AN

24

90

UK presidential search committee named

excluded by Ockerman

By TOM SPALDING

Executive Editor

A 10-person search committee was named yesterday by the UK
Board of Trustees to nominate UK's next president, but trustees were divided over who the student representative should be.

UK Board of Trustees Chair man Foster Ockerman selected Teel Bruner, a 25-year-old, third past medical student, to fill that position on the search committee.
But Student Government Association President Sean Lohman objected, saying that the student representative should have been decided by the student body.
Lohman proposed a motion
calling for the board to override Ockerman's decision, saying he rexcluded the only student member of the board "and "is outside espirit of the UK governing regulations."
Ockerman called Lohman's mo-

regulations."

Ockerman called Lohman's motion out of order, saying he had already made appointments and that he had complied with UK's governing regulations.

Lohman appealed, but the board sustained Ockerman's ruling by a

LOHMAN

"I think we are wasting a lot of money on a presi-dential search ..."

10-7 vote.

Ockerman named himself chairman of the search committee and appointed board members Edythe Jones Hayes, Nicholas J. Pisacano, Billy Wilcoxson and Henry R. Wilhoit.

Wilhoit.
All of the trustees on the committee except Pisacano were either appointed or reappointed to the board by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson.

Also named to the search committee were Judith L. Rhoads, community college representative; faculty representatives Carolyn S. Bratt, William E. Lyons and Loys L. Mather, Bruner; and Paul Sears, who will serve as the committee's system are allowed to elect their representatives, students should be able to as well.

BRUNER

"I think I have a level head, and I'll try to pick the best person ..."

"This is a simple courtesy that should be given to the student body," he told the board.
But Ockerman said that it would have been impossible to include all University interests on the search committee.

all University interests on the search committee.

"As you look at the make-up of the committee you can see that one whole segment of the university was excluded from the rocess because there is no one on the board that I can appoint that could represent that segment of the Uni-versity," Ockerman said.

Lohman lobbied hard last week one this breefingt on the search

A short time after he had chosen Jack Casteel Bruner II to be the student representative on the presidential search committee, Board of Trustees Chairman Foster Ockerman shook the little-known student's hand, laughed, and said, "I pitched you into the lions." Bruner, tired and a little flushed after answering questions from the

Bruner gets early taste of UK politics

media, answered, proceed."

If all this came as a shock to Bruner, it should be expected. The London, Ky., native knew only a few days ago that he was being considered for the coveted position, and he didn't find out until yesterday's meeting that he would be the student selected.

Now he faces the difficult task of helping nine other search committee members select UK's relishes.

"I think I'll be able to put in the time it takes to do the job," Bruner said. "I think I have a level head, and I'll try to pick the best person for the job." But students are still upset because they don't think Bruner was the ideal candidate for his job. A third-year medical student, Brun-

See BRUNER, Back page

See PRESIDENTIAL, Page 7 Chairman Foster Ockerman, center, addresses the Board of Trustees at yesterday's meeting in which a 10-member presidential search committee was appointed.

Students spend Christmas in Russia

By BOBBY KING

Christmas in Odessa? New Year's Day in Kiev?
That may seem like crucl and unusual punishment for some people, but for 10 UK students it was a great way to avoid the holiday blues.
Bob Flynn and his fellow comrades made the long journey behind the somewhat softened fron Curtain to the Soviet republics of Russia and the Ukraine over the Christmas break.

Flynn, a visiting instructor in the Russian department, organized the trip for the group, his fifth since 1979.

The students said that the trip

The students said that,the trip gave them a better understanding of the Soviet Union and its people. "We've been studying Russian for a long time and we were just really curious to know about their culture," said Lori Gregory, a junior minoring in Russian.

The students said they were surprised to find that many aspects of Soviet culture were not so foreign to them.

to them.

American institutions such as Pepsi, Dirry Harry, Led Zeppelin, and cartoon characters Tom and Jerry also were popular among many Soviets.

But the students said that it was strange to see Claint Eastwood speaking Russian.

"It's especially strange when one person did all the speaking in the movie," said Bryce Rich, a Russian major.

Sean Sutton mulls his basketball future while attending LCC

By JONATHAN MILLER

"I'm seriously considering to play basketball at Georgia Tech, but there are other schools that in-terest me, too," Sutton said during a recent interview.

arecent interview.
Sutton was one of four UK players who left the school after the basketball program was handed a three-year probation by the NCAA last summer. He has two years of eligibility left.
Sutton said he hopes to make a decision by next fall. He says that he has been contacted by Kansas state University, Providence College and the University of Houston.

ton.
"Georgia Tech has recruited him harder than any of the other schools," said Sean's father, Eddie Sutton, who resigned after coaching the Wildcast for four seasons. Sutton transferred to Purdue University last fall because he wanted to play in the NCAA Tournament again.

But after only 10 days as a Boilermaker, he returned to Kentucky and enrolled at Lexington Community College.

"When he left (UK) his emotional well was dry," Eddie Sutton said. "It links it is a blessing that he stayed out for a year. I am a believer in redshirting... so that you can get that fifth year in school." Sean said that he picked Purdue based on its coach, Gene Keady, who is a longtime friend of Eddie Sutton. ment ne text (Or) institution said. "I think it is a blessing that he stayed out for a year. I am a believer in redshirting ... so that you can get that fifth year in school, practicing his outside jump shot with his dad, jogging and lifting weights.

Sean said that he picked Purdue based on its coæch, Gene Keady, who is a longtime friend of Eddie Sutton.

He said he left because "I just didn't like Purdue's school in general."

Patsy Sutton, Sean's mother.

said.
"Purdue wasn't a bad decision," Patsy Sutton added. "It was a decision made in haste. We want him to have fun in college. That's something college athletes should have."

See SUTTON, Back Page

UK important to city, Baesler says

Change, but not too much. That is how Lexington Mayor Scotty Baesler described the growth of the city to Donova Scholars last night at the Student Center.

"You have got to cherish the values of the past while at the same the same the same than the same

ues of the past while at the same time having the visions enough of the future," Baesler said. "I think the biggest challenge we have in our community is making sure it is still what we like 10 years from Russian.

now,"
And in keeping with tradition, Bacsler said that Lexington will easeler said that Lexington will entire to write to depth with the University during the 1990s.

"We want to continue working with the University because it is such an important asset to our community and we want to continue working with them," he said.

Baessier told about 150 people that Lexington/Fayette County recently began several projects with UK, and the city has other ideas.

"Our work with the University is just beginning," he said. "Our relationship with our largest employer, that probably could be our greatest opportunity for cultural resources, is right here at the University of Kentucky."

Among Lexington's projects

Kentucky."

Among Lexington's projects with UK, Baesler cited a networking system in which 10 regional libraries, including the Margaret I. King Library, share information through the use of facsimile masity is the Virginia Place, a 16-unit apartment building that offers sinple mothers no-cost housing and day-care services while they attend school or job-training programs.

Connecting downtown with UK is one project Lexington is interested in starting, Baesler said.
"We have talked to the University a couple of times about working out some arrangement where we

See BAESLER, Back page

Diversions

Opera gaining acceptance. Story, Page 3.

Sports

Gymnast makes comeback at UK. Story, Page 5.

Weather -

Today: Windy. High 55°.

Tomorrow: 70% rain. High 47°.

Congress convenes for second session, confronted with an expanded agenda

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The 101st
Congress convened its second session yesterday, facing an agenda suddenly expanded by the emergence of democracy in Eastern Europe and a plan to cut Social Security taxes at home.

Lingering issues also abound, including child care, capital-gains taxes and deficit reduction.

Not waiting for President Bush to send up his own budget and legislative proposals, the Senate almost immediately began debating a far-reaching plan for cleaning up the air — a bill that is more costly and more sweeping than the president wants.

and more sweeping than the president wants.

Opposition is based more on geography and competing regional interests than on party lines.

The House made plans a mother confrontation for teday, an attempt to override business another confrontation for teday, as the objection of the confrontation of the mittee.

"It will be tougher on law en-forcement than on criminals," Bush said of the bill. The measure gener-ally would prohibit use of tained evidence, bar racially discriminatory executions and ban sale of assault marked by friendly reunions. Rep.

Jack Brooks, D-Texas, told colMitchell, D-Maine, told reporters

276-4437

269-3030

WELCOME

BACK

"There really is no good reason to override the president's veto unless it is just straight-out politics."

leagues that he'd nearly died of a pancreas ailment during the long break, and he accepted hugs and applause on the House floor.

Outside, a half-dozen House members arrived on bicycles after a two-block trip from a congressional office building to call attention to plans for Earth Day in the spring. Democrat Craig Washington was sworn in to fill the term of the late Rep. Mickey Leland, one day lefter a judge back in Texas sentenced Washington to 30 days in jail, accusing him of leaving legal clients in the lurch. Hearings have been scheduled for Washington to show cause why he should not be sent to jail.

on the other side of the Capitol, Sen, Daniel Patrick Moynihan, D-N.Y., formally introduced a bill to reduce Social Security taxes — an idea that had promped a full-scale White House statick when he proposed it last month. Moynihan says workers are being deceived because their Social Security taxes are being used to make the federal deficit appear far smaller than it is.

rederal defect appear far smaller than it is.

"These are insurance contributions, they are premiums paid," Moynihan told a news conference. "They do not belong to the government. If we are not going to save them we should return them."

His bill, which has drawn widespread interest but few sponsors, would roll back the tax increase that took effect Jan. 1 and reduce another scheduled for next year. That would save a worker with income over $51,300 about $600, and leave the Social Security system with just enough money to pay retirees' checks, Moynihan said.

