

Reorganization Plan Shakes Campus

DR. HERMAN LEE DONOVAN
Newly elected President of the University.

New President, H.L. Donovan, Described As 'Practical Man'

By JIM CALDWELL
Editor of The Kernel

The new president of the University is a practical man. A down-to-earth educator-administrator who believes that "every youth who has the capacity to digest a college education should have the opportunity to do so," the fees it is the "first duty of a state university to see that this opportunity is given."

"My program of administration will be to take up the work of the University where President Cooper and President McVey have left off and move steadily forward in the direction in which these eminent educators have charted the course of the University."

And that is about as far as President-elect Dr. Herman Lee Donovan went in making a statement of future policy when interviewed by The Kernel Wednesday at Richmond.

to return to one's alma mater in such a capacity."

Dr. Donovan doubted if he and Mrs. Donovan would be able to occupy Maxwell Place before July 1, when he is to assume the presidency. His duties at Eastern State Teachers college will keep him at Richmond until early summer.

Will Study UK

"In the meantime," he added, "I intend to study the University's history and background, and get acquainted with the deans and faculty members. I hope to know, in time, many of the University's students. I get a great deal of pleasure from associating with college students. I expect I know almost half Eastern's undergraduates by their first names."

Asked whether he planned any immediate changes in the University's curriculum or faculty and student relations, the president-elect replied that he was "no reformer," and that whatever changes are undertaken would be made gradually.

"Believe in Freedom"

Dr. Donovan said he was a "firm believer in freedom of teaching in the classroom. . . . As for student relations, the Constitution guaranteed to the citizen the freedom of speech, the freedom of assembly, and the freedom of the press. Students are citizens and are entitled to all the rights and privileges that are permitted under the Constitution.

Donovan To Be 9th UK Head, Fourth Native Of Kentucky

By ROLAND ROGG

Herman Lee Donovan, the ninth president of the University, is also the fourth president from the state of Kentucky. Much has been printed of his being a native son, but the first, second and fifth heads of the institution were also both in Kentucky.

John Augustus Williams, the first president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, which later became the University, was born in Bourbon County on September 21, 1824. President Williams graduated from Kentucky university, now Transylvania college, in 1852. He became president of the A. & M. College of Kentucky in 1865 and it was under him that the first organization of his college was effected.

The second president, John Desha Pickett, was born at Washington, Mason County, on January 6, 1822. He became president of the A. & M. College of Kentucky in 1867 and later was elected head of Transylvania college. He joined the Confederate Army in 1861 as Chaplain of the Kentucky "Orphans" Brigade.

James K. Patterson was the only foreign-born person ever to hold the position of President of the University. He was born in Chicago, Ill.,

March 28, 1833 and came to America in 1842.

He was elected president of the A. & M. College in 1869. The college was reorganized in 1876 into the University of Kentucky and Patterson was unanimously elected by the incoming board. He resigned in 1910, after 40 years of service. It was during his administration that the school grew from a state college to the state's only university.

Barker Elected

After Patterson resigned, James G. White was acting president for the summer term. However, the following term, Judge Henry S. Barker was elected president. He held the position until 1917. He was the last Kentuckian to hold this position until the selection of the present president.

During the summer term of 1917, Paul P. Boyd, now dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, was elected president and held this position until the spring of 1918. His was a successful administration for the University and the school grew to national prominence under his guidance.

Thomas P. Cooper, dean of the College of Agriculture, succeeded Dr. McVey and held the position one year, until the appointment of the present president.

New President Welcomed By Doctor Cooper

I feel sure the student body will share my satisfaction in the election of Dr. Herman Lee Donovan as the sixth president of the University of Kentucky. With his experience and training, his high standing in his profession, his ability as an administrator, and his understanding of Kentucky—its needs and its opportunities—I am sure he will bring to its university an able and distinguished leadership.

I am happy to welcome him as our president, and I am confident the student body will extend a cordial welcome to him and give him their hearty support.

Presentation Of Awards Climaxes 'Standards Week'

Presentation of awards for outstanding scholarship and the best college rooms in each of the women's residence halls at a formal dinner held Tuesday night, the "standards week" for members of the residence halls. Dr. Frank L. McVey presided at the awards.

