ARBOR DAY EXERCISES ARE HELD BY SENIORS

"Tap Day" Ceremonies For Honor Societies Are Impressive and Beautiful

A STRIKING PROGRAM

Arbor Day exercises were held by the Senior Class of the university Friday morning, accompanied by "Tap Day" ceremonies for the two Senior honor societies, Staff and Crown and Lamp and Cross.

Holiday was granted to the students after 9:30 o'clock, when an athletic rally was held in chapel. President Barker, Doctor Tigert and Doctor W. L. Anderson spoke on "The Funeral of the Resurrection of the Wildcats—Which?" to an enthusiastic crowd of students, amid cheers and music.

At 10 o'clock the battalion of cadets stood at "parade rest" on the campus in front of the Administration Building, while the ten active members of Lamp and Cross tapped ten men from the class of '16. A large crowd gathered to watch the interesting ceremony, and rounds of applause greeted each Junior as the older man tapped him with the historic "bone."

The old Lamp and Cross men are: James Park, Lynn Evans, William Tuttle, Herschal Scott, Roy Wallace, S. J. Lowry, George Arnold, Francis Haynes, Clark Rogers and Gibson Downing.

The new men are: Franklin Corn, William Clark, Gracean Pedley, Karl Zerfoss, Henry Cromwell, J. H. Thompson, Jefferson Harris, Gambrel McCarty, Herbert Graham and Lindsay McKee.

Immediately after the tapping exercise, the Senior class marched in a body to the place selected for planting the class tree. The Senior girls wore white, with ribbons in their colors, green and white, and their class flower, lily of the valley.

In behalf of his class, President James Park opened the ceremonies with a short speech of introduction. Then Esten Boeling, class orator, delivered his oration on Arbor Day in an impressive manner. He dwelt upon the benefits of the day and its symbolism for his class, lightening his theme with clever allusions and jests pertaining to the occasion.

Miss Christine Hopkins read the class prophecy, which was a distinct departure from customary predictions. "With malice toward none, and charity for all," Miss Hopkins employed the foibles and failings of her classmates to good advantage in composing their epigrams.

Karl Zerfoss represented the class of '16, and received the spade from the Senior Class in a forceful and ornate speech which rang with sincerity and inspiration.

In behalf of Staff and Crown, the girls' honor sorority, Doctor A. S.

TENNESSEE PROVES TO BE "EASY PICKING"

Cadets Defeat Visiting Team in Two Straight Games, 7 to 4; 15 to 2

The Kentucky State Regulars romped over the Tennessee Volunteers Friday and Saturday to the tune of seven to four and fifteen to two. Both games were featured by heavy hitting and fast fielding of the Blue Grass lads. Tennessee was completely outclassed in both contests.

Thomas was unhit in the first game when hits were needed. McClure was the only Volunteer who was able to connect more than once. Wright, Waters and C. Park were right there with the stick, while Ashe's home run in the seventh was one of the prettiest drives seen on Stoll Field this season. "Turkey" Park came across with the goods when it was needed in the third and scored Tuttle, Wright and himself on a three-bagger to left, putting State in the lead. After this, the Wildcats were never in danger of losing.

Friday's score was:

LODGE OF JILTED BOYS IS LATEST ACQUISITION

Clay Hall Men Unite For Mutual Comfort in Hour of Bereavement

A unique fraternity has been organized among the boys of Clay Hall.

It is the Lodge of Jilted Boys. In order to be able to get into this frat, a fellow must possess a letter from an old girl informing him of the fact that she is to be wedded to another.

This organization was instituted only a few weeks ago and has the large membership of four. This is just a matter of history, but within one week all of the four received the awful edict, which is the requirement for membership, and it caused such profound sorrow and prolonged an-

COUNTY AGENTS HOLD SIX DAYS' MEETING

University Girls Receive Appointments For Assistant County Agencies

The annual meeting of the Kentucky county agents in canning club and home demonstration work was held in the Home Economics Department of the university April 25-May 1. Mrs. H. B. Wolcott, State Agent of Home Demonstration Work; O. B. Martin, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Ola Powell and Miss Mary E. Cresswell, demonstrators from the Washington department, and Mr. Lewis B. Flohr, of the United States Department of Agriculture, were prominent speakers.

