Annual Farm Home Convention Scheduled For January 28-31

This year, in spite of the housing shortage, which has caused many universities to postpone any large meetings, the College of Agriculture and Home Economics will present the 35th Annual Farm and Home Convention. The convention begins at 9 a. m., January 28, and ends the afternoon of January 31. An important feature will be the Farm and Home Equipment Show in the Ag Engineering building. This show includes exhibits and demonstrations of latest electrical and gas equipment and water systems for farm homes, building and materials displays, farm machinery, labor-saving devices, gas and electric stoves, and an exhibit of DDT and corn-borer control, and the new two-man machine for housing tobacco crops.

by Orman Wright and Jim Wood (Staler From Various Sources) Some of the miscellaneous exchange publications which end up lastweek and torn in The Kernel newsroom each week may not be pure works of art, but they do reflect the lazier views of student minds on many campuses over the nation. We take pleasure in presenting some of the dirtier work of art which course we know that UK students would never think of such things. Heaven forbid!

Some more doggerel from the Spartan: A young mother had just unbundled herself and told her son the facts of life. At the end she said, "Now, if you want to know anything, ask me." The boy appeared to be in serious thought, then turned to his mother and said: "How do they get the Saturday Evening Post out on Wednesday?"

The Cook And The Statesman By Joan Harward I'm only a cook and not clever, that's true. But if I were a statesman, I'd know what to do. When you're making a cake it's ingredients that tell. We must make our world cake from ingredients with legs. But we can't make a good one by using bad eggs. Old ingredients would only produce a stale cake. And result in the self-same oldworld tummyache. So the obvious thing for the statesman to do is to change the ingredients I'd say, wouldn't you? You and I are the butter and sugar and flour

Basketball Seating Plan

"Early birds at the Kentucky basketball game definitely haven't been getting the worst" that seems to be student opinion.

Complains have come from several students that even if a fan arrives at the gym at 7:30 he has no better chance of getting a "good seat" than one who arrives at game time or even after the game has begun.

Some top-row sitters feel they have been mistreated when they see students arriving late and being seated in the lower sections, when the only seats available five minutes before were those in row 25.

An investigation of the inevitable other side reveals that the athletics department has made an honest effort to seat students fairly—those who come first in the best seats.

According to general opinion, the best seats in the gym are those in the center just above the rail, and the early arrivals get these. Those coming very, very early are seated in box seats. For instance, let's take the east side of the gym. Sections D, E, and F. The seats behind the rail are in section E. Then the next best seats are those on each side of E, from the middle of sections D and F over to E. Third best are those beside the rail in the bleacher seats. Fourth are the ones next to the walls on the outside sections above the rail and the ones nearer the top of the gym. Fifth—and these are considered so because they are impermanent seats and sitting in them necessitates having one's knees in someone's back and someone's knees in one's back—are those which are nearer the floor. That's why you see late-comers sitting in the lower-row seats.

A considerable amount of time is spent in arranging the seat stubs so that all this will be in order, and the men at the door try to do all they can to keep order in the seating arrangement. No one can deny that the present plan at least is better than the one used last year by which seats were handed out at random and anyone sat anywhere regardless of his ticket.

Apparently it's a choice of the two evils—last year's system, which never assured anybody of anything, and this year's which at least eliminates most of the confusion. If you happen to be unlucky enough to get in where the top sections are filling up, pray for rain and better luck next time.

As we think it was Lincoln said, you can't please all of the people all of the time; it's enough to please some of the people some of the time.

Bands 'n Stuff

by Charles Whaley Frankie Clarke gets the vote as the top band of last year, according to the BILLBOARD. His Columbia records "Runners Are Flying," and "Oh! What It Seemed to Be" out-sold all others. In second place was Freddy Martin, who had three top discs in "To Each His Own," "Symphony," and "Don't What Comes Naturally." Following in order of popularity were Sammy Kaye, Eddy Howard, Kay Kyser, and Vaughn Monroe. Notably absent from the list were the Downers, both Tommy and Jimmy, and Woody Herman.

Gaining steadily in popularity is the tune, "Anniversary Song" which was featured in "The Johnson Story." The melody is taken from a theme of "Danube Waves," a classic by J. Ivanovitch. The popular version was done by Al Jolson with the help of Saul Chaplin, a professional who turned out "I Should Care" and "No recorded versions are available yet."

