SHERWOOD EDDY HERE MARCH 3-4

RELIGIOUS, SOCIAL LECTURER OF INTERNATIONAL RENOWN

HAS MESSAGE FOR ALL Message From European Colleges on Student Problems

Plans for the great evangelistic campaign to be conducted at the University March 3 and 4 by Sherwood Eddy, religious and social lecturer of international renown, have been completed and promise to offer students an unusual opportunity for instruction in spiritual, industrial and political subjects of the day. Doctor Eddy will speak to students the fifth hour and at 7:30 p. m. Friday and Saturday in the chapel, and to faculty Friday afternoon.

The lecturer has just returned from campaigns in Czechoslovakia, Egypt and Turkey, and from visiting eighteen of the principal countries of Europe and the Near East where he studied the student situation, and the social and industrial problem in the present unrest in various parts of Europe. He will be accompanied to Lexington by his wife, who will hold afternoon meetings for girls, at Paterson Hall.

Doctor Eddy will speak at the University on the following topics: "The Challenge of the Present World Situation;" "The Challenge of America's Problems;"

"The Challenge of Campus Problems;" "What Shall I Do With My Life?" "A Rational Faith For the Modern Student." Group prayer meetings for the success of the campaign are being held daily in the Y. M. C. A. Rooms. The campaign committee of a hundred meets every Tuesday night to discuss plans.

The organizations in charge, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are bringing the following men to assist Doctor Eddy: Doctor Hart, pastor of Danville Christian Church, formerly of the University of Missouri; E. V. Donaldson, Louisville, Boys' Work Secretary of the State Y. M. C. A.; C. M. Cummers, Winchester District Secretary of Y. M. C. A.; E. G. Howe, State Student Secretary; Karl P. Zeffoss, Southern College of the Y. M. C. A., an alumnus of U. K.; Brother Mark, pastor of Chatanooga Episcopal Church.

The work of Sherwood Eddy for the last twenty-five years is known equally in the student world of Asia, Europe and America. He is a western man, born in Kansas. He is acquainted with all phases of American student life, having attended Yale and Princeton and traveled for many years among American colleges. Doctor Eddy is a man of wide interests and sympathy and has a valuable spiritual message for the college men and women of today.

Miss Scott's Singing Notable Feature of Strong Memorial Program

A large number of students and Lexington people attended Washington's Birthday Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. President McVey presided, the program opening with a short address on the life and character of Washington, emphasizing Washington's ideals in the outlining of character and in the making of true American manhood.

The invocation was given by Dr. V. O. Ward, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church of this city.

The University band then led the assembly in singing "America." A beautiful solo, "Christ in Flanders" was sung by Miss Mary Campbell Scott, whose appealing voice is always a delight to her audiences.

"THE MIKADO" WILL BE REPEATED FEBRUARY 25

At Woodland Auditorium: In Charge of League of Women Voters

The following article is quoted from the Lexington Leader of February 19:

"THE MIKADO"

"The reproduction of the comic opera, 'The Mikado' by the students of the University of Kentucky under the management of the League of Women Voters has been announced for Saturday night February 25, at Woodland auditorium.

"The cast of 'The Mikado' is composed of Tom Brooks in the title role; Miss Martha McClure as Yum-Yum; Miss Sue Chenault as Peep-Bo; Miss Mirian Seegar as Pitti-Sang; Miss Mary Campbell Scott as Katisha; Jack Dahringer as Nonki-Pook; Neal Sullivan as Poo-Bah; Herndon Evans as Ko-Ko; Earl Baughman as Pish-Tush and Albert Hukle as the umbrella bearer.

"The original production under direction of Professor Carl Lampert, was pronounced an entire success and the work of the young people complimented. The stage setting, which was done in the style of old Japan was elaborate and beautiful and was done by the Department of Art and Design. The costumes were designed by the same department. No amateur performance in the history of Lexington has in any way compared with the production of 'The Mikado'. The orchestra which has been directed by Professor Lampert is one of the best ever heard in Lexington, composed as it is of twenty-two pieces well trained and developed. The music is tuneful and lovely and has made its composers, Gilbert and Sullivan, a reputation by itself.

The chorus of sixty voices attained such perfection as to receive the heartiest applause and the commendation of the audience and press."

The opera will be produced at popular prices and the tickets may be ordered now from the University Book Store and are on sale at Caden Drug Company. Saturday night will be the last opportunity to hear the much praised student production of 'The Mikado.'"

Resolutions of sympathy were sent to the family of Miss Annette Martin, whose death occurred last week.

Miss Marguerite Butler was the guest of honor and chief speaker of the afternoon. Miss Butler told of the work in which she is engaged at Pine Mountain Settlement School.

