Mike Clark - Leader

As Baron Adolph Rupp begins his 35th year at the helm of University of Kentucky's heralded cage force, he is able to look back proudly over a success story that is not likely to be surpassed for many a season to come.

Few major goals of the coaching profession have escaped the grasp of Coach Rupp down through the years and, as he approaches the twilight of a fabulous career, even former adversaries are readily attesting to his greatness. The "Man In The Brown Suit" is finally being given his due credit for building the game of basketball into the crowd-pleasing sport it is today.

In his own backyard (the Southeastern Conference) particularly, it is generally acknowledged that Rupp is the prime benefactor of Dixie basketball—having goaded loop schools into providing better places to play, recruiting better boys and giving more emphasis to the sport.

On the record, the Kentucky coach (63 years young) is off and running toward a unique goal of 800 coaching victories. He may never achieve it, but past experience indicates he will give it that "old college try" as long as he has the urge and as health permits.

Last season, Rupp attained a coveted goal—his 700th coaching career victory. The big win came on the road at the expense of Georgia—particularly fitting since the same club had handed him his first UK coaching loss at the same scene 34 years before. And it became singularly impressive since the UK tutor could point to achievement of the milestone at the earliest point in his career of any "member" of the club.

Only one other still-active coach and a pair who have now retired have attained the creditable feat. Forrest (Phog) Allen of Kansas became the first to pick up 700 career wins as he accomplished the aim in 1952—in the 42nd year of his coaching tenure. He stepped down after 46 years with a record of 770 wins and 233 losses. Western Kentucky's colorful Ed Diddle was in his 38th year of coaching in 1960 as he notched victory No. 700. And he retired after a 42nd campaign last season that raised his record to 759-302. Still active at Oklahoma State after 35 years and a 700th victory recorded in the final game of last season is Henry (Hank) Iba.

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

. . . The State Is Our Campus

Located in Lexington, an urban community of over 140,000 population in the heart of Kentucky's famed Blue Grass region, University of Kentucky is a state-supported, land-grant institution now approaching its centennial year to be celebrated in 1965.

The present school, which currently enrolls about 13,000 students and offers instruction in 10 academic colleges plus a Graduate School and a division of Extended Programs, had its beginnings in 1865 when it was established as a part of old Kentucky University. This action by the State Legislature united sectarian and public education under one organization for the first time. Federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts within KU and, in 1878, A&M College was separated from KU to become a separate state institution on the general site of what is now the 706-acre main campus. Name changes in 1908 and 1916 resulted in the title by which the school is now known.

A new chief administrative officer, Dr. John W. Oswald, took over reins of the University at the beginning of the 1963-64 school year. The 47-year-old new president, who succeeded Dr. Frank Dickey, has an athletic background including collegiate football play at DePauw and letters in basketball and track. He was selected on the Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-America Team in 1962. Dr. Oswald, whose special field is plant pathology, came to Kentucky from a position as vice-president-administration, Statewide University, University of California.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. It is fully accredited in its respective colleges and departments by all of the major professional societies and educational organizations.

ATHLETICS AT KENTUCKY

Kentucky's athletic program, a well-balanced and ambitious activity featuring inter-collegiate competition in ten different sports, is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

The program is conducted without overemphasis or sacrifice of educational objectives and in strict compliance with the rules of the University, the Southeastern Conference and the National Collegiate Association.

A board of directors, headed by University President John W. Oswald in the capacity of chairman, maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program. In addition to the UK President, board officers include Dr. A. D. Albright as vice-chairman and Dr. W. L. Matthews in the capacity of secretary. Twelve other men, drawn from the University faculty and the general public, also serve on the board as appointees of the president as does a student representative.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is Bernie A. Shively, a former Illinois grid All-American and a veteran of over 25 years in the post of Director of Athletics.

The Association's Board of Directors is composed of the following:

Dr. John W. Oswald, Chairman	Dr. Aubrey J. Brown	Dr. Douglas Schwartz
Dr. A. D. Albright, Vice Chairman	Dr. Loren Carlson	Dr. D. V. Terrell
Dr. W. L. Matthews, Jr., Secretary	Dr. Thomas Clark	Prof. William A. Tolman
James B. Allen	Dr. Lyman Ginger	Floyd Wright
Dr. Ralph Angelucci	Dr. A. D. Kirwan	Steve Beshear
	Douglas Parrish	(Student Representative)

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
BERNIE A. SHIVELY

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS BERNIE A. SHIVELY

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is the Herculean task being carried out successfully by Bernie A. Shively.

Few who have observed the untiring efforts of the tall, silver-haired former All-America footballer in the service of the University of Kentucky since 1927 and as Director of Athletics since 1938 will argue his fitness as an athletic Hercules. Not only has Shively guided the development of Kentucky as a nationally-respected power in major sports, but he has also gained personal prestige through a fair-minded approach to many problems.

During his more than quarter-century tenure as Athletic Director, Shively has directly supervised major expansions in Kentucky's athletic plant resulting from the progression of the school's football and basketball teams to greater national prominence and increased patronage by the sports-minded public.

The seating capacity of Kentucky's football stadium, McLean Stadium on Stoll Field, has been doubled to bring the current number of seats to approximately 37,500 and on par with most other schools located in heavier-populated areas. Powerful lighting equipment also was installed during the 1948-49 construction and a new-type "iodized" light put up in 1961 to bring night football into new popularity. Partly to satisfy the overwhelming number of basketball devotees, who could not squeeze into the 2,800-seat Alumni Gymnasium, a long-planned Memorial Coliseum was completed in 1950. Seating 11,500 persons for cage contests, the four-million dollar Coliseum also houses the Athletic Department. More recently, Shively directed the acquisition of a pair of modern, ranch-style living units which have served as the home of the football team since 1954. "Wildcat Manor" and "Kitten Lodge" replace three frame houses which the gridders had occupied since 1949.

Plans Spacious New Sports Center

A large dressing room building and football practice field, used since 1955, was abandoned in 1959 to make way for a huge new men's dorm. Under Shively's supervision, a spacious new Sports Center was prepared a short distance away on the University farm to take even better care of the footballers and spring sports teams. The Sports Center is generally regarded as one of the finest sports facilities in the nation.

Stoll Field recently underwent, with Shively's supervision, a major "face-lifting" to improve its playing surface and the view of the fans sitting in the lower rows of the stands.

Born in Oliver, Ill., May 26, 1903, Shively attended Paris (Ill.) High school and there began his athletic career by participating in track and football. Although he was considered an outstanding backfield man in high school, Shively didn't attract the serious attention of collegiate scouts. He entered Illinois and tried out for the football team on his own. From that humble beginning, Shively went on to become a great guard under Coach Bob Zuppke on the same Illini team made famous by the immortal Red Grange.

Shively played two years with Grange, running interference for the "Gallop Ghost" and made All-America in 1926 as a senior despite a bad knee that handicapped his playing. He also won the heavyweight wrestling championship of the Big 10 and was a standout in track to rank as one of the finest all-around athletes in Illinois' history.

Shively came to Kentucky in 1927 as line coach of football under Harry Gamage and six years later was named head of the UK Physical Education Department. He succeeded Chet Wynne as Athletic Director in 1938. During this period and the years following, he also served as track and baseball coach for several seasons and continued to assist the football staff as line coach until 1944. The next year, 1945, he assumed full charge of the grid squad for one season before turning the job over to mentor Paul (Bear) Bryant in 1946.

The Kentucky Athletic Director is currently chairman of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee and for the past 11 years has been president of the Southeastern Conference Coaches and Athletic Directors Association. He served as chairman of the SEC Basketball Committee for a number of years and is a past chairman of the NCAA summer baseball group.

Shively and his wife, Ruth, have two children. Doug was a star end on the UK grid team for three years ending in 1958 and is now coaching at VPI while daughter Suzanne was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate in 1957.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY TO HOST NCAA MIDEAST REGIONAL IN MARCH

University of Kentucky's Memorial Coliseum again will be the site of one step in the determination of the national collegiate basketball champion as the Mideast Regional of the 1965 NCAA Tournament is staged in the spacious arena.

Bernie A. Shively, Kentucky Athletic Director and chairman of the national tournament committee, announced that dates of the sectional phase of the 27th Annual National Collegiate Championships will be March 12-13. In addition to the Mideast Regional in Lexington, eliminations are to be staged on the same dates on three other college campuses. The East Regional will be at University of Maryland, Midwest at Kansas State, and West at Brigham Young University.

The national finals will be held at Portland, Ore., on March 19-20.

Participants in the Mideast Regional at UK again will be drawn from the Southeastern Conference, Big Ten Conference and a preliminary round playoff at a date and site still to be decided. Champions of the two conferences get automatic byes into the regional and are to be paired against winners of preliminary round games involving the Ohio Valley Conference champion and Mid-America Conference champion versus at-large selections. How the first-round winners are paired in the regional will be determined later by the tournament committee, Shively explained.

The UK Coliseum, one of the most spacious on-campus arenas in the South, has been the site of a portion of the NCAA Tournament six times previously since its completion in 1950. First round playoffs were staged in the building in 1955, 1959, 1960 and 1962 while regional tournaments were held in 1957 and 1958. Kentucky played in the two regional attractions, being eliminated by Michigan State in 1957 and defeating Miami (Ohio) and Notre Dame in 1958 enroute to its fourth and last national championship.

ORIGIN OF "WILDCATS" NICKNAME

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Corbusier, then head of the military department of old State College. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and about 10 other major athletic teams.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat served as a live mascot for UK teams until his death in 1955. The current mascot is a stuffed wildcat obtained from a Brooklyn taxidermist just before the 1958 football season and named "Tucky."

ADOLPH FREDERICK RUPP "Nation's Winningest Basketball Coach"

34 Years — Won 705, Lost 140 — 83.4%

For over three decades, the sports world has watched an amazing record being forged with near perfection out of meager raw material by a colorful figure in the Blue Grass country of Kentucky known familiarly to hundreds of thousands as the "Man in the Brown Suit."

He is Adolph Rupp of Kentucky and when the sport of basketball is mentioned today, a direct chain of thought brings out the name of this maker of champions who holds undisputed rank as the "Nation's Winningest Basketball Coach." The name of Rupp, feared and respected in opponents' hearts and beloved by the millions who have witnessed the remarkable success of his Wildcat cage teams, has become synonymous with the game of basketball.

Such unprecedented recognition for the fabulous mentor is only natural since his success in the past 34 years as head man of the fabled Kentucky cage thoroughbreds has been nothing short of phenomenal. It would take a book longer than his own technical best-seller, "Championship Basketball," to recite the record completely. Briefly, however, that record includes:

- An amazing 705 victories out of 845 starts for an unparalleled winning percentage of better than 83 percent against major competition.
- One of only two still-active major college coaches with 700 career victories to his credit.
- Certification by the NCAA Service Bureau as the nation's most successful collegiate basketball coach, both for the decade ending in 1961 and at the 20-year level.
- Selection as the national "Coach of the Year" in 1959 for the second time in his career and runner-up for the 1963-64 season.
- An unprecedented honor roll of four NCAA Tournament championships picked up by his Wildcats who hold the all-time record of 14 appearances in the national classic and can claim more victories in NCAA play (23) than any other team.
- A nominal world championship as co-coach of the successful USA entry in the 1948 Olympic Games which included members of Kentucky's NCAA champions.
- Producer of more Olympic gold medallion winners (7) than any other cage coach.
- An all-time record total of 21 Southeastern Conference titles since the league was organized in 1933.
- Election to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1959 and previous selection (in 1946) by Helms Athletic Foundation as a member of their exclusive Hall of Fame.
- Trustee and member of selection and honors committees of Basketball Hall of Fame. Also chairman NABC Hall of Fame Committee and heads the group that selects players to appear in East-West All-Star Game benefitting the Hall of Fame.
- Recipient of the Governor's Medallion in 1959 for meritorious service to the Commonwealth of Kentucky and plaques of appreciation from the U.S. Air Force (1959) and Sugar Bowl committee (1951).
- Election to the Kentucky Hall of Fame (1945), outstanding citizen of Lexington (1949) and twice honorary citizen of the City of New Orleans.
- Coach of the winning East team in the Shrine East-West game 1959.
- Development of more All-Americans (20 players honored 30 times) and more material for the pro ranks (22) than any other coach.

- Five Sugar Bowl Tournament championships, a National Invitation Tournament title and seven trophies from the 11 previous UK Invitational Tournaments.
- Membership on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee.

Rupp's Teams Play In Most Tournaments

Tournament invitations in pre-Rupp years were almost unheard of—Kentucky played in only seven sectional eliminations. In contrast, the Rupp-led Wildcats have the distinction of playing in more tournaments of all types than any other team. All told, his Bluegrass fives have achieved the unequalled feat of 143 victories against only 40 defeats, covering action in 41 national classics plus 29 conference meets and the '48 Olympics.

