Success doesn't just happen

Before Betty became a school teacher... and before Jim opened his own business... and before Ann became a doctor... and before Mark became Salesman of the Year... they graduated from high school. And then from college. The value of higher education goes far beyond classroom studies. It is a total learning experience—important for developing civic and social responsibilities as well as careers.

Graduating from college requires more than intelligence. It requires commitment. And it's worth the work.

With increased competition in today's job market, higher education is a necessity. And for those who want to attend college, there is a way. Scholarships, part-time jobs and other special assistance programs—will help make college a reality.

Ashland Oil supports higher education: It holds the key to tomorrow's opportunities. Success doesn't just happen. It is achieved.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Otis A. Singletary

President, University of Kentucky

The University of Kentucky has made great strides toward academic excellence since Dr. Otis A. Singletary assumed the office of president in August, 1969.

Two professional schools—dentistry and pharmacy—have been ranked among the best in the nation. Departments such as political science, history and mathematics have gained national attention. The UK library now ranks among the best in the Southwest and a large portion of the world-wide research related to tobacco and health is now done at UK.

Dr. Singletary had previously served as chancellor at the University of North Carolina, at Greensboro, executive vice chancellor for academics affairs in the University of Texas system and director for the Job Corps for the Office of Economic Opportunity. He holds degrees from Millsaps College and Louisiana State University.

In the 14 years he has been president, the University has grown to more than 23,400 students on the Lexington campus and about 21,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges, and the University has become one of the major research institutions in the country.

A native of Gulfport, Miss., Dr. Singletary is the author of two books and several monographs. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa Senate.

He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children: Bonnie, Scot and Kendall.

Cliff Hagan began his 10th year as University of Kentucky athletics director on July 1, overseeing an overall UK program that continues in high gear with several major projects in various stages of planning, construction and completion.

The completed projects include:

A beautiful recruiting-entertaining lounge and two large storage rooms in the Football Offices complex at Commonwealth Stadium.

Replacement of 120 yards of turf and the addition of 40 more yards of turf on one of the main practice fields at Shively Sports Center.

A new weight room in Memorial Coliseum.

New dressing facilities for women at Shively Sports Center.

New computerized program for the Ticket Office.

Other major projects include:

A $5 million-plus natatorium to be named after former Wildcat athletics director Harry C. Lancaster.

A new four-court indoor tennis facility.

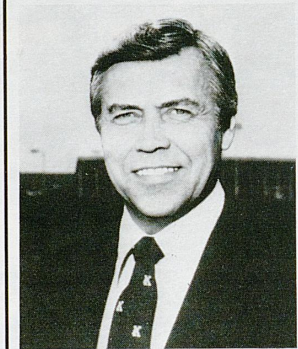

A new practice complex at Shively Sports Center.

men's basketball championship held at Rupp Arena under UK sponsorship was declared a smashing success, but there was no rest for the UK athletic administrators as they immediately began preparations for the men's Southeastern Conference basketball tournament and the women's "Final Four" basketball championship games to be held in Rupp Arena next spring.

On the personal side, Hagan has received the following honors:

1965—Herbert Hoover Boys Club organized in Owensboro and named Cliff Hagan Boys Club of America.

1978—First UK player installed in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Clifford O. Hagan

Athletics Director

The installation of computers in the Sports Information Office, which scored a "first" by using up-to-the-minute computerized stats at the 1985 "Final Four."

On the "games" side of the ledger, highlights last school year included a second straight bowl appearance for the football team and advancement to the "Final 16" by the men's basketball team.

The 1985 "Final Four"

1974—Hall of Fame Magazine's All-America second team for 1951-73 period; Orlando (FL) Sentinel-Star's All-Time Player in Kentucky.

1975—Kentucky Athletic Hall of Fame; UK Alumni Association Hall of Distinguished Alumni; UK Centennial "K" Medallion.

1984—Recipient of prestigious "Boys Club" Medallion.

It took Terry Hall less than five years to become the winningest coach in Kentucky women's basketball history. And as she enters her sixth year, she guides a program that continues to take great pride in its reputation as one of the best in the country. Her five UK squads have won an impressive 70 percent of their games and averaged 21 wins per season in the process. Three of those teams advanced to the national playoffs. One captured the Southeastern Conference championship. All have been in the Top 20.

Hall's success is not unique to Kentucky, however. In 11 years of collegiate coaching, her teams have known only winning seasons. Her career record is 196-104, with a 103-44 mark at Kentucky. She previously coached for one season at Eastern Kentucky and for five seasons at Louisville.

Hall began to establish Kentucky as a national contender in her first season as Lady Kats coach. That year the team won the Kentucky Women's Intercollegiate Conference and Hall was named KWIC Coach of the Year. The Lady Kats advanced to the final round of 16 in the AIAW National tournament and completed the 1980-81 season with a 25-6 record. In 1981-82, women's basketball joined the NCAA and Hall's Lady Kats won the Southeastern Conference title and advanced to the Midwest Regional finals before falling to eventual national champion Louisiana Tech on the Lady Techsters' home floor.

