the Alumni of the University shall make the nomination to the Governor, of the three persons from whom the alumni members of the Board of Trustees shall be appointed. Each alumnus shall be permitted to vote, but no alumnus shall be permitted to vote for the nomination of alumni trustees in the year in which he has received his degree. No member of the Board of Trustees shall be held to be a public officer by reason of his membership on said board. Provided, however, as soon as this act shall become effective the terms of the present members of the Board of Trustees of the University shall expire and the Governor shall appoint twelve members of the Board of Trustees, four of whom shall serve until January, 1920; four of whom shall serve until January, 1922, and four of whom shall serve until January, 1924, and until their successors are appointed. In making said appointments the Governor shall appoint for each of said terms one member of the State Board of Agriculture, one alumnus of the institution and two distinguished citizens, one of whom shall be members of each of the political parties in the State having the right to name a member of the State Board of Election Commissioners. In case of vacancies by resignation, removal or death, the Governor shall fill such vacancies in the same manner as provided for the appointment of members of the Board.

(b) The Board of Trustees of the University shall meet at least four times a year, as follows:

On the Tuesday preceding the regular commencement of the University, on the third Tuesday in September, on the second Tuesday in December and on the first Tuesday in April of each year.

Special meetings of the Board, however, may be called by the Chairman or by any three members of the Board, upon giving ten days' notice of the meeting in writing to each member of the Board, but at such special meetings the business to be transacted shall be specified in the notice of the meeting.

(c) The Board of Trustees shall annually elect an Executive of Five, which Executive Committee shall have such powers as may be delegated to it by the Board of Trustees. The Executive Committee shall submit to the Board of Trustees at each meeting, for its consideration and approval, a complete record of its proceedings, provided, however, the authority of the Board of Trustees to revise the acts of the Executive Committee shall not extend to the rejection of any valid or any authenticated expenditure of money by said Executive Committee.

(d) The Board of Trustees shall have power to elect a Vice-Chairman and such other officers as it may deem wise, and shall have power to make such by-laws, rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith, as it may deem proper.

(e) The Chairman of the Board shall appoint at the meeting in June of each year an Extension Committee consisting of four members of the Board of Trustees in addition to himself to advise with the Dean of the College of Agriculture and the Director of Extension on matters pertaining to the Extension Service in the State.

Section 2. Whereas, it is deemed for the best interests of the University and of the State that the Board of Trustees be reorganized at once so that the State may be better served, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage and approval, as required by law.

Section 3. Section 2 of Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1916, beginning at page 150 of said published acts and continuing to Section 3 on page 154 of said acts, and section 15 of the Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition, 1903, which is all of Section 4636c Kentucky Statutes, Edition 1915, beginning with said section at the top of page 2361, and including all sub-sections and sub-sections, to Sub-section 16 on page 2362, are hereby repealed. Sub-section 20 of Section 4636c, beginning on page 2363 and ending on page 2364, Sub-section 22 of Section 4636c on page 2364, and Sub-section 244 of Section 4636c, beginning at the bottom of page 2364 and ending at top of page 2365, are also repealed.

FACULTY IN SERVICE.

Another Service Flag, a big one with twenty stars, might well hang in the University chapel in honor of those professors who are in the service of the country, four of whom are already at the front.

Lieutenant-Colonel Allen Gullion, commandant at the University of Kentucky 1912-14, after serving at various posts and winning numerous titles, is now taking men "over the top."

E. U. Bradley, former instructor in English, may be one of those men, because he is over there for that purpose.

J. F. Loomis, instructor in the Department of Physics, 1916-17, is a captain in the regular army in France and is directing heavy artillery fire on the western front.

Reuben Hutchcraft, teacher of Law, is in France with the American boys.

The Department of Physics is represented in the army by Norton Williams and W. S. Webb. Minnott Brooke and Ray Duncan uphold the honor of Mechanical Hall. Roger Jones and Owen Scott Lee enlisted and were called from the Experiment Station into training. J. C. Fairfax and Arthur Underwood, former commandants, are in the field. John Marsh, instructor in English, is with Dr. David Barrow's hospital unit No. 40. Herbert Graham, Journalism; W. J. Carrell, civil engineering; Homer Reid, mathematics, and Alden Waite, chemist, are in camp preparing to go to France.

Miss Sarah M. Chorn left her classes in the University to do Government work. Mrs. N. H. Turner, who for several years was secretary to Dean Anderson, also joined the Barrow unit.

Dr. John J. Tigert, head of the departments of philosophy and physiology, and athletic director of the University in 1913, 1915 and 1915, has been granted a year's leave of absence by the Board of Trustees, in order that he may go into army Y. M. C. A. work at the close of the present term.

Doctor Tigert came to the University in the fall of 1911 as head of the department of philosophy, which was founded at that time. He has coached three successful teams in football as well as in other branches of athletics. Doctor Tigert will go to New York as soon as the present term ends and expects to be engaged in active army Y. M. C. A. work in France within a few months. Since his coming to the University, he has won the esteem and friendship of the faculty and students, who wish him the greatest possible success in the new work which he is soon to undertake.

FIRST MEETING OF NEW TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky met at the call of the Governor at the University of Kentucky May 8, 11 a. m. The following were present: Senator H. H. Frohman, Ghent; J. M. Elliston, Elliston; P. P. Johnston, Jr., Lexington; Irvin Lyle, New York City; R. C. Stoll, Lexington; R. C.

Gordon, Louisville; R. P. Ernst, Covington; Rainey T. Wells, Murray; J. W. Turner, Paintsville; Gov. A. O. Stanley, Hon. V. O. Gilbert, Hon. Matt Cohen and President F. L. McVey.

The meeting was called to order by R. C. Stoll and the Board proceeded to organize by electing the following officers:

R. C. Stoll, Vice-Chairman.

Wellington Patrick, Secretary.

John R. Downing, Treasurer.

On report of a nominating committee the following members were elected on the Executive Committee: R. C. Stoll, P. P. Johnston, Jr., R. C. Gordon, R. P. Ernst and J. M. Elliston.

The President made a report to the Board consisting of a resume of work done under his administration up to the present. He reviewed the financial situation at the University, indicating that the University will receive from the State this year more than $200,000 in excess of the amount received last year. The income from the State Federal Amendment to the University will be approximately $450,000 from the general fund. The Experiment Station will receive from the State and Government $185,000. The extension fund from the State and Government will amount to $199,617.22. The public health fund will add another $18,000, and $42,000 will be received from the Government for special training of men now at Camp Buell.

The total estimated income for the University and Experiment Station, including money for extension work, public health work and military training of drafted men will be approximately $940,000.

The President indicated in a general way what the University expected to accomplish in the way of construction for the forthcoming year. Owing to difficulties in securing necessary labor and building material, the building program for the forthcoming year will be curtailed. It will be confined to the repairing of a few buildings, including the possible construction of a third floor over the rear of Patterson Hall; rejuvenation of the dormitories for men; a new shed for mechanical engineering; the repairing of the chapel in the administration building; the building of an abbatoir, the construction of a temporary home for Home Economics and the construction of a heating plant adequate to take care of the situation for the present. President McVey indicated that, owing to the war, it would be out of the question at this time to consider a heating plant such as had been previously discussed.

The President reported to the Board that, acting under authority of the Executive Committee, he had procured the services of Olmstead Bros., of Brookline, Mass., foremost architects of the country, to make plans for the campus, and recommended that Arthur Cooledge, of Boston, be employed as advisory architect to work jointly with Olmstead Bros.

President McVey stated to the Board that he had been strongly urged recently to consolidate with the University the School of Medicine and Dentistry at Louisville. He indicated that he had discussed the matter with Dr. Henry

S. Pritchett of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Doctor Flexnor of the Rockefeller Institute and Dr. John G. Bolling, secretary of the American Institute of Medicine, and had come to the conclusion that if anything is done regarding the consolidation of these institutions with the University it should be done with full knowledge and consent of the State Legislature.

A financial statement in the form of a budget was presented to the Board by the President for consideration. After discussion it was adopted by the Board as a tentative working basis for the forthcoming year.

On recommendation of the President, the Board created the following new departments in the University: Department of Art and Design, Music, Zoology, Economics and Sociology, Ancient Languages and Literatures, Romance Language, Bacteriology.

The Department of Botany was transferred from the Experiment Station to the College of Liberal Arts. On recommendation of the President the following new members of the faculty were added in connection with these departments: Dr. C. A. Schull, head of the Department of Botany. Doctor Schull is now at the University of Kansas and has the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Cornell.

Dr. Edward Weist, now at the University of Vermont, was appointed head of the Department of Economics and Sociology.

Dr. C. B. Cornell of the University of Nebraska was appointed assistant Professor of Education.

Professor E. C. Mabie was appointed assistant professor of English.

Dr. W. D. Funkhauser has his doctor's degree from Cornell.

Professor Carl Lampert was appointed head of the Department of Music.

Dr. Glanville, head of the Department of Greek, was transferred to the headship of the Department of Philosophy.

In Physical Education, Adrew Gill was appointed head coach.

Miss Florence M. Barrett, M. A., Chicago, was appointed instructor in Spanish. Professor W. L. Summers, J. D., now professor of Law at the University of Florida, was appointed professor of Law.

PRESENTATION OF PORTRAIT OF JOSEPH DICKER.

The ceremonies for the instillation of the life-size memorial portrait of the late Joseph Dicker, at the time of his death beloved head of the shops in the Engineering Department of the University, will be held in Mechanical Hall at 4 p. m., June 4.

The picture is presented to the University by the Alumni of the institution. The speech of presentation, in behalf of the Alumni, will be made by J. I. Lyle, of New York, a graduate of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering.

The picture, which is a life-sized painting of Mr. Dicker, was painted by Ferdinand Graham Walker, of Louisville, Ky. The committee that has had charge of having the portrait painted, and which, with the assistance of Dean

Paul F. Anderson of the Engineering College, has made the arrangements for the presentation ceremonies, is composed of the following alumni of the University: Charles Straus, chairman; L. K. Frankel and L. E. Nollau.

EXTENSION BILL.

The passage of the bill for agricultural extension, appropriating $62,000 per annum to offset Federal Smith-Lever funds received by the Agricultural College, marks a new era in appropriations in the State. Previously, the offset to these Federal funds and the financing of agricultural extension work were carried on through the very meager funds allowed by the Agricultural College or the Experiment Station. Thus, the development of agricultural extension work necessarily took place at the expense of other established lines of work in the institution.

The new appropriation provides $62,000 annually for extension work to offset a like amount supplied by the Federal Government. During the succeeding two years funds appropriated by the State offset the sum of $165,190.70 provided from Federal sources. The funds thus provided will be expended through the Extension Division of the Agricultural College in the continuation and development of seven different lines of work. The greatest emphasis will be laid upon farm demonstrations as carried on through women agents. Boys' and girls' agricultural or home clubs will be given a good deal of attention and organization work in this particular line will be advanced in all of the important agricultural counties. The force of extension specialists will be increased and will include animal husbandry, agronomy, farm management, farm mechanics, horticulture, poultry, veterinary science and home economics. The extension work of the Department of Markets will be developed as rapidly as circumstances justify. One and possibly two specialists will be employed in advising with county agents and assisting farmers in the study of their various marketing problems. Sufficient funds will be allotted to provide for movable schools and short courses in various sections of the State and for issuing such publications as are of timely interest and importance to the agriculture of the State.

The appropriation made by the present Legislature does not provide all the funds that will be required in the future for extension work. Two years hence additional permanent appropriations will be required to meet additional funds appropriated by the Federal Government, and four years hence another increase will be needed, after which time the funds appropriated by the Federal Government reach their maximum and increased appropriations by the State to offset Smith-Lever funds will no longer be required.

MAGNIFICENT APPROPRIATION MADE BY LEGISLATURE.

With no opposing vote, and one amendment clause, that an emergency clause, the Senate, February 28, passed the bill granting permanent support to the University of Kentucky, the Eastern Normal School and the Western Normal School, by making a redistribution of the 40-cent State tax and placing the appropriations of the three institutions under the general tax of 40 cents on the $100. Through this redistribution the University's income will be $350,000 yearly.

The emergency clause, the amendment to the original bill, which makes the funds immediately available, was approved by the House immediately after it was proposed by the Senate.

The Governor affixed his signature immediately, thus marking another milestone in the history of the University. Doctor McVey witnessed the signing of the bill by the Governor.

NEW CONSTITUTION APPROVED.

The new constitution of the University, which was drawn up by the faculty, met with the approval of the Board of Trustees and was adopted, as it stood, at their meeting of December 10. It provides for the control of the University by three separate governing bodies with separate functions, under the following heads:

A council, composed of the President, Deans, Registrar and two members elected by the faculty, will have charge of discipline, routine matters of study and the school calendar.

A senate, composed of all professors and assistant professors, constitutes the legislative body, and passes on all courses of study, matters of schedules and classes, recommendations for graduation and like matters.

An assembly, made up of all teachers, instructors and others holding positions in the University, passes on definition of the work of officers and tenure of staff service, the granting of leave of absence to staff members and such matters.

The leave of absence phase of the new regulations is an innovation at the University. Under the recommendations, members of the faculty who have taught four years may be granted leaves of absence for one semester on half pay. Faculty members who have served seven years may be granted leave on half pay for a complete session.

As far back as 1910 there was a council composed of officers of the University and the legislative body then known as the faculty. The new constitution is really a revival of this plan with some improvements.

SENATE ORGANIZED.