Although the competition was nowhere near as rugged as the schedules played by today's nationally-recognized Wildcat brigades, Rupp's very first team compiled a highly-successful, 15-3 record and Kentucky basketball has been on a winning plane ever since. The most games lost in a single season since Rupp added his touch were nine in 1960-61 and again in 1962-63. The remarkably low average number of losses per season in the Rupp Era is three.

Rupp's teams have finished as national champion in the press association polls four times in the last 15 years. They were unranked in the top 20 only in the 1952-53 campaign, when they were idle, and in 1962-63. Possibly his greatest achievement came in the 1953-54 season when the Wildcats rolled unchecked through a 25-game schedule of top-flight opposition to become the biggest-winning, perfect-record unit in all basketball history up to that time.

Rivaling that achievement, in the opinion of the sportswriters and broadcasters, is the tremendous coaching jobs turned in by the basketball miracle man in more recent seasons. Eight years ago, Rupp guided a moderately talented club to an 18th SEC title, third place in the polls and a ninth NCAA Tournament appearance while achieving a 23-5 record. The surprised experts, who had predicted UK would not win its own conference, voted Coach Rupp the runner-up spot as 1957 "Coach of the Year."

Even that effort went by the boards in 1958, however, as Kentucky's talentless wonders copped the NCAA title for an unprecedented fourth time. The Wildcats were unsung and almost unknown except by reputation and heritage. Not a single man had been honored on the All-Conference fives selected before tournament time and they had lost more games (6) in regular season play than any UK team in 17 years.

Wins National 'Coach of Year' Honor

If the experts thought that was tops in miracles, they reckoned without the amazing drive of this man Rupp. With four-fifths of his starting lineup gone, he re-built shattered foundations in such an astonishing fashion that the Wildcats rolled through the 1959 season almost unchecked. Although they failed to win the title in their increasingly-tough Southeastern Conference for only the third time since 1943, UK was generally conceded to be the nation's top team. Most experts agreed that the Kentuckians, who finished with a 24-3 record and ranked second nationally, missed a golden opportunity to pick up a fifth NCAA crown as they were upset by Louisville in the tourney opener. This feeling was given meaning as Rupp was accorded "Coach of the Year" honor by United Press International.

The 1959-60 season admittedly was not a great one as the UKats chalked up only an 18-7 mark—second worst season of the Rupp Era. However, many experts considered the outcome to be a tribute to one of the greatest coaching efforts ever turned in. Plagued from the beginning of the season to the end by adversity (sickness, injuries, eligibility difficulties and personnel problems), complete disaster was always imminent and avoided only by masterful juggling (16 different starting combos) and artful strategy moves.

It was a similar story of great coaching technique against the heavy odds of personnel and schedule in 1960-61. Although the final record read only 19-9, a closer look reveals the touch of Rupp was there for the Wildcats were regrouped into a fearsome outfit after early troubles and rolled to 11 wins in their last 12 starts. Enroute they conquered eventual SEC champ Mississippi State on the road and demolished Vanderbilt in a SEC Playoff for an NCAA berth. They never ran out of gas until stopped by Ohio State in regional finals.

There was no way of anticipating the tremendous season that evolved in 1961-62 except to depend on the proven touch of master rebuilder Rupp. Minus four starters off the 19-9 outfit of the year before, Rupp guided his "Fearless Five" to victory in the UK Invitational and cornered a share of the league title for the 20th time. Finally, lack of bench strength and superior height caused the UKats' downfall in the NCAA regional finals and they stowed away their gear with a surprising, 23-3 mark.

Not much could be said for 1962-63, which resulted in the posting of the poorest record ever (16-9) of the Rupp Era, except that it easily could have been worse without a dedicated coaching effort. Although their surge fell disappointly short in quest for a fifth NCAA title, the 1963-64 Ruppmen blazed a torrid path that led to high national ranking all season long. Before a critical lack of height and too demanding a schedule caught up with them, the Wildcats waltzed to titles in two major seasonal tournaments (UKIT and Sugar Bowl) and copped an unprecedented 21st SEC Championship.

Rupp Credited For Increasing Interest

Rupp is recognized by sports authorities with doing more than any other modern tutor to make basketball a national spectator sport. From the very outset of his career at Kentucky, which began in 1930, he has introduced or popularized many new and revised trends in the game that have aided materially in making the country basketball-minded. One such innovation was the controlled fast break offensive pattern that has since become the crowd-pleasing trademark of Wildcat cage teams.

The outstanding success of this man as a basketball coach is matched only by the personal fame he has attained off the court.

The masterful story-teller is equally renowned on the banquet and coaching clinic circuit and is in constant demand as a speaker in the off season. He annually appears in more than a dozen states to make speaking engagements and believes he has missed only Alaska in tours throughout the 50 states. Rupp undoubtedly has conducted more coaching clinics than any other tutor. Overseas assignments for the Army and Air Force have taken him in recent years to Europe three times (last, Germany 1961) and twice to Hawaii and the Far East (in 1962 and 1964). Several foreign olympic coaches have studied under Rupp at UK.

Internationally recognized for his avocation as a registered Hereford breeder-enthusiast, Rupp is currently in his twelfth term as president of the Kentucky Hereford Assn. He owns and operates one of the largest farms in the Bluegrass area and serves as a director of the Central District Warehousing Corp., world's largest tobacco marketing organization. The coach in 1962 was named to a five-year term on the Board of Governors of the Agricultural Hall of Fame and National Agricultural Center.

Coach Rupp is active in Shrine affairs, being chosen in 1950 as one of the 10 outstanding Shriners of the nation and holding honorary memberships in temples throughout the country. He is a Past Potentate of the Oleika (Lexington) Temple and serves as vice-chairman of the board for the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital in Lexington. Five years ago, he was nominated as one of five candidates for the Imperial Outer Guard of the Shrine. Rupp serves also as state chairman of the Cerebral Palsy Association.

He has his own television and radio shows during the season, has produced two film shorts ("Basketball: Individual Offense" for Coca-Cola Co. and "Parade to National Championship") and written books on virtually every phase of the game. The Coach also is chairman of the board of the Leatherguard Corporation and a board member of American Central Life Insurance Company.

Born in Halstead, Kansas, Sept. 2, 1901, Rupp attended University of Kansas where he played guard under Phog Allen. Following graduation in 1923, he coached high school ball one year at Marshalltown, Iowa, and then at Freeport, Ill., four seasons before coming to Kentucky in 1930. His fame as "The Man in the Brown Suit" stems from his superstitious preference of brown as the color of his game-night wardrobe.

'BANNER' AND NO. 6

According to tradition, Kentucky's basketballing Wildcats have a pet pattern that they execute the first time they get the ball in a game. The nationally-famous saying attributed to UK Coach Adolph Rupp is "Star Spangled Banner and then No. 6." This stems from Rupp's strategy of running the strategic guard-around play of Kentucky's repertoire and the reason, Rupp explains, is simple: "It tells us immediately if the opposing team is playing a zone defense against us." The basic-guard-around pattern has been employed by Kentucky as it raced to four national championships and has produced eight All-America guards during the Rupp Era.

HARRY LANCASTER

Assistant Coach

When Harry Lancaster finds a spare moment to reflect on his days as an all-around star athlete at Georgetown (Ky.) College back in the early thirties, he can recall with a degree of dismay how close he came to never pursuing the "round ball" sport that in the days since has earned him a highly respected position in the basketball world.

An All-Conference halfback for three straight years and captain during his last two seasons, Lancaster's football career almost overshadowed his play on the basketball court. In the cage sport, he was equally successful—with three All-Conference nominations and two team captaincies to his credit—but considered himself a better football player than cager.

Born in Paris, Ky., Feb. 14, 1911, he attended Paris High School where he played four years in all sports. Following graduation in 1928, he continued his athletic career at Georgetown College and gained star recognition in football, basketball and baseball. As a cager, he played against Coach Rupp's first UK team in 1930. After finishing at Georgetown in '32, Harry remained on for the next school year as an assistant coach in both the grid and cage sports before moving into the high school field. He coached several sports, mostly basketball, for nine years and was a high school principal for six years before coming to the University of Kentucky in 1942 as an instructor in physical education. Soon thereafter, the war intervened and Lancaster saw 16 months' Navy duty, rising from apprentice seaman to Lieutenant (Senior Grade).

Returning to UK in March, 1946, he became a part-time assistant to the Wildcats' famous cage mentor, Adolph Rupp, in addition to carrying on his teaching duties and gaining his master's degree. Two years later, he became Coach Rupp's general right hand man in a full-time capacity. Lancaster also served as Kentucky's baseball coach in 1946-47 and picked up the assignment again starting with the 1951 campaign.

In addition to his coaching duties, Lancaster manages to sandwich in a large slice of traveling. Besides checking on the nation's best high school cagers as potential material for future Wildcat national champion crews, his travel stems from a plan to extensively scout upcoming opponents. Coach Rupp was one of the first in the country to inaugurate this wide-spread scouting system in basketball and believes it has contributed materially to Kentucky's past success in carrying off championships with almost reckless abandon.

Lancaster also traveled to Greece in the summer of 1951 on a special athletic assignment for the U. S. State Department. The mission called for the Kentucky aide to act as an advisor to Greek Basketball Federation officials on Olympic procedure and other matters. He also conducted numerous clinics, coaching schools and gave public lectures on the cage sport as played in the U.S.A.

During the summer of 1962, he helped Coach Rupp conduct clinics for Army personnel in the Far East Theater.

Lancaster's coaching success with the freshman teams has been commendable. The yearlings have lost only 34 contests under his tutelage the past 14 seasons against formidable competition that included the more elite junior college clubs and top-notch service quintets. His record stands at 153 wins, 34 losses.

NEIL REED Assistant Coach

Youthful Neil Reed, who joined the Wildcats in a graduate assistant capacity for the 1962-63 season to study the proven coaching methods of Baron Adolph Rupp, became a full-time aide last season. In this capacity his duties include coaching work with the freshmen, scouting of upcoming opponents and searching out the top high school talent to fill out the stable of UK court thoroughbreds. Coach Reed came to Lexington following two seasons at Wauconda (Ill.) High School as head basketball coach. For his job in rebuilding a defeat-ridden ball club, which had lost 28 straight and won only seven games in seven years, he was accorded conference "Coach of the Year" designation. Previously, Reed had coached at a junior high school in Milwaukee, Wis. The personable, 31-year-old coach is a native of Lawrenceburg, Ind., and attended high school in that city. Although he did not participate as a player on his high school team, Reed did gain cage experience with an AAU club and later played freshman basketball and baseball at University of Illinois. He holds academic degrees from both Illinois and Millikan and, at Kentucky, is working toward a degree in athletic administration. Reed is married and the father of four children.

JOHN LYKINS, Graduate Assistant—Latest in a long line of interested coaches who have studied under Rupp, Lykins spent four years in the high school field at Frankfort High. He is a Georgetown College graduate (1957) working on his master's degree at UK.

KUHN

KEN KUHN, Publicity Director—A veteran of 17 years in the position of publicizing Wildcat basketball teams and other athletic activities of the University of Kentucky, Kuhn came to Lexington from Michigan State in 1946. After spending the first two years of his UK association as News Editor of the school's Department of Public Relations, a job concerned with presenting the academic side of the university to the public, he moved over to the Department of Athletics just prior to the 1948 basketball season. In the capacity of Director of Sports Publicity, Kuhn disseminates news and information on Wildcat teams throughout the year through the media of the press, radio, television and national magazines. He also edits numerous UK sports publications, such as the national-award-winning basketball brochure and game programs in both football and basketball. Kuhn is a past president of the SEC Sports Publicity Association and holds membership in COSIDA—national organization of collegiate sports publicity directors.

JOE BROWN, Trainer—With a background as a trainer, teacher and coach, 31-year-old Joe Brown joined the University of Kentucky athletics staff in 1962 in the capacity of trainer assigned to the basketball team. In the off season, he also serves the baseball squad and other spring teams in the same role. A member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and a service veteran, Brown is a valued authority on static exercises and rehabilitation of athletics-connected injuries. He has had numerous articles on various phases of his profession published by national magazines. During the school year, the former teacher also has the assignment of supervising the academic progress of Kentucky's cagers. His teaching background includes two years in public schools of his native state of Missouri and one year as a physical education instructor at Southern Illinois University. Brown has had training experience at Southern Illinois and Southeast Missouri State College and coached all sports while in service. He holds the master's degree in Education and is a member of various honorary education fraternities.

