Strollers Expect S. R. O. House For 1919 Play

ENGINEERS MAY BE HOSTS TO UNIVERSITY

Picnic Contemplated For May 24 For Students and Faculty; Journalism Students to Take Outing Soon.

Catching step with the new order of things in the University of Kentucky, whose manifest and laudable purpose is to accentuate comradeship, departmental unity and college spirit, and at the same time relieve the tedium of continuous class work, two notable outings are in contemplation for the final weeks of the current semester for students and faculty of "Kentucky."

The College of Engineering is planning on May 24th, to charter a train and invite every student in the University, faculty and staff workers to the first picnic of so extensive a kind in the history of the institution. The objective in contemplation is either Natural Bridge or High Bridge, and a train, sufficient to carry all guests will be arranged for.

This is another one of the evidences of the propagation of the family idea among the students and faculty on the campus, and only one of the agencies for social intercourse which it is hoped may be employed in the future for the recreation of the student body of the University. These outings have been conceived with the express desire that students and faculty may become socially as well as academically better acquainted, and that the live spirits of various departments may be enabled to "kick up their heels" for one day of genuine recreation free from the restrictions of work-a-day convention.

The students and faculty of the College of Engineering are to be the hosts of the first-named picnic, and they expect to provide enjoyable stunts at the picnic grounds. They request that all personal schedules and dates be arranged to coincide with the most extensive picnic Kentucky Wildcats have ever known.

GYM CLASSES WILL MEET ON GRIDIRON

Athletic Director Boles is arranging an outdoor model playground for his "gym" classes. Spaces for volley ball courts and playground courts have been reserved on the gridiron near the entrance to Stoll Field. As soon as the weather permits all Physical Education classes will be held outdoors. Class work will include mass games, running, high and broad jumping, and volley ball.

OLD ENEMIES TO LOCK HORNS FOR ANNUAL DEBATE

The annual debate between the Union and Patterson Literary Societies will be held Thursday, May 8, in the University chapel. The debate will determine the possession of the Barker Trophy Cup for the forthcoming year.

M. C. Redwine and W. J. Kallbreier will represent the Patterson Society, and J. P. Barnes and Goebel Porter will represent the Union Society.

The proposition to be debated is the same as was discussed in the inter-collegiate debates: "Resolved, That the American System of Trial by Jury Should be Abolished."

SENIORS HONOR MEMORY OF FALLEN CLASSMATES

Arbor Day Exercises Impressive; Two Honorary Societies Pledge Members

The Arbor Day celebration of the class of '19, held on the campus of the University Friday, April 25, was this year a most impressive memorial service. The Senior tree was dedicated to five men of the class who have died since 1915.

Ellridge Griffith, who was killed in the accident following the Tug-of-war, and Stanley Smith, Louis W. Herndon, Aubrey Townsend and Chester Helm, who are represented with stars of gold on the University service flag, are the men whose memory was honored. The features of the exercises were the class oration by Lee McClain, the class prophecy by Mildred Graham, and the pledge ceremonies of the two Senior honorary societies, Lamp and Cross and Staff and Crown, which are annually held on the same day.

A large crowd assembled, in spite of the cool day. Headley Shouse, president of the Senior class, who presided over the exercises made the dedication address. Following his speech, each senior passed by the tree and threw a spadeful of earth upon its roots.

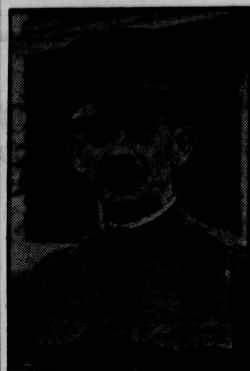

The memorial oration by Lee McClain on the men who have fallen over there followed. To make this living thing, not a cold stone, a sign of their sacrifice and our remembrance, was the theme of Mr. McClain's address. He then presented the spade to Ed Dabney, Junior orator, who as class representative, promised to honor the traditions of the former Senior classes. The clever class prophecy by Miss Mildred Graham followed.

The pledge services in front of the

CAPT. H. N. ROYDEN IS RETIRED FROM SERVICE

Former Head of Military Tactics in University Will Leave Lexington, But is Undecided on Future Home.

After nearly two years of service at the University of Kentucky as head of the Department of Military Science and Tactics, Captain H. N. Royden, retired U. S. Army officer, has retired from temporary active duty, effective April 30.

Captain Royden will leave Lexington in a short while, but he has not decided yet where he will make his future home.

Captain Royden was taken from the retired list in October, 1917, and stationed at the University of Kentucky as head of the Department of Military Science and in command of the battalion of cadets at that time members of the R. O. T. C. When the S. A. T. C. was organized at the University, Captain Royden was put in command of the corps and led it thru all its training. He was connected with the vocational camp conducted by the War Department at the University.