The Senate, composed of all professors and assistant professors, has passed a ruling permitting the use of 300 words of simplified spelling in University publications; changed the recitation period to fifty minutes, making the fifth hour from 11:48 to 12:38; advised automatic signals regulated by clock to take the place of the siren whistle and ruled in regard to social activities, that:

1. All social affairs shall be on Friday or Saturday afternoons and evenings by permission of the Social Committee.
 2. Calendar records, time and place, shall be kept by the Dean of Women.
 3. One entertainment or dance shall be allowed each social organization.
 4. Such events shall be chaperoned by approved persons and the selection shall be given in writing to the Dean of Women one week prior to the affair. This applies to all organizations, including women giving out-in-town entertainments. After the dance or entertainment the chairman of the committee shall present to the Dean of Women a written report of the same.
 5. One of the Social Committee, whose name is to be given on the program with the chaperons, shall remain until the entertainment closes.
 6. Simple, unostentatious, inexpensive parties are advised, and the students are urged to hold them in the armory or gymnasium. . An expense report must be filed with the business agent within a week following the entertainment.
 7. Attendance is limited to present and former students and special guests with the approval of the Social Committee.
 8. Organizations must have the approval of the Social Committee on character of entertainment.
- These rules go into effect at the beginning of the next University year.

SCHEDULE OF FEES.

The new schedule of fees, which will go into effect next September, will still be lower than those of other standard universities, Doctor McVey announced. The fees authorized are as follows:

1. College of Arts and Science—$12.50 a semester.
2. Engineering College—$15.00 a semester.
3. Law School—$20.00 a semester.
4. Student Activities—$4.50 a semester.
5. Abolish Diploma and Law Library fees.
6. Breakage fees, returnable, $2 a semester.
7. Dormitory, $1 a week, University to furnish sheets, towels and pillow cases and launder them.
8. A laboratory deposit fee in chemistry.

Seventy-eight per cent of the student activities fee is to go to athletics; 12 per cent to the Kernel; 6 per cent to the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., and 4 per cent to the lecture fund.

NEW DRESS FOR THE UNIVERSITY.

With the arrival of A. O. Whipple, from North Dakota, new superintendent of buildings and grounds of the University, work was started immediately and decided improvements have already been made, especially in the matter of keeping the buildings much cleaner and in better order.

Olmstead Brothers, Brookline, Mass., noted landscape architects and designers, have already made a survey and study of plans and improvements for beautifying the campus and have taken pictures in order to make more thorough plans to be submitted later.

President McVey has appointed a committee consisting of D. H. Peak, Dean Thomas P. Cooper, Dean F. Paul Anderson, Dean P. P. Boyd and Dr. F. E. Tuttle, whose purpose is to prepare a summary of what is most needed in the way of repairs and construction work at the University.

Doctor McVey suggested nine important matters that would be of great benefit, and has asked the committee to consider them with any recommendations it might make. As no money will be available from the new tax before December, it seems desirable to put the present buildings and plants into best condition possible, leaving the question of the erection of more permanent buildings to the following year. Doctor McVey assures the committee of the help and co-operation of everyone on the campus.

His suggestions were:

The possible erection of a temporary heating plant sufficient to take care of the needs of Mechanical Hall, now served by other plants, and those buildings that are served by the central plant. This would make it possible to remove the present plant.

The rejuvenation of both dormitories by putting in them new plumbing, new floors and giving them new paint.

The possible use of the lower floor of the old dormitory for a dining room.

The conservation of the present dining hall into a laboratory for public health work.

The erection of a gymnasium for the girls, sufficiently large to take care of the needs for some time.

The possible addition of another story to the rear part of Patterson Hall.

The repairing of the old Chemistry Building.

The erection of a temporary stock judging pavilion.

Rooms for the Domestic Science Department in the basement of the Natural Science building.

The committee has made a report to the President in which it approved of several of the above suggestions and makes recommendations of equal importance.

THOMAS P. COOPER, DEAN OF COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE,
DIRECTOR OF KENTUCKY EXPERIMENT STATION

Thomas P. Cooper, of Fargo, North Dakota, who was elected Dean of the Agriculture College in the latter part of December, 1917, arrived in Lexington January 4, 1917, and took up his work in the Experiment Station, of which he is director. Since his coming Dean Cooper has been called on to make numberless addresses and has made trips to all parts of the State. He and Mrs.

Cooper are living in the Scovell Place on the Nicholasville pike, the beautiful old home having been remodeled for them.

Dean Cooper was born in Pekin, Illinois, in 1891. He was graduated from the University of Minnesota and almost immediately went to the farm to begin his life work. He has been one of the most successful agriculturists of the Northwest, having had charge of the Government station in North Dakota and being a recognized authority in his own state.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of the North Dakota Farmers' Institute, American Association of Agriculture Scientists, American Academy of Political and Social Science, Society for Promotion of Agricultural Science, American Farm Management Association and of the Cosmos Club of Washington.

NEWS OF THE CAMPUS

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

The ceremony of the presentation of the "escort to the colors" by the battalion on the University campus; the presentation of the University Service Flag with its 476 stars; addresses by Lieutenant Paul Perigord of the French army and H. V. McChesney, educational secretary at Camp Zachary Taylor; a faculty luncheon at the Phoenix Hotel and a military ball given by the University battalion featured the University of Kentucky's celebration of Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1918.

The battalion's first public appearance this year, held on the campus the morning of February 22, came as a fitting prelude to the patriotic chapel exercises. President McVey presented the colors, which were received by Company A and carried by Walter S. Piper, color sergeant of the battalion. Misses Frieda Lemon and Elizabeth C. Loughridge, members of the University Signal Corps, served as a color guard, prior to its presentation.

Lieutenant Perigord and Mr. McChesney were the speakers at the patriotic chapel exercises. Lieutenant Perigord described the battle of Verdun, and told many of his personal experiences at the front. He told how the French honored the Americans and how they, too, were celebrating the birthday of Washington, who was an inspiration not only to Americans, but to Frenchmen. Lieutenant Perigord urged the Americans to realize the seriousness of the situation and to do their full duty in helping to "lick" the Germans.

Mr. McChesney, in his address on the "Traits of Washington," showed how the father of his country was a man of peace, though a great military leader. Patience, unselfish patriotism and implicit trust in God, not only an individual God, but a God of nations and battles, are the three outstanding features of Washington's character, according to McChesney.

The service flag was presented to the University on behalf of the Home Economics Department by Miss Louise Mayer, and accepted by President McVey.

The Rev. Benjamin J. Bush gave the invocation and the Rev. T. C. Ecton pronounced the benediction. The music was furnished by the University band.

The usual Washington's Birthday faculty luncheon was held at the Phoenix Hotel at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, February 22, and several talks relative to the occasion were made. Lieutenant Perigord and Mr. McChesney were among the guests.

The annual Military Ball, one of the most brilliant events of the students' social activities of the year, was held in Buell Armory on the University campus from 8 until 11 o'clock on the evening of February 22. The dance was well attended and was a delightful close for the day's celebrations.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY BUY THRIFT STAMPS.

The University is holding its reputation for patriotism in a very successful campaign for selling Thrift Stamps and Baby Bonds on the campus. Professor E. F. Farquar, Dr. J. E. Tuthill and Dr. R. M. Maxon are directing the drive with the assistance of the students' representatives, Miss Mildred Graham and Charles E. Planck. Already 800 stamps and more than 100 Baby Bonds have been sold.

"Minute men" have been appointed from the student body, and the appreciation of these honors are deeply shown by the speeches which they are delivering. Contests of writing verses on the campaign, writing essays, and oratorical matches are now on, with prizes offered of stamps or bonds to the winners. The prize of four Thrift Stamps, given by "Uncle Jimmy" Lyons for the best limerick on them, was won by Miss Ora Lee Jones, by composing:

Oh, now ain't the time for just sighin',
Just sittin' a-rockin' and cryin';
Thrift Stamps are the stuff
The Kaiser to bluff;
Get up and get busy a-buyin'!

As the campaign is to last until the close of the school term, the final results have a wonderfully promising outlook, and the students are all striving hard to win the University a name in this field.

GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL UNIT.

Forty-eight University of Kentucky men who are now in service with the Good Samaritan Hospital Unit at Camp Zachary Taylor, in charge of Major David Barrow, well-known surgeon and physician. Nine of them were in school until Doctor Barrow's unit was called, March 1.

The unit is expected to leave for "over there" May 25 and the members have been in training nearly two months. The unit numbers two hundred in all. Mrs. Nell Turner, secretary to Dean E. Paul Anderson, will sail with the unit. She reported for duty at Camp Taylor as a member of the clerical force.

The following names are the University of Kentucky men with the unit: H. B. Allendar, C. A. Asburg, G. S. Bell, L. D. Burton, G. Baker, W. L. Coons, N. O. Cart, S. H. Cole, E. G. Drake, J. Downing, C. C. Early, R. W. Foster, R. J. Fogg, W. G. Field, R. H. Gilbert, G. T. Graves, C. W. Harrey, L. L. Haggin, R. E. Hundley, J. A. Hagan, C. B. Harrison, G. Hunt, G. Jasper, M. N. Kimbrough, O. S. Lee, W. A. Manihan, M. H. Muller, O. K. McAdams, J. R. Marsh, G. H. McKinney, J. W. Milam, A. O'Brien, R. E. Punch, G. Reynolds, L. F. Rush, J. W. Stokes, R. C. Scott, L. B. Shouse, W. Skillman, H. B. Snort, H. A. Stevens, A. Tompson, R. B. Taylor, B. H. Tomlinson, G. T. Womack, J. H. Williams, R. E. Wilson, L. P. Young.

PRESIDENT McVEY IS CALLED TO AID OF NATION.

President McVey received appointment Monday, January 28, as director for Kentucky of the Public Service Reserve. Immediately he began work of organization and campaign for enrollment of the State's quota for industrial service necessary to the prosecution of the war. He has been also appointed State director of the United States Employment Service in Kentucky.

W. E. Hall, National Director of Reserves, who appointed President McVey, instructed him to attend a conference at Washington, February 1 and 2, but he was unable to go.

The campaign for shipbuilders was launched, agencies were appointed and 5,000 men had been registered by President McVey before February 11.

DOCTOR McVEY HEAD OF KENTUCKY COLLEGE ASSOCIATION.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, new President of the University, was elected President of the Association of Kentucky Colleges and Universities at the thirteenth annual meeting, held here December 1.

Other officers chosen were: Professor C. F. Rumold, Berea College, Vice-President; Professor Frank L. Rainey, Centre College, Secretary-Treasurer; Professor P. P. Boyd was named member of the Executive Committee.

FOURTEEN SWEATERS AWARDED TO "K" MEN.

"K" sweaters have been awarded to fourteen football men for the season of 1917 by S. A. Bowles, director of physical training for men in the University. The recipients of sweaters were: F. W. Dempsey, Burlington; Alfred Brittain, Leadville, Col.; Hall Henry, Dixon; E. M. Pullen, New York; H. Adair, Paris; W. S. Baugh, Arthur Bastin, Dewey Downing, Clay Downing, James Hedges, Craig Riddle, Arthur P. Shanklin, W. Walker and Roger Moore, Lexington.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF BATTALION.

The annual inspection of the student battalion and military department of the University was made Wednesday, March 20, by Major Max B. Garber, infantry, United States army. Major Garber was assigned to this work by the War Department, Washington.

The inspection was unusually successful, considering that it was held on fourteen hours' notice. Captain H. N. Royden, Commandant at the University, expressed his delight at the way the battalion conducted itself. Of course there were blunders and signs of rawness, but this would not have occurred had the students had advantage of the month's steady drilling usually given in April, so they are delighted with the showing they made.

At 11 a. m. first call was sounded, followed by assembly at 11:10, at which time the first inspection of the commanding officer took place. This was followed by a parade before the officers. The battalion was then dismissed until 2 p. m., and at that time the inspection of the cadet officers, seniors, was held. At 2:40 the cadets assembled for the close-order and battalion drill. The company drill (battalion consolidated in one company) presented a striking sight, as nearly 300 cadets executed close and extended order drill on the parade ground before the main building, the company front extending the entire length of the campus.

At 3:50 p. m. the battalion formed in front of Patterson Hall and marched south, crossing the campus, assuming that it was subject to artillery fire. The attack was led by the University Cadet Band.

The formation of the members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps into a definite unit was held at 4:20 p. m. and fourteen squads, composed of juniors, sophomores and freshmen of the University, fell in for the first report.

Full dress parade followed the organization of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. This proved unusually successful despite the work undergone by the students earlier, and at 5:30 the battalion was dismissed.

Besides the inspection of the battalion and military departments of the University, the buildings and departments, especially of the Colleges of Engineering, were inspected. Major Gurber seemed well pleased with the condition of the buildings.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS.

University of Kentucky has been honored by the War Department and is entitled to send delegates to the Fourth Officers' Training Camps, which opened May 15. The three highest cadet officers to be appointed are Cadet Major D. R. Ellis, Eminence; Adjutant and Cadet Captain Tilford L. Wilson, Lexington, and Cadet Captain John S. Sherwood, Cynthiana. After successful graduation from this camp they will be commissioned Second Lieutenants in the regular army. If they do not pass successfully, they are entitled to return to civil life. These men are in Class A.

Class B is composed of Juniors and Seniors who have not had the required amount of drill, and who may go to a special three-months' training camp, at the end of which they must enter the army for the duration of the war.

Class C is composed of the graduates who have had at least one year of military instruction. These must not exceed twenty-five in number, the number assigned to the University. To be eligible to any of these camps the men must not be less than 20 years and nine months nor more than 32 years of age; must be citizens of the United States; must have physical qualification prescribed by regulations for army officers and must have sent in their applications to Captain Royden on May 1.