Twenty-six county agents from all parts of the State attended the meeting, and made brief reports of their work. The programs included addresses on bread-making, poultry, yeasts, fireless cookers, fruit-raising and other phases of home demonstration work, combined with practical experiments in canning and cooking.

Miss Mary E. Sweeney, Miss Aubyn Chinn, Mr. T. R. Bryant, of State University, and Dr. Fred Mutchler, of the Experiment Station, were also among the speakers on the program.

The Home Economics Club of State University served luncheon to the agents during the entire week.

On Saturday Mrs. Wolcott announced the following appointments of State University girls to be assistant county agents during the month of June: Miss Lois Bartlett to Muhlenburg County; Miss Mary Burrier to Rockcastle County; Miss Katherine Mitchell to Logan County; Miss Elizabeth Farris to Whitley County; Miss Leah Gault to Lawrence County; Miss Kathleen Sullivan to Madison County; Miss Johnnie Cramer to Jefferson County; Miss Linda Purnell to Bell County.

GEORGETOWN DEFEATS OUR CADET ATHLETES

Runners Stack up a Point to the Good on the Home Boys

With the defeat of Kentucky State at the hands of Georgetown College in a track meet held last Friday on the Georgetown track, athletic relations were resumed between the two colleges.

Before the last event, the relay race, the total points were: Georgetown, forty-eight and one-half points; Kentucky, forty-seven and one-half points, and the final score stood undecided.

Layman, Hubbard, Atkins and Cowles defeated Grabfelder, Lindsay, Whaley and Sullivan in the closing and deciding event after a heart-breaking finish in which the Blue and White team assumed the lead, but were beaten out in the stretch by the Orange and Black runners. Georgetown won fifty-three and one-half to forty-seven and one-half points.

The meet was marred by an accident to Spragens, who broke his leg while running in the half-mile event. His loss will be severely felt by the Orange and Black team.

Sid Cowles was the star of the meet, winning every event in which he entered and breaking the local track record for one hundred yards.

Mackenzie, spoke on the ideals and genesis of that organization. Then followed the "tapping" of the Junior girls for the society. Each old Staff and Crown girl selected a Junior girl from the crowd and pinned upon her a red rose, the symbol of the order.

The active members of Staff and Crown are: Annabel Grainger, Natalie Wood, Minnie Cramer, Florence Hughes, Elizabeth Moore, Helen Deshea, Bessie White and Elsie Speck.

The new members are: Elsie Heller, Lila Estes, Katherine Mitchell, Anna Lewis Whitworth, Margaret Ingels, Nata Lee Woodruff, Elizabeth Farra, Ina Darnall and Rebecca Smith.

gush that the one who was last to receive his letter, Robert Mitchell, Jr., conceived the idea of establishing this great and noble society as a monument to his grief.

The ritual is beautiful and so inspiring and consoling that at once all of the four braced up, dried their tears and are now very strong young men.

Of course, THE IDEA can't publish all of the ritual, but it can give the preamble:

"We, the members of this organization, in order to form and establish a more constant and affectionate sympathy for the male species, and to secure a more constant and abiding love than can be offered and received from the fairer sex, do ordain and establish this constitution."

THE IDEA has also obtained possession of the pledge which is:

"I hereby pledge my word and honor that I will abide by the constitution and by-laws of this lodge so long as I remain a member thereof, never divulging its secrets or giving aid or comforts to its enemy; that I shall never be a kind and affectionate brother of the members of this lodge, always exhibiting the love that should be characteristic of our enemies, the gentler sex."

Order of conducting meetings follows:

Meeting called to order.

Opening Ode—"That Old Girl of Mine."

Reading of minutes.

Reports of heart-sick brothers.

Deferred business.

Reports of Poultry Committee.

Reports of Old Maid Committee.

New business.

Election of new members.

Good of the Order—Reading of letters from the girls notifying us that they are going to marry. Same letters to be read every time.

Closing Exercises—Toast by the president. Postlude, "I Love the Ladies."

This is the toast:

Here's to the fellow who has a girl,
And has her all alone;

For many a fellow goes with another
fellow's girl

When he thinks he's going with his own.

The charter members are: C. F.

