Inclement Weather Hinders Track Men as First Dual Meet Nears

With the first meet of the season just a week off Coach Bernie Shively's Wildcat track squad will have to put in an intensive week of training if they are to be ready for their test against the University of Louisville April 9.
Many of the men were in excellent shape last week but the inclement weather has slowed up the work for conditioning and few of the athletes are ready to participate in their respective events. Only one mishap has appeared in the ranks of the track squad this season. The usual crop of sore muscles and bad ankles have made their appearance, but have all responded to treatment and the squad is apparently in fair physical shape. The sole accident happened when John Carter, promising sophomore quarter-miler, slipped and fell on a turn that was not covered with cinders and received several painful cuts and bruises. He is expected to suffer no ill effects from his fall and is continuing to practice daily.

Last year's undefeated squad was supreme in the track events and very weak in the field events such as the shot put, discus throw and high jump. In each of these events new men have shown up who have bettered the work of last year's performers. John Mains, stalwart shot-putter, has bettered the University record of 42 feet four inches in practice, having flipped the iron ball 43 feet, six inches. Epps, an older shot-putter, who was out last year with a broken arm, is showing form and both these men should place in the majority of the meets this year. Epps and Andrews will throw the discus this year and both should be better than last year as they have tossed the ancient disk more than 120 feet.

Two veterans are on hand for the pole vault in Porter and Hubble who do around 11 feet. The javelin throw is one of the weakest events on the program as only Kelly is returning from last year, but Heiber and Heiber are expected to add strength to this event. Scaley Roberts and Miller are looking very good in the high jump. Roberts is doing the best work since he has been a member of the Varsity track squad the coach said, and has reached 5 feet, 10 inches easily in his early trials.
Kelly is the sole candidate at the present for the broad jump but he holds the University record, he is sure to take first place in several meets this season.
All of the runners from the sprints to the distance men are in good shape. Captain O'Bryant again heads the list of milers, with Baker and Hickey staging a stiff fight for the other miles' place. Hooker Coffman and Baker are all going for in the two-mile grind. The addition of Carter to the 400 yard dash men has made this event one of the best taken care of of all. Heiber and Kelly will again represent the Cats in the century dash; while Ball, a sophomore, will run the 220 along with Kelly.

The loss of three hurdlers from last year's squad is probably the greatest loss suffered as the newcomers need much practice and instruction. Emmerich, veteran from last year, will run both the 220 yard low and the 120 yard high hurdles. Carl Hand, a newcomer, and Davis will participate in the low hurdles while Hand and C. Coffman will be the other Wildcat entries in the high barriers.

Little is known about the Louisville track aggregation, but that institution invariably turns out a balanced team and Coach Shively is looking for stiff opposition when his men oppose the visitors. In Bunk the visiting squad has a man who is a crack half-miler and miler. He was seldom defeated last year and is reported to be even better this year.
Coach Shively issued the call for freshmen track Tuesday and only 14 youngsters answered the call. This is the smallest number of freshmen track men to report in many years and Coach Shively asks that all freshmen who can run or want to try to run report to him at the track on Stoll field between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Golf Team Holds Meeting, Practice
Golf at the university got off to a good start yesterday afternoon when Coach J. C. Jones, director of the ancient scotch game, met the candidates in his office and concluded with a brief practice at the Piedmont Golf Club.
The schedule is at present incomplete, but six matches have been scheduled with Ohio State university, University of Dayton, and Xavier University. Two matches will be held with school at home and one on the opponents' grounds. Two matches will be held with school at home and one on the opponents' grounds.

Bill Lusky and Ken Larmee, last year's lettermen, were lost by graduation, but several talented stars will be on hand to replace them. The veterans John Busky, Hogan Watson, and Bill Merdeth are expected to be better than ever with stiffer opposition than that of last year coming from Bob Hickey and Fred Hartwick, who play in the lower eighties consistently.

Survey Conducted On Gaining Weight

College life is conceded to be trying on the average female constitution, especially where night life prevails, and the din of merriment and enjoyment is ever present. However, according to a survey made recently at a college for girls, this fact is opposed somewhat by the actual gaining of the average group.
Statistics concerning underweight students at the college have been combined recently following a three-year study by Miss Agnes Murphy, associate professor in the department of physical education. The results show that when emphasis is placed on gaining weight in the class work there was a greater gain than when the emphasis was placed on some activity such as swimming or dancing.

In the fall of 1929 and 1930, 294 girls gained on the average of 6.8 pounds when the emphasis was placed on the study of personal health, habits, knowledge of foods and the reasons for gaining. In the fall of 1929, 300 girls, who were at least 7 per cent underweight and who had participated in sports, dancing, and swimming, gained on an average of 4.1 pounds. This fall girls who were put in individually gym participated in golf as the main activity. Their average gain was 4.1 pounds.

University Baseball Players Will Play With Local Club

Stanley Bach and several other University baseball players will play in the Blue Grass semi-pro baseball league this year. It was learned yesterday from the management of the Lexington Eppings, members of the newly formed league.

The discontinuance of the diamond sports at the university led the athletes free to play with any independent team they desired. Along with Bach it is expected that Kreuter, Toth, Westington, Johnson, and others will play here this summer.
Former university ball players will also play on the local teams this season as Raymond Rhodes, Diederick Barnes, Ken Mauser, Baldy Glib, and Johnnie Cole are veteran members of the local summer pastimes.
"Pug" Bach, former Piedmont High school athlete, has received offers from the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees, but told their representatives he was unwilling to stop his collegiate career just now, but will consider their offers when he finishes his collegiate course in two years.