The Seniors who will go to this camp will receive their diplomas in June, but the work of under-classmen who leave will be marked incomplete. The University is now ranked by the War Department with the best in the country and henceforth will have the privilege of sending at least twenty-five men to each training camp.

It was thought at first that all members of the R. O. T. C. who had had two years' drill would be eligible to a six-weeks' training camp, but despite the fact that Captain Royden wrote an urgent letter to the War Department requesting that the Sophomores be allowed to attend his camp, his request was not granted.

However, the Quartermaster Department has finally decided to pay $21 to each student of the R. O. T. C. for buying his uniform. The student will be paid $14 at the opening of his first school year and $7 at the opening of the next school year. This is with the provision, however, that the student must leave his uniform at the University during the summer to make it certain that they will be issued next year in order to conserve material.

The War Department has appropriated $5,599.40 for the purpose of paying the forty-three officers of the R. O. T. C. their first three months' pay and also to pay the Kaufman Clothing Company for the uniforms furnished the battalion.

UNIVERSITY TRAINS DRAFTED MEN.

The University of Kentucky took up another phase of war work on Tuesday, May 7, when 400 drafted men from Tennessee arrived here for a three-months' course in special intensive mechanical training. The men are sent here by the War Department to get a part of the program of training men for immediate service overseas. The University of Kentucky is one of five universities in the United States to which quotas of men have been sent for short courses of special mechanical training. Some are being trained as mechanics, some as chauffeurs, some as telegraphers and others in various kinds of mechanical work. Several of the big Liberty motor trucks have been sent to the University by the Government for use in training the men.

The men are being housed at the Trotting Track, and receive instruction in class rooms on the campus. The shed and floral hall at the Trotting Track was made into a barracks for the men. Shower baths, all sanitary lavatory equipment, improved methods of ventilation and model army kitchen appliances were installed, and when the cots were put in place a few days before the men arrived, the remodeled buildings had the appearance of a well-ordered barracks.

Buell Armory has been divided into five auto shops. The motor truck drivers will be trained in repairing and overhauling motors. Ten army motor trucks will be sent here and the men will be taught to drive them. The working hours of the day will be divided into two periods of four hours each. The first period of four continuous hours will be devoted to special training in one of the courses, the second period will be divided into sub-periods for lectures, military tactics, setting-up exercises, athletics and practice in the use of the gun and the bayonet. The second period will probably come in the afternoon and the first hour will be devoted to a lecture pertaining to special instruction in individual training, the second hour to athletics and the two hours following to infantry drill, instruction as to the school of the squad and soldier and other military maneuvers.

Captain H. N. Royden, Commandant of the University, has supervision of the camp. His military staff is composed of Captains J. W. Harding and Michael Plaut, and Lieutenants Paul W. Ernsberger, William B. Marxsen, Orville B. Squires and Lysle C. Braund. The medical staff is composed of Doctor Fletcher, of Fort Benjamin Harrison, two sergeants and two privates. All the members of both these staffs came here the week before the men arrived. Certain members of the faculty of the University, chiefly from the engineering faculty, are serving as instructors of the men in the class work.

After these men have finished the training course they will probably go to France at once. The crying need for skilled mechanics in the army is the moving cause for sending the men to the various universities for training.

ADDITION TO THIRD TRAINING CAMP.

Eight more University of Kentucky men have been recommended for commissions as Second Lieutenants from the Third Training Camp. Two of this number were omitted from the Camp Zachary Taylor list and the other five are recommended from Camp Stanley, Leon Springs, Texas.

Those omitted from the Camp Zachary Taylor list are: Jack Howard, Clem Kelly, Jesse Shuff, former students of the College of Law. From Camp Stanley are: Edwin M. Cobb, Richmond, infantry; Paul L. Cocke, Louisville, Field Artillery; George A. Hillsman, Livermore, Infantry; Ben F. Lancaster, New Castle, Infantry, and William K. Staton, Brooksville, Infantry.

1918 ARBOR DAY.

Arbor Day, the first day to announce that commencement exercises have started at the University of Kentucky, was observed on the campus Friday, May 10. A holiday during the third and fourth periods was declared and the students gathered on the north side of the main building at 11 o'clock, when the tree was planted.

The tree, a magnolia, was dedicated to Judge W. T. Lafferty, Dean of the College of Law, by Vergil Chapman, president of the senior class. After the dedication address the class prophecy was read by Miss Bertha Miller, and the planting of the tree followed. The spade was then presented by Harry Milward, the class orator, to Charles Planck, the representative of the junior class.

Other exercises of the day were the annual pledging of the Staff and Crown and Lamp and Cross honorary Senior societies. The pledgees of the Staff and Crown were Misses Mildred Graham, Louisville; Elizabeth McGowan, Bagdad; Eliza Piggot, Irvington; Marie Coolins, Middletown; Ruth Duckwell, Louisville; Mary Beall, Mt. Sterling, and Austin Lilly, Richmond. The present members are Misses Aileen Kavanaugh, Frieda Lemon, Lelah Gaugh and Celia Cregor.

Those who were taken into membership of the Lamp and Cross were Joseph Gayle, Headley Shouse, Richard Duncan, C. F. Johnson and Alex Hall; the present members of the organization of this year are Tilford Wilson, Harry Milward and J. A. Brittain, our football star of the past four seasons. Besides these there were several that were pledged last year that are not with us now, having heard and answered their country's call by offering their lives to their country.

OPENING DAY SET.

The University of Kentucky will begin work for 1918-1919 the third Monday, September 16, instead of the second Monday, as has been the custom. Preparations are being made to receive a large number of students who are expected to arrive at that time.

The third Monday has been found to be the better time for opening for several reasons. It will bring the University in line with all other universities as to the opening and will enable the Agricultural students to attend the State Fair and matriculate on time.

SIGNAL CORPS COURSE.

The twenty-week course of the signal corps, conducted by Captain H. N. Royden, was begun at the University of Kentucky Monday, January 14, 1918. This will qualify the men of this class for high non-commissioned officers, or as officers of the signal corps of the regular army.

The boys who are taking this course are:

J. C. Melvin, W. K. Warth, W. R. Gabbard, Raymond C. Tolley, J. B. Hudson, R. B. Fenley, J. B. Rowlette, Jr.; R. E. Pennell, A. M. Kirby, Lee McLain.

ENGINEERS' THESIS WORK.

The Seniors of the College of Engineering began their thesis work Monday, March 4. The class is designing shop drawings of electric traction cars as follows:

Five-ton, end entrance, single truck car for light service.

Ten to fifteen ton, end entrance, double truck car for heavy city service.

Ten to fifteen ton, center entrance, double truck car, for heavy city service.

Twenty to twenty-five ton, end entrance, double truck car, for light interurban service.

Twenty to twenty-five ton, center entrance, double truck car, for light interurban service.

Thirty to forty ton, end entrance, double truck car, for heavy interurban service.

Thirty to forty ton, center entrance, double truck car, for heavy interurban service.

These drawings, about twelve hundred in number, will be complete in every detail and when finished can be used as working drawings in any car factory. C. E. McCormick is chief draftsman, and the other members of the class, including senior civil and mining engineers, are acting as designers, under the direction of Charles H. Anderson, expert in design of electric steel cars. Mr.

Wilhoite is in charge of the thesis work under the supervision of Dean F. Paul Anderson.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING.

A course of Geology has been introduced into the Department of Civil Engineering that should prove of special value on account of the rich mineral and oil resources of this State. The civil engineer, graduating hereafter from the University, will have a working knowledge of geology that will be a useful element in his training. The course adopted is as follows:

Three hours a week, running through junior year, substituted for three hours a week at present devoted to general electrical engineering.

Three hours a week, during the first semester, in Economic Geology has been substituted for American Government in the senior year. A course in Engineering Geology has been substituted for American Government for one-half the second semester for seniors.

The junior course in Electrical Engineering for civil engineers is changed from a five-hour-a-week to a two-hour-a-week recitation and lecture subject, and the work in bridge design shortened one afternoon each week, with an afternoon period in electrical laboratory substituted.

HOME ECONOMICS PRACTICE HOUSE.

The seniors of the Home Economics Department have opened a Practice House on Harrison avenue under the chaperonage of Miss Linda Purnell this year. This was made possible by a provision of the Smith-Hughes bill. Lelah Gault and Laura Lee Jameson were housekeepers the first month and the remainder of the time was divided among Celia Cregor, Mary Walker, Lois Powell and Cathrine Snyder.

The entire charge of the house was put into their hands. They were required to do all the marketing, shopping, cooking, cleaning and entertaining and to keep the expenses within a certain limit. This practice teaching gave the Home Economics students of the University of Kentucky a taste of the practical in addition to the theoretical. The "Practice House" is a great addition to the department of Home Economics and a great success.

CHANGE IN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE.

An important change in the course in the College of Arts and Science has been made. They offer only the A. B. degree instead of both the A. B. and B. S. degrees, and the course in industrial chemistry will still carry the degree of B. S.

In the new course all freshmen will be required to attend a series of lectures in their first semester dealing with questions of value to men and women just entering college. Men will be required to take two years of military training, and—both men and women—two years of physical training.

Certain "group requirements" are also set down: English, one or two years' work (two if only three units of entrance are presented, otherwise only one); foreign languages, one to three years' work (one year for all, two if only two units of entrance, and three if only one); history and the social sciences, one to two years' work (including one year of history if no entrance unit is presented); philosophy and education, one year's work; mathematics and the physical sciences, one year's work; biological sciences, one year's work. This work is to be done in the freshman and sophomore years.

The last two years will be devoted to specialized work in definite lines. A major study of twenty hours' work and one or two "minors" of twenty hours' work will be selected by the student. In addition to the major and minor electives he will have from fifteen to forty hours of electives to be chosen with the approval of the dean.

This plan will co-ordinate with the liberal entrance requirements recently adopted by the University. The high schools will be able to adapt their courses more clearly to their local needs without handicapping the students who come to the university. The course will better fit the students who come to the University. The ideal is a reasonable acquaintanceship with the various fields of thought plus a mastery of one.

The new plan provides for combined courses of arts and science and professional work. The students will be allowed to elect work in any of the professional colleges and have it count on their A. B. degree. After three years' work in the College of Arts and Science he may transfer to one of the professional colleges, and after one year in that college receive his A. B. degree. This will enable him to attain both his A. B. and professional degree in six years.

COLLEGE OF MINES AND METALLURGY.

The College of Mining Engineering has made a record to be proud of, and probably no other university in the United States can boast of the same honor. The record shows that this department has equipped men, not "slackers," but real patriots, to the cause of democracy.

The enlistment of E. B. Fleming, J. J. Flocken and Cecil B. Batsel completes the enlistment of the entire Junior and Senior classes of the College of Mining Engineering.

Fleming and Flocken, Seniors, left May 14 or 15 for the Fourth Training Camp, and after training will apply for admission in the Coast Artillery or Engineers' Corps. Batsel, a Junior, has enlisted as an engineering ensign of the navy, and after completing his course here will continue studies at some school designated by the Chief of Engineers of the Navy.

Fleming, of Flemingsburg, came from the Colorado School of Mines and entered here in his sophomore year. He is a member of the Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity.

Flocken, of Louisville, has been here four years. He teaches assaying in the Mining Engineering department and is a member of the Tau Beta Pi fraternity.

Batsel, of Fulton, is the only one left of the Junior class of eight, all of whom are in active service in France.

THE WAR COMMITTEE.

The University War Committee, the purpose of which is to decide and plan whatever service the University may render the Government, has supervision over Red Cross work, sale of Liberty Bonds and all other war activities on the campus.

Plans were made by the War Education Committee, of which Dr. Edward Tuthill is chairman, for holding three extra chapel exercises each week, to be taken up by lectures on the war from military and historic standpoints. These lectures begin Monday, April 29.

Captain H. N. Royden has spoken each week of various phases of "German Attack"; Professor C. R. Melcher and E. J. Tuthill on "German History"; Dean F. Paul Anderson on "The War From a Scientific Standpoint," and Professor E. F. Farquhar on "Bismarck."

Regular chapel periods were held Tuesday and Friday as usual. The battalion attended these war education assemblies in a body.

One of the chapel periods each week was given over to the commandant of the battalion, Captain H. N. Royden, who discussed the war from a strictly military view, explaining the various moves of the allied armies on the eastern front. Two talks were made by Dr. Ed Tuthill, head of the Department of History and Economics, who took up the war from a historic standpoint.

Composing the War Committee are Dr. J. W. Pryor, chairman; Capt. H. N. Royden, Dean F. Paul Anderson, Prof. George Roberts, Miss Mary E. Sweeney, Prof. Ezra L. Gillis, Wellington Patrick, Dee Ellis, Miss Frieda Lemon, Tilford Wilson and Miss Louise Mayor.

Sub-committees were appointed as follows: War Education Committee, Dr. J. E. Tuthill, chairman; Committee on War Service Organization, Prof. E. F. Farquhar, chairman; Miss Ruby M. Buckman and Lee McClain; Committee on Patriotic Exercises, Capt. H. N. Royden, Prof. Enoch Grehan and Charles Planck; Committee on War Service Records, Prof. Ezra L. Gillis, Capt. Royden and Dean C. L. Melcher; Committee on Publicity, Prof. Enoch Grehan, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin and Miss Eliza Piggott.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

THE KERNEL.

"The Kernel," the student weekly publication, has passed a wonderfully successful year with Thornton Connell, of Paris, as Editor-in-Chief and Miss Eliza M. Piggott as Managing Editor. These two were ably assisted by the entire staff, which has an excellent personnel.