Last year when the influenza epidemic attacked the members of the S. A. T. C., Captain Royden took the situation in hand and brought the battalion thru the epidemic with a minimum loss of life, according to local authorities. He was in command of both the army and navy sections of the training corps from September to December.

The policy of the War Department now is to return to the retired list, all officers who were necessarily called into active duty in the recent crisis, and it is under this rule that Captain Royden will be retired after his successful work here. Captain Royden is succeeded by Major David O. Byars, a former Kentuckian, and a former student of the University, who arrived here about a month ago.

FRIDAY WILL BE "STROLER DAY" IN U. K. CHAPEL

Friday, May 2, will be Stroller Day, an annual event in the University calendar. Exercises will be held at the regular chapel hour at which "Food," an attractive one-act play by Cecil de Mille will be presented by two leading characters of "Under Cover," Gus Gay and Emery Frazer, together with Miss Christine Hopkins.

There is more than usual interest in the Stroller play this year and enthusiasm will culminate Saturday, May 3, when it is presented at the Lexington Opera House.

UNIVERSITY MAN CHOSEN HEAD OF NATIONAL BODY

Ezra L. Gillis, registrar of the University of Kentucky, was elected president of the American Association of College Registrars, Friday, April 25 at their annual meeting in Chicago. Professor Gillis has been the secretary of the association for the past six years.

The association usually elects the first vice president to the presidency, and advances each of the other officers

The election of Professor Gillis, consequently broke a long standing precedent.

One hundred and eight colleges and universities were represented at the association by their registrars. The other officers who were elected are:

A. G. Hall—University of Michigan, first vice president.

C. M. McConn, University of Illinois, second vice president.

C. S. Marsh, Northwestern University, secretary and treasurer.

VARSITY-ALUMNI WILL PLAY BASEBALL GAME

A baseball game between the Varsity and the Alumni of the University of Kentucky will be played on Stoll Field during Commencement Week, probably on the afternoon of Monday, June 16. It is not known who will compose the Alumni team, but the "old timers" are expected to give the Varsity a good fight.

"ELIZA PIGGOTT" SOLD

At Mr. Shelby T. Harbison's annual sale in New York, of Kentucky thoroughbreds, this season, Eliza Piggott, namesake of the Editor of the Kentuckian, was sold for $1,900.

"UNDER COVER" TO BE STROLLERS' BIG NIGHT

Cast in Top Notch Form For Tenth Production; Saturday Will be University's Own Day

TICKETS GOING FAST

(By Frederick M. Jackson)

The Strollers of the University will present their tenth annual play, "Under Cover," at the Lexington Opera House Saturday evening, May 3, at 8:15 o'clock. For two weeks, since the arrival of Carol M. Sax, professional coach and manager of the Vagabond Theater, Baltimore, rehearsals have been held twice daily in the afternoon and evening, and the cast is in excellent training for the stellar performance. Tickets are on sale by the Strollers of the University and at the Ben All Theater.

Under the direction of Mr. Sax, final rehearsals are proving that the cast selected to produce Megrue's impressive four-act drama is the best cast that could be found. Rehearsals have been held in the Opera House. New scenes and shifts painted by enthusiastic Strollers under the personal direction of Mr. Sax, who believes in the effect of clever settings will be used.

Final Rehearsals On.

Final dress rehearsals will be held Friday evening in the Opera House, with a line rehearsal, necessary to facilitate prompt entrance Saturday.

"University night" has become a fixed institution in the calendar of the University year, as each year the annual Stroller show occupies a more important place in the premier functions of the session. To the uninitiated Freshmen who have not had the pleasure of witnessing a Stroller production on Stroller night, let it be said that they should not miss one minute of the fun. Let it be the biggest get-together night of the year. No student of the University can afford to remain away; no student in former years who did stay away has failed to regret it, and no student who went to see the Strollers perform has been heard to express regret.

Get in Line Early.

It is hardly apropos here to urge the attendance of every student of the University; that is not necessary, but the Kernel takes this opportunity to warn all students that they may save themselves a great deal of regret if they get their seats reserved early. It is useless to tell the older students to get busy and "make that date." Most of them have done so already.

Cast An Able One.

The story of the play had best be kept for the acting, but a "behind the scenes" visit with the cast reveals interesting information.

Charming, of engaging personality, and possessing eminent ability, Miss Lucy Young, who has been chosen to play the part of Ethel Cartwright, the leading lady of the play, has been said to be one of the best "leading women" the Strollers have had. Miss Young makes her debut this season on the Stroller stage, but Stage Manager Creech and Mr. Sax, both agree that her rendering of the difficult role of "Ethel" is remarkable.

Emery Frazier, probably the best student actor the University has known for many years, is cast for Daniel Taylor, the "hard-boiled" detective of the play, who tracks down the guilty—but that's telling! "Frizzy" has had leading parts in all the Stroller plays since he entered school, and has also appeared in other amateur productions in Lexington. His works as John Burkett Ryder in "The Lion and the Mouse" in 1917, and as Lem Morewood in "Father and the Boys," the preceding season, was declared by many critics the best amateurs acting ever seen in the city.