The 1982-83 team rose to new heights as the Lady Kats were ranked fourth nationally and set a new women's basketball attendance record — 10,622 vs. Old Dominion in UK's Memorial Coliseum. The team was upset by Indiana in the first round of the playoffs, but finished with a 23-5 record.

In 1983-84, Hall had a very young and inexperienced team that was challenged with the fourth toughest schedule in the nation. The Lady Kats earned respect from their opponents despite their up-and-down season and finished 15-13.

Last year's squad again faced the fourth toughest schedule in the nation, and with the graduation of two key starters, expectations were not extremely high for Hall's young squad. Still, they came roaring out at the start of the season and owned an 11-3 record and No. 12 national ranking by the end of December. Before the season ended at 16-12, they had stunned four Top 20 opponents and proven they could play with any team in the nation.

Hall still has strong ties to her native Salem, Ind. Her parents, Henry and Lucille Hall, and her sister Judy Catlett still live in Salem. Hall's other sister, Mardee McNay, lives in nearby Columbus, Ind. A graduate of Indiana State in 1966, Hall studied Health and P.E. while starring in basketball, field hockey and volleyball. She was honored with the "I" Women Award in 1965 and received the prestigious Hillman Award in 1966 as the most outstanding female athlete at ISU.

STAFF

CINDY NOBLE

Assistant Coach
Tennessee, 1983

Cindy Noble's experience as a great player at all levels of competition make her an exciting addition to the Lady Kats staff. A two-time Olympian, Cindy joined the University of Kentucky for her first coaching job in August.

A native of Clarksburg, Ohio, Cindy began an outstanding playing career at Frankfort-Adena High School, where she earned All-America honors and was named the Outstanding Athlete in Ohio. She went on to similar glory at the University of Tennessee, where she earned Kodak All-America honors before graduating in 1983.

In the meantime, she was also establishing herself as a great international competitor. She was selected to the 1979 World University squad, the 1980 Olympic team, the 1983 Pan American team and the 1984 Olympic squad. She also played professional basketball for one year in Italy and for two years in Japan.

One of Cindy's major assignments at UK naturally will be the development of post players.

SUE STANLEY

Trainer
Ohio State 1979

Sue joined the UK training staff in 1982 after serving for one year as Co-Ordinator of Sports Medicine for the Department of Intramural/Recreational Services at East Carolina University. Sue graduated from Ohio State University, where she earned a degree in Physical Education in 1979 after serving for four years as a student trainer. She was a graduate assistant at Purdue University, where she earned her Masters Degree in Physical Fitness and Exercise Physiology in 1981.

A native of Smithville, Ohio, Sue is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association.

STAFF

DONNA MURPHY

Assistant Coach
Morehead State, 1980

Donna Murphy joined the Lady Kats program in June, giving Coach Hall's staff an experienced coach and recruiter, as well as an accomplished player who is highly-regarded throughout the state. A former assistant coach at Memphis State and Florida, Donna achieved legendary status in Kentucky as a player at Newport Public High and at Morehead State University.

A native of Newport, Ky., Donna had a brilliant high school career and was honored as the state's first "Miss Basketball" in 1976. She went on to star at Morehead, where she earned All-America honors while virtually rewriting the record books of both MSU and the Ohio Valley Conference. Following her graduation in 1980, she was the first forward drafted in the now-defunct Women's Basketball League, and played for one year with the St. Louis Streaks.

Donna then continued her education at the University of Cincinnati, where she served as a graduate assistant coach in basketball and track. After one year at UC, she returned to Morehead, where she was an assistant in basketball while completing her degree in higher education. She then served as an assistant for two years at Memphis State, before accepting a position at the University of Florida.

PAT ETCHEBERRY

Strength Coach
Kentucky (1968)

A former Olympian, Pat was named full-time strength coach in 1984 after serving on a part-time basis as both strength coach since 1973 and track coach since 1982. Last year, Coach Terry Hall asked him to take over the Lady Kats' preseason conditioning program. A native of Chile, which he represented (javelin) in the 1964 Olympics, he is a former South American Games record-holder in the javelin and was a participant in the 1967 and 1971 Pan American Games. He captured the Southeastern Conference title while performing for Kentucky in 1966. He holds a Masters Degree from Georgetown College.

Memorial Coliseum is the proud home of one of the richest basketball traditions in the world. The historic old Coliseum was the host site for 24 Wildcat basketball teams that yielded two national champions and 16 Southeastern Conference champions.

The Lady Kats hope to continue with similar glory. Since the Wildcats moved downtown to 23,000-seat Rupp Arena in 1976, the Coliseum has been the exclusive home of the Lady Kats. Throughout their years in Memorial Coliseum, Lady Kats have proudly carried on that tradition, adding an SEC title of their own in 1982 and compiling a 127-40 record in 10 seasons there.

