Dear Ben.

I have not read the book you mentioned and would be more than delight-day.

New York is a hectic place and we are always a little bewildered when we return from the quiet nights on board is good at this time of year between 40-60 degrees, this season we have had more rainy days than usual. If you think the streets are crowded when you are here you should see them

Just finally it was done and well to bed. 3

Drix has just made a big job for the lobby of a Broadway those rush orders, with dozens of people contradicting each

Dearest Mother,
I have just walked back from Janie Lolas, at six thirty, the sky is still blue but that seems the only sign of spring for it was none too warm in my fur coat and wool dress.
Almost everyone is still wearing furs, but the hats have blossomed into small bouquets of flowers. You know but everyone suddenly in New York appears in the same fashion. Last year 15 was tall crowned hats this year everyone has a bunch of flowers over one eye and nothing much else except a band to hold them in. No sign of spring in the park the trees bare and even the bushes gray looking, but the grass is a bright green. The winds have been high even though one or two days have been a little warmer. One particularly windy day I met Mully on Madison Avenue

she looked very young.

I had quite gotten a hand full

We have had several misadventures that turned out all right in the end.

Drix's Pontiac was stolen

Last night we had dinner with the Blake wifes. They have such a good cook.
My maid never does one thing more than absolutely

I believe that I am to

It seems as if they really had an offer of $8,000 for the place has been made to your Compromises made.

Hitler has certainly won every move so far but that is his great power over the German people the fact that from a beaten deal of their land he has put them back as a world power. He must keep on succeeding to hold his influence. And if there is a stalemate the allies it seems to me will feel that their governments are not saving them from Hitler but just piling up an intolerable burden.

9 Well there seems to have been a shake up in the English government there is so much pro & con about the European situation that one does not know what to believe As for things here If Mr Wilkie runs for the republican president I will vote for him I have read several articles of his and heard him on the radio and think him a very intelligent man also experienced I just I think conscientious but lacking in

~~will~~ ^{well} ^{mean} and Dewey, too inexperienced and rather the prosecutor type. If Wilkie does not run I would be inclined to vote for Hull on the Democratic ticket.
I am more inclined to the Democratic party. I do believe that when the world is in such chaos the personality of our President is more important than when there is time for a president

Wor is a moment to be taken by a strong but slow moving movement, especially a Senate.
The Wilkie vote I would like to see Hull in but if the German vote I would like Wilkie. I still think that if the war is not won by one side or the other within two years, the governments in all countries will be changed and come out of a free range

Well we will see what all this brings forth!
It doesn't look too encouraging.
Anyway I am glad that you are coming up earlier this year and that you will be so much nearer New York, and that we can get together and so again I say that unless there is a decisive victory, the war becomes ridiculous. All countries becoming exhausted and bankrupt, or the alternative is that they never really fight out each step behind her wall as China did behind the great wall of China armed camps, not fighting the Germans getting their resources through the Balkans and Russia. The Allies over seas but these countries are geared for commerce and I still do not see how they can afford to keep their men away from work in the army, and ^{not} buy munitions. When they have no men left to be in commercial ^{or fighting} to make money for them to buy war materials.

One must come to the conclusion that man is a savage, stupid, creature, that the strongest force is the animal desire to eat, first, that means, life, shelter and the next force the will for power, power in business, power in politics power especially, power a dog he sees that with force to eat and eat to live; in a somewhat man will said to me what I advise most about people who are secure is that they can obtain nice apartments. Of course there are a minimum of people who can more physical values. People who are what man could be for against personal values live up to their standards

August 8-th, 1945

Dear Sis:

Amalie received a long letter from Pauline telling her all about you. You certainly have had a siege of it. First your dental paraphernalia and then your eyes. We think that you were very wise to have had the eye operation. Now you can keep one eye on things. Are they going to operate on the other eye ?

We both wish that it were possible for us to get to see you, but L.A. is a long way from the island of Manhattan and we have to be satisfied with wishing that we were nearer and in sending out loving thoughts. A most unsatisfactory method for anyone who is not a Christian Scientist.

All arrangements are now made with a local mover to gather up our Lares and Penates and to get into our new home. Some day, when your troubles are over and you feel jeune et pimpante again, mayhap you will stir your stumps enough to come to this sunny land of California. The climate here is really extraordinary. Every night we sleep under one or more blankets. In the cool of the evening we have our dinner out of doors in the Patio. It reminds me of the way the French live in good weather.