Jazz tunes are noted for their unique names. Latest titles to be waxed are "O' Man Rebel," "Snake Pit," "Low Plane," "Allen's Alley," and "Anthropology."

"Pit" is by Leo Watson on Signa nature. The others are done by Dizzy Gillespie and Coleman Hawkins on Victor.

Many of the national fraternities will chapter on our campus next year. Among prominent alumni, names mentioned were Delta Tau Delta, Hoagy Carmichael was a Kappa Sigma; Randy Vail was a Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Kay Kyser, Johnny Long, Griff Williams, the late Glenn Miller, and Howard Barker were Sigma Nus; and Woody Herman was a Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Four tunes from "The Time, The Place, and The Girl" seem to be headed for the big-time. "A Gal in Calico" has already made the Hit Parade, and "Through a Thousand Dreams," "A Rainy Night in Rio," and "Oh, But I Do" are among the songs with the greatest radio audiences.

Look for show tunes—that is, tunes from Broadway plays—to get more plugging now. A greater number of musical comedies is now on Broadway, and some of them have quite a few good songs in their scores.

"The Old Devil Moon" and "I'll Sing a Love" from "Pinjar's Rainbow" have been recorded by Charlie Spivak on Victor. Freddy Martin waxed "There's No Holding Me" from "Park Avenue." "Tomorrow Mountain" and "When I Walk With You" seem to be the top items in Duke Ellington's "Begonia Holiday." The "Happy Birthday" vehicle, "Happy Birthday" features the tune, "I Haven't Got a Worry in the World," which is getting quite a bit of play at the moment. Of course, "Call Me Mister," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Carousel," and "Oklahoma!" are still running, but their tunes have already reached the popularity peak.

Stan Kenton and his orchestra, who play here at the SUB January 25, will be entertained with a buffet supper, following the dance by Sigma Nu fraternity. A good gesture of Kentucky hospitality.

Shadows

"Guilty of inciting a riot and disorderly conduct," barked the judge. Thus ended the first episode of a new anti-Nazi, anti-Jewish secret organization calling itself Columbians, Inc. What brought on the charge? A Negro family was moving into a home recently vacated by a white family when a group of outraged table-rousters attempted to stop them. Fortunately, the Atlanta city police decided to resist the "pro-American activities" of this "American nationalist organization" and clapped the ring-leaders of the demonstration in jail.

Once more down South decent citizens are guiding themselves for a battle with an intolerant organization that believes itself to be pure American. A few years ago it was the Ku Klux Klan. Today it is Columbians, Inc.

Their leader, an obscure young organizer with the unheroic name of Homer Loomis, makes no bones about the organization's objectives. They wish to make the United States an "American nationalist state," which would require the deportation of all Negroes to Africa and Jews to Palestine, and would make America a "one-race nation."

It is doubtful if many Americans will take the Columbians seriously. It is doubtful if many Germans took Hitler's Brown Shirts seriously back in the early '20s.—From the University of Virginia College Topics.

High School Letters

Custom and what-have-you at the University lectures that men who won letters in high school sports take these letters off their sweaters when they come to college.

Seems that a letter worn on a sweater indicates allegiance to that school above all others, and when one comes to a university he is supposed to be adult enough to throw off "childish things."

Wearing of letters also isn't quite fair to those who have worked to deserve letters here at the University. So several persons have asked that men with high school letters on their sweaters remove the letters, please.

We wonder how many of the students who bought Hershey bars in the bookstore Wednesday realized that they were getting less chocolate for their inflationary nickels. As well as we can remember (having no old Hershey wrappers by which to check) a bar used to contain about 1 1/2 ounces of chocolate and from 6 to 8 almonds. We forgot to count the nut content, but the weight of the bar was only 1 ounce.

Now that the campus has been so brightly illuminated, campus courters are "Beginning to See the Light."

Wright or Wrong

On Monday morning I received one of those ominous summonses from the dean's office and went over Monday afternoon to see what was troubling them. I spent 15 minutes sitting before some bright girl explained to me that I was in the office of the wrong dean. However, this proper-ly I was waiting I picked up the new letter of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools which listed some college credentials for October, 1946, which seemed to be the latest data for which statistics are available. The figures proved to be very interesting. They listed the number of men and women in 1944 who could go in any other home on the campus, line the women up take your choice, and tell them to be ready in half an hour. Or if you wanted to be a piker and continue yourself to one woman. You could usually get by with telling her to be ready in fifteen minutes. These stories add particular poignancy to those statements all veterans make about losing some of their best years in the Army. But to get back to the present, the figures down further: I had a sonowadays getting a date in the course in college algebra once and I'll haven't gotten over it! 46% don't know your prospective date or 12,212 men are veterans, which very well, you have to get some means that nearly half of the student goes to school in Kentucky are veterans. Of the women, 206 are veterans and the other 9,167 that matter, neither do I.