The Bush administration says

such cuts would lead to reductions in benefits or to efforts to raise oth-

Moynihan's proposal is "develop-ing what I think is growing sup-port."

But House Republican Leader Bob Michel of Illinois said in a let-

Bob Michel of Illinois said in a let-ter to Rep, Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill; chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, that the proposed tax cut "could inspire even more drastic threats to the sys-tem and ultimately bring it down." Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., a member of the Budget Commit-tee, did what is seldom done in Congress these days: He introduced a bill proposing a tax increase. He recommended a 5 percent national sales tax that would exempt food, health care and housing. health care and housing.

neatin care and housing.

Hollings said that would raise enough money to roll back Social Security taxes, cut taxes on capital gains from stocks and bonds, expand tax-deductible Individual Retirement Accounts and create a reve-gans from stocks and bonds, ex-pand tax-deuteible Individual Re-tirement Accounts and create a reva-mes-sharing program for state and local education. In advance of Bush's budget, which will be submitted on Mon-day, and his State of the Union message, which will follow on Jan. 31, three of the president's top aides met with Republican senators of discuss the wealth of issues fac-ing Congress in this election year. Dole ticked off seven of those is-sues: the Chinese-student bill, clean air, expanding child-care as-sistance, campaign financing re-form, Bush's proposed capital-gains tax reduction, tougher crime legis-lation and the Social Security tax cut.

Neither Dole's list nor one drawn

Neuther Dole's list nor one drawn by Mitchell mentioned what likely will be attempts to send U.S. financial aid to the emerging democ-racies of Eastern Europe. Most of the dramatic changes in governments in that region took place after the 101st Congress wrapped up its first session on Nov. 23.

Nov. 23.
Dole has proposed that the U.S.

ISSUES OF 101ST CONGRESS

USA TODAY/Apple College Information Network

Here's an at-a-glance look at what to expect from the second session of the 101st Congress:

"The peace dividend: A partisan dispute is brewing over how to spend any savings from defense spending projections. Some want savings to ad social programs; others want the money to help offset the deferici the deficit.

Foreign aid: Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., wants to give most power own going to Israel and Egypt to Eastern Europe. Others want to cut aid to El Salvador, under attack since the killing of six U.S. priests. There are also members lobbying for Eastern Europe, Panama and the Nicaraguan rebels.

There are also members Jobbying for Eastern Europe, Panama and une Nicaraguan rebels.

•Ethies: The Senate's "Keating Five" are under investigation for whether they improperly intervened with federal regulators on behalf of a failing savings and loan run by one of their campaign contributors. The Keating Five are: Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariez, John McCain, R-Arizz, John Glenn, D-Ohio; Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Donald Riegle, D-Mich.

Also under investigation by the Ethics Committee: Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., accussed of pressuring Department of Housing and Urhan Development to finance housing projects controlled by friends and family; Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn., accused of questionable book-promotion scheme.

•Taxes: Bush may well win his two-year fight for a lower tax or capital gains that primarily benefits upper-income taxpayers.

Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynian, D-N.Y., caught the administration off-guard by proposing a cut in the Social Security payroll tax. It may be hard for Republicans to vote against that, but the administration opposes it because the Social Security surplus makes the deficit seems smaller.

deficit seems smaller.

"Clean air: Congress hasn't revised anti-pollution laws since 1977. But a House subcommittee broke a year-long deadlock last session and approved an overhaul of the Clean Air Act, requiring strict controls on auto emissions, factories and other toxic pollutants.

"Child care: The House and Senate passed different bills last session but failed to agree on a final compromise, which is likely this year.

Health care: The Pepper Commission is expected to report by March I on changes to the health care system. Proposals under discussion include insurance for long-term illnesses and health insurance for the working poor. Progress this year is unlikely.

Family and medical leave: The House and Senath hear aproved bills allowing for employees to take unpuls deave for the birth or adoption of a child or to care for a seriously ill child or parent. Leave also is permitted for the serious illness of an employee.

Civil rights: House and Senate will introduce legislation in response to several 1989 Supreme Court rulings restricting legal recourses for women and minorities claiming job discrimination. Also, the House is expected to take up a Senate-passed anti-discrimination bill for the disabled.

foreign aid program be over-hauled to help those countries, even if that means cutting aid to some long-time allies.

The proposal encountered oppo-sition from a group of Republican senators who attended a luncheon meeting with Secretary of State

James A. Baker III.
Sens. Robert W. Kasten Jr. of Kansas, Rudy Boschwitz of Minnesota, Don Nickles of Oklahoma and Arlen Specter of Pennsylvania told Baker they were opposed to the idea, a Senate Republican source
said

said. "The meeting was not unfriend-ly," said the source, who demanded anonymity. "But not one person got up in support of Dole's propo-sal."

Bill would create runoff primary

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Two bills with dramatic implications for Kentucky politicians — to create a runoff primary and make it possible for voters to throw rascals out of office — are wending through the state Senate.

Backers of the bills say they have high hopes for the legislation, despite opposition from Gov. Wallace Wilkinson.

Kentucky, which had runoffs briefly in the 1930s, would become the 12th state to feature a second the 12th state to feature a second primary.

It would apply to statewide elections in which no candidate won a majorily in the primary, under the bill sponsored by Sen. Mike Moloney, D-Lexingtion.

"I think there's going to be as tronger candidate if they have 50 percent of the vote" following a monoff, Moloney said after his Senate Bill 63 was approved yesterdate bill 63 was approved formatice. Wilkinson won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination with 35 percent of the vote in a crowded field in 1987. His victory in the general election that November was virtually assured by the Democratic position of the proposal or unoffs and refused to agree to such a proposal in the 1988 General Assembly.

Critics of runoffs say they make al Assembly.

Critics of runoffs say they make it harder for minority candidates to win office, but Moloney said, "I don't see that as an issue."
Aside from South Dakota and Oklahoma, the current primary states are from the old Confederacy — Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Missispi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Texas.

The committee also approved Sen. Joe Meyer's bill to provide for recall of statewide elected officials for felony offenses, incompetence, official misconduct or failure to

The secretary of state would have to determine whether sufficient grounds for a recall existed — a burden the secretary does not want, said Ron Geary, top aide to Secretary of State Bremer Ehrler.

75 O

Executive Editor
Managing Editor
Campus Editor
Editorial Editor
Sports Editor
Arts Editor
Arts Editor
Assistant Arts Editor
Photography Editor
Julie Esselman

Adviser Advertising Director Assistant Advertising Director Production Manager

Kip Bowmar Charlie McCue Steve Sanders Special Projects Writer Mike Agi

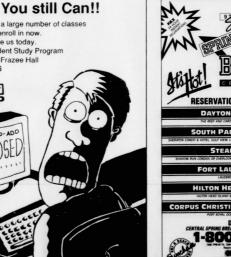

ntucky Kernel is published on class days during the academic year ar ring the eight-week summer session. lass postage paid at Lexington, KY 40511. Mailed subscription rates

Third-class postage paid at Lexington, in a constance of the constance of

You need to add a course?

We have a large number of classes you can enroll in now. Come see us today.

CONTINENTAL TANNING

Wolff

4 SCA Wolff Tanning Beds

New Wolff Bellarium (S) bulbs -

The hottest bulbs for your tan. 1 visit $2

NEW SUN CITY

269-5155 10 SCA Wolff Tanning

Beds

New Wolff Bellarium (S) bulbs The hottest bulbs for your tan

1 visit $2

12 visits $20 12 visits $20 Must present coupon expires 1/31/90

1990 Domino's Pizza, Inc. Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Delivery are safe driving. Valid at participating locations only. Sales tax additional whe PART TIME AND CAREER OPPORTUNITIES NOW AVAILABLE

Opera gaining acceptance

"Carmen" is a story of love, uncontrolled passion and the de-sire to be free. It is also one of which most Americans are una-which most Americans are unaware.

But UK vocal instructor and opera star Diana Davidson, who plays the fiery Carmen in UK's production that opens at the Otis A. Singletary Center tonight, thinks that is changing.

"Yes! think we've seen a lot of interest in (opera) lately," Davidson said after a recent rehears. In "You can tell when you see them using it in advertising and I see it a lot now.

"People used to feel that if they couldn't go and appreciate (opera) in an erudite manner then they shouldn't go, but that's not the way it is. You should go and appreciate it on whatever level ers will be singing the aria to each other of the opera that is playing that week. It's what Broadway is to us. It's very much their art form and grew out of their soil.

"Opera was brought to the United States by the social elite and it got associated with aristocratic snobbism. That really doesn't belong to opera. I think it is very accessible. It's earthy and very immediately appealing."

Davidson said she thinks that modern American attempts at opera such as "Tommy" by The Who and "Jesus Christ Superstar" are as valid as any opera.

She offered her own definition of opera as "basically a drama where the music propels the drama. It's sung instead of spoken, so 'Jesus Christ Superstar,' Tommy,' all of those are operas."

The expansion of regional opera is imminent, according to Davidson, for one main reason.

"It used to be that you'd go to New York if you wanned a carreer in you enjoy it."

While European audiences are more familiar with opera, Americans are becoming more appreciative, Davidson said.
"In Europe it is quite indigenous," Davidson said. "It's that is involved in maintaining these careers involves a lot of travel and some very wonderful talent drop out. They want to have the street the construction work.

As a result, she said there is a large base of talent to build a company around. She helped start the San Diego Opera Company, which began as a showcase for young talent.