The highlight of the Lady Kats' era in Memorial Coliseum came on Feb. 5, 1983. On that cold Saturday night, 10,622 enthusiastic fans filed into the 11,500-seat gymnasium to watch Kentucky upset fifth-ranked Old Dominion. That crowd constituted the largest crowd to have ever watched a women's college basketball game in America. Iowa broke the record last season with an amazing attendance of 22,000, but Kentuckians will long remember the excitement of that evening. The Lady Kats were ranked fourth nationally after the Old Dominion victory, and in their three remaining home games that season they averaged 7,600 fans.

Just as their male counterparts did before them, the Lady Kats have made Memorial Coliseum the home of a winning, high-class program. They have compiled a 117-35 record in 10 seasons at home, and extended a home-court winning streak to 31 games before losing to Memphis State midway through the 1981-82 season.

Plans for construction of the Coliseum began in 1941, when Dr. H. L. Donovan became president of the University and recommended a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health services, our physical education and our recreation."

The Coliseum was completed in 1950 at a cost of $3,925,000. The huge building was dedicated to serve as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict. The Coliseum covers an entire city block and has as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along the Avenue of Champions, Memorial Coliseum is used primarily for basketball games and Athletic Department offices, but also serves as the site of other sporting events, as well as concerts and lectures.

MEET THE Seniors

Leslie Nichols
Forward Senior
6-0 Lexington, Ky.

An honorable mention All-American and a two-time All Southeastern Conference performer, Leslie has already established herself as one of Kentucky's all-time greats. She has led the Lady Kats in scoring, rebounding, field goal percentage and steals for two consecutive seasons, and is ranked fourth on the Lady Kats' all-time scoring list with 1,312 career points. She needs just 287 points to pass Pam Browning and become the second all-time scorer in Lady Kat basketball history. And with an average of 437 points a year so far, that does seem likely to happen. Leslie is rated as one of the Top 12 players in the country by Women's Basketball Yearbook and it's easy to see why. The versatile left-hander possesses all the classic skills of a great basketball player, and has put that talent to work against some of the top teams and players in the country. The NCAA ranked Kentucky's schedule fourth toughest in the country last year, and Leslie still managed to rank third in the SEC in scoring (18.4), fifth in rebounding (9.1), fifth in free throw percentage (78.1) and fifth in steals (2.7). Only once in 27 games last season and only three times in the last two years has Leslie failed to score in double figures. She led Kentucky in scoring 16 times last season and in rebounding 18 times. Her best game was a 30-point, 13-rebound effort in a UK upset win over national runner-up Georgia. She was named Most Valuable Player of the Lady Kats Dial Classic and was named to the all-tournament squad of N.C. State's C.Q. Data Systems Tournament.

Shelly ended last season on a particularly high note, and enters her final year as a Lady Kat with renewed confidence. In Kentucky's final game of the 1984-85 season, Shelly scored eight points and grabbed nine rebounds, both career highs. That was an encouraging way to end her first year as a college basketball player. Shelly played volleyball as a freshman at Penn State University, then sat out for one year before becoming eligible to play basketball at Kentucky. Although Shelly played in only 11 games last season, she appeared in six of the final eight. In the season finale, she started and played 33 minutes. Her final statistics were 1.3 points per game and 2.0 rebounds per game. A three-sport star at Medina High School, Shelly was named All-State by both the Associated Press and United Press International her senior year, when she averaged 22 points and 14 rebounds. She was named the Medina County Player of the Year in both basketball and volleyball. She also lettered four years in track. An exceptional student, Shelly was named Academic All-Southeastern Conference last year.

Shelly Miller
Forward Senior
6-1 Medina, Oh.

Karen Mosley
Fwd/Cr Senior
6-3 Toledo, Oh.

44

Karen has played in 82 of 84 games since joining the Lady Kats, and her experience could be a key factor in the team's 1985-86 season. A two-year starter, she enters her final season ranked 13th on the all-time Lady Kat scoring list with 812 career points. Last season, Karen was second on the team in both scoring (12.9) and rebounding (6.9), and will be relied upon to make strong contributions in both areas again this year. An outstanding shooter and a consistent scoring threat, she has a career field goal percentage of 50.5 and a career free throw percentage of 72.4. As a sophomore, she finished second (to teammate Leslie Nichols) in the Southeastern Conference in free throw percentage at 81.7. Last season, she scored double figures 18 times and led UK in scoring five times and in rebounding six times. Karen played in 26 games last year and started in all 26, splitting playing time between power forward and center. A native of Toledo, she was third-team Parade All-American at Bowsher High School.