Dotson, B. D. Sartin, L. T. Rector and Robert Mitchell, Jr.

Officers—President, Robert Mitchell, Jr.; Vice President, B. D. Sartin; Secretary Treasurer, L. T. Rector; Chairman of Committees, C. T. Dotson.

Honorary Members—Dean Hamilton, "Lady" Fisher, alternate. "Monk" Miller, and "Soc" Terrell.

Our inspiration, "Monk" Miller.

The lodge meets every Saturday night after all members get in from town (that is if all get in), in the Paducah-Richmond room in Clay Hall.

The membership is confined to Clay Hall only, and although it is as yet very small the officers report that from the looks of things here of late they are expecting the number of brothers to increase at a very rapid rate within a very short time.

PHILOSOPHIAN CLUB IS A GROWING BODY

Girls' Organization Takes on New Life With the Class of 1916

The only "co-ed" literary society in the university is taking long and mighty strides this year and is making a reputation that will go down in the annals of college history as one of the greatest organizations in Kentucky State University.

The society has kept wide awake all year and at the same time let the campus know it was in existence. Last week a long and heated inter-class debate was held on the question, "Should American women patronize American styles or Paris modes?"

The Philosopher annual play is always looked forward to with great pleasure. The Philosophers are also considered serious contestants for the Earker prize, and each year have held declamatory and essay contests in which both histrionic and literary ability is displayed.

The society has been quite flattered and honored this spring by being invited to meet with both the Union and Horace Mann societies. The Philosophers have also fitted up an attractive room at Patterson Hall which is used as an assembly room.

The society has been in existence since 1892, but took on renewed activity with the class of 1916.

The program last Wednesday was one of interest to all. Miss Hampton gave a talk on Cayle Young Rice, with a reading from his writings. Misses Acker and Hodges consumed the remainder of the evening with talks on Irvin Cobb and vivid descriptions of his work, some being given in Cobb's own language.

The efficient officers for this term have been: President, Ina M. Darnall; Vice President, Rebecca W. Smith; Secretary, Marguerite Schweers; Treasurer, Josie Lacer Hays.

HOME ECONOMICS MEETING.

The Home Economics Club held a short business meeting Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the Educational Building. A committee was appointed to nominate the candidates for the election of the new officers at their next meeting.

Judge Barker—Miss Marie, I hear you are going to a "Nunnery."

Miss Michot—I hadn't heard anything about it.

Judge Barker—I was going to suggest that you go to a "Deanery."

FRANK CRUM WINS THE BARKER TROPHY

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its annual contest for the Barker trophy, Tuesday, May 4, in Professor Noe's classroom in the Education Building. Frank Crum and E. T. Hatter were the two contestants and both made catchy extemporaneous speeches on the European War. Mr. Hatter spoke on "The Probable Map of Europe After the War," and Mr. Crum on "The Causes of the War." The latter won by a vote of two to one.

Professor Noe played some delightful music on the gramofona which he recently purchased for the department.

FIRE LADDIES OUTCLASS

THE OLD "DORM" BRIGADE

A "near fire," originating in a wastebasket under the first floor stairway of the Main Building Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, caused much excitement on the campus.

Ever-faithful George Washington discovered the blaze and called for help. Two companies of the Lexington fire department responded quickly to George's call, and conquered the blaze.

The firemen rushed quickly into the smoky building, fetched the burning wastebasket out on the driveway, and subdued the conflagration.

The "water brigade" of Old Dorm were present, but their aim was not so effective as usual.

NICHOLS TALKS ON SILO.

At the meeting of the Agriculture Society Monday night at 7:30 in chapel, Professor W. D. Nichols made an address on "Silo Building." The lecture was illustrated with moving pictures, supplied by the American Association of Portland Cement Manufacturers. Mr. Stanley Watson, of the Kentucky Rural Credit Association, gave a short talk on rural credits.

"SCOOP" INTERVIEWS "TIGER"

"Of course, now classroom work don't amount to much. You can come to my classes if you want to and if you don't want to you can stay away. That isn't my lookout anyway, but when the end of the year comes there will be quite a number of people coming around here weeping and walling and gnashing their teeth and expecting me to help them out of a hole. I think regular attendance at class is fatal any way, don't you, Miss Hayes?"