GEORGE HUKLE, Basketball Equip. Mgr. and Statistician—An invaluable aide to the Kentucky basketball team for longer than most people can remember, George Hukle has served as official statistician for the Wildcats for a great many years and is in his third year as cage equipment manager . . . Regarded as the dean of Southeastern Conference statisticians and one of the nation's veterans, Hukle has been keeping charts for Coach Rupp since 1933 . . . He is credited with popularizing the statistic of field goal attempts in collegiate basketball.

WILDCATS TO BE FEATURED THREE TIMES IN SE CONFERENCE TELEVISION SERIES

Kentucky's crowd-pleasing Wiludcats, who have been particularly tough over the years when parading their wares before a television audience, are slated for three appearances this season in connection with a 10-game SEC basketball "Game of the Week" series on regional television.

Dates of the UK cagers' appearances are Jan. 16 against Tennessee at Knoxville, Jan. 23 against Florida at Gainesville, and Feb. 27 in Lexington with Tennessee again furnishing the opposition.

All eleven member schools are scheduled to be seen at least once during the 10-week series of Saturday afternoon telecasts to be produced by TV Sports, Inc., of Patterson, N. J. There will be no blackout of any area.

Play-by-play descriptions will be handled by John Ferguson of WBRZ-TV, Baton Rouge, and Ed Thilenius of WAGA-TV, Atlanta. A network of more than 20 stations will carry the telecasts into eight states. The Lexington outlet will be WKYT-TV (Channel 27).

The complete schedule for television follows:

Jan. 2	Georgia vs Louisiana State at Baton Rouge	2:00 p.m. CST
Jan. 9	Vanderbilt vs. Mississippi State at Starkville	2:00 p.m. CST
Jan. 16	Kentucky vs. Tennessee at Knoxville	3:15 p.m. EST
Jan. 23	Kentucky vs. Florida at Gainesville	3:15 p.m. EST
Jan. 30	Auburn vs. Vanderbilt at Nashville	2:15 p.m. CST
Feb. 6	Alabama vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge	2:15 p.m. CST
Feb. 13	Mississippi vs. Georgia at Athens	3:15 p.m. EST
Feb. 20	Tennessee vs. Alabama at Tuscaloosa	2:15 p.m. CST
Feb. 27	Tennessee vs. Kentucky at Lexington	3:15 p.m. EST
Mar. 6	Tulane vs. Vanderbilt at Nashville	2:15 p.m. CST

Note: Telecast begins 15 minutes before gametime.

T-VIEWING THE WILDCATS

Kentucky's Wildcats have winning ways that make them particularly tough when in focus of the television cameras. In seven appearances during the past dozen years before the national television audience, Coach Adolph Rupp's crew has come out victorious each time. Their first experience on television is believed to have been in the NCCA eastern finals at Madison Square Garden in 1951 when games with St. John's and Illinois were televised nationally. Portions of a game with Loyola in Chicago Stadium Feb. 15, 1957, were aired as part of a salute to Coach Rupp on the old "Tonight" show. NBC-TV's "Game of the Week" series in 1958-59 featured three UK wins at the expense of St. Louis, LSU and Tennessee and a similar series in 1960-61 carried by ABC-TV saw the Wildcats measure Georgia Tech in a Memorial Coliseum game. Several other Kentucky road games have been televised locally or regionally in recent years and this season Kentucky is scheduled to appear before the TV cameras three times on a Southeastern Conference "Game of the Week" series. The Wildcats are dated with Tennessee at home and away plus Florida on the road.

KENTUCKY BASKETBALL OUTLOOK — 1965

It may take all the cagey ingenuity built up over the past 34 years by fabulously successful Adolph Rupp to guide University of Kentucky's 1964-65 cage crew to a successful defense of the 21st Southeastern Conference crown won last year and a repeat of perennially high national ranking.

The fabled "Man In The Brown Suit" is confronted with factors of heavy losses, lack of height and a critical lack of playable depth that are offset only by the promise of improvement in defensive play, speed, finesse, and teamwork.

Whether the somewhat intangible "plus" factors can fill the obviously gaping void left by the departure of three-time All-America center Cotton Nash and All-Conference forward Ted Deeken remains to be determined in the course of a demanding, 25-game schedule. While Rupp has not gained his reputation as the nation's winningest cage mentor and master psychologist by annually wringing real tears out of the mythical crying towel, he leaves the impression this year without moaning that he is far from optimistic over chances of his 35th year being a traditionally fine one.

With Nash and Deeken went 50 percent of the Wildcats' firepower and great rebounding strength. And, although he shaded only 6-5, Cotton generally could handle the opponents' big man in the vicinity of the basket. This season the pressure of that assignment apparently will fall to lean and lanky John Adams. "Big John" actually improves Kentucky's height-shy situation over a year ago since he stretches 6-6 $\frac{1}{4}$ —but the hitch is that the senior from Rising Sun, Ind., has been a sparsely-used reserve riding the bench most of his two previous varsity seasons. Adams totaled only 80 minutes of action in 16 games last season and was credited with just a 1.9 scoring average and a 1.7 rebounding mean.

Adams Key Man In Rebuilding Plans

Coach Rupp makes no secret of the fact that Adams is undoubtedly the key man in Kentucky's rebuilding plans. Lending hope that he can successfully negotiate the obviously long road to taking up the slack created by the absence of Nash is the fact that Adams has been the leading scorer in pre-season scrimmages.

While a "new" Adams will lend some help in the height department, the Baron of the Blue Grass worries over whether it will be enough to cope with the towering young giants in the 6-9 to 7-1 range that are the backbone of almost every foe on the 1964-65 card. As Rupp explains it, "the difference between Adams and Nash is not one of height. Rather it is going to be the difference in scoring—both by our man and by his opponent." UK got a lot of mileage out of a small team last year (and every season since they last had a "big man" regular in 1961) because of superior offense and a sound defense that allowed the individual Wildcats to outpoint the man they were guarding.

"That's why we are going to stress defensive play more than ever this season," Rupp says.

He adds hopefully that he is looking for the offense to pick up as well to improve on the 13.8 average scoring margin registered a year ago.

Defensive play carried the Wildcats in the latter two-thirds of their schedule last season. After having fallen ignominiously from No. 1 national ranking to the cellar position in the Southeastern Conference following a pair of upset losses initiating league play, Baron Rupp pulled off the surprise stroke of the century by switching to what he called a 1-3-1 "point press" defense. Others saw fit to label it a zone, but Rupp liked his name better and the UKats parlayed it to a string of successes that earned them a record 21st SEC title.

The "point man" star of that defense, 6-5 $\frac{1}{4}$ guard Tommy Kron, returns along with two other starters and a part-time opener off the 21-6 club of 1963-64.

Kron has demonstrated in pre-season scrimmages that he has not lost his defensive touch and the others look promising defensively as well. But it's Rupp's well-kept secret whether he will again resort to the tantalizing 1-3-1 or revert to the traditional, sticky man-to-man lineup on defense that puts more desirable responsibility on individuals.

Defense almost overshadowed the highly-gearred Kentucky offense last season—but not quite. And offense, long a Wildcat trademark, seems sure to be the vanguard of the club's hopes for coping with a strong schedule that includes defense of its own UK Invitational title, engagements with seven major foes from other sections of the country plus an expanded slate of 16 league tests.

Vanning the offense will be 6-3 junior forward Larry Conley, who poured in points at a 12.2 clip last season while playing "third fiddle" to the Nash-Deeken duet—second highest scoring combination in UK history. There's every reason to expect the slender floor leader to improve his contribution and hope that his amazing passing artistry (which produced raves last winter and gave him a school record 112 assists) will materially aid the scoring efforts of teammates—particularly pivotman Adams. Not far behind should come returning guard regular Terry Mobley and early-season opener Randy Embry along with a more potent Kron and new faces Louie Dampier and Pat Riley.

Mobley Expected To Land Starting Berth

Mobley, a 6-2¼ senior, got a late start this season due to eye surgery but his experience and 1964 scoring average of 9.4 (fourth best) are expected to land him a starting berth soon after the season opens if not sooner. Long range bomber Embry handled a regular guard job until his lack of size (5-11) forced him to relinquish it to taller defensive ace Kron. The pair are battling it out again this season. Embry could win if his offensive output lends hope for surpassing that of his opponent. Kron must pick up his meager (except for one occasion) point effort beyond the 5.1 range of last season.

The newcomers move up to the varsity with impressive credentials of double-figure scorers. Dampier, a 6-1 guard with one of the sharpest scoring eyes seen at UK in several seasons, led all frosh scorers with a 26.7 average. Riley, at 6-3½, wound up second in the point department with a 20.8 average and topped in rebounding at 14.7 per game. He played forward and filled in at the pivot for the last seven games.

Rounding out the squad, which totals only 12 and averages just 6-3 in height to rank as one of the smallest in the nation, are 6-0 senior letterman and reserve guard Ron Kennett, 6-8 junior squadman Larry Lentz, sophs Gene Stewart (6-2 F) and Brad Bounds (6-5½ center) and non-scholarship junior college transfer Frank Tully, a 6-3 forward. Six returnees boast letterman status. The same number are missing. The average output of the seven returnees, spread over last season's 27 games, was a meager 34 points. The numerical size of the club leaves Rupp more short-handed than at any time since the early days of his career.

All told, the '65 aggregation shapes up as faster and shoots better than their immediate predecessors but Coach Rupp enters his 35th year at the Wildcat helm with the prospect of much shuffling of personnel to come up with another of his "patented" rebuilding jobs. Lack of dependable depth at center and forward could be the downfall. However, he has proven eminently successful as an expert at such repair jobs in the past and the experts figure UK to be in the thick of the fight again for the league crown and high national honors.

KENTUCKY BASKETBALL RESUME — 1964

Kentucky's 1964 basketball campaign is best summed up as a "comeback within a comeback"—although the second stage of the surge fell disappointingly short when the Wildcats missed in their try for an unprecedented fifth NCAA title.

It was a hectic campaign . . . one of the most trying for the men of Baron Adolph Rupp since their "Fiddlin' Five" predecessors stole the whole show in 1958. After waltzing through the traditionally tough non-conference portion of their card during December in such unrelenting fashion that they were accorded top position in the national polls, the 'Cats found fellow Southeastern Conference fives lying in ambush.

Fat and sassy with a spotless, 10-straight string and prestige victories in their own UK Invitational and the Sugar Bowl tournaments, the No. 1-ranked Wildcat band got a rude awakening as it opened loop competition on the road. First arch-rival Georgia Tech and then strong Vanderbilt handed UK its first two defeats by a total margin of 11 points.

It was at this point that the Kentuckians realized they had a fight on their hands. Obviously the SEC had come of age and was ready to turn on benefactor Rupp—generally acknowledged to have goaded loop schools into providing better places to play, recruiting better boys and giving more emphasis to the sport.

Although Kentucky lost only once more in league play during the remainder of the regular season, it had to survive every tactic in the book, from super slow down to greatly inspired play by foes, to gain its record 21st league title and entry into the NCAA.

No other team in the 31-year existence of the Southeastern Conference had ever survived a pair of opening league losses to capture the crown. Few teams in the nation could point to as good a comeback as the Rupp-led Wildcats made from a 16-9 final mark of 1963 that ranked as the worst ever in the Baron's 33-year career at Kentucky.

Nash Credited For Aiding Comeback Effort

Much of the credit for the comeback and the comeback within a comeback (the surge that followed the two opening league losses) has to go to the club's big, blond senior—three-time All-America Cotton Nash. His scoring antics established him as Kentucky's highest seasonal (615) and career (1,770) scorer of all time and cracked numerous marks put into the record by UK All-America greats of the past.

But Kentucky relied on more than just Nash as the magic formula for success. Teamwork was the keynote. Much scoring help came from All-Conference forward Ted Deeken, who notched 471 points. Not far behind was stellar sophomore Larry Conley, 6-3 sparkplug whose dazzling passing and inspiring floor play draw many raves and won him a share of team "Most Valuable Player" honors with Nash.

And a special note has to be added concerning defense. Faced with heavy odds after dropping unceremoniously from No. 1 in the nation to the completely unfamiliar cellar position in their own conference following the two early losses, Coach Rupp tossed aside a long-time principle and installed a special defense. Opening a test against a Tennessee five that ranked as one of the title favorites, Rupp lined his team up in a 1-3-1 pattern that he called a "point defense." Most everybody else identified it as a zone—one of the most abhorred words in Rupp's vocabulary over the years.

Whatever it was—"point" or "zone"—the pattern proved highly successful and is given much credit for carrying Kentucky in the last half of the season. The Wildcats, with 6-5 soph guard Tommy Kron operating effectively as the point man, lost only once during regular season using the defense. That was in the final, anti-climatic game against a St. Louis team that had too much height to cope with. In their only other late season loss—to Alabama—the 'Cats had reverted to their customary man-to-man.