This figure, 26,530, represents a gain over 1945 of 12,712, which means the golden age ended about a year ago last New Year's Eve. Enough of figures.

Those of us who fought the war in Texas and on other fronts have heard some of the amazing stories told by our more fortunate brethren. For instance, just the other day I heard a man swear that during 1944 you could go in any other home on the campus, line the women up take your choice, and tell them to be ready in half an hour. Or if you wanted to be a piker and continue yourself to one woman. You could usually get by with telling her to be ready in fifteen minutes. These stories add particular poignancy to those statements all veterans make about losing some of their best years in the Army. ### Wilson Books Moved Here

The University of Kentucky library has begun the task of transferring the books of the late Judge Samuel M. Wilson from his home and office to the University campus. The collection, left by the University when Judge Wilson died last October, comprises several thousand books and manuscripts principally on Kentucky history and the history of the Presbyterian church, but includes valuable early editions of classics of English literature dating from the early 17th century. Miss Jacqueline Bell, head of the University library archives department, said:

Judge Wilson's library will form a special collection. Miss Bell added, but it cannot be displayed now because of limited space. Plans are being formulated to provide suitable quarters.

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the University history department, Winston Coleman, and W. H. Townsend, are the literary executors of Judge Wilson's estate and are supervising the transfer of the Wilson collection. Cataloging must be completed within five years.

Judge Wilson, whose collection is one of the largest ever left to a library, was born in Louisville October 15, 1871, and attended Centre College, Williams College, and the Law School of Centre College. He was awarded an LL.D. by Transylvania in 1924.

His widow, Mary B. Shelby Wilson, is a native of Lexington and a descendant of Isaac Shelby, Kentucky's first governor. Judge Wilson, a lifelong book collector, practiced law in Lexington and taught law at Transylvania University from 1908-10. During the first World War he was commissioned a major and became judge advocate of the 77th Division National Army, first at Plattsburg, N. Y., and later in France. He received his honorable discharge in 1919.

He was awarded the Algeon S. Sydney Sullivan medal by the University in 1928. Judge Wilson was a member of many organizations, among them Kappa Alpha and Omicron Delta Kappa. He was the author of numerous books and magazine articles most of them dealing with Kentuckians.

Former UK Head Coach Is Speaker For Founders Day

Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, will be the principal speaker for the third annual observance of Founders Day at the University, on February 21. Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, UK vice president, has announced.

From 1913 to 1916 Dr. Tigert served as director of athletics and head coach at UK, and one feature of the Founders Day observance will be a luncheon at which members of the 1913 football team be coached will be guests of honor. A souvenir edition of the Kernel will be published, and a special radio program will be broadcast over 11 Kentucky stations.

In 1944, the Board of Trustees approved a resolution establishing Founders Day at the University, and directed that an appropriate program should be held on the campus annually to mark the event. Ordinarily February 22 is the date commemorated because on February 22, 1965, the General Assembly of Kentucky enacted a law creating the institution. The 1947 Founders Day observance is being held on February 21 as February 22 falls on Saturday, when convocation exercises cannot be held.

Charmers of Founders Day committees are: Program, Dr. Chamberlain and James W. Whitehouse; music, Miss Mildred Lewis; convocation, Dean W. S. Taylor and E. B. Parry; luncheon, Miss Helen King, Miss Jane Haselton, and Bernice A. Shriver; souvenir Kernel, Dr. L. Niel Plummer, Ezra L. Gillis, and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin; broadcast, E. G. Sulzer, H. H. Downing, Miss Margaret King, and Mr. Gillis; publicity, R. W. Wild.

Dr. Lincrome Elected To Medical Fellowship In Royal Society

Dr. David R. Lincrome, assistant professor of zoology, has received notification of his election to a fellowship in the Royal Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, London. It was announced this week. Considered one of the world's foremost organizations for the development and study of tropical medicine and parasitology, the English society has a membership of over 1,700 throughout the world. However, only about 100 United States citizens have been invited to membership.