Lady Kats

Juniors

Regarded as one of the most exciting players in the country, Sandy has finally convinced the skeptics who thought she might be too small to play college basketball. She not only plays it, but plays it perhaps as well as any point guard in the country. While numbers can't really describe Sandy's contributions, they do compare favorably to those of the Nation's other top point guards. As a freshman, she was second in the SEC in assists and No. 1 among collegiate freshman in that category. Last season she tied with Georgia's Theresa Edwards as the SEC's top assists player with an average of 6.3, which also ranked her 30th in the country. She was second in the SEC in free throw percentage at 81.1. She also shot well from the field, averaging 8.4 points on 46.4 percent shooting. And she is an outstanding defensive player as well. Her spectacular style of play and constant high level of intensity make Sandy fun to watch, but it is her leadership qualities and knack for coming up with the clutch plays that make her so invaluable to the Kentucky team. Although she is not called upon to score alot, she managed double figures eight times last season and had her three top scoring games against nationally ranked Old Dominion, N.C. State and Tennessee. In the C.Q. Data Systems tournament at N.C. State (which also included ODU and North Carolina), Sandy averaged 15 points and eight assists and was named to the five-player all-tournament team. Sandy has started in all but three games since coming to Kentucky and last season she led the Lady Kats in playing time.

Sandy Harding
Guard Junior
5-0 Auburn, NY

30

Melanie doubled her playing time last season and that experience should help her emerge into the dominating player Coach Hall hopes she will become. Already an intimidating force on defense, Melanie has improved her strength and aggressiveness and is becoming more consistent overall. With the addition of two-time Olympic center Cindy Noble on the staff, Melanie's improvement should accelerate. She appeared in 20 games for the Lady Kats last season and displayed good mobility and quickness for her size. A native of Owensboro, Melanie played for only two seasons at Owensboro Catholic High School but was named second team All-State her senior year. She is the tallest player to ever wear a Lady Kat uniform.

Melanie Warren
Center Junior
6-6 Owensboro, Ky.

A strong, physical player, Debbie should benefit a great deal from a sophomore year in which she started 27 of 28 games against the fourth toughest schedule in the country. Going head-to-head with some of the top centers in the nation wasn't always easy, but Debbie held her own while gaining invaluable experience and maturity. She scored in double figures 11 times last season and finished the year second on the squad in field goal percentage (49.0) and blocks (22) and third in rebounding (5.4) and steals (30). She has good instincts under the basket and her knack for getting good position makes her a good rebounder. The Lady Kats will be looking for Debbie to show more aggressiveness offensively this season. Her career field goal percentage (49.7) and free throw percentage (81.3) are evidence of her scoring ability, but she ranked only fourth on the team in field goal attempts last season while averaging 7.1 points. As an All-State performer at Casey County High School, Debbie shot 70 percent from the field and 85 percent from the line and notched 2,413 career points in four years.

Debbie Miller
Center Junior
6-1 Liberty, Ky.

Sophomores

Monique Tarantini
Guard Sophomore
5-8 Westover, WV

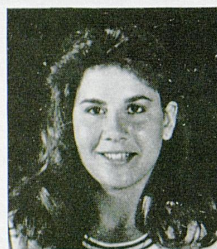

Monique had an up-and-down freshman season, but appeared several times to be on the verge of exploding into the player that ranks as the all-time leading scorer in West Virginia high school history. She appeared in 18 games last season and displayed skills that Coach Hall is hoping will develop her into an important contributor this season. She is very quick, a good passer and an exceptional outside shooter. As a senior at St. Francis High School in Morgantown, W.Va., Monique was named West Virginia player of the Year and was a fourth-team Parade All-American. She scored 2,835 career points and averaged 34.6 points, 9.9 rebounds, 5.4 steals and 3.5 assists her senior year.

Michele Pennie
Guard Sophomore
5-11 Clearwater, Fl.

Last year Michele entered her freshman season less than 100 percent after undergoing extensive knee surgery in the spring of 1984. She became stronger as the season progressed, however, and played in UK's last nine games, averaging five points down the stretch. Her season-high of 11 points came against Tennessee Tech late in the season and she scored nine points twice after that. In August of this year, Michele suffered another setback when she twisted her knee and was forced to miss part of the preseason conditioning program. But the Lady Kats expect her to be ready to make an important contribution when the season begins. A good shooter, ballhandler and passer, Michele will play at both guard and small forward this season. She is a former all-state player and honorable mention All-American at Florida's Clearwater Central Catholic High School, where she averaged 32 points and 17 rebounds as a senior.

Lynne Elbert
Forward Sophomore
5-11½ Louisville, Ky.

Following a successful high school career at Moore High in Louisville, Lynne attended the University of Kentucky for one year before deciding to tryout for the Lady Kats squad this fall. A versatile student-athlete, Lynne managed to find time for track, volleyball, band and basketball at Moore and still excel academically. She was a member of the Beta Club and the National Honor Society and finished in the Top 10 academically in her class. A three-year starter at Moore, she was named All-District, All-Region and honorable mention All-State while leading her team to a 19-6 record her senior season. As a junior, Moore reached the regional finals before finishing the year with a 23-4 record. Lynne was plagued by minor injuries her senior season but still averaged 14 points a game.

Laurie Hudgens
Forward Sophomore
6-1 Elmhurst, Ill.