Davidson said she is confident that a regional company can be built in Central Kentucky. She said that she is impressed with the level of funding for the arts in Lexington.

"Percentage-wise, Lexington is unusual for its size (in it how it funds the arts)," she said. "It has a very active arts community and very active arts community and very active arts support. It continually amazes me, I've traveled enough to be in other towns with populations relative to Lexington, and they don't have near the depth or breadth of talent. There's a lot going on here that's of high quality, It's an interesting place to be."

Davidson believes that regional opera companies can alleviate the problem of limited repertoire that is present today.

"Because opera has gotten so expensive to stage, companies can't afford or feel they can't af-ford to take a risk on a new work," she said.

'Born' an early favorite for Oscars

Oliver Stone's anti-war drama "Born on the Fourth of July" got a boost toward Oscardom over the weekend, winning the top four Golden Globe trophies.

The Hollywood Foreign Press Association

on the Fourth of July" for best dramatic movie, best screenplay, best director for Stone and best dramatic actor

CRUISE

the disabled veteran whose story

the disabled veteran whose story was the basis of the film, accepted a trophy for the screenplay he won with Stone Saturday at the 47th Colden Globes ceremony. Cruise thanked Kovic, "whose quest for this truth really drove this film," and all the Vietnam veterans who "gave their souls for me." "Born on the Fourth of July," a chronicle of Kovic's transformation from a patriotic soldier to a war protester, was 12 years in the making, Stone said. "On nights like this, for just one fleeting moment, you know you did the right thing," he said.

Golden Globe winners often capture the coveted Academy Awards.
Last year, for example, "Rain Man" took two top Golden Globes and went on to dominate the Oscars.
Nominations for the Oscars will be announced Feb. 14.
Another top winner was "Driving Miss Daisy," the account of a white Southern widow's relationship with her black chauffeur. It pricked up three awards, including best musical or comic motion picture.

Michelle Pfeiffer was named best series, and ABC's "China Beach" was named best dramatic TV series. "Lonesome Dove" won for best miniseries or television movie.

miniseries or television movie.

The Golden Globe winners for acting in a dramatic series were Ken Wahl, the star of "Wiseguy," and Angela Lansbury, who stars in "Murder, She Wrote." Christine Lahti was named best actress in a miniseries or TV movie for her performance in "No Place Like Home," a drama about a homeless family in the United States.

Robert Dusull won for best actor.

Michelle Pfeiffer was named best actress in a dramatic motion picture for "The Fabulous Baker Boys."

Disney's "The Little Mermaid" won for the best original score and best original song, Julia Roberts, from "Steel Magnolias," was best supporting actress in a miniseries was "Lonesome Dove."

Other TV awards went to Ted Dansel ("Anything But Love"), canned best actor and actress in a lelvision comedy or musical series.

won for the best original score and best original score and best original score. Julia Roberts, from "Steel Magnolias," was best supporting actor in a movie, and Denzel Washington won best supporting actor in a movie for "Glorum Paradiso" was maned best foreign language film. In the television competition, the CBS series "Wuntphy Brown" is supporting actor in a series, miniseries or television on the best musical or comic television of the prize for best supporting actor in a series, miniseries or television movie for his NBC show "Quantum Leap."

ПКА

ΣΑΕ

ΣΧ

ΣΝ

ΣΚ

ΘX

Study Abroad Information Session 207 Bradley Hall 12:00 -12:45

All you ever wanted to know about study abroad but were too busy to ask

Wed. Jan 24 GREAT BRITAIN
Fri. Jan 26 SPAIN and MEXICO
Mon. Jan. 29 ITALY

STUDY ABROAD SERVICES • 105 Bradley Hall • 257-8139

WHAT ARE YOU DOING THIS SPRING BREAK?

thing different, exciting, and adventurous?

Diving Center • 2573 Regency Rd. • 277-1234

NEW HORIZONS has the answer. We have the latest selection in scuba gear and accessories. We offer classes to help get you started. So why do the same old thing when New Horizons vou can take on new challenges of the ocean.

ΔΓΡ

ВΘП

Make it a night FH to remember at The Lansdowne Club KA 3200 Lansdowne Dr. КАΨ (conveniently located off Tates Creek Drive)

Call Today 276-5415

ΦΒΚ ΚΚΓ ΑΟΠ ΧΩ ΚΔ ΔΔΔ ΔΖ ΑΓΔ ΖΤΑ ΦΚΨ

ΑΤΩ ΑΖΔ ΚΑΘ Hey UK Organizations ΑΔΠ ΠΒΦ ΦΔΘ

For your Spring Formal

and Banquet

KENTUCKY THE KERNEL

- THE -KENTUCKIAN

PORTRAITS

257-4005

Call NOW to reserve a time to get your picture taken for the 1990 KENTUCKIAN

Yearbook

absolutely free!

Portraits will be taken January 22nd-26th

8:30 - noon & 1-5 p.m. Room 029, ·Grehan Journalism Building.

ALL CLASSES WELCOME, including undergrads, seniors and grad students!

Buy your yearbook for only $17, instead of the normal $20!

Don't miss your chance to be in the Book of the Decade!

-THE-KENTUCKIAN

DISCOUNT CHOPPING

It's time to ask yourself if you're ready for a revolutionary idea. An idea whose time has come

Are you ready for a great haircut at a great price?

Good. Because we're ready for you now. We've trained a new staff to cut hair the way we do at lvos

Ishmael, and we're opening a new division called

The Chop Shop. For only $7.00 you can get a great hair cut. But just a cut. So don't expect us to wait on you hand and foot. We don't even take appointments. If you're in a hurry or in the mood for some discount chopping, The Chop Shop is the place for you. Open Tuesday through Friday, 10-8

A Progeny Of IVOS 1 ISHMAEL

Cats hope to finally find road success

By BARRY REEVES

Earning a living playing college basketball on the road can be tough. But in the Southeastern Conference, it may be worse.

In fact, simple survival is the main objective when a team is forced to travel down the SEC's pathways.

"There is no easy game on the road, and I mean that," UK coach Rick Pitino said yesterday at his weekly news conference."... And the SEC is the toughest league in the country to win on the road. It's much tougher than it is in the Big East."

"Well I think that every place much tougher than it is in the Big East."

"Well, I think that every place (on the road) in the country is tough to win," Auburn coach Tomy Joe Eagles said. "... But the thing about this conference is that you're not only facing very good acrowds."

In the SEC "People have a lot of pride in their teams," Eagles said. Neither UK nor Auburn have to worry about paying membership dues in the "Road Warrior" club. Both squads have a combined 0-9 overall record on the road (0-6 in the SEC).

The Wildcas (8-8 overall, 4-3 in the SEC) will try to use some momentum from back-to-back wins to break their four-game road losing.

une SEC) will try to use some mo-mentum from back-to-back wins to break their four-game road losing streak when they meet Auburn to-night at the Joel H. Eaves Memori-

UK-Auburn

Records: UK 8-8 (4-3), When: 8:05 tonight. Where: Joel H. Eaves Memorial Coliseum, Auburn, Ala. WVLK-AM/FM with Television: None.

Caywood Ledford and Ralph Hacker.

al Coliseum in Auburn, Ala.

When asked how hungry his team is for a road win, UK center Reggie Hanson said: "Very hungry, because we haven't won on the road this season and we really need this."

But when scanning UK's sched-ule for the rest of the season, to-night's game offers the Cats their best chance of breaking the streak. The rebuilding Tigers are 5-11 overall and 2-4 in the conference, and are a bigger joke around the league than the yams former coach Sonny Smith used to spin. But this is Auburn territory. And they've never been great hosts to the Cats. Auburn defeated Vanderbilt 82-79 Saturday, edging a Commodore

Saturday, edging a Commodore squad that handled UK easily. Remember, said Pitino, no team is an analy victim in its arena.

"Vanderbilt found that out against Auburn," Pitino said. "... Auburn is very, very competitive at home and we have a tough chalelege ahead of us.
"The way I took at it is that you should win every game at home and lose every road game. It's a tragedy when you lose at home and an up-set when you win on the road." Eagles sees the situation in bigger scope. "If don't hink anyone is going to win this conference with more than one loss. ... You certainly have to take care of business at home."
But Eagles has two bigger con-

certainly have to take care of business at home.

But Eagles has two bigger concerns when preparing to face UK.
He starts a pair of freshman guards and his best interior player is out for the season with an knee injury.
Freshmen Reggie Gallon, who averages 10.1 points per game, and Ronnie Battle, who scores 17.3 points per game, start in the back-court. And Robert McKie, a 6-5 sophomore who averaged 11.6 points and 6.6 rebounds per game, is out the remainder of the season with a knee injury.
"With the pressure Kentucky puts on the ball, we have to be concerned with our backcourt," Eagles said. "And we are a little shorthanded right now with McKie's injury."

Pitino has a lot of praise for the Auburn backcourt duo of Battle and Auburn backcourt duo of Battle and Gallon. "They are not totally inexperi-enced (because) they were both redshirted last year," he said. "... They are both extremely quick and shoot the ball well. We've done a good job against good backcourts so far and we'll have our hands full with them."

Entering the UK game, Eagles is more concerned with how his team will adapt to the Cats' lightning fast-paced style.

"The tempo Kentucky plays is a problem for us just as it has been for everyone," he said. "... I think our basketball team, right now, is a physically tired team and that concerns us. But this team has showed they can rise above themselves and play."

And as it has been for many UK.

And as it has been for many UK games this season, three-point shooting could prove to be the key in victory.