Although he is still a Junior, Mr. Connell secured first place on the staff as the ranking member last September. His editorials have been timely, forcefully expressed and appropriate. In addition to his duties as Editor-in-Chief, he has continued to fill the place of Associate Editor. Miss Piggott has the distinction of being the first girl to become Managing Editor of the Kernel, and her splendid work on this publication secured her the position of Editor-in-Chief of the 1919 Kentuckian. Miss Eliza Spurrier's clever work as Editor of "Squirrel Food" is too well known to need comment. Miss Mildred Craham, an old staff member, has done faithful work as "Co-ed"itor, while Frederick Jackson and Charles Planck have ably filled their positions as Feature and Sporting Editors respectively. The remainder of the staff is composed of Sam Morton, Law; Lee McClaine, Agriculture; John J. Leman, Engineering; Virgil Chapman, Literary Societies; Austin Lilly, Home Economics; Virginia Helm Milner, Patterson Hall; Elizabeth Murray, Exchange Editor, and Mrs. F. O. Mayes, Philosophian. Messrs. W. S. Sherwood, Henry Grehan and Miss Bessie Conkright compose the reportorial staff.

HENRY CLAY LAW.

The Henry Clay Law Society has done excellent work this year. This work was carried on during the first semester under the leadership of Virgil Chapman. The officers of the Henry Clay during the first semester were: President, Virgil Chapman; Vice-President, Ben H. Scott; Secretary, Miss Rebecca Paritz; Treasurer, Edward Dabney; Attorney General, A. L. Northcutt; Chaplain, Herbert Haley.

The annual contest for places on the Henry Clay debate team was held the 19th of December, 1917. This was a spirited contest, in which about seventeen members took part. The following Kentucky orators carried away the laurel wreath: Virgil Chapman, Ben H. Scott, Ed Hardin, Virgil Pritchett, Holland Bryan, Bilton Revell, Carl Denker and Vance Quarles.

Officers for the second semester were elected at the first meeting of the Henry Clay during this semester. These officers were: President, Ben H. Scott; Vice-President, E. S. Dummit; Secretary, Edward Purvear; Treasurer, J. P. Barnes; Attorney General, Neville Moore; Chaplain, Herbert Haley.

UNION'S YEAR.

The Union Literary Society did not suffer any relapse this year, although many of its active members of last year enlisted in the national service and did not return. The few enthusiastic older members who returned reorganized the society by recruiting new members from the Freshman class. This was accomplished with great success. The society holds meetings every Saturday night with few exceptions. The debating team composed of E. E. Rice, L. F. Bischof and Ed Dabney defeated the Patterson Society team on the Woman Suffrage question. Two teams of two men each were selected to represent the University in the State contests. Rice and Dabney composed the team which defeated Georgetown at Georgetown, while Bischof and E. S. Dummit of the Patterson Society were administering defeat to Transylvania in the University chapel. The Union Society can boast of three men out of four on the teams which won the State championship.

Ed Dabney won the oratorical contest and then defeated Mr. Charles Plank, winner of the Patterson Society contest. Mr. Dabney will represent the University in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest to be held at Transylvania May 27. He is a speaker of rare quality, and the society expects him to bring home the laurels. The Declamation contest was won by E. W. Foster.

The officers elected for the first semester were: J. W. Lindsay, President; J. J. McBrayer, Vice-President; L. F. Bischof, Secretary; R. L. Duncan, Treasurer; Virgil Chapman, Attorney General. The officers for the second semester are J. W. Lindsay, President; E. E. Rice, Vice-President; L. F. Bischof, Secretary; R. L. Duncan, Treasurer; J. P. Barnes, Attorney General; Bryan Hall, Sergeant-at-Arms, and R. J. Raible, Librarian. Mr. Lindsay was the only active Senior remaining in the society, so he was honored by being elected President for the second time.

CRUM SOCIETY CONTEST.

The $20 Crum medal was awarded to Walter C. Piper, Junior in the College of Arts and Science, in the annual Patterson declamation contest held in chapel Friday, March . at 8 o'clock.

The contestants were Piper, "Affairs in Cuba;" H. B. McGregor, "Red Jacket on the Religion of the White Man;" H. S. Miller, "Flag Day Address;" E. S. Dummitt, "Patriotism." The judges were Dean Hamilton and Professors Farquar and Dantzler. Wellington Patrick, secretary to President McVey, awarded the medal.

HORACE MANN LITERARY SOCIETY.

Horace Mann Literary Society, which has taken an active part in the real of University work, meets every Thursday evening at 7:15 in the Education building. J. W. Milam, president of the first semester, attained excellent results for the organization and good programs were given weekly.

At the beginning of the second semester Elmer Weldon was elected President; Elizabeth McGowan, Vice-President, and Ila See, Secretary-Treasurer. The group system, recently adopted by the society, is that the thirty members are divided into four groups, each under the leadership of a captain. The captains are Margaret Woll, Bertha Miller, Irma Wentzell and Everett Kelly. Interest and enthusiasm was stimulated by the plan and the President of the society offered a prize of $5 to the group having the largest attendance up to May 16, 1918, and a second prize of a 1918 Kentuckian of $2.75 (in cash).

The weekly programs have been well prepared and have been arranged to consider the live issues of the day, such as war, lectures, modern sculpture and present day writers. The society owns one Liberty bond. The last meeting of the year was held Thursday, May 16.

E. S. DABNEY WINNER OF INTER-SOCIETY ORATORICAL CONTEST

The annual Inter-Society oratorical contest, held in the chapel Friday morning, April 26, was won by E. S. Dabney, a Junior in the College of Law. Mr. Dabney, the representative of the Union Literary Society, competed with Charles E. Planck, who represented the Patterson Literary Society. Dabney will represent the University in the Kentucky inter-collegiate oratorical contest.

The judges of the contest were Professor Baker, Doctor Bush and Judge Chalkley. Mr. Planck's subject was "The Service Flag"; Mr. Dabney spoke on "Conquer or Submit."

The Kentucky Inter-Collegiate oratorical contest will be held in Morrison Chapel at Transylvania University, May 17. All of the universities and colleges in the State will be represented in that contest.

THE STROLLERS.

Beginning with amateur night, October 31, in which Elizabeth Murphy, C. H. Heavrin and J. P. Barnes took first honors, and twenty-six new members were received, and reaching the pinnacle of success in amateur productions in the presentation of "Mice and Men" by a cast of the University's best talent, the Strollers have rounded out a year un eclipsed in history of the organization.

Appearing in stellar roles for the annual play were Miss Anne Malloy, Gus Gay and Milton Reville, ably supported by Misses Eliza Spurrier, Edna Berkele and Ruth Cassady, Charles Plancy, Fred Jackson and Robert Raible.

To the stage manager, Lee McClain, is due perhaps the biggest part of praise for the success of "Mice and Men." Shortly after his work with the Strollers, McClain went into army service and Gardon Marsh was elected to fill the vacancy.

For the first time since the organization came into being a girl has been elected president. This signal honor was accorded Miss Eliza Spurrier, Louisville, Ky., a junior in the University and a member of Kappa Delta sorority. Charles E. Planck, cheer leader and journalist, is the hustling business manager who was elected to the place for 1918.

The Strollers are doing their bit, and a big bit it is. With most of its capital invested in Liberty Loans, the dramatic club is putting forth every effort to support the big drive for humanity. A clever vaudeville skit, featuring Red Cross nurses and wounded soldiers, was given at the Lexington Opera House the night of May 4 for the benefit of the local Red Cross unit.

Yes, we'll have to take back what we said about them doing their "bit." The Strollers are doing their "utmost."

The new members received this year are: Frederick Jackson, C. A. Plank, Helen Taylor, Isabelle Dickey, Norma Rachel, J. P. Barnes, Frederick Augsburg, Virginia Throckmorton, Elizabeth Card, Lois Powell, Henry Thomas, Cecil Heavrin, Elizabeth Murphey, Elizabeth Marshall, Edna Berkle, Florence Brown, Catherine Megibbin, Ruth Cassady, Elizabeth Piggott, Brady Stewart, Eldon Dummitt, Robert Raible, Earl Hollowell, Bertha Miller, Dorothy Walker, Florence Johnston, Mayme Storms Dunn, Lucretia Meglone Kemp, Milton Revill, Bernice Young.

To the cast of "Mice and Men" a banquet was given at the Phoenix Hotel the Saturday night following the play. Lee McClain as toastmaster made the evening enjoyably informal.

Y. W. C. A.

At the annual election of officers of the Y. W. C. A. held March 24. Miss Mildred Graham was elected president; Miss Ruth Duckwall, vice-president; Miss Austin Lilly, secretary; Miss Elizabeth McGowan, treasurer, and Miss Louise Will, annual member.

Last year's officers were: Lelah Gault, president; Mildred Graham, vice-president; Ruth Duckwall, secretary, and Frieda Lemon, treasurer.

Miss Graham has chosen the following members for her cabinet: Program, Mildred Collins; Social Service, Mary Beall; Social, Eliza Piggott. The plan of having fewer girls than formerly is known as the Cabinet Commission. It is the system adopted by the national board to concentrate responsibility and bring more girls into active work on committees.

Besides other work that the Y. W. is doing at the Orphans' Home and the hospitals, a training class for Eight Weeks Club leaders has been started under the direction of Miss Mary Beall.

PHILOSOPHIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Philosopherian Literary Society held its first meeting September 18 and a committee was chosen to select subjects for the entrance papers and many new girls were admitted as members.

Each year the Philosophians give a party to all the girls in Patterson Hall. This year it materialized in the form of a circus, and was given Saturday, September 22, in Recreation Hall. There were about 150 members and friends present and an enjoyable program, consisting of living pictures, popular advertisements, shadowgraphs and statutes was given by some of the girls. War-time refreshments of tea and cakes were served and dancing was enjoyed until 11 o'clock.

Professor Farquahar gave a lecture to members of Philosophia October 7 on the "Modern Women of the Modern Drama."

The regular semi-annual election of officers was held Wednesday night, February 6, and the officers chosen were: Frieda Lemon, president; Mary Mayes, vice-president; Hannah Weakley, secretary; Mary Beall, treasurer; Katherine Weakley, sergeant-at-arms; Catherine Synder, literary critic.

March 6 the Philosopherian held the regular weekly meeting at the home of Dean Anna J. Hamilton, 643 South Limestone street. Miss Hamilton gave a lecture on "Dilatory Motions," the fourth of her series of lectures on Parliamentary Law. At this meeting she presented to the society the gavel which she had used in Louisville, as president, first of the Alethian Literary Society and later of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Ruth Duckwall was chosen to receive the gavel.

The Philosopherian Literary Society presented "You Never Can Tell," a play by Bernard Shaw, at the Lexington Opera House, May 17. The play was under the direction of Mrs. Sallie Bullock Cave, of the Lexington College of Music.

The following girls were in the cast: Louise Will, Alma Bosle, Virginia Helm Milner, Elizabeth McGowan, Marv Mayes, Eliza Spurrier, Louise Mayer, Frieda Lemon, Bernice Young, Bertha Miller and Virginia Croft.

Miss Spurrier carried the lead well, and in her male impersonation did clever work. Miss Milner was the real Gloria intended for the play, and though dignified and reserved, displayed her admiration for Mr. Valentine.

The play was a grand success and the girls are due great praise for their long hours of preparatory work.

Philosophia shows her patriotism by buying bonds.

THE LIBRARY CLUB.

The Library Club is one of the newest organizations of the University of Kentucky. It was founded in 1915 by Dean Anna Hamilton for the purpose of aiding young men and young women who are interested in library work. Miss Minnie Neville, assistant librarian, is president of the club this year; Edna Martin, vice-president; Margaret Tuttle, secretary and treasurer.

At present there is a membership of ten. Sessions are held once a month in the club room in the basement of the library. Socials are given several times a year by the members and honorary members, who are Dean Hamilton and Miss King, librarian. At the meetings the faculty gives lectures which run in series that are classified according to art of different countries, emphasizing especially American art, which is least known.

RED CROSS.

An auxiliary chapter of the Lexington Red Cross was organized at the University of Kentucky March 7, with Miss Mary E. Sweeney, Dean Anna J. Hamilton and Miss A. E. Crane as advisors.

Miss Louise Turner was elected president, Miss Catherine Christian treasurer and Miss Austin Lilly secretary. Committees on Sewing, Ways and Means, and Advertising were appointed.

The girls have entered into the work with zest and enthusiasm that promise great results. The committees immediately planned and have successfully carried out their part of the work. The Committee on Ways and Means, with Miss Marie Collins as chairman, makes sandwiches which are sold at noon and during chapel hours. So far they have cleared about $64 for the organization.

This money, together with the proceeds from the Red Cross dance given April 22, under the auspices of the Chi Omega fraternity, and the April Fool party, given at Patterson Hall, was invested in yarn, with which socks are being knitted.

An entertainment given at the Lexington Opera House by the society aided by the Strollers also swelled the treasury. In the Red Cross drive a sapphire ring presented to the University Unit by Mrs. W. G. Stoner, Mr. Sterling, and valued at $300, will be sold in order to buy more yarn for socks.

The unit so far has received the hearty co-operation of the entire University and it is greatly due to their support that the organization has experienced such rapid growth and development.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION NOTES.

At the opening of school last fall all possible aid was given the new students by the Y. M. C. A. All trains were met on the days of registration; a bureau of information was established and a list of good boarding houses placed at their disposal. At the close of the first week a reception was given with the help of the Y. W. C. A. to the new students and to President McVey.

Two other joint socials were held during the year, a Christmas tree party and a marshmallow roast. Nearly three hundred students attended each of these events. Regular meetings, with good attendance, have been held on Sunday evenings, and were addressed by some of the best-known speakers of the city. Dr. B. J. Bush, of the Presbyterian Church, and Dr. W. A. Fortune, of Transylvania, both gave a short series of talks.