High water marks in the Kentucky record start near the end and go backward. In their next to last game, the Wildcats had to put up with super slow down tactics by desperate Tennessee to clinch the SEC title on a 42-38 count. One of the most dazzling exhibitions of shooting and floorwork exhibited all season by the Wildcats came in a revenge victory in late season over title-contender Vanderbilt, 104-73, before a record 13,500 fans in Lexington. Mississippi State tried ball control but lost a tight one, 69-65. Tennessee succumbed for the first time in the season as Rupp installed the "point" defense. A clutch 15 footer in the closing seconds gave Kentucky an 81-79 win over Duke for its fifth Sugar Bowl title. Wisconsin and Wake Forest went down to defeat as UK copped its own Invitational Tournament for the seventh time. And there was the almost flawless performance that gave Kentucky a 95-63 win over Northwestern way back in December and set it rolling.

The NCAA Tournament turned out to be a nightmare as the Wildcats, one of the pre-tournament favorites, found themselves unable to cope with superior height and firepower of Ohio University and defending national champion Chicago Loyola. Still, in gaining a spot in the national title eliminations for a record 14th time, the Wildcats fared much better than many of the country's elite and will not soon be forgotten for the hustle and determination that carried them such a long way over a rough road during 1963-64.

KENTUCKY IN THE SEC

Perhaps the greatest supremacy enjoyed by any team in any sport is reflected by Kentucky's basketball success in the Southeastern Conference since 1933. Against SEC teams, UK has annexed a record of 348 victories and lost only 52—a winning average of nearly 90 per cent. They have annexed 21 league championships and own over 60 team and individual records from regular season and tournament play. Only Tennessee and Georgia Tech can boast of beating the Wildcats two in a row in the same season and only Mississippi State is added to the exclusive club when the basis is widened to consecutive wins over two or more seasons. Kentucky's record against SEC team, including non-conference games, is shown below.

	UK Won	Lost		UK Won	Lost
Alabama	39	7	Mississippi State	15	4

UK RECORD 20-GAME WINNERS

Kentucky lives up completely to its billing as the all-time champion of major college basketball with its run of 14 straight 20-victory seasons beginning in 1945, according to Boston sports authority Bill Mokray. The Wildcats were not permitted to field a team in 1953, but made up for it with a perfect record (25-0) the following season and continued their streak through 1959. Baron Adolph Rupp's warriors also achieved the magic circle with a 20-3 record in 1933 and posted a 24-3 mark in 1962. Only other major teams to boast of as many as ten straight 20-victory campaigns are North Carolina State and Western Kentucky—each showing 10-year runs.

Three tournament-wise cage powers from adjoining states, all past participants and anticipating improved seasons in 1964-65, will join with the host and defending champion Kentucky Wildcats to form the field for the 12th annual University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament to be held in 11-500 seat Memorial Coliseum this winter.

Kentucky Athletic Director Bernie A. Shively announced the visiting teams as Illinois, Dayton and West Virginia and said the dates of the nation's richest regular season tournament are Dec. 18-19. Opening night pairings will match Dayton and Illinois and the host Wildcats against the West Virginia Mountaineers.

The Mountaineers, most successful of all visitors to the UKIT with six victories in eight games and two titles, return after a one-year absence. All told, the Southern Conference powerhouse has made four appearances in the Kentucky tournament and captured top honors on its first try in 1957 and again in 1959 when it utilized the scoring punch of the great Jerry West to edge UK, 79-70. In their last appearance, the Mountaineers fell victim to revenge-minded Kentucky in a 79-75 thriller.

The 1959 match between Wildcats and Mountaineers resulted in a tournament high total attendance of 22,713 for the two nights of action and a national-record-sized dividend of $15,420.33 paid to each of the four teams as an equal share of the net proceeds.

Dayton Beat Kentucky For 1955 Title

Dayton, one of only two other visiting teams to win the UK Invitational, turned in its feat in the 1955 renewal as it bested Kentucky, 89-74. The Flyers returned the following year to defend their crown, but it was not in the books as they were turned back by Illinois and Southern Methodist.

The "Fighting Illini" also will be making a third trip to the Kentucky tournament. Coach Harry Combes' charges dropped a 91-70 title contest decision to the Wildcats on their opening visit in 1956 and four years later fell victim successively to Kentucky and California in a frustrating bid for the prestige associated with UKIT title.

The 1963 tournament, in which Baron Adolph Rupp's Wildcats annexed their seventh championship in 11 years by sweeping past Wisconsin (108-85) and Wake Forest (98-75), attracted an audience of 22,111 for the two nights of action. Each participant (Princeton was the fourth team) earned a payoff of $13,563.41.

Over the years since the UKIT's inception in 1953 as an "on campus" classic, the Kentucky tournament has attracted 23 of the top cage powers of the country to vie for an imposing trophy, record-size shares of the net proceeds and important national prestige. The prestige influence of the UKIT stems from the fact that high-calibre fields annually make up the tournament and has resulted in the winner generally making a significant jump in the national rankings. UKIT participants often have used success in the tournament as a springboard to good seasons and post-season tourney play.

The monetary dividend in past years has increased steadily in proportion, ranging from approximately $8,200 paid to each of the four teams the first year to a national record payoff of $15,420 awarded each club in 1959.

All four of this year's participating powers are anticipating good seasons.

Traditionally powerful West Virginia looks to revitalize its past success in the UK Invitational by utilizing a different pattern—depth and balanced scoring to make up for the absence of one individual standout like the great Jerry West. Coach George King reportedly is somewhat worried over the lack of proven scoring punch but Mountaineer foes in the Southern Conference, where WVU is a favorite as usual, are worried also about King's tremendous depth of experienced hands. The boys to watch are a pair of classy guards—Ricky Ray and Bobby Quertinmont.

Dayton, under the guiding hand of new Coach Mickey Donoher, checks in with a tall and talented front line guaranteed to give its UKIT foes a few sleepless nights. Anchoring the Flyers' wall is the biggest man ever to play in the tournament—six-foot-eleven-inch junior Henry Finkel. At one of the forward spots is 6-6 Henry Burlong.

Illinois boosts Big Ten chances of copping a UKIT title for the first time by confronting foes with a strong contingent that has the entire starting unit of last season back. The experts are touting veteran Coach Harry Combes' crew for a big "look-see" at the conference title. Top hands are 6-9 center Skip Thoren and guard Tal Brody.

Kentucky Coach Rupp may be hard pressed to brighten his 35th year at the Wildcat helm with the UKIT hardware. Better than 50 percent of his scoring punch and rebounding strength departed with All-America Cotton Nash and All-SEC Ted Deeken. Key man to solve the height problem is 6-6 John Adams, a sparsely-used reserve center. Three starters return, headed by "Mr. Everything" Larry Conley at forward.

GREATEST TEAM, PLAYER, THRILL?

Adolph Rupp's illustrious career as headmaster at Kentucky for more than three decades is certainly filled with a lot of memories for him and he's willing to share many of them with anyone who'll listen. But there are lines he will not cross, such as:

Greatest team?—Rupp points to four national champion outfits and an undefeated team that probably could have taken the national title if it had tried. Listeners get the impression that he would narrow the choice down to two—the "Fabulous Five" Olympic champions of '48 and the possibly even greater 1954 crew that went undefeated in 25 games to become the best perfect-record unit up to that time.

Greatest player?—Rupp steadfastly refuses to discuss personalities. "I'd just make one boy happy and hurt the feelings of a lot of other great ones that have played for me."

Greatest thrill?—"That's hard to say, but I guess three of my greatest were winning the '48 Olympics with my boys, going undefeated in '54 and getting that NCAA national championship trophy in 1958 with an unheralded bunch they called the 'Talentless Wonders'."

BACKGROUND BRIEFS

(Player Sketches Alphabetically Arranged)

JOHN ADAMS (No. 45)

6-6¼ Senior Center

Rising Sun, Ind. (5/15/43)

A seldom-used reserve in his first two varsity campaigns, Adams suddenly has vaulted into the limelight . . . This season, he is Wildcats' key man—the "big guy" who is being counted on to handle the all-important pivot chores . . . Pressure is on him to take up scoring and rebounding slack created by graduation of All-America Cotton Nash and All-Conference Ted Deeken, who between them accounted for 50 percent of Kentucky's offense last year . . . John has an awfully long way to come from virtual obscurity . . . Saw action in only 6 games (total playing time 80:15) a year ago and scored just 31 points and posted a meager, 1.7 rebound average . . . However, the Hoosier native significantly looked good in NCAA Tourney play concluding the '64 season (scoring his season high of nine points against Chicago Loyola) and has showed up very well in pre-season scrimmages this year to become the squad's leading scorer . . . One of just six returning lettermen and tallest prospective regular . . . Coach Rupp makes no secret of worries that Adams will be little shy in height department against 6-9 to seven-foot giants who will be opposing him but believes John has gained the confidence to get the job done as other "small" Wildcat pivotmen of the past have done . . . One smaller UK center in recent seasons was 6-4 Cliff Hagan, who helped his 1954 mates achieve an undefeated season, and Nash last year stood only 6-5 while leading the club in both rebounding and scoring . . . Adams proved unimpressive as he opened Kentucky's first two games last year, scoring only eight points, and had not notched a single point in last 12 games before national tournament play . . . However, he came to life in the final game with Loyola to produce nine markers in a little over eight minutes of action and, coupled with pre-season practice showing this year, lends encouragement to belief he will come through with confidence gained from regular duty . . . Adams is aggressive and, at 215 pounds, a hard man to move out under the basket . . . His best shot is an easy hook from the circle area . . . The Hoosier hot shot, who hails from a small community in Indiana 25 miles down the Ohio River from his Cincinnati birthplace, started five games as a soph and produced 46 points in 16 games . . . As a freshman, he was brilliant in netting 299 points and 242 rebounds in 18 games . . . John was mysteriously overlooked in schoolboy All-State balloting despite a 21-point senior average and a one-game record 46 point effort.

BRAD BOUNDS (No. 44)

6-5½ Sophomore Center
Bluffton, Ind. (4/18/45)

A possible "darkhorse" in the varsity cage picture for 1964-65, Bounds could surprise with an important contribution if he makes rapid progress in early season . . . He has good, rugged size at 6-5½ and 205 to make his presence felt at either center or forward . . . Lacks experience that is gained from game action as he missed duty in final seven games as a yearling last season due to academic difficulties . . . Bounds' play in the first half of the freshman season (9 games) lent an indication of fine potential as he pitched in 141 points for a promising 15.6 average and added 83 rebounds . . . Scored high of 27 against IBM . . . One of five Hoosiers on varsity Brad led all Indiana prep scorers in average as he registered points at a 28.4 clip two years back . . . Although born in Detroit, he played all high school ball at Bluffton, near Ft. Wayne . . . He garnered All-State honors, was All-Conference three years and set many school and league records as he produced career total of 1,666 points . . . Also All-Conference first baseman in baseball . . . Studying in College of Education with intentions of entering coaching profession following graduation.

'THAT WAS NO ZONE DEFENSE!'—RUPP

Always ready with a colorful quip for doting members of the press-radio-TV corps, Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp sent his listeners rushing to their dictionaries last season when he came up with a colorful description of a new defense installed in early season. Sportswriters who witnessed the special 1-3-1 point defense for the first time against Tennessee in January were inclined to refer to it as a "zone." But Baron Rupp, to whom the term "zone defense" had long been one of the most abhorred in his vocabulary and a pattern never used by his Wildcats, cagily denied this. "We never have used the zone at Kentucky and never intend to," he declared with tongue in cheek. "That was no zone. It was simply a stratified, transitional, hyperbolic paraboloid." STHP or zone, whatever you called it, it carried the UKats to a successful quest of the conference title and an NCAA berth. They lost only once in regular season play using the special defense—that coming in the final game with St. Louis. In an earlier upset at the hands of Alabama, the UK defense had reverted to the familiar "Man-for-Man."