Gus Gay, also of this city, has the other lead of the play, the part of Steven Denby. His commanding stature and striking stage presence, his former experience on the stage as a member of the Liberty Theater in Louisville, makes him well suited to the part assigned him. Gus played the lead in "Mice and Men," the Stroller's successful production last year and also held an important part as Jefferson Ryder in "The Lion and the Mouse."

Margaret Smith, popular co-ed of the Freshman class, acknowledged leader, promises to make a decided hit with the audience at her very first appearance. "Marg," with her attractive appearance, beautiful stage voice, superb acting and utter lack of self, handles the part of Nora Rutledge as well as a professional.

Eliza Spurrier, the most valuable Stroller of the organization, erstwhile president, booster and assistant all-round manager, a veteran of four years' experience, shows her remarkable talent in the part of Mrs. Harrington, the attractive hostess of the play. Miss Spurrier, utterly oblivious of her audience, plays her part as guardian of Michael's decanter and hostess to the house with remarkable ability. Miss Spurrier has had the distinction of appearing in the four annual plays of the Strollers, and in the three previous ones, has established an enviable record.

Lee McClain, business manager of the Strollers, stage manager of the successful 1918 production, has been assigned to the part of Michael Harrington, the jolly husband, who does love his "highballs." Lee, because of outside duties, felt constrained to drop out, but Mr. Sax on witnessing his interpretation of the part, insisted that he take the role.

"Bill" Baker, of Winchester, has been cast for the role of "Monty," the friend of the Harringtons. Bill shows a pleasing stage appearance and ability of acting and interpretation that has made him invaluable.

The Strollers are fortunate this year in having a group of excellent actors for the smaller parts in the cast, and it is expected that the work in the minor parts will be as good as that of the leads.

The part of Amy Cartwright, the "little sister" of Ethel, has been assigned to Mary E. James, who plays the part admirably.

Carlisle Chenault is another "catch of the season," who promises to make a decided hit with the audience. Though her part is much too small to show her true worth, she acquires herself creditably as Sarah Peabody, the society crook caught smuggling a valuable necklace thru the customs.

"Freddy" Augsburg, as "Peter," the office boy and Auryne Bell as Lambert, the butler, will bring many laughs with their clever acting.

Terrill Tapscott, as Harry Gibbs, promises not only to look the part, but to play it and to Duane Rogers goes the business of playing assistant to the Mighty Taylor. Rogers is a new Stroller, but in this part shows splendid histrionic ability.

REPUBLICAN CLUB HOLDS GET-TOGETHER MEETING

Robt. J. Raible Outlives Purposes of Organization—
Twenty-five Girls Are Present

The second meeting of the Republican Club will be held next Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. in chapel to elect officers. A rousing get-together meeting was held last Monday afternoon when much enthusiasm was shown. One of the features of the meeting was the presence of about twenty-five girls.

R. J. Raible, in a short address, said that the club was organized to give the men and women who profess to be Republicans a clearer knowledge of what the party stands for. University students, he continued, are expected to be leaders in every phase of their community life when they return to their homes, so it is essential that they really know what their own party stands for with reference not only to the national, but also the State and local issues. With this object in view two or three of the leading Republicans of this section will be invited to speak to the club with particular references to the coming election.

Faculty members, men, women, in fact everyone on the campus who believes in the principles of the Republican party are urged to be present at the forthcoming meeting Tuesday at 3:30 in chapel.

The officers and delegates were guests of honor at the dance on Friday evening at the University of Kentucky.

The distinguished guests was Thomas Argie Clark, worthy Grand Chief, dean of men, at the University of Illinois, and the first dean of men ever appointed in this country.

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY IS DEFEATED BY MIAMI

Grabfelder Justifies Faith of Kentuckians Counting For 15 to 31 Points Made

NEXT MEET AT GEORGETOWN

The track squad of Miami University defeated the University of Kentucky squad at a meeting held at Oxford, O., Saturday, April 26. The winning team made 84 points and the losing team 31. Authur Grabfelder, of Kentucky, was the star of the meet, winning first place in each of his entries. He broke the Kentucky record for the broad jump. Neal Knight also featured for Kentucky, winning the mile run against one of Miami's fastest men.

The University of Kentucky track squad is indebted to Authur Grabfelder for 15 of the 31 points won at the Miami track meet Saturday. Grabfelder, who is a Freshman in the College of Arts and Science, has made an enviable record in high school athletics. He was a member of the Louisville High School track squad for four years, during which time he broke two records—that of the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash. For these honors he was presented with two gold medals by the High School. In the meet at Miami Saturday Grabfelder won first place in every event in which he was entered, which were the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash and the broad jump. In the broad jump he made 21 feet 3 inches, which broke the record made in 1901, at the University of Kentucky when Aiford jumped 20 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Neal Knight was the only other Kentuckian to win first place at the Miami meet. In the mile run he was pitted against Miami's fastest man, and they ran neck and neck down the stretch, Knight winning in the last two yards. Knight won his "K" for his track work in 1917. He is a Junior in the Department of Engineering.