We have sent Joan to a good private school, not one of those where they allow the scholars to do what they damn please, yet not too strict. There is a happy medium in everything. God knows how the younger generation will turn out, but I suppose that every Generation has thought the same thing of the next one and that they were going to the demnition bow-wows.

When we get into the new home we will go about getting settled without too much haste. We hope that this will be the last move that we ever have to make. It is really hard work and the trouble of it all is that it is one of these things that one has to do one's self too a great degree, like lacing your own shoes or putting on the chapeau. By this I do not mean that I am juggling the heavy furniture, but there are so many little things that have to be done to make a home comfortable and artistic.

Last Sunday Amalie and I went to Tarzana where Edith and her No.3 are living in a very nice motor camp while their new home is being built. This new home is also in Tarzana. This place was so Christened because the guy who wrote about Tarzan of the Apes lived there. For all I know he may still be living there. It rather surprises me that they did not call it Tarapia.

Edith took us to a little restaurant called Kangaroo Inn. The man who runs it (principally as bartender) is a typical cockney and was born within sound of Bow Bells. His wife is Australian(hence the Kangaroo) and that dame can certainly cook. Amalie had roast beef (rare) with Yorkshire pudding. I had steak and kidney pie. Never had as good in jolly old England. My word ! Oh my giddy Aunt ! Believe me, I became very extra British and the years I have spent trying to talk American proved to be wasted years in such surroundings.

We certainly are lucky that the Heinies did not manage to make an atomic bomb. It is inconceivable. Let us hope that it will end the war quickly. The Nips say that it is inhuman. Is anything about war particularly human ? Well they brought it on their own heads and the more of them who shuffle off this mortal coil, the better. I feel about the Japs very much as our ancestors felt about the American Indians. Good Indian: Dead Indian.

This is a letter from the both of us, the result of perfect co-operation on our part, as usual. Tell Pauline that Amalie will write to her soon. Also tell Pauline that, should she come to California, I can still dance a pretty good sailor's hornpipe, so that she will not miss the yacht when I perform.

Amalie, myself and Joan send you lots of love and kisses and French sends his regards.

Agréez, chère Mademoiselle, l'assurance de mes compliments les plus distingués

Ton petit frère qui t'aime autant que jamais

Cher tante Lala,

Ma très chère Elizabeth,

I was so glad to hear, through Twinka and Annie, that the wonderful but awesome operation has been successfully performed. I remember our conversations on this subject with you and Ned Hartmann (who is glad to have his family back with him and has resumed his civilian activities, after much good work in the Army). It is good to know what the results will be in your daily life: your dear Radio will be supplemented by your beloved books in your dear Holley home: I believe I can use the word "home" because the atmosphere and the location of Hotel Holley have certainly made it a home.

Now, I must ask you to forgive me for my silence; both friends and family will tell you that I am the worst letter-writer that ever was, but you know, I am sure, that you were never forgotten, during these two long years, since I left New York, when so much happened and so much of my time was spent in waiting for what was going to happen next. While I waited, I had time to remember and to dream and many a time here I relived our visits and our conversations, when besides being the most faithful of friends, you stood for so much of what had been our life in France, which seemed so far, so far away.

I (a modified "I") am back and I am slowly getting used to all that is new and to the changes that years and circumstances have brought to people and things.

But, dear "Lizzie", this is enough of an imposition and, probably, these many words fail to adequately express the old, faithful and persistent fondness and friendship of yours
John (or Jean)

P.S. Remember me, please, to dear Pauline, as well as to all your family (especially Giswold and Dicks) and to our mutual friends

Just two weeks tomorrow this illness descended like a thunderbolt. We had spent Sunday in the country. I suggested returning to N.Y. for supper felt a little tired. About 17 P.M. came what I thought was an attack of indigestion gas and pain in the side like a stitch took soda mints & hot water, went to bed but in the last night the pain got worse down my ribs. So first thing in the morning the doctor came over and said please sit up and we were fortunate enough to get a room at this Hospital where I have been before for Bronchitis. I was pretty sick the first few days as it turned into lobar pneumonia.