Dr. Lincrome's lifetime appointment was recommended to the royal society by two Tulane professors, Col. Charles Franklin Craig and Prof. Ernest Carroll Faust, with whom he has been associated in past research and study.

The chief work for which Dr. Lincrome has been honored is his research and publication of findings in aspects of diagnosis of the disease, "Amoebiasis," a parasitic disease caused by a minute amoeba that invades the large bowel and sometimes other parts of the body, he explained.

Dr. Lincrome is a native of Chattanooga, Ill., and has been associated with the University department of zoology since September, 1941. He came to UK from Tulane university where he was an assistant in tropical medicine from 1937-41 and prior to this was an assistant in zoology at the University of Illinois in 1936-37.

He is a veteran of three years' service in the Army, the last year of which was overseas where he rose to the rank of major in the Sanitary Corps.

Lochner Talks On Germany

Louis P. Lochner, Pulitzer prize winner and former head of the Associated Press Bureau in Berlin, addressed an all-student convocation in Memorial Hall Tuesday, January 15 at 11 a. m. on the subject, "Germany, Democracy or Soviet State?"

Pointing out the conflict between Russia and the U. S. over Germany's political future, Mr. Lochner stated that we should change our approach to the problem "from a punitive one to a curative one" since "we are stuck with Germany whether we like it or not."

Mr. Lochner concluded by pointing out the uncertainty of Germany's future political status and called it "Germany's pivotal question of the hour."

Dr. McKee Speaks To All Engineering Assembly Today

Dr. McKee is to be accompanied by Mr. C. E. Pond, assistant superintendent of motive power for the Norfolk and Western railroad, who will present a supplementary move on the same subject.

Mrs. W. T. Lafferty lectured on "Robert's Rules of Order, and The Hoyle of Parliamentarians" at the annual Mortar Board Parliamentary Procedure conference for campus presidents and vice presidents, held Sunday.

The organization is composed of former Air Force men and teen age boys and girls interested in furthering the cause of aviation and national defense. It was formed shortly before Pearl Harbor as a section of Civilian Defense and performed many valuable services during the war. In 1943 it was transferred to the AAF as an auxiliary.

CAP Opens Clubhouse

The Civil Air Patrol has recently opened a new clubhouse in the rear of the Veterans' Administration building two blocks west of Broadway on Main street. This has marked the organization's greatest advance since it was reactivated in Lexington recently.

All University CAP members and former Air Force personnel are urged to attend the next meeting at the clubhouse Monday at 8 p. m. to acquaint the membership with the training program and the new commanding officer.

Recent activities include a joint AAF-CAP air show held last November and bingo parties held in the clubhouse for the purpose of purchasing aircraft and training equipment.

Up from the Ranks

These are presidents of operating telephone companies of the Bell System. They all started at the bottom of the ladder. . . Nine years ago the Bell System first published an advertisement like this, except that there are now thirteen new faces in the pictures. These new presidents also started at the bottom.

The Bell System aims to keep the opportunity for advancement open to all. One of its traditions is that its executives come up from the ranks. That has been true of the business for many years and nowhere is it better illustrated than in the careers of the men who now serve as presidents of Bell Telephone Companies. As a group, they have put in 611 years of telephone service, an average of 36 years each.

Second Round Monday In Pool Tournament

With the number of pocket billiards contestants cut down to 32, the second round of the tournament will begin Monday, January 20, in the game room of the Student Union building.

From the final entry list of 48 men, 16 men drew automatic byes to the second round while the remaining 32 are competing against each other for advancement to the second of the six schedule rounds.

Posted beside the pairings of the entrants on the game room bulletin board are the names, addresses, and phone number, if any, of all contestants. If after a consistent effort a participant is still unable to contact his opponent, he should report the fact to Mrs. Dorothy Evans in room 121 of the SUB.

All matches must be played off by the deadline date or forfeited. The deadline dates for the six rounds are as follows:

1st Round—Monday, January 20

2nd Round—Monday, January 27

3rd Round—Friday, January 31

Quarter-final Round—Tuesday, February 4

Semi-final Round—Thursday, February 6

Final Match—Friday, February 7

All matches will consist of the best two out of three games of continuous pocket billiards, with the referee posting the winner after each match is completed. Complete rules may be found on the game room bulletin board.