SCORE IS 40 TO 23

Lavin, Hayden and Adkins Play Last Game of Their Careers at Home

The University of Kentucky Basketball Team made its final bow for this season last Monday evening when it defeated the Centre College Quintet to the tune of 40 to 23. This game the last one to be played on the home floor by the Wildcat Basketeers, was witnessed by one of the largest crowds that has ever assembled in the Gymnasium. Long before the time for the game, crowds filed into the gymnasium and by 8 o'clock every available space was taken including the rafters. The crowd came expecting a great game and they saw one. The Colonels put up a terrific struggle during every minute of the game, but they were completely outplayed, outpassed and outclassed by the wearers of the Blue and White.

The game started fast and furiously at the opening whistle, the Wildcats making the first score when Bill King tossed a field goal in the first few minutes of play. Time and again in the first half the score was tied. Kentucky, set a pace

BOARD OF COMMERCE HANDS OUT A BOUQUET

McVey Receives Letter Complimenting Program Given Before Legislators

The following gratifying letter from the Lexington Board of Commerce explains itself:

"Dr. F. L. McVey, President

"University of Kentucky

"Lexington, Ky.

"Dear Dr. McVey:

"I desire to take this opportunity to roundly applaud the splendid efforts of the faculty and students to present a program at our banquet to the General Assembly that would be calculated to awaken in its mind the need of substantial help for the University.

"The program was so well conceived and executed that it is impossible for me to properly express the deep appreciation which this organization feels for the unstinted loyalty and labor demonstrated by the faculty and students throughout the entire program. It was clearly shown that the University of Kentucky has the most loyal student body probably of any institution in the United States. We consider it a distinguished honor to cooperate as we did in giving the banquet, to endeavor 'to do our bit' in promoting the program for the maintenance and growth of our beloved State Institution.

"Please convey our cordial and heartfelt thanks to all who took part in Tuesday night's Valentine party.

"Yours very truly,

C. F. DUNN,

Secretary-Manager."

It was one of those wonderful, gloriously superb midsummer nights when the stars are hung like chandeliers in the milky sky and the very atmosphere is surcharged with mystery, adventure, romance.

They sat motionless on the greensward in the flower strewn garden watching the iridescent play of light on the sparkling fountain, their bodies blending as one, while the moon beamed beamingly down and seemed to whisper, "Ah, foolish youth."

The youth's arms were protectingly around her supple shoulders while her silky curly head nestled close in trustful contentment. Presently she stirred gently and turned to him a pair of brown misty eyes filled with an infinite love and tenderness yet containing withal a passionate eagerness and an indescribable longing. The youth did not meet those teary, imploring eyes but sat motionless and continued to stare with undecided gaze into the wet and misty spray of the miniature cataract.

Finally after interminable moments, his head drooped and he turned and looked steadfastly into those trustful orbs of sweet tenderness, brimming over with devotion. An inarticulate sound escaped his lips and he seemed to have surrendered to the impulse. "Nell!" his voice and fingers sank into her quivering flesh and he muttered thickly in a defiant tone of voice, "The hunting season doesn't start until Monday, Nell, but those ducks can't wait, so we'll go after them to-morrow Nell, old dog."

Benjamin G. Lamme

VISITORS at the Chicago World's Fair, in 1893, saw the first extensive use of alternating current ever undertaken, when Westinghouse lighted the entire grounds with this type of current. This achievement marked the beginning of the commercial development of alternating current for power purposes, and brought the induction motor into a prominence which it has never since relinquished. Great and rapid have been the developments since that day, but the most impressive aspect of this progress is not to be found in the spectacular evidences that are visible to everyone, but rather, in the vision and fundamental soundness and determination that have been quietly at work blazing and clearing the trails which the electrical art has followed.

There is, for instance, the synchronous converter. This machine is the most efficient and economical means for changing alternating to direct current, which the operation of most street railway systems and many other processes require. Without it, the development of alternating current to its present universal usefulness would have been tremendously retarded.

The synchronous converter, in its present perfection, is but one of the great contributions to electrical progress that have been made by Benjamin G. Lamme, Chief Engineer of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company. Mr. Lamme, in 1891 when he was Chief Designer, conceived and developed the converter, which, first used commercially in connection with the great Niagara power plan, has since come to be indispensable to large producers of power.

When a man has played so vital a part in electrical progress that his knowledge and vision have contributed to practically every forward engineering step, it is perhaps misleading to attempt to identify him particularly with any one development. His work on the induction motor, the turbo generator, the single-phase railway motor, and the synchronous converter is but typical of the constructive ability which Mr. Lamme has brought to bear on practically every phase of electrical development.

A man of foresight, visioning the alternatives in a problem as well as its hoped-for results. A man whose mind combines great power of analysis with the gift of imagination. A prolific technical writer, whose style is unequalled in clearness and simplicity of expression. Few engineers so thoroughly predetermine the results they actually achieve. Few men capitalize their experiences so completely. And few indeed have at once his thorough technical equipment, his commercial understanding, and his broad human interests.