The sulpha drugs did not agree with me so some how they got me on penicillin. The miracle drug. I guess it is that all right but in spite of killing the bugs you still have to heal up inside and that takes a little time. I have such a nice Nurse Canadian from New Brunswick we were there once.

The food is very pleasant better than home. (Sunday) the nurse Sue my. I expect to stay here until I feel strong. I was here 7 weeks but I don't feel well enough to leave. I got some medicine in a 2 weeks. My nurse will help. And the doctor. I feel about twice that. So I am expecting to be here to get all this attention. There is nothing here anyone can do.
I expect to see you & love to you I will miss you. I am sure this room is full.

Medico found he has a prostate gland but the bad news was the diabetic condition. With care he can extend his tenure of life and gain weight which he really needs. He and I both were surprised at the discovery of the sugar condition.
French gives him the injection every morning and watches him to make sure he gets correct diet. He can only have soy bean bread and we all love it, so we are not deprived. French makes dessert for him by using saccharine and makes separate gravies no flour. He has a marvelous appetite and sleeps as much as ever. He is allowed the unsweetened cocoa or choc so that pleases him, all the tea, coffee & smoking. Also all vegetables which are not

Dear Pauline:

It was well worth while waiting to receive such a nice long letter from you, telling me of yourself and Pante Lala, as well as of Dix. I greatly admire you for your attempt to solve part of your problem by having tried out living alone. I think it is a pity that Dix does not

"try to consider you who are so devoted to your marital vows and knowing that you x Care-free time at the parties on Long Island.

I find that cocktail parties are preferred by the younger set. You serve so beautifully that I feel certain your parties are a grand success. Lively all of those you entertain know what's make up, so unless he entirely misbehaves you have no worry at those.

You and your Mother will have a nice holiday

* if all goes well for her plan to give you the change works out. Occasionally, Uncle Gusword and I would go to the Playa years ago. Let no one know where we were, but in that way, would get a real rest from their social activities

What a shock! to have

Do you think she was tight or just careless?

No - there was heat up to 91° in L. A. but we always are at least 11 to 15 degrees cooler, we are only four miles from the ocean front. We have had one hot day 80° but at night cold as always. I am using the same covering on my bed as I did during the cold winter.

"Cold" for out here. There was intense heat in the valley.
Pasadena etc.

I am enclosing a reply to my inquiry which the Cemetery sent to me. Can you possibly secure estimates for me, as to the cost of having Uncle Griswold's name put on the column as well as the date similar to whatever is cut ^{there} now, of his family and in their having the head stone, do they inscribe it? Of course, my being the sole support of Joan it leaves me a meagre income, however I consider it important to do what Uncle Gissword would like. If I get estimates, then I can arrange accordingly. I hope to visit him and New York in late September or October, all going well.

I should like to have an engraving of some sort put on his grave for his birthday July 6th. Do you think you could order one from a modest price florist. I shall enclose my check for what I can spend. Perhaps some sort of ivy or the like.

I am well, except for my heart which aches for my beloved. I had a check up, heart, hearing, blood, all in fine condition. I do not sleep well, yet that is partly due to inactivity. I had been used to going a lot. I entertain ¹⁷ very little, just four or five from time to time or perhaps a round up of about a dozen persons, & then no formality.

Much is too wonderful. Now, he has taken an interest in the flowers and plants and has even built here and there a ~~table~~^{table} for the rose bushes. He does new dishes and always, never failing, sets the dinner before me with the appearance and the flavor of fineness, that a Queen would be pleased to receive. He drives me to Santa Monica, Westwood Beverly Hills and the other day drove me all the way to Bullock's Wilshire (a magnificent dept store in L. A.)

Joan loves her life at the moment and is returning the 27th for camp there. Of course I constantly remind her that she must remain true to the Episcopal Church - in which she was baptized.

I know the Catholic movement will do its best to make the religion attractive to the non-Catholics.

To-day is an overcast cool one to-night, Mr. Baxter will take Joan and me to The Del Mar Club, where I am a member. He will be my guest, you see he has his car and on such occasions can drive me to and fro. I try to give French the Saturday and Sunday off. Needless to say, he remains in for anything important. Do tell your Mother that he sends his kindest remembrances to her. He visited her in her chateau in France. Do remember me too, please. Ever so much affection for you from