Barlow Wins Free Throw; 39 Runners Listed In Tourney

By O. C. Hayward
Bill Barlow, SN, did some sharp shooting at the basket and dropped through 62 out of 75 attempts Monday night to squeeze out first money in a close free throw contest that saw three boys go into extra work-outs, after trying at 46-ball in the original 50 throws.

The pressure was really on as Harry Gorham, SX, and pre-tourney favorite, and Bill Mayhugh, SN, missed only ten each over the two nights to end in a three way tie with Barlow.

It was just a case of Barlow being a little sharper Monday night missing only eight out of his 50. He marked up the lowest score of the three in Friday night's qualification throws with an even 20 out of 25, while Mayhugh pitched in 21 and Gorham missed eight and Mayhugh high six in the first 25 Monday night, thus the three-way tie. All three boys adjusted their sights for the additional ball, and Mr. Barlow singled the netting for 22, while his opponents made 21 each.

This left Mayhugh and Gorham tied at 61 each for the runner-up honors, and brought about another 25 shots for the two along with greatly increased pressure. However, both contestants held up nicely and calmly tossed in an additional 20 goals each to remain deadlocked at 81 out of a round 100. Both received runner-up medals.

Other Finalists
Seven others made a qualifying 17 or better in the Friday night portion of the contest and were on hand to pitch in the finals. Thel, SAE, chalked up a close 29 in the first overall 50; E. Siria, SN, 38; R. Pullian, ATO, 37; Gordon, Ind., 36; R. Worsler, Ind., 35; J. Stewart, ATO, 34; and C. Harris, SN, who withdrew with 28 out of 45.

The basketball tournament promises to be the largest in UK intramural history with 39 teams, 24 independents and 15 Frat. signed for action when registration closed. Because of the overwhelming turnout, many teams were unable to get practice dates at school and had to take to other hardwood courts around town to "limber up."

Barlow Wins Free Throw; 39 Runners Listed In Tourney

Play begins Monday on the round-robin basis, and McCubbin stated that schedules will be posted this afternoon on the intramural bulletin board. He said it will be necessary to have an Independent and Fraternity league, with the Frat league divided into two divisions, and the Independent league containing four divisions.

Referees Meeting Today
He also requested that all basketball officials report to the intramural office this afternoon at 3 o'clock for a general meeting and discussion of rules.

As for those fall tennis tournaments that were interrupted by the weather, McCubbin announced this week that finals will be played in the Women's gym in the very near future. As soon as a date can be scheduled, all contestants will be notified.

Universal Change For FM Stations Affects WBKY

The University's frequency modulation educational radio station, WBKY, will change its location on the FM band beginning with the evening program schedule, Monday, January 20. Elmer G. Sulzer, University director of radio activities, announced yesterday.

The station will abandon its present assigned frequency of 42,900 in favor of a new assignment of 44,500 kilocycles at the request of the Federal Communications Commission. Sulzer explained the change is universal since the FCC is clearing this section of the FM band for the use of other types of stations.

A further change in operation of the University station is pending. Approval was recently given WBKY to construct a new antenna in anticipation of an increase in wattage to 1,000 watts and a change of frequency to 91,300 kilocycles.

Jim Line, freshman sharpshooter, has tallied 80 points on his southeast efforts despite line errors in defense. Against Vandy he sparked the Wildcats to victory.

Return Of Hayes Helps UK Fencers Against Charleston

By Winfield Leathers

With the return of Stanley Hayes, former varsity member of Kentucky's fencing team, prospects have brightened for the thrusters against the Charleston, W. Va., fencers in Alumni gym at one o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Hayes, a leading saber man before the war, is still eligible for competition and will head the saber group which also lists Maine and Christian Hayes is also helping Coach Karl Holland to work the team into shape for Saturday's match.

Strong Charleston Club
Kentucky's club will be at a disadvantage in fencing their first post-war match, against the best team in this area, but Coach Holland says he expects the club "to make a creditable showing."

The semi-professional Charleston club, the top rankers in the south-eastern United States, will be host for a return match in Charleston March 1. Kentucky's last match was in 1921.

Kaufman, Brown, Thompson, and a fourth man to be decided will compose the foil team, while Brown is being called on for double-duty as he serves with Ungerleider and McGee on the Epee roster.

The public is invited to witness the first local match in five years, for which there will be no admission charge.

Raise In Subsistence Pay For Veterans Is KASV Subject

Problems of promoting a new state constitution and discussions on a raise in subsistence pay for student veterans will top a meeting of the Kentucky Association of Student Veterans to be held in Louisville on today and Saturday, KASV President Howard Bowles, Hazard, announced.