An institution which has builded its success largely on engineering achievement pays Benjamin G. Lamme affectionate loyalty and respect. The young engineer on his first job, as well as the most seasoned co-worker, finds in him understanding, sympathy, wise counsel, and a science; to all of which his associates, in preparing this article, are proud to bear witness.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT NOW 2,066 AT UNIVERSITY

An Increase of 372 Students Over Last Year

The total enrollment for the year at the University of Kentucky has reached 2,066, to date, an increase of 372 students over last year. This has resulted in crowding still further the already overcrowded institution.

Up to the close of the first semester of this year, there had been enrolled 1,472 regular session students and 494 summer session students, making a total of 1,966 at the end of the first semester. At the same time last year there had enrolled 1,233 students in regular session and 316 in summer session. Comparing the enrollment at the two periods, there is a net increase of 372 students. Since the close of the first semester this year 100 additional students have enrolled, thus bringing the number of regular session students up to 1,572, and this including the 494 summer session students makes the total of 2,066 for the year.

These figures do not include enrollments in extension, short course students, or students in the Vocational School conducted by the Government. The Department of University Extension has on its list 361 enrollments for the first semester of this year, and now on its books more than 600 active students. The total number of enrollments in extension courses during the last two years is 1,010, but approximately 400 of these enrollments have been completed, leaving some 600 active enrollments now carried by the Department.

DON'T BE UNKIND

It is not often that the Kernel undertakes either to explain or apologize for a publication, such as was unfortunately distributed last week. But we feel that as result of untoward circumstances which attended publication of last week's issue we are entitled at least in "fessing up" to state the causes that led to an edition which was by no means exemplary. As result of a rush of work in the plant of the publisher and an invasion of flu that placed several of the staff members on the sick list, copy had to be read in a hurry—if read at all, and much proof that was read, on account of delays, did not have opportunity to be corrected.

As a result of these things, the paper was what the professional printer calls typographically "dirty." However, although the editor is still in bed, several dependable staff members are able to "kick off cover" and have the hospital for service this week. In view of these circumstances the Kernel is frank to admit that uncomplimentary observations are wholly just and it stands ready to receive them in as good temper as it is able to command.

"THE MIKADO"

The Kernel believes it is the duty of every student of the University and member of the faculty who has not witnessed a previous performance of the student musical production, "The Mikado", should not fail to lend encouragement by attending the performance at the Woodland Auditorium on Saturday evening. This will probably be the last opportunity students will have of witnessing this production.

The press and public have been unusually enthusiastic and generous in their commendation of Professor Lampert's talented organization which has already given several performances of the grand Gilbert and Sullivan Opera with well nigh professional finish. These enterprises, however are expensive regardless of the credit they reflect on students and the University and heavy expense account for these performances have left the organization somewhat in debt—a debt which the Kernel confidently believes is an obligation the University folk should help it to discharge. This performance Saturday evening should, if properly attended, place Professor Lampert and his loyal comrades, at least financially "even with the world."

BASKETBALL SEASON

With the victory of the University of Kentucky basketball team over their ancient rival Centre College Monday night, by the impressive score of 40 to 23, the Wildcat net Champions closed their 1922 career so far as local contests are concerned, and moved on to other fields of conquest or defeat.

It is doubtful if any basketball team in the country has made a record so admirable under the circumstances as that which has been achieved by the Wildcats during the current season and the season that preceded it.

Notwithstanding that indefinable thing which is sometimes denominated "Jinx" in the early stages of the season attended the Wildcats with the persistence of a Nemesis, this unpleasant companion was soon shaken off and by sheer pluck and almost unmatched physical prowess the 'Cats met all comers thereafter and gave a good account of themselves.

University students are watching with marked interest the progress of their Champions, who have invaded the South, who are at the time of this writing battling to hold the Blue and White standard in the Championship shy where they placed it last season.

At the moment that this editorial had to be written results of none of the Wildcat contests were in, but the close of the week should tell the tale. They have gone to the South to make history for the University of Kentucky, and whether immortal numerals such as were last year painted on the paths and byways leading to the University will be disclosed within the next few days, remains to be seen.

Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A.

A Joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will be held at Patterson Hall Sunday evening, February 26, at 6:30. Colonel George W. Bain, famous Chautauqua lecturer, noted nationally for his prohibition work, will be the speaker. Students should appreciate this opportunity of hearing Colonel Bain, who has practically retired from his platform work.

E. S. Dummitt was the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday night. His subject was "Law as a Life Work." Mr. Dummitt said in part, "Law is the hardest profession one can choose. It requires constant study and hard work. It requires the strictly honest man to be a successful lawyer, and offers a wide field of service to one's fellow men."

WILDCAT WRESTLERS DOWN OHIO UNIVERSITY TO THE TUNE OF 58-14

Coach Enlow And His
Husky Warriors Show
Ability as Mat Artists

VISITORS ARE GAME

All Bouts Sensational and Fans Pleased

The Wildcat Mat Artists staged a strong comeback here last Saturday evening when they defeated the strong Ohio University Wrestling Team by a 58 to 14 score. In this match the warriors of the Blue and White more than made good the defeat suffered at the hands of Indiana and amply demonstrated that an unfamiliarity with the Big Ten Conference rules was mainly responsible for that defeat. The Ohians with a reputation of decisive victories over some of the best mat teams in the country were decidedly outclassed in skill and speed and out of the seven matches, in only two was the competition keen.