Al Kohn made a remarkable record at Miami, considering the fact that he has had very little practice this season. He is playing left field for the Wildcat baseball team, and has had very little time to devote to track work. He won second place in the 440 yard dash, and did well in the relay race. He is a Senior in Engineering, and is a letter man in both track and baseball.

F. W. Clare ran true to expectations, winning second place in the high hurdles and in the low hurdles. He was a member of the track squad at Culver Military Academy last year. Estes Snider proved a surprise in the high jump, winning second place. Earl Williams did not get a place at the meet, but fought hard for second place in the 100 yard dash.

The events, winners and records are as follows:

- 100 yard dash, Kentucky (Grabfelder), 1, Miami 2, 10 1-5 seconds.
- Pole Vault, Miami 1 and 2, 9 feet 3 in.
- Mile Run, Kentucky (Knight) 1, Miami 2, 4 minutes 57 seconds.
- Shot Put, Miami 1 and 2, 40 feet 7 in.
- 440 yard dash, Miami 1, Kentucky (Kohn) 2, 53 seconds.
- 120 high hurdles, Miami 1, Kentucky (Clare) 2, 16 1-5 seconds.
- High jump, Miami 1, Kentucky (Snider) 2, 5 feet 7 in.
- Discus, Miami 1 and 2, 112 feet 4 in.
- 220 Yard dash, Kentucky (Grabfelder) 1, Miami 2, 22 3-5 seconds.

880 yard run, Miami 1 and 2, 2:15.
Broad jump, Kentucky (Grabfelder) 1, Miami 2, 21 feet 3 inches.
220 low hurdle, Miami 1, Kentucky (Clare) 2, 27.

Two mile run, Miami 1 and 2, 11 minutes 13 1-5 seconds.
Javelin, Miami 1 and 2, 147 feet 4 in.
Meet Georgetown Next.

The University of Kentucky track squad will meet the Georgetown College squad on the Hinton Field track, Monday, May 5. Coach Gill has added several new men to the squad and expects to make a far better showing at Georgetown than was made at Miami last week.

New men who will go to Georgetown with the squad Monday are: Cameron, pole vault; Foreman, 100 yard dash, and 220 yard dash; Graham, mile and half mile; Porter, mile and half mile; Warth, low hurdles and shot put, and Baugh, discus, javelin and shot put. Old men who will go to Georgetown are: Grabfelder, Williams, Wilhelm, Snider, Kohn, DeBrovey, Knight, Gray, Gibbons, Baumgarten, Clare, Nicholson and Downing.

DEPAUW WILL PLAY WILDCATS THURSDAY

Thursday afternoon, May 8, the baseball team from Depauw University will play the University of Kentucky team on Stoll Field. Depauw will meet Centre at Danville on Wednesday. The visitors are reported to have a very strong team.

"KENTUCKY AS APPLE STATE."

N. R. Elliott, head of the Department of Horticulture, will address the Agricultural Society, Monday evening May 5, at 7:15 p. m. His subject will be "Kentucky as an Apple State." Before becoming head of the department, Mr. Elliott traveled for three years in the State for the Extension Department of the Experiment Station. He has also traveled for the Allen Nurseries of Rochester, N. Y. Mr. Elliott has a vast store of information for Come out to hear him.

INTERMURAL BALL GAME PLAYED ON STOLL FIELD

The first of a series of inter-mural baseball games will be played this week on Stoll Field diamond. The first game will be played Thursday afternoon, May 1, between the students of the College of Agriculture and the students of the Department of Engineering. The second game will be between Dean Lafferty's prize lawyers and the Arts and Science students. Any student is eligible for these teams who is not a member of the Varsity baseball team. Varsity "subs" are eligible.

CENTRE LICKS TRANSY

Centre College baseball team defeated Transylvania College team, by a score of 7 to 6, Saturday afternoon at League Park.

Chandler, pitching for the Crimson, outclassed either of the two Danville twirlers, but lost his game because of lack of support in the field. Chandler allowed eight hits, while the Centre College pitchers, Bishop and Roberts, allowed thirteen. Chandler was also credited with nine strike-outs, and the visitors with eight. Evidently Centre's fielding won the game for them. Centre's star in the infield was Whitmill, whose playing many times bordered on the spectacular. "Bo" McMillan, somewhat famous in collegiate athletics of the State, played second base and was able to secure two two-base hits.

Many members of the Wildcat squad saw the game at League Park, and have reported that Centre College will be "easy pickins" for Kentucky when the Danville team comes to Stoll Field, May 10. It might be advisable for the visitors to bring along more than two pitchers for the Wildcat game, as the fans here like to see interesting games.