Students with 12 standing were Mary Norma Westerspoon, Fulton, and Frances Jinkins, Nashville, Tenn.; of Patterson hall, Mary Jeanne Lancaster, Lebanon, and Corie Carhart, Irvine, of Boyd hall; and Betty Tall, Frankfort; Doris Zenger, East Hampton, N. Y.; and Charlotte Myers, Glasgow, all of Jewell hall.

Winners Named

The best room contest was judged on the basis of cleanliness, attractiveness, ingenuity and originality. A committee inspected rooms during the week and chose the two best in each hall.

Patterson hall winners were Mary Ellen McConnell, and Kathryn Catron in Nancy Wilson; Boyd hall Barbara Moore and Martha Marlowe; and Jewell hall Daisy Pierce and Stephanie Sorokoff; in Jean Evers and Kay Ellison.

Honorable mention went to the rooms of Kathleen Hagan and Pat Peterson in Patterson hall; Mary Ann Farbach and Barbara Shelton and Jean Walker, in Boyd hall; and Martha Whitsett and Pat Young, in Jewell hall.

Guests of honor at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Dean and Mrs. P. P. Boyd, Miss Sarah G. Banning, Dr. Clarence Sheld, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudson Smith.

During the week residents of the halls placed emphasis on personal appearance and proper conduct. On Tuesday afternoon a tea was given in Patterson hall to the winners.

Abolition Of Senate, Creation Of New Posts Termed 'Political Move'

UK Deanship Is Called 'Power Post' Of Setup

Striking with blitzkrieg rapidity, the Board of Trustees Wednesday revealed a University reorganization plan which abolished the 63-year-old Senate and created a new executive position. The action, which was made known less than 12 hours after the selection of a new president and the appointment of a comptroller, set the campus buzzing with rumors and conjectures among faculty and student body as to the significance of such a drastic reorganization.

Many view the sweeping action as a political move by state officials to gain rigid control of the University's administration by making the new executive's office and the comptroller's office the real policy-making agencies, instead of the president who would only be a "figurehead" under the new setup.

Responsibilities Removed

On the other hand, some pointed out that there has been dire need of reorganization, and that the new plan will take unnecessary responsibilities from the president and delegate them to the new officials.

Although several faculty members stated that there was rumor that some of them were "planning to get out as quickly as possible," higher officials advised that they were kept quiet and see how the plan works out. One said that, although on the surface the resolution appeared democratic, it is not, because democracy is determined by spirit, not form.

The move came as a complete surprise to most of the faculty. The Kernel learned early Wednesday that abolition of the Senate was being considered, and checked with Acting President Thomas P. Cooper, who was completely unaware of the move until Tuesday afternoon. He was informed later that Dr. Cooper was not told of the plan, which was approved Tuesday but withheld from the public until Wednesday.

Surprise To Many

The selection of Dr. Herman Lee Donovan as president likewise was a surprise to many because his name had not hitherto been mentioned as a possible candidate.

Judge Stoll, who was out of town Wednesday according to his office, could not be reached for a statement. He earlier said that the new executive office, which carries the title of "dean of the university," had not been filed. Some persons on the campus consider Dr. J. W.

BEST DRESSED MAN, WOMAN WILL BE CHOSEN

Ten Runners-Up To Be Selected Today, Saturday

Ballooning for the best dressed woman and the best dressed man on the campus will begin at 8 a.m. today and will continue until noon Saturday. Contest officials announced Votes must be placed in the winners' ten "best dressed" person and ten "best dressed" men will be selected.

The forms which are printed in the Kernel to insure a ballot to each student will be checked against the student directory when the votes are counted so that no student may vote more than once. Each ballot entitles one to vote for one woman and one man.

Jim Caldwell, editor of The Kernel, and Bob Hillemeier, business manager of The Kernel, will supervise the voting. Winners will be announced in Tuesday's Kernel.

Hop To Be Tonight In Women's Gym

The first of a series of informal hops open to all students will be given from 7:30 to 10:30 tonight in the women's gymnasium, under the auspices of the University WAA and the YWCA.