The first match at 115 pounds between Waits of Kentucky and Calvert of Ohio went for three bouts, the first bout being a draw. In the remaining two periods Waits was awarded the decision. The next match at 125 pounds was between Quinn of Kentucky and Morgan of Ohio. Morgan made a decision in the first bout, and gained a fall in the second bout, making a total of 14 points for Ohio, the only score made by the visitors. Stith of Kentucky and Hickman of Ohio met in the 135 pound class. Stith won this bout by a decision. The decision won by Stith put Kentucky in lead by 18 to 14. In the 145 pound class Neal of Kentucky won two straight decisions over Spreel of Ohio, contributing 12 points to Kentucky's score.

The 158 pound class was between Aiken of Kentucky and Crane of Ohio. This match was carried on in three bouts. The first two bouts were about even. The third bout was awarded to Aiken on a decision. There was some difference of opinion as to this bout, some spectators believing Aiken had made a clean fall in the final period.

The 175 pound match between Robertson of Kentucky and Melick of Ohio was one of the most interesting events of the evening, the men battling through three bouts without securing a fall or decision. Two two minute extra periods were offered to settle the tie, which was won by Robertson on points. Robertson who had suffered from a wrenching knee all during the match was cheered at the final announcement. Enlow of Kentucky easily won in the heavy weight division winning two straight falls from Melick who had attempted to return in the heavy weight class. The first fall came in one and a half minutes. In the second bout the fall came after forty-five seconds of battling.

The officials were: Referee, Eugene King; Judges, O. Thompson of Kentucky and Grow of Ohio; Timekeeper Buchheit of Kentucky.

that was entirely too swift for the Gold and White wearers and at the end of the first half the score was 17 to 13 in the Wildcats' favor.

The second semester opened with a promise to duplicate the fierceness of the first half, the score at one time being 18 to 16, but with that score Kentucky moved her count around to 32 before the Colonels were able to register again and neither the aggressiveness nor the five man defense nor anything else the Colonels had to offer could stop the brilliant work of the Wildcats.

During the game, the spectators had taken every opportunity to cheer each humorous incident. The cream of the comedy was saved for the last when Coach Buchheit let loose his "wrecking crew" which went into the game with speed and "pep" and ably lived up to its name.

The game of last Monday evening demonstrated that it takes five men to play basketball. It would be impossible to pick out any individual star in this game. The floor work of King as usual showed out, while to Odkins is due great credit for his goal shooting, Paul running up more points than any individual player on either side. Hayden as usual outplayed, outpassed and outthought his opponents. The superb guarding of Burnham was all that could be desired, while the playing of Lavin was of the stellar variety.

The lineup is as follows:
Centre (23) Kentucky (40)
Green (8) ..... F. .... (11) Hayden
Dooley ..... F. .... (10) King
Flippin (4) ..... D. .... (14) Adkins
Covington (8) ..... G. .... (2) Lavin
Snowday ..... G. .... Burnham
Substitutions: Centre—Hunter (2) for Dooley, Murphy for Covington, Alexander (1) for Flippin, Noonan for Green, Brooks for Snowday.

Kentucky: Poyntx (1) for Hadyen, Wilhelm for King, Fest (2) for Adkins, Smith for Lavin, Rice for Burnham.

Fouls Thrown: Centre—Covington 4 out of 7; Alexander 1 out of 1. Kentucky—Hayden 1 out of 1, King none out of 2, Lavin 2 out of 3, Poyntx 1 out of 1, Wilhelm none out of 1, Smith none out of 1.

DR. E. H. ARNOLD TO TALK TO WOMEN STUDENTS

"Physical Education As a Vocation" Subject of Lecture

All University women and especially those interested in athletics as a vocation are urged to hear Dr. E. H. Arnold, Director of the New Haven Normal School of Gymnastics, Saturday, March 4 at the fifth hour in the Little Theater. His visit to the University is under auspices of the Woman's League and is the third of a series of speakers brought here by the Vocational Guidance Committee.

Doctor Arnold is well-known in athletic circles, having formerly been president of American Physical Education Association. He is particularly interested in child welfare problems. His lecture, the subject of which will be "Physical Education as a Vocation" promises to be interesting and instructive.

Doctor Arnold will come here from a meeting of the United States Education Commission in Chicago.

The New Haven Alumnae of Kentucky will entertain with a luncheon for him Saturday, probably at the Lafayette. That afternoon he will direct a class composed of graduates of the school in the Girls' Gymnasium, followed by a tea given by Mrs. Stout.

She (after parlor session)—"Now, I know you won that loving cup."

No knowledge drinks around the Sphinx.
His wave-curl'd brow that hurts;
To find this jinx 'tis right methinks
To peer amid the skirts.