MAKE IT AN S. R. O. HOUSE.

The Strollers, dramatic organization of the University, will give their annual play at the Lexington Opera House Saturday evening, May 3. The forthcoming event, the tenth annual offering of this excellent organization, will be the absorbing drama, "Under Cover," for the presentation of which has been engaged the best theatrical talent of the University, and by many said to be the best this interesting organization has yet been able to procure in cast.

The Stroller organization was introduced into the University in 1909, when a small group of students who had dramatic inclinations, decided that they would produce a play, tho there was the attending risk that they might have to pay the expenses of the production out of their own pockets. The play given by the charter members of The Strollers was "Brown of Harvard." It was a success from every angle. No play given by them since 1909 has failed to please.

Certainly "Under Cover" will be successful, The Kernel believing, in fact, that it will eclipse anything yet presented by these player folk, as it has been one of the most noteworthy dramas that has been offered in this country in the last ten years.

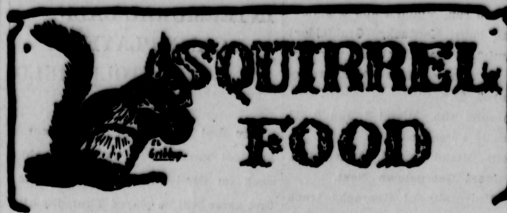

For the last several years, The Strollers have been known as one of the worthy and distinctively patriotic organizations on the campus. They are self-supporting in every sense of the word. From the proceeds of each play given during war years, they purchased Liberty Bonds. Tho their help was limited, the spirit in the giving was of the right sort.

"Under Cover" has been advertised widely. Already many inquiries have been made regarding the time when the tickets go on sale. Lexington and the surrounding towns will be well represented.

The Kernel sincerely trusts that every student in the University will see "Under Cover." In fact the Kernel firmly believes that all University students who can do so, will attend the 1919 play, for every student at Kentucky realizes the responsibility that makes him lend his hearty co-operation and liberal patronage to loyal University organizations.

In the years gone by it has been a custom to make "Stroll night" inspire "University night," to let Kentucky's spirit permeate the towns-people with an interest in the University, and particularly in the annual Stroller play.

Let 1919 be no exception to the rule. Let all of us who can, see "Under Cover." Make it an S. R. O. house. Let it be a genuine old time University night in Lexington and among the students of Kentucky.

The Kernel's Koachman observes that there are a number of young bloods roaming aimlessly about the campus who give one the impression that it would be merely wasting their time if they should eat brain food.

Chimes.

And honeyed phrases that you may sing;
But you will find your turtle dove
Can always hear a diamond ring.

All the professors know that there is a certain amount of bluff going on in their classes, but for goodness sake don't make the mistake of showing them your hand, for then the professor will never forgive you.

Some of the beauties on the campus are aware of the fact that a corn on the toes or a blister on the heel is an excellent remedy for a broken heart.

Oh; what has become of the old-fashioned girl that use to keep a diary that would make her blush a year after she had written it?

Did you ever notice that when duty calls most of us are wearing ear muffs?

Shut-Up.

Did you ever notice that when a bumble bee pushes it hurts. That is the way it is when a Freshman shows his authority around a bunch of Sophs.

Forms.

A Paradox.

The rain came down in constant sheets
And dark clouds filled the sky,
The water filled the walks and streets
And yet the town was dry.

Did you ever notice the more freckles, the uglier and the more a woman looks like a zig-zag fence, the more friends she has among female sex. 'Cause, no competition.

Money and Brains.

How the devil do you expect these young bloods, with more money than brains, to attend class, as long as these confounded races are with us? Then when all of their money "has went," what are they going to do?

Tell us how in the world it happens that a young widow of 18, knows more than an old maid of 38?

If some of these Home Ec. students paid as much attention to the quality of flour to be used in biscuits as they do to the quality of powder they use on their faces, there would be better bread made.

Fool's Food.

As long as a guy believes everything a woman tells him, he will remain a fine example of the up-to-date 20th century fool.

The Strollers certainly chose "Under Cover" for the proper season. After July 1st, this play will never again be produced.

Association.

It was recently announced that the Mechanical Department will be moved to Scovell Park. It sure will have plenty of company there.

Taint

Did you ever notice that truth with a woman is just like hair on a frog's back?

Economy.

Say Not.

"Not if you have been joy-riding the night before," replied the rounder.

Special.

It is a common thing for watch dogs and wives to always see things that are not.

Hal

No wonder there is such a mournful sound around the southern part of Florida, with the waves constantly pounding the keys.

HEARST PAPERS PLEASE NOTE

The paper announced the death of William B. Jones when he was not dead. The next day it printed the following notice:

"Yesterday we were the first newspaper to publish the news of the death of Mr. William B. Jones. Today we were the first to deny the report. The 'Morning Star,' is always in the lead.