"The biggest problem we have is that we have to go out and guard all of their players on the perimeter," Eagles said, "They can all hit the three-point shot. ... I don't think Kentucky has a conscience because every time they have it, they shoot it. We'd better be out on them quickly to stay in the game."

For the second game in a row.

game."

For the second game in a row, UK will have a size advantage, but Pitino says Auburn has the better interior team. The Tiger starting front line features 6-3 Derrick Denison (15.1 points per game), 6-6 Chris Brandt (13.1 points and 6.7 rebounds) and 6-7 are Arnold (7.0 points and 6.3 rebounds).

UK forward John Pelphrey drives to the basket against Tenne see's Greg Bell during Saturday's game. UK plays Auburn tonight

Elway says Broncos would 'cover' a 14 1/2-point spread quickly in the second half and never really threatened. Against Washing-ton, the Broncos were blitzed by Doug Williams for a record-setting, five-touchdown second quarter.

By HAL BOCK

NEW ORLEANS — Like some kind of sidewalk sharpie, John Elway considered the condition of the Denver Broncos and, in the tradition of quarterbacks past, offered a Super Bowl guarantee.

"Get another point-and-a-half,"
Elway said, "and I guarantee we'll cover the spread."

This falls somewhat short of Joe Namath's Super Bowl Ill guarantee that the 17-point underdog. New York Jets would beat the Baltimore Colts, but it will have to do for now.

The betting line, measuring the relative worth of Denver and San Francisco, says the Broncos are double digits short of the 49ers, 12 moints at last report, up from an original 10. Elway thinks his tand.

"People are not giving us a lot of chance," Elway said. "If we win, it will be the greatest upset of all time. If we lose, well, we're sup-posed to lose."

posed to lose."

The quarterback figures that puts on the 49ers, and The quarterback figures that puts all the pressure on the 49ers, and that's fine with him. It takes two teams to make a Super Bowl, and the Broncos are happy to play the party of the second part, odds against them not withstanding.

"Only one other team has a chance to be world champion," El-way said. "I'd rather go to bat and take my chances than not go to bat. I'll risk humiliation for the chance."

Humiliation, of course, has been

ances resulted in routs, and those wipeouts — especially the last two when he was the quarerback reigh heavily on Elway.

"For me to be the quarerback I want to be, I ve got to win the big game," he said. "Not too many guys who are classified as great quarterbacks have not won the championship. I don't know how many more chances well have. I've missed two opportunities. Hopefully, we won't miss the boat on this one."

Denver lost the first Super Bowl played in the Superdome 27-10 to played in the Superdome 27-10 to Dallas in 1978. Then, in the Elway era, came consecutive losses — 39-20 to the New York Giants in 1987 and 42-10 to Washington in 1988. Denver led 10-9 at halftime against the Giants but fell behind five-touchdown second quarter.

"The Redskins" Super Bowl, we were out so fast it felt like a waste," Elway said, "You work so hard, to give it all back in 10 minutes, that was most disappointing."

In both losses, Elway was forced into throwing on nearly every down. He was 22-of-37 against the Giants, 14-of-38 against the Redskins.

How would be the second of the red was the redskins. How would he like to be remem-bered? Elway smiled.

"I'd like to be looked at as a good quarterback who won at least one Super Bowl," he said.

Or at least covered the spread.

FIND YOUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME IN THE KERNEL CLASSIFIEDS

By ROBERT NORMAN

On the surface of things, Lee Wisnewski had everthing that a se-rious young gymnast could want. At 14, she tumbled in the most elite club known to U.S. gymnas-tics, and some thought she would be the "next Mary Lou Retton." And she had a dream, a realistic dream, to compete in the 1988 dream, to compete in the 1988 Olympics in Seoul, South Korea. But that was on the surface of

But that was on the surface of things.

"I completely lost myself while I was at the camp," said Wisnewski, who is now a UK gymnat. "I realized that everything I was doing I was doing for other people, not for myself."

myself."
When Wisnewski was offered a spot at Bela Karoyli's Elite Gymnastic's Camp in Houston she was thrilled.
This was Bela Karoyli, the star-maker.

She saw herself with the likes of gold medalists Nadia Comaneci and Mary Lou Retton, both Karoylitrained gymnasts.

Mary Lou Retion, both Karoyli-trained gymnasts.

The move, and the difficult and she would miss her former life, but she was a gymnast and that was for her future, not for her young life. During that exciting time, she had no idea she would become a tage to be shown to be suffered to be a root, not a person," said the energetic Wisnewski. "And it affected me. I couldn't get close with people anymore, I didn't do gymnastics for myself anymore, but for this man, and I knew he really didn't care about me."

about me."

Karoyli's method is rigorous, and in order to make the grade at his camp, you have to have only one thing in mind: a drive to be the

But Wisnewski couldn't forget her past life or her friends back her past life or her friends back home.

She couldn't handle Karoyli's training style either.

According to Wisnewski, Karoyli's proven style was emotionless and could be ruhless. ("It stupidity was painful," Karoyli often scornfully said to her, "you would scream your life away.")

She says the worst episode came when she landed wrong on her ankle while practicing in Houston. Her ankle was broken.

"He called me an idiot and made me tumble on it for a half-an-hour. When I ran on it I could feel the bones sliding together. He told me there was nothing wrong with it. I was in tears."

was in tears."

She went to the doctor later that evening and it was diagnosed as broken.

The ankle eventually healed, but two years of Karoyli's harsh coaching methods took their toll. Wis-

Freshman Gym Kat Lee Wisnewski, who once trained with Bela Kanewski decided to leave the camp, knowing that she was leaving her dream and her chance at becoming the best in a highly competitive

the best in a nignry company.

After two years away from home in a place she gradually grew to regard with dread and contempt, she went back to a family whom she had become alienated from.

"The camp took so much out of me," Wisnewski said. "It took a long time to get back to be me. I never called home because every-time I talked to my parents, I was worse off. I missed my old life more."

She had an identity crisis at 16. She had an identity crisis at 16.
She overcompensated for the veritable loss of two youthful years by doing things she says she never would have done had her ego not been destroyed by a training system.

been destroyed by a training system.

"I did a lot of things I wasn't supposed to do," Wisnewski said.
"I went out partying every night. I never went to school. I did everything I was deprived of while I was at Bela's camp.

"I changed, my friends changed. I was like, 'Look what I missed out on,' and i started partying hard."

Her self-destructive behavior led to her getting kicked out of her mother's home.
And it nearly led to her death.
"I became anorexic," she said. "I didn't eat for hree months. I never

"I became anorexic," she said." didn't eat for three months. I never went to the hospital, but it got very bad."
She realized, in time, that she had to climb out of the rut she had dug herself into. She said she finally "took a long, hard look at reali-

Lady Kats may make history in Saturday afternoon game

The stage was set.
The arena was packed with 7,100 preaming fans. Rick Pitino was even there.

With all the commotion,

With all the commotion, some-one may have thought the raucous crowd was there for the latest seg-ment of Pitino's Bombinos. But this was Lady Kats basket-ball, at its finest in the Sharon Fanning coaching tenure. Last night the Lady Kats came a step closer to getting the necessary upset on the road to national prom-inence.

upset on the road of inence.

Last night the UK women's pro-gram shot off a couple cannons, which just missed their mark, but still were heard around the South-eastern Conference and the country. The bird-ranked Tennessee Lady Volunteers entered Memorial Coli-seum last night looking like a well-tuned machine.

There was one of the nation's seum last night looking like a well-tuned machine.

There was one Ja Summitt. There were the Tennessee cheerleaders and mascot. And a team that is the returning national champion with just two All-America candidates.
While on the other bench the upstart Lady Kast, who finished near the bottom of the SEC last year, and a bench full of freshmen.
UK only led in the game twice, scoring the first basket and then at 4-3. From there Tennessee got out to many 13-point leads, ultimately winning by 16.
But the Lady Cats cut most big deficits into smaller terms. UK railed by only one at a point in the second half.
The game was similar to the ty" and decided to heal her emotional and physical wounds.

"That wan? t me. So I began to look at things differently and try to find who I really was.
"Everything I did in my life, I had done for other people. Never for myself"

The game was similar to the Louisiana State game in one respect. UK almost beat a higher

Twice this season Lady Kat team has been stopped in a mission for respect and recognition in the na-

But both times, and throughout he season, the team has show promising signs for the future. In last night's game, the under-classmen were the brunt of the classmen were the bru Lady Kats scoring attack.

Saturday the women take on the Mississippi Lady Rebels at Rupp Arena. The game will follow the men.

The Lady Rebs received 75 vote in The Associated Press Top 25 Poll, released Monday. UK received 58. Both of the teams in the week end matchup are just behind the 25th-ranked Old Dominion, which received 84 votes 25th-ranked Old Dominion, which received 84 votes.

Ole Miss upset seventh-ranked Georgia last week. That makes Saturday's game a possibility for more than a mild upset.

The Tennessee performance combined with a victory Saturday would definitely move the Wildcass ahead of the Lady Rebs and in all likelihood would place them in the poll for the second time this season.

In the game against the Lady Vols the Lady Kats had many bright spots, but at least three flaws keep them from pulling out the victory.

Neither team shot well in the UT game. Both hit a whopping 40.7 percent in the first half along with 47.8 percent for UK and 47.2 for the Lady Vols.

In an upset bid 44.4 percent will not do. The Lady Kats must, as Fanning has said previously, hit fifty percent or better.