WILDCATS ENTRAIN FOR TOURNAMENT

Kentucky and Georgetown
Basketball Teams, on Way to Southern Tournament

Eight members of the Wildcat basketball team and two athletic officials of the University of Kentucky boarded a train at 10:40 o'clock Wednesday night at the Southern station enroute for Atlanta, Georgia, where the Blue and White basketball team will endeavor to live up to the championship reputation they established last year.

The Cats did not slip aboard the train unnoticed, as they did when they entrained for the Georgia metropolis a year ago. They swung aboard their sleeper with a large crowd of students and admirers bidding them Goodspeed and clamoring for them to return again with the "bacon."

When the Cats climbed aboard they met their friendly enemies, the Georgetown Tigers, who play Kentucky Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the first round of the tournament.

The eight Wildcats were: Captain Lavin, Burnham, Adkins, King and Hayden, composing the first team, and Fest, Rice and Smith, substitutes. Coach George Buchheit and Athletic Director S. A. "Daddy" Boles accompanied the team.

The Georgetown team, composed of Captain Funk, Jacoby, Daniels, Forwood, Porter Pollock, Kemper and Turnnell, and the Wildcat team divided a special Pullman. The Tiger officials are Coach Paul Rhoton and Athletic Director Hinton.

Friday afternoon will mark the third clash of the Wildcats and the Tigers this season. Each clan has won an engagement, by identical scores, and the winner of the game at Atlanta not only receives the right to go on in the tourney, but the prerogative to fly the state championship pennant.

The third Kentucky team in the tourney is Centre. The Colonels leave this morning from Cincinnati for the southland.

MONKEY BUSINESS IN KENTUCKY DANGEROUS

Western Paper Pokes Fun at State But Commends University of Kentucky

Under the heading "No Monkey Ancestors," the Sioux City Journal pokes fun at Kentucky editorially in the following:

"Down in Kentucky, where everybody loves fine horses, pretty women and good liquor, and where, in spite of prohibition, they still have all three, an effort is being made by the legislature to establish by law that the ancestors of present day colonels and near colonels were men and women instead of just plain monkeys. The movement under way to establish this blueblooded condition is a bill in the legislature to forbid the teaching of the theory of evolution in any schools maintained by the commonwealth. No more, should the bill succeed in gaining the necessary votes in the two houses and the signature of Gov. Morrow, would the country school children and the university students be permitted to dwell upon the ideas advanced by Charles Darwin. The Kentuckians who are rarin' against evolution consider that it is an insult to their progenitors to say they lived in trees and swung by their tails, cracking each other meanwhile over the heads with coconuts. Reverence is an abiding principle with the Kentuckian, especially if he be a colonel or has prospects of becoming such a titular personage, and, naturally, it is not reverent to believe that one's forebears were simians.

"The University of Kentucky, which has a curriculum of high standard, and is recognized far and wide as an institution of learning comparing most favorably with the best in the country, is a unit in opposing the measure. It is not that the educators at the university are less reverent than the proponents of the bill, and the difference of opinion can be said to result only from the way Kentuckians look at the question. The average Kentuckian is not to be monkeyed with, as far as that is concerned, about anything. He usually is rarin' to go at the first sign of monkeying on the part of another, and he also has the reputation of traveling at high speed when he starts. To call a Kentuckian's grandpa or grandma monkeys, no matter how far back, would be like issuing one's own ticket to the hospital or graveyard. How the thing will come out is still a question, but in a state where feuds wipe out whole families because of a quarrel over a shoat or who is to take Liza Jane home from camp meeting, anything can be expected and it goes without saying that, if the bill is defeated, it would not be healthy for the victors to make any monkey faces in celebration of their triumph."

IMMIGRATION, SUBJECT FOR ANNUAL DEBATE

State Divided Into Districts
In Widespread Polemic Organization

The Kentucky High School Debating League, fostered by the Department of University Extension, University of Kentucky, will debate the subject of immigration this year, according to announcement just made at the University. More than one hundred high schools of the State will compete, and the final Tournament will be held at the University of Kentucky May 4, 5, and 6.

The success of the Debating League last year and the remarkable Tournament held at the University last May have stimulated schools throughout the State to join the League this year. The State championship last year was won by Lexington High School which now holds what is known as the Lexington Holder Cup, a handsome silver cup given by Harry Giovannoli, editor of the Lexington Leader.

Gold and silver medals are each year awarded to individual debaters by the University, but the cup becomes the property of the winning school only after it has been won three times in succession. Lexington is working hard this year to equip a team that will hold the cup and other schools throughout the State are just as determined that Lexington shall not retain it.

Organization Changed

The organization of the State this year has been somewhat changed. Berea College is cooperating with the University of Kentucky in the field in Eastern Kentucky, and some forty counties of the State are directly under the supervision of Berea, which has announced a sub-district organization of some six divisions in Eastern Kentucky Mountains, with fifty-five high schools to draw from. Berea is providing suitable trophies and will hold an Eastern Kentucky Tournament sometime prior to the final tournament at the University.