A demand for informal Friday night dances for students who are unable to attend the afternoon swing dancing has brought about the need for this dance series. Miss Lovine Lewis, chairman, said.

Annual K-Day Contests To Be Held Tomorrow

Football, Baseball, Track Scheduled For Stoll Field

"K-Day," annual spring sports premier of University athletic events, will be held Saturday, beginning at 1:45 p. m. on Stoll field. Included on the program will be the annual Blue-White in-line-squad grid game and an exhibition meet.

Saturday's football performance will conclude two months of intense rehearsing and advance information indicates that the effort will be one of the best spring offerings ever put forth in the Rose street gymnasium. The cast is well-balanced with veterans of several years' experience before the footlights, having difficulty resisting the upward surge of many starlets.

On the same programs, Coach Moseley's horseshoe crew will make its 1941 debut against the baseball of Illinois college. The baseball game is slated to start around 4 o'clock. Shively to Coach Whites.

Bernie Shively, who will give the Whites their cues, has promised to keep the spectacle moving at a fast pace, without any cavorting on his behalf. With an all-star assemblage of Mullins, Jones, Herbert, Hammond, Zinn, and Cutchin, Shively can keep a steady stream of versatile blues in the game.

Frank Moseley, blue member, will supplement his speedy backfield of Allen, Kuhn, and Kruer with a strong line composed of Clyde John-

Schiller. The Blue squad boasts the most seasoned line but the reserve backs are largely inexperienced.

Six of Joe Rupert's milters will give an exhibition between halves of the football game. The University band also will perform during the intermission.

Staker Will Pitch

Carl Staker was named by Moseley as the starting pitcher against the Illinois nine. The infield will find Tico at first, Mathewson on second, Cutchin at short, and Navarre on third. Outfield posts will be manned by Wiloughby in right, Kurachek in center, and Martin in left. Fritz will be behind the plate.

Teco and Cutchin will be paying their first varsity game while Kurachek will be starting his first.

Fico and Cutchin are both class flyers and both have shown ability at the plate. Kurachek, used largely in 1940, is the second-best of the most improved men on the team.

Navarre, Mathewson, Wiloughby, Martin and Fritz have all seen varsity staker. Staker was one of Moseley's best fingers in last year's campaign.

Headmen Departments

College deans, the summer school director, and departmental heads shall be charged with the operation and management of their various departments "in all matters not specifically changed by the Department of Business Management and Control (comptroller) or to the office of the Dean of the University."

"A budget, personnel, purchase, and finance and property inventory matters must be reported directly to the comptroller by the heads of the colleges and departments. In addition, the heads are made respon-

It Seems We Are Not Alone

(Note: The following are excerpts taken from editorials published in the journals of two leading national fraternities. We offer them as rebuttals of the stand which we believe to be fallacious—that hazing is a builder of fraternity spirit.)

Call it Hell Week, call it informal initiation, call it hazing, call it whatever you want: I think I have seen more of it done than all of you put together. I am here to say that anything which includes the laying of hands on another is out of the picture and ancient history.

The question of regimenting a freshman to his place, and instilling essential discipline, can be met without corporal punishment of any sort. The programs that are carried out in many of our chapters to this end are effective and all that is necessary when dealing with intelligent young men who have been able to pass entrance examinations and have been selected to be of this brotherhood.

We are all interested in converting freshmen into good fraternity men, and nothing can be gained in that direction by continuing any thought of hazing or Hell Week. Of course we live in a world of regulation. With added responsibilities come added privileges. So should it be with the younger members of student bodies.

Any discipline, however, that smacks of blind obedience, as it is practiced in the Old World, will not do for young Americans; they are not governed in that way. They must understand what is sought to be accomplished, and they will share in such accomplishments. Think it over—The Scroll of Phi Delta Theta, November, 1910.

Hazing is still a problem, although it is safe to say a diminishing one. John MacGregor reported to the Executive committee of the National Interfraternity Conference in February that a bill had been introduced into the California legislature which would make any form of hazing a misdemeanor, and conviction would require the disbanding of the organization of which the culprit was a member.