School Executives To Hold Meeting

A meeting of the Blue Grass executives' club will be held at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night, April 5, at the Phoenix hotel, Lexington, at the school superintendents and principals of central Kentucky.

The program: Community singing—led by Supt. J. W. Ireland, superintendent of public instruction, Frankfort.
Address, "My Most Difficult Problem," Mr. A. M. Shelton, Scott county superintendent; Mr. W. M. Wesley, superintendent of Indiana grade schools; and Mr. E. B. Whalin, principal Corinth High school.
Address, "Our New School Legislation in Operation—Mr. O. J. Jones, state department of education.
Address—Dr. Raymond A. Kent, president University of Louisville.

Kentucky Educators Will Formulate Tests

Dr. J. B. Miner, member of a committee on cooperative testing, will attend the meeting of the Kentucky Educators' association to be held in Louisville April 13, 14, 15 and with other members of the committee will submit tentative plans for the official approval of high school principals.

The plans in view include the standardization of psychological tests on college freshmen during the year 1932-33, with the purpose of giving similar tests to seniors in high school the next year. The purpose of these tests will be to aid students in choosing their vocations.
During the latter part of April representatives from psychology departments in the colleges of Kentucky will assemble and will develop the tests, which will be given in September to all freshmen entering any Kentucky college.

For the second time in their two year's existence the Grand Slams, independent intramural basketball team, won the university championship.

Members of the Grand Slam organization feel hurt because no mention has been made of them before this time, but it shouldn't worry them much.

The hop, step and jump event is rarely seen, as it is never used in collegiate competition. The event calls for a running start as in the broad jump but the contestant takes off for this hop on either right or left leg and lands on the take-off leg.

Speaking of 440 yards recalls that Ben Eastman, running for Stanford, broke the world's record in that event last week. He sped across the oval in 46.4 seconds to beat Ted Meredith's 16 year old record by one full second.

Coach Adolph Rupp after signing a new contract with the university for two more years, announced that the terms were satisfactory and that he was well pleased. So are we!

Rupp came here from Freeport, Illinois, two years ago and faced a dismal year. Johnny Mauer, formerly head coach of basketball, had taught his boys a slow breaking game, which was quite opposite from the style of play Rupp advocated.

Coach Rupp has been to Chicago where he attended a meeting of the basketball coaches who gather annually to change rules, etc. At this year's meeting ends they claim to have done something big in an effort to eliminate "stalling".

Monday afternoon Track Coach Bernie Shively and I were talking before he attended a meeting of the basketball coaches who gather annually to change rules, etc. At this year's meeting ends they claim to have done something big in an effort to eliminate "stalling".

There are two possibilities on the Kentucky squad, he claims. "Shipwreck" Kelly is one of the possibilities.

After a few weeks on and about the gymnasium, Rupp announced that he would be optimistic rather than pessimistic. But as he doubted his ability to come through, it was crucial spot for a coach just out of the high school league, but eventually the happy personality won through, and a team developed out of that optimism that went to the finals of the Southern Tournament only to lose in a heart-breaking 30 second melee.

A happy group of letter men, four of them All-southern, elected George Yates and Jake Bronston, All-southern, as co-captains for the succeeding year. Neither of the boys played a minute of the season.

After subtracting those luminaries what was there left? And the nine game schedule of the football team didn't help a minute for it held Johnson and Darty out of the practice sessions when they were needed on the hardwood floor.

But in the gym Rupp worked quietly and sincerely with the sole purpose of developing a team that withstand the assault of Georgetown and Carnegie Tech, games that were played within two weeks after the curtain fell on the football season.

From the first game to the last game of this season, the events are fresh in our minds, but few realize the stumbling block that Coach Rupp ran up against. DeMoisey, ineligible and no one ready to step in his place; the attack of flu just as a brilliant team was rounding out a brilliant season.

Now Coach Rupp faces his third season, the third attempt that is supposedly changing if the old German adage is o.k. Five men of this year's first team will return. And there are at least five or more men coming up, which will result in two excellent men for each position.

With substitutes for every position a team can afford to take the triple Rupp plans for next year. Very few of the games will be played on the local floor. Lexington fans have not been any too anxious to see them anyway, and now when they do play at home they should draw a crowd of eager fans to cheer for them.

blities and Harry Noble, a freshman track candidate is the other. Noble attended Kentucky after attending Berea High school where he established a high school record with the javelin that will not be broken soon. Last year he was ineligible, but he tossed a spear about 198 feet on one occasion, and was constantly dropping it in the 190's.

The hop, step and jump event is rarely seen, as it is never used in collegiate competition. The event calls for a running start as in the broad jump but the contestant takes off for this hop on either right or left leg and lands on the take-off leg; next he takes a monstrous step; not too long for it might throw him off balance for his jump, and then he jumps from the leg his step was completed with. The event takes a lot of speed, the momentum of which carries him over his hop and step and still allows him enough speed and snap to jump about 20 feet (if he is a champ). The hop averages about 16-17 feet; the step should be about 12 feet, and the jump 12-20 feet. The world record in the event is 80 feet and a few inches.

The third issue of the Kentucky Law Journal, quarterly publication of the Law College of the university, which was released April 1, contains articles covering many legal fields.

Thomas Reed Powell, professor of constitutional law at Harvard, discusses some problems of the United States Supreme Court in an article entitled "State Rate Regulation and the Supreme Court, 1922-30." Wendell Carnahan of the University of Louisville law school discusses Kentucky contract law in relation to damages for breach of executory contracts to convey land.