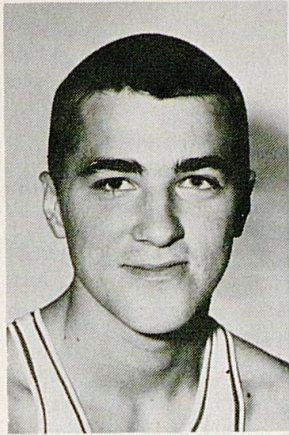

LARRY CONLEY (No. 40)

6-3¼ Junior Forward

Ashland, Ky. (1/22/44)

One of the less-recognized stars of Kentucky's amazing campaign of 1963-64, flashy and nifty Larry Conley returns with the value of experience to make a strong bid to become the latest in a proud line of Wildcat All-Americans . . . Twenty-two UK players have been so honored and few had more brilliant break-in years as credentials . . . Conley had to take a back seat as a sophomore last season to proven standouts Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken—as far as mere point-making was concerned . . . Yet, many of the markers credited to the star duo could be directly attributed to Conley who put a school record 112 assists into the books . . . While he ranked behind Nash and Deeken in both scoring (12.2) and rebounding (162), Conley did not fail to gain recognition in his own right for his tremendous contributions . . . Among his honors were a share with Nash of team "Most Valuable Player" honor, selection on the All-Conference Sophomore team, third unit All-Southeastern picks, and only soph gaining the All-Tournament team in the UK Invitational . . . In addition, he was chosen on the second team Academic All-America (quite a comeback from scholastic ineligibility in second semester of freshman year to a "B" average in pre-dental work), and was recipient of the A. B. Chandler trophy and Kiwanis' 110 Percenter Award . . . Although he lacked stamina (only two complete games), Conley last year gave everything he had while in the game and that was considerable . . . Possessor of quick hands and daring, he has proved himself a "take charge" guy who does everything well . . . He constantly worries his man on both offense and defense and stands out particularly as a skillful passer—probably the best since Cliff Barker of the "Fabulous Five" . . . Started 25 of the Wildcats' 27 games last season after latching onto a regular forward berth in the third game . . . His total action time 876:36 and high point game 20 versus Florida . . . Most accurate shot from field at 49.3% and great floor leader . . . Coach Rupp, illustrating confidence in the all-around ability of Conley, is thinking of utilizing him as an offensive center if Adams fails to come through . . . Dubbed along with teammate Tommy Kron as a "Katzenjammer Kid" due to talkative, mischeivous, unpredictable attitude . . . Conley was schoolboy All-America during outstanding career at Ashland (Ky.) High, leading Tomcats to state title in 1961 . . . He's son of SEC cage official George Conley.

LOUIE DAMPIER (No. 10)

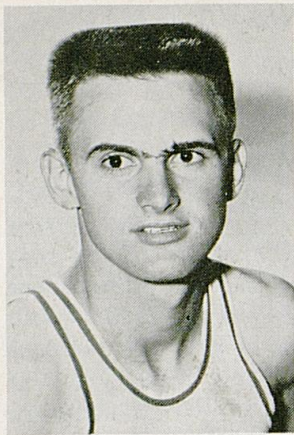

6-0 Sophomore Guard

Indianapolis, Ind. (11/20/44)

One of the most promising guard prospects at Kentucky in recent years, Louie Dampier turned in a tremendous freshman collegiate campaign which saw him pace all Kitten scorers with a 26.7 average through 16 games of the season . . . Logged 427 points to stand second in first-year point production only to Cotton Nash—who had 49 more points in two more games . . . Dampier proved the most accurate freshman shooter as he connected at a 52% clip from the field and set a yearling record for field goals made with 168 . . . Won Jaycees Freshman Leadership Award . . .

High point man in 10 games with top of 36 . . . Never failed to score in double figures . . . Hit in 30 range six times and 25 or over 11 times . . . Low game was 17 points . . . Pre-season scrimmage performances this year give indication he's ready to battle for starting job . . . Slowed by bout with virus . . . Everybody's All-State during sensational career at Southport High in Indianapolis, Ind. . . . Considered one of top schoolboy aces in country at time he picked Kentucky as site of collegiate play . . . The likeable Hoosier, one of five from the State of Indiana on UK's 1964-65 varsity, set numerous records during high school play as he netted three-season career total of 1,057 points . . . In his final season at Southport High, Dampier led the state in total points with 673 . . . Surprisingly, in view of his lack of exceptional size, he also paced his high school team in rebounding and stood fourth in this vital department of play in the entire City of Indianapolis . . . Served as president of his senior class and is classed as a good student . . . Joins with teammates Brad Bounds and Gene Stewart in providing the UK 1965 varsity with the top scoring punch of Hoosier-land for two years back . . . While Dampier led in senior year total points, Bounds was the top hand in point average at 28.4 and Stewart was credited with the three-year career high in excess of 1,000 points . . . Lacking only experience and size, Dampier will be a hard man to keep on the bench and almost certainly will make an important contribution this season.

RANDY EMBRY (No. 11)

5-11 Senior Guard

Owensboro, Ky. (8/9/43)

Favored by two years of valuable duty in the thoroughbred stable of Colonel Adolph Rupp, native Kentuckian Randy Embry looms as ready to make an even greater contribution to the UK effort as he enters his final campaign . . . Once again he is the smallest man on the varsity roster at a mere five feet and eleven inches but being a "throw back" to the era of small guards fails to worry "Little Man" Embry . . . He's coped with it successfully for two years in a Kentucky uniform and is typical of small guards like Ralph Beard, Adrian Smith and Bobby Watson who have been vital cogs in great UK fives of the past . . . Boasts an extremely accurate—and rare for this day—two-hand set shot from long ranges that has helped his team manage points over tight zone defenses on key occasions . . . Also hits well on one-hand jumper from shorter ranges . . . Embry demonstrated his value to the team effort on numerous occasions last season to post 174 points and a 7.2 average that was fifth best on the team . . . His high game came on a 20-point performance against Tulane . . . He was a starter in 13 of the Wildcats' first 14 games of the 1963-64 campaign and then surrendered the starting role to 6-5 Tommy Kron as Rupp swatched to the now-famous 1-3-1 "point press" defense . . . Logged total action time of 521:12 in 24 of the 27 games played by the 'Cats . . . His field goal accuracy mark of 47 percent ranked as second most accurate on the team last year and pre-season practice reports indicate Embry is likely to improve the standard . . . Tentative plans call for him to appear in a starting role again if he can hold off the challenge of returning regulars Kron and Mobley plus soph whiz Dampier . . . Embry twice was All-State and mentioned on the prep All-America during a brilliant schoolboy career at Owensboro, where he was tutored by Bobby Watson, captain of the 1962 UK team that ranked as defending national champions . . . Slowed in development by broken ankle as a freshman . . . Became a starter in 20th game as sophomore . . . Plays third base on the baseball team.

RONNIE KENNETT (No. 50)

6-0 Senior Guard

Lawrenceburg, Ind. (9/11/42)

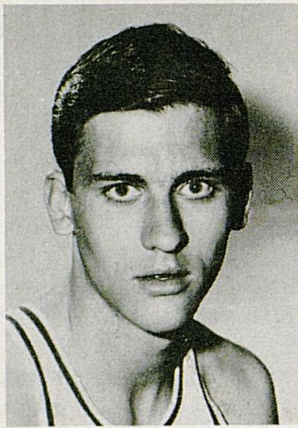

One of only four seniors and six returning letter winners on this season's varsity, Ronnie Kennett will be counted on for leadership and to provide a steadying influence . . . With two seasons of experience in a relief role behind him, the Hoosier product (one of four on squad this year) could blossom into a more dependable hand if he makes the normal improvement expected . . . Managed to see only 11:37 action time in five games last season . . . Wound up as the team's No. 11 scorer with only five points . . . High came against Tulane with four . . . Kennett is a "small-type" guard but blessed with fine speed, good hustle and excellent footwork that lets him move as well as any of the Wildcats . . . While a schoolboy at Lawrenceburg he was regarded as one of the outstanding playmakers in Indiana . . . Fifth in scoring as a UK freshman with an 8.6 average . . . Fell off to just two points during brief action in four games as a sophomore . . . He's a standout infielder on the baseball team in the off season.

WHO WERE THE 'FABULOUS FIVE'?

The most frequently asked question tossed at basketball historians and sports authorities is "Who were the 'Fabulous Five' of Kentucky?" The answer is Alex Groza (center), Ralph Beard and Kenny Rollins (guards), Wah Wah Jones and Cliff Barker (forwards). This famous 1948 team, captained by Rollins, won 36 and lost 3 while sweeping to Kentucky's first NCAA title and went on to participate as a unit in the Olympic Games—helping the USA team capture the world championship. Rollins graduated after the '48 season, but the remaining foursome continued to play havoc with collegiate basketball and copped another NCAA title for Kentucky in 1949 on a record of 36-2. Members of these two teams later gained fame in the pro ranks as they formed a unit known as the Indianapolis Olympians. And, along with contemporary Wildcats Adrian Smith and Billy Evans, they give UK and Coach Rupp a unique standing of seven Olympic gold medal winners.

TOMMY KRON (No. 30)

6-5½ Junior Guard

Owensboro, Ky. (2/28/44)

Gained his fame last season as the "point" man in Coach Adolph Rupp's specially-concocted, 1-3-1 defensive alignment that carried the Wildcats to the SEC title . . . Kron was ideally suited for assignment with exceptionally quick reactions and unusual height (6-5½) for a guard . . . Although highly-regarded at the start of his sophomore campaign last year on the basis of his schoolboy fame at Tell City (Ind.) High and his performance as runner-up in UK freshman scoring, Kron encountered early difficulties in making the grade as a varsity man due to ineffective scoring . . .

He seemed destined to be relegated to the bench until he blossomed into a defensive star in the Sugar Bowl Tournament finals against Duke . . . With Kentucky having difficulty as the result of terrific outside shooting (24 points) of Duke's great Jeff Mullins, Rupp played a hunch and inserted Kron . . . He proceeded to shut off Mullins with just one more field goal in the last 13½ minutes to enable UK to win . . . Kron picked up starting job again when Rupp installed the "point" defense five games later against Tennessee . . . Started in place of Randy Embry in 12 of last 13 games . . . Logged a season total of 438:45 in all 27 games . . . He was the star of Kentucky's final league game of the year at Knoxville in the surprise role of an offensive standout who led all scorers with 17 points (his season high) and broke up the Tennessee Vols' super stall to clinch a 21st SEC title for the Ruppmen . . . The "pro-type" guard still wound up no better than sixth in scoring (138 points and a 5.1 average) to point up an inconsistency that he must correct in order to retain his spot in the regular duty lineup this winter . . . Finished one notch higher in rebounding with 92 to his credit . . . Won the Adolph F. Rupp Trophy as the team's most accurate free throw shooter with an 82.3% mark (28 of 34) . . . Has demonstrated in pre-season drills that has not lost defensive touch and quite likely will be a more consistent scorer . . . Rupp is toyinug with plan to use Kront at defensive center in the event Adams does not come around . . . Native of Tell City, Ind., where took all 12 years of schooling, but now calls Owensboro, Ky., home.

LARRY LENTZ (No. 54)

6-8 Junior Center

Lakeview, Ohio (8/22/44)

At a towering, six-foot and eight inches, Larry Lentz is the tallest man in the Adolph Rupp stable of cage thoroughbreds . . . The rangy Buckeye State product has not yet rounded into the form anticipated for him and failed to win a varsity letter last season in his break-in campaign . . . Appeared in only one game—against Baylor in early season—and failed to score in that one . . . Credited with one rebound . . . Performance disappointing after good showing as UK yearling when he netted 111 points in 17 games and was improving fast at season's end . . . The young giant reminds many observers in some ways of ex-UK All-America center Bill Spivey at a similar stage and all are hopeful Lentz will come around this year . . . His height would be a welcome asset to the height-poor 'Cats . . . Larry operated as an outstanding pivotman for Indian Lake High in nearby Lewistown, Ohio, averaging 22 points and 14 rebounds a game . . . Gained only honorable mention All-State.

COTTON NASH COLLEGIATE RECORD

One of the individuals whose presence will be sorely missed as the Wildcats take the floor this season is Charles (Cotton) Nash. During his remarkable career at Kentucky, the 6-5 blond bomber contributed an all-time career high 1,770 varsity points and established a host of school scoring records. He twice (1962 and 1964) paced the Southeastern Conference in scoring, was league "Player of the Year" twice and chosen All-SEC each year. Nash added to his laurels by becoming an almost-unique three-time All-America pick on major selections and attaining the runner-up spot after his final campaign in voting for national "Player of the Year."

TERRY MOBLEY (No. 25)

6-2½ Senior Guard

Harrodsburg, Ky. (12/9/43)

Coached in high school at nearby Harrodsburg by a former Kentucky All-America cager, Terry Mobley came to the Wildcats well-grounded in the Rupp style of basketball combat . . . The tutor was Forest (Aggie) Sale, twice nationally honored in the early days of Rupp's coaching era . . . All Mobley's preparation and collegiate experience are expected to boost him to high prominence this season despite a near-tragic accident in pre-season . . . Terry suffered a fingernail cut to his eye during a pre-practice conditioning workout and a delicate operation was necessitated to repair a torn tear duct . . . Recovery cost him about two weeks in early drills and put him temporarily behind teammates in the race for starting berth at guard . . . He was a regular starter during the Wildcats' successful quest of the SEC title a year ago, opening 25 of the 27 games and turning in an action time accounting of 837:41 in all 27 encounters . . . Fourth highest scorer on club last season with 255 points and a 9.4 average . . . Posted a high game of 21 points against North Carolina and again in the final bout with Chicago Loyola . . . Best remembered for one shot—a short jumper with only four seconds remaining that broke a deadlock and gave Kentucky the Sugar Bowl title at the expense of the strong Duke Blue Devils . . . With the eye healing nicely, Mobley is regaining confidence and willingness to mix it up in an all-out battle with Tommy Kron, Randy Embry and Louie Dampier for starting duty . . . There's no evidence that he will be "gun shy" . . . Got UK career underway in flashy fashion in 1961-62 as a 10-game starter for the freshmen and an 11.8 average scorer . . . Slacked off to a mere 4.8 pace as a sophomore, although the scoring mark failed to reflect completely the generally fine play of the Harrodsburg ace as attested by fact he became starter as junior . . . Terry impresses particularly with his poise under pressure, his drive at the basket and ability to get open underneath for easy shots . . . He's quick, alert, fine ball handler and an accurate shot at close to medium ranges . . . All-State in high school where he was 23-point average scorer as senior.