A state-wide committee composed of representatives of the KASV from each member school and headed by Robert Babcock, Harlan junior at UK, has been set up to study and promote the proposed constitution. Bowles disclosed. The association is on record, he said, as favoring the change and will head a report from its committee at the Louisville meeting.

The association also will discuss the possibilities of an increase in student veterans payments from $65 to $80 monthly for unmarried students and from $80 to $125 a month for married veterans under Public Law 348. Harry W. Farmer, regional manager of the Veterans' Administration, is scheduled to speak to the student veterans as will other leading and recognized authorities in various fields.

'Cat Cagers In Form Again, Win Over Dayton, Vandy

By Tom DeBlin

Kentucky's Cats are back in the groove, but definitely. The Dayton and Vanderbilt games proved this. In these two games the Wildcats scored a total of 152 points against only 58 for the opponents; the total for this season is now 1,035 markers scored by the Blue and White for an average of exactly 69 per game at the half-way point of the 1946-47 season. Opponents have averaged a feeble 35.8 tallies. The Kentuckians start the second half with a record of 14 wins and one loss (Oklahoma A&M).

The three high scorers on the Wildcats cage team are Beard with 172 points, an average of 11.4 per game. Next comes big Alex Groza with a 150 total, for a 10-point average. Ken Rollins, team captain, is third with 125, for an average of 8.3 markers each contest.

Rollins has set a new record here at Kentucky with his free throws. He has made in the last three games 15 straight charity tosses, two in the Ohio game; five straight against Dayton; eight for eight in the Vandy contest. He has now made 33 free throws in 29 tries for the season.

Kentucky 58, Dayton 29
The Ruppens showed much improvement over the Ohio U game in trouncing the Red and Blue quietest of Dayton University. It was victory No. 13 for the Cats.

More than 11,000 Nashville cage fans saw the much-respected Kentuckians start off slowly, but gain momentum as the game wore on. It was 9-7 early in the fray, but the Wildcats got hot and took a 28-7 lead and then 34-16 as the first half ended. The second half saw the Ruppens take a staggering 59-19 lead and as the final whistle blew the score was 82 to 30. All 16 men on the squad made the trip to Nashville.

Jones Most Valuable

"Wah-Wah" Jones was awarded the most valuable player trophy Wednesday. An all-south Central Press listing, Jones was named by a special pool of sports writers and coaches.

Currently performing on Coach Adolph Rupp's basketball team, Jones achieved a singular feat last year by his selection on both AP All-SEC grid and cage teams. An all-around athlete and only a sophomore, "Wah" has two years of competition left and is expected to headline for the undisputed All-American football team next fall.

University Purchases $7,500 In Surplus Office Equipment

The University has purchased and received an estimated $7,500 worth of surplus office equipment of closed Federal Government agencies in this region. Frank D. Peterson, University controller, has announced.

The entire inventory of closed OPA offices in the cities of Lexington, Covington, Newport, Maryville, Flemingsburg, Hazard, and Jackson, consisting of virtually every type of furniture and office equipment, was purchased from the United States Administration, he explained.

The usual 95 percent discount on government valuation was granted for the purchase of every item except typewriters for which only 40 percent discount was allowed, Peterson said.

"We consider it very fortunate that priority was granted the University to obtain this much-needed material. The greater part of the items are almost impossible to purchase on the open market at any price without a considerable delay in delivery," he added.

Purchasing Supervisor Ken Broome declared that the market valuation of the property would range in the neighborhood of $7,000 to $7,500, approximately $1,000 from each installation. Virtually all of the material is in good condition. Only a negligible quantity remains to be distributed to University departments.

Veteran's Disability Compensation Notice

Suspension of disability compensation payments will result for all Kentucky veterans who fail to report for physical re-examinations when notified by the Veterans Administration regional office. It was announced today by Dr. O. P. Miller, chief medical officer. He said re-examinations are scheduled periodically until it becomes apparent that no further improvement in the veterans' disabilities can be expected.

Dr. Miller also pointed out that veterans who have applied for disability compensation must report for physical examinations when they are scheduled, otherwise adjudication of their claims may be delayed indefinitely.