The Lady Kats were outrebounded by Tennessee 45-33. Taller teams will outrebound UK, and a margin of ten is adequate. But the team must have more than one player to get over 5 rebounds. Vanessa Poster-Sutton got 12 rebounds Monday, while three others of the control of the state of the control of the fake:

Fanning had plenty of reason to scream while working the sidelines when she first came here. The program that once was in the national ranking almost as often as the men was in disarray.
The third-year coach is still screaming from the bench even though her squad is on the brink of breaking into the rankings. Her reflect the improvement in the proreflect the improvement in the pro reflect the improvement in the program.

If the about 5,000 people that stuck around last Saturday to hear Pitino's radio show stay for the ensuing contest, they may see a Lady Kat milestone.

Are You Career minded?

write for the Kentucky Kernel

99¢ Regular Rax

FREE

Regular fry with purchase of our new grilled chicken sandwich

plasrna alliance 2043 Oxford Circle

254-8047

Mon-Thu 7am-8pm • Fri 7am-6pm • Sat & Sun 8:30am-2pm

GOLDEN KEY MEETING

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1990 Student Center Room 359 (across from small ballroom)

7:00pm

All those interested in becoming an OFFICER should attend.

8:00pm

General Membership Meeting-Everyone please attend!

Certificates will be available for pick-up!

A E TENNIS

myself."
Wisnewski then started to respond to the feelings that she had denied since joining Karoyli's camp.

She quit hanging out with the partying crowd whom only a year before she had modeled herself af-

These Smiles Bonded by Dr. Flanagan

6

See WISNEWSKI, Back page

You can 't help but have self confidence

when you have a beautiful smile!

If you're not satisfied with your smile, call Betty or Jean for more information.

FREE Consultation

A DAVID A. FLANAGAN, DMD

275-2111 or toll free

4. Beamonstration

2620 Wilhite Dr., Lexington

6 p.m. January 27 New Student Center

> Winners go to Regionals

Gameroom

Men's & Women's Billiards

6 p.m. January 27

Gameroom 231 Student Center

Winners go to Regionals table Soccer

3 p.m. January 27

Gameroom 231 Student Center

Winners go to Regionals

USCF Rated

2 p.m. January 27

Gameroom 231Student Center

Winners go to Regionals

P

35.11 3.5 p.m. Billily 17th. OOR FOR room 7994 FOR 5150. dated dated dated MAR S400 MAR S400 MAR S400 MAR S273-2 Sunbts

41

Student activism will aid education of state leaders

If the amount of effort being put into this year's student

If the amount of errort being put into mis year's student lobby is any indication, we may be seeing an increase in student activism—at least at UK.

According to several state lawmakers and University officials, this year's student lobby effort in Frankfort is one of the best they have seen in the last 10 years.

During the 1980s, college students were dubbed as being states that the seems can work interested in their apathetic toward current events and more interested in their own careers. As the nation's homeless population climbed and own careers. As the nation's nomeress population clinifical appoyerty increased, many students went on with their lives, pretending that little concerned them.

During the 1988 session of the General Assembly, students showed some token support of higher education, but the overall effort fell well short of some people's hopes.

This year's campaign, however, appears to be much better coordinated and planned. Since last semester, student leaders because been profitige their strategy for the General Assembly. The coordinated and planned. Since last semester, student teacers have been plotting their strategy for the General Assembly. The result, some state leaders say, is a more favorable attitude toward higher education in Frankfort.

But it is important for students not to become complacent. Although higher education's prospects appear bright after Gov. Wallace Wilkinson released his budget request, much is left to

Higher education must now convince state lawmakers that a

Higher education must now convince state lawmakers that tax increase is needed to pay for additional funding, which surely will be a difficult job.

Higher education also must compete against other special interests when the state's general fund is divided by lawmakers. Although universities may not have the financial resources to compete against some special interests' lobbies, higher education does have the manpower.

higher education does have the manpower.

More than 55,000 people attend UK and its 14 community colleges. If just 10 percent of that number lobbied state leaders, UK's chances of getting funding from the state would be increased significantly. Politicians stay in office by doing the politically right thing, and it is important that higher education ake it clear what the politically right thing is.

Plans for the second half of the student lobby includes a 9 a.m. press conference tomorrow in the state Capitol Building and a phone bank in Greek houses, residence halls and other

The logistics to reach lawmakers have been set up, but unless students respond and contact their lawmakers and state leaders to make their opinion known, higher education could be left out in the cold once again.

Society's outcasts portrayed in 'Born'

"Born on the Fourth of July" is a painful movie, with so many nuances that refer to the current state of society that I found myself cringing in various parts of the film.
Tom Cruise deserves whatever honors he receives as an actor for his portrayal of Ron Kovic, a paralyzed Vietnam veteran, who returns from war to a society that has abso-

his portrayal of Ron Kovic, a paralyzed Vicinam veteran, who returns from war to a society that has absolutely no idea what to make of him, let alone how to deal with all of the returning soldiers and their posttraumatic stress syndrome.

As the movie tells it, Kovic volunteers to join the Marines after high school graduation, because he loves his country, and wants to protect it from the "commies."

A friend of Kovic's disagrees with him about the honor and valor of marching off to fight a war, millions of miles away, but Kovic believes it's his destiny. He is enthus issuic about becoming a soldier like his father was in World War II.

Kovic becomes a sergeant in the Marines, and is surviving in Vietman until his troop is fired on by villagers. After what Kovic calls a tot of confusion, he fires three shots into a soldier charging him, who he later learns was another American.

In his next tour of duty, a villag-

who he later learns was another American.

In his next tour of duty, a villager shoots Kovic in the foot, he falls, stands, and is shot again in the chest. The bullet severs his spine and causes him to be paralyzed from the chest down. He is taken to the infirmary and given his last rites, ignorant of the hell he is about to endure the control of the hell he is about to end with rats, unsympathetic orderlies, clogged catheters, news of war protesters and humiliation.

Kovic went to Vietnam to fight for the country he was op proud of, and returned to New York, where he was spit on, accosted and rejected.

In a drunken rage, he reminds his mother that she told him it was God's will for him to go to Vietnam, screaming, "You made me go!"

Though not blameless, how go!"

Though not blameless, how could she know he would return handicapped and broken, instead of a

Contributing COLUMNIST

Kovic asks his father, "Who will ove me?, Who will ever love

He finds his answer in Mexico He finds his answer in Mexico among the whores and fellow veterans who have the same understand-ing of the Vietnamese atrocities and feelings of being outcast when they return unwelcome to the country they had so much passion for. Americans have a knack of reject-ing whoever is different from them, ing whoever is directly from uern, scapegoating the group, whether it is based on a racial, ethnic or some physical incongruity. It seems that we're always looking for someone to blame other than ourselves.

to blame other than ourselves.
We didn't know what to do with the veterans when they came back from the Vietnam war 15 and 20 years ago, just as we don't know what to do about the homeless to-

We weren't prepared in the '60s

We weren't prepared in the '60s and we're not prepared for our current misfil groups in the '90s. In "The New Colossus," Emma Lazarus wrote, "...Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free, the wretched refuse of your teening shore, send these, the homeless tempest tost to me..."

Written more than 100 years ago to accompany The Statue of Liberty, "The New Colossus" asked for the homeless and hungry. We wanted the wretched refuse of other countries. We wanted to give them a taste of freedom, a taste of tolerance.

a taste of freezonn, a taste of torea-nace.

Maybe in 2070 or so, another country will return the favor and in-vite America's unwanted, homeless and wretched refuse to experience what we once offered, because Americans have proven we have no place for them anymore.

Make a change

Tomorrow's leaders need to stop homelessness today

When I first walked into that homeless shelter, I felt an array of emotions, the strongest being fear. As I looked around the room at the men sprawled across the floor, I could hear my friend's voice saying that I was crazy to spend the night with 30 men I ddin't know. For a brief moment, I, too questioned why I was there. Then I realized that I could not let my fear consum men, nor could I allow stereotypes to color the reason I came the shelter.

My presence said I would not tolerate a society in which people wandered the streets or slept in shelters.

shelters.

The shelter pays some of the residents for doing jobs such as laundry and cooking. The pay is minimal, although it is intended to build the men's self-esteem.

Even with programs that are run at various shelters, I do not know the rail! a listing the dependence.

what will eliminate the desponden-cy homeless people face on a daily by nonneress people lace on a dualy basis.

Imagine carrying all your belongings in a backpack, sleeping with people you don't know, or not having anything to eat. The saddest commentary on the homeless is how other people treat those who are homeless. It's as if they don't exist.

Their character, is based on a

Their character is based on a string of unrelated factors such as appearance. Strangely enough, people blame the homeless for their plight as if they chose to sleep outside.

OPINION

I first got to know people who are homeless when I was working one summer in Delaware. Each morning as I walked to work, I saw a man wandering the streets mumbling to himself. No one seemed to notice him except me.

bling to himself. No one seemed to notice him except me. That was my first exposure to a homeless person on a daily sharism. The issue of homelessness was no longer a news item I saw on television— it was a reality. This man was a constant reminder of the extremity of poverty, and he made me feel guilty. I felt guilty because he didn't have better or food and I hadn't reached out solve his problems. I knew that ier of food and I hadn't reached out to solve his problems. I knew that I could help, but I didn't know what needed to be done.

I questioned why I didn't help the man who paced the sidewalks every day. I could not answer, so I decided I had to do something.

While I was working, I sneaked out of the office and bought this man lunch but he refused it. I was confused — he was hungry and I offered help, so why didn't he accept?

cept?
A friend told me that although my motive was good I had failed because I hadn't shared power with this man. I hadn't asked him what electrical power and gas. This means that no elevators or street cars are to be running. Homes would be without water, fuel or light. It would be impossible to communicate with friends or loved ones, even in the other part of the him.