The rest of the State has been divided into eleven districts, making twelve, including Eastern Kentucky, and each district has an active organization. The district organization has been announced as follows:

Eastern Kentucky, under the supervision of Berea College, M. E. Vaughn, Secretary.

Northeastern Kentucky District, with Gordie Young, Superintendent of Schools, Mayslick, Kentucky, as chairman.

Blue Grass District, with Charles E. Skinne Principal of Lexington High School, L. G. Wesley, Superintendent of Georgetown Schools, and Gladstone Koffman, Principal of Frankfort High School, as committee.

Covington-Newport District, with Louis E. Clifton, Superintendent of Schools at Dry Ridge, P. L. Hamlett of Dayton and Synthia E. Reiney of Alexandria, as committee.

Northern-Central Kentucky, with A. B. Crawford LaGrange as chairman of the committee.

Louisville District, with H. B. Moore, Principal of Girls' High School, Louisville, E. E. Bratcher, Superintendent of Schools of Taylorsville, and J. M. Muntz, Principal of Shelbyville High School, as committee.

Central Kentucky, with J. P. Boling, Superintendent of Schools at Campbellsville, Neal A. Ransom, Superintendent of schools at Hodgenville, as committee.

Hardinsburg-Leitchfield District, with Fred Shultz, Superintendent of Schools at Hardinsburg, John C. Pirtle, Superintendent of Schools at Elizabethtown, and Miss Mary E. Marks of Hartford City Schools as Committee.

Bowling Green District, with D. Y. Dunn, Superintendent of Schools at Cammor, J. Howard Edgerton, President of Ogden College, D. H. Lyon of Franklin City Schools, and Miss Mary Moss of Horse Cave High School, as committee.

Owensboro-Henderson District, with Clarence Clark, Principal of Madisonville High School, J. D. Chambers, Superintendent of Providence Schools, and J. O. Levis, Principal of Owensboro High School as committee.

Hopkinsville District, with J. C. Waler of Hopkinsville, as chairman.

Western Kentucky, with Kenneth Patterson, Superintendent of Schools at Mayfield, O. J. Jones, Superintendent of Schools at La Center, and Miss Sadie O. Miner of Paducah High School as committee.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS FEATURED IN COURIER

Pictures of Misses Woods,
Morse and Ed Gregg given
Prominent Places

The Kernel is gratified to note the publication in the Courier-Journal Sunday of pictures incident to the recent entertainment of the legislators in this city. The picture of Mamie Miller Woods is printed under the superscript "A Modern Cinderella" and reflects the attractive young University student in a bewitching pose, although she appears in the tattered garments that her part of the poverty-stricken Miss University of Kentucky called for.

Under the picture the Courier publishes the following:

"Dressed in rags, while her sisters wore silks and satins, Miss University of Kentucky paraded her woebegone condition before the eyes of the State Legislators when they were guests at the University's Valentine party this week.

"Miss Mamie Miller Wood of Lexington, student, portrayed the 'Cinderella' of the nation's State universities.

"The other universities were represented by girls dressed in varying degrees of splendor.

"The Legislature was asked to play the fairy godmother and relieve 'Cinderella's' financial plight."

Another striking picture was that posed by Eleanor Morse and Ed Gregg in a large seal of Kentucky in which those two popular students represented the figures, clasping hands under the talismanic legend "United We Stand, Divided We Fall." The interesting feature about this posture was that unlike the figures in the State seal, one is represented by a woman, Miss Morse, giving new emphasis to the fact that under suffrage the woman now takes her stand alongside man.

Under this picture in the Courier Journal appears this subcript:

"When the Kentucky Legislators accepted an invitation to visit the University of Kentucky last week, they were entertained by a series of tableaux designed to impress the need of sufficient funds for the university.

"One of the most striking tableaux was that posed by Miss Morse of Lexington and Edward Gregg of Louisville, students, framed in a setting symbolizing Kentucky's motto of 'United We Stand; Divided We Fall!'

"The tableau provided spontaneous applause from the Assemblymen."

Albright: "Wouldn't she Rockefeller?" Gibby: "I never Astor."

KENTUCKY WILL HAVE PHI UPSILON OMICRON

Chapter of National Home Economics Fraternity to Be Installed Here

Miss Ruth Lindquist of Chicago, secretary of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national Home Economics honorary fraternity, and Miss Elsie Steiger of Columbus, Ohio, will come to Lexington Friday to install a chapter of the fraternity at the University.

Initiation will take place Sunday afternoon at the home of Dean Thomas P. Cooper. The initiates are members of the local Home Economics Honorary Society for senior girls which has existed on the campus for nearly three years. The active members are Fannie Heller, Elizabeth King, Bernice McClure and Pearl Morgan.