Mr. MacGregor, as chairman of the law committee, was directed to state the regret of the Conference that such a bill should need necessary, that the practice of hazing has always been discouraged, and the hope that fraternities of California can give assurance that will make enactment of the bill unnecessary. All persons with a sensible understanding of the situation and regard for the intelligence level of fraternity men in general join in the hope—The Palm of Alpha Tau Omega, April, 1941.

Says Hazing Is The Concern Of Fraternity Men Only

To the Editor of The Kernel: Your editorial of last Friday caused a great deal of comment on the campus, though I hesitate to say what kind. Although it might have provoked interesting reading to the Independents on the campus and the general public, it concerned only the fraternity men on the campus and to them it should have been addressed.

It is writers like yourself, and editorials like yours of Friday last that as you say, "outrage the public" and make sure the parents of future college graduates question the fraternity system."

While I respect your rhetorical powers of persuasion, I doubt that the public be so glibly as to accept your comment and condemn House Week on the strength of your own personal opinion and some spurious examples.

I quite agree that Hell Week as you describe it is a hangover from the days of the raucous coat and the hip-pocket flask but such a frat-

Students Protest Board's Action On UK Senate

The lack of student enthusiasm over the new president fades into the background in view of the sudden demise of the University Senate.

Every large University and every state university throughout the country has such a body. This is composed of members of the faculty to whom the great and some of its issues and to decide policy and curriculum. It is an heretofore untried method of maintaining and forwarding University standards.

Under the new system one man, Dean of the University, replaces the Senate. This man's decisions will be practically dictatorial since they will be subject to no veto, no matter how ill-advised they may be. He will never be severely criticized, for his irrefragable position will hardly be stormed by professors, no matter how indignant, who must retain their jobs and maintain their homes and families.

His position of authority relegated that of the presidency to a mere figurehead, being otherwise fundamentally unassailable, placing such administrative power in the hands of two.

We believe that the Board of Trustees has acted somewhat hastily in centralizing all of the administrative power of the University, both business and scholastic, in two men. This has deprived the University, its students and the people of the state of the wisdom and knowledge of the University Senate.

Therefore, we ask The Kernel to print this letter voicing our disapproval of this action, and that it send a notice that a student meeting be held at some date designated by the Student Legislature.

Walking On Eggs?

By BILL PENICK

"Shoot the boogie to me, Bradley boy," has become a musical byline in recent months. Ever since Will Bradley started his band a little over a year ago, he has concentrated his arrangements and novelties on the currently boogie-woogie style of modern music.

To Bradley goes most of the credit for this popularizing. His was the first band to really open the boogie field to large scale orchestration.

Probably most fundamental of all his instruments is the piano. Will is fortunate in having one of the foremost boogie pianists connected with his group, namely, Freddie Slack.

Freddie combines with Ray McKinley, another former with Jimmy Dorsey, to set a solid beat which ends the band all the way. Bradley himself, a trombonist, has been in the music racket most of his life, giving him the musical background to lead a good band.

Like most good new bands the group puts forth most of its music on records. Their recordings, appearing quite regularly, usually rank among the best-sellers.

Current recordings which rate high are Chicken Gumbo, South Sea Serenade and It's Square But It's Ricks. South Sea is a novelty number, featuring Slack on the piano and McKinley at the drums. Ray also sings.

Gumbo is another boogie composition, based, we think, on the old melody of Chicken Reck. The last disc, It's Square, was first introduced by Count Basie a few weeks back.

Here Bradley's group departs from its boogie and settles down to a more conventional rhythm. McKinley's vocal is another highlight.

Reverse of Square is a pretty melody, Partridge Lullaby. This one, in excellent dance tempo, is sung by Terry Allen, formerly with Larry Clinton. This is one of those songs which, with that down-to-earth mood, predominate.

Another former J. Doozie-like Bobby Dorsey, plays fine trombone on an original Bobby's Trombone Blues. This is another good young band (average age, slightly over 20) which is becoming increasingly popular.

Reverse is a silly rumba, Brazilian Nuts. Maybe the current trend for the Latin rhythms is in line with our Good Neighbor policy, but we're getting a little sick of it.