'LAMENTATIONS' DRAWS BIG AUDIENCE TUESDAY

Dramatization By Class in Literature of Bible Most Unique Chapel Program For Long Time

A spectacular, dramatic presentation of the Book of Lamentations was given in chapel Tuesday by the class in Biblical Literature, before an audience unequalled in numbers and appreciation in chapel exercises this year.

The drama was taken directly from the Book of Lamentations with arrangements by Professor Farquhar, who prepared and coached the play. Lee McClain, altho not a member of the class, was chosen to impersonate a Babylonian soldier who was driving the exiled people from Jerusalem into captivity. The city of Jerusalem, laid waste by the Babylonians in 586 B. C., was personified by Miss Elisabeth Marshall. The only prophet who remained to share the sorrow of the city, was impersonated by Bernard Moonick. The parts of two elders of the city among the refugees, were taken by Frederick Jackson and Charles Planck. The chorus was employed as it was in the Greek drama in an interpretative function. It was composed of Misses Ruth Thomas, Vivian Delaine, Dorothy Walker, Elizabeth McGowan, Lucille Dean, Alma Boiser, Floris Whittinghill, Catherine McGibbon, Nettie Pushin, Eleanor Baker, and Thompy Van Deren.

The unique presentation was made most impressive by spectacular costumes, and sacred music, which consisted of violin solos played by Professor Lampert. The drama opened with "Rock of Ages," played slowly and impressively, while Miss Marshall and Mr. Moonick, as the city of Jerusalem and her sole remaining prophet sit motionless on the stage, in mute, mourning silence. Suddenly, Babylonian soldier entered, ordering the captive exiles on to Babylon. On the road, the procession stops for awhile to lament with the Daughter of Jerusalem, who arises to mourn with them her lost fate, and to pray to her God for a return of the happiness and former prosperity which she enjoyed as the chosen city of the Lord. Shortly, however, the captives are commanded by the soldier to pass on, and they move slowly from view to the strains of "Lead Kindly Light."

The play will probably be repeated at Hamilton and Transylvania Colleges.

FACULTY FACTS

Dean Boyd left Tuesday morning to attend the National Convention of Deans of Arts and Science College, which is to be held at the University of Kansas, May 1 and 2. Doctor Boyd is scheduled to address the conference on the Future Military Training for State Universities. He will return to the University Monday night.

By request of the Board of Control, Doctor Cornell, of the psychology department is devoting two days a week to examining the inmates of the House of Reform. The purpose of these examinations is to determine the mental capacities of the delinquents that they may obtain training more suited to their mental needs.

Professor E. C. Mabie, of the department of English, spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week in Chicago attending the sixth annual national convention of the Drama League of America. On Thursday evening he took part in the round table discussion at the dinner for State Representatives at the Garden Club. Friday evening he spoke at the annual banquet of the league. Two special features of the convention were the promotion of the Pilgrim's Tercentenary Convention in 1920 and the exhibit of models and drawings of equipment, scenery costumes and architecture of the Little Theater and Memorial Theater at Lorado Taft Studios.

Sunday morning Professor Farquhar spoke at the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church on the subject, "The Book of Habakkuk." Professor Farquhar is a profound student of the Bible and his lecture was greatly enjoyed by all who heard him.

President McVey left for Richmond Thursday morning, where he will make the chief address at the dedication exercises of the Eastern State Normal School. His subject will be "An Educational Program." President McVey will also address the Woman's Club at Danville Friday on "Some Kentucky Problems."

PROFESSOR NOE TO RECEIVE Lit.D.

Prof. J. T. C. Noe, head of the Department of Education, and poet laureate of Kentucky, received a letter several days ago from President C. E. Goodell, of Franklin College, Franklin, Indiana, stating that his alma mater would confer upon him the degree of Doctor of Literature at the commencement, June 18, if he would accept.

Professor Noe has made known that he intends to accept the honor. He will attend the commencement exercises and deliver the principal address at the commencement dinner, which will take place immediately after the annual exercises.

Among other prominent alumni of this university are: Dr. Paul Monroe, the greatest authority in the history of education in the world, and Dr. Otis Caldwell.

ENGINEERS HOSTS

Journalists To Enjoy Outing.

Students of the Department of Journalism will be given an outing at the invitation of Prof. Enoch Grehan and Mrs. Grehan. This picnic will be given at Idlewild on the Kentucky river, and will be held late in May or sometime in the first week of June. All expenses of this latter outing are to be met by the host and hostess. Journalism majors and the staffs of the Kernel and Kentuckian are to be the invited guests, about 60 in all.

The party will be taken to the river in automobiles where boating, bathing and a picnic lunch at 5:30 will be features of the day. Mr. Grehan has covertly hinted at old ham and chicken sandwiches, and other things which suggest to those of Epicurean tastes, visions of a day long to be remembered. The list of chaperones will be announced later by the Kernel.