After watching the Lady Kats' opener from the bench last year, Laurie played in every game and culminated a fine freshman season with a starting assignment in the final contest. In that finale, she scored 10 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, the latter being the most by any Lady Kat in a single game last season. As "Sixth Man" on the squad, she performed consistently, scoring in all but six games and rebounding in all but two. She showed ability to perform under pressure when she scored nine points in the last 10 minutes to help Kentucky erase a five-point deficit and beat Vanderbilt by one in Nashville. Laurie suffered a mild setback in September when she underwent surgery to repair ligament damage in her left ankle. She was forced to miss the preseason conditioning program and two weeks of practice, but is expected to be at 100 percent early in the season. Her contributions should play a critical role in the team's success this season. Quick, fast and a good leaper, she blends in well with UK's fast-paced style of play. As a freshman, she averaged 3.4 points and 3.1 rebounds.

Belitta Croley
Guard Sophomore
5-10 Lexington, Ky.

A stress fracture in her left foot sidelined Bebe for almost half the season last year, but it didn't stop her from showing great potential as a player and unquestionable value to the team. She entered UK as one of the most highly-recruited players in the country, and was a key factor as the Lady Kats got off to a surprising 10-2 start and No. 12 national ranking. But the injury forced her to watch helplessly as the squad dropped five of its next 10 games. She finally returned for four games, but was not as effective as she had been. Bebe showed her dedication as an athlete by working herself back into form and was named to the USA Select Team in April following a regional tryout. The USA squad toured Europe in May and participated in the Jones Cup competition in Taiwan in June. That gave Bebe the important experience that she had missed due to her injury. In 16 games last season, she averaged 7.1 points and 4.1 rebounds and excelled on defense, stealing the ball 21 times in her limited amount of playing time. A native of Lexington, Bebe was named to virtually every high school All-American team as a senior at Henry Clay High School.

Jodie Whitaker
Guard Freshman
5-7 Austin, In.

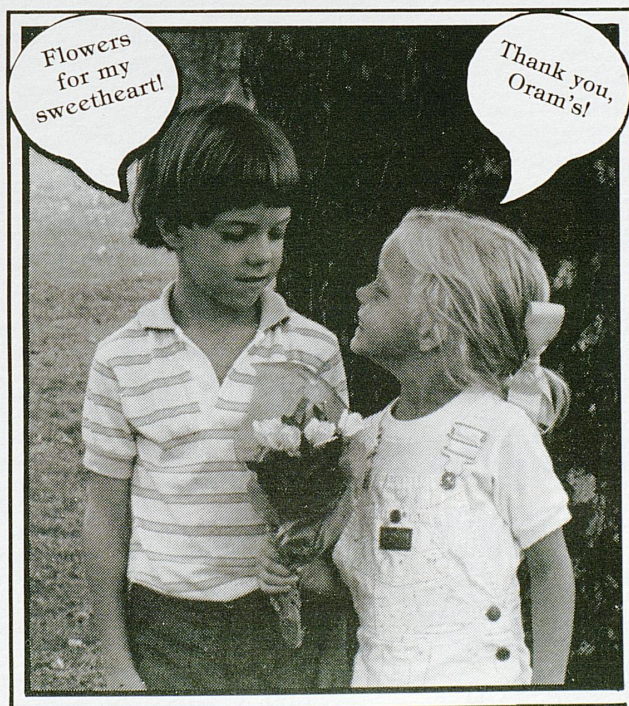

Jodie is a versatile athlete who gives the Lady Kats their best support at point guard in recent years. The 1985 Indiana "Miss Basketball" possesses all the skills to make an excellent point player. She's an exceptional ballhandler and passer and has quickness and good court vision. Also an outstanding shooter, she's in the Indiana High School record books as the all-time leading scorer with 2,095 career points. In addition, she holds the state high school record for most points in a single season, 789, which she scored her senior year. She led her Austin High School squad to the "Final Four" of the state tournament by averaging 28.2 points, 7.5 rebounds, 5.5 assists, and hit 51 percent from the field and 74 percent from the line. An all-around athlete, she was also offered college scholarships in softball, track, tennis and volleyball. She captured the AAU-USA long jump title in 1983 and 1984. Jodie was a fourth-team Parade All-American.

Pam Shrum
Forward Freshman
6-0 Monticello, Ky.

Pam is a versatile athlete who led Monticello High School in scoring and rebounding and was named the team's outstanding defensive player as well last season. She is the all-time leading rebounder in Lady Trojans history and is ranked second on the all-time scoring list. She holds the team's single-game scoring record of 46 points, which she scored in the final game of her high school career against Rockcastle County. A second team All-State performer, Pam averaged 28 points and 14 rebounds during her senior season at Monticello.

Lady Kats Seeking Consistency

The Kentucky Lady Kats continue their quest for consistency tonight against the University of Charleston and then Sunday at Auburn. The Lady Kats are 11-7 after Tuesday's 76-63 loss to LSU. That loss came only four days after UK's uplifting 96-82 upset win over 11th-ranked Tennessee, a victory Coach Terry Hall had hoped would serve as a turning point in this roller-coaster season.