Insists Again That Hell Week Stand Is 'Rot'

To the Editor of The Kernel: President Thomas P. Cooper Mr. T. T. Jones, Dean of Men Gentlemen:

Two weeks ago, after Caldwell's first travesty of his latest Hell Week crusade I wrote a letter to him and to the University officials. In that letter I branded his editorial as rot.

He admitted his lies by being unable to present even the smallest vestige of proof of his "sacred" tirade. This embarrassment should have been enough, but after a two-issue respite Caldwell is at it again.

He has backed down from his strong stand in the first editorial to an extremely vapid presentation of another set of suppositions, again based on absence of fact.

He has gone afire to call the fraternities' national officers racketeers and has even made his bid for faculty support by alleging scholastic dishonesty. Just a little investigation in our library would show Caldwell well that the fraternity freshmen with all his "sacred" and "road trip" data will find time to make higher standings than the other freshmen.

As for fraternity racketeering the burden of proof rests with Caldwell. I cannot understand why the President of the University and the Senate continue to allow this bog to demonstrate his childish idea of a journalistic crusade at the expense of branding the majority of the students in the University.

Caldwell's idea of what constitutes a vital problem is hardly that of the well-informed college man. It is imperative that he be replaced by an editor who is able to use a mature subject matter in a mature way.

It is up to the University President and Senate to stop Caldwell in his ridiculous diatribe. I am certain no student on this campus is interested in the meandering suppositions of any pseudo-journalistic adolescent.

(Signed) Lloyd P. Robertson, Jr. Kappa Alpha

To Mr. Robertson: If you will be so good as to come around some afternoon next week, we shall be glad to tell you how few hats about Hell Week we think you ought to be wearing.

We will also refer you to a number of fraternity men who will tell you that the defects which we cited last October and again last Tuesday are far from being "capital suppositions." And we think you will agree that these same men are far from being "crucies of intolerance."

Surely you must know that one of the commonest guises of intolerance men today is that such large percentages of their initiation fees, and pin and jewelry costs go to support national headquarters for Victor and Bluebird Records.

Gamma Tau Alpha Will Go National

"Recognition as a petitioning group" has been given to Gamma Tau Alpha, local Jewish social fraternity of Jewish membership. Herschel Lowenthal, president of the local group, announced yesterday.

Gamma Tau Alpha, which has been a local campus organization since 1938, is expected to become a member of the national group after undergoing a period of training, Lowenthal said.

The national fraternity was founded in 1898 and has chapters in Vanderbilt, Duke, North Carolina, Virginia, Washington and Lee, Tulane, Alabama, Miami university at Oxford, Ohio, and other colleges.

Every operator in this telephone exchange must speak four languages!

Each operator in San Francisco's Chinatown telephone exchange must speak English plus at least three of the five Chinese dialects—Soo Yip, Sooy Yung, Hoong Soo, Goo Gung and Wu Dak—in order to handle calls. For the average Chinese understands no dialect but his own!

Since there is no Chinese alphabet, the 36 page directory, listing 2200 subscribers, can't be printed in the usual way. It is handwritten—then reproduced by engraving and printing processes. Subscribers are listed by streets, instead of alphabetically. And operators must almost know the book by heart, for the Chinese seldom call by number—but by name and address.

Thurber Hit To Open April 21 With Eight Student Players
Cast Announced For 'Male Animal' Guignol Finale

Eight University students won parts in the casting of "The Male Animal," last Guignol play of the season, which opens April 21, it was announced yesterday by Frank Fowler, Guignol production director.

Those who were chosen in the week-end tryouts are Emily Hilslop, Lexington; Clayton Thomas, Paducah; Claude Trapp, Lexington; Joe Famularo, New York City; Richard Swope, Lexington; Louella Barry, London; Angela Preis, Louisville; and Dorothy Love Elliott, Lexington.
Miss Hilslop will play the role of Patricia, sister-in-law of a college professor, and will be the apex of a love triangle including Thomas as Wally Myer, a football player, and Famularo as Michael Barnes.
Swope, as Joe Ferguson, a former football star, will soothe suit to the college professor's wife in the second act. Miss Elliott, as Myrtle Kelly, will censor the professor's ideas.

Trapp will play the part of Dean Damon, Louella Barry, the role of a reporter, and Angela Preis, the role of Cleo, a student.