Men have been sent to the various State conferences and a delegation to Blue Ridge is looked forward to. An active part in different phases of war work has been taken by the association—$800 has been given, the University Secretary gave two weeks time last fall to campaigning the Kentucky colleges and work will be done with the enlisted men who have come here for training. Although the student body is greatly decreased, this has been the best year financially the association has ever known.

About sixty men from the various colleges of Kentucky, including speakers, faculty men and students, journeyed in automobiles to Camp Daniel Boone, on the Kentucky River, Saturday, May 4, for a one-day conference to discuss plans for the coming year. This is the first meeting of its kind ever held in Kentucky, and it was very successful. The natural surroundings of the camp, the best speakers that could be secured and the best weather that could be desired all combined to impress on the minds of the delegates the seriousness of the occasion and to lend inspiration for a greater work next year.

Twelve men, including Secretary Johnson and three professors, were present to represent the University. The professors were Professors Melcher, Karaker and Freeman. Student delegates were J. W. Lindsay, E. E. Rice, R. E. Davis, Jesse Tapp, John Duncan, J. P. Barnes, W. D. Thompson and E. R. Gregg.

A motion was carried unanimously to raise $1,200 with which to build a Kentucky cottage at Blue Ridge. The meeting adjourned at 5 o'clock.

THE HISTORY CLUB.

The History Club of the University for the year 1917-1918 has not accomplished quite what it expected to because of its losses in membership and because of irregular meetings, due to the severity of the weather, but the Club did not sink into oblivion and was beneficial to its members.

The club discussed at meetings current historical topics and awakened a livelier interest in historical subjects, and it also helps the student in organizing his or her material, and in knowing how to present it to other people in the best way and to become accustomed to speaking in public.

Fortunately for the club, Dr. Edward Tuthill is at the head of the History Department, is thoroughly familiar with the subject and is ready to assist the students on this broad and enlightening subject.

WILDCAT BASKETBALL.

When speaking of basketball the Wildcats of the University of Kentucky do not feel the least embarrassed, for there was no team in the State that produced so many floor artists the last season as the Wildcat, and in the course of a short review of the past year's season it may be said that it has been many moons since the University has witnessed a more successful year.

The Wildcats were booked for thirteen games, four with University of Tennessee, two with Georgetown, two with Kentucky Wesleyan, one with Cumberland, three with Centre and one with Miami. However, the last game had to be scratched, as the team was snowbound just outside the city while on its way to mop the floor with the Ohioans.

The Wildcats of this year were as good as any team in the State, and Centre was the only team able to defeat them, and then only after playing a perfect game at Louisville, while the Wildcats seemed temporarily to have lost all idea of the game. However the season as a whole was one of success, with ten games out of twelve to our credit.

With Thomas, Shanklin, Bastin and Dishman, all freshmen and shining lights of this season, with many years before them to become sensations, returning to help unfurl the Blue and White in a glorious victory, next year's prospects seem very bright. But while indulging in the delight of the victory of these freshmen stars we must not forget the old veterans of the two years past, Marsh, Glickman, Campbell and Zerfoss, who are in the same class with the others with the slight advantage of more playing to their credit. So with the same blue blood surging through the veins of the Kentucky Wildcats to which they owe so much of their uncrowned success in the various athletic pursuits, we even hope to see a "brand" new gym crowded to the rails, if that is not too fond a dream, when our floor artists are scheduled for a tussle.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL.

In basketball this year the girls did not do as well as in past years, but they did extremely well under the difficult circumstances existing.

The games were as follows:

	Ky.	Opponent.
Wesleyan at Lexington.....	9	20
Wesleyan at Winchester	10	11
University of Cincinnati at Lexington.....	7	20
Hamilton at Lexington.....	24	4
University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati.....	9	27

The members of the squad this season were: Celia Cregor, captain; Nell Crain, Lillian Haden, Lilly Cromwell, Mildred Porter, Minnie Jamison, Dot Walker, Katie Henry and Burnice Young. A new ruling which recently went into effect allows sweaters to be given to players only in the first and last years they are on the team, so that Crain, second year, and Haden, third year, were given K's. Those who won sweaters this year are: Cregor, Senior; Lilly Cromwell, Dot Walker and Lucy Dean.

A meeting of the team was held Wednesday, May 8, with Captain Cregor presiding, in which Haden was elected captain for the team of '18-'19, and Dot Walker business manager. All the players except Cregor and Crain expect to return next year and better arrangements have been made for a place to practice, so the outlook for the coming season is promising.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA.

Red, buff and green ribbons were pinned this year on Myrtle Bailey, Clementina Davied, Frances Moore, Minnie Rees Jameson, Mary Helen Whitworth, Kathleen Oglesby, Allie Karsner, Evelyn Pannell and Gertrude Wallingford. The old girls were happy to have such a large chapter roll, for with Ruth Cassidy, who had been away from college two years, they had seventeen actives.

The following girls did not return this year: Mary Hamilton, '18; Annie Laura Rhoads, Mary Gray Ashbrook, Myrtle Smith, '18, Martha Varnon and Margaret Lair. Mary Hamilton is teaching at Cynthiana High School and Myrtle Smith at La Grange, Ky.

Never has Alpha Gamma Delta been poorer from weddings. There have had eight already.

To add to A. G. D. excitement Frances Moore, a pledge, left school one Saturday morning and wired at noon that she was married to Mr. Roy Peak, of Cynthiana.

This year the rushing party was a dance at Patterson Hall, the first dance given in the new Recreation Hall.

In "try out" for Stroller membership they had several girls this year. Mary Helen Whitworth, Mary Beall, Ruth Cassidy, Elizabeth Card and May Stephens gave a sketch on amateur night and were given membership. In the play, "Mice and Men," Ruth Cassidy took a minor part and Elisabeth Card and May Stephens were "orphans."

Alpha Gamma Delta is represented in college activities by Laura Lee Jameson, Ada Hardesty and May Stephens, who were on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet the first semester, and Mary Beall is at present. Aileen Kavanaugh was one of the four girls who made Staff and Crown. Lillian Hayden played on the varsity basketball team again this year, making her third year.

Kentucky pledged $1,000 for the Students' Friendship Fund and Alpha Gamma Delta gave $85 of this sum, besides each girl contributed to the $100 that Panhellenic gave. The girls have knitted seven sweaters and four pairs of wristlets for the Red Cross. At Christmas all the sororities helped make some less fortunate people happy. Since the Associated Charities had more calls for bedding than they could supply, six pairs of woolen blankets were given.

Several parties were given for the pledges this winter. Mrs. Alfred Zimbrod entertained Saturday evening, October 26, at her home in honor of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity and Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. Several of the alumnae were present. Mrs. William Townsend (Genevieve Johnson) gave an informal tea just before Thanksgiving.

They expect to have camp at the same time this year and expect many old girls to come. Last year, on account of the war, it was decided not to have full convention, but to give the money to be spent this way to the Red Cross. This was done, and Epsilon girls were sorry not to have had convention with them, but it is hoped they will have it next year. Kate Pence is serving in Doctor Barrow's unit and expects to go to France.

CHI OMEGA.

Lambda Alpha chapter of Chi Omega of the University gave a Red Cross dance for the benefit of the University unit Saturday, April 20, in the Armory. The room was decorated with lilacs, flags and patriotic posters. The dance was well attended and about $50 was cleared.

The members of the fraternity are: Active—Misses Helen Morris, Eloise Allen, Marie Young, Nancy Innes, Sarah Harbison, May Barnes Browning, Louise Turner, Eliza Piggott, Catherine Tucker, Ethel Fletcher, Jane Bell, Mary Heron, Nancy Buckner, Betty Davis, Mary Adams Talbot, Lucy Young, Mary D. Lane, Margaret Downing, Roberta Blackburn; pledges, Helen Skain, Bess Parry.

Lucy Young, Lexington; Helen Skain, Lexington; Bess Parry and Mary D. Lane, Maysville, were pledged to Lambda Alpha Chapter of Chi Omega in January.

Mrs. Edgar F. Farquhar, Chi Omega patroness, gave a tea in honor of the active chapter and pledges in April. Among those present from the faculty were Professor and Mrs. E. S. Good, Professor and Mrs. W. E. Freeman and Professor and Mrs. T. T. Jones.

Nancy Innes, '17, who has been teaching at Lincoln School in Lexington this year, was elected by the Board of Directors to take charge of the athletic work in connection with the school this summer. Miss Innes coached the boys' basketball team there during the winter.

KAPPA DELTA NOTES.

Epsilon Omega Chapter of Kappa Delta began the year 1917-1918 with only five active members, Lois Powell, Emma Holton, Eliza Spurrier, Lois Brown and Louise Will. Rushing was conducted with the help of the Lexington alumnae. Laura Steele, Annette Martin, Katherine Appleton Talbot, Elizabeth Oden and the sorores in facultate, Marguerite McLaughlin, and later, Christine Hopkins, who accepted a position in November with the English department of the University.

Kappa Delta's one rushing party, allowed by Panhellenic, took the form of a dinner given at the Phoenix Hotel in honor of the rushees, with Martha Buckman, Anna Louise Agnew and Helen McChandless as out-of-town guests. One week later four new girls wore green and white ribbons, Edna Berkele and Mayme Storms Dunn, of Lancaster; Elizameth Kraft, of Louisville, and Florence Brown, of Paducah.

In the meantime the chapter had been honored by a visit from Effie Moncure, National Secretary of Kappa Delta, and Eliza Spurrier had been elected President of the Strollers.

Just before the Christmas holidays Florence Johnson received the green and white ribbon.

After the holiday the pledges gave a delightful dance at Patterson Hall for the active chapter.

Shortly afterward, when the memorable rule was passed, removing Latin from the list of subjects required for entrance into the University, Elizabeth Murphey, of Paducah, became eligible, and was pledged to Kappa Delta.

Suddenly came the news that Emma Holton had accepted a position to teach modern languages in Waterloo, Iowa. As soon as examinations were over she left, after friends and fraternity sisters had bid her good-by with mingled feelings of pride, sorrow at parting and joy for her good fortune. Her farewell party was an informal luncheon given on the day of her departure by the active chapter, pledges and alumnae, at the Phoenix Hotel.

A few weeks later the four pledges who had successfully completed the term's, Edna Berkele, Elizabeth Kraft, Florence Brown and Mayme Stormes Dunn, with Aime Dietrich, were initiated. Initiation was followed by a banquet, at which, besides the new members, there was another guest of honor, Laura Steele, who had recently been elected President of Gamma province of Kappa Delta.

Six weeks after the new term began another initiation was held for Florence Johnson and Elizabeth Murphey. In concession to war times, a simple luncheon was substituted for the banquet which usually follows Kappa Delta initiations.

Then came the Stroller play, "Mice and Men," in which Kappa Deltas appeared, Eliza Spurrier in the role of Joanna Goodlake; Edna Berkele as Mrs. Deborah and Lois Powell and Florence Brown as orphans.

Eliza Spurrier was selected for the role of Valentine in the Philosophian play, "You Never Can Tell," and Louise Will received the part of Mrs. Lanfrey Clandon in the same play.

The closing event, socially, for the girls was a luncheon given May 4 in the private dining room of the Phoenix Hotel, in honor of Mrs. F. L. McVey and the patronesses, Mrs. Enoch Grehan, Mrs. Mona Oden, Mrs. C. J. Norwood, Mrs. D. D. Slade and Mrs. J. E. Tuthill.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA.

Kappa Kappa Gamma had twelve girls of the local chapter to return to the University this fall and twelve more pledged, making an active membership during the year of twenty-four.

The engagement of Maude Asbury to John Burton, of Cincinnati, has been announced.

In the fall drive to raise $1,000 for the University for the Student Friendship War Fund, Kappa gladly gave $150. During the winter months they made a gift of twenty-five knitted helmets to the 309th Ammunition Train at Camp Taylor.

At Christmas time, with the advice of the Associated Charities, each girl adopted a child for whom she made Christmas a little happier—and for many more comfortable.

They agreed not to have their annual banquet, deeming it unpatriotic.

In the recent Liberty Loan Campaign they invested in a Liberty bond to leave something for the girls that are to come and to help Uncle Sam.

It was voted not to have our regular National Convention, due to war conditions.

As our national war work we are assisting Dorothy Canfield Fisher in her wonderful work with the French orphans and blind soldiers at Bellvue.

We feel that we have sacrificed nothing, but have gained much, for we feel deeply the close bond of sympathy as loyal daughters of our country.

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA.

The Henry Watterson chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national honorary journalistic fraternity, has successfully completed its fifth year at the University of Kentucky. Virgil M. Chapman, Samuel Morton and Charles E. Planck, three of the most popular students of the University, were initiated on February 15, bringing the active membership to six. The other three are Lee McClain, J. Thornton Connell and Frederick M. Jackson.

Proudly it has sent one of its members, Lee McClain, into active service and the other members to Reserve Officers' Training Corps units or similar organizations for service.

Four of its members, J. Franklin Corn, McClarty Harbison, William Shinnick and Herndon Evans, have already heard the call to arms and are now in service. Several of the honorary members hold commissions in the army, and three of its alumni, Herbert Graham, John Marsh and Owen Lee, are at Camp Zachary Taylor.