Charleston brings a 3-9 record into Memorial Coliseum. The Golden Eagles are led by 5-9 senior guard Sherry Winn, who averages 17.7 points per game. Freshman guard Daina Harris adds 9.5 points and freshman center Regina Jeffries pitches in 7.7 points and seven rebounds.

Eighth-ranked Auburn will be the sixth Top 20 team Kentucky has faced this year. The Lady Tigers had a 17-2 record and 3-1 SEC mark going into their Jan. 29 contest at Vanderbilt. Auburn has a balanced attack, led by sophomore forward Mae Ola Bolton and freshman center Vickie Orr, who each average over 14 points a game.

The Tennessee game provided more than an exciting win over UK's biggest rival. It marked only the sixth time in 22 games that Kentucky has won over the Lady Vols. Adding flavor to the evening were personal accomplishments by senior forwards Leslie Nichols and Karen Mosley.

Nichols, a 6-foot preseason All-American, became Kentucky's second all-time leading scorer when she scored her 19th point just before halftime, giving her a total of 1,599 to surpass Pam Browning and second to Valerie Still (2,763 points). Nichols totaled 26 points for the game, and added six rebounds, eight assists, four steals and three blocked shots. Nichols ranks among the top 10 in six different SEC statistical categories: scoring (17.1), rebounding (7.5), field goal percentage (54.0), free throw percentage (80.0), steals (3.2) and assists (4.1).

Mosley became the ninth player in Lady Kat history to reach the 1,000-point plateau. The 6-3 native of Toledo began the season ranked 13th on the all-time scoring list and needs 60 points now to pass Janet Timperman as the No. 8 all-time scorer. Mosley is averaging 11.6 points and 6.3 rebounds and is hitting 54.5 percent of her shots.

Lynne Elbert: Learning Never Ends

By: Stephanie Wallner

Lynne Elbert is the proverbial "late bloomer" on the Lady Kats. Elbert was a walk-on this year - her sophomore year - and is revelling in her role as a student and team cheerleader.

"I'd always wanted to play college ball," she said, remembering her first weeks of practice with the team. "Everyone was saying 'Lynne, you're going to make it.' But I wouldn't believe it."

Her individual training got her in good enough shape to make the team, consequently introducing her to techniques she had never developed in high school athletics.

"I like playing against these girls. It has taught me to think a little bit better," she said. "I have to hold my concentration or I'll get burned by one of these girls."

While Elbert has played in only a handful of games this season, she is savoring every bit of advice coach Terry Hall and her teammates offer. "She (Hall) has given me a break because I am so inexperienced."

In Elbert's three years starting at Moore High School in Louisville, she played a restrictive center position. "It was like 'Lynne, don't dribble the ball'," she said. "I always had my back to the basket."

Now in a reserve forward slot for the Lady Kats, Elbert is treating her opportunity as a learning experience. "If I can learn to work with the ball better my passing would come along too," she said. "I love passing and I like to shoot from the outside. I just don't have the range yet."

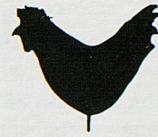

"Yet" is the key word for Elbert, who says she learns more each practice. But between lessons and a self-proclaimed role as cheerleader, Elbert also has her eager moments, hoping to get in the game.

"During the scrimmages I was a nervous wreck," she recalled. "It took me three scrimmages to feel comfortable on the floor."

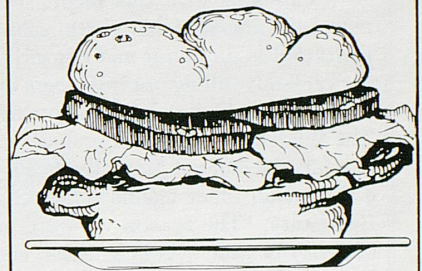

That insecurity has slowly been replaced by confidence and a desire to see more action. "In the Old Dominion game, I would have given every ounce of blood in my body to go in," she said.

"I'll stick it out because I'm not a quitter," Elbert said, "I have a list of things I have to work on in the summer."

And as for the future with the team, Elbert plans to stay as long as Hall will let her.

UK Gymnasts Travel to Cat Classic

The combination of Leah Little's "best team ever" and arguably one of the nation's most prestigious collegiate events could make for a very profitable weekend by the University of Kentucky gymnastic team.

Hearnes Arena on the University of Missouri campus will be host Friday and Saturday to the 1986 Purina Cat Classic, and UK joins five other schools in the competition. More importantly, the Wildcats will be squaring off in front of near-capacity (10,000-plus) crowds on both nights, something head coach Little says her squad is looking forward to.

"Our kids love this meet," comments Little, who is currently enjoying her 12th season at Kentucky. "The invitation is an honor and our girls are really pumped. We are certainly taking our best team ever, and we have a great chance of making our best showing."