PAT RILEY (No. 42)

6-3½ Sophomore Forward
Schenectady, N. Y. (3/20/45)

Classed as a top-drawer prospect high on the "most wanted" list of almost every major school in the country at the time of his graduation from Linton High in Schenectady, Pat Riley lived up to every inch of his reputation as a Kentucky yearling last season . . . From a regular forward position, he put in points at a 20.8 clip for 16 games played by the UK frosh against other first-year opponents, independent clubs and "B" team aggregations . . . In addition, he topped the team in rebounding with 235 for a 14.7 average and had a remarkable, one-game high of 30 . . . Although he finished second to guard Louie Dampier in scoring, mainly because of fewer good opportunities, Riley's point production was impressive—hitting in the 20-point range 10 times and bracketing 25 or more on four occasions . . . He scored in double figures every time out, continuing a high school record of 34 consecutive "doubles" . . . High point efforts came in late season after Riley had shifted to the pivot position for last seven games to replace scholastically ineligible teammate Brad Bounds . . . Netted 29 against both Cowden's, an independent outfit, and Vanderbilt's Baby Commodores . . . During an outstanding, three-year career at Schenectady's Linton High, the sturdily-built Riley alternated between guard, center and forward and scored an even 1,000 points . . . In his final schoolboy season of 1962-63, he connected at a terrific, 29.5 clip and went over 40 in each of the final four games . . . Riley's coveted 1,000-point total was four shy of the record set at the same school by Barry Kramer, NYU All-American who was the nation's No. 2 point producer in 1963 . . . But Riley achieved his mark in 10 less games than it took Kramer to amass 1,004 . . . An all-around sports star, Riley also attained All-America recognition as a football quarterback (he passed up numerous grid offers) and played baseball and track . . . He is the son of former minor league baseball manager Lee Riley, Sr., and a brother of New York Titans' defensive halfback Lee, Jr. . . . Personally signed by Coach Rupp to whom Riley confided that he had "always wanted to come to Kentucky to play basketball since I was a young kid." . . . He remembered seeing and hearing about the great UK teams of the early fifties who visited New York and the East . . . Figures prominently in UK cage picture this season, but inexperience and competition likely will keep him from starting duty early.

GENE STEWART (No. 22)

6-2 Sophomore Forward
 Brookville, Ind. (7/31/45)

Overshadowed during his collegiate break-in campaign last year by the highly-publicized play of teammates Pat Riley and Louie Dampier, the likeable Hoosier played his game "close to the vest" . . . Made very few mistakes and wound up as the fourth highest point producer of the Kit-tens with 188 points and an 11.8 average through 16 games . . . Served as a starting forward in every game and wound up right behind Riley in the No. 2 rebounder spot with 142 despite handicap of lacking what is generally considered acceptable size in a collegiate forward . . . One of four sophs to graduate to varsity, Stewart had a high point effort last season of 25 against the Xavier freshmen . . . Playing four seasons of basketball at Brookville, a small Indiana community 35 miles northwest of Cincinnati, Stewart was a leading scorer in his final three campaigns as he produced over 1,000 points . . . He averaged over 20 points a game during the '63 season and paced his club in rebounding and assists . . . An All-Indiana selection and holds distinction of being team captain in four sports as a senior.

FRANK TULLY (No. 12)

6-3 Junior Forward
 Riverside, Ill. (4/19/44)

Medium-sized, unheralded and determined to make the grade as a basketball player at a major school, Frank Tully reported to the Wildcats on his own this season . . . Graduate of Westminster Military Academy, a junior college located at Lexington, Missouri . . . Not on scholarship yet but a helpful showing this season could earn him one in his final campaign next year . . . Playe his schoolboy basketball at Morton West High school in Berwyn, Ill., from 1958-62 . . . Guard and forward as schoolboy, center in junior college and likely to see some action at forward at UK . . . Frank, who follows in footsteps of seven other junior college transfers to Kentucky, averaged 27.2 points a game as a freshman at Westminster and netted markers at a 24.6 clip last season . . . Plans to enter Law School at UK following completion of his undergraduate studies.

SCHOLARSHIP FRESHMEN

CLIFF BERGER (No. 10)—6-8½ Center—Centralia, Ill. (9/25/46)—Boasting unanimous All-State honors and top mention on the prep All-America, Cliff Berger was one of the most highly-sought young giants in the country last June . . . Impressive credentials compiled at Centralia Township High included leading scorer rank and top defensive player reputation on team that was one of four finalists in the Illinois State Tournament the past three years . . . Centralia Orphans lost only two games in each of Berger's last two seasons . . . Runner-up for state crown in '63 on 32-2 record and quarter-finalist in '64 after eliminating No. 1 team of regular season play . . . Berger in 1964 personally accounted for 796 points and 26.5 average while shooting at 59.6% clip and adding rebounds at 14 average . . . Already giving UK varsity trouble in scrimmage, he's being roomed to give 1966 varsity firepower and become its biggest regular pivotman since 6-9 Ned Jennings in 1960-61 . . . Berger is a history major but following a course in preparation for post-graduate dental education.

STEVE CLEVINGER (No. 32)—6-0 Guard—Anderson, Ind. (7/29/46)—Another "hot shot" lured out of Hoosier-land to the Blue Grass, Steve Clevenger at Kentucky joins with the cream of Indiana cage prospects of recent seasons . . . All told, five Hoosiers hold down key positions on the UK varsity—senior John Adams of Rising Sun, senior Ron Kennett of Lawrenceburg, sophomore Louie Dampier of Indianapolis, soph Gene Stewart of Brookville and soph Brad Bounds of Bluffton . . . Clevenger brings to the Wildcat camp an outstanding schoolboy reputation . . . The Anderson High standout was All-State in his native state three straight years . . . He was the choice of coaches throughout Indiana for the coveted title of "Mr. Basketball" for 1964 . . . And he participated in the Kentucky-Indiana All-Star series, playing against now-teammates Tommy Porter and Jim LeMaster . . . Personally poured in 1,298 points for his Anderson team in three seasons . . . Showed an 18.0 average accounting as the Indians were posting a 22-4 season in tough competition during 1963-64 . . . Also played two years of baseball . . . Majoring in the College of Education.

GARY GAMBLE (No. 54)—6-4½ Forward—Earlington, Ky. (3/28/46)—Hailing from Earlington in the western section of the State of Kentucky that has produced outstanding cage talent for the Wildcats in past years, Gary Gamble is a promising—though unknown quantity . . . He is blessed with above-average size and impressed Kentucky scouts with his hustle and potential for improvement to high collegiate standards . . . Classed as a smart player with that innate savvy that should allow him to do a creditable job for the Wildcats once he gains maturity . . . Highest schoolboy honor attained was honorable mention on the All-State team of last season . . . He materially aided the Earlington High Yellow Jackets in pursuit of the best record in school history last season as they posted a mark of 25 wins in 30 outings . . . The team annexed the second region championship two years back . . . Picked up five schoolboy letters in baseball . . . Gamble is an excellent student planning to follow a vocation in industrial management . . . He's enrolled in Commerce College.

THAD JARACZ (No. 44)—6-5 Forward—Lexington, Ky. (12/15/46)—A product of one of the state's proudest schools of basketball heritage, Lafayette High in the University City of Lexington, Thad Jaracz has the physical equipment and talent potential to bring further glory to Lafayette and UK . . . The same school in recent years has produced such standouts as Kentucky's Vernon Hatton (All-American guard on the '58 National Champions team) and Billy Ray Lickert (three-time All-Southeastern Conference guard-forward) plus Duke's super star Jeff Mullins . . . Jaracz's father played football at the University in 1941-42 . . . The family name is pronounced Jair-as . . . Thad never quite achieved the scoring feats of his illustrious predecessors but Coach Rupp is confident the youth will blossom into equally as dependable a collegiate performer as the many other Lafayette stars who have become standouts under his tutelage in past years . . . Jaracz also starred for the Lafayette Generals as a baseball pitcher . . . He excells as a guitar player and likes country music . . . Favorite subject is history and he's studying an Arts and Sciences curriculum.

JIM LeMASTER (No. 12)—6-2 Guard—Paris, Ky. (8/12/46)—Hailing from the same hometown as Kentucky's first cage All-America honoree (Basil Haydon '21), Jim LeMaster is being touted as blessed with the potential to gain the recognition in his own right before his collegiate career is concluded . . . The sturdily-built (6-2 and 190) Bourbon County High School ace has shown up particularly well in pre-season scrimmages against the varsity as the "take charge" type on whom winning teams are built . . . Classed as a fine passer, very good defensive player, soundly based in fundamentals and an accurate shooter (43% in high school play) . . . As a 24.0 per game scorer and leader of the Bourbon County Colonels, LeMaster helped his team gain the state tournament in his final season and attained personal honors as a unanimous All-State selection . . . Played in the Kentucky-Indiana All-Star series last summer with Tommy Porter and against Steve Clevenger—both of whom are now his teammates on the 1965 Kitten squad . . . Does a surprisingly good job of rebounding, at which he led his high school club . . . The straight "A" student is preparing for post-graduate law studies . . . Posted 1,661 points in schoolboy career . . . All-America honorable mention . . . Added 12 letters in football, track and baseball to cage collection . . . Father in manager of Spendthrift, a horse farm near Lexington.

TOMMY PORTER (No. 25)—6-3 Forward-Guard—Gracey, Ky. (10/17/45)—Boasts the unusual (for an athlete) distinction of being named as Kentucky's Star Farmer of 1964 . . . Honor given by state Future Farmers of America Chapter and Porter chosen from list of 385 candidates for the highest degree given by the organization . . . Consideration given to candidate's supervised farming programs, leadership, and activities in FFA, school and community . . . Tommy and his parents live on 315-acre Christian County farm . . . He is past president and director of Kentucky Junior Hereford Association . . . Coach Rupp is long time president of the Kentucky Hereford Association . . . Operating as a center and forward for Christian County High, Porter notched 1,212 career points in three years of cage play and led his team in his final season a year ago with a 17.5 average point production and 15 rebounds a game . . . First team All-State choice . . . Played in Kentucky-Indiana All-Star series with Jim LeMaster (Kentucky) and Steve Clevenger (Indiana)—both now teammates on freshman squad . . . Mentioned on some prep All-America units . . . Porter, a "B" student, plans to become an orthodontist and is pursuing a pre-dental course of study . . . Favorite subjects are Zoology and Russian.

BOB TALLENT (No. 24)—6-1 Guard—Langley, Ky. (4/26/46)—One of the State of Kentucky's most prolific scorers since "King Kelly" Coleman was ruling the schoolboy hardwood in the mid fifties, Bob Tallent gives the Wildcats a terrific point potential ready for development . . . He dueled all season long last winter for the state scoring leadership with junior Rich Hendrick of Bristow before finally settling for second place . . . Wound up with 891 points in 22 games during 1963-64 campaign for fabulous 40.5 average . . . Hit with 45 percent accuracy from the field and averaged hauling down 16 rebounds a game . . . High point effort came against Betsy Lane High as he garnered 51 . . . Made steady improvement throughout his high school career—average 10.1 as freshman, 22.8 as sophomore and 28.9 as junior prior to 40.5 senior season . . . Career total for four years amounted to 2,337 . . . Nine of Tallent's teammates at Maytown High last season were freshmen or sophomores . . . Classed as good outside shot and moves well . . . Torn cartilage in knee caused him to miss Kentucky-Indiana All-Star series . . . Underwent surgery and has recuperated nicely . . . First unit All-State selection and third team on prep All-America named by Parade magazine . . . Straight "A" student and valedictorian of graduating class . . . Excellent baseball player . . . Pitched three summers in American Legion ball in Miami.