Guest OPINION

I apologized to the man and asked what he needed. He said a few dollars, and I willingly gave it to him. He took the money and turned

He took the money and turned away.

Then he called out to me and handed the money back, saying perhaps another time. When I was ready to return home at the end of the summer, I reminded him that he said I could help another time. I asked once again what he needed and he said a few dollars. I gave it to him and he accepted.

I never saw the man again, but he had an impact on my life. I wanted to know what caused people to live on the streets. I had many questions, but no answers.

When I returned to school I enrolled in a sociology course that ex-that something needed to be done to eradicate homelessness but not do-ing anything myself. If I was scared, chances were that those men were just as scared. I could walk out of that shelter and go home, but they didn't have that option.

I spent the night helping a young man from Mexico learn English. He had only been in the states a few months and he was teaching himself to read, speak, and write English.

A man who sat across the table asked why! twanted to volunteer at the shelter. I didn't have to think long before I replied that I didn't like the things that I saw and I wanted to make a difference.

I wasn't ready to quit talking with these men when it was time to turn the lights off. I wanted to continue discussing our similarities and learning about their lives. I can't remember ever being so conscious of my language and how to phrase questions. I didn't twant my ignorance to offend anyone. I don't think of myself as tomorrow's leader — why should I procreatinate? The conditions of poverty are today's concerns. I realize that staying in a sheller won't end homelessness, but it's the first step of many I hope to take to resolve the problem.

(Columnist's Note: There is an internship available to work with the homeless through the mayor's office. For more information, call me at 257-3632.)

Gun control laws designed to profit leftists

The Roman Catholic bishops of Kentucky have recently issued a statement in favor of gun control. I, too, am Roman Catholic and I believe that the bishops' intentions are good, but they greatly err.

On the issue of gun control, I would like to present a perspective from two former members of the Communist Party who reveal what happens on the day the Communistation was consistent to the communistation of the Communi

"Goon squads of professional murderers are to round up the peo-ple in business districts, Men are to be held as hostages in some of the larger buildings. Women are to people.

Following is some of what Kenneth Goff and then Josph Zack had to say, as quoted from The Shenwith the Third Shen of the Shenwith the North Lord By C. Mary Shen
'At that hour, two large is supposed to take place in ev of any size. Leaders of the
are to be carefully chos
trained in advance. The distu are to be of such an extent i entire modified large forces of are to be of such an extent a quire sending large forces o to those areas. While the : ties are trying to quell thes picked bands of Reds are to seize the radio stations and telephone ex-changes. With the aid of their com-rades who are employed in: communication systems as instantly cripoled.

instantly crippled.

"Flying squads of Com
are to seize control of th supply and shut it off; a

which he is preparing. His entire training focuses at that point.
"When night comes, the city is to be in pitch darkness. Murderous bands of Reds will roam the streets, plundering shops and starting fires in old buildings. This will increase the panie and facilitate the surrender of women, children and old people, who will be held as hostages to hasien the surrender of unarmed men.

"Then as the morning sun casts her first rays on the community, one will be able to see blood flowing in the streets. This is no idle dream. The Communits Party is working methodically and with deadly precision towards this objective."

Presidential search committee

Charles Weinington for interim president. Wethington is a close friend of Wilkinson, and Ockerman was appointed to the board by Wilkinson. Lohman said he wrote two letters to Ockerman — one to express his desire to be on the committee, the second explaining the resolution. The SGA Senate showed its support for Lohman in the form of a resolution last week calling for the SGA president to be the student representative on the committee. Ockerman denied that Lohman was snubbed because of his vote against Wethington, saying: "I don't think that had anything to do with it. That vote was entirely different from the search committee."

Several student leaders expressed disappointment in the outcome of yesterday's one-hour board meeting.
"It'll be interesting to see how this is received," said Allen Putman, an SGA Senator at Large. "I think ... a lot of students are going to be fairly upset with this because from what I'm aware, there are not a majority of students who know who (Bruner) is."
Bruner, a 1986 graduate of Centre College, said Lohman's argument was "a legitimate complaint.
committee, fairing that he would be left off because he voted against

Charles Wethington for interim

Charles Wethington for interim president. Wethington is a close friend of Wilkinson, and Ockerman was ap-But I'm willing to be a representa-tive for the undergraduates. Asked if he had any connections to the Wilkinson administration, Bruner replied: "No sir, not at all." When asked if his family has any connections to the Wilkinson ad-ministration or made any contribu-tions to his campaign, Bruner said, "No."

"No."
Trustee Jerome Stricker, who voted against Lohman's appeal, said instead of trying to "change the rules in the middle of the game," Lohman should have introduced a motion calling for student body presidents to be on search committees for future presidents.
Donna Greenwell, 1986-87 SGA

president, served on the selection committee that nominated David Roselle.

The search committee will recommend its choice to the full board. Ockerman said that he has no timetable for picking UK's 10th president.

In other action yesterday:

"The Board's finance committee denied a request by the Hutchens Company, Inc., for an extension of its contract with the University past Jan. 31 for developing part of Seath Earm

Jan. 31 for developing part of South Farm. In 1987 the Board said that South Farm no longer suited the College of Agriculture's teaching or research needs. UK granted an extension to the company in 1988 and another ex-tension last month until Jan. 31. The finance committee did not act on the Hutchens Company request yesterday, in effect killing it, Ockerman said.

The board also passed a resolution praising Wilkinson's funding efforts for higher education. The measure came one day after the Council of Higher Education's decision to praise the $206 million increase proposed for higher education in the 1990-92 biennium, pointed to the board by Wilkinson.

Lohman said he wrote two letters to Ockerman — one to express his desire to be on the committee, the second explaining the resolution.

The SGA Senate showed its sup-

We know what you like RAX

NEW GRILLED CHICKEN SANDWICH.

(befind Kennedy's)

MUSHROOM MELT
SANDWICH
YEARBOOK POT RATTS WILL BE TAKEN FOR ONE
WEEK ONLY, JAN 22-28 MON-FRI 8:30-NOON
FOR YOUR APPOINTMENT

10% DISCOUNT. UK STUDENTS WITH ID. THE GRILL AT 400 WEST. CALL 253-4745.

$$$ PAYING CASH $$$
BASEBALL CARDS FOOTBALL CARDS BASKETBALL CARDS ALL YEARS CALL 268-8234
WANTED: Someone who knows practices and understands Buddhism in its basic form Please call

roommate wanted

NEEDED to share furnished 3 BR Includes utilities. Cloe to campus

FEMALE NON-SMOKER NEEDED to share 2-3 BR duplex Lakeshore Drive $200 plus by utilities 269-

Lohman said he wrote two letters to Ockerman — one to express his desire to be on the committee, the second explaining the resolution. The SGA Senate showed its support for Lohman in the form of a resolution last week calling for the SGA president to be the student representative on the committee.

Ockerman denied that Lohman

CATCH UP ON THE CAMPUS NEWS WITH THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Call 257-2871 Deadline: 3 p.m. the day before publication

for sale

ATTN. PHOTOGRAPHY STUDENTS: tim lens for Minolta camera. Lens opening of ng $65. Call 268-2724 or 257-6538 after

DORMITORY REGRIGERATOR $50; DRAFTING TABLE $50; FOLDING CHAIRS $5 EACH. CALL 873-2064 OR LEAVE MESSAGE. OR SALE: Small refrigerator — great for dorm oms! Must sell Asking $35 or best offer. Call 269-

FOR SALE: Small refrigerator — $45. Call 253-4759

S150. Call 253-0275.

FOR SALE: 3 BR RANCH-STYLE HOUSE: Walk-out basement. 11/v baths, large farmly room, single garage, large backyard, well-landscaped. Many updates. $69,500. 1910. Westminister Dr. Call 276-287.0/287.731

for rent

ment for rent. Carpeting, garbage disposal, dis-ir, mini-blinds, laundry facilities, security en-system. Close to campus 253-3248, 231-

61 Groove 62 Gumshoes 63 Ascertain

1 — at: graquickly 2 Sorrow 3 Bird: Lat. 4 Word differenti

DOWN

Species efficiencies proi grande de la companya del companya de la companya de la companya del companya de la companya de la companya de la companya del comp

help wanted

DO Sign belongs we want to stop 98 above the stop 100 miles 100 mi

IBM actionwiller Ingenerities. Excited condition
34-00 bearing 179-1801.

Mill the citative be experience. For experience of consenses and one imagenciation. Depairwring, bearing to prevent the property of the computer St. C. dis ordinary experiences of the computer St. C. discourable experiences of the computer St. discourable experiences of the c

CAMP COUNSELOR

HAVE THE SUMMERS OF YOUR LEFE AND GET PAID
FOR IT. TO 3 -camp organization in the Pocono Mountains of NE PA. Our 50th year Positions in all adventure. Please call 1:800-333 CAMP (215-8879700 in PA) or write. 40.7 Benson East. Jenkintown.
PA 1:9040

AVALABLE SON: UP on 11 118 promote Protein
1 (Fill spring interes $7.70m; 20.11 m.)
1 (Fill spring interes $7.70m; 20.1

Large 1 now efficiencies with both with believe and Associates Perform Receive from Exceptions 2.25 and 2.25 per morn plant part of the Control Security of the Control Securi

TODAY'S

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

MARKET DISCOVER CREDIT CARD ON YOUR CAMPUS. Flexible hours Earn as much as $10.hr. Only ten positions available. Call 1-800-950-8472.