"Of course, I don't know what you all think about it, but I have already said what I thought and I am not going to turn around and contradict myself just to please some one else."

"That's alright though. I don't want to argue with you about it. You don't have to prepare the subject beforehand, either, just so you come here and sit and listen to the recitations with the intention of learning from the thoughts and opinions of other people."

The instructor? Oh, yes, his words are a matter of indifference and you don't need to take notes in class-room because it might be destructive to the cultivation of the powers of memory, and most of you people have heads like tar-buckets and all these things are bound to stick."

Excuse me, Mr. Wilson, but will you please wake that gentleman up right across from you? I know, I hate to perpetrate all this upon you and I wouldn't mind your going to sleep, but I would hate to have you fall out of the seat and hurt yourself."

Another thought I would emphasize—the contents of the text-book should never be gone over, for the average student knows all about it. One book to the class is sufficient, anyway. If you can buy one if you want to, they make excellent cushions to sit on when the campus is damp.

Grades? Oh, I use the revised "Millerian" system: 98% A, 1 1/2% B, 1/2% C, 0-2 D, 0-99 E. Examinations ought to be abolished. They are an obscure source of discomfort for the undergraduate with the present honor system in operation."

DR. J. J. TIGERT SPEAKS TO PATT. HALL Y.W.C.A.

Dr. John J. Tigert spoke before the Young Women's Christian Association at Patterson Hall Sunday night, on "How to Interest the Faculty in the Y. W. C. A. He handled the subject in his characteristic way, offering an explanation for the apparent indifference of the faculty, and a very pertinent suggestion as to the means of increasing interest—a reception for the faculty.

The largest attendance at any Y. W. C. A. meeting of the year bore witness to Dr. Tigert's influence and popularity among the "co-eds."

MEDAL SELECTED FOR H. S. TOURNAMENT

The medal to be awarded the winners of the Kentucky High School Tournament, to be held at State University May 13, 14 and 15, was selected by a committee composed of Professor H. E. Curtis, Professor C. P. Weaver, Professor J. D. Turner, Dr. J. J. Tigert and Dr. W. L. Anderson. It is the official seal of the university, composed of rose gold, surrounded with wreaths of laurel and holly.

This year's tournament is to be held under the auspices of the university, and up to this time twenty entries have been received.

MARCUS REDWINE IS ORATORY WINNER

State University Man Takes Second Place in Prohibition Contest at Wilmore, Kentucky.

Marcus C. Redwine, of State University, won second place and a ten-dollar prize in the oratorical contest of the State Convention of the Inter-collegiate Prohibition Association, at Asbury College, Wilmore, Monday night. E. W. Foster, of Georgetown, won first honors.

Although this is the first year that the university has been represented at the State Convention, the State delegation was larger than that of any other college except Asbury. The Kentucky men were: B. D. Sartin, J. H. Apperson, R. E. Cullen, C. T. Dotson, Elmer Robinson, O. W. Crowder, J. S. Deering, M. C. Redwine and late Secretary R. E. L. Murphy.

The convention, extending through Monday and Tuesday, was largely attended. Representatives from State, Berea, Eastern State Normal, Georgetown, Transylvania, Southern Baptist Seminary, Kentucky Wesleyan, and Asbury were present. Mr. C. T. Dotson of State University, was elected president for the forthcoming year.

The Kentucky State University Association extended an invitation to the convention to hold its next meeting in Lexington, which was accepted by a unanimous vote.

"Do you believe in infant damnation?"

"Only at night."

CHAPEL EXERCISES

JOURNALISM GIRL VIEWS BALL GAME

[Editor's Note—Let you think this issue of THE IDEA is pretty bad, we publish herewith a sample of the stuff we "killed."] It was a beautiful afternoon in May, and the sun shone clearly on the inspiring sight of Kentucky's and Tennessee's baseball teams lined up on Stoll Field.

An enthusiastic crowd cheered as each Kentucky man thrust his club at the ball and made wonderful plays. The Tennessee men were disconsolate and often dropped the ball in their excitement. Finally, State sent her men around the bases and won the game in spite of opposition. Many thanks are due the team for their splendid efforts, and especially for their neat appearance.