SCHEDULE DETAILS

1st Game—IOWA at Lexington—Friday, Dec. 4

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500)	Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Hawkeyes	Colors—Gold and Black
Location—Iowa City, Ia.	Enrollment—13,300 (est.)
Publicist—Eric Wilson	Conference—Big Ten
Athletic Director—Forest Evashevski	Series—UK Won 1, IU Won 1
1963-64 Record—Won 8, Lost 15 (Conf. finish—9th)	Last Game—UK 94, IU 68 in '62 UKIT

COACH—Ralph Miller (First Year at Iowa)

Offense—Fast break, quick hitting, some control	Defense—Man for man pressing plus some zone
Chief Losses—Dave Roach (F) 15.9, Andy Hankins (G) 6.9
Top Returnees—Capt. Jimmy Rodgers (6-3 G) 12.9, George Peebles (6-8 C) 9.4, Joel Jessen (6-7 F) 6.3

OUTLOOK: Operating under a new coach, Ralph Miller, formerly of Wichita, Iowa is rebuilding. Thirteen squad members from last season are back but the freshman squad was regarded as quite average. Miller is installing a new style of basketball, emphasizing running and a half or full court pressing defense. Miller believes that the returning veterans are capable of better play than they showed in Iowa's 8-15 season last year. Leading scorer Dave Roach departed but the Hawkeyes still can count on the services of most valuable player and No. 2 scorer, guard Jimmy Rodgers.

2nd Game—NORTH CAROLINA at Charlotte, N. C.—Monday, Dec. 7

Site—Coliseum (13,500)	Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Tar Heels	Colors—Blue and White
Location—Chapel Hill, N. C.	Enrollment—11,000
Publicist—Bob Quincy	Conference—Atlantic Coast
Athletic Director—C. P. (Chuck) Erickson	Series—UK Won 4, NC Won 4
1963-64 Record—Won 12, Lost 12 (Conf. finish—5th)	Last Game—UK 100, NC 80 in 1963

COACH—Dean Smith (4 Years at NC—Won 35, Lost 27)

Offense—Shuffle	Defense—Man-to-Man and Zone
Chief Losses—Charlie Shaffer (G) 12.3, Mike Cooke (G) 11.1, Bryan McSweeney (F) 5.5
Top Returnees—Billy Cunningham (6-5 F) 26.0, Ray Respass (6-4 F) 13.2, Bill Galantai (6-5 F) 3.9, Bob Bennett (6-8 F) 4.0

OUTLOOK: Kentucky soundly trounced the Tar Heels in Lexington last season, but this year could be a different story. Carolina is anticipating a vastly improved team with the help of frosh team graduate Bobby Lewis. Super star Billy Cunningham, 6-5 jumping jack, is counted on to continue giving opponent defenders much trouble. He averaged 26 points a game last season while sensational newcomer Lewis cracked the nets at a 37 ppg clip for the Baby Tar Heels. This hard-to-beat combination could propel Coach Dean Smith's crew to an Atlantic Coast Conference title and high national honors.

3rd Game—IOWA STATE at Lexington—Wednesday, Dec. 9

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500)	Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Cyclones	Colors—Cardinal and Gold
Location—Ames, Iowa	Enrollment—12,600
Publicist—Harry G. Burrell	Conference—Big Eight
Athletic Director—Gordon Chalmers	Series—First Meeting
1963-64 Record—Won 10, Lost 16 (Conf. finish—6th)	Last Game—None Played

COACH—Glendon Anderson (5 Years at IS—Won 66, Lost 59)

Offense—Single Post, Deliberate	Defense—Man for Man
Chief Losses—Rich Froistad (C) 10.2, Steve Harmon (F) 9.2, Tom Peterson (F) 8.2
Top Returnees—Bob Ziegler (G) 9.4, Bob Vander Wilt (G) 6.2

OUTLOOK: Heavy losses from the troubled (16 losses in 26 games) team of last season confront Iowa State tutor Glen Anderson with a foundation-up rebuilding task. The Cyclones still are counting on being a contender in the Big Eight Conference. Featuring good shooting and expert ball handling, the 1965 unit will be molded around returning No. 2 scorer Bob Ziegler, a 6-2 guard, and his able running mate, Bob Vander Wilt (6-1). Height will be lacking but shooting accuracy should offset this disadvantage.

4th Game—SYRACUSE at Lexington—Saturday, Dec. 12

Site—Memorial Coliseum (11,500)	Tipoff—8:00 p.m. EST
Nickname—Orangemen	Colors—Orange
Location—Syracuse, N. Y.	Enrollment—13,800
Publicist—Val Pinchbeck, Jr.	Conference—Independent
Athletic Director—James H. Decker	Series—UK Won 1, SU Won 0
1963-64 Record—Won 17, Lost 8	Last Game—UK 69, SU 59 in '50 Sugar Bowl

COACH—Fred Lewis (2 Years at SU—Won 25, Lost 21)

Offense—Free Lance and Patterns	Defense—Man-to-Man, Zone (multiple)
Chief Losses—None
Top Returnees—Dave Bing (G) 22.2, Chuck Richards (C) 20.0

OUTLOOK: On the upswing under Coach Fred Lewis, who starts his third year with the Orangemen, Syracuse is being touted as the best outfit in the East and a contender for high national ranking. All of the top hands return from the squad that a year ago posted a 17-8 record and earned a berth in the NIT. Moreover, Lewis admits to the prospect of added strength in an outstanding crop of rookies. Biggest ace in the deck, however, appears to be 6-3 junior Dave Bing, a bona-fide All-America candidate compared to the great Bob Cousy.

U.K. INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT Friday and Saturday, December 18-19

DAYTON

(Meets Illinois Opening Night)

Nickname—Flyers	Colors—Columbia Blue & Cardinal Red
Location—Dayton, Ohio	Enrollment—7,200
Publicist—Joe McLaughlin	Conference—Independent
Athletic Director—Tom Frericks	Series—UK Won 1, UD Won 1
1963-64 Record—Won 15, Lost 10	Last Game—UD 89, UK 74 in '55 UKIT
UKIT Record—Won 2, Lost 2 in Two Appearances (Champions 1955)

COACH—Donald Donoher (First Year As Head Coach)

Offense—Single Pivot	Defense—Man-for-Man
Chief Losses—Chuck Izor (G) 11.6; Gordon Hatton (G) 11.3
Top Returnees—Henry Finkel (6-11 C) 23.2; Henry Burlong (6-6 F) 14.8; Bob Sullivan (6-3 F) 10.1

OUTLOOK: A towering and talented front line is available to new Dayton cage mentor Donald Donoher as he guides the Flyers in their third UKIT appearance. Anchoring the promising club at the pivot position is veteran Henry Finkel, at 6-11 the tallest operative in the tournament. Although Coach Donoher worries over his defense, he admits to prospects of a strong offensive potential. Captain Bob Sullivan, 6-3 and a double figure scorer, has two years of experience to help Dayton in its bid for a second UKIT title. Forward running mate Henry Burlong has even better height (6-6) and point ability (14.8).

ILLINOIS

(Meets Dayton Opening Night)

Nickname—Fighting Illini	Colors—Orange and Blue
Location—Champaign, Ill.	Enrollment—27,000
Publicist—Charles Belatti	Conference—Big Ten
Athletic Director—Douglas R. Mills	Series—UK Won 7, UI Won 2
1963-64 Record—Won 13, Lost 11 (Conf. finish—6th Tie)	Last Game—UK 83, UI 78 in '60 UKIT

UKIT Record—Won 1, Lost 3 in Two Appearances

COACH—Harry Combes (17 Years at UI—Won 274, Lost 120)

Offense—Modified Fast Break	Defense—Man-to-Man
Chief Losses—Bill Edwards (G) 4.4
Top Returnees—Skip Thoren (6-8½ C) 20.3; Tal Brody (6-2 G) 16.9; Don Freeman (6-2 F) 14.2; Bogie Redmon (6-5½ F-C) 9.6; Bill McKeown (6-2 G) 7.3

OUTLOOK: Illinois finished sixth in the tough Big Ten last year with a young ball club and does not lose a single operative off that starting combination. Coach

Harry Combes can be expected to prime the Illini for a big league challenge by making the UKIT a launching point. Heading the corps of veterans who will carry the scoring-rebounding load is 6-8½ senior center Skip Thoren, producer of a 20.3 average last season. Touted as the best among incoming new faces is 6-5 forward Bob Johansen.

WEST VIRGINIA

(Meets Kentucky Opening Night)

Nickname—Mountaineers	Colors—Old Gold and Blue

UKIT Record—Won 6, Lost 2 in Four Appearances
(Champions 1957 and 1959)

COACH—George King (4 Years at WVU—Won 88, Lost 28)

Offense—Fast Break	Defense—Man-for-Man
Chief Losses—Tom Lowry (C) 15.6
Top Returnees—Ricky Ray (6-0 G) 10.2; Buddy Quertinmont (6-3 G) 10.3; Bill Maphis (6-4 F) 8.7; Bob Camp (6-8 C) 8.0

OUTLOOK: The return of four regulars and eight lettermen—the most in history—provide a basis for optimism for West Virginia basketball in 1964-65, but the Mountaineers worry over one big loss. This was leading scorer (15.6) and rebounder (295) Tom Lowry. Top prospect to "go it alone" in the vacated center spot of a double post offense is 6-8 Bob Camp. Providing most help to the well-balanced and deep lineup available to Coach George King possibly will be backcourt aces Ricky Ray and Buddy Quertinmont. WVU is only visiting team ever to win more than one UKIT title and looks to improve its standing.

COACH—Adolph Rupp (34 Years at UK—Won 705, Lost 140)

Offense—Controlled Fast Break	Defense—Man-to-Man
Chief Losses—Cotton Nash (C) 24.0; Ted Deeken (F) 18.5
Top Returnees—Larry Conley (6-3¼ F) 12.2; Terry Mobley (6-2½ G) 9.4; Randy Embry (5-11 G) 7.2; Tommy Kron (6-5½ G) 5.1; John Adams (6-6½ C) 1.9

OUTLOOK: Baron Adolph Rupp enters his 35th year at the Wildcat cage helm with a mammoth re-building job confronting him stemming from the loss of three-time All-America Cotton Nash and All-Conference Ted Deeken. Between them, the two wheelhorses accounted for over 50 percent of the scoring punch that carried Kentucky to a seventh UKIT title and record 21st conference championship. Rupp's biggest worry is lack of capable height to get ball to such proven offensive operatives as returning regulars Larry Conley, Terry Mobley and Tommy Kron. Reliance will be on teamwork, speed and finessee.

Chief Losses—None
Top Returnees—Gil Beckemeier (6-10 C) 13.3; Rich Naes (6-5 F) 13.1; John Smith (6-0 G) 11.7

OUTLOOK: Coach John Benington welcomes back his entire squad of last season along with a couple of additions off the disabled list and some classy rookies. This adds up to trouble aplenty from the Billikens, victors over Kentucky in the past two seasons. Gil Beckemeier (6-10 and 225) stacks up with leading scorer credentials and All-America candidacy. Rich Naes (6-5 senior) and Rich Parks (6-6 junior) man the rest of the awesome front line again. Recovered from knee injuries that kept them out last season are 6-8 Garry Garrison and 6-7 Don Dee. Top soph Bob Cole was a 24 ppg. producer.

Top Returnees—Larry Sheffield (G) 22.3; Walt Sahn (C) 17.4; Ron Reed (F) 20.0; Jay Miller (F) 11.4

OUTLOOK: Under the direction of former Alabama coach, Johnny Dee, the new-look Irish seem to have all the necessary ingredients for one of the nation's most successful seasons. Size, experience and rebounding-scoring potential are present in the lineup. Heading a list of eight returning monogram winners is Larry Sheffield, 6-1 senior guard who led ND in scoring last year with a 22.3 average. The second, third and fourth scorers off the 1964 squad also are back, including 6-9 center Walt Sahn and academically-troubled Ron Reed (6-5). This pair ranked among the top 10 rebounders in the country last year.

Top Returnees—Dave Blaine (6-4 F) 13.4; Capt. Vic Mair (6-0 G-F) 10.3

OUTLOOK: Veteran Coach Alvin (Doggie) Julian is not overly optimistic about making great strides in the Ivy League this winter but could surprise. There is plenty of room for improvement over last season's cellar finish. Six members of the 1964 squad graduated but the replacements look promising and could provide help if they mature rapidly enough. Among the tall timber available are Gunnar Mahn and Jack Lockhart, both 6-7; and 6-5 Pete Dunlop.

Chief Losses—Bob Hines (F) 5.8
Top Returnees—Clyde Lee (6-9 C) 18.8; John Ed Miller (6-0 G) 16.5; Roger Schurig (6-4 G) 11.7; Bob Grace (6-7 F) 8.2; Wayne Calvert (6-3 G) 7.0

OUTLOOK: This looks like the Commodores' year. With its outstanding squad of last season back virtually intact, Vanderbilt is regarded as a shoo-in favorite to cop their first SEC title and the automatic berth in the national eliminations. Blessed with such outstanding personnel as 6-9 forward Clyde Lee (the league's leading rebounder with 391), guards John Ed Miller and Roger Schurig, 6-7 forward Bob Grace, and 6-10 holdout Garner Petrie, only overconfidence will be the weakness. Vandy faltered in the stretch run last year but don't count on a repeat performance.