The story of the play concerns the homecoming football game celebration at a midwestern college and draws its comedy from the love triangles, Fowler said yesterday.

Although the play is of regular three-act length, only one act—the interior of the professor's home—is used.

Rehearsals will be in progress each week night for the three weeks before the opening.

"The Male Animal," by James Thurber and Edward Nugent, was substituted for the originally scheduled "Philadelphia Story," by Philip Barry.

EMILY HILSLOP
She will play the part of 'Patricia,' a professor's sister-in-law, in "The Male Animal," Guignol's last production of the season.

RULING WAIVED; UK GLEE CLUBS TO SING SUNDAY
Four Soloists Slated To Sing In Memorial Hall

Waiving the University rule which regulates participation in public extra-curricular activities, the University Council announced Wednesday that the entire membership of the combined glee clubs will be allowed to participate in the final musicale of the season, at 4 p. m. Sunday, in Memorial hall.

Approximately 30 students, who had been declared ineligible to take part in the Palm Sunday Afternoon Musicals, will be permitted to sing. Waiving of the rule came after considerations were given to the extensive preparations made for the program, and the fact that the glee clubs foster interest in the University.

Under the direction of Donald Allred, the combined glee clubs' men's glee clubs will present the sacred oratorio, "The Message from the Cross," by Will G. MacFarlane. The concert is based upon the seven last words uttered by Christ upon the cross.

Soloists who will participate are Mary Virginia Fulcher, soprano; Lucille Hanes, mezzo-soprano; Henrietta Abraham, soprano; and Walter MacGowan, of Transylvania university, baritone. Lela W. Cullis will be the organist.

The order of the program is as follows:
Introduction:
Miss Fulcher and Chorus—"Now, my soul, thy voice uplifting."
Mr. MacGowan and Chorus—"And they that passed by reviled him."
Chorus—"Have we no tears to shed for thee?"

The First Word:
Mr. MacGowan—"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."
Miss Fulcher—"Jesus, in Thy dying breath."
The Second Word:
Mr. MacGowan—"Today shalt thou be with me in Paradise."
Chorus—"Now is the day of salvation."
The Third Word:
Mr. MacGowan—"Woman, behold thy son."
Miss Fulcher and Chorus—"At the cross the Saviour died."
Hymn—"When I survey the wondrous cross."

The Fourth Word:
Mr. MacGowan—"My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken Me?"
The Fifth Word:
Mr. MacGowan—"I am thirsty."
Mr. MacGowan—"Come ye blessed of My Father."
Miss Abraham—"He that saith to Me, 'My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken Me?'"

The Sixth Word:
Mr. MacGowan—"It is finished."
Chorus—"The Saviour died."
The Seventh Word:
Mr. MacGowan—"Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit."
Chorus—"As Christ upon the Cross."
Miss Hanes and Chorus—"My spirit on the tree."
Miss Hanes and Chorus—"Sing, my soul, the Saviour's battle."

Baseball Season, Opening Tomorrow, Will Be UK's Third Since Revival

By WYNNE MCKINNEY

The Wildcat nine that takes the field Saturday against Illinois College will be inaugurating the third consecutive season of play since baseball was revived at Kentucky after a five year lapse.

Baseball at the university has had a somewhat turbulent history. In 1931, after 19 consecutive seasons of play, dating from 1912, the authorities decided that the sport would be dropped from the Wildcat athletic program. Several factors, including continued bad weather during the season and lack of support led to the decision.

Revised in 1932

In 1933 baseball was again pulled from the trash barrel, but due to a disastrous season in which the team lost 11 games while winning only one, the sport was again killed.

When Bernie Shively replaced Chet Wynne as athletic director, his first official act was to announce that baseball would be replaced once more on the Kentucky spring sports list.

So in 1938 the sport was again offered and a call was issued for candidates. Although no regular games were scheduled, several practice tests were played with Eastern and Kentucky Wesleyan.

First Team in 1932

As far as the records indicate, the first baseball team at the University was organized in the spring of 1912. However, according to S. A. (Daddy) Boles, baseball was played at the University long before that.