The pledges of the fraternity are all closely allied with the publications of the University. Virgil Chapman, President of the Senior class, is the editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Law Journal, the official publication of the Kentucky State Bar. Sam Morton is editor-in-chief of the Kentuckian, the year-book of the University, which promises to be the best yet gotten out by the student body. Charles E. Planck, junior in the Department of Journalism, is sporting editor of the "Weekly Dorm," the original humorous publication of the University; editor of the Kernel, snap-shot editor of the Kentuckian and one of the editors, which appears "when all other publications of the University fail."

ALPHA ZETA.

The Alpha Zeta Fraternity has this year completed the Scovell Loan Fund of $200 which is to be lent to worthy and needy agricultural students. This chapter has only been established a few years, but is to be commended for the good work it has already accomplished.

November 9, 1917, was Alpha Zeta pledge day. Exercises were held in chapel, and five men, Frank Lancaster, Foster Elliott, Louis Steinhauer, Smith Gill and Headley Shouse, were pledged. The speakers for the occasion were Professors Roberts and Karraker.

On December 9, 1917, the fraternity gave a banquet at the Leonard in honor of Professor C. S. Adams, who was leaving for South Carolina. A dance was given March 15, 1918, at the Phoenix, on which occasion two men, Russell Hunt and Jesse Tapp, were pledged. On May 7 an informal meeting was held with the Alpha Zeta members of the faculty.

During the year six members were lost through graduation and five entered the service, leaving only five at the end of school.

TAU BETA PI.

C. F. Johnson will receive $100 this year as "Honor Man" of Alpha Chapter Kentucky, Tau Beta Pi. The cash prize is given each year by the alumni of University of Kentucky to the man of highest scholarship and standing of Junior Engineers, A. D. Hall, J. S. Wallingford and C. F. de Mey were pledged the second semester.

Tau Beta Pi, which is a national honorary engineering fraternity, was founded at Lehigh University, South Bethlehem, Pa., in 1885, and now has an enrollment of thirty-two chapters, with a membership of more than seven thousand. Alpha chapter of Kentucky was established April 5, 1902, and now has more than 225 University of Kentucky graduates making their mark in the engineering world.

Tau Beta Pi was founded for the purpose of marking under-graduates of the engineering departments who have shown good scholarship. The best scholar of those departments is chosen at the beginning of his Junior year as "Honor Man." To this man the Alumni of University of Kentucky gives a cash prize of one hundred dollars. R. C. Stoll, of Lexington, who graduated in 1896, presented to R. M. Davis, the "Honor Man" of the class of 1918, the prize for this year.

To be eligible for Tau Beta Pi, one must be of high morals, good character and one of the one-fourth best of his class. One-eighth are chosen at the close of the junior year and one-eighth at the beginning of their senior year.

For the pledge exercises, Tau Beta Pi and Alpha Zeta, the honorary Agricultural society, this year joined in giving a beautiful dance at the Phoenix Hotel ballroom on the evening of March 15, and the ribbons were pinned on pledges in the grand march.

"Bent" is the national publication of Tatu Beta Pi and is published quarterly.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA.

Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary fraternity to add interest in public speaking, was instituted in the University of Kentucky in 1912. Membership is limited to those who have represented the University in some forensic contest.

At the beginning of the current year J. J. McBrayer was the only active members with Honorary Members Professor J. T. C. Noe and Professor C. W. Bailey. On the 29th of April the following men were pledged to Tau Kappa Alpha: E. E. Hardin, E. E. Rice, Vilgil Chapman, F. L. Bischof, E. S. Dummitt, Milton Revill, C. R. Pritchett and Ed Dabney. Initiation will be held before June 1, with a banquet at the Phoenix following.

Four of the members compose the champion debating team for Kentucky for 1918, Ed Dabney, E. E. Rice, E. S. Dummitt and L. F. Bischof. This team defeated Transylvania University and Georgetown College.

Ed Dabney will represent the University in the Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest to be held later in the year.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI.

Perhaps there has never been a year in the history of the University of Kentucky which opened with such a poor outlook for fraternities as did the year 1917-18. Last spring the war made great inroads on the Greek letter organizations and left them with scarcely enough members with which to begin the year. Sigma Chapter began the year with only five members, C. H. Heavrin, B. B. Russell, K. W. Goosman, J. D. Wood and M. G. Lasley.

However, in spite of the obstacles presented by this year of trouble, Sigma Chapter has managed to do fairly well. E. M. Pullen, T. B. Propps, E. B. Fleming, V. J. Pritchett, J. E. McClure, J. E. McClellan, L. F. Bischof, W. C. Brown, W. E. Endicott, L. G. Burgevin and Alvan Lisanby have been initiated, which brings their quota up to seventeen active members, counting E. E. Kelly a member from last year, who returned to the University at the beginning of the second semester. Lieut. Frank Moore, a former pledge, who left last year for the training camp before he could be initiated, was in the city on December 7 and was initiated.

Social activities have been much curtailed this year because of the war, but Sigma Chapter held their annual dance Friday evening, March 8, at their chapter house, 238 East Maxwell. The colonial halls, with spacious rooms on either side, were decorated with the fraternity colors, cardinal and stone, and with plants and flowers. About fifty guests were present. The music was furnished by a saxophone trio, and during the evening refreshments were served.

Sigma now has thirteen men in service in the army and navy. We lost twelve of these men last spring at the declaration of the war, and K. W. Goosman enlisted in the Coast Artillery and left the University May 6. A service flag has already been made and on it are thirteen stars, showing what Sigma has done.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON.

The collegiate year of 1917-18 has been satisfactory from every viewpoint to Kentucky Epsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Kentucky Epsilon has twenty-four men enrolled on its records as having attended the University during 1917-18.

The Sig Alphas have been fortunate in having every man identified with some University activity.

"Cupid" Dempsey and Craig Riddle were regulars on the 'varsity football team and both made the coveted "K." Other S. A. E's out for football were Anthony Dishman and Jake Herndon, the former playing in several 'varsity games, but too few to make his letter. Dishman was the only S. A. E. on 'varsity basketball. Dempsey, an athlete of four years' standing at the University, was awarded a "K" in baseball.

In amateur University dramatics, Milton Revill took the lead for S. A. E. and for The Strollers, dramatic organization of the University of Kentucky, in their annual play, "Mice and Men." Rollie Guthrie, first year man, became a member of The Strollers, but failed to appear in the cast for the play.

The Kentucky Kernel, University publication, was edited by Thornton Connell. Milton Revell was a member of the debating team of the College of Law.

The following S. A. E's of 1917-18 belonged to honorary: fraternities Branch Taber, Alpha Zeta; Alex Hall, Tau Beta Pi; Thornton Connell, Alpha Delta Sigma.

By the time this is published in the Alumnus, if the editors are so gracious, Kentucky Epsilon shall have unfurled a magnificent service flag of forty to forty-five stars. The latest two Kentucky Epsilon men to leave for the service are Frank W. Dempsey, who will attend the Fourth Officers' Training Camp, and Carrol Cropper, who recently joined the Coast Artillery.

And it is needless to say that Kentucky Epsilon is proud of its service flag, proud of every man who has sacrificed his personal glory and gain for America and her Allies.

The names of the active members of S. A. E. for 1917-18 follow:

A. M. Wood, Lockett Robards, E. M. Guthrie, S. C. Lambert, C. L. Cropper, M. K. Revill, O. W. Collins, F. W. Dempsey, R. L. Jones, A. G. Norment, A. D. Hall, N. D. Witt, J. T. Connell, R. W. Hagan, J. W. Herndon, Benn Orr, J. A. Dishman, I. B. Tabor, J. C. Riddell, G. M. Matthews, Gus Snider, B. W. McMurtry and Fred Smith.

PI KAPPA ALPHA.

Omega Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity opened the work of the past year inauspiciously yet effectively. With all the progress and success of last year's chapter apparently shattered by the call of democracy, for only four out of last year's chapter of twenty-two returned to do battle with their studies, the others preferring to do justice to the Hun. The chapter was not discouraged, but entered into its work with the same unrelenting enthusiasm.

We have initiated seven good men, and now have a few pledges left to start on next year, who entered school this last semester, and, according to Panhellenic rules, cannot be received into the bonds until they have finished one semester of work.

Robert D. Davis, senior in the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineers, Tau Beta Pi honor man for last year, and now acting as assistant professor in that college, has been recommended by the faculty to represent the University at the Engineers' Officers' Training Camp, and as we regret very much to give up Brother Davis, we do not wish to stop him from taking advantage of so rare an opportunity.

In such trying times Omega has not failed to give a little attention to the social side of school activities. It held its annual dance at the Phoenix on the night of February 23 and a banquet in honor of the active chapter and pledges was given on the night of April 22. Also a smoker for the chapter and its local alumni has been indulged in, and one of the most pleasant events of the year was a party given for us by Professor Alfred Zembrod, of the University, an alumni.

On May 1 we had one of the greatest losses of the year, when Jimmie Hedges, senior and assistant "prof" in mechanical college, left our ranks to help fight for the cause of justice on water, thus giving us another star for our service flag, which is now being made with forty-three stars, including one gold one for Stanley Smith of last year's chapter, who was the first man of the University to sacrifice his life in the present struggle for the cause of democracy.

But all this is not unpleasant, for we have been pleased by the visits of many of our men of previous years who are now in the service, and are proud to say that they all seemed willing and glad of the opportunity of serving their country in so worthy a cause.

DELTA CHI.

The Delta Chi fraternity has its headquarters this year at the Ryan Apartment on Upper and High streets. Twenty-five men from this chapter are in service.

On the active chapter roll are: J. J. McBrayer, U. G. Ward, E. L. Ritchie, E. E. Hardin, James Farmer, Charles Chappell, J. P. Reynolds and George F. Gallun.

Pledges: Ed Puryear, Perry Thomas, Leland Hanks and J. G. Ridell.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA.

The war has affected all fraternities, but Iota chapter of Alpha Tau Omega has had a most successful year. Nine new members have been initiated and at present the chapter is nearly up to its normal strength.

A service flag containing thirty-three stars is nearly finished and will be presented to the chapter by the men who have been initiated this year. The flags will have a red border with blue stars on a foundation of white. The stars will be arranged to form a Maltese cross, the model for the official badge of the fraternity.

In the near future the chapter will publish the "New Iota Sentinel." The paper will be in pamphlet form and will contain news of special interest to the alumni and the other chapters. A copy will be sent to every alumnus and to each of the chapters.

Brother A. E. Ewan, 1010, has been appointed Chief of Province VII, and he has already assumed the duties of the office. He visited Iota chapter in April and obtained a report of the year's work.

The annual banquet was held as usual on the 22d of February. There was not quite as many present as is customary, but there was no lack of interest. After the wartime menu had been enjoyed several after-dinner speeches were made.

About thirty were present, and among the visitors were the Rev. Mr. Walker, of Tennessee, Beta Tau; Mr. Moss, State Fuel Controller, from Tennessee;

E. L. Williams, Michigan, Beta Tau Lamba; A. C. Ewan, '10, of Greenville, Ky.; W. C. Fox, '10, of Dayton, Ohio; L. E. Nollan, '04, of Lexington; W. C. Kenners, '03, of Louisville, Ky., and A. M. Kirby, '07, of Saigon, Indo, China.

SIGMA NU.

The Sigma Nu fraternity has its house this year at 144 North Upper street. The fraternity has one of the most attractive service flags on the campus, on which twenty-eight stars are arranged in the shape of a star. Many of the members who were in school last year are playing important parts in the game of war. Among these are Captain Keeling Pulliam, who is in active service in France in the United States Aviation Corps, and his younger brother, Harold Pulliam is taking similar training in the East preparing to follow as soon as possible. Morris Pendleton, Aviation Repair Service, sailed recently for France.

In February the Sigma Nu fraternity entertained with an afternoon tea dance in the ballroom of the Phoenix Hotel. The event was one of the most enjoyable of the season. All the arrangements were in keeping with the war-time rules.

This year the Sigma Nus have the honor of winning the loving cup in the interfraternity basketball contest.

Those of the active chapter who have not been called away are: Grover Creech, C. E. McCormack, Winston Coleman, Neal Knight, John Heber, Herschel Auxier, Clarence Young, Eger Murphree, Tilford Wilson, R. D. Wallace, W. S. Morgan and C. E. Rowlette.

Pledge: Bob Davis.

SIGMA CHI NOTES.

Lambda Lambda chapter of Sigma Chi was again rewarded by a most prosperous year, although conditions were very unfavorable. Seven of the old members returned in the fall, and during the season ten men were pledged. The increasing membership was soon checked, however, by the enlistment of more than half the chapter and by several of the pledges leaving to do farm work. Due to the pressing needs of the time, the usual social activities were greatly reduced and all available funds over the running expenses of the fraternity house were turned over to various branches of the war relief work. The house, which is located on South Broadway, will soon be honored by a service flag with forty-two stars for the men who joined the service before September and those who have left during the year.

 Sidney A. Wright, Ambulance Corps.
 George Lee McClain, National Army.
 Reuben Hutchcraft, First Lieutenant American Expeditionary Forces.
 Henry S. Richards, Poindexter Mabry, George Lee McClain, all this year's men, have gone into service since February.
 Six men, all from last year's chapter, are now in France.

ALUMNI CLUBS

CHICAGO ALUMNI NOTES.

BY L. T. MARKS.

F. H. Graham and S. D. Saunders have temporarily left Chicago and gone to New York to do some development work there in connection with the semi-automatic telephone exchange system of the Western Electric Company.

While Mr. and Mrs. A. Penrod were celebrating the birth of the New Year some denizen of the underworld entered their apartment and relieved Pen of practically all of his clothing. He would appreciate anything in the line of cast-off wearing apparel any fellow alumnus can spare.

H. R. Moore has proudly announced that he is soon to be the owner of a flivver.

Lieut. Frank Wilkes, '08, is instructor of wireless telephony as applied to flying machines, at Camp Meade, Indiana.