Isal 3 MANNY'S INC, is looking for responsible adults with childrace background. Live-in or live-out full and part-time positions available $1.25-$250'nk Benefits. Your choice family, Cial 266-NANY NEED CASHY Out a 54'nt day job working for Student Center Ford Services' Go to Rm. 239 Student Center for detail.

a m -4.30 p m.

Phone answerers needed: free rent in a rooming house near UK in exchange for answering the phone Call 254-2288.

Secretary/pars/legal nuck and accurate word perfect is 0 disease, Alpanood relegations and people skills. Flexible hours up to $80 miles hours up to $80 miles hours up to $80 miles hours.

Associates 253-1357
Shipping/receiving, Need sharp individual, 9 e.m.-2 p.m. Mon. Fr. Phone Kim or Howard at 268-1431
WANTED: individual to babysit toddler in our home several hours per week. Prefer early chidhood major. Call 277-675.

personals

AAAAA
UNIVERSITY CLUB
PERSONALIZED BUCKETS — — $3
ALL THE TIME!!
AAAAA
UNIVERSITY CLUB
r night pool tournament. $3 entry. Winner

AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB
MONDAY NIGHT DARK TOURNAMENT! 53 ENTRY.
WINNERT TAKES TO ALL 257-005

MONDAY NUMBER TAKEN DARI YOUNGARRAN S SERVI YOUNGARRAN DARI BERRIT TUES-DAY, FRIDAY B SHOWAD A SHOWAD

A FREE GIFT JUST FOR CALLING, PLUS RAISE UP TO 31,700 IN ONLY 10 DAYS. Student groups, frats and sorportian members for

Dos. 17th Onlines Suize, your Price Curt., group oncore can find the AZDs, DZs, KAPPAS, PI PHIS, ZETAS AND SIGMAN KAPPAS GEI psychologif to roingin's party at JD's with U of L. UG. Centre, EKU and UK Branch sizing with overall members from each UK International Conference on Computer State A 12-step recovery party of the strainess and freeds on exposure. Cell 204-3172 for sees meetings, (2 one proposed).

inpus)
STY INTERNATIONAL meets every Wednes7 p.m. in Room 119 Old Student Center
ATTENION SNOW SKIERS!
MANDATORY
Up meeting. O'dening ackets and distributing

Ski club meeting. Ordering jackets and distributing membership cards and discount books. ALL MEMBERS MUST ATTEND! Any questions? Call Jenny at 258-8155 Sun. 1/28 at 8 p.m. Seaton Center Pm.

APPLICATIONS ARE NOW BEING ACCEPTED FOR THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ELECTION BOARD FOUND HORST AND HARD WORKING APPLY AT 120 STUDENT CENTER THROUGH 13799.

ATTENTION CONCERT COMMITTE
Friday 4 p.m. Room 228 New Student Cen HAS BEEN SPOTED AT WORSHAM THEATRE!!

HI III BATIMAN WILL BE SPOWN JANUARY 2-22.

SION IS ONLY $1.95.

BETA THETA P!

PRE-INSTALLATION MINGLE

200

PRE-INSTALLATION MINIGLE
TONIGH
5 p.m.-1 a.m.
TO ALL LIK STUDENTS — 550 PERM FOR $25
LONG HAR $35.
ALL 1 550. TALL

ball at The Seal.

COLIGGE DEWOCRATS FIRST MEETING OF SEMESTER THURS, 25th 5.30 PM RM. 231 Student

Center, FREE REFRESHMENTS:

COLLEGE REPUBLICAN

EE REFRESHMENTS:
COLLEGE REPUBLICAN
MEETING
GUEST SPEAKER:
REP. TONY CURTSINGER
WED. JAN. 24
ROOM 228
NEW STUDENT CENTER.
I'm neiver going to let you g

1 $154. Call 254-1991 for informat DO YOU LOVE ME...

BALLROOM DANCE SOCIETY Classes start Mon., Jan. 29 7 p.m. Barker Hati Dance Strudon ALL Students, faculty, staff are invited NOW THATI CAN DANCE???

FMA Offeres Classes starte now Degener larate size

FMA Offeres Classes starte now College of PRODUCTION & EDITULTY, STAFF, AND STUDENTS, M & W 5306-30

FM. ALUMIN GYM. MORE INFORMATION 255TELEVISION COMMITTEE. Call 257-8667 for detable to the control of the college of 2625.

GET READY UK EXCELSIOR TICKETS GO ON SALE MONDAY AT THE STUDENT CENTER TICKET OFFICE! FIRST CENTER TICKET OFFICE! FIRST CENTER!

GO CORE! K-BERG, MINDO, HOLME-GIRLE AND HELCIA! PLAY TOUGHT! DWB.

* * INDOOR MINI GOLF * *
Welcome back special
PLAY ALL DAY FOR $3.25

EPSILON OMICRON CF.M.
THIS SATURDAY
AT THE RADISSON HOTEL
MUSIC BY BLACK WIDOW.
AZZERCISE
Sat

Baptist Student Union M-W 6 p.m. Sat. 9 15 a.m. 8 classes $23 STUDENTS WITH VALID ID RECEIVE 15% OFF OF CLASSES (4 or more classes). 272-4455.

oe you're enjoying white our initiation into A.O.T.1

MONEY — MAKE IT NOW! Proven methods. For tree infor write EAGLE PUBLISHING, Dept. A. 371 ALL THE TIME!

THE ALLO SHOTS ALL USE OF THE TIME OF THE ALLO SHOTS ALL THE TIME.

ALL THE TIME.

NEED A DIT COLD SHOTS SHOWING OF THE ALLO SHOTS ALL THE TIME.

NEED A DIT COLD SHOTS SHOWING OF THE ALLO SHOTS ALL THE TIME.

NEED A TIME TO MAKE A TIME TO ALL THE TIME TO THE TIME TO THE TIME.

NEED A TIME TO MAKE A TIME TO THE TIME TO THE TIME TO THE TIME.

NEED A TIME TO THE TIME TO THE TIME TO THE TIME TH

NIKE AIR CAR NAY 235-57-AU
NIKE AIR CAR STORE STORE
REG. $90
NOW $64.99!
COURT $PORTS
395 $. LIMESTONE
255-9125.
NIKE AIR SOLO FLIGHTS
Reg. $90:
COURT $PORTS
395 $. LIMESTONE
255-9125.

ONLY ONE COPY, of Gurney Norman's Divine Rights Trip, but many other perfectly splendid books are available at WOODLAND PARK BOOKSTORE, 516 E HGH Open daily – come vist!

E HIGH Opendaly – come visit!

ODPS – 80WL – 1

Join Elway and Montain on our 10 TVs. Happy hou of chick prices in the price of chick prices, and drink give inveys, Alab register for the weekend getaway to Cincinnatti to be given inveys at half-time kickoff is at 1 p.m., Jan. 28 at Alley-Oops stadium.

HIST TIME ITS A PARTY!! People may sign up to attend the Leadership Con-ference by seeing Cynthia Moreno in Room 106 Student Center.

Pi Phi A.L: Hang in there. We know you can do it.

Love your sisters. you Love your safets
RHA MEMBERS AND HALL PRESIDENTS — RHAS
St meeting of the 80's — Wed, Jan 24m at 9 m

23-49139, 23-49139

D & G SECRETARIAL SERVICES — All phases of word processing. Open evenings and Saturdays 223-4298. n Holmes Hallocby, 24m at 9 p.m 223-4299. 223-4299. EXPERENCED TYPIST using word processing will of things — we meet this Wed at 9 p.m. in Holmes Hallocby, 252-5275 ask for Hallocby,

SPRING BREAK

DAYTONA BEACH

High quality beachfront accommoda-tions for 7 exciting nights.

59 $239

To offernation Johnson
Shawn Johnson

277-0066

CERA LA CAMPUS OF EVEN OF A CAMPUS OF TANNING THE SINGHAM SHOP OF THE CORE OF

DOUG SAYS...

Over 500,000 college students go to Daytona Beach for Spring Break. Why aren't you? Trips starting at $154. Call 254-1991 for information.

We will have a meeting THURSDAY. Jan. 25, 1990 in Room 359 of Student Center. See ad in today's Kernel for time and more and 255-5125.

KAPPA SIGS — Congratulations to the new actives and pledges! YOU'RE GREAT! Love, Jen.

KD PLEDGES: Hope you're enjoying white rose world College of the process of the process

For an exoling spring break trip to South Padre, co.

Marnice —
There —

$200MO., UTILITIES INCLUDED. CALL 253-0806. Female to share 2 BR, 2 bath apt. Chinoc Creek. 's rentructions. Call 271-3673 leave message. MALE ROOMMATE needed now until end of semes-ter Mature, responsible. Landings Apts. Richmond Rd. 268-0838. Rd 260-0338

Professional female deares responsible non-smoking female sourmate for state ruce 2 BR 2 bits get. Pool weightness Noce location Age 23 or offset 5200mp (bits 1) reduced for 4 BR house $150mp plus fulletes washer dyer AC 2 min with to central Roommates 0), reduced for 4 BR house $150mp plus sulfister washer dyer AC 2 min with to central responsible washer dyer AC 2 min with to central section of the control of services PROFESSIONAL REASONABLE THESIS, DISSERTATION, SPECIALIST, RESEARCH PAPERS, LEGAL BRIEFS. . M.A. APA 517LES. DOMS 27-22-16.

WANTED DH ROOMMATE TO SHARE 3 BR APT. ON TRANSYLVANIA. $185/MO. PLUS UTILITIES. CALL 255-0796.