It has taken two policemen to keep Kenneth Doris away from the printers while this issue was being published, so watch for an explosion next week!

SALUTATION AND FAREWELL.

Owing to the great length of time that has elapsed between the first announcement of the girls' publication of THE IDEA and its actual appearance, its promoters realize that great things are expected of them and that many revelations unheard of since the beginning of history will be expected to be brought to light.

We know, some are looking forward to a brief treatise on woman suffrage; some, an immortal paper of literary value; some, a fashion plate; some, a revised edition of Life or Judge; and some, a general airing of all grievances and prejudices that we might hold against the universe, if such ever existed; but if we ever entertained such grievances we have had ample time to reflect and forget and have therefore, striven to put out an edition that touches on all these subjects, so that we may be pardoned for indulging in the hope that none will be disappointed.

With the injunction to our worthy and alert comrades upon the staff, "seek ye first the kingdom of news and all things will be added unto you," the editor has elected to step aside and surrender to more talented hands the space allotted to the exalted position she is assigned here to occupy.

She hailed him on the campus to have a little chat;
He tried in vain to dodge her but had to tip his hat.

She asked about the weather, in light and jesting mood;
His jaw just wiggled queerly like someone eating food.

Again she asked the question; he gave her no reply.
The maiden's pride was ruffled; she quickly passed him by.

He watched the pretty damsel evaporate from view,
And cursed and swore that any man's a—old fool to cheat!

Behold the callow youth who does not like strong-minded women. Of course he doesn't—comparisons are odorous!

The "Gadfly" has recently been humming at a great rate about where the Philosopher girls borrowed the trousers for their play, and warned men to dodge Pat. Hall. My dear Sir, we wouldn't have had the heart to make any of our friends miss the show!

The Senior girls are advising future classes to ask for their Senior privileges in their freshman year—they are so much more apt to need them then.

We have heard that there really are romantic souls who love the smell of his cigar; but it's an entirely different matter when the man who sits in front of you in class smells like an ancient tobacco warehouse.

The small, dusky slave in "The Call of the Blood," when asked how he would like to be in the play, remarked naively, "I don't know, sah. I ain't never been in none befo'. I ain't never had on no costume." What d'ye mean "no costume?"

CAN YOU TELL US?

Why the north entrance to Main Building is like the "Lexington Drug?"

Why at State dances one-fourth the floor is for the dancers and three-fourths for the stags?

Why, when you try to do that reference work in the library, the man across the table exercises his bass voice like a big bumble-bee?

Why the Department of Home Economics is "The Department?"
Why is Lamp and Cross?

The sign on the Patterson Hall back fence, "No chickens allowed," is to be taken literally.

A "prof" who was recently handed a theme initialed J. O. K., promptly gave an E. We wonder if he thought he was being funny?

"But where's the current news in rhyme?"

Some readers ask, no doubt, Who think, "well girls can't do such things, And so they left it out."

The truth is that this column's had no time at all to roam,

Because it's had its hands quite full To tell the news at home!

We get a chance just once a year The woman's side to plead;
We thought it best to stay at home Where there is ample need!

For the interpretation and criticism of all matter in the Woman's Issue, see the Gadfly column next week.

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, The saddest—Call on Dean Hamilton again!"

These glorious spring days we see all the lucky fellows strolling with their girls, but what about the poor guys strolling with their guns?

"Automatic elimination"—wonder if the laws of the Medes and Persians included any such clause?

The Mississippi A. and M. Reflector proclaims: "We are going to have a sham battle. Not a fake without cartridges, but with real blank cartridges." My, aren't they devils!

Sophomores at Michigan Ag. are urged to settle up their back class due. We feel sorry for 'em, but it does help some to hear that there are others!

A Cynthia High School lad has been assigned a thesis on "Man's Inhumanity to Man." Any teacher's inflicting a job like that on a helpless boy ought to be subject enough for his thesis!

DIAMOND DUST

One evening to the baseball game
Three of the girls from Patt. Hall came;

The men sat near,
They'd jest and jeer,
And how they rooted was a shame.

CHORUS.

"Can't hit 'em when they can't see 'em"
"Too many fouls, turn your bat over; its slick on top."
"Show him your knees, Jim, maybe he can get one above 'em."
"You don't own that ball; turn it loose!"
"All he's got's a chew and a prayer."