The University and with the control, under the law, of all requisitions and purchases and all budgetary matters in due form through the President to the Board of Trustees of the University.

Kernel Affected

About the only "service departments" whose finances have not been handled by the existing business agency were those of the Buildings and Grounds and the University Press. Only students fees, B. A. subscriptions to The Kernel were handled by the business agent. Under the new setup, The Kernel, a "student owned" enterprise, will be under the control of a state financial setup.

The resolution further provides that the comptroller "may delegate any of the functions of business management and operation, with the approval of the President and the Board of Trustees of the University, but he shall not delegate the function of finance, accounting, and control."

It was stated that the regulations would become effective when the new official assumes office, and that the other regulations would become effective after the new president takes office.

although there are no records to indicate this fact. He stated that the old prep school, which was once the University, organized baseball teams but membership included not only students but "outsiders."

For the team of 1912 the big game of the year was with Michigan. The game ended in a tie and a headline in the idea, the official student publication, read: "The Game Was the Best We Could Do With Michigan—Errors Prevented Us From Winning—Game Was Very Exciting."

In 1916 the big game of the year was again with Michigan but was called off because of bad weather. The schedule that year included such teams as Ohio Wesleyan, Western Reserve, Ohio State, DePaul, Centre, and the University of Iowa. The worst beating suffered by the Wildcat nine that year was administered by Ohio State, 16 to 4.

Again in 1926, the feature attraction was the opening game with Michigan. Attesting to the importance of the tilt was the "play up" that the Kernel gave the forthcoming game stating: "Tomorrow will be a Mardi Gras day for the U. of Ky. baseball followers, so great is the importance attached to the annual clash between the Michigan and Wildcat ball teams, to be played this afternoon at 2:30. The Wolverines have come to the Blue Grass and have gone back with Kentucky's scalp too often. Only once, in 1924, have the Wildcats been able to repulse the invaders."

Slater Pitched Here

"Michigan has brought some great ball players to Kentucky in the past years, including George Slater, one of the best ball players of all time, and Ernie Vich, former catcher of the St. Louis Cardinals. Slater once pitched against the "Wildcats on Stoll field and won his game by hitting a home run over the fence in the last inning."

Michigan had two of their famous All-Americans on their team that year. Benny Friedman, great quarterback and Osterman, who was hailed as the greatest offensive end in football history.

29 Team Was Best

The greatest baseball nine that the University ever produced so far as records (games won and lost) goes, was the team of 1929 on which Paul McBrayer, now assistant basketball coach, starred as a pitcher.

The records show that the Wildcat nine won 9 games, tied one and lost one. Their only reverse was at the hands of Vanderbilt, who trounced them by a score of 3 to 1. Later on in the season the University of Louisville played the Cats to a 3 to 3 draw.

Range Teams Seek Membership in NRA

University rifle and pistol teams submitted their application last night to enter the National Rifle Association, and be known as the University Rifle and Pistol club, according to Lieut. John Carter, who was in charge of the team meetings.

The two units proposed by-laws and applied for a single charter from the national organization. However, Carter said, if such an organization were formed, the two units would act individually within the club.

It's Donahue of Pathé who follows the news the world over with camera...with CAMELS!

He's off again for more of those exclusive pictures you see in the newsreels. Below, you see how Bob Donahue gets exclusive "extras" in his smoking. He smokes Camels, of course. Only Camels give you those "extras" of slower-burning costlier tobaccos in a matchless blend.

CAMEL'S SLOWER WAY OF BURNING IS ACES FOR MY KIND OF SMOKING. EXTRA MILDNESS AND A FLAVOR THAT ALWAYS HITS THE SPOT

"TILL TELL YOU," said Bob when he got his picture taken (above), "I smoke a good bit in my job. And my cigarette has to be more than mild—it has to be extra mild. Camel is the one brand I've found that gives me extra mildness and at the same time a flavor that doesn't go flat on my taste."

Make Camels your next cigarette purchase. Smoke out the facts for yourself. Enjoy that famous Camel flavor to the full with the pleasing knowledge that you're getting extra mildness, extra coolness, and the scientific assurance of extra freedom from nicotine in the smoke. And—the smoke's the thing!