In addition to the active members, many alumnae members are expected to return to the University to be initiated. The alumnae of the local are Misses Virginia Craft, Mary Burrier, Katherine Christian, Bertha DePew, Marie Barkley, Elizabeth Threlkeld and Anne McAdams Lexington; Misses Louise Mayer, Mary Turner, Lucille Blatz, and Hannah Weakley, Louisville; Miss Maude Asbury, Burlington; Miss Grace Maxwell, Mount Sterling; Miss Kathleen Brand, Mayfield; and Mrs. D. Y. Dunn, Dexter.

Saturday afternoon Miss Maybelle Cornell, head of the Department of Home Economics, who is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron fraternity, will entertain with a tea at the practice house in honor of Miss Lindquist and Miss Steiger. All students and faculty members of the Department are invited. Receiving with Miss Cornell will be Miss Lindquist, Miss Steiger, Mrs. O. B. Jessen, Misses Virginia Croft and Fannie Heller.

Saturday night the members of the active chapter and alumnae will entertain with a banquet in honor of Miss Lindquist and Miss Steiger.

"SPIRIT OF WASHINGTON," FOR- TUNES SUBJECT IN CELEBRATION

fused remuneration for his services and Christian Church, the speaker of the morning, was then introduced by President McVey and delivered an inspiring address on "The Spirit of Washington."

Doctor Fortune said, "We should turn our faces toward the future but should not forget the past. There are just as many great men living today as have lived, although we see them as mere pygmies or politicians while we look backward and see patriots, statesmen and leaders.

"The men and women of our colleges today are our leaders for tomorrow, and there is something in the past which they need. We Americans have entered into a great heritage, citizenship in the United States. But it is not territory, wealth, military power of the United States which makes our nation great. Ours is a nation of ideals inspired by a spirit that has come down from the past. We have inherited this spirit from our great leaders and the greatest of these was Washington. We need the celebration of his birthday to recall to us the ideals for which he stood.

"George Washington made his great contribution in peace rather than in war. The greatest moment in the history of this country, one of the greatest in the history of the world, was the moment when Washington was chosen unanimously President of the United States. It marked the beginning of an experiment in Democracy; George Washington was to map out a course in a new form of government.

"George Washington contributed the spirit of a high type of American citizenship. He was a broad man himself, his ideals being instilled in his early life. A high type of citizenship is the foremost need of our nation at this hour and we Americans cannot reflect too often upon the life and character of Washington as a model. He contributed unselfish love for his country. He rein spite of his love for his home at Mount Vernon, he did not put his foot on its doorstep for seven years because his country needed him in its service.

"America needs more of this kind of spirit today, likewise a spirit of obedience to law which Washington emphasized in his life. George Washington contributed Americanism. The last address he made closed with these words, "Be Americans'. Whatever our attitude toward other nations may be, we must not forget our ideals created in the past. May we go out in touch with that great personage of the past who was the first American."

The exercises closed with the band leading the singing of "The Star Bangled Banner" followed by the Benediction by Doctor Ward.

Legislator Pledges Aid

Pledging his friendship to the University, the Rev. C. D. McCaw, representative in the General Assembly from McCracken county, addressed the Lexington Alumni Club at a meeting February 18 at the Lafayette hotel. Representative McCaw took the place on the program of Dean P. P. Boyd, who was to have spoken on "The Relation of the Alumni to the University," but who gave way to the visitor.

The legislator, a graduate of Transylvania College in the class of '99, addressed the McCracken county club at Paducah "Kentucky Club." He was the guest at the luncheon of James Park, '15, representative from Madison county. Mr. McCaw is a friend of Prof. W. E. Freeman, class of 1900 at Transylvania. Music was furnished by the University Glee Club quartet.

Plans for a "University Night" some time during the spring to bring together at a dinner all men and women now living in Lexington who ever attended the University, were discussed at the meeting. Another project discussed which will be taken up at a later meeting is an entertainment for all high school seniors from both city and county high schools some time during the spring.

The regular meeting of the club is the second Saturday in the month, and the next luncheon will be held March 11, the place and program to be announced later.

Personnel of various committees, the Chairmen of which were given in the previous issue of the Kernel, was announced by W. C. Wilson, '13, the president, as follows:

Membership—Pearl Bastin, '16, vice-president, chairman; Nancy Innes, '17; Howell Spears, '07; Laura Steele, '16; Austin Lilly, '19; Viley McFerran, ex; Bart Peak, '17.

Activities—Marie Barkley, '20, secretary, chairman. The personnel is to be announced in a few days and a special program prepared for each meeting.

Publicity—Healdy Shouse, '19, treasurer, chairman; William Baughn, ex-'16; Telford Wilson, '18; Dorothy Widdleton, '20.

Athletics—Dr. E. C. Rillioit, ex-'20, chairman; George R. Smith, '15; Guy Hugelot, '14; R. S. Webb, '11; Joe DeLong, ex.

Kernel Takes Precedence

The Kentucky Kernel is always welcome in the mail of E. A. Blackburn, '16, district sales manager in Houston, Tex., for the Delco Light Products Company, he says in a recent letter. His home address is 209 Drew Avenue.