These contemplated picnics are said to be part of a plan to make departmental outings annual affairs, and to encourage each department or college to follow the custom, and give other outdoor entertainments.

The Department of Journalism is experiencing some difficulty in fixing a suitable date for its outing as virtually all Saturday afternoons have been spoken for late in May and early in June, the only time when, bathing in the river, one of the features of the day's program would insure sufficient warm weather for this sport.

ENGINEERING

Plans are under way by which the Sophomore Engineers will go on a two or three days' inspection trip. Several of the mines around Stearns, Ky., will be visited. The plans for the trip are primarily in charge of Prof. T. J. Barr, of the Mining College.

This week's program for the A. I. E. E. was as follows:
Engineering Research—C. F. DeMey,
Welding—C. L. Templin.
Production of Oil—G. Frankel.

The regular meeting of the John Hays Hammond Engineering Society scheduled for the first Saturday in each month, has been postponed until the latter part of May.

FIRST DEAN OF MEN VISITS UNIVERSITY

Dr. Thomas Allie Clarke, Dean of Men at the University of Illinois was at the University Friday and Saturday interviewing Dean Melcher with a view of organizing a Dean of Men's society.

Dr. Clarke is the first Dean in the United States, being elected to that office on its institution at the University of Illinois 19 years ago. He is the author of several books dealing with fraternity and undergraduate life among which are "The Fraternity in College," and "The Fraternity Among Undergraduates." Two other books published by Macmillan and Company will appear this summer. They are "Disciples and the Derelict" and "Deans of Men."

KENTUCKY OUT LUCK IN DEBATING FIELD

University Champions Defeated in Double Header By Both Transylvania and Centre.

The debating teams of the University of Kentucky lost a double-header by two to one decisions, to Centre and Transylvania last Thursday evening.

In the debate with Transylvania in the local chapel, Kentucky was represented by Goebel Porter and J. P. Barnes, from the Union Literary Society, both of whom did good work, but the odds were against them. Altho they put up a real fight, Kentucky lost—fairly and squarely. The question debated was, "Resolved, That the American System of Trial by Jury Should Be Abolished—Constitutionality Conceded." In this, Kentucky upheld the negative, while in the debate with Centre, Kentucky supported the affirmative side of the question.

Marcus Redwine and W. J. Kallreiter from the Patterson Literary Society, Kentucky's strongest men, opposed Centre, and seemingly convinced every one but a majority of the judges.

PATTERSON SOCIETY ADDS NEW MEMBERS

Banner Program Was Presented Friday Evening, April 25.

As a result of the new membership campaign, fifteen new members have been added to the Patterson Literary Society in the last two months. The new members are A. V. McRee, John Riley, J. S. Hudnall, Alan Miller and D. C. Ross. The society has the custom of putting its new members to work and expects to find valuable material in this list.

Friday evening, April 25th, the society presented one of the best of the year's programs. Holland Bryan spoke of the territorial conflict between Holland and Belgium. The solution as he saw it, was the internationalization of the mouth of the river Scheldt, the disputed territory. W. M. Boswell spoke on "Man and Woman;" W. I. Pearlman read Wordsworth's "I Wandered Lonely as a Cloud." His reading did justice to the bright joyous song of daffodil's and summer sky. Volca C. Swearingin presented a very clever parody on Poe's Raven.

The bird of eban hue in question this time was prohibition who will leave us "never-more." A short study of Charles Dickens's, his life and writings was given by W. H. Peal. He told of the tremendous power of satire which enabled the master novelist to destroy the debater's prisons and the vicious school system in effect in parts of England. M. C. Redwine, one of the representatives in the debate with Centre College, told of the debate and visit to Danville. Mr. Redwine is the University representative in the intercollegiate oratorical contest to be held May 15. He will deliver his oration "A Disentangling Alliance," before the society in the near future.

WILDCATS BITE DUST BEFORE BIG RED TEAM

PITCHING FEATURES

The Wildcats of the University of Kentucky suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the "Big Red Team," from Miami University, Oxford, O., by a score of 4 to 0. The game was played on Stoll Field Friday afternoon, April 25, and was one of the fastest ever seen on the local diamond. An unfortunate accident occurred in the seventh inning when Joe Munns, the Miami left fielder broke his left ankle sliding into home plate.

Munns, who was coming in home on a hit by one of his teammates, was blocked by Thomas, the Wildcat catcher, and had to "hit the dirt." When a physician was called, it was found that the ankle was broken. A splint was applied and he was able to leave Lexington with his team.

The pitching of Slomer, for Kentucky, was all that could be asked. He put the ball over the plate with steam and curves, and, had he had the support from the field that was due him, would undoubtedly have won his game. He made nine men lay down their bats without realizing their ambition to get to first base, while his opponent in the box, Stewart, struck out seven Kentuckians. Slomer pitched his usual good brand of baseball, and crawled out of three tight pinches alone.