They saw "Bill" Tuttle jump the Ford
And nip a nasty foul
They had to smile,
For all the while,
The fans would howl and howl.

CHORUS.

"Take off that log chain."
"Tame that infant pitcher, he's wild."
"A't'aboy Bill, you broke his back."
"Give the third baseman some shin guards."
"Can that bush league stuff."
"Hit the dirt boy! Slide! Slide! Slide!!!" E. B. H.

PHILOSOPHIAN DECLAMATORY TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY, MAY 12

Several young ladies of the Philosopherian Literary Society will contest in chapel for the Barker trophy in the university chapel Wednesday, May 12.

This will be the third annual contest the girls have held and promises to be both interesting and attractive. All are invited to enjoy a pleasant evening, with good music and interesting speakers and no admission will be charged.

CAMPUS NOTES

Charles Petrie and Logan Green visited friends at Patterson Hall Sunday.

Jim Moore was called to Louisville Sunday by the death of his grandmother. Score: Louisville, 6; Milwaukee, 4.

J. Y. Bailey is busy preparing his thesis upon "The Kentucky Timber Supply."

"Shorty" Ellston and "Runt" Felix have been notified by the inspector that they can room no longer in the Old Dorm.

The Tappa Kegga Bock fraternity of the third division has postponed its next initiation indefinitely.

Lieutenant Underwood entertained the New Dorm boys with an informal dance at his home Saturday evening from 9:30 to 1:01 o'clock. Fans, beauty pins and gloves were distributed as souvenirs.

"Jimmie" Lyons consulted an eye specialist several days ago. The task of reading so many postcards has been too much for "Uncle Jimmie."

Students in the New Dorm are growing careless in throwing water from the windows. Several people have been missed lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells were the recipients of a most enjoyable serenade Monday evening.

Karl Zerfoss intends to go out for heavyweight boxing honors. For practice he has been punching tickets at the "mess hall."

The Old Dorm choir will meet on the first warm night, in front of the middle division.

 * PUZZLE: WHO'S WHOSE? * *****

When you go out to the ball game, most any afternoon,
Did you ever watch the couples, who come to sit and—

Here's a little, brunette maiden, so sweet and coy and gay,
And a slim, blonde youth beside her, whose name might well be—

Now there's a handsome damsel, with cheeks so pink and chubby,
That big fat boy who's with her looks like they'd call him—

There sits a fair-haired lassie, who's steeped in classic lore;
They say that fellow with her don't love her any—

That girl seems quite athletic, just to the manner born;
The man's a black-haired giant, whose cognomen is—

That couple over yonder is chewing "Spearmint" still;
She learned when playing basketball, but that's not true of—

That charming couple yonder; their praises should be sung.
The girl sure loves the Kaiser, the man is not so—

Just notice these young people, so interested and sweet;
The maiden's some good-looking; that fat man must be—

Way off there on the bleachers, there sits a pretty girlie,
Who's cheering long and madly for that first baseman—

The person who's most lucky to guess these missing names,
'll win the prize—two box seats at all the baseball games!

ENGLISH TEACHERS OF KENTUCKY FORM BODY

Expect by Uniting to Unify Instruction in This Branch Throughout the State.

Professor Charles Weaver was appointed chairman of the committee to draft a constitution and by-laws for an organization formed by the English teachers of the city at a meeting held at Morton High School Monday afternoon.

The teachers expect, by forming such an organization, to unify English instruction in the schools and colleges. It is hoped that the conferences will gradually be extended to embrace surrounding counties and ultimately to become a part of a national council of English teachers.

Prominent English teachers of this city who were present were: Miss Mary Murray, of Arlington School; Miss Etta Coons, of Maxwell School; Miss Frost, of Sayre College; Miss Lora Hussey, Hamilton; Miss Amy Richardson, Miss Varrina Hanna and Miss Louise O'Neill, of the High School; Professor E. F. Fraquhar, Professor Charles Weaver and Professor L. L. Dantzier.

CAMPUSTRY TRAINING RESULTS IN WEDDING

A major course of "campustry," begun at State two years ago, has at length culminated in the marriage of Miss Jane Gaines, of Rock Haven, and R. C. Preston, of Catlettsburg, prominent and popular students of the university.