ALL TYPHOMORO PROCESS MMUTE ACCEPTED. Days. evenings weekends 254-1076 or 299-7639

A PERFECT RESUME TYPESET $15 — One page Reasonable Rates JOHNNY PRINT 547 S. LIMESTONE 254-6139.

HAYS BOOKBINDING LEXINGTON, KY (606) 273-3773 heses, Dissertations, Journal Old books Rebound Hardback, Gold Stamping

lost and found LOST: Blue 1990 hardbound journal calendar Alsonas entries dated 1989. Lost during add drop week LOST: in CB 349 calculator with name and so currily number on back. If found call 258-5573

pick up the Kernel and pick up on what's happening

> Let's do Lunch!

1010 The Kentucky

CONFIDENTIAL

Kernel

Birthright blasville Rd.

FREE PREGNANCY TESTING Abortion Services 278-0214

THINKING of Applying?

Gaines Fellowship Program INFORMATIONAL MEETING

dednesday, Jan. 24, 4-5p.n 226 E. Maxwell St. 257-1537 Deadline February 7.

(your name here)

This year is going to be different – I'd better get the Kentucky Kernel Love Note you keep promising me. You have no excuse – they aren't expensive, and you know It's the only thing I want. They come in three sizes and you get to write a personal message (like I LOVE YOU) in your own handwriting.

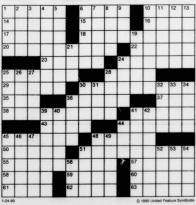

Or you could just get me a one of those special personals (the ones that are printed in red and put on same page as the love notes).
So, Snookems, all you have to do is go to room

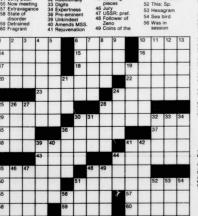

So, Snookems, all you have to do is go to room 026 Journalism Building before Noon on Feb. 13.

And don't forget.

Love.

(your sweetheart's name here)

Russia

Politics was a popular subject discussed by the students.
"Our first day we get on our bus and they announced that the U.S. had just invaded Panama," Flynn said. "Our guide asked me to explain why we invaded. They thought it was because we wanted plain why we invaded. They thought it was because we wanted to breech the Canal treaty. We didn't have enough information about it to do that."

Unlike his earlier visits to the Soviet Union, Flynn said that the Soviet Union, Flynn said that the Soviet media handled the Panams bergent thanges instituted by Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev. "I was impressed with the difference in the way the media handled it. Pravda gaze both sides of the story. They even printed Bush's speech, "Flynn said." If you wanted to believe Bush or their commentator, it was up to you."

The students said Gorbachev's changes, known as perestroika, have given Soviet citizens some reasons to be encouraged that more reforms are on the way. But at the same time, many citizens are becoming skeptical about the future, they said.

"The people are more free to complain now, but there are also a lot more things to complain about," Flynn said. "They're beginning to

for more tunings to company about Flynn said. "They're beginning to lose hope."
"The Soviets have freedom to say what they want but no one will listen to them," Gregory said.
The students said that some of the stereotypes Westerners have about the Soviets are fairly accu-rate.

about the Soviets are fairly accurate.

For instance, many people on the street wore long, black coats with fur pillbox hats with earfaps. The people follow two rules about their winter clothing, Rich said.

"Even if they're inside they don't unbutton their coats and they don't take their hats off, no matter how warm it gets," Flynn said. Students said that they were treated well by Soviet citizens. "They treated us with their hospi-tality. They offered us food, tea, and they would even entertain us." said Karen Patel, another member said Karen Patel, another member of the group.

"The people were very friendly and they want to know about Americans," Flynn said. "The only downside to the Sowiet people are the black marketeers. They are a lot more aggressive than they used to be and in one instance we almost came to blows."

Flynn said that the black marketeers have always wanted to buy whatever they could from Americans, but now they are primarily interested in getting dollars.

"They either want to change rubels for dollars or sell you watches or hats or military uniform pins," he said.

'n' roll albums are a steal in the Soviet Union. One person bought a classic Paul McCartney album that goes for $40 in the states for a four nubels or 66 cents.

A big difference the students said they noticed was the poor service in the Soviet Union. In America the customer is always right. But in the Soviet Union' the students said.

said.
Good cigarettes also are a hot commodity on the black market. The students said that a pack in the right hands could get you into Gorbachev's office — or at least get your bags carried.
The students said that they never really appreciated the niceties of home until they went abroad. Things like clean water and home cooking were lacking, but what mattered most hits close to home mattered most his close to nome for all of us.

"The toilet paper was so hard it was unbearable," said Leslie Barlow, a junior. "It was like wax paper."

Sutton

Continued from page 1

er being a Wildcat.

"It's tough to sit out a whole year from something that you've been doing all of your life," Sutton said.

Sutton averaged 5.9 points a game and led UK with 146 assists in 1988-89, his sophomore season. But despite leading the team as point guard, he was criticized by fans for what he wasn't — Rich Farmer, a fan favorite. "There was so much bad news being printed about him and UK," Eddie Sutton said. "It just disrupted everything for him." Sean Sutton said that he enjoys going to UK games this year and he will always be a UK fan. "Besides my father, I think Rick Pitino is excellent for UK," he said. "He has created an envi-ronment at UK that the fans en-joy."

Pitino asked Sutton to stay on the team last fall, but not being able to play in the NCAA was too big a sacrifice for him to

"I've wondered what it would be like to play on the team," Sean said. "But I made the deci-sion to leave UK, so I have to live with it now."

"I think Sean will do fine wherever he plays," Eddie Sut-ton said. "He made the decision to leave UK ... he can never look back now."

Sean Sutton said he may want to coach basketball when he graduates from school.

Bruner

Continued from page 1

years at Centre College in Danville, Ky.
"From what I'm aware," SGA Senator at Large Allen Putman said, "there's not a majority of students who know who he is."
Not that Bruner hasn't made a name for himself.
At Centre, where he majored in biology, the 6-foot-3, 200-pounder was a Rhodes Scholar candidate, was president of the Student Judiciary and lettered on the the football and basketball teams.
"If all boys were like Teel Brun-"If all boys were like Teel Brun-"If all boys were like Teel Brunand basketball teams.

"If all boys were like Teel Bruner, there'd be few problems in this world," said Tom Bryant, director of athletics at Centre and Bruner's basketball coach.
Bryant said Bruner was "a very aggressive, very heady" basketball player who didn't score a lot but al-ways played great defense. Brun-er's best sport, Bryant said, was football, where he played strong safety and earned Kodak Aller's best sport, Bryant said, was football, where he played strong safety and earned Kodak All-America honors.

Bryant said that Bruner is a quick hinker, a trait which will serve him well in his position. "It seems like he was always a step ahead."

In the classroom, Bruner was even better. A consistent 3.9 student, he earned academic All-America honors and received an NCAA post-graduate schoolarship. In medical school, he said his grades are "about a B-plus."

Jim Hill, a third-year UK law student who says he knows Bruner very well, said Teel is "an outstanding choice."

"He's got all the attributes a good student representative should have," Hill said. "He's a good fella and he'il do a good job."

Hill said students won't have to worry about representation with Bruner on the board. He said he supported Ockerman's position wholeheartedly.

supported Ockerman's position wholeheartedly.

"I simply think in his analysis he "I simply think in his analysis he "I simply think in his malysis he she there representative" than Student Government President Sean Lohman, Hill said.

But SGA members are still a little bitter about the selection process, feeling, in some ways, cheated, with Lohman, they say they knew his choice would be fair.

"It think it's an open and shut with Summer, hey're not quite sure. "It think it's an open and shut case," an obviously annoyed Lohman said later. "I think we are wasting a lot of money on a presidential search, especially when you have members that are going to cater to the political whims of the chair."

Kernel

Personals keep in touch

EXPERIENCE OUR EMPIRE

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

employment Jan. 25-26, 1990. It's a chance to work and learn from the premier casino, reson hotel of the world. CAESARS TAHOE is located on the shore of beautiful LAKE TAHOE. Don't let this opportunity escape you, contact your caree services department NOW!!! (606) 257-3632

CAESARS TAHOE offer a ompetitive compensation an

<A < SARS TAHOE

the Kentucky Kernel

we are students

Wisnewski

Continued from page 5

She moved back home. She went back to high school and graduated.

"I changed my life. I became more concerned with what I really needed."
But at least one thing hadn't changed: she was still afraid to think about competing on a gymnastic stem.

me away."

But in the middle of her senior year in high school, former UK assistant coach Brad Wunderlich called her and offered her a scholarship.

"I took the time to listen to what he said. He let me know that it wasn't so demanding, it was a team thing, and you really enjoyed it," Wisnewski said.
Wisnewski said.

Wisnewski took a year off after high school to think about it, a year in which she continued to "grow up a lot."

She started to work out at the gym regularly at the end of late June of last year. It wasn't easy for her to get back in the swing of things.

The first fall was just the begin-ning of the physical pain she would forever.

In practice, UK coach Leah Little realized that she, too, had made the right decision to recruit Wisnewski.

"She is just great," Little said.
"She could very well add some hing to this team that could make it the best we've ever had."

BETTER STUDY

STUDENT CENTER FOOD SERVICES WANTS YOU!

Go to Rm. 239 Student Center for details!
ASK ABOUT IT BEFORE THEY'RE ALL

READ THE KERNEL

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

CASH IN ON GOOD GRADES.

ARMY ROTC

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

For more information contact: MAIOR LES LETTERMAN • 101 Barker Hall 257-4479