The Wildcats were winners over Auburn, 176.10-172.05, in a Jan. 18 meet at Memorial Coliseum, and placed third in a four-team meet against Ohio State, West Virginia and Ball State. "The reason we were invited back (to the Cat Classic) is that everyone there last year couldn't believe how much we had improved over our visit in 1983," Little said. "They said we were 100 percent better. In fact, we beat LSU out of a berth; they're not going back this year."

Joining UK in Columbia, Mo., will be Pittsburg (Panthers), Washington State (Cougars), Penn State (Nittany Lions), Arizona (Wildcats) and host Missouri

(Tigers), all of whom, like Kentucky, have a species of cat as their mascot—thus, the Purina Cat Classic. The team championships will be held Friday beginning at 7 p.m. CST, with individuals to follow Saturday at the same starting time.

Kentucky's next home meet is slated for Feb. 8 versus North Carolina State (1 p.m.).

Rupp Arena Prepares for Final Four II

by John Painter

Rupp Arena will be the site of 1986 Women's Final Four

Following a season that included the most successful NCAA Women's Final Four to date and an equally successful Men's Final Four, the NCAA will return in 1986 to Lexington's Rupp Arena with only one thing in mind.

Best ever.

"We want to fill Rupp Arena," says Kentucky Lady Kat coach Terry Hall. "That would be great."

A crowd of 7,597 watched last year's championship game between Old Dominion and Georgia on the campus of the University of Texas. Of course, had previously No. 1-ranked Texas not been eliminated in the regionals by Western Kentucky, all of those holding the 10,700 tickets sold would surely have been in attendance.

"If we're in it (the Final Four) we can fill it," says Hall of 23,000-seat Rupp Arena. The Lady Kats held the attendance record for a women's collegiate basketball game prior to last year. On Feb. 5, 1983, a crowd of 10,622 saw Kentucky beat Old Dominion 80-66 at Memorial Coliseum.

The record fell last season when 22,000 squeezed into Iowa's 15,200-seat Carver-Hawkeye Arena to see the Lady Hawkeyes play Big Ten champion Ohio State.

"I think we're going to have more attendance than any year before," says Hall. "It's a problem if we're not in it. It'll be tough. But I think it can be done."

The UK-Old Dominion crowd wasn't just a one-time fling. Kentucky's next three games that season averaged 7,600, and the 8,000 mark was broken twice. And during a 16-12 campaign last season, more than 5,000 watched a rematch between the same two record-setting teams at Memorial.

"I think most people in Kentucky know about the level of women's basketball now," comments Hall. "The fans have seen a lot of good teams when they've come to see us play."

The good teams will once again be in Lexington March 28 and 30, and the city seems ready to roll out the community red carpet for the second year in a row.

"I think the city is doing the same type of things it did last year," says Hall. "The mayor is forming committees and activities—all the things that were done last year. It's the same kind of support."

The kind that Hall hopes is the best ever.

The Powerful Southeastern Conference

The SEC: A Bastion of Women's Basketball

by Kate Merchant

The Southeastern Conference has been known for many years as a stronghold for men's basketball powerhouses. More recently, the women's programs have emerged in much the same fashion.

In a coaches' preseason poll and the Women's Basketball Yearbook poll, five SEC teams were ranked in the Top 20. Georgia was selected as the second-best team in the nation in both polls, behind highly-touted Texas. Auburn, LSU, Mississippi and Tennessee were the four other Top 20 SEC teams. Eight of the 10 SEC schools are in the Top 31. The Women's Yearbook also rated the SEC as the No. 1 conference in the country. Georgia coach Andy Landers strongly agrees.

ANDY LANDERS

"This has to be the toughest conference around. There is quality throughout the entire conference. Three or four SEC teams have the potential to reach the Final Four," said coach Landers.

Kentucky coach Terry Hall sees the situation much the same way.

"I think three or four teams have the best chance to win the conference, but it's really pretty even," said coach Hall. "I feel like we'll be competitive this year. After all, we split games with Georgia and Tennessee last year, and several of our players have improved since then."

A big plus on Kentucky's side is senior forward Leslie Nichols. The 6'0" Lexington native was tabbed a preseason All-American and chosen by the Women's Basketball Yearbook as the Best Player in the SEC.

LESLIE NICHOLS

Two other preseason All-American picks are 5'11" senior guard Teresa Edwards of Georgia and 6'3" senior forward/center Jennifer Gillom of Mississippi. Edwards led Georgia to the NCAA runner-up spot in 1985. She was also a member of the 1984 U.S. Olympic basketball team. Gillom averaged 18.2 points and 7.2 rebounds per game last season for Ole Miss.

TERESA EDWARDS

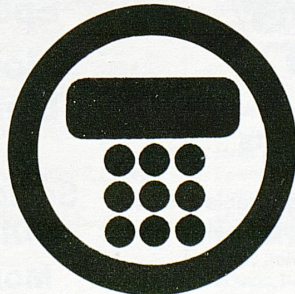

With the even distribution of talent in a consistently grueling conference, the 1985-86 season should be as exciting and unpredictable as always. The only sure way of naming the champ:

Wait until the fur stops flying and the dust settles in March!