"Atta Boy! Up and at 'em," Blackburn exclaims by way of salutation. "Have been following closely your efforts in behalf of the University appropriation through the columns of the Kernel. Doubt if in the history of the institution an effort as intensive has been made to secure for the University what it deserves."

"The Kentucky Kernel is always welcome in my mail and generally takes precedence over everything else in the attention it receives. Names with which I am familiar always give me a thrill so I say more power to the alumni section."

"Recently in a copy of the Kernel I noticed that C. S. Rainey, '15, reported that he was located in Houston. Immediately I got in touch with him and over luncheon at the University Club we renewed old acquaintances."

"From time to time a Kentucky man drops into Houston but judging from the alumni directory I am the only one who seems to be a fixture. Am unable to account for this lack of appreciation of the premier city of the Southwest among Kentucky graduates. Evidently the mechanics are not familiar with the possibilities of Texas oil industries."

"Have met Paul Hite, W. T. Radford and Kibby Hutchinson here at different times. Have been trying to persuade Chink Clore to connect with the Sugarland Industries near Houston. Perhaps if I am persistent enough we may yet be enabled to organize an alumni chapter here."

"Regardless of the intervening thousand miles and the six years of absence I still retain vivid recollections of Old State. With the organized power of the alumni behind the University it is just a matter of a short time until anything which contributes to its growth and betterment will be attainable."

During the war Mr. Blackburn was a lieutenant in the army. Upon graduation he was connected with the Rapier Sugar Feed Company in Owensboro, and after having been discharged from the army went, in January, 1921, to Houston.

Madison Boyd Jones, class of '94, now an attorney at Los Angeles, has been urged by the Democratic club of that city to stand for governor of California at the next election, according to word received by Prof. J. R. Johnston. The message was contained in a recent issue of the Clendale Evening News, Los Angeles County, a copy of which has been received by Professor Johnston. Mr. Jones was class orator, valedictorian and is a charter member of the Sigma Chi fraternity and was a commandant of cadets during the Spanish-American war. Many men who have made names for themselves were graduated from the University '94, including John T. Faig, now president of the Ohio Mechanical Institute, Cincinnati; Lieutenant Commander A. C. Norman of New York, who is connected with the Coast Guards service, and Major Leonard Hughes of Fort Rosecrans, Cal., who was with the Barrow hospital unit during the war.

Making "Monkeys" of Us
"We've all got to get to work to keep from being made 'monkeys' of," M. L. McCracken, '16, a life member of the Alumni Association, writes from Paris, Tenn.

"Enclosed please find my check for $2" he wrote. "As I am a life member of the association use this for a year's dues for some other chap, where you think it will do the most good. Now is the time we must all do something to keep from being made 'monkeys' of. There is no better way than by sending the Kernel on its way with the force of student and alumni opinion behind it. Please see that my address is changed from Louisville to 301 Caldwell street, Paris, Tenn." He is agricultural agent for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company. On his graduation Mr. McCracken was manager of the Long Lane Farm at Jeffersontown, Ky., and later was county agent at Hartford, Ky., for Ohio county. Last September he went with the General Immigration and Industrial Bureau of the L. & N., and recently was transferred to Paris, Tenn.

Paper Causes Discussion
Tyler Watts, '14 graduate of the College of Engineering, read a paper before the Association of Iron and Steel Electrical Engineers at Cleveland, O., February 13. When he left college he went into Tube Company, Youngstown, Ohio, and has been with the Otis Steel Company at Cleveland, O., for about two years. The paper he read was on "Fuel Gases and Their Use in Iron and Steel Plants," in which he took up in detail a subject of which he has made a study for several months. Copies of the paper were distributed prior to the meeting to engineers in Pittsburg, Youngstown and Cleveland and elsewhere, and a number of written discussions were read at the meeting and a large number of those present discussed the points set forth in the paper. Mr. Watts has recently undertaken graduate engineering work and has submitted the paper as the first draft of his thesis. His home address is 3275 Desota avenue, Cleveland.

What Is Water Japan?

JAPAN—not the country but a metal-coating varnish—and your morning bottle of milk. Totally unlike, yet associated!

Ordinary japan consists of a tough, rubbery, tar-like "base" and a highly inflammable "solvent." The solvent dilutes the base so that the metal may be coated with it easily. The presence of the solvent involves considerable fire risk, especially in the baking oven.

Milk is a watery fluid containing suspended particles of butter fat, so small that one needs the ultra-microscope to detect them. An insoluble substance held permanently in suspension in a liquid in this manner is in "colloidal suspension."

The principle of colloidal suspension as demonstrated in milk was applied by the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to develop Water Japan. In this compound the particles of japan base are colloiddally suspended in water. The fire risk vanishes.

So the analysis of milk has pointed the way to a safe japan. Again Nature serves industry.

Connected with the common things around us are many principles which may be applied to the uses of industry with revolutionary results. As Hamlet said, "There are more things in Heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy."