'Cats Meet Vols In Knoxville; Two Georgia Starts On Trip

Ruppmen Favored Against Tennessee, Tech, Georgia

By Baxter Melton

Kentucky, apparently out of a mid-season slump, displays its court artistry in Knoxville Saturday night against long-time rival, Tennessee. The Vol trip is the first on a three-game road trip that takes the Ruppmen to Atlanta for a tiff with Georgia Tech Monday night, then to Athens Tuesday for a melee with Georgia's Bulldogs.

Both Kentucky and Tennessee have been beaten only once, but the Wildcats have won 14 of the Vol's seven. The Mauserman lost to Long Island, 42-43, in New York's Madison Square Garden the same night that Kentucky topped St. John's, 70-50, in the windup of a team bill. Since then Coach Adolph Rupp's boys in Blue have lost their stride, but regained it, now appearing headed toward bigger and better things. The Tennessees met minor foes in early season, winning at ease, but have looked more potent in recent starts by stopping Duke, Mississippi State and Auburn.

'Cats Have Big Edge

In the matter of past records Kentucky holds a big edge, listing 28 victories in 38 tries against Ten-and Paul Warther, Covington. Bill Wright, Art Burris, and Dan Thomas are more basketballers. The Cats may remember after Saturday's game.

Most impressive was on Tennessee's record in its 33-47 net over Duke, favorite to win the Southern conference title and which drew much praise on an eastern tour last week. Prior to their Long Island loss, the Vols won four easy ones, routing Lincoln Memorial, 60-24; Milligan, 58-33; Tennessee Tech, 63-22; and East Tennessee Tech, 53-22. They came back from the Garden defeat to whip Duke, then nosed Mississippi State, 39-34, before bumping Auburn, 66-42.

Tech May Be Tough
In the Georgia attempt Kentucky's toughest try will probably be at Atlanta Monday night, for Tech rates as a "dark-horse" in conference. The Bulldogs at Athens shouldn't prove very tough, but can surprise. The team will leave this afternoon by bus for Knoxville, move to Atlanta Sunday, Tuesday the Cats move over to Athens, return to Atlanta after the game that night, come back to Lexington Wednesday.

Making the trip are Rollins, Beard, Groen, Holland, Barber, Trigg, Jordan, Lane, Cummins, Brannan, Jones, Campbell, McMillen, Barnstable, Parker and Davis.

The Jones Boys

The Kentucky-Tennessee game in Knoxville Saturday may develop into a court feud between the "Jones boys." Hugh Jones, brother of Kentucky's "Wah-Wah," is a reserve on the Volunteer cage squad, while Tom Jones acts in the rival renewal.

Hugh, 18 months older than "Wah," graduated from high school in 1942, two years ahead of UK's football and basketball star, but spent three years in the Navy before enrolling at Tennessee last fall. The brothers played together three years on grade school teams and then three more campaigns in high school. "Wah" a center, made the varsity while in the eighth grade. Hugh played at forward, stands six feet, two inches, but is lighter than Wallace. This will be the first time they have ever met as opponents.

nesse since Coach Rupp called his first bunch of basketballers to gather in Alumni gym 17 years ago. Last season the Baron's boys whipped the Vols twice, 60-49 and 54-34. Like his football brother, the Kentucky-Tennessee Thanksgiving extravaganza, however, a 'Cat-Vol cage clash is always good for thrills and spills, literally speaking.

A couple of Vols are back for another go against Kentucky, after military service. Dick Mochen, elongated center, was a Tennessee satellite before, has returned to the varsity, older, wiser and better. The tally totals he and his brother Bernie, 1942 graduate, achieved for the Vols are well remembered by the UK students here before the war.

Two Kentuckians With UK
Alternating at center with Dick is Marshall Hawkins, another big boy who can hit the hoop. Another veteran and old-time Vol is guard Ted Cook, of whom plenty will be seen Saturday night. Two Kentucky boys on the roster are Hugh Jones of Harlan, brother of "Wah-Wah,"

"Wah-Wah" Jones, soph star, will be playing against brother Hugh in the Kentucky-Tennessee cage Saturday night. All-SEC last year as a freshman center, he has been moved to forward recently to take advantage of his point potential, enable Alex Orsini and Bob Brannan to see more action at the pivot post.

MUSING with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

Memories of Kentucky-Tennessee basketball bouts of yesteryear are especially vivid to two members of Kentucky's football staff. Though Mike Baltisaris and Ernal Allen finished their careers five years ago, these two assistants well remember the eight games they played against each other when Ernal was a Wincoat forward and Mike a Vol guard.