A. H. Colbert, formerly with the Iroquois Engineering Company of Chicago, has moved to Alabama, where he has taken a position with one of the steel companies near Birmingham.

F. J. Forsythe has returned to his home town, Pikeville, Ky., where he is paddling his own canoe in the fleet of electrical contractors and retailers of mine, mill and electrical supplies.

NEW YORK CLUB.

The New York Alumni of the University of Kentucky entertained with their sixteenth annual dinner Friday night, April 27, in one of the special dining rooms of the McAlpin Hotel, New York City. Dr. Frank L. McVey, of the University of Kentucky, and Governor A. O. Stanley were the guests of honor, and 100 others enjoyed the splendid gathering of University of Kentucky men and their wives.

Preceding the banquet a reception was held in one of the rooms on the first mezzanine floor. The guests were presented to Dr. McVey before repairing to the dining room, where a delicious course dinner was served. The picturesque gold room presented an interesting scene with its gathering of distinguished Kentuckians, both young and old, who have gained prominence in scientific and professional circles, and its beautifully gowned women. Many of the men were wearing the uniforms of Army Captains and Lieutenants, while scattered among them was to be seen occasionally a naval officer. An orchestra played softly during the course of the meal.

President Allison Akin of the Alumni Association, graduate of the class of 1906, delivered the address of welcome, and introduced the toastmaster, Dr. Harold L. Amos. Major Amos, as a member of the faculty of the Rockefeller Institute, has gained distinction as a research worker in infantile paralysis and spinal meningitis. His training at the University of Kentucky was received under Dr. Joseph Kastle.

Next was introduced Professor F. Paul Anderson, Dean of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, University of Kentucky, who reviewed the work of the University up to the present time and paid tribute to the professors who have passed away. Professor Anderson in turn introduced Doctor McVey, who outlined to the alumni the plans in store for the continued progress of the University and prophesied a brilliant future.

In the dining room adjoining Queen's College men were holding their alumni dinner, and during the evening messages of good fellowship were exchanged between the banqueters. A note of sadness lay in the fact that practically all of the Queen College group was composed of older men, for her young men have long ago answered the call to arms.

During the evening President Akin received numerous telegrams from the alumni who were not present, expressing their regret at not being able to attend.

THE ALUMNAE CLUB.

The Alumnae Club, of which Mrs. Charles J. Smith is President, entertained during the Thanksgiving holidays with a luncheon at the Phoenix Hotel in honor of Mrs. Frank L. McVey, who made a visit to Kentucky before coming here to reside permanently.

The club's annual party for the girls of the senior class was given this year, Friday afternoon, May 31, at Mrs. Smith's home. The entertainment was the first of the social features given as a part of Commencement Week and was enjoyed by the senior girls.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The Woman's Club of the University have elected Mrs. P. P. Boyd President for the coming year, and with her Mrs. M. L. Pence, Vice-President; Mrs. D. J. Healy, Treasurer; Mrs. Linwood A. Brown, Recording Secretary, and Mrs. L. K. Frankel, Accounting Secretary.

The club has had a very pleasant year, meeting their plans. Miss A. E. Crain and Miss E. D. Pickett were the hostesses and Mrs. M. A. Scovell gave an address. The November meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. M. Davis. She was assisted by Mrs. P. P. Boyd. Judge Charles Kerr was present and gave an interesting address. Mrs. George Roberts entertained the club in December. Miss Mary E. Sweeney gave a talk on conservation, and after the business meeting a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Frank L. McVey. Owing to the severe weather, the January meeting was postponed a week and was held at Patterson Hall. Victor Bogaert gave an interesting lecture on the Belgians. A knitting unit was also organized to make socks and sweaters for the University boys who are in the service. Mrs. J. D. Turner, assisted by Mrs. M. A. Scovell and Mrs. F. P. Anderson, entertained in February, and in March the meeting was held with Mrs. Linwood A. Brown, Mrs. E. J. Kinney assisting her. Miss Christine Hopkins gave a reading and Professor Dantzler gave a short talk. In April Mrs. Frank L. McVey entertained the Club at her home on Ashland avenue. Dean Cooper spoke on the labor situation in the United States and a musical program was rendered by Miss A. C. Goff, Mrs. Hughes Jackson and Miss Myrtle Kesheimer. The May meeting was held in the evening at the home of Mrs. J. T. C. Noe, and the men of the faculty were the guests of honor on the occasion and Doctor McVey delivered the address.

The club organized a Red Cross unit this year and has done much toward aiding the sale of Thrift Stamps and Liberty Bonds. At the April meeting it was voted that the club would buy a Liberty Bond, and as the funds then in the treasury were not sufficient, the members made up the deficiency.

CLASS NOTES

CLASS OF 1894.

LILLIE KROESING KESHEIMER.

As an echo from the dim and distant past, from the days of long ago, ever and anon there comes to us a greeting, a little message, a bit of news from some one we have known long since and lost a while. 1894—That seems a very, very long age to the college boy and girl of today, but to us, the members of that class, it seems but a little while since we stood, twenty of us, six girls and fourteen boys, a large class for that day, and received from the hand of our beloved President, Dr. J. K. Patterson, the diploma for which we had toiled and labored so long.

Albert Norman is cruising the waters for Uncle Sam. B. B. Jones, the Mary Belle of college days, is making a name for himself as a lawyer in far-away Los Angeles. And last, but by no means the least, Dr. Hughes, old baldheaded Len Hughes, member of the college band, midnight artillery and other famous organizations of that day. Old Len Hughes is in Louisville, at Camp Taylor, commanding officer of Hospital Unit No. 40, the unit of the Blue Grass, of which we are all so proud, and going to take that unit to France.

But that is not all. Word comes to us of the appointment to a position of importance of another member of the class. Mr. John T. Faig, who has been a professor in the Mechanical Engineering College of the University of Cincinnati for the last twelve years, has been appointed president of the Ohio Mechanical Institute at Cincinnati. It has been recalled that in her class prophecy your secretary predicted that John would be president of an engineering college some day. Professor Faig will continue at the head of this same work at the University until the end of the year, because there are 500 men at the University training under his supervision. He will take over one of the most important phases of the new work at once—that of training the 250 registrants in engineering and other such work being done at O. M. I.

NOTES OF THE CLASS OF 1895.

MARY DIDLAKE, Secretary.

Dick Stoll has been active in working for the various Liberty Bond issues since America entered the war, and although it has been mentioned elsewhere, I should like to repeat, as one of our class news items, the fact that last June he contributed the entire $100.00 to establish "our" class scholarship loan fund. Several vain attempts had been made to raise the amount by gifts from all the class. As it is, we are the first class to donate such a fund. Others have partially raised their amount, and several clubs and fraternities and individuals have given the completed sum.

Nellie Reynolds, after completing a course at the University of Chicago, has taken a position as urban supervisor in co-operative work in agriculture and home economics in Virginia, helping to spread the knowledge and urge the necessity of food production and conservation. She has been in consultation with the Federal authorities at Washington and now has charge of the work in ten cities, with headquarters at Richmond, Va.

Lucy Fitzhugh has given up her place in the library of the State Department to assume one in the War Risk Bureau of the Department of Justice. In preparation for the work she completed some legal studies at George Washington University and has been able to render expert and important service in her new position.

Paul Murrill has left Kingston, Tenn., and gone to New York. His business address is Chemical Building, 50 East Forty-first street. His home is in New Rochelle, N. Y., at 158 Center avenue. He is doing war work for the Government along chemical lines.

J. W. Faulkner has sent a contribution to one of our portrait funds and wrote that having been "born too soon" is the only thing that keeps him out of the war. He says that in Oklahoma good oil geologists are in demand at $150 a day, and he wishes he were one. He used to be good at geology in our college days, but then he had not "struck ile."

Mary Atkins is still at Cheney, Washington, and is kept very busy doing much work for food conservation in addition to her regular duties. She has been granted leave of absence from her present work to give a special six-weeks summer course at the University of Washington, Seattle. The new duty is a compliment to Miss Atkins' executive and professional ability.

Lieutenant John I. Bryan, of the United States Coast Guard, writes a very interesting letter from shipboard. Mr. Bryan was graduated in 1895 and immediately entered the United States Revenue Cutter Service. He stood fifth in examination of twenty-five contestants, to fill ten vacancies. Since 1913 he has held the rank of First Lieutenant of Engineers, and is now on a submarine destroyer.

NOTES OF 1896.

J. Irvin Lyle, of the class of '96, who has been appointed Alumni Trustee by Governor A. O. Stanley, came to Lexington May 8 from his home in New York City to attend a called meeting of the trustees of the University. Mr. Lyle, who is president of the Carrier Engineering Corporation of New York City, has gained marked distinction in engineering circles of the East.

R. C. Stoll, '96, has been reappointed a trustee of the University and made Vice-Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Stoll is also Chairman of the Executive Committee.

CLASS OF 1898.

Dr. Author Loevenhart has been called from his laboratory in the University of Wisconsin to Washington, where he will be in charge of the extensive gas investigations made by the Government. Dr. Loevenhart's new laboratory is being fitted at a cost of $30,000 and will be finished for use in a few weeks.

P. P. Johnston has been appointed Alumni Trustee of the University by Governor A. O. Stanley and was named by the Governor as a member of the Executive Committee of the board.

James W. Hughes has been transferred from the position of production manager of the Defiance Manufacturing Company at Philadelphia to a position with the Savage Arms Company, where he superintended the manufacturing of breach-loading mechanisms for three-inch guns.

1901.

G. W. Rice, 1901, has taken a position as chief engineer and general superintendent of construction work of the California Southern Railroad, with headquarters in Los Angeles. Before taking this position Mr. Rice was chief engineer for the Goose Lake Irrigation Company at Lakeview, Ore., where he was in charge of the construction of an irrigation project to water 70,000 acres of land.

W. S. Webb, formerly head of the Department of Physicians, has been promoted from the rank of First Lieutenant to that of Captain, 325th Field Artillery, Camp Zachary Taylor.

Matt M. Clay, 1902, College of Civil Engineering, is in the railroad work of the Division of Valuation, Interstate Commerce Commission, Chattanooga, Tenn. Mr. Clay discussed some of the elements of his work before the John Hays Hammond Society recently.

CLASS OF 1903.

Thomas H. Cutler was called into the service about six months ago and is now in France leading the work of reconstruction. Mr. Cutler was a leading consulting engineer of Cary, Ill., when the States entered the war, and he had just announced his candidacy for Engineering Commissioner of the State when the Government called him.

Mrs. Cutler, Miriam Nave of college days, will probably spend the time of Mr. Cutler's absence with her relatives in Kentucky.

Miss Sarah Chorn, for several years instructor of French in the University, has accepted a Government position in New York. Miss Chorn is an Alumna and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity. Miss Adelina Castro has taken Miss Chorn's French classes temporarily.

1905.

Howard Payne Ingels, class of 1905, has recently been appointed secretary of the War Industries Board and secretary of the Price Fixing Committee of this board.

1906.

D. C. Kinkead, a former student of the University, is now located with the Marshall-Nelson Hardware Company, of Duluth, Minn. Mr. Kinkead was a member of the class of 1906, but left the University in his junior year.

1907.

Dr. Graham Edgar, who was graduated from the Arts and Science College in 1907, and who has been located as professor of chemistry, Trooe College of Technology, Pasadena, Cal., has been ordered to report for special war duty in the Department of Chemistry at Washington, D. C.

NOTES OF THE CLASS OF 1908.

W. C. Matthews is now an erecting engineer in Santa Maria, Cal., having established his own business about a year ago. Since his graduation, until about a year ago, Mr. Matthews was connected with the Fairbanks-Morse Company, and held various positions in their western territory.

Frank M. Wilkes is now Captain, Signal Corps Radio School, College Park, Maryland. Captain Wilkes for several years was manager of the Missouri Public Utilities Company at Poplar Bluff, Mo., and was at the first officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. Since receiving his commission he has been in charge of the first Government radio school established.

Captain Wilkes has expressed his pleasure that the University of Kentucky is to conduct a radio school. He stated that Walter C. Kiesel, another member of the class of 1908, had taken the Signal Corps radio training.

CLASS OF 1909.

PHILIP L. BLUMENTHAL.

Hello, bunch! Your Secretary has been lazy here of late, and missed the last issue of the Alumnus. As a side remark, there was no news to write, as not a single (or married) '09er had written to him in some months. Recently a few of our class dropped into the old town, and hence the following notes:

O. B. Chisholm writes from Africa that he is once more at home at Fort Jameson, Northern Rhodesia. After dodging submarines and escaping several heavy storms en route, he and Mrs. Chisholm reached South Africa, where they made a 300-mile motorcycle trip through African swamps and veldts to reach "Home, Sweet Home."

Lieutenant John S. Crosthwaite (yes, it's our "Skinny") spent several days in Lexington during the Christmas holidays. Johnny is in command of a machine gun platoon at Camp Dix, New Jersey.

"Jersey" Ellis attended Farmers' week at the University of Kentucky. He looks prosperous, and aside from his large farming interests in Livingston county, he is doing a thriving insurance business.

Peggy Moore delivered a splendid oration on "The Duty of the Citizen" at Hopkinsville recently. Rumors indicate that he is one of the coming young men of Western Kentucky. That is no surprise to the class of 1909, for we knew he could deliver the goods, and are ready to get behind him whenever he starts out to put Kentucky on the map, aren't we?

Lieutenant M. Dan Reddish, having completed his military training at Fort Oglethorpe, has been detailed to duty at the Base Hospital, Camp Zachary Taylor. There is a Mrs. Reddish, now.