The marriage took place April 27 at the home of the bride. Miss Pauline Hank, of Paducah, and Miss Martha Viley, of Georgetown, were maids of honor, Mrs. A. T. Bryson, matron of honor, and A. T. Bryson best man, all of whom are former students of State University.

"Pars" Preston, of the '13 class, received his law degree here last year and was one of State's best basketball players.

Miss Gaines was a member of the '19 class, and was vice president of that class in the freshman year, at the end of which she left college.

Seventeen hits were tallied by the Kentuckians in Saturday's bat-fest. Each Wildcat tapped the horsehide safely at least once during the game, and when the smoke cleared away, Kentucky had fifteen runs to her credit, twelve of which were earned. The Wildcats battered both Hutchison and Weatherford—the latter pitched the last three innings.

McClelland pitched air-tight ball at every stage of the game and held the visitors to six scattered hits. "Squirrelly" Tuttle and "Zobo" Reed featured in hitting and base-running. Wright, Kelly and Waters slammed the pill consistently, getting two runs each during the game.

LAMP AND CROSS DANCE PROVES NOTABLE EVENT

Follows 'Tapping' Exercises in the Morning—Decorations Attractive

The honorary society of Lamp and Cross held its annual dance in the Phoenix Hotel ball room Friday evening. This dance is one of the largest given by the various societies of State University and follows the "tapping" exercises which are held in the morning of that day on the campus.

The grand march, gracefully led by Mr. James Park and Miss Edith Dean, opened the dance, which lasted from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m.

In the various pretty figures the lamp and cross were formed and at the close the honored members, who are chosen from the Junior Class on account of their popularity, activities, and scholarship, marched through the hall to be pinned with the colors in boutonniers of satin ribbon.

The men who were chosen are J. Franklin Corn, William Clarke, Graecan Pedley, J. W. Thompson, Herbert Graham, Karl Zerfoss, Henry Cromwell, W. G. Harris, Gambrell McCarty, and W. L. McKee.

The ball room was beautifully decorated in the Lamp and Cross emblem, the two designs in smilax and white roses of the classes of 1915 and 1916, and the emblems of the various fraternities of State University.

The hosts of the evening were Messrs. James Park, George Arnold, W. P. Tuttle, T. F. Haynes, Herschel Scott, G. C. Rogers, C. G. Downing, S. J. Lowry, L. B. Evans and R. A. Wallace.

STATE UNIVERSITY IS LOSER IN BIG DEBATE

Able Representations Make Telling Fight in Tri-State Battle

In the triangular debate of Kentucky State University, Vanderbilt University and the University of Alabama, Kentucky's representatives were defeated by Alabama at Lexington and by Vanderbilt at Nashville Friday night.

The subject for debate was: "Resolved that President Wilson was justified in regarding the illiterate test as sufficient grounds for vetoing the Burnett Immigration Bill," and teams from these universities debated it on the same night at each school. Kentucky met Alabama at home, and Vanderbilt in Nashville. Vanderbilt opposed Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

Messrs. J. H. Coleman and O. R. Willett, as Kentucky's champions, defended the affirmative side of the question against Messrs. N. Howell Morrow and C. A. Lewis, of Alabama, in the State University chapel. The negative side won by a unanimous vote of the judges, Professor M. A. Cassidy, Professor A. N. Gordon and Mr. T. T. Forman. Basil Duke Sartin presided over the debate.

All of the speeches were carefully prepared and well delivered, and one of the judges pronounced it the best debate he ever heard. The victorious visitors were as fine speakers and gentlemen as Southern orators should be.

In the Vanderbilt chapel, Messrs. J. S. Sattler and O. L. Fowler of Kentucky, supported the negative against the "Commodore" debaters, and were defeated by a two-to-one vote of the judges, who were Honorable M. T. Bryan, of the Nashville bar; John Howe Peyton, president of the N. C. & St. L. Railroad, and Dr. John Lee Coulter, of Peabody College.

In a letter to Professor Noe, of this university, Professor Albert M. Harris, of Vanderbilt, pays this tribute to Kentucky's representatives:

"I hasten to offer my congratulations to you for being represented by two men of the character and ability of Mr. Fowler and Mr. Sattler. They made a very fine impression here, and one of the judges thought they should have had the decision."