Social, Cultural and Recreational

Opportunities for UK students are not limited to the academic world. Involvement in the social and cultural aspects of University life also is important.

Recognizing this, the University provides the widest range of opportunities for personal and social development. If a student likes music, for instance, the Concert and Lecture Series brings outstanding soloists and symphonies on campus. There are chamber music concerts and hard rock concerts, impromptu bluegrass groups and flute recitals. If one likes to participate, opportunities abound—there are several choral groups, a marching band, the symphony orchestra, the symphonic band—or there is always the guitar with a few friends under the trees. Whichever one chooses, at UK it's available—and there's someone to share it.

There are 22 national fraternities and 16 national sororities on campus. "Rush," or member recruitment, takes place before classes begin, and informally throughout the year.

In addition to supporting the various Wildcat and Lady Kat teams, men and women students take part as individuals or in groups in competitive sports and in intramural programs. The Seaton Center houses facilities in basketball, volleyball, badminton, squash, wrestling, and table tennis. An Olympic-size swimming pool, tennis courts, and several sports fields are available to students.

A similar variety of opportunities in drama, student government, athletics, service organizations, and recreation, is available.

The city of Lexington also offers UK students much in the way of entertainment. Lexington has a Philharmonic Orchestra, Chamber Music Society, the Lexington Singers, a Council of Arts, and a local Ballet Company. Movie theaters, international restaurants, coffee-houses, top-ranked acts of all types at fabulous Rupp Arena in the Lexington Center, historical landmarks, parks, and shopping centers, thoroughbred and harness racing, fine fishing in lakes, ponds and streams . . . all in easy distance of the UK campus.

Tailgating at football games, lining up for tickets to see nationally famous Wildcat teams in Rupp Arena or Lady Kat games in Memorial Coliseum, participating in the "Little Kentucky Derby," attending concerts at the downtown arena or in the 11,500-seat Coliseum on the UK campus, visiting the internationally famous Kentucky Horse Park . . . all just a few of the many attractions of Lexington and the University of Kentucky.

CATS

Center For Academic & Tutorial Services

WHAT IS CATS?

CATS is specifically the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services. It is a multipurpose academic facility. We are proud to be the first university in the nation to open an academic center for student-athletes. We, like all other universities, tell parents and recruits that the student-athlete's education is of utmost importance. The difference is that at the University of Kentucky we have made a sincere effort to provide the best possible educational environment, one that is conducive to academic success.

CATS provides our student-athletes with many advantages over the student-athletes at other universities. Examine the list below:

1. ADVISING—It is not unusual for freshmen student-athletes to be confused about courses, campus, or any number of academic procedures. In addition to our study center, the CATS facility houses the office of the Assistant Athletics Director for Academic Affairs, a full-time assistant, a Reading Coordinator and four Academic Graduate Assistants (AGA's). These trained staff members are there for one purpose—to help the student-athlete mature academically. Our goal is to help student-athletes be successful out of the arena of athletic competition.

2. STUDY SKILLS—CATS provides us with an area where we can conduct organized weekly study skills classes. Many schools give their student-athletes a crash course in study skills. This is not enough. We have a Freshman Orientation Handbook and Study Skills workbook that each freshman student-athlete receives. The student-athletes attend organized classes in CATS, where they learn to utilize proven classroom study skills and university resources.

3. STUDY HALL—Most major colleges have a required study hall for their freshmen student-athletes. These study halls are almost always in the evening after practice and are held in a campus facility borrowed by the Athletics Association. This is probably the time period least conducive to study or meeting with tutors.

NOT AT KENTUCKY!

The CATS facility not only provides us with our own large area for quiet study but is also equipped with tutoring and small group rooms. Our center was specifically designed to meet the study needs of student-athletes.

The CATS Center is open all day and until 10:00 each night. This means that student-athletes at Kentucky are not restricted to attending required study hall in the evening. Our student-athletes can complete their study hall virtually any time of day. Research has shown that the best time to study is immediately after class. Our center provides the student-athletes the opportunity to study at that time. This is definitely a CATS advantage.

4. TUTORING—We have tutors available for any subject. Our tutors come from the University and the community. We utilize the services of professors, graduate students and graduates who are well-qualified. We screen our tutors and although we hire many more than we need, we develop a core list of those most effective with our students. This core group works closely with us and thus we are able to monitor the progress of the student-athletes more closely. CATS provides the proper atmosphere for tutoring. Soundproof rooms are available where the student and the tutor can meet. They don't have to worry about being bothered by others or bothering others while discussing important concepts. Our system is most conducive to learning.

5. READING COMPONENT—The reading program at CATS is designed to meet the needs of all student-athletes. Upon entering the University each student-athlete is given a reading test that measures that individual's strengths and weaknesses. Based upon the results, a student-athlete may be encouraged to participate in the reading program, which provides both individual and small-group tutoring in a variety of areas such as reading improvement and advanced vocabulary development. It is the goal of the reading program to provide student-athletes with tools necessary to become more effective readers and studiers.