Charley Johns is the proud father of a seven-pound boy who arrived January 10. That makes two for Charley, only one is a girl.

Hal Townsend and family recently moved to Akron, Ohio, where Hal has accepted a position in the Manufacturing Method Department of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

Hiter Lowry has been promoted to head of the standardization division of the telephone equipment engineering department of the Western Electric Company's plant at Hawthorn, Ill.

No word has come from any of our girls in more than six months; in spite of the fact that your Secretary is a crabbed old bachelor with a tendency to bald spots; he still has a warm spot in his heart for the girls of '09, and would appreciate an occasional letter, whether censored by "Hubby" or not. You see, it's much simpler for each of you to write even once, as the latter doesn't want to slight anyone, and that means seventy letters each time.

By the way, has every one paid his alumni dues? We still need money, if the little book is to continue, and if you had forgotten your obligation, please send Dr. Sam B. Marks a check at once.

Your Class Secretary has been called to Washington in the Chemical Service section of the National Army.

CLASS OF 1910.

Warner P. Sayres, Covington, formerly a student in the University, is the only man at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, who has skipped a rank and been promoted from a Second Lieutenant to a Captain.

Captain Sayres received a second lieutenantancy at the first training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. He was sent to Camp Taylor and put in charge of the soldiers' insurance there. His rapid promotion is due to his efficiency in this work, where he has established a record for his camp in the number of men insured, and the quick time made in the work.

E. B. Webb, A. B., 1910, has been transferred from the Deputy Collectorship of Income Tax to the Deputy Collectorship of Internal Revenue and placed under civil service rule.

Miss Ruby Fleming, '10, is private secretary to Senator Borah of Idaho. Miss Fleming was an honor graduate of the University in the College of Arts and Science. She taught after graduation with marked success until last year, when she went to Washington to enter the Government work. She had been there but a short time when this position was offered her.

NOTES OF THE CLASS OF 1912.

The graduates and former members of the class of 1912 will doubtless be interested to know that:

H. G. Korfage, who has been connected with the New York Public Service Commission for several years in the capacity of junior electrical engineer, has made application for admittance to the aviation section of the signal corps.

Lieut. F. E. Beatty is now stationed at a camp at Atlanta, Ga. Before attending the officers' training camp he was connected with McCandles & Co., Brooklyn.

Lieut. J. Ray Duncan is at present stationed on the Leveathan. He is well and happy, but says it is difficult to hear from his friends. He declares the Leveathan (formerly the Vaterland) is "some s-h-i-p."

Robert E. Duncan, a former University man, is probably "over there." Duncan enlisted at the declaration of war and was stationed at Camp Taylor with the Twenty-sixth Machine Gun Battalion. This battalion has been transferred to an unknown destination.

Derrill W. Hart, Principal of Harrison School, has been given indefinite leave of absence to enter the service.

Miss L. E. Edmonds, also a graduate of the University, was elected to fill a vacancy in the Morton High School.

Jake Gaiser, of the class of 1912, and his bride were visitors at Mechanical Hall last Wednesday. Mr. Gaiser was married in New York, April 10, and was spending a part of his honeymoon at the University of Kentucky.

Roy C. Bennett, a student in the University in the College of Arts and Science in 1911-12, came this week from the Daily States in New Orleans, to succeed Maurice Bronaugh as city editor on the Lexington Herald.

Mr. Bennett took his sophomore work here, then went to the University of Missouri, where he was graduated. He received his first newspaper training in the Department of Journalism of that institution.

CLASS OF 1914.

A. R. Bennett, '14, is in the service of the United States War Department. He is located at present in the United States Engineers Department in New York City.

Walter F. Wright, formerly of Manchester, Ky., a graduate of the University, now serving in France, has written to his wife describing something of his life "over there." The letter was so inspiring that when it came into the hands of President McVey, he read parts of it to the student body in chapel. That all may read this hopeful and inspiring message from a former student in the University, the Kernel takes this opportunity to publish it in part.

Charles R. Gilmore, class of 1914, was a passenger on the steamship "Oronsa," torpedoed and sunk off the coast of England on April 28, and was saved.

He was on his way to France at the time to take up war Y. M. C. A. work on the front. Mr. Gilmore is a native of Somerset, but for the last several years had been living at Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he was for some time assistant postmaster, and later was connected with one of the large oil and gas producing companies of Oklahoma.

NOTES OF CLASS OF 1915.

Monott Brooke, graduate of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, has been employed as a junior engineer by the Merchant Marine since September, 1917, when he sailed for Russia. He has made three trips to Europe.

H. Y. Barber has been with the Babcock & Wilcox Company at Barberton, Ohio, for the last two years. He has now severed his connection with this firm and offered himself to the Government for service in the line of engineering.

J. E. Bolling is mechanical engineer for the Drying Systems (Inc.), Chicago. This at present is a very important work, as the Government is using the entire output of these plants for the maintenance of the soldiers abroad.

S. B. Mellen is traveling representative of the Willard Storage Battery, with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.

T. R. Numan was with the Armstrong Cork and Insulation Company of Pittsburgh until last May, when he entered the first training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. He was commissioned Second Lieutenant and has since been stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor.

James Park, now assistant athletic coach, has been accepted for service in the aviation corps. flying section. He is awaiting call to the Columbus flying field, where he will receive two months' preliminary training before being sent abroad.

Miss Esther Rider, graduate of the College of Arts and Science, is filing and index clerk in the Bureau of the Chief Ordnance Department.

CLASS OF 1916.

Rebecca W. Smith is now in New York finishing up her work for a Master's degree at Columbia University.

W. K. Thomas, who left the University in his sophomore year, has been foreman of the testing department of the Remy Engineering Laboratories, of Detroit, for more than a year, and recently invented a mechanical relay for Harley-Davidson generators. Mr. Thomas has joined the aviation service and visited relatives near Muir recently.

Lieutenant Franklin Corn, a post-graduate in the College of Law last year, who was graduated in 1916, enlisted in the regular army as a private last May and has been commissioned Second Lieutenant in the regular army.

E. M. McCoy is Captain of Infantry, probably the first among recent University of Kentucky graduates to secure this recognition. E. M. McGufey has received a Lieutenant's commission. Both these students were History majors.

Keel Pulliam, recently injured in active air service in England, has quite recovered. Lieutenant Pulliam is now flying in France.

A Washington note says: "Hon. Douglas Felix, Hartford, Ky., who has been in Washington for the past year or so, has just received another promotion in the Judge Advocate General's office, and holds the position of Captain.

Captain Felix graduated from the University in 1916 with honors, then went to Harvard, where he obtained his law degree. Since entering the Judge Advocate Generals' office he has rendered some important decisions on legal points that come before that office.

As a fitting tribute to John R. Marsh, of Maysville, Ky., of the class of '16, a fellow in the Department of English in 1916-1917, stage manager of the Strollers in 1916-1917, and a member of the Leader's reportorial staff, who had been reporting the Legislature, and who resigned to go with Base Hospital Unit No. 40, the House of Representatives of the Kentucky Legislature passed resolutions commending his sterling patriotism and tendering him their sincerest good wishes for the prosperous and patriotic execution of his part in the great World War.

Reuben T. Taylor, Lagrange, English professor at the University and winner of a Rhoades scholarship, has enlisted in England for war service.

Accepting the Rhoads scholarship, young Taylor went to England, studying at Oxford University for awhile. While there he volunteered for Red Cross ambulance work in France. His health became poor while in the service and he returned to England. He worked as practical farmer on the Oxford University farm to regain his health, and has now been accepted as physically fit for military duty.

Lawrence J. Heyman, 336th Infantry, Camp Zachary Taylor, was made a First Lieutenant. Lieutenant Heyman while in the University held a captaincy in the cadet battalion. He enlisted when the trouble with Mexico began, and was sent to the border with the Kentucky National Guard.

R. A. Campbell, of the College of Civil Engineering, is now located in the City Engineer's department, Regina, Canada. Mr. Campbell is an active member of the Regina Engineering Society. A comprehensive discussion of his on "Cost Keeping," as applied to various branches of engineering, was published in a recent issue of the society's journal.

E. H. Clark, who has been in training at Camp Dewey, Great Lakes, Ill., for service with the navy for the past month, has been selected for entrance into the Naval Academy at Annapolis for training for the Naval Officers' Reserve. Young Clark was employed in the works of the Buffalo Forge Company before his enlistment.

CLASS OF 1917.

A. W. Davies is at present in the employ of the Henry L. Dougherty Company of Toledo, Ohio. Mr. Davies is now on boiler construction work and reports that he is enjoying it very much.

"Curt" Park has been commissioned First Lieutenant at Fort Benjamin Harrison. He has been stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor.

T. G. Rice has also received a commission as First Lieutenant in the United States Coast Artillery. He is located at Fort Adams, Rhode Island, near Newport, in a part of the Narragansett defense.

A card, dated March 20, has recently been received from E. K. Robertson, now in France. Mr. Robertson is corporal, Meteorological Service, Aviation Section, Signal Corps, American Expeditionary Forces, France. He states that the trip over was pleasant. He is stationed in a very old monastery, probably of the fifth century, and has visited many points of historical interest en route.

Lieutenant McClarty Harbison was commissioned at the Second Officers' Training Camp and was sent to Camp Funston, Kansas, where he is now an instructor in the third training camp.

"Bill" Shinnick was commissioned Second Lieutenant in the regular army at the second training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. He was stationed at Charlotte, N. C., later at Newport News, and a card of May 7 announced his safe arrival overseas.

Miss Lena M. Phillips, State Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. war work for Kentucky, is now in New York attending an important conference of Y. W. C. A. war workers.

Lieutenant Ben Mahoney is at Hattiesburg; Bart N. Peak and Carl Zerfoss are at Camp Zachary Taylor.

Lieutenant Mahoney has been in the service for some time, having been on the border with the National Guard in 1916. Peak and Zerfoss attended the Third Training Camp at Camp Zachary Taylor, and were recommended for commissions.

Arthur M. Kelly, a first honor student of last June, from the University, is in the cavalry branch of the United States Army at Fort Leavenworth.

Gambrell ("Nemo") McCarty, Owensboro, and Additon G. Foster, Tacoma, Wash., students in the University last year, went to one of the training camps at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Minott Brooke, class of 1915, and W. S. Moore, class of 1917, College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, were visitors at the University last week, having recently returned from a trip to France. They have been employed as junior engineers by the Merchant Marine since September, 1917, when they sailed for Russia.

They have made two trips to Europe, consider the experience they have gained very valuable, but have never seen "hide nor hair" of an enemy submarine. They will return to the coast in about two weeks, when they will again sail for some unknown port.

NOTES OF THE CLASS OF 1918.

According to news received at the University, Howard Kinne, Stearns, Ky., who was recently commissioned Second Lieutenant of Artillery at the training camp at Fortress Monroe, Va., has left for service overseas. Mr. Kinne, after being a student in the College of Civil Engineering for three years and a member of the varsity football team for two years, left college at the end of the term in the spring of 1917 to go into military service.

Hall M. Henry has left the University to enter the Officers' Training Corps at Camp Lee, Petersburg.

The University council has decided to grant a degrees to T. Ellis Peak, a senior in the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, who has reported at Fortress Monroe, Va., for service in the coast artillery. Mr. Peak was enlisted in the University engineering reserve corps, and is the first member of that corps to be called into service.

James H. Hedges, Jr., alias "Jimmy Hedges," "watch-charm" football hero of 1917 fame, and senior in the College of Mechanical Engineering, is at Camp Logan Naval Rifle Range, Great Lakes, Illinois.

J. E. Melvin, Sedalia; J. G. Stewart, Crittenden, and Everett Bleidt, Lexington, who received bachelor degrees from the College of Agriculture this year, have returned to their own farms to develop agricultural interests for themselves and the community.

E. E. Kelly, Whitesville, who received an appointment to Annapolis Naval School last fall, on being ineligible for examination, returned to the University to major in history in the College of Arts and Science.

Sidney A. Wright is now with the Second Motor Machine Regiment, Aviation Service. He enlisted for active service with the American Expeditionary Forces.

Mervin L. Watson is now at Camp Alfred Vail, New Jersey.

NOTES OF 1919.

Lee McClain, junior in the College of Arts and Science, a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity, and Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity, left the University in April to enter the service at Camp Zachary Taylor. Besides being stage manager of the Strollers this year, and junior orator, McClain was active in other student organizations.

A. C. Smith and Walter E. Rowe, juniors in the College of Civil Engineering, after a short training period at Camp Mead, where they enlisted in November as members of the Twenty-third Engineering Regiment, sailed recently for France, where they will do reconstruction work.

Jerry Bromagen, who left the University when a sophomore in the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering last spring, to enter the service, received the commission of Second Lieutenant in the Second Officers' Training Camp, and is now at Camp Shelby.

NOTES OF 1920.

Charles Mahoney, a member of the class of 1920, and a Wildcat guard of the 1917 season, has enlisted in the naval reserve as a second class seaman.

Brady M. Stewart, a sophomore in the Department of English, after having been rejected twice as a volunteer for service, has been accepted by the Lexington draft board and sent to the Twelfth Company, Third Battery, 159th Depot Brigade, Camp Zachary Taylor.

Robert Grehan, stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor, one of the few men in the country engaged in the army hospitals making pen sketches of different kinds of wounds.

This is very difficult work, and requires exceptional skill and talent in the person attempting it. Grehan entered the service last fall. He was made a Sergeant, and served in that capacity for a time, then was transferred to the hospital work.

Young Grehan will probably be changed to Barrow Hospital Unit 40, with a prospect of immediate oversea service.