BOTANY AND ZOOLOGY CLASSES GO TO TYRONE

Accident to Miss McConnell Adds Thrill to Otherwise Enjoyable Day

Under the auspices of the Departments of Botany and Zoology, sixty-five persons enjoyed a delightful trip to Tyrone Saturday, May 1.

On reaching Tyrone the classes took a boat ride down the river to Lock No. 5, where they stopped for about an hour and a half to gather bugs and wild flowers from the hillsides.

While returning to Tyrone, the party enjoyed their luncheon and were ready for another strenuous climb when the barge stopped at the Old Lillard ferry. Another stop was made several miles further up the river at a cove, surrounded by beautiful scenery.

One mishap which was not too serious to mar the day, lent a little "snap" to the occasion. Miss Virginia McConnell was knocked off the skiff in which she with Mr. Cottrell, Mr. Nagel and others were preparing to take a ride. After a few moments of deliberation, during which the young lady was making trips to the bottom at regular intervals, the former young gentleman at last recovered presence of mind enough to grab Miss McConnell, who was going down for the second time, and pull her out. "Water, it is true, was very shallow where the accident occurred, but Miss McConnell's fright so unnerved her she was in danger of serious consequences."

CHORAL CLUB TO GIVE THE CANTATA "RUTH"

"Ruth," a cantata by Alfred Gaul, will be given Saturday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock in the university chapel by the Choral Club of Kentucky State University. Harlowe Penn Dean, director.

There will be soloists, ladies' double quartet, ladies' trio, men's quartet for mixed voices and full chorus. There will be about sixty in the chorus.

The soloists are from the choral organization and are:

Miss Kathryn Mitchell, as Ruth. Miss Grace Dabbs, as Naomi.

Miss Rose Crawford and Mrs. W. O. Browning, as Boaz.

Mr. George Sprague, Violinist.

The ladies' double quartet is composed of the following:

First Sopranos—Miss Rose Crawford, Somerset; Miss Katherine Mitchell, Bowling Green.

Second Sopranos—Miss Lucille Cruickshank, Lexington; Miss Marie Becker, Louisville.

First Alto—Miss Nell Crawford, Lexington; Miss Ruth Cassidy, Versailles.

Second Alto—Miss Annie L. Rhodes, Lexington; Miss Grace Dabbs, Lexington.

Male Quartette—Tenors, James T. Browning, D. T. Roberts; bass, W. A. Browning, J. F. Haynes.

The cantata is beautiful and with the other solos and special musical features added to the program the evening promises to be a very delightful treat to all who love music.

The entire faculty and student body and public is invited to be the guest of the Choral Society for that evening.

Miss Frances Geisel, of Maysville, will be the accompanist for the evening.

THE IDEA is advised that a large number of students of the university are desirous that the authorities may see their way clear at an early opportunity to install a department of music in the institution.

'VARSITY BALL TEAM ON SOUTHERN TOUR

The Varsity baseball team left Sunday morning at 6:45 for Lebanon, Tenn., for a series of three games with Cumberland University. Thence the team will go to play Southern Presbyterian University at Clarksville the last three days of the week.

The boys making the trip are Tuttle, Waters, Schrader, Jim Park, Curt Park, Spaulding, Reed, Wright and the pitchers, Flynn, Thomas, Grubbs and McClelland. Manager Clyde P. Taylor accompanied the team and Coach Alpha Brumage left on a later train Sunday to join them.

Since the above was put into type, news has been received that of the first two games played with Cumberland University in the series of three contests, the opener was a tie after eleven innings, and the second a victory for Cumberland by the score of 7 to 6 on errors by the Wildcats' infield.

Need Lumber? Good Lumber?

It is not alone necessary that lumber shall be good in the first place, but good lumber to retain its goodness must have proper care and attention.

Every stick of lumber that enters our yards is carefully handled. Some is stacked on sticks, some piled in open sheds and some put in enclosed buildings, according to the individual needs. So, each piece will reach you in the best possible condition.

You will find, here, lumber for any purpose from the smallest operation to any ordinary undertaking.