Not only did they "play against against each other," but were assigned to stop the other's point production in each of those eight games. The years rolled on, now they are both assistants to "Bear" Bryant, sharing the same office in Alumni gym. Six times during the regular season and twice in conference tournaments the pairs were rivals on the hardwood. Mike chuckles when he reminisces that "All those years I wondered if Ernal could talk. We never even said hello to each other until I came here as a coach." "The Mighty Mite" also lets a good story. His father asked him last summer about the assistants Coach Bryant had named to help him put Kentucky on the football map. When informed that Baltisaris was one of them, the elder Allen said, "Boy, he's just a Tennessee scout."

Ernal Allen's football record at Kentucky is well known, his eligibility probably the most discussed topic in Southern football early last fall. Mike's grid history at Tennessee is equally brilliant, played an important part in the Vol's annual contention for SEC honors as well as their post season bowl appearances. He was an end, Ernal a back.

Kentucky won six of those eight meetings. Either of the two never succeeded in outscoring the other to any great advantage until one night in Knoxville, when Ernal totalled 17 points. In recalling that game, Mike concludes that "I just couldn't stop him. He was all over the floor." Kentucky won 36-33.

Whether the game is played with a piece of pigskin in an open field or a bit of cowhide on an inside court, there just naturally seems to be a bit of adage to Kentucky-Tennessee athletic get-togethers. Tennessee night's meeting in Knoxville will be the thirty-ninth between the Cats and the Vols since Adolph Rupp took over UK's basketball reins in the 1930-31 season. Though the Wildcats have won 28 of these, never does a renewal fall without the clientele, almost always producing a good ball game. In past years an organized group of backers has sat behind the Ken-

Look In "Life"

A story and pictures of Kentucky's basketball team is carried in the January 30 issue of Life magazine, which goes on sale at newsstands today. Written by Dave Zeltin with photographs by Ivy Reskin, the article tells the reasons behind Coach Adolph Rupp's coaching success, teaches his systematic scouting and preparation for opponents.

One feature that boosts the schools' hoop rivalry is Tennessee coach Johnny Mauser's stay at Kentucky before taking over down there. "Tas Mauser that Rupp succeeded in the fall of 1931, but Mauser went to Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, for seven years before moving to Knoxville in 1938. Thus, not only is there athletic rivalry that has a half-century background, but a coach trying to beat his old school. For the first four years—1939 through 1942—the quintets split season games but Kentucky won both starts in 1943, only to lose to the Vols in the conference journey finale. The Ruppmen and Mauserman never met in 1944, both playing abbreviated seasons because of the war, and since then Tennessee has won only one game from the Cats, that being in 1945. Last year Kentucky took both meetings in easy style.

That anything can happen is evident by the 1943 results, however, when Rupp's Raiders won both the scheduled starts, the last one by 53-29 just two weeks before the tourney; then fell 35-25, in that meet's finale.

No wonder the Baron is anything but optimistic in preparing for another Knoxville invasion for, as he says, "It's always a dog-eat-dog game."

Greenland is perhaps the coldest area with hard-boom names. Eric the Red explored its bleak coasts for three years and in 985 A. D. gave it a pleasant name to lure settlers to its shores.

Coaches Take Peek At Grid Newcomers

Football practice is underway once more on Stoll field, Kentucky's grid gallants hope to equal if not excel last fall's record of seven wins, three defeats. Twenty-one hopefuls began rehearsals Monday afternoon under the direction of end coach Mike Baltisaris.

Collegiates, fundamentals and "just flipping the ball around" share the athletes' attention. Over half the aspirants are newcomers who enrolled only this quarter. The coaches want a look-see at the new material, are also working out reserves from last year's squad.

Nothing in the way of organized practice is planned for Southeastern conference rules permit only six weeks of spring drills, and those will probably get under way in mid-March.

WAA NEWS

By Em Asbury

The undefeated "Chismourals" of the Women's athletic association swap hockey sticks for basketballs this week. Several members of last year's championship team have been lost by graduation and other ways, competition for places on this season's squad will be keen.

Inter-severity basketball practice is being held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3 until 4. Tournament plans are being worked out, and the date will be announced later in this column. Ten sororities will compete for honors in the round-robin affair. W.A.A. will not enter a team, Ruth Wilde, president, has announced.

This year will initiate the traveling trophy plan. Winners must win the trophy three times in succession for permanent possession.