Chief Losses—Sam Chase (G) 14.2; Jack Belcher (F) 11.1; Bobby Fetter (G) 6.7

Top Returnees—Dick Maile (6-5 F) 20.7; Bill Wilson (6-8 C) 11.0; Harry Heroman (6-6 F) 6.5

OUTLOOK: Sophomores hold the key to LSU basketball resurgence in 1965. Only four lettermen and two starters are back from the Tiger club that staged a surprising run at the league leaders before winding up in a fourth place tie last season. Heading this veteran contingent is 6-5 Dick Maile, one of the SEC's best and leading scorer-rebounder of the Bengals in his first two seasons, and 6-8 center Bill Wilson. Most promising among the sophs are 6-5 Tommy Thigpen, leading frosh scorer at 17.2, and top yearling rebounder Larry Henderson, also 6-5 in size. The front line looks good but back court looms as a problem.

Chief Losses—Dale Gott (G) 18.0; Bob Davidson (C) 15.3

Top Returnees—Denny Shoup (G) 12.1; George Fisher (F) 6.6

OUTLOOK: The Greenies floundered rather badly last season, winning only the last of 23 games, but improvement is in the works with a new coach—Ralph Pedersen—in charge of rebuilding and revitalizing operations. Compounding the former Tulane star's job, however, is the graduation loss of the two standout individuals of last year—leading scorer Dale Gott and top rebounder Bob Davidson. Key men in the re-grouping are veteran guard Denny Shoup and 6-1 soph Al Andrews (21.4 frosh average). Also sure to fit in is the SEC's tallest cager, seven-foot-one sophomore Craig Spitzer.

Chief Losses—Danny Schultz (G) 18.3; Sid Elliott (C) 6.5
Top Returnees—A. W. Davis (6-7 F) 17.3; Howard Bayne (6-5 C) 8.7

AUTLOOK: Tennessee, which surprised many with second place SEC finish last season, again should field a strong team headed by all-SEC selection A. W. Davis. The senior forward and captain, who averaged 17.3 points last season and proved himself a clutch performer, will have help from returning starters Howard Bayne, 6-5 center, and Larry McIntosh, 6-1 guard. Freshman standout Ron Widby and several junior college graduates should help atone for loss of last year's standout, guard Danny Schultz. The Vols, who lost the league title to Kentucky in a slow-down exhibition last year, loom as the biggest threat to Vanderbilt in the 1965 SEC chase.

OUTLOOK: With its entire front line of last season returning intact and promising help coming up from the freshman team to replace both starting guards, Auburn should be stronger overall in 1965. Manning the forward posts will be Freddie Guy, one of the league's top rebounders, and sterling outside shooter Lee DeFore. Joe Newton is back at the pivot position with 6-11 Curt O'Daniel backing him up. The vacancies at guard will be up for grabs with a trio of sophs vying with returnee Tommy Fibbe.

OUTLOOK: Coach Norm Sloan is speaking in optimistic terms about his 1965 edition of Gators but hinges predictions of a high SEC finish on the rapid development of the squad's big boys. Sophomore Jeff Ramsey (15.6 as a freshman) stands 6-11 and is due to open at center. Holdout Gary Keller checks in at 6-9 and is a probable forward regular. Another tall holdout, 6-8 junior Bob Hoffman, stands available as a reserve. Backcourt presents no problem. The situation there is in good hands with two of the loop's best operatives returning in the persons of 6-2 Brooks Henderson and 5-10 Tom Baxley. Rounding out the probable opening combo is 6-5 forward Dick Tomlinson (16.4 last year).

Top Returnees—Jimmy Pitts (6-1 G) 18.7; Jerry Waller (6-7 F) 15.2; Lee Martin (6-0 G) 7.6; Mack Crenshaw (6-7 C) 7.0

OUTLOOK: Shed no tears for Coach Red Lawson. Georgia lost only one regular off its 1963-64 team and the returnees, boasting good size and know-how, will be bolstered by some promising sophomores. The departure of 6-4 forward Charles Bagby left a big gap that must be filled. Most likely prospects are 6-5 Ray Jeffords, 6-6 Bryan Phillips and 6-5 Tom Duggins. Topping the list of returnees are a pair of

All-SEC Soph team selections, 6-7 Jerry Waller and 6-0 Lee Martin. The Bulldogs could be strengthened even further if ace guard Billy Rado, leading scorer (19.0) as a '63 soph, gets a medical OK to return. Coach Rupp picked up his 700th career win at the expense of Georgia last season.

OUTLOOK: A major problem confronts Ole Miss Coach Eddie Crawford—replacing three-time All-Conference guard Donnie Kessinger. Second to Kentucky's Cotton Nash in scoring with a 23.5 average, Kessinger was one of two regulars departing. Joining was center Ron Davidson. Glenn Lusk (6-2) seems ready to take over as chief marksman with John Partridge moving into the center job. He's the squad's tallest at 6-6, which poses another problem for the Rebels. Claimed assets of the 1965 club are experienced depth (eight lettermen) and a blend of fiery competitive play.

Top Returnees—Richie Williams (6-5 F) 9.5; Don Posey (6-3 F) 7.5; Paul Smith (5-10 G) 6.3; Howard Hamphill (6-8 C) 3.5

OUTLOOK: Mississippi State, minus four top players that aided in taking or sharing three straight league titles, slipped to a 9-17 record last season. But Coach Babe McCarthy promises that his "greenest team ever" will prove interesting and that fair warning should be sufficient. A building program may begin to pay dividends this year although nine of the 13 squad members are sophomores. Three starters were lost. Returning regulars are forwards Don Posey (6-3) and Richie Williams (6-5). Along with tall and talented freshman grads moving up, the Bulldogs have a 6-9 holdout center, Herbie Biggs. Frosh posted 21-3 record.

OUTLOOK: Building on the confidence gained from an upset victory over Kentucky last season, the Crimson Tide looks for an improved brand of play in 1965. Nine experienced lettermen are still around, headed by 6-6 senior center Bob Andrews (14.5 ppg. last year). Also returning are 6-4 guard Charlie Perry, 6-6 forward Reese Carr, 6-3 guard Robert Hickey and 6-6 forward Bambi Howland—all probable openers.

Memorial Coliseum

SUCCESSOR TO A 'WHITE ELEPHANT'

Only a little more than a quarter century ago, the University of Kentucky provided its basketball team with its second home—a magnificent new Alumni Gymnasium seating 2,800 spectators.

A great many persons freely suggested that the arena would prove to be a "white elephant" which would never be crowded to anywhere near capacity by the sport that then was considered little more than innocuous winter-months' pastime.

But the hardwood game blitzed the nation and Kentucky's teams forged to the national forefront in such a crowd-pleasing manner that the "huge" hall soon could not begin to accommodate the large number of fans seeking to whet their new-found interest. In fact, the situation soon developed to the point where only the student body and faculty were admitted and for several years about all that Kentuckians at large knew of their state university's famed cage teams consisted of information gleaned from the radio and newspapers.

In 1941, when Dr. H. L. Donovan became president of the University, one of his first recommendations was for a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health service, physical education, and recreation." From this beginning came the plan that culminated in the construction of 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum, an unparalleled edifice costing $3,925,000 by the time it was completed in 1950.

The huge building, which serves as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentucky heroes who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict, covers an entire city block and contains as much space as a seven-story office building. Situated along Avenue of Champions, the Coliseum is used primarily for basketball games but also serves as the site of a sellout community concert and lecture series as well as numerous physical education classes and conventions.

In sharp contrast to the early days in Alumni Gym, the present hall plays host to more than 150,000 Kentuckians annually for appearances of the famous Wildcat cage teams alone and interest is increasing with such strides that even this splendid arena may someday be outgrown.

THE NCAA IN MEMORIAL COLISEUM

University of Kentucky's spacious Memorial Coliseum, one of the largest and finest basketball arenas in the South, has been the site of portions of the NCAA Tournament six times since its completion in 1950. First round playoffs were staged in the UK Coliseum in 1955, 1959, 1960 and 1962 while regional tournaments were held in the building in both 1957 and 1958. The Wildcats played in the two regional eliminations, being eliminated by Michigan State in '57 and defeating Miami (Ohio) and Notre Dame in '58 enroute to its fourth and last National Championship.

Again this season, the UK Coliseum has been selected as the site of one of four regional elimination rounds in the road to the national championships. Dates of the 1965 Mideast Regional are March 12-13.

RUPP AND UK WINNINGEST IN 20 YEARS

Kentucky and Coach Adolph Rupp are collegiate basketball's most unbeatable combination any way you look at it.

This long-claimed fact has been verified by an authoritative survey completed by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau on the top team and coaching records of the last decade and also of the past 20 years ending in 1961.

The NCAA Service Bureau's figures show Kentucky's Wildcats, who have been under the tutelage of Baron Rupp exclusively since 1930, head the major colleges in winning percentage at both the 10-year and 20-year levels by outstanding margins.

Coach Rupp's personal record far exceeds those posted by his nearest rivals to firmly establish his right to the rank of college basketball's winningest tutor.

— Kentucky Coached by Adolph Rupp 1930-61 —

STILL MORE PROOF: UK TOPS FOR PAST QUARTER CENTURY

The University of Kentucky, holder of an unprecedented four NCAA championships and an NIT title, has produced the winningest college basketball teams of the past quarter century, according to a new study conducted by rival University of Cincinnati.

Surveying the entire collegiate cage field following the close of the 1962-63 campaign, Bearcat pollsters confirmed that Coach Adolph Rupp's Blue Grass boys are still the toughest team to trim—posting a top record for the 25-year period of 655 wins against only 138 losses for a winning percentage of .826. Their nearest rival proved to be West Virginia with a victory mean of .727.

Likewise, the Wildcats rated tops in number of victories alone during the same period. The Ruppmen counted 655 while their closest competitor—Western's Hill-toppers—racked up only 510.

WILDCAT MASCOTS HAD COLORFUL NAMES

Over the years, Kentucky athletic teams have been spurred on in efforts toward victory by numerous colorfully-named wildcat mascots. Records indicate the first animal was given to the University in 1921. Named "Tom," this live Kentucky wildcat died quickly from being in captivity and was replaced with "TNT." Other live mascots followed—including "Whiskers," "Hot Tamale," and "Colonel"—only to pass from the scene due to death or being turned loose in the mountains after they did not thrive out of their native habitat. The current mascot, displayed at the football and basketball games by SUKY (student pep organization) is a stuffed Kentucky wildcat obtained in 1948 from a Brooklyn taxidermist.

(Kentucky's home floor winning streak started against Ft. Knox on Jan. 4, 1943, following a loss to Ohio State two nights earlier. Before Ga. Tech snapped the string, the Wildcats had posted a national record 129 consecutive victories. All told, since the Ohio State loss, the Ruppmen have won 250 and lost only 19 at home. Since Memorial Coliseum became the home floor at the start of the 1950-51 season, the record is 166-19.)

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

WILDCATS ARE POPULAR

At home or on the road, Baron Adolph Rupp and his colorful Kentucky Wildcats are one of college basketball's biggest drawing cards. The largest crowd ever to see the Kentuckians in action turned out on March 17, 1961, for the opening night of the NCAA Midwest Regional at Freedom Hall in Louisville. A tournament-record crowd of 18,833 witnessed Kentucky whip Morehead and Ohio State top Louisville. Another banner crowd of 17,494 the following night broke all existing NCAA records for two-night play. Other top crowds to see the Wildcats were 18,493 in Madison Square Garden for a St. John's game Dec. 21, 1946; 18,803 who witnessed the Kentucky-Seattle national championship match at Louisville March 22, 1958; and 18,274 attending a regular season clash between Kentucky and Illinois at Freedom Hall in Louisville Dec. 30, 1958. At their own Memorial Coliseum in Lexington, the Ruppmen play to virtual capacity crowds every time out. The record one-night crowd was the 12,891 who saw the Wildcats defeat the Vanderbilt Commodores, 104-73, on Feb. 17, 1964. This overflow crowd of spectators surpassed the previous high of 12,375 who saw Kentucky drop its season opener in 1962 to Virginia Tech. For the home season, the high total is 165,650 estimated to have witnessed the 14 Wildcat home games during 1963-64. Previously, the high was 165,495 in 16 games of the 1961-62 campaign. This season, sellouts are so certain that tickets will not be offered on an individual game basis except for the UKIT. Only season book holders will get in to see the crowd-pleasing 'Cats who played before an average crowd of 11,800 last year.