Stewart, twirling for the "Big Red Team," was also in complete possession of his delivery. He allowed only two hits to his opponent's five.

Only seven hits were made during the game, two being credited to Kentucky and five to Miami. Errors were plentiful with the Wildcats. The first score that Miami made was earned, but the remaining three were gifts from Wildcat errors. On the other hand, Kentucky deserved at least two runs, which were thrown away by bad coaching in the sixth inning, when Kohn was run off third base and was caught by the Miami catcher.

The score follows:

VARSITY TENNIS TEAM HAS OFFER OF GAMES

The Varsity tennis team has been organized, and practise will begin immediately on the courts in front of the Civil Engineering building.

Kentucky is relying on three old men, Campbell, Anderson and Zerfoss, to win laurels for the University in the coming tournaments. Several new men have reported, many of whom are promising material. Students who would like to try out for varsity tennis should report to "Daddy" Boles immediately. Offers of games have been received by the Coach from Hanover, University of Tennessee, University of Chicago, and Purdue University, and it is likely that a complete schedule will be arranged within a few days.

WILDCATS WILL PLAY TWICE ON OHIO TRIP

Kentucky Men Will Try to Get Vengeance For Defeat Handed Them. By Miami Last Week.

The Wildcat baseball squad will leave Lexington Thursday morning for a trip into Southern Ohio for two games, the first with the University of Cincinnati and the second with Miami University.

The Wildcats will arrive in Cincinnati Thursday at noon, meeting the University of Cincinnati baseball team in the afternoon.

Friday afternoon, the Wildcats will be in Oxford to meet the "Big Red Team," of Miami, on the Miami diamond. Coach Gill has Lasley in excellent condition for the game, and if the infield gets behind "Doc" the score for last Friday's game on Stoll Field may be reversed.

TO HOLD STUDENTS' TENNIS TOURNAMENT

A tennis tournament will be held for Kentucky students in May. Students wishing to participate in the tournament should sign the blank form posted on the bulletin board in the Gymnasium building. There are spaces for singles and doubles, and if there is a preference for partners, it should be indicated on the form, or reported to Athletic Director Boles.

"It is the duty of the college authorities to call your attention to the fact that if you fail to obey this law you will be debarred from attendance at Columbia or any other University or College within the State.

The Staff and Crown, senior women's honorary fraternity tapped their new members and gave them a red rose, the emblem of the fraternity. The 1919 pledges are: Louise Will, Margaret Woll, Virginia Helm Milner, Elizabeth Davis, and Mary Turner.

MATZENAUR MAY 9.

Lexington music lovers are certainly fortunate in the opportunity to hear Margaret Matzenauer, the famous contralto prima-donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who will come to the Lexington Opera House for a concert Friday night, May 9. This will be Madame Matzenauer's first appearance in Lexington, but her coming is of unusual interest because there is no greater concert artist on the American stage today than Matzenauer. Her voice, music critics agree, is of marvelous range, rich, true and wonderfully controlled. Her brain work and voice has made her one of the most sought after concert singers in this country. Just as soon as her grand opera work is concluded, April 15, of each year she goes on tour and always succeeds in her work. A voice such as Matzenauer possesses is one of the wonders of the musical world and it is appreciated by the press, the public and her associates. She would not be classed as "one of the greatest voices in the world" with no denial of it, were it not actually correct and the people of Central Kentucky are indeed fortunate in the next great musical event of the season, the Matzenauer concert.
Seats will go on sale at the Ben All theater Monday, May 5, and mail orders may be sent in now. adv.

STUDENTS' FORUM

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

Editor Kernel:
An editorial appeared in last week's Kernel commenting on the manner of dancing at our University dances and suggesting that we, the girl and boys of Kentucky, expurgate the dance. It is indeed unfortunate that anything should have happened at our dances to call forth adverse criticism, but since our attention has been called to the fact that our dances are not what they should be, permit me to indicate what I confidently believe are the causes of complaint.

When our dances are criticised adversely, such criticism reflects indirectly on the girls themselves, for many are of the opinion that the girls could remove the cause of complaint if they so desired. But the University girls should not be blamed for this objectionable dancing, which we admit has been practiced. The fault is with certain of the outside girls, brought to the dances by University men—girls whose chief diversion seems to be dancing, anywhere and anyhow. These girls are in no way connected with the University. I think I can safely say that these are the girls who have caused our dances and our girls to be criticised by chaperones and others.

I heartily agree with the writer of the editorial in saying that we should take the lead in the matter of expurgating modern dancing, but in placing the blame, I feel that it most certainly should be laid rather upon those who offended than upon University girls, who are thus criticised for the dancing of visitors.

Our college activities, athletic and the rest are irrefragable. Why may we not bring our dancing up to the same level? We, the girls of the University who enjoy dancing, desire the chaperones and older men and women to know, when they note dancing that is objectionable, that the visiting girls and not the University girls are responsible for it. A. S.
